Report on the Situation in El Salvador
April 1, 1990 - October 1, 1990

K/OC

I. DIALOGUE

The Government of El Salvador (GOES) and guerrillas of the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) met in Mexico City on March 29 to resolve procedural issues prior to their meeting in Geneva on April 4 (with UN Secretary General Perez de Cuellar in attendance) to begin UN-mediated talks. The goal of the talks was agreed to be the definitive end to the armed conflict.

The two sides also agreed that the process would be carried out under the auspices of the Secretary-General and would be continuous. The method of negotiations would consist of two complementary activities: direct dialogue between the negotiation commissions with the active participation of the Secretary-General or his representative, and an intermediary role by the Secretary-General or his representative. It was also agreed that the discussions be conducted in strict confidence and that the Secretary-General may maintain confidential contacts with other governments or groups of governments which may contribute to the negotiations. Both sides agreed that political parties and other social groups have a role to play in achieving peace; that the views of such groups can be incorporated into the discussions themselves; and that the Secretary-General can maintain contacts with other Salvadorans about the talks.

Agenda for the Talks

The first round of discussions was held in May in Caracas. The two sides agreed that the "initial objective" of the talks was to achieve a cease-fire by mid-September. Before a cease-fire could be reached, the two sides would reach political accords on the following: the armed forces; human rights observance; the judicial system; the electoral system; constitutional reform; social and economic problems; and U.N. verification of agreements.

Seeking Accord on Armed Forces Reform

Following the agenda agreed to at Caracas in May, the talks have focused on reaching political accords. The majority of the discussion to date has been on the issue of military reform. The FMLN in June proposed that: certain armed forces elements be dissolved; that the officer corps be purged; and that "exemplary prosecutions" take place in four cases of human rights abuses. Those cases would be: the killing of Archbishop Romero, the FENASTRAS bombing, the killing of the Jesuits, and the killing of Hector Oqueli

Special Project (1993)

In response, the government agreed to some of the FMLN's proposals and others were modified. In particular, the government agreed: to dissolve certain armed forces units after a cease-fire; to move out unacceptable officers through rotation; to hold exemplary prosecutions in the cases proposed by the FMLN, plus four abuses committed by the guerrillas. Since this offer, the government has moved several officers from positions of authority and stated that changes in brigade commands could be discussed at the talks. The armed forces also announced that the civil defense forces would be dissolved.

GOES Requests Active U.N. Mediation

Starting with the July round and continuing thereafter at each subsequent round, the government has suggested that U.N. mediator de Soto define a middle ground on armed forces reform and other issues and negotiate the two sides towards it through a process of "pendular" mediation. The FMLN has refused to accept active U.N. mediation.

July Human Rights Accord

At the July round, the two sides signed an agreement on human rights drafted by the U.N. Under the terms of the document, both sides agreed to respect a defined set of human rights standards, including the legal rights of detainees, freedom of association and expression, and workers rights. They also agreed to support the activity of a U.N. human rights monitoring commission to oversee human rights observance in El Salvador and to make necessary representations directly to government and military authorities. The commission would not, however, begin its activities until after a cease-fire went into effect.

FMLN Proposal for Military Dissolution

At the August round the FMLN tabled a proposal on military reform which was a retreat from its previous position. It called for: the dissolution of the armed forces prior to a cease-fire; the sacking of all colonels and generals; and trials and punishment in thousands of cases of alleged human rights abuses. Auxiliary Archbishop of San Salvador Rosa Chavez called the FMLN's new demands "excessive," and added that they "fuel pessimism and defeatism about the chances for peace." "A proposal like this," he said, "... could be intended to increase tensions, to create greater difficulties."

Proposals for Human Rights Monitoring

Following the August round, the government suggested the creation of a joint commission with the FMLN to investigate the most difficult human rights cases. The FMLN rejected the proposal. Prior to the

Special Project (1993)

September round, the FMLN suggested that the U.N. human rights monitoring commission begin its work immediately. The government accepted the proposal, but the UN agreed only to set up an office to prepare the ground for an eventual monitoring commission.

September Round

At the September round of talks, the FMLN would neither discuss armed forces reform nor accept active U.N. mediation. The guerrillas were prepared to discuss only the following topics: access of journalists into conflictive zones; forming a joint FMLN-GOES commission to look into the investigation of the Jesuit case; provision to the FMLN of a purported National Intelligence Directorate investigation of the Romero killing; permitting national and international public opinion to be heard at the negotiating table; and the Salvadoran government's effort to pass a U.N. Security Council resolution on the talks.

In order to facilitate discussion of military reform topics, the government suggested, and the FMLN rejected, formation of smaller working groups to prepare proposals for submission to the plenary sessions, extending the talks by several days, and meeting again after a two-week delay rather than the customary four-week interlude between rounds. Citing the press of other business, the FMLN refused to extend the talks and suggested meeting again after a six-week delay.

The interparty dialogue commission, made up of representatives of all nine legal political parties, (including those with ties to the FMLN) completed its electoral reform proposal on September 17, the day the September round was scheduled to adjourn. The government suggested that the sides remain in session to receive the electoral reform proposal, but the FMLN refused, citing pressing commitments elsewhere.

Following the September round, a multipartisan group of political parties, labor unions, and private sector associations called on both sides to moderate their positions so that a cease-fire could be reached.

FMLN Violence during the Negotiations

Despite repeated government calls for a cease-fire, the FMLN continues to employ violence. On April 3, the day before the talks were announced, a guerrilla car bomb in San Salvador killed six and injured dozens. In July, the guerrillas assassinated two off-duty military officers. During the August round, an FMLN mortar attack on the President's offices left six wounded. Beginning before the June round of negotiations, and thereafter on a regular basis, the FMLN has continued to threaten publicly and to prepare for another offensive.

Next Round

As the FMLN requested, the next round will start on November 4, some six weeks after the conclusion of the September round.

II. ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

The United States Agency for International Development (AID) provides assistance for the reform and strengthening of the judicial system through the four components of the Judicial Reform Project authorized in 1984: the National Legislative Revisory Commission, the Judicial Protection Unit, the Commissions on Investigations, and the Judicial Administration and Training Program. On September 26, 1989 AID transferred to the Department of State management responsibility for the judicial protection and investigative training components of the program. AID retained responsibility for the legislative drafting and the judicial administration and training components. The change in management brought activities in the El Salvador project under the same institutional oversight as administration of justice activities elsewhere in Latin America and the Caribbean. In addition to the Judicial Reform Project, regional Administration of Justice projects -- specifically the International Criminal Investigative Training Assistance Program of the Department of Justice and the UN Latin American Institute for the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders -- offer training and technical assistance to personnel of the Salvadoran criminal justice system.

Revisory Commission for Salvadoran Legislation (CORELESAL)

CORELESAL was established as a legislative drafting commission to provide an impetus for the modernization of Salvadoran law. Since 1986, CORELESAL has drafted thirteen bills, of which the assembly has passed nine. Two bills have been passed in the last six months. Because of the support which CORELESAL enjoys from the Supreme Court, the Ministry of Justice, the Attorney General and the Solicitor General, the assembly is expected to act on the four remaining CORELESAL bills by the end of the year.

The recently-approved laws are:

-- Reforms to the jury system and trial phase of criminal procedures. This law aims to modernize and adapt the current jury system to existing social needs and make it effective. Reforms to the trial phase of judicial process are designed to accelerate criminal case proceedings.

-- The Judicial Career law implements the constitutional article that provides for a judicial career path. Among other provisions, the law defines additional minimum qualifications for being a judge, defines the requirements for promotions and step increases, provides for a retirement plan, and establishes a complete and detailed procedure for disciplinary actions.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

During this reporting period, CORELESAL developed a draft proposal to turn the Office of the Public Defender, currently funded by the Judicial Reform Project, into an institution within the Salvadoran justice system.

The Commission on Investigations

The Commission on Investigations (CIHD), which oversees the Special Investigative Unit (SIU) and the Forensic Unit, is entering a phase of major reorganization. The SIU is charged with investigating crimes of national importance, including politically sensitive crimes and human rights cases. The Forensic Unit is by far the most professional laboratory in the country. The plan recently agreed to at a meeting of the President of the Supreme Court, the Attorney General, the Minister of Justice and assorted other legal experts includes the following points:

-- The reorganized SIU will combine with the Scientific Police Institute, which would be removed from the Ministry of Defense and become an autonomous civilian organization.

-- An advisory commission to oversee the activities of the SIU will be established. The President of the Supreme Court, the Attorney General, the Public Defender, and, possibly, an executive branch representative will serve on the advisory commission.

Judicial Protection Unit

The Embassy is also working with the SIU on a reorganization which will include the development of a division for judicial protection. This division would provide protection to judges, witnesses, and prosecutors in high-profile cases. The new division would employ fifteen threat analysts (investigators) and fifteen group leaders of protective details. All members of the division will also be trained as detectives in order to support investigations in other areas.

Judicial Administrative and Training Program

The Judicial Administration and Training Project provides comprehensive training programs and buys needed office equipment for the Attorney General and the Solicitor General. As part of an effort to reduce a traditional reliance on confessions and increase the use of scientific evidence in criminal cases, the Attorney General's entire 100-person staff (the majority of which are law students) has received training in the techniques and use of modern scientific evidence. The training was provided by the CIHD, marking the first time Salvadorans have been involved in this type of effort. The Attorney General's staff has also participated in courses in criminal law, criminal procedure law, and human rights. The Public Defender's staff has received training in criminal law and criminal procedure law.

El Salvador's criminal justice system has always been weak and is still not functioning well. The obstacles to an independent and effective judiciary are both internal and external to the Salvadoran justice system. The internal obstacles include:

-- insufficient resources;

-- inefficient administration;

-- inadequate professional training;

-- inadequate forensic and investigative procedures; and

-- laws which are often deficient on important points.

The external factors which hamper the independence and effectiveness of the judicial system include:

-- continuing torture and abuse of many detainees by security forces, despite marked improvements and continuing U.S. efforts to encourage increased respect for human rights;

-- widespread use of political influence and bribery;

-- a legacy of military control and impunity;

-- lack of cooperation among the courts, the prosecutors, and the security forces; and

-- the widespread fear by judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, witnesses, jurors, and judicial personnel that actions against political extremists, or the armed forces, could have dire consequences.

The law in El Salvador is not applied equally and impartially because judicial branch personnel are often intimidated and bribed while military officers (despite improvements) remain largely above the law. Most detainees do not receive a fair and speedy trial because criminal investigations tend to be drawn out and inconclusive and the rules of evidence are archaic and unwieldy. In many cases, detainees who cannot afford legal counsel spend long periods in prison awaiting trial, if only to be exonerated, while guilty parties with resources or other ways to influence the outcome take advantage of the system's weaknesses to stay out of prison.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

-- Archbishop Romero murder (March 24, 1980)

Synopsis: On March 24, 1980, Archbishop Arnulfo Romero was assassinated while saying mass in a small chapel at a San Salvador cancer hospice. The government's investigation made little progress until 1985 when the Special Investigative Unit (SIU) was assigned to the case. The SIU reviewed the available evidence, followed up on leads, and, in 1987, its efforts paid off when it located Antonio Amado Garay, an employee of Captain Alvaro Saravia. According to Garay, Captain Saravia drove the getaway car used in the assassination. Garay's testimony before a Salvadoran court in November 1987 resulted in an arrest warrant and extradition request for Saravia, who had fled El Salvador and was living in the U.S. In September 1988, a U.S. Magistrate in Florida signed a certificate of extraditability for Saravia. However, in December 1988, the Salvadoran Supreme Court denied the Salvadoran government's petition to extradite Saravia and prevented the resubmission of the petition by ruling that Garay's testimony, upon which the arrest warrant was based, was dated.

Status: More than ten years after the Archbishop's assassination, no one has been arrested in connection with this case. The Supreme Court's denial of the extradition petition for Saravia has rendered the case inactive, although technically still open.

Venue: 1st instance court: 4th San Salvador criminal court.

-- Armenia Well Murders (1980-1982)

Synopsis: Between ten and thirty people were allegedly kidnapped in by Civil Guards in El Manguito Canton, Sonsonate Department, from 1980 to 1982. They were reportedly taken from their homes at night, accused of being subversives, tied up, blindfolded, and marched to a deep well. There they were allegedly shot or hacked by machete and dumped into the well. In 1983, village residents filed complaints against the local Civil Defense commander, alleging illegal arrest, rape, robbery, homicide, and other crimes. Seven Civil Guards implicated in the crimes were later arrested that same year.

In 1986, the SIU excavated the well and found the remains of at least eight of the missing persons. Seven of the nine Civil Guards charged with the crime were eventually apprehended. The other two, including the Civil Guard commander, are still at large, presumably outside of El Salvador.

In February 1988, the Santa Ana appeals court remanded the case to the trial court judge. That judge dismissed charges against some of the suspects and brought the case against the others to trial on August 18, 1989. The defense and the prosecution filed separate appeals, on August 23, before the Santa Ana appeals court. The defense petitioned for a reappraisal of the appeals court's denial of amnesty and the prosecution asked for a review of the judge's decision to release some of the accused. The defense and prosecuting attorneys completed arguments on their respective petitions in October 1989.

Status: Seven Civil Guards remain in jail awaiting trial. Resolution of the appeals by the defense and the prosecution is still pending before the appeals court.

Venue: Santa Ana appeals court.

-- Michael Kline murder case (October 13, 1982)

Synopsis: On October 13, 1982, several soldiers removed Michael Kline, a U.S. citizen, from a bus which was travelling through the embattled Department of Morazan. Based on tenuous evidence, the soldiers suspected Kline of being a mercenary in guerrilla service and killed him on the way to brigade headquarters in San Miguel, San Miguel. Sub-sergeant Jose Lopez Garcia, Private Hector Rubina Reyes, and Private Cristobal Garcia were arrested on March 11, 1983, and charged with the crime.

On February 9, 1984, trial proceedings were ordered initiated against all of the accused. Successive appeals by the defense to the Supreme Court were not resolved until July 1988. On July 18, 1988, October 18, 1989, and February 19, 1990, the jury hearing had to be delayed because not enough jurors presented themselves to the court, apparently out of fear of retaliation. On May 3, 1990, a five-man jury finally convicted Hector Rubina Reyes of murder but acquitted the other two defendants.

Status: On June 13, 1990, Rubina Reyes was sentenced to sixteen years in prison. Lopez and Garcia were released in May 1990.

-- Kidnapping case (1982-1985)

Synopsis: A group of military officers (both retired and active-duty) and right-wing civilians were charged with kidnapping at least five wealthy Salvadorans from 1982 to 1985 and collecting ransom payments of about four million U.S. dollars. In April 1986, the National Police arrested four alleged members of the ring: Colonel Roberto Mauricio Staben, Major Jose Alfredo Jimenez, Lieutenant Rodolfo Lopez Sibrian, and Luis Orlando Llovera Ballette. Other alleged members of the ring were also arrested at about the same time but have since died. Five other alleged members of the ring fled El Salvador and were never taken into custody: Lieutenant Colonel Joaquin Eduardo Zacapa Butter, Lieutenant Carlos Alejandro Zacapa Butter, Victor Antonio Cornejo Arango, Pedro Serrano Pineda, and Jose Antonio Alvarado Centeno. At the time of their arrest, the defendants faced charges of kidnapping for ransom, auto theft, possession of military weapons, and terrorism. Colonel Staben was later freed due to insufficient evidence.

In April 1987, the defendants filed a writ of habeas corpus which was rejected by the Supreme Court in December 1987. The Supreme Court returned the case to Judge Jorge Serrano Panameno for a decision on the applicability of amnesty for the defendants. In May 1988, Judge Serrano was assassinated before he had a chance to rule on the amnesty question. In November, Judge Ernesto Cruz Cienfuegos granted amnesty to the defendants on the charges of possession of military weapons and terrorism and transferred the case to the Third Criminal Court of San Salvador for determination on the civilian charges of kidnapping and auto theft.

In his last official act before he was transferred to another court, Judge Hector Larios dismissed the case for lack of evidence and ordered the release of the three jailed defendants in March 1989. Although Llovera succeeded in fleeing the country, then-President-Elect Cristiani and the Embassy intervened to prevent the release of Lopez Sibrian and to effect the recapture of Jimenez. Larios' successor, Judge Mejia Angulo, reversed the release order and reinstated charges. The Salvadoran government requested the extradition from the U.S. of two of the accused, Victor Antonio Cornejo and Carlos Zacapa on July 11, 1989. However, on April 1, 1990, Judge Mejia Angulo retired from the bench and was replaced by Judge Cruz Cienfuegos (all judicial appointments and transfers are made by the Supreme Court whose members are appointed by the Legislative Assembly). On April 23, Judge Cruz ordered trial proceedings initiated against Orlando Llovera and Lopez Sibrian. But, at the same time, the judge also ruled that there was insufficient evidence to link the other six defendants (Jimenez, the two Zacapa brothers, Cornejo, Serrano, and Alvarado) to the crime. Therefore, he dropped the charges against them, lifted the arrest orders against the five fugitives (excluding Llovera), and ordered the release of Jimenez. The Attorney General declined to appeal the Judge's decision as part of his "personal protest" against U.S. pressure. Nevertheless, the private prosecutor in the case appealed and succeeded in suspending any further action on the judge's ruling until May 3. On that date, Judge Cruz ruled that the private prosecutor lacked standing to make an appeal on the lifting of the arrest orders. Since the only other party with standing in this case, the Attorney General, had declined to make an appeal, Judge Cruz definitively lifted the arrest orders against the five fugitives on condition that they pay a bond of 150,000 Colons (19,354 U.S. Dollars). On May 4, the private prosecutor appealed Judge Cruz's ruling to the San Salvador appeals court. A few weeks later, Judge Cruz was himself transferred to another court.

Status: Of all the original suspected members of the kidnapping ring, only Lopez Sibrian and Jimenez remain in jail awaiting trial, but until the Appeals Court overrules Judge Cruz's order, and we have no reason to believe it will, there are no outstanding warrants against the other five defendants. Newspaper reports and the private prosecutor have confirmed that the bond has been paid and the arrest orders lifted. Also pending in the same Appeals Court is the private prosecutor's appeal against the release of Jimenez and the defense's appeal on the initiation of trial proceedings against Orlando Llovera and Lopez Sibrian. No action is expected on this case in the near future.

Venue: San Salvador appeals court.

-- San Sebastian case (September 1988)

Synopsis: On September 12, 1988, a Fifth Brigade patrol detained ten peasants from Canton San Francisco, San Sebastian Municipality, San Vicente Department, and escorted them away from their village. Soon afterwards, villagers heard two explosions and small arms fire. The next day, they found the dead bodies of all ten peasants detained by the patrol. The military claimed that eight suspected FMLN collaborators and two captured guerrillas were killed when the column escorting the detainees to the helicopter was ambushed by guerrillas. The victims' families allege that the military executed all ten. The judge in San Sabastian investigated the killings and concluded that the villagers had been murdered. In November 1988, then-President Duarte assigned the case to the SIU.

There was little progress in the case until Vice President Quayle visited El Salvador in February 1989 and emphasized our concern about the case. A special military honor board was formed to review the evidence and found cause to dismiss two officers (Major Mauricio de Jesus Beltran and Sub-Lieutenant Arnoldo Vasquez Alvarenga) and seven enlisted men from military service and turn them over to a civilian judge for prosecution. Eventually, a total of twelve soldiers were arrested between February 13 and March 2, 1989. Several writs of habeas corpus filed in March 1989 were not resolved by the Supreme Court until September 1989 when the case was remanded back to the court in San Sebastian.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

On February 8, 1990, Judge Alcides Guandique of the first instance court of San Sebastian, San Vicente, ruled that there was insufficient evidence to proceed to trial against ten of the accused and ordered their release. At the same time, he ordered trial proceedings to be initiated against Major Beltran and Sub-Sergeant Rafael Rosales Villalobos. The defense and the prosecution launched immediate appeals of the judge's ruling to the San Vicente appeals court. Any action on Judge Guandique's ruling was thus suspended pending that court's decision.

On April 27, the San Vicente appeals court ordered trial proceedings to be initiated against Major Beltran and returned the case against Major Beltran to Judge Guandique's court. However, the appeals court overruled Judge Guandique and decided that there was insufficient evidence to initiate trial proceedings against Villalobos. In addition, the appeals court also confirmed Judge Guandique's finding of insufficient evidence against the other ten defendants, dropped all charges against them, and ordered their immediate release.

Among other reasons which it gave for dismissing charges against eleven out of the twelve accused, the appeals court held that the evidence gathered by the SIU in the case was inadmissible because the SIU is not an auxiliary organ of the court, even though each individual member of the SIU is a sworn agent of the court. The U.S. Embassy in San Salvador has denounced the invalidation of SIU-gathered evidence.

Status: Major Beltran is still in custody and is now the only remaining defendant in this case. On June 26, the Supreme Court granted a petition from the prosecutors and transferred the case against Major Beltran from San Sebastian to the sixth criminal court of San Salvador, Dr. Felipe Roberto Lopez Argueta presiding. A jury should be formed to try Major Beltran within the next few months. However, since Salvadoran courts have already riddled the case with serious procedural flaws, a change of venue may not represent a significant improvement. The Attorney General's office reports that Villalobos and the other ten defendants were freed in April 1990.

-- Hector Miranda Marroquin and Lucio Parada (July 3, 1989)

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

Synopsis: Sometime between July 1 and July 3, 1989, members of the First Brigade's intelligence section, together with a patrol from the Atlacatl Battalion providing protection, arrested eight alleged FMLN guerrillas around Apopa, outside of San Salvador. One of the suspects, Lucio Parada, died during a field interrogation sometime before noon on July 3. That same day, the remaining alleged guerrillas were turned over to the First Brigade in San Salvador. In mid-July, a second detainee, Hector Miranda Marroquin, died as a result of injuries sustained before he was brought to San Salvador.

Cesar Veilman Joya Martinez, an enlisted man assigned to the First Brigade, was placed in detention pending the outcome of a First Brigade investigation into the deaths of Parada and Miranda and the alleged torture of the other suspects. Five of the other six soldiers suspected of complicity in the murders were released. Joya Martinez escaped from custody in late July 1984 and surfaced outside of El Salvador in October. He has since entered the United States and become a minor celebrity, confessing his involvement in death squads and making allegations implicating U.S. and Salvadoran officials in his murderous activities. So far, only Joya Martinez' admission of involvement in the Parada/Miranda case has been corroborated. The Salvadoran Supreme Court has notified the U.S. Embassy of its intention to request the extradition of Joya Martinez.

Joya Martinez was convicted on September 18, 1990 by the U.S. District Court in Alexandria, Virginia of unlawful entry into the United States after a previous deportation, which carries a maximum penalty of two years. He is now out on bail pending sentencing by the court after consideration of a pre-sentence report by the probation officer. In a separate legal case, on March 26, 1990 the Department of State sent an advisory opinion to an immigration court to the effect that Joya Martinez did not have a well-founded fear of persecution in El Salvador. On June 8 the Immigration Court in Arlington Virginia concluded the asylum hearings and both sides filed briefs. Decision has not been reached on the asylum request. Each side has indicated that it intends to appeal the Immigration Court's decision if it is on the losing side.

Status: Of the military personnel who participated in the July 1989 incident, only one, Corporal Salvador Alcides Gomez of the Atlacatl Battalion is presently being held in connection with this case. The Salvadoran government is preparing an extradition request for Joya Martinez, who has applied for political asylum in the United States.

-- The Jesuit massacre (November 16, 1989)

Synopsis: Nine Salvadoran soldiers have been implicated so far in the murder of six Jesuit priests, their housekeeper, and her 15-year old daughter at the University of Central America (UCA) in San Salvador. The victims were: Father Ignacio Ellacuria, Rector of the university; Father Segundo Montes, UCA professor; Father Ignacio Martin-Baro, UCA Vice Rector; Father Amado Lopez, UCA professor; Father Juan Ramon Moreno, UCA professor; Father Joaquin Lopez y Lopez, UCA professor; their housekeeper Julia Elba Ramos; and her 15-year old daughter, Celina Ramos. The murders occurred around 1 a.m. on November 16, 1989, at the Jesuit residence, on the fifth day of heavy fighting during the biggest FMLN offensive of the war.

President Cristiani immediately assigned the SIU to the case. By January 1990, the SIU had developed forensic evidence that implicated soldiers from the Atlacatl Battalion in the murders. Many of these soldiers had also participated in a search of the Jesuit residence just two nights before the killings. Also in January, a military honor board was formed to investigate the case and concluded that there was considerable evidence implicating the Atlacatl soldiers in the massacre.

On January 16, 1990, Colonel Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno, the director of the Military Academy, was arrested in connection with the crime. Two lieutenants from the Atlacatl, a lieutenant from the Military Academy, and five Atlacatl enlisted men were arrested on charges of having committed the murders. A ninth soldier (also from the Atlacatl), who deserted in December, was also charged with murder but has not been located.

Since January, Dr. Ricardo Alfredo Zamora, the Fourth Criminal Court Judge of San Salvador, has detained three Atlacatl enlisted men on perjury charges. Also, Lieutenant Colonel Carlos Camilo Hernandez, the Deputy Director of the Military Academy at the time of the murders, has been indicted for obstruction of justice for allegedly burning the logbooks kept at the military school on the night of the slaying.

Status: Col. Benavides is under detention at National Police headquarters in San Salvador. The other seven defendants in custody are believed to be under detention at National Guard headquarters in San Salvador. The case is in the investigation stage and trial proceedings are expected to begin by December 1990.

Venue: 1st instance court - fourth criminal court of San Salvado

-- Barrera Urquilla murder (December 5, 1986)

Synopsis: According to witnesses, Air Force Cadet Victor Manuel Aguilar Mendez, Sergeant Jorge Alberto Ramos, and enlisted man Vidal Antonio Pleytes beat Barrera Urquilla during a so-called interrogation near a main road outside of San Salvador. Urquilla's body was discovered a week later about two miles from the scene of the beating. An SIU investigation led to the arrest of the three interrogators on April 9, 1987. In August 1990, the SIU exhumed Urquilla's body and determined the cause of death to be the beating. In September 1990, the investigation was completed and Judge Jose Angel Vargas Guzman of Quezaltepeque ordered trial proceedings to be initiated against all three of the accused.

RELEASED

Status: All three suspects were discharged from the military and remain under detention. If the accused do not appeal the judge's order to initiate trial proceedings, the jury trial should commence in November. However, an appeal would likely delay the case by several months.

Venue: 1st instance court of Quezaltepeque.

III. CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY

Members of the military who commit crimes or abuses of authority may no longer rely on being above the law since an increasing number of such offenders are being made subject to institutional discipline or judicial proceedings. Nevertheless, a significant number of military personnel continue to commit human rights abuses or other crimes and abuses of authority with the expectation of getting away with it. The November 16 1989 murder of the six Jesuits and two others, (see above) raises especially serious questions about the degree to which certain elements of the military understand and accept the importance of respect for human rights and obedience to civilian authorities.

The institutional response of the Armed forces to the Jesuit case and its cooperation with the investigation indicate, however, that the principle of accountability for such actions is understood and supported by the military leadership. President Cristiani himself directed that the SIU investigate the crime and made a televised announcement that the likely suspects were members of the military. The fact that a colonel has been confined by a judge for his suspected involvement in the murders represents the first time that efforts have been made to prosecute senior officers believed to be involved in human rights abuses. Some members of the Armed Forces have been reluctant to cooperate in this case however, and the U.S. Embassy in San Salvador believes that during this reporting period the Salvadoran military has offered at best uneven cooperation.

-- Colonel Carlos Armando Aviles, whom the Moakley Commission (formed by the U.S. Speaker of the House of Representatives) credited with having broken the case, has contradicted himself repeatedly in sworn testimony.

-- The judge in the case has recently charged three enlisted men from the Atlacatl Battalion with perjury and jailed them.

-- Other Salvadoran military officers, while not openly lying or blocking the investigation, have adopted a posture of minimal compliance and no one in the Salvadoran military has voluntarily come forward with additional information about the murders.

On a more positive note, Colonel Rene Emilio Ponce, the recently-appointed Minister of Defense, has promised more cooperation and publicly announced his determination to resolve the case. Senior Salvadoran government officials, Legislative Assembly members, and Salvadoran military officers of the rank of colonel and above have the privilege of not giving testimony in person. On September 7, however, President Cristiani broke with precedent and gave four hours of personal testimony in the judge's chambers. Senior Salvadoran military officers are now following suit and waiving their privilege and testifying in person before the judge.

The Salvadoran Armed Forces is often charged by its critics of indiscriminate use of air-to-ground firepower. Strict rules of engagement designed to avoid collateral damage to civilians have therefore been laid down by the government. In one particular incident, the Armed Forces admitted fault in the rocketing of San Jacinto Guancorita, Chalatenango, by an Air Force helicopter on February 11, 1990 as a guerrilla unit retreated through the town. In this case, the engagement between Salvadoran troops and guerrillas resulted in five civilians killed and fifteen wounded. According to press reports, children accounted for four of the dead and about twelve of the wounded. The Air Force accepted responsibility for the civilian deaths and was ordered by the High Command to pay compensation to the families of the victims, but no compensation has been paid as of September 14.

The standard operating procedure for the Salvadoran Armed Forces is to attack only well-identified guerrilla positions. Allegations of indiscriminate bombing, especially in the Northern and Eastern combat zones, are heard regularly. However, we have had no reports of civilian lives lost due to the improper use of air power in populated areas since the February 11 incident.

The following is an update on cases of rape or murder allegedly committed by the military:

-- Two sergeants accused of raping a young woman and killing her father in March 1990 are in custody. The Attorney General's office says that the case against them will be ready for trial by the end of the year.

-- In May, twenty-six members of the Civil Defense Forces (Civil Guards) were sentenced to thirty years in prison for the 1982 rape and murder of twenty-three peasants in San Pedro Perulapan, Cuscatlan

-- Also in May, seven Civil Guards were sentenced to thirty years in prison for the murder and robbery of four people in two separate incidents in Armenia, Sonsonate, in 1984.

-- In June, an Army sergeant was sentenced to thirty years in prison for the murder of two Guatemalan businessmen in March 1988.

Statistics

According to Embassy statistics (based on publicly available sources), civilian deaths attributable to political motives have declined to 8-per-month (for the first six months of the year) from an monthly average during 1989 of 17-per-month. Following are the monthly averages for politically-motivated deaths since 1980, when the Embassy first began to gather to gather statistics:

- 1980 - 750
- 1981 - 444
- 1982 - 219
- 1983 - 140
- 1984 - 64
- 1985 - 28
- 1986 - 26
- 1987 - 23
- 1988 - 19
- 1989 - 17
- *1990 - 8

*First six months of calender year.

The Embassy developed a new category in 1988, "suspicious or unexplained killings," to cover murders for which no motive was apparent, but which may have been committed for political reasons. These deaths were previously included in the "criminal deaths" category. Analysis of this category for 1987 - 1989, and the first six months of 1990, reveals a decrease in 1989.

	JAN	FEB	MAR	APR	MAY	JUN	JUL	AUG	SEP	OCT	NOV	DEC	TOTAL
87	9	9	9	15	12	11	17	20	18	23	20	21	184
88	19	11	10	48	14	23	15	28	15	17	24	28	252
89	28	20	14	11	13	10	18	14	7	11	12	22	180
90	23	12	5	19	5	19

The monthly average for "suspicious deaths" was 15 for 1987, 21 for 1988, 15 for 1989, and 14 for the first six months of 1990.

The statistics do not support the contention that there is a resurgence of death-squad activity in El Salvador. Although there continue to be cases of politically motivated murders, these killings do not appear to be part of a systematic pattern. Nevertheless, the level of violence remains unacceptable, as does the failure of the government to successfully arrest and prosecute those responsible.

Ultra-rightist Communiques

No alleged death squad communiques were issued in the last six months. During the past year there was only one such communique, and its authenticity is questionable.

(See the Marroquin/Parada case, page 12 above.) We are still waiting for an extradition request from the Salvadoran Government. We have suggested to the Minister of Justice that the Special Investigative Unit (SIU) should open an investigation into the case. He has yet to respond to our suggestion.

FMLN Human Rights Abuses

According to the Army's Human Rights Office, the following were among the human rights abuses committed by the FMLN during the reporting period:

-- On August 1, guerrillas kidnapped Yanira Torres and Yanira Flores, both 15 years old.

-- On the same day, the FMLN ambushed the military band of the Sixth Brigade, killing four band members and wounding another four.

-- On August 3, two Salvadoran army prisoners were brutally tortured and murdered by the FMLN.

-- On August 4, fifteen young peasants, between the ages of 15 and 20 years old, were kidnapped by the FMLN.

-- On August 15, Bartolo Miranda, David Caceres and Angel Alvarado Lopez were seriously injured by an FMLN mine.

-- On August 20, during an attack on the neighborhood where the President's official residence is located, a child and four other civilians were wounded.

-- The FMLN continued to use land mines indiscriminately throughout the reporting period killing and wounding innocent civilians in violation of the laws of war.

V. AGRARIAN REFORM

Background

In 1980, the Civilian-Military Revolutionary Junta instituted a sweeping reform law designed to rectify the pattern of land ownership which concentrated ownership in the hands of an elite, a situation which was helping to fuel the insurgency already underway in 1979-1980.

The reform was conducted in three phases, with each phase relating to the size of property rather chronological sequence.

Phase I involved the largest holdings (over 1,285 acres). In all, 469 properties encompassing some 542,044 acres were expropriated and turned over to some 36,000 workers who formed collective cooperatives. The Phase I implementing agency is the Agrarian Reform Institute (ISTA).

Phase II was originally planned to affect holdings larger than 250 acres. However, the 1983 Constitution raised the limit to 605 acres and stipulated that land in excess of this amount be sold within three years to campesinos, their associates, or small farmers. The required implementation law (Decree 895), passed in Febuary 1988, further provides for the expropriation of any land in excess of the 605-acre limit with the land turned over to ISTA to be made into cooperatives. However, the GOES has not expropriated any land under the new law because landowners with property in excess of 605 acres voluntarily divested themselves of the excess. The only Phase II lands not sold are generally located in highly conflictive areas where few people want to purchase land.

Phase III allowed renters and sharecroppers to apply for title to up to 17.3 acres of land they had tilled in 1980. The Phase III implementing agency is the National Land Financing Agency (FINATA).

Although there was concern when the ARENA party's Alfredo Cristiani won the 1989 presidential election that he would reverse the reforms, this has not been the case. Rather, the Cristiani administration has supported continuation of and improvements in the reform.

For its part, the United States has assisted the Government of El Salvador (GOES) with the land reform since the reform's inception. Assistance is now focusing on investment financing for reform beneficiaries and technical assistance and/or training in the areas of: (1) management and accounting for Phase I co-ops; (2) production and marketing of nontraditional export crops; (3) irrigated agriculture; (4) linking reform beneficiaries to processors and exporters of nontraditional crops; and (5) coffee rehabilitation.

Accomplishments

Over 23 percent of El Salvador's arable land has been transferred to formerly landless peasants, directly benefiting over 525,000 persons (farmers and families), or about one-fifth of the rural poor.

Phase I titling is complete except for 21 cases ISTA has pending in the courts. Under Phase III, the GOES has made progress in its titling workload since the last report:

	4/1/90 Report	This Report
Total potential titles	47,287	47,287
Titles presented to the Land Registry Office--considered by FINATA as definitive titles	38,961	41,365
(registered)	(33,972)	(38,159)
(require technical adjustment)	(4,989)	(3,206)
Titles pending	8,994	5,922
(in conflict zones or litigation)	(1,842)	(2,405)
(new titles)	(7,152)	(3,517)

Compensation of former landowners under Phase I is virtually complete. The only exceptions are the pending court cases. The cases fall into two categories: (1) constitutional, where properties expropriated were under 1,285 acres; and (2) land-value disagreements. They will likely take a long time to settle. Under Phase III, compensation has been made for nearly 4,247 properties, or 84 percent of the total 5,068 properties. (Compensation takes place at the same time as titling.)

Some 329 Phase I cooperatives have been formed, of which 93 have been declared self-managing since 1988, i.e., state-appointed co-managers are no longer involved in the management of these properties.

Current Efforts

Beneficiary Rights Legislation. The rights of reform beneficiaries are currently limited in that they cannot transfer/sell their property. Moreover, Phase I properties have been kept intact and have been run on a collective basis. Hence, Phase I farmers have not had the right to opt for alternative arrangements which might include service cooperatives or the division of cooperatives among individual farm families. The GOES has drafted beneficiary rights legislation that permits the transfer of agrarian reform properties to family members or sale of the properties to other small farmers. It would not permit resale to former landowners or the reconcentration of large holdings. The legislation also provides for self-determination among Phase I farmers. The GOES has come under criticism from some groups which allege that while the GOES has discussed the legislation minimally with campesino groups, it has not engaged in enough discussion to make interested parties feel they are part of the process. The submission of the legislation to the Legislative Assembly is imminent.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Phase III Titling. The Cristiani administration inherited a workload of nearly 20,00 title transactions from the previous government. The number has been reduced to just over 13,300. The transactions include processing new titles (the most time-consuming of all titling transactions), adjusting titles to permit registration, and reassigning properties that have been abandoned by their original beneficiaries (this category also includes people who have died). The new timetable for completion of all Phase III titling is mid-1991.

Continuing Distribution of Land Assets. Despite agrarian reform progress to date, there remain an estimated 150,000 landless families. To assist these people, the GOES, supported by A.I.D. has initiated actions to increase access to land. There are approximately 166,000 acres of unutilized or underutilized Phase I lands. ISTA divided 19,440 acres of such lands and distributed them to approximately 4,000 families in 1988. ISTA has agreed with the National Commission for Displaced Persons to provide parcels for an additional 700 families. A.I.D. is supporting this effort. The activity is not moving as intended, however, because of the opposition of two major campesino labor organizations who are against parcelization of Phase I cooperatives. ISTA has also agreed to provide parcels for ex-soldiers, ex-guerrillas, and repatriates when hostilities cease.

A potentially more beneficial program in terms of numbers of beneficiaries would be a land bank which, according to financial analysis, would be able to distribute land to approximately 3,000 beneficiaries per year. While initial funding for the land bank has been set aside, it has not yet been released. A.I.D. has conditioned release of local currency funds on establishment of the bank outside of FINATA to permit it to act according to banking principles, free of political pressures. Unfortunately, political pressures have kept the GOES from agreeing to this condition.

RELEASED IN PART, A5

1. Agreement of Human Rights Commitments and establishment of a U.N. Human Rights Monitoring group in El Salvador to be appointed by the SYG--July 1990. U.N. Security Council approval expected May 1991.

2. A package of constitutional reforms strengthening civilian control of the military, transferring police functions out of the armed forces, reforming the electoral and judicial systems--agreed to in Mexico City, April 27. Passed by Salvadoran National Assembly April 29-30. Cristiani has said the current National Assembly, which has sworn in May 1, will vote to enact the reforms once a cease fire is in effect.

RELEASED

3. Establishment of a Truth Commission to study and report on outstanding human rights cases, to be appointed by SYG.

- Behind the scenes: Parties have agreed on 90% of the issues involving armed forces. One outstanding issues: makeup of an Ad Hoc Commission, to be appointed by the SYG, with veto power over nominations exercised by GOES and FMLN, to decide which officers remain in armed forces. FMLN wants all civilians; GOES wants 3 civilians and 2 military all with voting power; FMLN may accept 1 military with no vote.

- On March 18, FMLN told EC Foreign Ministers in Managua, it would enter definitive negotiations to reach agreement on constitutional reforms, armed forces, and cease fire by May 30. [redacted] tried to force GOES to agree to reform Article 248 of the Constitution, which defines the procedure by which Constitution is amended. He wanted to make it possible to amend the Constitution in one session of the National Assembly upon recommendation of President rather than 2 successive assemblies.

[redacted] mispresented to 4 friends of SYG--Mexico, Venezuela, Spain, and Colombia--that Cristiani had accepted reform of Article 248. Salinas told the President this. Crisitiani told the President it wasn't true. Proposed reform of Article 248 met virtually unanimous opposition in El Salvador and was dropped in Mexico City negotiations.

o FMLN under pressure from 4 friends and Soviets dropped Article 248 reform demand, but also dropped linkage between constitutional reforms and cease fire.

o U.S. Meeting with FMLN: The SYG, [redacted] pressed us for months to agree to meet with the FMLN. The SYG wrote the President. After consulting with Cristiani, we told SYG that we would meet with the FMLN at a time Cristiani felt appropriate and with a GOES representative in the room. We made clear that we would be prepared to engage in serious conversations with both parties, not just a formal presentation, though we also made clear we will not be and are not a party to the negotiations. A5

[redacted] knew throughout our months of discussion that one of our conditions is that the government be in the room. We have ample information that the FMLN believes a private meeting with us would create dissension in the army; that is precisely why we won't do it. Moreover, it is not in the interest of the SYG as mediator for the U.S. to lose the confidence of the Salvadoran armed forces; just the opposite: we need to maintain confidence of armed forces to help Cristiani persuade them to support difficult concessions at the bargaining table. A5

Cristiani agreed that we should meet with both sides during the last round of talks. We communicated that to DeSoto and were prepared, as we told him, to come to Mexico. He declined our offer.

[redacted] now says that such a meeting is useless; we have to meet separately with the FMLN. We do not appreciate being asked to agree to a meeting, with clear groundrules established, only to have the groundrules changed after the fact. We would be prepared, assuming President Cristiani agrees, to attend the next round of talks at an appropriate time and to meet with both parties. A5

o [redacted] continually walks away from deadlines. He is now arguing, echoing the FMLN position, that FMLN commitment to the EC to reach a ceasefire by May 30 is no longer binding because Cristiani wouldn't agree to reform Article 248. This is outrageous and untrue. The FMLN proposal to reach agreement on a cease fire has no reference to Article 248 (see enclosed full text). A5

UNCLASSIFIED [redacted] OADR
DECLASSIFIED IN PART

o [redacted] mispresented Cristiani's position on scheduling next round of negotiations claiming GOES had agreed to resume substantive talks, after one day "organizational" meeting, not until May 20. A5

o Cristiani called SYG Monday to request that organizational meeting be held this week and intensive negotiations begin next week and that May 30 ceasefire deadline be maintained.

POINTS TO STRESS:

1. Delay is dangerous. The May 30 deadline is real; FMLN should be held to it by the U.N. Talks must begin ASAP.

2. The longer we delay in reaching a ceasefire the more likely it is that one side or the other will blow up the process. The FMLN launched a major attack on a hydroelectric dam this week and has accumulated sophisticated SAM-14s and 16s.

3. We need to make the next round be final "pressure cooker" session. All pressure must be brought to bear to reach a ceasefire by May 30th.

Insert

4. The foreign ministers of the 4 friends can be brought in. The Security Council could act as a guarantor of agreements. The U.S. has already made clear it will meet with the FMLN and GOES as an incentive.

5. The steps Cristiani has agreed to are far-reaching and de-stabilizing. No nation in Latin America has offered these kinds of concessions to end a guerilla insurgency--particularly asking major reductions and purging of its army in the middle of a war. The U.N. cannot expect Cristiani to continue making concessions on outstanding armed forces issues without guarantee of a ceasefire.

6. SYG must be sensitive to these internal tensions. Cristiani feels strongly that members of the Truth Commission must be Salvadorans, not foreigners, if its work is going to be accepted by the society.

7. Security Council should be planning now to deploy a U.N. peacekeeping force so it can move immediately once ceasefire agreement is reached.

8. U.S. military aid to El Salvador for second half of FY 91 can help pay costs as well as demobilize combatants on both sides if cease fire comes soon.

THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION

2. CORDOBA PRAISED THE COLOMBIA SECTION OF THE DEPARTMENT'S RECENTLY RELEASED HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT, SAYING THAT IT ACCURATELY REFLECTED THE EXTREME COMPLEXITY OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN THE COUNTRY. CORDOBA SAID THAT THE DIVERGENT SOURCES OF THE VIOLENCE AND ABUSES, WHICH ARE ENDEMIC TO COLOMBIA, SHARPLY DISTINGUISH ITS HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION FROM THAT OF ANY OTHER LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRY. HE BELIEVED THAT THE SITUATION HERE WAS VERY GRAVE.

3. CORDOBA IDENTIFIED VIOLENT LEFT-WING GUERRILLA GROUPS, COLOMBIA'S NARCO TRAFFICKING MAFIAS, AND RIGHT-WING VIGILANTE GROUPS OFTEN ASSOCIATED WITH THE NARCOS AS PRINCIPLE CAUSES OF COLOMBIA'S HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS. HE EMPHASIZED THAT IT WAS NOT THE POLICY OF THE ARMED FORCES AS AN INSTITUTION TO CONDON HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, BUT ADDED THAT ELEMENTS OF THE MILITARY WERE QUITE POSSIBLY INVOLVED IN SUCH ABUSES.

[redacted] UNCLASSIFIED

4. PART OF THE PROBLEM, ACCORDING TO THE PROCURADOR DELEGATE, IS THAT THE MILITARY HAS TRADITIONALLY BEEN RELUCTANT TO MAKE A DISTINCTION BETWEEN GUERRILLAS AND THE CIVILIAN POPULATION IN AREAS OF GUERRILLA ACTIVITY. ILLEGAL SEARCHES AND DETENTIONS IN SUCH AREAS, OFTEN DIRECTED AGAINST MEMBERS OF LABOR UNIONS AND LEFTIST POLITICAL PARTIES, ARE COMMON. FOR THEIR PART, THE GUERRILLAS TRY TO CO-OPT THE USUALLY RELUCTANT LOCAL POPULATION, OFTEN BY INTIMIDATION. THE RESULT IS THAT CIVILIANS ARE OFTEN THE PRINCIPLE VICTIMS OF THE ARMY-GUERRILLA CONFLICT. THE GUERRILLAS LAUNCH ATTACKS AND THEN RETREAT INTO THE COUNTRYSIDE WHEN THE MILITARY APPROACHES. LOCAL INHABITANTS ARE LEFT TO FACE SHELLING DIRECTED AGAINST THE GUERRILLAS OR THE WRATH OF ARMY TROOPS UPSET OVER THE CIVILIAN'S OFTEN FORCED SUPPORT OF THE INSURGENTS.

SPECIFIC CASES

5. CORDOBA BELIEVES THAT THE RECENT WAVE OF KILLINGS OF MEMBERS OF THE PATRIOTIC UNION (UP) POLITICAL PARTY IS THE RESULT OF A CONCERTED PLAN (HE DID NOT KNOW BY WHOM) DESIGNED TO "LIQUIDATE" THE SMALL LEFTIST GROUP. HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THE UP KILLINGS HAVE SIGNIFICANTLY SUBSIDED SINCE THE MARCH 11 ELECTIONS. POSSIBLE SUSPECTS ARE THE NARCOS, RIGHT-WING VIGILANTE GROUPS, OR PERHAPS EVEN ELEMENTS OF THE MILITARY. CORDOBA POINTED OUT THAT THE MURDER CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE UP MADE LITTLE SENSE -- THE FACTION RIVEN PARTY HAS THE SUPPORT OF ONLY A SMALL MINORITY OF COLOMBIANS AND NO CHANCE OF GAINING ANY SIGNIFICANT POLITICAL POWER.

I. DIALOGUE

San Jose Meeting

The Government of El Salvador (GOES) and the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) met for the second round of peace talks October 16-18 in San Jose, Costa Rica. (The parties had agreed to meet on a monthly basis following the initial session held in Mexico City in September, with each side pledging not unilaterally to break off the talks.) The GOES team was accompanied this time by an advisory group which included two military officers. The FMLN sent Joaquin Villalobos (People's Revolutionary Army) and Shafik Handal (Armed Forces of Liberation) as its highest-ranking representatives.

The GOES proposed an immediate end to hostilities, in particular FMLN violence against civilians. In return the GOES offered to halt military offensive operations, to guarantee the safety and civic and political rights of the FMLN, and to take measures to incorporate the demobilized FMLN into the political process (in keeping with the Tela Accords signed by the five Central American presidents). The GOES proposal also addressed the FMLN's earlier demands for judicial and electoral reform.

In response the FMLN released a 62-page document, based on its September proposal, calling for a purge of the leadership of the Salvadoran Armed Forces (ESAF), replacement of the Supreme Court, abrogation of foreign military agreements, prosecution of military human-rights violations, flexibility in already-scheduled election dates, and a cease-fire based on de facto division of territory. The guerrillas refused to suspend hostilities until after there was progress on other issues. In contrast to the GOES plan, the FMLN proposal made no reference to any of the regional peace accords.

There was little agreement in the October meeting. The FMLN insisted on a thorough and immediate GOES response to its 62-page proposal and was uninterested in discussing the GOES proposal. The FMLN tried to characterize incorrectly the GOES effort to achieve a cease-fire early-on as insistence on FMLN disarming or surrender. The FMLN subsequently sought to portray the San Jose meeting as a dead end for the negotiations process, ignoring the fact that San Jose was the first substantive meeting between the two sides and was designed to make an initial foray into substantive issues. However, the joint communique issued characterized the meeting as positive and both sides agreed to meet for a third round of talks in Caracas in November. The GOES agreed to meet despite the fact that the FMLN assassinated the 23-year-old daughter of an active-duty ESAF colonel on October 17 while the two sides were negotiating.

FMLN Breaks Off Negotiations

A series of attacks at the end of October escalated the level of violence dramatically. On October 30 the FMLN launched a mortar attack against ESAF headquarters, killing one civilian, wounding 15 others, and damaging commercial establishments. Unidentified parties bombed the offices of two FMLN-allied groups, COMADRES and the union FENASTRAS on October 31, leaving ten dead and 30 injured in the FENASTRAS attack. On November 2 the FMLN announced the "temporary suspension" of its participation in the Caracas round, citing the FENASTRAS attack for which it blamed the ESAF. The FMLN said it would require guarantees for the safety of opposition groups before it would resume negotiations. The GOES pledged to send representatives to Caracas anyway and called on the FMLN not to abandon the talks.

FMLN Offensive

The FMLN launched a major offensive on November 11, concentrating on San Salvador and other urban centers, in an attempt to achieve three objectives: spark an insurrection; create divisions within the GOES, between the GOES and the ESAF, and between the GOES and the US; and show military strength. Capture of major military installations and assassination of GOES and ESAF leadership were attempted as a means toward those objectives. The FMLN failed in all three areas but the offensive claimed 3,500 lives, displaced 10,000 families, and caused $100 million in damage.

Preparations for the offensive, including infiltrating up to 2,000 combatants into San Salvador and stockpiling weapons, required from 12 to 18 months lead time. While the FMLN commandantes were participating in peace talks in Mexico and San Jose, their troops were gearing up for the offensive.

As the fighting continued, the FMLN proposed a UN-supervised cease-fire. The GOES rejected this notion fearing it would simply enable the FMLN to resupply and would tacitly acknowledge FMLN control over territory. Instead, President Cristiani called on the FMLN to resume negotiations and to meet with the GOES in Caracas, as scheduled. On November 20 the GOES delegation arrived in Caracas and met with Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez, who had offered his services to restart dialogue. The FMLN delegation, consisting of junior representatives, did not arrive in Caracas until after the GOES team had left on November 22.

San Isidro Summit

The presidents of Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua met in San Isidro de Coronado, Costa Rica from December 10-12 as part of a series of regional peace efforts. (At the last such meeting in Tela, Honduras in August, Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega admitted publicly that his government had been providing assistance to the FMLN and pledged to halt such assistance.) In the declaration issued at the conclusion of the summit, the presidents "expressed their decided support to the President of El Salvador, Mr. Alfredo Cristiani, and to his government, as a faithful demonstration of their unvarying policy of supporting governments that are the product of democratic, pluralistic and participative processes." They stated that they "support the Government of El Salvador in its reiterated intention to find a solution to the Salvadoran conflict by peaceful and democratic means, and in this vein, they reiterated their vehement call to the FMLN immediately and effectively to cease hostilities in that brother country and to reincorporate itself into the process of dialogue already undertaken. Likewise, they demand in energetic form that the FMLN publicly renounce all forms of violent action that directly or indirectly affects the civilian population." The declaration also asks that the Secretary General of the United Nations, "applying the greatest possible personal effort, carry out the actions necessary to re-initiate the dialogue between the government of El Salvador and the FMLN and to contribute in that way to its successful development."

FMLN Reaction to San Isidro

In a December 12 communique the FMLN "rejected with indignation" the summit's support for the Cristiani government and the notion that the FMLN's demobilization could be effected by a regional agreement. The guerrillas did agree to the mediation role of the UN Secretary General "to initiate serious negotiations with the participation of all the political and social forces of the country." However, the FMLN later seemed to retreat from its willingness to resume peace talks, alleging in a December 19 communique issued in Mexico that the GOES and the ESAF were not seriously interested in negotiations and that the FMLN would "remain firm regarding the suspension of the dialogue." The FMLN conditionad a resumption of talks on a purging of the ESAF and other demands.

GOES Continues to Call for Talks

The GOES continued to state its willingness to meet with the FMLN, but in turn demanded that the FMLN halt its attacks against civilians, in keeping with the San Isidro declaration.

UN's Good Offices

President Cristiani travelled to New York to meet with UN Secretary General Perez de Cuellar on January 31, accompanied by Salvadoran Minister of Defense Gen. Humberto Larios and other GOES officials, to discuss the role the UN could play in reinitiating dialogue. The prospects for negotiations were a major topic in meetings Cristiani had afterward with President Bush and Secretary Baker, in which Administration officials reiterated support for the GOES in its efforts to end the war through negotiations. The Secretary called Secretary General Perez de Cuellar on February 5 to express the Administration's strong support of UN efforts.

The Secretary General then sent his personal representative Alvaro de Soto on a round of shuttle diplomacy between FMLN representatives in Mexico and the GOES in San Salvador. His focus was on reaching agreement on the framework and procedures that would govern renewed peace talks.

US - Soviet Ministerial

Central America was one of the areas discussed by Secretary Baker and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze at the ministerial held in Moscow February 7-9. Their joint statement read, in part: "The sides stressed their strong support for a negotiated political solution to the conflict in El Salvador as called for in the San Isidro declaration. They pledged support for the UN Secretary General's efforts to secure a permanent cease-fire and renewed negotiations in El Salvador, and for the more vigorous and effective use of UN machinery to supervise compliance with existing and future agreements in Central America."

Nicaraguan Elections

On February 25 Nicaragua held presidential elections in which Violeta Chamorro and her opposition coalition defeated Sandinista President Ortega, ending a decade of communist rule. The loss of Nicaragua as the FMLN's major source of arms and logistical support no doubt put additional, though unacknowledged, pressure on the FMLN to resume negotiations. Despite Ortega's promise to his Central American colleagues at Tela that he would halt assistance to the Salvadoran guerrillas, such aid had continued.

(In October Honduran border guards intercepted a vehicle travelling from Nicaragua to El Salvador carrying hidden in its walls assault rifles, rifle grenades, mines, mortars, and FMLN instruction manuals. The vehicle was registered to a known FMLN front group in El Salvador. In November, a small aircraft carrying arms from Nicaragua crashed in eastern El Salvador. Its cargo included 24 Soviet-designed SA-7 antiaircraft missiles).

Greater UN Presence

In a March 6 meeting with UN officials, Cristiani asked that the UN increase the presence of the UN Observer Forces in Central America (ONUCA) in Honduras, Nicaragua, and El Salvador. Cristiani's request, in accordance with regional peace accords, was made in an effort to stop the continued introduction of arms into El Salvador by Nicaragua and Cuba.

Suspension of Economic Sabotage

The FMLN announced on March 13 that it would suspend attacks against public transportation, commercial establishments, telephone lines, and government officials and civilians "who are not involved with the military or paramilitary apparatus of the Salvadoran armed forces." This was seen as a response to the demand of the five presidents that the guerrillas cease targetting civilians. However, the FMLN reserved the right to determine which civilians constituted legitimate targets.

Latest Developments

On March 14 the GOES accepted the FMLN offer, interpreting it to preclude FMLN use of mines and use of civilians as a shield for attacks, reiterating the need for confidential diplomatic exchanges, and stressing that negotiations would be resumed within the framework of Esquipulas II and San Isidro. The FMLN on March 16 announced that it deemed "as positive the government's recognition of the FMLN's goodwill gestures." The guerrillas went on to press the GOES for an end to the state of exception, to human rights violations, and to close air support in military operations. The FMLN communique also posed the threat of an escalation of violence if the GOES and the ESAF were not sufficiently forthcoming in their pursuit of a negotiated solution. On March 21 the GOES announced that, in light of the UNSYG's efforts and the recent gestures by the FMLN, the GOES was ready immediately to resume peace talks.

The GOES and the FMLN met in Mexico City on March 29, under UN auspices, to resolve procedural issues. On March 30 the UN announced that the two sides would meet again April 4 in Geneva, with Perez de Cuellar in attendance, to resume negotiations.

ESAF Support for Dialogue

The ESAF placed a full-page newspaper advertisement on March 30 reaffirming the military's support for democracy and peace negotiations. The ad read, in part: "it is important that the people of El Salvador are completely certain that we support in all seriousness the endeavors of the government in looking for peace and unity. In accordance with our constitution, the president is the general commander of the armed forces and it attributes to him the ability to make use of the military institution to achieve the objectives of the state. In this respect, the armed forces as a fundamental and permanent institution for national security emphasizes its sincere subordination and loyalty to its general commander and president, going alongside him in his efforts to achieve national reconciliation, peace, and life under a democratic system."

II. ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

The United States Agency for International Development (AID) provides assistance for the reform and strengthening of the judicial system through the four components of the Judicial Reform Project authorized in 1984: the National Legislative Revisory Commission, the Judicial Protection Unit, the Commission on Investigations, and the Judicial Administration and Training Program. On September 26, 1989 AID transferred to the Department of State management responsibility for the judicial protection and investigative training components of the program. AID retained responsibility for the legislative drafting and the judicial administration and training components. The change in management brought activities in the El Salvador project under the same institutional oversight as administration of justice activities elsewhere in Latin America and the Caribbean, where the Department of State exercises delegated authority for investigative training and has also assumed the lead with respect to judicial protection. In addition to the Judicial Reform Project, regional administration of justice projects -- specifically the International Criminal Investigative Training Assistance Program of the Department of Justice and the UN Latin American Institute for the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders -- offer training and technical assistance to members of the Salvadoran criminal justice system.

National Legislative Revisory Commission (CORELESAL)

CORELESAL was established as a legislative drafting commission to provide an impetus for the modernization of Salvadoran law. Since 1986 CORELESAL has drafted 11 laws. The National Assembly passed the law defining the small farmer in 1986 and six additional laws in the past six months. Four other laws await action by the Assembly. CORELESAL has been able to engage the support of institutions such as the Supreme Court, the Ministry of Justice, and the offices of the Attorney General and Solicitor General in order to sponsor the legislation proposed and prompt the National Assembly to approve such legislation. Because of this support, it is expected that the National Assembly will act on the remaining four laws this year.

The recently approved laws are:

- State of Exception Criminal Procedure: This is permanent legislation replacing procedures established under an old decree (Decree 50) and subsequent decrees which established a state of exception. It seeks to create a balance between the need to protect the government's stability and the need to continue to protect the rights of the individual. It also establishes procedures for the trying of crimes against the state and public peace.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

- National Council of the Judiciary: Under Salvadoran law the Supreme Court appoints all lower-court judges at the trial (first instance) and appellate (second instance) levels. To assist the Supreme Court in this selection process, the 1983 constitution provides for a National Council of the Judiciary which would prepare lists of candidates for the Supreme Court's review. This law implements that constitutional provision. The purpose is to decrease the political nature of the judiciary, increase its independence from the other branches of government, and introduce an element of merit selection into the process of nominating judges.

- Procedural Law for the Making of Arrests and Imposition of Administrative Fines: This law establishes procedures to regulate the constitutional authority of administrative officers to make arrests and impose fines in the case of violation of an administrative law, by-law, or administrative order. It is designed to protect the individual's right of due process.

- Amendments to Criminal, Criminal Procedure, and Minors Codes in Relation to the Protection of the Family and Minors: This law provides broader protection for the family, especially minors. The reforms to the criminal and criminal-procedure codes clarify the text of existing articles and increase the penalty in specific crimes committed against minors. The reforms to the minors code give control to the Salvadoran Minors Council over any private or public center that is dedicated to the protection and assistance of minors.

- Amendments to Criminal Procedure Code in Relation to Reversals and Absolute Nullity Declarations: This protects the rights of parties who had no recourse against a judge's decision to reverse an earlier decision or declare it null. It creates a procedure to appeal these decisions.

- Use of the Surname: This eliminates discrimination against children born out of wedlock and women, implementing a new constitutional principle designed to prevent interference with any political, social, or individual right to use a surname.

Judicial Protection Unit (JPU)

The JPU remains inactive as the Embassy continues to explore with the GOES the most effective means of providing protection to judges, witnesses, and prosecutors in high-profile cases. We intend to continue to press the GOES on the need for such a unit.

Commission on Investigations

The Commission on Investigations, which oversees the Special Investigative Unit (SIU) and the Forensic Unit, is still being reorganized. Previously there were three members on the Commission: the Minister of Justice (the chairman), the Vice Minister of Interior, and a representative of the president. In the interim the Minister of Justice alone fulfills this function.

The SIU is charged with investigating crimes of national importance, including politically sensitive crimes and human rights cases. Its caseload includes white collar crimes, kidnappings, political killings and corruption cases. Since its inception in 1985, the SIU has investigated approximately 89 cases. Foreign observers who have reviewed the SIU's work, most recently in connection with the investigation into the killing of the Jesuits in November 1989, have found the SIU's work to be objective, thorough, and professional. It was the evidence gathered by the SIU that broke the San Sebastian and Jesuit cases, leading to the identification and detention of members of the military as the alleged perpetrators of the crimes.

The Forensic Unit is by far the most professional laboratory in the country, though its use has been limited by its temporary location within ESAF headquarters, pending completion of a new facility to house it.

Judicial Administrative and Training Program

In September 1989, a three-year amendment was signed extending the project until September 1992. A significant activity under this new amendment will be the establishment of a judicial training school managed by the Supreme Court and the implementation of an improved case tracking system within the Supreme Court.

Negotiations have begun to engage an institutional contractor to provide technical assistance to the judicial system and establish the judicial training school. The team will include a court administrator, a judicial education specialist, and a training coordinator. The team is expected to be in place by the end of July 1990 and will work with the Supreme Court, the Public Ministry, and the law schools.

Project and counterpart funds continue to be used to buy essential office equipment and vehicles necessary for the San Salvador courts to function. Additionally, the Supreme Court has, on its own, initiated several significant reform activities recently, outside the scope of the Judicial Reform Project. The Supreme Court has begun implementation of a human-rights course for all the judges in the system (from justices of the peace to Supreme Court justices). It has instituted a program of mobile courts to assist courts with backlogs to bring their caseloads up to date. Two such courts went into operation in the last six months; two more are planned later in the year. The Supreme Court has also established several new courts to alleviate the problem of uneven distribution of caseloads and backlogs. The penal chamber of the Supreme Court is conducting an audit of the penal courts to identify problems, such as delays in processing, lack of equipment, incompetent or corrupt personnel, etc. Forty courts have been surveyed in the last six months, out of a total of over four hundred to be audited.

A new system of 24-hour rotating duty for the penal courts and justices of the peace in San Salvador has been planned and will go into effect soon. Under this system, every person required to initiate an investigation -- judge, forensic personnel, ambulance crew -- will be required to be on duty at the judicial center. This new system will reduce delays boch in beginning investigations and in having the police turn suspects over to the courts upon expiration of the 72-hour administrative detention period.

The Supreme Court has drafted a new law to update the list of eligible jurors. The current list is extremely out of date, impeding the formation of juries and delaying the prosecution of cases. The Supreme Court has also proposed, and the National Assembly adopted, reforms to the organic law of the judiciary which obliges law students to participate as public defenders, prosecutors, or jury members in an established number of cases in order to be licensed to practice. In addition to giving law students practical experience, this requirement should alleviate somewhat the shortage of personnel in these areas.

One-fourth of the 25 associate attorneys general have received training in techniques and use of scientific evidence. The remainder will receive this two-week course by the end of May. The purpose of the course is to increase the use of scientific evidence, thus reducing the traditional reliance on confessions, which have frequently been thrown out by the courts or otherwise found insufficient to produce convictions. The course is taught by technical staff from the Commission on Investigations, the first time Commission staff have given this type of instruction.

The Commission staff have themselves received extensive in-country training and this is an opportunity to exploit and pass on their expertise. The course will eventually be offered to all judicial personnel involved in criminal proceedings (trial judges, justices of the peace, and their clerks).

The Attorney General's staff in San Salvador has gone from part-time to full-time work schedules, resulting in an increase of 10 work hours a week. This follows a similar change in the court system last year.

The public defender's office provided services to 1,050 individuals in the three month period October 19, 1989 - January 19, 1990. Requests for legal assistance declined at the end of the year, due to the FMLN offensive and the Christmas recess. Two more public defender offices have been funded to provide services in the central and eastern parts of the country, increasing by 13 the number of public defenders. Public defender services are now available throughout the country.

International Criminal Investigative Training Assistance Program (ICITAP)

El Salvador participates in ICITAP activities in Central America, which are increasingly directed beyond police officers to include other key individuals in the criminal justice system. Eleven high-level justice officials came to the United States October 22 through November 4 under ICITAP auspices to learn about the operation of criminal justice task forces. Participants included the Chief Justice, Attorney General, Vice Minister of Public Security, chiefs of police, director of the SIU, and key legislators. At the conclusion of the seminar, the Salvadorans resolved to establish a permanent commission to improve the administration of justice in their country.

In October and November, ICITAP presented two five-week general criminal investigation courses in El Salvador to a total of 50 investigators and two prosecutors. Salvadoran investigators have also participated in two regional courses in crime-scene search, one of which was held in El Salvador, and vehicle-theft investigation. Because of the FMLN offensive in November, El Salvador was unable to participate in the regional criminal justice conference held in the Dominican Republic in December.

UN Latin American Institute for the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders (ILANUD)

In the last quarter of 1989, Salvadorans participated in four regional training activities sponsored by ILANUD in the areas of judicial training, statistics for court administration, prison administration, and narcotics. An ILANUD representative visited El Salvador in early March to assess the condition of three basic law libraries donated under the regional and bilateral projects and make necessary recommendations for follow-up.

-- Archbishop Romero (March 24, 1980)

Synopsis: Archbishop Arnulfo Romero was assassinated while saying Mass in a small chapel in the San Salvador Cancer Hospice. The government's investigation made little progress until 1985, when the SIU was assigned the case. The SIU reviewed available evidence, followed up on leads and in 1987 located Antonio Amado Garay, an employee of Capt. Alvaro Saravia, who drove the car used in the assassination. Garay's testimony before a Salvadoran court in November 1987 resulted in an arrest warrant and extradition request for Saravia, who by that time was living in the United States. In September 1988 a US magistrate in Florida signed a Certificate of Extraditability for Saravia. However, in December 1988 the Salvadoran Supreme Court overturned the Salvadoran government's petition to extradite Saravia and precluded resubmission of the petition by ruling that Garay's testimony, upon which the arrest warrant had been based, was too dated.

Status: There have been no developments on this case since the last report. The denial by the Supreme Court of the extradition petition for Saravia has rendered the case inactive, although technically still open. Further action on the case would only be possible if the Supreme Court were to review previous court decisions and find some basis for overruling them. Saravia and his wife remain in the United States facing charges of violation of immigration law. Their case is scheduled for a hearing in June.

-- Armenia Well Murders (1980-82)

Synopsis: Between ten and thirty people were allegedly kidnapped by members of the Civil Guard in El Manguito Canton, Armenia Jurisdiction, Sonsonate Department from 1980 to 1982. They were allegedly taken from their homes at night, accused of being subversives, tied up, blindfolded, and marched to a deep, narrow well. There they were allegedly shot or killed by machete and dumped into the well. In 1983 village residents filed complaints against the local Civil Guard commander, alleging illegal arrest, rape, robbery, homicide and other crimes. Seven Civil Guardsmen implicated in the crimes were arrested that year.

RELEASED

In 1984 there was an unsuccessful attempt to exhume the victims' remains from the well. The SIU successfully excavated the well in 1986 and found what appeared to be the remains of eight of the missing persons. Nine Civil Guardsmen remain charged with the crime; seven are in prison awaiting trial. Two Guardsmen, including the Civil Guard commander, are still at large, presumably outside of El Salvador. In February 1988, the Santa Ana appeals court upheld a lower court's denial of amnesty to the accused. On August 18, 1989, the 1st instance court decided to release some of the accused for lack of evidence and to raise the case against the others to trial. On August 23, the defense and the prosecution filed separate appeals before the Santa Ana appeals court. The defense filed a second appeal of the denial of amnesty and the prosecution asked for a review of the 1st instance judge's decision to release some of the accused.

Status: The defense and the prosecution have now completed arguments on their respective petitions. The Embassy has been advised that the court may rule on the appeals within the next 30 to 60 days. (While there is a time limit within which the courts are supposed to rule on petitions, in practice the courts generally exceed that limit).

-- Michael Kline (October 13, 1982)

Synopsis: American citizen Michael Kline was removed from a bus by soldiers while travelling through conflictive Morazan Department. The soldiers (Jose Lopez Garcia, Hector Rubino Reyes, and Cristobal Garcia) stated that they suspected Kline of being an American mercenary for the FMLN and shot him on the way to detention. The accused petitioned for amnesty in 1987, which was denied by the 1st instance court in San Francisco Gotera. The defense appealed the denial to the appellate court in San Miguel, which in May 1988 upheld the lower court's decision. The first attempt to form a jury, on July 18, 1988, failed when the requisite number of jurors (five) failed to appear. On October 18, 1989 a second attempt also failed when only four jurors showed up. On February 19, 1990, only three jurors turned up for the third effort. Judicial officials told Embassy officers that last year in San Salvador 55-75 percent of jury hearings did not take place, either because the jurors did not appear (due to sickness, fear, etc.) or were successfully challenged by either the defense or prosecution.

Status: The judge in charge of the case advised the Embassy that it will be at least another six months before a fourth jury hearing can be scheduled.

-- Kidnapping Case (Ring arrested April 1986)

Synopsis: A band of military officers (both former and active duty) and right-wing civilians allegedly kidnapped at least five wealthy citizens from 1982-1985 and received ransom payments of approximately four million US dollars. A police investigation of the kidnapping of a former Foreign Minister led to the arrest in April 1986 of members of the ring. Three defendants (Orlando Llovera Ballete, Maj. Jose Alfredo Jimenez, and Lt. Rodolfo Lopez Sibrian) were apprehended while another three (Victor Antonio Cornejo Arango, Ltc. Joaquin Zacapa, and Lt. Carlos Zacapa Butter) fled the country. Although Col. Roberto Staben was also implicated as the intellectual author of the kidnappings, he was released because of insufficient evidence. The other six were charged under decree 618 with terrorist kidnapping, membership in a subversive organization, auto theft, and possession of arms of war.

In April 1987 the defendants filed a writ of habeas corpus which was rejected by the Supreme Court in December 1987. The Supreme Court then returned the case to 1st military court judge Jorge Serrano Panameno for a decision on the applicability of amnesty for the defendants. In May 1988 Judge Serrano was assassinated, before he had ruled on the amnesty petition. A new judge was appointed in August who granted amnesty to the defendants in November 1988 for the charges of possession of arms of war and terrorism and transferred the case to the 3rd San Salvador criminal court for further action, claiming he was not competent to try the remaining charges. Criminal court judge Hector Larios, who was due for transfer, was assigned the case and dismissed it for lack of evidence in March 1989 in one of his last official acts. He also ordered the three jailed defendants released. We believe Judge Larios was bribed. Defendant Llovera was released and is believed to have fled the country. Then-President-elect Cristiani and the Embassy intervened to prevent the release of Lopez Sibrian and to effect the re-capture of Jimenez. Larios' successor, Judge Mejia Angulo, reversed the release order and reinstated charges. The GOES on July 11 requested the extradition from the United States of two of the accused, Victor Antonio Cornejo and Carlos Zacapa, who allegedly are key accomplices.

Status: The Embassy has been advised that the case may go to trial within the next few months. The GOES request for the extradition of Cornejo and Zacapa from the United States to El Salvador is currently under review.

-- Barrera Urquilla (December 5, 1986)

Synopsis: Air Force Cadet Victor Manuel Aguilar Mendez, Sgt. Jorge Alberto Ramos and enlisted man Vidal Antonio Pleytes were observed beating Barrera Urquilla during interrogation near a main road outside of San Salvador. Urquilla's body was discovered a week later about two miles from the scene of the beating. The SIU conducted an investigation that led to the arrest of the suspects on April 9, 1987. That same year the 1st instance judge ruled that the report on the legal "recognition" of the body did not contain sufficient information to show that the victim had been beaten to death. The judge ordered the body exhumed for further examination. The defendants have been discharged from the military and remain under detention.

Status: Judge Consuelo Salazar believes the decision on whether to send the case to trial will be made within the next month.

Venue: On November 1, 1989 the case was transferred from the Tonacatepeque 1st instance court to Soyapango, San Salvador.

-- San Sebastian (September 1988)

Synopsis: Soldiers of the army's fifth brigade detained ten residents of Canton San Francisco, San Sebastian Municipality, San Vicente Department, and are accused of executing them. The soldiers claimed that eight detainees and two guerrillas died in an FMLN ambush. Several investigations were done, including those by the Catholic Church's Human Rights Office (Tutela Legal) and the military. Then-President Duarte assigned the case to the SIU in November 1988.

Progress in the case went slowly until Vice President Quayle in a February 1989 visit to El Salvador stressed our concern about the case. A special military honor board was formed to review the evidence and found cause to dismiss two officers (Maj. Mauricio de Jesus Beltran and Sub-Lt. Arnoldo Vasquez Alvarenga) and seven enlisted men from service and turn them over to the civilian judge for prosecution. A total of twelve members of the military were arrested between February 13 and March 2, 1989. Several habeas corpus petitions filed in March 1989 were not decided by the Supreme Court until several months later. The twelve remain under detention at several military or security force installations.

Status: On February 8, 1990 the judge presiding over the case decided that there was insufficient evidence to try all but two of the accused and ordered their release. The Attorney General's office has appealed the judge's ruling to the San Vicente appeals court. None of the defendants has yet been released. At the same time the judge raised the case against Maj. Beltran and Sub-Sgt. Rafael Rosales Villalobos to the trial stage. Although the appeals court does not face a deadline for deciding the Attorney General's appeal of the judge's ruling, it is believed that a decision will be made in the next two months.

Synopsis: Sometime during July 1-3, members of the Atlacatl Battalion operating around Apopa, outside of San Salvador, arrested eight suspected FMLN members. One of the suspects, Lucio Parada, died during a field interrogation sometime before noon on July 3. That same day the remaining suspects were turned over to the first brigade in San Salvador. Sometime during July 3-12, a second suspect, Hector Miranda Marroquin, was taken to Rosales Hospital, suffering from injuries sustained while in the custody of the Atlacatl Battalion. On July 7, soldier Cesar Veilman Joya Martinez was placed in detention at the first brigade pending the outcome of the first brigade's investigation into the death of Parada and the alleged torture of the other suspects. On July 12 Miranda died in the hospital. The remaining six suspects were released on July 17. On July 23, Joya Martinez escaped from custody. Detention orders were issued the following day for Joya Martinez and three other soldiers. The military high command on July 26 ordered the National Guard to investigate the case. The National Guard submitted a report on its investigation on August 21, but left many questions unanswered. In October, Joya Martinez surfaced outside of El Salvador and stated that he had participated in death-squad activities at the first brigade and that US military trainers were aware of these activities. Subsequent to this appearance Joya Martinez managed to enter the US. (His immigration status is unknown.) In October a Salvadoran court issued an arrest order for him. That same month the other three soldiers were dismissed from service and turned over to the civilian judiciary for prosecution.

Status: The GOES is now seeking Joya Martinez' extradition from the US. The SIU has been assigned the case for investigation.

-- Jesuit Killings (November 16, 1989)

Synopsis: Members of the ESAF are accused of killing six Jesuits and two female employees of the University of Central America (UCA) in San Salvador on November 16. The victims were Ignacio Ellacuria, Rector; Segundo Montes, instructor; Ignacio Martin Baro, Vice Rector; Amado Lopez, instructor; Juan Ramon Moreno, instructor; Joaquin Lopez y Lopez, instructor; Julia Elba Ramos, housekeeper; and Celina Ramos, the 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ramos. The murders took place around 1 a.m. at the Jesuit residence, within the UCA grounds, on the fifth day of heavy fighting during the FMLN offensive. The SIU was immediately assigned to the case and developed forensic evidence that implicated members of a unit of the Atlacatl Battalion temporarily assigned to the Military Academy. The same unit had searched the Jesuit residence two nights before the killings. A military honor board was formed to look into the case and concluded that there was considerable evidence implicating the Atlacatl unit. On January 16 Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno, the director of the Military Academy, and seven other officers and enlisted men were detained and turned over to the civilian courts for prosecution. (A ninth soldier, who deserted in December, was also charged and is being sought.) On January 19 the court ruled that there was sufficient evidence to warrant provisional detention of the accused for the next step in the judicial process.

Status: The eight accused are under detention in National Police headquarters in San Salvador. The case is in the instructional phase of the judicial process, during which the judge hears testimony and orders additional investigation, if required. The instructional phase is allotted 120 days (until May, in this case) but more often than not judges exceed the allotted time. The likelihood of prosecuting and convicting Col. Benavides is uncertain. The only evidence yet developed of his complicity are the statements of the other accused, which under Salvadoran law are not admissible as evidence.

III. CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY

President Cristiani's central role in determining political-military policy during the FMLN's November 1989 offensive demonstrated the increasing subordination of the military to civilian leadership and control. Cristiani's leadership and authority were apparent throughout the offensive and were never questioned by the ESAF high command, which met continually with Cristiani throughout the offensive. Most notably, Cristiani issued an order prohibiting field-level searches, seizures, and arrests of church organizations and workers after a series of highly publicized and internationally criticized military searches and arrests during the first two weeks of the offensive. After issuance of the order, no further searches were conducted without the direct authorization of the military high command as ordered by the president.

The Embassy estimates that during the offensive between 200 and 400 civilians were killed in San Salvador and surrounding areas. Another 100 to 200 civilians were killed in fighting outside the capital. The casualty figures, by no means complete, are estimates based on available evidence (e.g., press reports) and bodies legally "recognized" and identified by justices of the peace. It is unclear who was responsible for these deaths. The majority of the deaths may in fact have resulted from civilians being accidentally caught in cross-fire during close combat.

During the offensive the FMLN deliberately used civilians as shields during the fighting by occupying public housing projects, schools, and religious buildings. The ESAF sought to minimize civilian casualties by limiting the use of heavy weapons in areas where civilians were believed to be located and by attacking only well-identified guerrilla emplacements and positions in the city. For the most part, the army and air force were successful in limiting collateral damage around those targets. Helicopter support was requested when ground forces were pinned down by FMLN ambush squads. In those instances, helicopters directed machine-gun fire and rockets at guerrilla emplacements. Deployment of fixed-wing aircraft required the authorization of Cristiani himself and was used on one or two occasions in San Salvador. Charges of indiscriminate ESAF bombardment or close air support in urban areas were discredited after the offensive.

The ESAF accepted responsibility for the inadvertent rocketing of a civilian home in the repatriated community of San Jacinto Guancorita during an ESAF-FMLN firefight on February 11. The attack killed six people. The rocketing occurred after ground forces from the first military detachment engaged an FMLN force on the outskirts of town. Air support was called in to support the ground forces as they pursued the guerrillas. The guerrillas reportedly withdrew through town, using it as cover for their escape. An air force helicopter fired rockets into the town at the guerrillas, one of which hit a civilian home and killed six people.

The military high command ordered an investigation into the incident. The SIU also conducted an inquiry and its findings led to acceptance of responsibility by the ESAF. The high command ordered compensation paid to the victims' families. On two occasions since the incident, air force helicopters have been fired on in the same area. In the first incident, an air force helicopter was shot at while evacuating wounded soldiers. On the second occasion, a helicopter carrying the Attorney General and his staff to Guancorita to exhume the bodies as part of criminal proceedings against the ESAF was fired on by guerrillas. One soldier was killed, and a second soldier, the two pilots, two prosecutors, and four journalists were wounded in the attack.

There is growing evidence that members of the military who abuse their authority by committing non-politically motivated crimes are being brought to justice. Two sergeants accused of raping a young woman and then killing her father, after he attempted to defend her, were consigned to prison pending trial on March 15 by the 1st instance judge in Mejicanos. On March 8, 26 Civil Defense members were convicted by a jury for the 1982 rapes and murders of 23 peasants in San Pedro Perulapan, Cuscatlan Department. They were convicted on the basis of the testimony of a survivor of the attack. The accused's defense, that they were ordered to kill the peasants by the Treasury Police for collaboration with the FMLN, was rejected by the jury. Eleven of the suspects are still in custody, the others having fled the area. Other recent cases include the conviction of seven Civil Defense members for the murder and robbery of four people in two separate incidents which took place in Armenia, Sonsonate Department in 1984 and the conviction of an army sergeant for the murder of two Guatemalan businessmen in March 1988.

There is no doubt that some members of the military continue to commit human rights abuses on a consistent basis. The November 16 murders of the Jesuits and two others, allegedly committed by the military, have reinforced the conviction of those who see the ESAF as the major source of human rights violations in El Salvador. This brutal crime raises serious questions about the degree to which elements of the military understand and accept the importance of respect for human rights. However, the ESAF's response, as an institution, to the heinous crime and its cooperation with the investigation indicate that the principle of accountability for such actions is understood and supported by the military leadership. Cristiani himself directed the SIU's investigation of the crime and made a televised announcement to the Salvadoran public that the likely suspects were members of the military.

The ESAF's cooperation with the president and civilian judicial authorities demonstrates that it supports bringing the perpetrators of such crimes to justice. IV. DEATH-SQUAD ACTIVITY

Statistics

According to Embassy statistics (based on publicly available sources), civilian deaths attributable to political motives continued their decline during the last six months. The FMLN offensive and attendant violence complicated efforts to measure accurately the number of political deaths outside of combat. However, it appears that for calendar year 1989 political deaths declined to 17-per-month from the 19-per-month average for 1988. Following are the monthly averages for politically-motivated deaths since 1980, when the Embassy began to gather statistics:

- 1980 - 750
- 1981 - 444
- 1982 - 219
- 1983 - 140
- 1984 - 64
- 1985 - 28
- 1986 - 26
- 1987 - 23
- 1988 - 19
- 1989 - 17

The Embassy developed a new category in 1988, "suspicious or unexplained killings," to cover murders for which no motive was apparent, but which may have been committed for political reasons. These deaths were previously included in the "criminal deaths" category. Analysis of this category for 1987, 1988, and 1989 reveals a decrease in 1989 comparison with 1988:

	JAN	FEB	MAR	APR	MAY	JUN	JUL	AUG	SEP	OCT	NOV	DEC	TOTAL
87	9	9	9	15	12	11	17	20	18	23	20	21	184
88	19	11	10	48	14	23	15	28	15	17	24	28	252
89	28	20	14	11	13	10	18	14	7	11	12	22	180

The monthly average for "suspicious deaths" was 15 for 1987, 21 for 1988, and 15 for 1989. The downward trend in this category will be carefully monitored by the Embassy during 1990.

The statistics do not support the contention that there is a resurgence of death-squad activity in El Salvador. Although there continue to be cases of politically motivated murders, these killings do not appear to be part of a systematic pattern. Nevertheless, the level of political violence remains unacceptable, as does the failure of the government successfully to arrest and prosecute those responsible.

Ultra-rightist Communiques

There was one alleged death-squad communique issued during the last six months. On March 8, 1990, a communique from the joint command of the Maximiliano Hernandez and Anti-communist Action Group demanded the release of the military members arrested in the Jesuit case by Holy Week in April. The origin of the communique was unknown and many local press analysts doubted its authenticity. For example, some of the language used was unlikely, as in the communique's statement that the group wanted to install a "fascist" state in El Salvador and that its "thirst for blood had not yet been satisfied." Local newscasts reported it but did not give the communique much credence.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

There were some threats broadcast over the national radio network on a telephone call-in program during the first week of the FMLN offensive. Some of the threats were directed against members of the Catholic Church and some of the Jesuits who were subsequently murdered. None of the callers identified themselves. The president moved to halt the call-in show immediately after the Jesuit murders.

Joya Martinez

The SIU has accepted responsibility for the Miranda/Parada/Joya Martinez investigation. The GOES considers Joya Martinez to be a fugitive from justice and is seeking his extradition from the US. The lack of specificity and detail in Joya Martinez' allegations has frustrated the Embassy's efforts to investigate or substantiate his accusations. The Embassy has been unable to confirm any of Joya Martinez' charges against the ESAF. No evidence supports Joya Martinez' allegations of the involvement of US Military Group trainers in death-squad activity.

FMLN Human Rights Abuses

FMLN violence continued throughout the reporting period. The following incidents were among the most egregious in a long list of guerrilla human-rights violations:

- In early October FMLN urban commandos assassinated the daughter of an army colonel, while the guerrillas were engaged in peace talks with the GOES in San Jose.

- In late October the FMLN's mortar attack against the military high command's headquarters killed one civilian and wounded twelve more. The FMLN made use of the Episcopal Church's parking lot for the assembly of the rockets used in the attack.

- The November 28 assassination of former presidential candidate and ex-Supreme Court president Francisco "Chachi" Guerrero continued the FMLN's policy of murdering civilian government officials.

- In January, the FMLN machine-gunned the homes of the telephone company's president and the Vice Minister of the Interior. They also attempted to kill an ARENA party leader, Jose Rodolfo Hernandez Cruz, who had previously been a candidate for mayor of San Salvador.

- The FMLN is believed responsible for the March 22 assassination attempt made against the son-in-law of Salvadoran Air Force Commander General Villamariona. Four men grabbed Rafael Sorto outside his home, forced him to lie down, and shot him five times. Sorto is not expected to live. He is a civilian pilot with no professional connection to the ESAF.

V. AGRARIAN REFORM

In 1980, the Civilian-Military Revolutionary Junta instituted a sweeping agrarian-reform law designed to reform the pattern of land ownership.

The reform has been carried out in three phases, with each phase relating to the size of the property involved rather than in chronological sequence. Phase I has involved the largest holdings (over 1,285 acres), which were expropriated and turned over to workers who formed collective cooperatives. Phase II has involved the divestiture of lands in excess of 605 acres. Phase III, the "Land to the Tiller" program, has involved application for title to land of up to 17.3 acres tilled by tenants and sharecroppers.

The US has assisted the GOES with the land reform since its inception. Assistance is now focussing on investment financing for reform beneficiaries and technical assistance and/or training in the areas of: 1) management and accounting for Phase I co-ops; 2) production and marketing of nontraditional export crops; 3) irrigated agriculture; 4) linking reform beneficiaries to active processors and exporters of nontraditional crops; and 5) coffee rehabilitation.

Status of the Reform

Over 23 percent of El Salvador's arable land has been transferred to formerly landless peasants, directly benefitting over 525,000 individuals, or about one-fifth of the rural poor.

Phase I. The Phase I program resulted in expropriation of 469 properties. The government has compensated former owners, except in approximately 21 cases that the Agrarian Reform Institute (ISTA) currently has pending in the courts. The cases fall into two categories: 1) constitutional, where properties expropriated were under 1,285 acres; and 2) land value disagreements. These cases are not likely to be settled in the near future.

For all practical purposes, AID's role in supporting Phase I transfers is complete. Some 329 cooperatives, directly benefitting 36,000 families have been formed. (Previous reports have referred to 317 cooperatives. The increase is due to the division of some of the 317 co-ops. The number of beneficiary families has not changed from the previously reported 36,000). The total acreage involved is 542,044. Titling is virtually completed, except for the pending court cases and a relatively few other cases awaiting resolution of technical problems.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
P900 1-0-1-230 993)

The GOES, at AID's urging, has declared 93 cooperatives self-managing since 1988. Government officials are no longer involved in the management of these properties.

AID is supporting GOES efforts to define the rights of collective co-op members under various arrangements, which might include service co-ops or the division of co-ops among individual farm families where the farmers choose to do so. The GOES has drafted beneficiary rights legislation, which it is discussing with campesino groups and other interested parties before submitting it to the National Assembly. In addition to providing for self-determination, the draft law would permit farmers to transfer or sell their land to other campesinos. However, the law as drafted would permit beneficiaries to transfer their land only to family members or to other campesinos who are either landless or who own less than 17 acres. The law would not permit resale to former land owners.

Phase II. Though proclaimed by law in 1980, implementation of Phase II was delayed by the GOES due to insufficient technical, financial, and personnel resources to process the estimated 1,800 potentially affected properties. Originally, Phase II was to affect holdings larger than 250 acres. However, the 1983 constitution raised the limit to 605 acres and stipulated that land in excess of this amount be sold within three years to campesinos, their associations, or small farmers. The required implementation law (decree 895), passed in February 1988, further provides for the expropriation of any land in excess of 605 acres and turns the land over to ISTA to be made into collective co-ops.

A survey just before the expiration of the 3 year "grace period", which ended in December 1986, showed that over 92 percent of the landowners with property in excess of 605 acres had voluntarily divested themselves of the excess. That which remains is generally located in highly conflictive areas where few people want to purchase land. The GOES has not expropriated any land under the new law.

Phase III. The Phase III program allowed renters and sharecroppers to apply for title to land (up to 17.3 acres) they had tilled in 1980. Similar to the Phase I situation, the GOES has compensated former owners except in 30 cases which the National Land Financing Agency (FINATA) has under litigation.

There were 79,142 claims filed under Phase III. Among these 31,855 were disallowed because, for example, two or more claims were made for the same parcel of land or there was no proof of a right to the claim. Thus, there remain 47,287 total potential titles. These break down as shown in the table below. (Note that the numbers shown here are based on AID interviews with the Land Registry Office. The figures reported in the September 30, 1989 Report on the Situation in El Salvador were incorrect.)

RELEASED

Total potential titles	47,287
Titles presented to Land Registry Office (considered by FINATA as definitive)	38,961
-(registered)	(33,961)
-(require technical adjustment)	(4,989)
Titles pending	8,994
-(in conflictive zones or litigation)	(1,842)
-(new titles)	(7,152)

In short, FINATA's workload is heavier than the GOES believed in the early weeks of the Cristiani administration. FINATA's workload involves more than 20,000 title transactions before the titling process is completed; that is, processing 6,484 new titles (the most time-consuming of these transactions), adjusting 4,989 titles to permit registration, and reassigning 8,478 parcels which have been abandoned by their original beneficiaries. The new timetable for completion is now mid-1991.

Continuing Distribution of Land Assets

Despite the progress of the agrarian reform to date, there remain an estimated 150,000 landless families who have not been affected by the agrarian reform actions. To assist these people, the GOES, supported by AID, has initiated actions to increase access to land by poor people.

The most promising of these, in terms of potential numbers of beneficiaries, is the Land Bank. Through Land Bank activities carried out by FINATA, the GOES purchased 50 properties with non-AID resources and distributed them to 1,461 families. However, the GOES is now in the process of establishing an officially constituted Land Bank outside of FINATA. AID has provided technical assistance for institutional design and financial analysis of the proposed Land Bank and estimates that the Bank will be able to distribute land to approximately 3,000 beneficiaries a year. Establishment of the Land Bank, one of the Cristiani government's higher priorities, is currently planned for May 1990. The equivalent of $5 million in local currency made available under US balance of payments assistance programs has been set aside for first-year funding of land purchases.

AID is also supporting the GOES in its parcelization program. Within Phase I co-ops, there are approximately 166,000 acres of unutilized or under-utilized land. In 1988, a program with ISTA targetted 19,440 acres of land on Phase I co-ops to be divided into parcels and distributed to approximately 4,000 families. This program is now complete. Among the beneficiary families were 800 displaced persons who had been living in camps. ISTA is now working on obtaining definitive titles for the beneficiaries and plans to continue parcelization during 1990. AID will continue to support this endeavor.

The Cristiani Government and Agrarian Reform

When Cristiani was elected president, there was concern in El Salvador and in the United States that the conservative ARENA party would reverse the reforms. Instead, Cristiani and his administration have supported continuation of and improvements in the reform, both in public statements and in concrete actions, such as working to complete Phase III titling, preparing the previously mentioned beneficiary-rights law, and establishing a Land Bank.

Campesino groups and labor unions have been especially wary of the Cristiani government's intentions regarding the agrarian reform. This is not totally unjustified, since in the early months of the Cristiani administration some government officials sent conflicting signals to these organizations. Cristiani, however, has met personally with campesino organizations to try to assure them of his interest in their concerns and to reaffirm his government's commitment to the reform. In response to campesino concerns, the GOES dismissed two appointees to the governing boards of ISTA and FINATA whom campesino organizations believed were unsympathetic to agrarian reform and incompetent as well. The Cristiani administration is also consulting with campesino leaders on the draft beneficiary-rights law. In the coming months, the Embassy and AID will continue to promote discussion and the exchange of views between the GOES and the campesino organizations.

The UN is stressing the importance of a timetable for RN demobilization. No timeframe was specified. Pickering countered that it was an interrelated process. He asked if ONUCA would be amenable to simultaneously verifying EPS withdrawal if asked by the parties. DeSoto said this could be discussed.

(U) On the FMLN talks, DeSoto said next talks are scheduled for May 3 , either in Mexico City or Caracas. DeSoto expects to be in region April 24 and to receive an FMLN paper on conditions for a ceasefire. He will then give this to the GOES for their input. Ceasefire is first item on the agenda. CEN Comment: While it is gratifying to see the issue of ceasefire at the top of the agenda you can be sure that the FMLN will front-load its demands to agree to one. By taking an FMLN draft to the GOES for their reaction the Government denies itself the initiative.

SUBJECT: MAPU/Lautaro Terrorist Group

Please see attached article.

It appears as if the MAPU/L is getting even more violent and unpredictable. Given the [illegible] information on a possible kidnap attempt and [illegible] I would say that MAPU/L is now the group to watch with regard to who is our most dangerous threat in Chile.

Last week a faction of the MIR also declared that it would continue the armed struggle against the newly elected government.

RSO sends regards.

LETELIER OUTLINE

1. Question(s) Presented

Considering that the Government of Chile has agreed that the amount of ex gratia payment should be equal to that which would be due if liability were established, what amount would compensate the surviving family members for the assassinations of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffit?

What amount would compensate Michael Moffitt for the physical injuries and accompanying losses and pain he suffered as a result of the bombing?

2. Statement of the Case

A. Biographic sketches of Letelier and Moffitt
B. Description of assassination
-evidence of attribution
C. Description of effect on families
D. Attempts to obtain justice compensation.

3. General Summary of Law

A. General principles - reparation should compensate as adequately as is possible for losses suffered. J. de Archega, El derecho Internacional Contemporaneo, [Contemporary International Law] ed. Tecnos (Madrid, 1980) p 339
Brownlie, The History of State Responsibility, in New Directions in International Law, Frankfurt, New York, 1982, Chorzow Factory

B. Overview of precedent
1. Principles of Law cases/settlements recognize rights to not only monetary losses but compensation for pain and suffering by reason of severing of family ties; Lusitiania, Godinez-Cruz, Stark (?)
taking into account the anguish suffered by reason of the circumstances surrounding death.
Rainbow Warrior

2. Amount
(a) small number of recent wrongful death cases
(b) no factual precedent on point for this case
- murder of former high-level government official,
- gruesome and painful deaths,
- attributed to government officials
- constituting an affront to the international community
Note: Rainbow Warrior - one death, $5-6 million property loss $16 million paid with respect to incident
(c) amount of award must reflect recognition of the extraordinary circumstances of this

3. Statement of Damages

A. Material Damages

1. General principles of wrongful death recovery under international law with respect to:
   (a) loss of income from decedent
   (b) loss of services from decedent

   Supporting Cases: Lusitania, USS Liberty, Godinez Cruz, Stark

2. Actual calculation of damages in this case
   (a) evidence of loss, such as trial testimony from family members as to the nature/quantity of past services provided by the decedents
      (i) Orlando Letelier
      (ii) Ronni Moffitt
   (b) Report of Phillip Eden, other economists re future income protential and value of future services
      (i) Orlando Letelier
      (ii) Ronni Moffitt

B. Moral Damages

1. General international law precedent supporting recovery for moral damages
   (a) Lusitania standard -- ". . . reasonable compensation for such mental suffering or shock, if any, caused by the violent severing of family ties, as claimant may actually have sustained by reason of (the decedent's) death."

   (b) U.S.S. Liberty Incident (U.S./Israel-1967) -- "The amount of the claim for the surviving parents includes a specific allowance for shock and emotional anguish suffered by the parents as a result of the violent severing of family ties."

   (c) Godinez Cruz Case (Inter-American Court of Human Rights, 1989) -- "With regard to moral damage, the Court declares this to be reparable in accordance with international law, in particular in cases involving human rights violations."

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

(d) Footnote to recognition of moral damages as an element of wrongful death compensation in the domestic law of various American nations (Argentina, Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, Chile).

2. Argument for increased damages based on aggravated nature of incident; U.S. waiver of damages for violation of international law

(a) photos, reports and other evidence regarding circumstances of deaths to show severity of incident and its likely effect on the plaintiffs.

(b) Garcia Amador, Sohn, & Baxter, Recent Codification of the Law of State Responsibility for Injuries to Aliens.

(c) Rainbow Warrior -- Secretary-General's ruling ordering France to pay New Zealand $7 million, at least in part for "moral damages" caused by France's blatant violation of international law.

3. Showing of entitlement to damages
(a) immediate relation to decedent

(b) pain and anguish resulting from the violent severing of family ties

(i) psychiatric evaluation of plaintiffs -- used in Ras Burqa briefs to establish psychological injury; accepted in Godines Cruz as evidence supporting moral damage award.

(ii) testimony /affadavits of plaintiffs as to the suffering they have experienced

4. Justification for amounts claimed
(a) Letelier family
(b) Moffitt family

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

C. Out-of-Pocket Losses
1. Direct Damages
(a) General principles of international law supporting recovery for direct damages
Supporting Cases: Lusitania

(b) itemization and claim
(i) Letelier family
- hospital bills
- costs of psychiatric treatment
(ii) Ronni Moffitt
- hospital bills
- costs of psychiatric treatment

2. Indirect losses (private attny's fees and costs incurred in attempts to obtain justice)
(a) General principles of international law re indirect damages
Supporting cases: Godinez-Cruz (in principle, compensable, claim not timely)
(b) Justification for an award of indirect damages in this case
-Cost incurred by plaintiffs in attempts to obtain justice; investigatigation of deaths
- Attorneys' Fees (private attnys' fees only)
- Experts fees and other expenses

D. Personal Injuries of Michael Moffitt
1. Principles of international law supporting Moffitt's claim for:
a. personal injuries, including medical bills, loss of wages during convalescence
b. Mental suffering accompanying personal injury

Supporting cases: Lusitania; Report to the Secretary of State [Special Mixed Claims Commission] Department of State Arb. Se. 7 (1940) 15, 20; 5 International Encylopedia of Comparative Law, Chapter 9, 108-55 (1975), Stark and Ras Burqua settlements

UNCLASSIFIED

E. Interest

(1) Legal basis for request
(a) General Principles of International Law supporting award of interest
i. Heirs of Cyrus Donagho (U.S. v Mexico)
ii. Theodore Webster's Administrator (U.S. v. Mexico)
iii. Godinez-Cruz (in principle an admissible element)
iv. Mixed Claims Commission, U.S. v. Mex. (1923-34)

(b) Period when interest shall run
i. from date of injury
a. Theodore Webster's Administrator
b. Heirs of Cyrus Donagho (U.S. v Mexico) (int. awarded from date of death)
ii. from date claim is presented
a. Rev. Beckman (U.S. claim a/g China -1913)
b. Bernard Campbell (U.S. v. Haiti -1898)
c. Hicks, Sheldon & Hoffman (U.S. claim a/g China - 1912)
iii. from date award is issued
a. Mixed Claims Commission, U.S. v. Germany (1923)
b. Grimm
c. Sea Insurance Co. of New York (claim a/g U.S. by Rep. of Texas 1836)

(c) Equitable options available to the Commission

i. interest from date of injury
ii. interest from date claim first presented
iii. Interest from date award would normally have been issued
INSERT CHART SHOWING AVERAGE PERIOD FROM INJURY TO PAYMENT

(d) Rates of Interest
i. Where claimants reside or where claim arose (U.S.)
ii. Conservative fixed rate (more likely to succeed)

(2) Justification for request and calculation of amount

(a) Inclusion of interest is part of duty to make full reparation

(b) Methods of including in award
i. include as part of lump sum award
ii. calculate separately on amount due at earlier date.

F. Conclusion

1. Request for total amount of damages
2. Chart which breaks down request into damage components for each family with separate request for M. Moffitt's personal injuries.

SUBJ: LETELIER CASE: JUAN PABLO LETELIER STATEMENTS ABOUT HIS VISIT TO WASHINGTON RECEIVE EXTENSIVE MEDIA COVERAGE

1. SUMMARY: APRIL 23 SANTIAGO MEDIA GAVE EXTENSIVE COVERAGE TO STATEMENTS MADE BY JUAN PABLO LETELIER, SON OF ORLANDO LETELIER. JUAN PABLO LETELIER SPOKE TO THE MEDIA ON APRIL 22 AFTER HE ARRIVED BACK IN SANTIAGO FROM HIS TRIP TO WASHINGTON, D.C., WHERE HE MET WITH U.S. CONGRESSIONAL REPRESENTATIVES, AND STATE DEPARTMENT AND JUSTICE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS. END SUMMARY.

2. APRIL 23 MEDIA GAVE EXTENSIVE COVERAGE TO STATEMENTS MADE BY JUAN PABLO LETELIER UPON HIS RETURN FROM WASHINGTON ON APRIL 22. HIS STATEMENTS SHARED TOP NEWS BILLING WITH COVERAGE OF THE ACTIVITIES OF LUISA LAGOS, ALIAS "LILIANA WALKER," REPORTED SEPTEL. THIS CABLE WILL PROVIDE THE STORY OF THE LETELIER WASHINGTON VISIT AS REPORTED BY INFLUENTIAL CONSERVATIVE "EL MERCURIO." OTHER NEWSPAPER COVERAGE IS SIMILAR.

3. APRIL 23 INFLUENTIAL DAILY "EL MERCURIO:"

"CONGRESSMAN JUAN PABLO LETELIER SAID YESTERDAY THAT U.S. OFFICIALS ARE STILL INTERESTED IN REOPENING THE FORGED PASSPORTS JUDICIAL PROCESS IN THE CHILEAN MINISTRY OF FOREIGN RELATIONS IN RELATION TO THE ASSASSINATION OF ORLANDO LETELIER...AND...THAT U.S. OFFICIALS HOPE THAT CHILEAN INSTITUTIONS WILL DEMONSTRATE THEIR ABILITY TO UNCOVER THE ASSASSINATION, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE NEW CHILEAN POLITICAL REALITY.

4. "LETELIER...MET WITH HIGH RANKING U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT AND JUSTICE DEPARTMENT OFFICERS, AND CONGRESSIONAL REPRESENTATIVES INTERESTED IN THE 'LETELIER CASE'...

5. "IN REGARD TO THE WOMAN PRESUMED TO BE LILIANA WALKER, AND WHO HAS BEEN HIDING IN SANTIAGO UNDER THE PROTECTION OF THE COURT OF APPEALS...LETELIER SAID...'IF MONICA LAGOS WERE LILIANA WALKER, SHE SHOULD BE ARRESTED AND NOT BE GETTING POLICE PROTECTION.'...LETELIER SAID THAT HE LACKED INFORMATION AS TO WHETHER THE WOMAN...IS THE ONE WHO ACCOMPANIED...FERNANDEZ LARIOS IN THE PLOT...

SANTIA 03213 00 OF 02 2405512 016347 609588

6. "HE EXPLAINED, HOWEVER, THAT HE TOOK A FOLDER OF PHOTOGRAPHS AND INFORMATION ABOUT MONICA LAGOS WITH HIM TO THE U.S. SO THAT THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT COULD WORK WITH FERNANDEZ LARIOS...ON THE IDENTIFICATION OF HER.

7. "'I WAS LEFT WITH THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE IS ONLY SECONDARY INTEREST IN THIS WOMAN IN THE U.S JUSTICE SYSTEM, ALTHOUGH IF HER PARTICIPATION IN THE ATTACK IS PROVED, SHE WILL BE CHARGED'...HE SAID THAT THE INFORMATION IN THE NEWSPAPERS CLEARLY SHOWS THAT THE WOMAN WAS A DINA AGENT.

8. "MONICA LAGOS STAYED IN HIDING YESTERDAY IN SANTIAGO WITH POLICE PROTECTION, AFTER THE COURT OF APPEALS GRANTED AN INJUNCTION IN HER FAVOR AGAINST...DEATH THREATS AGAINST HER. SHE HAS STAYED IN HOTELS...BUT YESTERDAY STAYED NEARLY HIDDEN IN POLICE OFFICES IN ORDER TO AVOID THE PRESS...

9. "LETELIER ALSO SAID THAT HE HAD MEETINGS WITH MICHAEL HOFFITT IN ORDER TO EXCHANGE INFORMATION WITH HIM...TOGETHER WITH THE ATTORNEY OF BOTH FAMILIES, SAM BUFFONE, TO ANALYZE THE INFORMATION IN VIEW OF THE NEW CHILEAN POLITICAL SITUATION.

10. "'I BELIEVE U.S. OFFICIALS ARE AWARE OF THE EFFORTS OF CHILEAN JUSTICE TO REOPEN THE INVESTIGATION OF THE FORGED PASSPORTS'...LETELIER SAID THAT THE OFFICIALS WITH WHOM HE MET WERE WATCHING...THE 'ABILITY OF OUR INSTITUTIONS TO BRING THE PROCESS TO A CONCLUSION'...HE SAID THAT HE HAD RECEIVED THE ASSURANCE THAT THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT...WOULD REMAIN IN FORCE AS LONG AS THE ATTACK AGAINST...LETELIER...REMAINS UNRESOLVED.

11. "HE NOTED...THAT FABIOLA LETELIER...REPRESENTING THE CHILEAN COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS, HAD REQUESTED THE SUPREME COURT TO REOPEN THE PROCESS AFTER THE ARREST OF DIONISIO SUAREZ, ACCUSED OF DETONATING THE BOMB THAT KILLED LETELIER, AND AFTER THE APPEARANCE OF THE WOMAN WHO CLAIMS TO BE LILIANA WALKER...BECAUSE THERE IS ENOUGH TO MERIT CONTINUANCE OF THE INVESTIGATION IN THE COURTS.

12. "LETELIER ALSO EVALUATED THE POSITION OF THE GOVERNMENT, REPRESENTED BY MINISTER SECRETARY-GENERAL OF GOVERNMENT, ENRIQUE CORREA, WHO...SAID THAT IN VIEW OF THE ABNORMALITIES FOUND DURING THE INVESTIGATION OF THE FORGED OFFICIAL PASSPORTS, WHICH BEGAN IN THE FOREIGN MINISTRY, FOREIGN MINISTER ENRIQUE SILVA CIMMA WOULD REQUEST THE REOPENING OF THE JUDICIAL CASE.

13. "HE EXPLAINED THAT THE GOVERNMENT'S PLAN TO LIMIT THE SCOPE OF MILITARY JUSTICE...WOULD TRANSFER THE 'PASSPORT CASE' IN 72 HOURS TO THE CIVIL COURTS. 'I BELIEVE IT IS THE FASTEST AND MOST CORRECT WAY TO CONTRIBUTE TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE...'

14. "LETELIER ALSO SAID THAT THE D.C. DISTRICT COURT WILL INSIST...ON THE EXTRADITION OF DINA CHIEFS MANUEL CONTRERAS AND PEDRO ESPINOZA...

15. "LETELIER QUESTIONED THE TERM 'ALREADY JUDGED' USED BY THE CHILEAN COURTS TO DENY THE EXTRADITION OF CONTRERAS AND ESPINOZA, ARGUING THAT THE 'APPEAL TO REVIEW THE DECISION' HAS CORRECT, ACCORDING TO THE

WELCOME AMBASSADOR SILVA

-- We are pleased that President Aylwin has made such a fine choice in selecting you as his Ambassador to the U.S. You have outstanding qualifications for your assignment. You know the United States well through your service with the UNDP in New York and Washington.

-- As you know, your accreditation ceremony with President Bush will take place at the White House. We are working to arrange the meeting as soon as possible, and will keep you informed of the arrangements.

-- In preparation for this meeting, I will need a copy of your Letter of Credence, the Letter of Recall of your predecessor, and your prepared remarks.

U.S. - CHILE RELATIONS

-- The U.S. government wants to normalize relations with the new democratic government of Patricio Aylwin. As you know, the Letelier/Moffitt case is major obstacle to this end.

-- We have held discussions on this case with Vice Foreign Minister Vargas in both Washington and Santiago. Your government's plan to pursue justice on the criminal side of the case and pay compensation on the civil side appears reasonable to us but we need additional details and a formal response to our Legal Advisor's non-paper.

-- I understand that Vargas is coming to Washington on May 10 to continue discussions on the case. We are prepared to move quickly to resolve both the civil and criminal sides of the case.

-- If the Chilean government takes credible steps to resolve both the criminal and civil sides of the case, we could recommend to President Bush that he certify that Chile has met the conditions of the Kennedy amendment.

ACUERDO ENTRE ESTADOS UNIDOS DE AMERICA Y CHILE

1. Los Gobiernos de la República de Chile y de Estados Unidos de América concuerdan en que existe entre ellos una disputa respecto de la responsabilidad por las muertes de Orlando Letelier y Ronni Moffitt en Washington, D.C., el 21 de Septiembre de 1976.

2. El 12 de Enero de 1989, Estados Unidos invocó el Tratado para la Solución de Controversias que puedan surgir entre Estados Unidos y Chile, de 19 de Enero de 1916, para investigar y evacuar un informe sobre los hechos que rodearon las muertes de Orlando Letelier y de Ronni Moffitt en Washington, D.C., el 21 de Septiembre de 1976, incluyendo la participación de agentes del Gobierno chileno en dichas muertes, y para investigar y evacuar un informe respecto del grado en que tales agentes del Gobierno de Chile obstruyeron las investigaciones de dichas muertes."

3. Estados Unidos pidió a Chile, en representación de las familias de Letelier y Moffitt, el pago de una compensación sobre la base de que Estados Unidos considera a Chile como legalmente responsable, bajo el Derecho Internacional, por sus muertes y los daños sufridos por Michael Moffitt. Sin admitir responsabilidad en la materia, el Gobierno de Chile, con el fin de aliviar el dolor de las familias de las víctimas y como una forma de facilitar la normalización de las relaciones con los Estados Unidos, está dispuesto a efectuar un pago ex-gratia al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América, el que será recibido en representación de las familias de las víctimas.

4. Los Gobiernos de Estados Unidos y Chile concuerdan en que el monto del pago ex-gratia deberá ser igual al que correspondería pagar si se hubiesen establecido responsabilidades, y deberá ser determinado por la Comisión establecida en el Tratado de 1914, en concordancia con el Compromiso anexo a este Acuerdo. Ambos Gobiernos acuerdan que, no obstante la invocación del Tratado de 1914 por los Estados Unidos el 12 de Enero de 1989, y en vista del entendimiento ahora alcanzado, la única materia sometida a la Comisión será la determinación del monto de la compensación a pagar.

5. El Gobierno de Chile se compromete a cancelar al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos, como un pago ex-gratia, el monto de la compensación que sea determinado por la Comisión. El Gobierno de Chile se compromete asimismo a efectuar el citado pago con la mayor prontitud posible, de acuerdo con los procedimientos legales chilenos que correspondan, luego de la determinación de la Comisión.

6. Al momento de recibir el pago ex-gratia a que se refiere el Párrafo 5. de este Acuerdo, el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos considerará satisfecha la reclamación que hizo suya a través de la Nota Diplomática enviada al Gobierno de Chile el 18 de Abril de 1988, así como toda otra posible reclamación civil del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos en relación a esta materia.

SUBJECT: Diana Ortiz

TO: Mike Mahoney

Josie F41

I talked with Deborah McCarthy about the meeting with Ortiz' attorney on May 22. She said she had a half hours' notice that the lawyer was coming by. She said she really didn't know what the lawyer wanted. She says she expects they will be asking for all the traffic in a FOIA request, so the telegrams are carefully worded.

Debbie says it appears Sister Diana was in Mexico for two months butis now back in the U.S. Letters rogatory have been sent by the Guatemalan Embassy to us and supposedly are now with Justice. Soreff, Ortiz' attorney, wanted to arrange for the letters rogatory and FBI interview to be done simultaneously, so there would be only one "interview." Debbie says that though she said she'd pass this request along, Soreff is now telling everyone that this has been agreed to.

Soreff said that he has sent a letter to Ambassador Strook making clear they do not believe anyone in the Embassy had anything to do with the "kidnapping." Apparently Strook is not satisfied that the letter goes far enough, and Soreff is writing another one. Debbie says she's sent copies of the privacy act waiver and the letter from Soreff to Strook in the inter-officemail to Josie (we haven't gotten it yet).

Soreff is pressing for a "statement" from the State Department/Embassy that we believe Sr. Diana's story. I pointed out that in paragraph 9 of the Embassy's April 11 telegram, it appears Strock agress to do this. Debbie had not realized that before. [redacted] Debbie is going to ask [redacted] the Embassy to send a copy of whatever was sent (if anything) to Soreff.

Debbie says that the general consensus is still that Soreff, et. al. are more interested in publicity ahatjustice.

RE: Impediments to "Normalization" of our relationship with Chile

Although we have been concentrating on resolution of the civil case brought by the victims' families, the criminal aspect of the case must also somehow be resolved if relations with Chile are to become "normal". Section 726(b) of (???) provides that certain benefits under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 and the Arms Export Control Act cannot be furnished to Chile unless and until the President submits a detailed report certifying three things, one of which is that the GOC "has taken appropriate steps to cooperate and to bring to Justice by all legal means available in the U.S. or Chile those indicted by a U.S. grand jury in connection with the murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt." (section attached).

Letelier

There are essentially two ways to effect the removal of the restrictions. Either the requirement must be satisfied - the President submits the report - or Congress repeals the section.

I suggest that we begin to explore ways to do each of the two. To satisfy the requirement, we may want ask Justice to give us some specifics on what, other than extradite, they would like Chile to do. We may want to explore whether Chile has already done everything it can legally do and whether the certification can be sent whenever we deem it advisable. (After full payment to victims' families?, after some lesser degree of progress?)

must

At the same time we may want to attempt to discern under what conditions Congress would be willing to legislate a restoration of these benefits to Chile. For example, if the human rights situation generally improves in the next Chilean administration, and/or if Chile makes payment to the victims families', or the USG's own research shows that Chile's refusal to extradite is defensible, will Congress revise or repeal this provision?.

Given this approach because of its good - less permanent we want else never mind

U.S. Chile: Invocation of Disputes Treaty

By a diplomatic note from the Department of State to the Embassy of Chile at Washington dated January 10, 1989, the United States invoked the 1914 ("Bryan") treaty between the two nations for the pacific settlement of disputes (see post) to resolve differences between them related to the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C., on September 21, 1976.

Having exhausted other diplomatic means to obtain the cooperation of the Government of Chile in the case, the United States invoked the treaty to request that an international commission, constituted in accordance therewith, investigate and report upon the deaths in question, including the involvement in those deaths of officials of the Government of Chile, as well as upon subsequent investigations into the matter by that Government. The commission would consist of one United States citizen, one non-citizen appointed by the United States, one Chilean citizen, one non-citizen appointed by Chile, and a fifth, or neutral, member chosen by agreement between the two Governments to serve as president. (If the parties are unable to agree on the fifth member, appointment of the fifth member will be made by the President of the Swiss Confederation.)

Dept. of State daily press briefing, No. DPC 14, Jan. 14, 1989, pp. 9-11.

The Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes That May Occur Between the United States of America and Chile, signed at Washington, July 24, 1914, is at T.S. 621, 6 Bevans, Treaties and Other International Agreements of the United States of America [,] 1776-1949 (1971), p. 550; entered into force, Jan. 19, 1916.

The United States had sought since September 20, 1978, the extradition of three officials of the Chilean Directorate of National Intelligence (DINA), Juan Manuel Contreras Sepúlveda, Pedro Espinoza Bravo, and Armando Fernández Larios, against whom a United States grand jury in the District of Columbia had returned indictments for conspiracy to kill Letelier. See United States v. Juan Manuel Contreras Sepulveda, Pedro Espinoza Bravo, Armando Fernandez Larios, and others, Criminal Docket No. 78-00367 (D.D.C., filed Aug. 1, 1978). See further, the 1978 Digest, pp. 851-855; the 1979 Digest, pp. 50-52, 1457-1458; and the 1980 Digest, pp. 33-35, 546-550, 577.

On or about January 31, 1987, Fernández Larios returned to the United States to face charges, and as part of his cooperation in the matter provided detailed information concerning the Chilean Government's inquiry into the Letelier/Moffitt murders.

Subsequently, as a result of information from Fernández Larios as well as information otherwise developed through its long-running investigation of the case, the United States filed several applications in the same proceeding for the court to request international judicial assistance from the Republic of Chile in specific regard to Contreras Sepúlvida and Espinoza Bravo. On Dec. 28, 1988, the American Embassy at Santiago forwarded to the Chilean Ministry of Foreign Affairs letters rogatory issued by the United States Court for the District of Columbia for judicial assistance in obtaining replies from seven current and former Chilean officials to a number of questions regarding all the defendants. A news account of subsequent developments in Chile appeared in The New York Times (late city final ed.), Jan. 26, 1989, p. A1.

In the meantime, the United States Government had formally espoused the claims of the survivors and personal representatives of the decedents against the Government of Chile.

ANSWER: IN MY REMARKS UPON ARRIVAL, (OR AS APPROPRIATE: ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS...) I EXPRESSED OUR HAPPINESS ABOUT THE RETURN OF DEMOCRACY TO CHILE AND OUR ADMIRATION FOR THE OUTSTANDING EXAMPLE OF CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY THE PEOPLE AND INSTITUTIONS OF CHILE GAVE TO THE WORLD. WE EXPECT TO MAINTAIN THE WARMEST AND FULLEST RELATIONS WITH CHILE. THE RECENT PASSAGE OF A RESOLUTION BY THE U.S. CONGRESS EXPRESSING SATISFACTION UPON CHILE'S RETURN TO DEMOCRACY, IS ONE INDICATION OF THIS.

WE ARE DISCUSSING WITH THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT THE STEPS NEEDED TO ELIMINATE ANY OBSTACLES REMAINING TO THIS OBJECTIVE. WE HOPE FOR A RAPID RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE TO THE SATISFACTION OF ALL PARTIES, AND THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS PROCEEDING ON AN ACCELERATED BASIS TO REMOVE GSP RESTRICTIONS ON CHILE.

7. QUESTION: YOURS IS THE FIRST VISIT TO CHILE BY A U.S. OFFICIAL OF YOUR RANK IN 16 YEARS. WHAT DOES THIS SIGNIFY?

ANSWER: MY PRESENCE HERE, AS THE LEADER OF ONE OF THE MANY DELEGATIONS TO THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT AYLWIN AND CHILE'S NEW CONGRESS, SPEAKS FOR ITSELF. IT IS A VISIBLE EXPRESSION OF THE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE'S GREAT SATISFACTION THAT CHILE HAS REJOINED THE FAMILY OF DEMOCRATIC STATES.

8. QUESTION: WHAT WILL THE U.S. DO IF CHILE FACES, IN THE NEAR FUTURE, AN INCREASE IN INTERNAL VIOLENCE AND/OR TERRORIST ACTIVITY? IS THE U.S. WILLING TO EXPAND TRAINING PROGRAMS FOR CHILEAN SECURITY FORCES IN ORDER TO DEAL WITH DRUG TRAFFICKING AND TERRORISM?

ANSWER: THE U.S. AND CHILE SHARE CONCERN ABOUT DRUG TRAFFICKING AND TERRORISM. WE HAVE BEEN IN CONSULTATION WITH THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES ABOUT THE STEPS NEEDED TO COMBAT THESE, AND WE DO EXPECT THAT OUR COOPERATION WILL CONTINUE AND INCREASE UNDER THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

9. QUESTION: WHAT WILL MILITARY RELATIONS NOW BE BETWEEN CHILE AND THE U.S.?

ANSWER: WITH THE REMOVAL OF LEGISLATIVE OBSTACLES, I EXPECT A RETURN TO FULL, NORMAL MILITARY RELATIONS AND CLOSER MILITARY COOPERATION. THE U.S. AND CHILE HAVE COOPERATED IN MILITARY AREAS ON MANY OCCASIONS. THE RECENT EXERCISES DURING THE VISIT OF OUR AIRCRAFT CARRIER, THE "CONSTELLATION," PROVIDED ONE EXAMPLE OF THIS, AND I EXPECT THAT OUR MILITARY RELATIONS WILL CONTINUE TO IMPROVE.

10. QUESTION: DO YOU FEEL THAT THOSE WHO ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES THESE PAST 16 YEARS SHOULD BE PROSECUTED?

ANSWER: WE HAVE MADE CLEAR OUR CONCERN FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, NOT ONLY IN CHILE BUT EVERYWHERE. HUMAN RIGHTS ARE NOT A MATTER OF POLITICS BUT ARE OF CONCERN FOR MANKIND AS A WHOLE. IN THE CASE OF CHILE, IT IS THE PEOPLE OF CHILE, AS REPRESENTED BY THEIR DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT, WHO WILL DECIDE HOW TO DEAL WITH ABUSES OF THE PAST.

11. QUESTION: WILL THE INVESTIGATION IN THE U.S. CONGRESS OF THE 1989 FRUIT CRISIS BE CONCLUDED SOON?

12. QUESTION: WHAT CAN THE U.S. GOVERNMENT DO TO PREVENT THE SHIPMENT OF TOXIC WASTE TO CHILE?

ANSWER: BY LAW, THE U.S. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY DOES NOT PERMIT THE EXPORT OF TOXIC MATERIALS WITHOUT THE PRIOR APPROVAL OF THE IMPORTING COUNTRY. I KNOW OF NO WAY THAT TOXIC WASTE COULD BE SHIPPED TO CHILE WITHOUT THE OFFICIAL PERMISSION OF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT, AND I UNDERSTAND THAT CHILEAN LAW AND ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES ARE STRICT. THEREFORE, I DO NOT SEE HOW TOXIC WASTE COULD BE SHIPPED TO CHILE.

13. QUESTION: CAN CHILE NOW EXPECT TO RECEIVE INCREASED OFFICIAL U.S. PROGRAMS OF EDUCATION, HEALTH AND DEVELOPMENT?

ANSWER: THE U.S. RECENTLY ASSIGNED AN AID DEVELOPMENT SPECIALIST TO THE U.S. EMBASSY HERE IN SANTIAGO, AND HE IS IN CHARGE OF OUR DEVELOPMENT COOPERATION AND ASSISTANCE. HOWEVER, CHILE IS AT A STAGE IN ITS DEVELOPMENT WHERE MAJOR INPUTS OF FOREIGN AID ARE VERY UNLIKELY. IF CHILE CAN MAINTAIN ITS IMPRESSIVE ECONOMIC GROWTH, I THINK THE CHILEANS SHOULD LOOK FORWARD TO THE DAY WHEN THEY WILL BE OFFERING AID TO OTHERS.

14. QUESTION: WITH THE NEW U.S. DRUG INITIATIVE, ARE THERE ANY ANTI-DRUG OR EDUCATION PROGRAMS PLANNED FOR CHILE?

ANSWER: WE ARE WORKING CLOSELY WITH THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES AND EXPERTS ON DEVELOPING A COMPREHENSIVE AND INTERNATIONALLY COORDINATED EFFORT AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING. OUR EXPERIENCE IN THE U.S. SHOWS THAT THE MOST EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS ARE LOCAL COMMUNITY PROGRAMS IN COOPERATION WITH GOVERNMENT EFFORTS, AND THAT IS THE APPROACH WE WOULD SUGGEST TO CHILE IN ITS FOR PREVENTING THE DRUG ABUSE PROBLEMS COMMON IN COUNTRIES WHICH ARE MORE ECONOMICALLY ADVANCED. WHAT IS IMPORTANT FOR COUNTRIES LIKE CHILE IS TO AVOID ANY FALSE SENSE OF SECURITY.

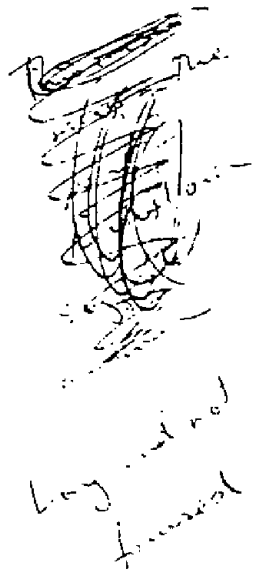
15. QUESTION: THERE IS INCREASING WORLD CONCERN ABOUT THE DESTRUCTION OF THE ENVIRONMENT. WHAT DOES THE U.S. THINK LATIN AMERICAN GOVERNMENTS SHOULD BE DOING, CONSIDERING THAT THESE COUNTRIES NEED TO EXPLOIT THEIR NATURAL RESOURCES FOR THEIR DEVELOPMENT?

ANSWER: WE DON'T WANT TO TELL OTHERS WHAT TO DO. WE WANT TO WORK WITH THEM TO ADDRESS PROBLEMS WHICH VITALLY AFFECT ALL OF US. I UNDERSTAND THAT HERE IN CHILE, FOR EXAMPLE, THERE IS GREAT CONCERN WITHIN CHILE'S GOVERNMENT, IN ITS SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY, AND IN ITS GENERAL PUBLIC, ABOUT ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS. CHILE'S EXPERTS ARE WELL AWARE OF THE NEED TO DEAL WITH PROBLEMS SUCH AS FOREST LOSSES, POLLUTION, CARBON DIOXIDE, OZONE DEPLETION, OCEANIC AND OTHER PROBLEMS, JUST AS ARE WE.



USING MODERN METHODS AND TECHNOLOGY, IT IS POSSIBLE TO HAVE BOTH NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND PRESERVE THE ENVIRONMENT. THE MOST RATIONAL WAY TO USE RESOURCES IS THE ONE WHICH PROTECTS THE ENVIRONMENT. IN THE LONG RUN, THERE IS NO OTHER WAY.

16. QUESTION: DO YOU THINK THAT U.S. AND EUROPEAN ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS AND FOREIGN PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN LATIN AMERICA WILL BE REDUCED AS A RESULT OF DEVELOPMENTS IN EASTERN EUROPE, AND HOW COULD THIS AFFECT THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT OF THE REGION?

ANSWER: I THINK THAT WE SHOULD LOOK AT EASTERN EUROPE AS A POTENTIAL INVESTMENT RATHER THAN AS A BURDEN. EASTERN EUROPE NOW IS FREE TO ENTER THE WORLD MARKET ECONOMY, AND EVENTUALLY MAKE A SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION TO WORLD PRODUCTION AND TRADE. THAT CAN ONLY WORK TO THE LONG RANGE BENEFIT OF COUNTRIES LIKE CHILE.

For example stress South to East Europe should increase demand for Chilean exports.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

MORE IMMEDIATELY, THE OBSELETE AND WORN OUT INDUSTRIES OF EASTERN EUROPE WILL BE REBUILT, IN PART, WITH CHILEAN COPPER AND OTHER PRODUCTS OF ITS MINES AND FORESTS, AGRICULTURE AND INDUSTRY, FOR WHICH THEY - OR THE COUNTRIES HELPING THEM - WILL PAY FOR ON THE OPEN MARKET.

CHILE WILL FIND NEW MARKETS FOR ITS AGRICULTURE AND INDUSTRY AS EASTERN EUROPE BEGINS TO PAY ITS WAY IN THE WORLD.

17. QUESTION: WHAT ROLE DO YOU THINK CHILE SHOULD PLAY IN HEMISPHERE DEVELOPMENTS?

ANSWER: THAT IS SOMETHING CHILEANS WILL DECIDE. HOWEVER, CHILE'S IMPRESSIVE ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE, TOGETHER WITH ITS ENCOURAGING RETURN TO DEMOCRACY, GIVE IT IMPRESSIVE AUTHORITY IN THE WORLD COMMUNITY.

18. QUESTION: DO YOU THINK THAT THE NEW LATIN AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES ARE NOW LESS VULNERABLE TO INFLUENCE BY THE SOVIETS OR CASTRO OR OTHER SUBVERSIVE MOVEMENTS?

ANSWER: ABSOLUTELY. MARXISM-LENINISM IS DEAD. CUT OFF FROM IDEOLOGICAL ROOTS, IT IS DIFFICULT FOR SUBVERSIVE MOVEMENTS TO MAKE HEADWAY. THIS IS NOT TO SAY THAT THEY NO LONGER ARE A PROBLEM FOR THEIR VICTIMS, AS PERU'S STRUGGLE WITH SENDERO LUMINOSO SHOWS, BUT HISTORY HAS LEFT THEM BEHIND.

19. QUESTION: WILL THE U.S. CONTINUE WITH ITS POLICY OF INTERVENTION, AS IN PANAMA? WHAT WILL U.S. POLICY BE TOWARD NICARAGUA? TOWARD PANAMA? EL SALVADOR? CUBA? WILL THE U.S. RESPECT THE PANAMA CANAL TREATY?

ANSWER: WE DO NOT HAVE A POLICY OF INTERVENTION, PERIOD. THE U.S. MILITARY ACTION IN PANAMA RESPONDED TO AN IMMEDIATE THREAT TO U.S. PERSONNEL AND FACILITIES, AND WAS STRONGLY SUPPORTED BY THE PEOPLE OF PANAMA WHO HAD BEEN ROBBED OF THEIR CONSTITUTIONALLY ELECTED LEADER. ASK THE PEOPLE OF PANAMA WHAT THEY THINK. THERE IS NO QUESTION THAT WE WILL RESPECT THE PANAMA CANAL TREATIES. THE RECENT VICTORY OF VIOLETA CHAMORRO IN NICARAGUA IS A VICTORY NOT ONLY FOR THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE, BUT FOR ALL OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEOPLE. HISTROY HAS LEFT DANIEL ORTEGA BEHIND, AND IT IS LEAVING CASTRO BEHIND.

20. QUESTION: THE U.S. HAS CRITICIZED THE OAS FOR NOT DOING MORE ABOUT NORIEGA. WHAT DO YOU THINK THE OAS SHOULD HAVE DONE?

ANSWER: THE U.S. HAS NOT BEEN THE ONLY CRITIC OF OAS INACTION. THE PRESS OF MANY OF THE MEMBER COUNTRIES OF THE OAS HAS BEEN VERY CRITICAL OF OAS INACTION. COOPERATION IN THE INTERAMERICAN SYSTEM TO SUPPORT THE PANAMANIAN PEOPLE'S RIGHT TO CHOSE THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT WAS THE PREFERRED PATH OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT. IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT WE WERE UNABLE TO ACT IN CONCERT WITH GREATER FIRMNESS. THE FAILURE TO DO SO RESULTED IN GREATER EXCESSES BY NORIEGA, AND THIS FINALLY REQUIRED DIRECT ACTION BY THE UNITED STATES.

UNCLASSIFIED

21. QUESTION: DO YOU EXPECT PERESTROIKA TO REACH CUBA? HOW DOES THE U.S. VIEW THE DEVELOPMENT OF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN CASTRO AND THE NEWLY DEMOCRATIZED LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES?

ANSWER: HISTORY IS PASSING CASTRO BY. IF HISTORY CONTINUES ON ITS PRESENT COURSE, AND I EXPECT THAT IT WILL, RELATIONS WITH CASTRO MAY NOT BE VERY IMPORTANT ANY MORE. CHILE AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES MUST MAKE THEIR OWN DECISIONS ABOUT RELATIONS WITH CUBA, BUT I WOULD CAUTION ANYONE TRYING TO DEAL WITH CASTRO TO REMEMBER HIS LONG RECORD OF SUPPORT FOR SUBVERSION. HIS REACTION TO EVENTS IN NICARAGUA WAS ONLY THE MOST RECENT EXAMPLE OF HIS UTTER DISREGARD FOR DEMOCRACY.

22. QUESTION: MANY LATIN AMERICANS BELIEVE THE U.S. IS NOT DOING ENOUGH TO STOP THE CONSUMPTION OF DRUGS WITHIN ITS OWN BORDERS. WHAT MEASURES WILL THE U.S. TAKE TO CARRY OUT ITS RESPONSIBILITY IN THIS AREA? DOES THE BUSH ADMINISTRATION ADVOCATE TOUGHER PRISON TERMS?

ANSWER: INDEED WE DO. WE ARE HITTING AT DRUGS EVERY WAY WE CAN, AND I DON'T THINK IT TRUE TO CLAIM THAT WE ARE NOT WORKING HARD ENOUGH IN THE U.S.

23. QUESTION: WITH THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT AYLWIN, LATIN AMERICA AS A REGION HAS BECOME ALMOST FULLY DEMOCRATIC. HOW WOULD THE U.S. VIEW THE INTEGRATION OF LATIN AMERICA INTO A COMMUNITY WHICH MIGHT LEAD TO A COMMON MARKET SITUATION SUCH AS THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY?

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

ANSWER: WE STRONGLY FAVOR ECONOMIC INTEGRATION, JUST AS WE OPPOSE THE FORMATION OF EXCLUSIVE TRADING BLOCS. WE ARE CONVINCED THAT FREE TRADE, CARRIED OUT UNDER AGREEMENTS AND GROUND RULES THAT ENCOURAGE TRADE RATHER THAN RESTRICT IT, IS ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL FOR WORLD ECONOMIC HEALTH.

WE SUPPORT THE PROTECTION OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS. WE OPPOSE HIGH TARIFFS AND NON-TARIFF BARRIERS. WE OPPOSE MONOPOLIES AND WE OPPOSE DUMPING.

24. QUESTION: WHAT IS THE ROLE LATIN AMERICA, AS A DEMOCRATIC REGION, SHOULD PLAY IN INTERNATIONAL POLITICS AND INTERNATIONAL FORUMS?

ANSWER: THE LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES WILL BE LISTENED TO TO THE DEGREE THAT PEOPLE TAKE THEM SERIOUSLY. TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY, A COUNTRY MUST SHOW THAT IT IS WILLING TO PUT ITS OWN HOUSE IN ORDER. I THINK THAT CHILE WILL BE IN A STRONG POSITION FOR THIS REASON.

25. QUESTION: WHAT WOULD BE THE U.S. POSITION IF LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES CREATE A DEBTOR'S CARTEL?

ANSWER: CHILE'S OUTSTANDING HANDLING OF ITS DEBT IS ONE PROOF THAT THE DEBTOR'S CARTEL IS ANOTHER OF THOSE IDEAS WHOSE TIME HAS PASSED. TREASURY SECRETARY BAKER HAS OUTLINED A STRATEGY THAT RECOGNIZES THAT WORKABLE SOLUTIONS MUST RECOGNIZE THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE SITUATIONS OF INDIVIDUAL COUNTRIES, AND THUS A CARTEL WOULD NOT BE IN THE INTERESTS OF EITHER DEBTORS OR CREDITORS.

THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND STRESSES THE IMPORTANCE OF GOVERNMENT FISCAL PRUDENCE IF A COUNTRY WANTS TO RETURN TO ECONOMIC SOLVENCY. IT IS NECESSARY TO USE EFFECTIVE MECHANISMS TO ADDRESS DEBT PROBLEMS, AND FRANKLY, SOME OF THESE MECHANISMS DEMAND THAT SOME DEBTOR COUNTRIES MAKE MAJOR CHANGES IN THE WAY THEY MANAGE THEIR ECONOMIES.

26. QUESTION: WILL THE U.S. INITIATE STRONGER PROGRAMS FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE OZONE LAYER?

ANSWER: WE ARE SIGNATORY TO THE MONTREAUX (SP) CONVENTION. WE HAVE SHARPLY REDUCED OUR USE OF FLUROCARBONS, AND WILL REDUCE IT FURTHER. HOWEVER, IT REQUIRES A WORLDWIDE REDUCTION, AND THIS DEMANDS THAT EVERY COUNTRY STOP USING THESE CHEMICALS. I AM TOLD THAT CHILEAN MANUFACTURERS OF SPRAY CONTAINERS NOW ARE USING SAFE PROPELLANTS, AND I HOPE THAT EVERY COUNTRY FOLLOWS THIS EXAMPLE.

27. QUESTION: HOW WILL THE GROWING TREND TOWARD PROTECTIONISM IN THE U.S. AFFECT TRADE WITH CHILE?

ANSWER: THE "GROWING TREND TOWARD PROTECTIONISM IN THE U.S." IS A MYTH. WE HAVE SOME OF THE MOST OPEN MARKETS IN THE WORLD. UNFORTUNATELY, MANY TRADING COUNTRIES DO NOT OFFER THE U.S. EQUALLY OPEN ACCESS TO THEIR MARKETS. THE PURPOSE OF OUR TRADE LEGISLATION IS TO ENCOURAGE THE OPENING OF THOSE MARKETS SO THAT TRADE CAN FLOW IN BOTH DIRECTIONS, AS IT MUST IF THE WORLD FREE MARKET IS TO FUNCTION PROPERLY.

UNCLASSIFIED

28. IS THE U.S. GOVERNMENT NOW GOING TO ENCOURAGE FOREIGN INVESTMENT IN CHILE?

ANSWER: IT IS OUR POLICY TO ENCOURAGE PRODUCTIVE FOREIGN INVESTMENT. TO JUDGE FROM THE VERY LARGE INVESTMENTS ALREADY MADE IN CHILE, U.S. INVESTORS HAVE CONCLUDED THAT CHILE IS A GOOD PLACE FOR INVESTMENT. AS LONG AS THIS REMAINS THE CASE, THEN PEOPLE WILL INVEST IN CHILE.

29. QUESTION: CHILE HAS FACED SEVERAL BILATERAL TRADE PROBLEMS WITH THE U.S., FOR EXAMPLE, PRESSURE FOR A NEW PHARMACEUTICAL LAW, THE 1989 FRUIT CRISIS, AND POSSIBLE EXPANSION OF THE LIMITS OF THE U.S. MARKETING ORDER FOR FRUIT. HOW DO YOU RECONCILE THESE TYPES OF PROBLEMS WITH THE NEED FOR DEVELOPMENT WHICH IS FACING THIS RESTORED DEMOCRACY?

ANSWER: CHILE IS A COUNTRY CAPABLE OF EXPORTING GOODS AND IDEAS, AND THEREFORE THE PROTECTION OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY IS AS MUCH IN CHILE'S INTEREST AS IT IS IN OURS. I KNOW THAT MANY CHILEAN EXPERTS FEEL THAT THIS IS TRUE. CHILE HAS SIGNIFICANT HUMAN RESOURCES THAT IT HAS ONLY BEGUN TO EXPLOIT: ITS EDUCATIONAL AND TECHNOLOGICAL LEVELS MAKE IT CAPABLE OF DEVELOPMENT AND EXPORT IN FIELDS SUCH AS SOFTWARE, ELECTRONICS, AVIATION, ADVERTISING AND MARKETING -- ALL AREAS WHICH BENEFIT FROM THE PROTECTION OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY.

30. QUESTION: WITH CHILE'S RETURN TO DEMOCRACY, WILL THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMMUNITY LOOK MORE FAVORABLY ON RENEGOTIATION OF CHILE'S FOREIGN DEBT? WHAT WILL BE THE U. S. POSITION ON NEW OR RENEGOTIATED CREDIT FOR CHILE IN THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING INSTITUTIONS?

ANSWER: THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMMUNITY IS FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH CHILE'S ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND FINANCIAL SERIOUSNESS. IF THIS FAVORABLE TREND CONTINUES, AS I EXPECT IT WILL, CHILE SHOULD FIND THAT THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMMUNITY WILL TREAT IT AS A SERIOUS NEGOTIATING PARTNER. CHILE IS CLOSE TO REENTERING THE VOLUNTARY CAPITAL MARKETS, AND WE WOULD BE SUPPORTIVE OF ITS EFFORTS TO DO SO.

31. QUESTION: WHAT SPECIFICALLY CAN CHILE EXPECT FROM THE BRADY PLAN?

ANSWER: CHILE RECEIVED BRADY PLAN SUPPORT LAST NOVEMBER IN THE BUYBACK OF DEBT BY THE CENTRAL BANK. CHILE IS A LEADER IN INNOVATIVE STRATEGIES AND FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT, AND WE LOOK FORWARD TO WORKING WITH CHILE.

32. QUESTION: DO YOU THINK THAT CONDITIONS ARE RIGHT FOR THE RETURN OF LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES TO ELIGIBILITY FOR COMMERCIAL LOANS?

ANSWER: CHILE IS FAR CLOSER THAN ANY OTHER COUNTRY IN LATIN AMERICA.

33. QUESTION: WHAT IS THE U.S. POSITION IN THE FACE OF THE REFUSAL BY AUSTRALIA AND FRANCE TO SIGN THE ANTARCTIC TREATY? WHAT IS THE U.S. POSITION ON ANTARCTICA?

ANSWER: THE U.S. CONTINUES TO SUPPORT THE ANTARCTIC MINERALS CONVENTION UNDER THE ANTARCTIC TREATY SYSTEM. WE SEE IT AS THE BEST APPROACH TO ENSURING THE ENVIRONMENTAL INTEGRITY OF ANTARCTICA. FRANCE AND AUSTRALIA SUPPORT A DIFFERENT APPROACH AT THIS TIME, BUT OUR BASIC INTERESTS COINCIDE. HOPEFULLY, OUR TALKS WITH THEM WILL REASSURE THEM THAT THE MINERALS CONVENTION IS THE BEST APPROACH TOWARD MEETING OUR SHARED GOALS.

POLITICAL ISSUES

Letelier/Moffitt Case: A specially appointed Supreme Court judge has reopened the criminal case against Chileans accused of complicity in the assassinations of former Foreign Minister Orlando Letelier and his U.S. assistant Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C., in 1976. Chile's Congress has also ratified a U.S.-Chilean accord to establish an international commission to determine the amount of ex gratia compensation to members of the Letelier/Moffitt families. We are pleased with the Aylwin government's progress in advancing justice in this matter, which negatively affected bilateral relations for many years.

Extraditions: There are two important extradition cases pending now: one in which the U.S. is attempting to extradite a high-ranking law enforcement official under the Pinochet government to the U.S. on drug charges, and one in which Chile is attempting to extradite a Chilean from the U.S. on tax fraud charges.

DRAFT

Dear Ambassador Aguilar,

This letter is to confirm recent conversations that officials of the Government of the United States and the Government of Chile have had with you concerning the 1914 Treaty on Pacific Settlement Disputes between Chile and the United States of America and to confirm the joint appointment by our governments of yourself to be the President of the Commission established by the Treaty.

It is our understanding that you are willing to serve in this capacity.

We note our mutual expectation that an agreement will be signed in Santiago within the next few days convoking the 1914 Treaty Commission to determine the amount of an ex gratia payment the Government of Chile will make to the United States Government on behalf of families of the victims of the assassination of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. in September 1976.

Representatives of our governments will seek a meeting with you shortly following the signature of the agreement to provide you with the text of the agreement and to discuss plans for the Commission's work.

We congratulate you on your appointment.

Sincerely,

Ambassador Silva

Q: Have you had discussions concerning the Letelier affair?

A: Yes. Representatives of the Governments of Chile and the U.S. have met during the last two days and have reached agreement in principle on a plan to settle the civil claims stemming from the Letelier affair. Under the agreed plan, a Commission will be appointed to set an amount of compensation which the Government of Chile has agreed to pay, ex gratia, on behalf of the victims, including Mrs. Letelier. Both governments are very pleased with this agreement, and intend to complete the necessary formalities as soon as possible.

Q: Is progress being made on the criminal case?

A: The Chilean government has assured us that it supports investigation and prosecution of the matter. We believe the government is committed to seeing justice done in the case. The U.S. Government will pursue prosecution of those indicted for that crime either in Chile or the U.S.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Mary Catherine Malin

FROM: Julie A. Haught

SUBJECT: Letelier arbitration - Review of international law and case materials regarding interest on awards for wrongful death and personal injury claims

This memorandum will address the issues related to the U.S. government's request that interest be paid as part of the award[1/] which will be rendered by the appointed International Commission in the Letelier claim.[2/]

1/ Note that a distinction is sometimes made between "compensatory interest" (interest as part of an award, computed to the date of the award) and "moratory interest" (interest on an award, computed to date of the award's payment). 3 M. Whiteman, Damages in International Law, note 2 at 1913 (1943) (emphasis added). Although Lillich disagrees with this distinction, he nevertheless notes that the request for so-called "moratory interest" is generally resolved against the claimants. R. Lillich, Interest in the Law of International Claims 57 (1982). In the case of Russia v. Turkey, the Permanent Court of International Arbitration held "[t]he tribunal is of the opinion that all interest-damages are compensatory, whatever name they be given," quoted in J. Ralston, The Law and Procedure of International Tribunals 129 (1926). For the foregoing reasons, should the distinction arise, we will request compensatory interest, as opposed to moratory interest, as part of the full reparation rightfully due.

2/ This Commission was established under the 1914 Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes the May Occur between the United States of America and Chile. The Treaty was invoked by the U.S. (which espoused the Letelier claim) to provide an avenue of reparation for the Letelier, Karpen and Moffit families for the wrongful deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronnie Karpen Moffit.

UNCLASSIFIED

These issues include: a) the likelihood of success in recovering interest as part of the award in a wrongful death or personal injury claim in light of international precedent; b) the available options for ascertaining the period of when interest should begin and end; and c) what is the range of interest rates utilized by international commissions.

I. Principles of International Law

A. General Discussion - Interest As Part Of An Award

Under principles of international law, it has never been considered standard practice to automatically award interest as part of the damage payment in a wrongful death or personal injury claim. The omission of interest usually applies to tort claims, although, on occasion, interest has also been deliberately excluded in other types of claims. Thus, there clearly is a divergence of opinion under international law whether or not to include interest, particularly in wrongful death and personal injury claims.

Where interest is awarded, it is generally considered a part of the duty to make full reparation. The necessary compensatory role interest plays in international decision making is recognized by the commentators. Lillich notes "[i]nterest as part of an award by an international tribunal . . . is recognized by customary international law . . . as an element of damages inherent in just compensation."[3/] Although many international commissions have done so, there are certainly those who have specifically chosen not to award interest as part of the award.

The theory that interest should be part of the compensation package has been followed in practice by numerous arbitral bodies. Some of the more notable international commissions awarding interest are: The Geneva Tribunal;[4] the Costa Rica Packet case;[5] the arbitration in the American Whaling Claims against Russia;[6] the Macedonian case;[7] the Spanish-American Commission;[8] and the United States and Mexican Claims Commission of 1839.[9] Other noted decisions include the S.S. "Wimbledon"[10] and the Chorzow Factory[11] case. Similarly, the United States - Mexican Claims Commission held in Illinois Central Railroad Co. that "[although] allowances of interest have been made . . . by international tribunals acting under arbitral agreements which . . . have made no mention of this subject . . . we deem it proper to give effect that interest must be regarded as a proper element of compensation."[12]

A more recent analysis is found in the full tribunal decision at the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal where it was held "[i]t is customary for arbitral tribunals to award interest as part of an award for damages," and that the power to do so is "inherent."[13] One of the most extensive discussions on awarding interest by the Tribunal is contained in Chamber Three's award in the McCollough case. Virally, in awarding interest, noted that while statutory rates applied in most national jurisdictions in the world, the law in Iran and other Muslim jurisdictions forbids any payments of interest on awards. He then discussed other judgments and international decisions and concluded:

> It is noteworthy that no general rule can be derived from them . . . . The absence of a uniform rule does not, however, imply in the absence of general principles . . . under normal circumstances . . . interest is allocated on the amounts awarded as damages in order to compensate for the delay with which the payment . . . is made."[14/]

One reason given for awarding interest is that many of the international commissions and arbitral tribunals have felt the ability to do so was within their jurisdiction, even though the Convention which created them did not provide for it.[15/] Ralston asserts in his treatise on international law that "[t]he question of the allowance of interest has arisen before almost every international tribunal, and usually, and except where the claim was for a tort purely, its allowance has been considered rightful, differences more frequently arising as to the time of its commencement or termination and the rate at which it should be allowed."[16/]

Another justification for awarding interest is that is a recognized right of recovery, even in cases between governments. Umpire Duffield, in the case of Christern and Co. (Germany v. Venezuela), discusses interest on awards between governments:

> [t]he jurisprudence of all civilized nations now recognizes this principle as between individuals in cases of contract, and has extended it to compensation for [the] taking of or injury to property . . . . It is certainly a reasonable presumption from this > uniform international recognition of this right as between individuals that the nations would recognize its justice as between themselves."[17]

Although it is not a clearly established rule that interest will always be awarded, strong arguments can be made that principles of international law allow for interest to be paid as part of the reparation due for full compensation.

B. International Commissions Which Have Allowed Interest As Part Of The Award In A Wrongful Death Or Personal Injury Claim

The foregoing discussion demonstrates that existing international precedent supports the theory that interest should be part of the compensation package. Thus, the problem is not necessarily with interest being paid on an award, but rather with interest being paid on an award arising from a wrongful death or personal injury claim. The divergence of opinion under international law regarding the payment of interest is even more striking when applied to this category of cases. The majority of international decisions in this area have specifically disallowed interest as part the damage award arising from a tort claim (i.e. wrongful death or personal injury) yet frequently awarded interest on the claims for personal property losses.

The primary justification is based on the distinction made between pecuniary/liquidated losses versus non-pecuniary/unliquidated losses. For the most part, international commissions and arbitral bodies have rationalized the disallowance of interest on non-pecuniary losses because the damage amount is too speculative to define and thus too difficult to properly assess the amount of interest as part of the award.

Brownlie disagrees with this approach by asserting "[t]his formulation . . . is difficult to follow. If in principle true compensation includes interest on the compensation (as due at the time of injury or death), the fact that the sum awarded is in some sense 'unliquidated' or arbitrary is not incompatible with the payment of interest on the compensation."[18] Most international precedent follows the maxim that interest should not be awarded on damages based on non-pecuniary losses.

1. The United States - Germany Mixed Claims Commission

Some of the better illustrations of these types of cases are found in the decisions rendered by the United States - Germany Mixed Claims Commission which was established under the Treaty of Berlin in 1922. Under this Commission, it was held that interest should be allowed on the awards for personal injury and death claims, but with the caveat that interest should not be considered when ascertaining the amount of the award.[19] The United States - Germany Commission stated:

> In all claims for losses wherever occurring sustained at any time during the war period based on personal injury or death, . . . the measure of compensation expressed in awards made will not include damages in the nature of interest, but each award made will bear interest from its date at the rate of 5% per annum.[20]

The decisions rendered by this Commission include some of the most detailed discussions under international law regarding interest on tort claim awards. For this reason they are often cited, both in judicial precedend and by the commentators. The following analysis summarizes the methodology and reasoning applied by the Commission when it awarded interest on the wrongful death and personal injury claims before it.

a) The Lusitania Cases

In the Lusitania cases, arbitrated by the United States - Germany Commission, interest was allowed on the wrongful death and personal injury claims arising from the attack and sinking of the passenger ship, the Lusitania, on May 7, 1915. Umpire

19/ Mixed Claims Commission, (United States v. Germany) Administrative Decision No. III (December 11, 1923).

20/ Id. at § IV.

Parker discusses, in some detail, the basis for recovery for damages in death cases. He admits that while at common law no proper cause of action for damages in a wrongful death existed, this right to maintain an action has been statutorily recognized by the major world powers.[21]

Thus, in order to justify the payment of damages for the wrongful death and personal injury claims,[22] he concluded that it is a "general rule of both the civil and common law that every invasion of private right imports an injury and that for every such injury the law gives a remedy."[23] He outlined the factors that should be included in estimating the losses suffered and it is here where he specifically included interest "(f) in reducing to their present cash value contributions which would probably have been made from time to time to claimants by deceased, a 5% interest rate and standard present-value tables will be used."[24]

Interest was provided from November 1, 1923, the date the Administrative Decision was signed, until the date the award was paid, for the damages awarded strictly based on the death or personal injury. For all personal property losses, interest was allowed from the date of injury, i.e. May 17, 1915, the day the Lusitania sank, until the date the award was paid. Umpire

22/ It should be noted that he distinguished the fact that exemplary damages are not awarded here only because the Treaty of Berlin, under which his power was created, did not incorporate such damages. The Treaty only required that Germany make "compensation" for specified damages, not full reparation. His analysis suggests that had the Treaty not imposed these limitations, higher amounts would have been awarded for he states "it is not necessary for this Commission to go to the length of holding that exemplary damages can not be awarded in any case by any international arbitral tribunal . . . . a sufficient reason [is that] . . . this Commission is without the power to make such awards under the terms of its Charter - the Treaty of Berlin." Parker rationalized his approach for awarding interest on pecuniary damages only from the date of injury:

> There is no basis for awarding damages in the nature of interest where the loss is neither liquidated nor the amount thereof capable of being ascertained by computation merely. In claims of this class no such damage will be awarded, but when the amount of the loss shall have been fixed by this Commission the award made will bear interest from its date . . . . But where the loss is either liquidated or the amount thereof capable of being ascertained with approximate accuracy through the application of established rules by computation merely as of the time when the actual loss occurred, such amount, so ascertained, plus damages in the nature of interest from the date of the loss, will ordinarily fill a fair measure of compensation.[25/]

A sampling of the Lusitania cases where interest was allowed follows:

i. Case of Charles F. Williamson, deceased[26/]

Mr. Williamson was a forty-year old passenger who died when the Lusitania was attacked and sunk. Based on the estimates of his worth, the Commission awarded his father $5,000.00 and his sister $10,000.00, with both awards receiving 5% interest from November 1, 1923, for the wrongful death of their son and brother, respectively.

ii. Case of Frank Tesson and Alice Tesson, both deceased[27/]

In this case, the Commission said "[t]he awards which this Commission is empowered to make in death cases are based not on the value of the life lost, but on the losses resulting to the claimants from the death, in so far only as such losses are susceptible of being measured by pecuniary standards. Bearing this in mind . . . the Commission decrees that . . . Germany is obligated to pay Roy Atkins [the crippled son] $5,000.00 with interest, from Nov. 1, 1923 and . . . $2,325.00 with interest from May 7, 1915 to the estate of his wife." The latter was deemed the value of the personal property lost at the time of death.

iii. Case of John H. Page, deceased[28/]

Mr. Page was a 47 year-old Bank Vice-President at the time of his death. He was deemed to possess "bright future business prospects" and he was in excellent health. Here, the Commission awarded his surviving wife $80,000.00, with interest from Nov. 1, 1923, for his death (one of the highest amounts awarded) and $3,092.00, with interest from May 17, 1915, for his lost personal property. This case is a good illustration of the Commission considering Mr. Page's status as a prominent business leader when they determined the amount of the award.

iv. Case of Robert Dyer, injured claimant[29/]

This 47 year-old claimant, as a passenger on the Lusitania, suffered exposure and shock from the attack. His personal property losses were estimated at $1,200.00. He was awarded $1,000.00, with interest from Nov. 1, 1923, for the injuries he suffered and $1,200.00, with interest from May 17, 1915, for his lost personal property.

While the legal analyses in the Lusitania cases addressing interest as part of the award in wrongful death and personal injury claims are some of most complete available, other international commissions also provide good illustrations.

2. The United States - Mexican Claims

As was the case with many international commissions, the negotiators of all the Mexican Claims Conventions erred in failing to make any provision for the calculation of interest on awards. As a result, the individual Commissions were forced to work out their own solutions. The United States - Mexican Claims Commissions, of both 1868 and 1923, adopted the same approach which was taken in the Lusitania cases. None of these Commissions allowed interest on what was deemed the non-pecuniary/unliquidated losses stemming from the direct injuries, but did award interest on the personal property losses in the wrongful death and personal injury claims.

Umpire Thornton (second Umpire of the 1868 Commission), when requested by the Mexican agent to eliminate interest on an award that was rendered with interest at 6% in a personal injury claim, explained that he had not granted "any compensation for injuries done to the person of the claimant . . . but awarded only for his [the claimant's] money losses, expenses, and loss of time, all of which are money value, and therefore entitled to interest."[30/] Similarly, interest was awarded in appropriate cases to the date of the final award of the Commission established under the Claims Convention of 1923.[31/]

Some examples of awards rendered by the Mexican Claims Commissions follow:

a) The Commission established under The 1868 Convention

i. Case of Sarah Mildred Standish[32/]

Mrs. Standish's husband was traveling in Mexico when he was attacked and killed by Mexican soldiers acting under the orders of Mexican officers. The Commission awarded her $40,000 in Mexican gold, without interest, for the wrongful death, and $1,500 in gold, with interest at 6% per annum, for the personal property losses. The interest was to be paid from the date of death to the date of the final award of the Commission.

ii. Case of Mary Ann Conrow[33/]

33/ No. 392, MS Op. IV, 609 (1875).

In this case, the Umpire awarded $50,000 in Mexican gold, without interest, for the wrongful death, and $300 in gold, with interest at 6% per annum, for the personal property losses. It is interesting to note that the higher amount for the wrongful death of Mr. Conrow was awarded because "[t]he gains of Conrow as a lawyer were greater than those of Standish, and therefore the compensation for his loss should also be higher."

iii. Case of S. Kearney Parsons[34/]

The Umpire awarded $50,000 in Mexican gold for the wrongful death, without interest, and $500 in gold, with interest, for the loss of personal effects.

While Umpire Thornton generally disallowed interest on the non-pecuniary losses in tort claims, there were instances where he did not always follow this approach. For example, in two separate cases, he included interest specifically on the wrongful death awards from the time of death. He fails to explain his inconsistent approach but he does note in a subsequent opinion filed after these two decisions that if he had not included interest as part of these awards, then he would have awarded a higher amount to compensate for the absence of interest from the date of the murders.[35/]

b) The Commission established under The 1923 Convention

This Commission did not specifically award interest for personal property losses in the following cases, but it appears the omission only occurred because property losses were not claimed.

i. The Case of Janes[36/]

35/ See Heirs of Cyrus Donaughho and Theodore Webster's Administrator, 3 Whiteman, supra, at 1985. For further discussion, see also Section, II, A, 1 & 2 infra.

36/ Laura Janes (United States v. United Mexican States) Opinions of Commission, 108 (1927).

UNCLASSIFIED

Laura Janes, on behalf of herself and her four children, filed a claim requesting $25,000.00 in damages for the wrongful death of her husband, who had been murdered by a Mexican national. The American agent argued that the Mexican government failed to apprehend the murderer, which thereby condoned the wrongful act. The Commission agreed and thereby awarded $12,000.00, without interest, for the personal damage caused to the claimants by the nonpunishment of Janes' murderer. The award makes no mention of personal property losses, either claimed or awarded.

ii. The Cases of Roper,[37] Brown,[38] and Small[39]

Three American seamen were drowned while running from shots fired at them by Mexican policemen. The policemen were never punished. The Commission, in rendering its award, considered the "earning capacity of each of the deceased" and the "financial support" given to the claimants. It awarded $6,000.00 to Roper's mother, $8,000.00 to Brown's widow, and $5,000.00 to Small's sisters, all without interest. Only direct pecuniary damages appear to have been calculated.

The foregoing international decisions are some of the more complete analyses of interest awarded in wrongful death and personal injury cases.

3. Modern Application

The citations to the older decisions illustrate one of the fundamental problems in discussing this area of law - the lack of recent international case law addressing the issue of interest on a damage award.

Several of the more recent international awards have not awarded interest simply because it was never requested. In the Liberty and Stark claims, the amounts requested for reparation included all damages in the lump sum, without any special request for interest. These claims can be distinguished by the fact that the time lapse from the date of injury to settlement was minimal.

38/ Mamie Brown, supra, at 211.

39/ Rosetta Small, supra, at 212.

Other decisions have allowed interest to commence from the date of judgment. In the Godinez Cruz case, interest was awarded with the "corresponding amounts of interest" based on the current Honduran bank rates to begin ninety days after the date notice of the judgment is given.[40/]

One of the better illustrations of a modern international body awarding interest in its decisions is the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal. Unfortunately, these are primarily contract and other types of commercial claims. The only decision addressing interest on a wrongful death claim is the Grimm case. On her claim for the murder of her husband, Mrs. Grimm requested interest from the date of the award until the date of payment. The request was never addressed for her claim was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

The amount of contempory international law addressing the issue of awarding interest in a wrongful death or personal injury claim is quite limited. For this reason, emphasis has been placed on the more notable international decisions of the last two centuries.

C. International Commissions Which Have Denied Interest As Part Of The Damages Award

1. General Discussion

In theory, the necessary compensatory role interest plays in international decision making is widely recognized, though in practice this is not always the case. As previously discussed, there is a body of international decisions which specifically exclude interest as part of the damage award. However, these decisions are in the minority for property loss and contract breach claims.

2. Theories on which Interest was Denied

While most commissions will generally allow for interest as part of the award, there are certain international commissions and arbitral tribunals which have categorically refused to award interest under various principles of international law. These principles run the gamut from not awarding interest for the sole reason that it was not provided for in the Convention, to disallowing interest on the ground that the claim was being paid ex gratia. The Umpire of the Spanish-American Commission refused to award interest in two separate claims based on, what he considered, an unreasonably long delay exercised by the claimants in presenting their claims.[41/]

In the Montijo case, involving the seizure of a United States citizen-owned steamer by revolutionists in Panama, Umpire Robert Brunch categorically denied interest as part of the award on the following grounds:

> First: Because there is no settled rule as to the payment of interest on claims [between] countries or governments. Secondly: Because it seems open to question whether interest should accrue during the progress of diplomatic negotiations which are often protracted in their character. Thirdly: That this reason applies with special force to negotiations which result in arbitration or a friendly arrangement. Fourthly: That, whilst doing what he considers strict justice to the claimants by giving to them the full value of the use of their vessel during her detention, he desires to avoid any appearance of punishing the Colombian people at large for an act with which very few of them had anything to do, and which affected no Colombian interests beyond those of a few speculators in revolutions in Panama.[42/]

Several commissions have refused to allow interest based on the principle that interest is a matter of contract, and if the protocol under whose authority the Commission operates fails to provide for it, then interest can not be allowed.[43/] As noted previously, those international bodies which have allowed interest have done so either under the express authority of a protocol, or under the theory that interest is part of the duty to make full reparation. The Foreign Claims

Settlement Commission ("FCSC") awarded interest but qualified its decision in the John Hedio Proach claim regarding land in Poland:

> Although some commissions have refused to allow interest in claims of this type on the ground that interest is a matter of contract which should be specifically provided for in the protocol . . . this Commission regards it as a settled principle of international law that interest, according to the usage of nations, is a necessary part of a just national indemnification.[44/]

Some commissions have refused to award interest on the ground that the claimant refused to accept a voluntary settlement offer,[45/] while others have just flatly refused to allow interest as part of a damages award. Some international commissions which have followed the latter approach include the German - Venezuelan Claims Commission and the Italian-Venezuelan Claims Commission, both of which were established under the protocols of 1903. Ralston refers to the German - Venezuelan Claims Commission and notes "as we have stated, interest is generally refused for damages, for, as was stated in the Christern and Co. case (Ven. Arb. of 1903, p. 520): Damages in such cases are necessarily unliquidated and their exact amount cannot be precisely ascertained. In such cases as between individuals, interest is not usually allowed."[46/] The same Commission also held "no interest should be allowed, as such, upon claims for purely personal injuries, not involving the seizure of or injury to property."[47/]

imprisonment.[48] Lillich believes the leading decision in this area is one rendered in 1923 by the umpire, Judge Parker, of the United States - Germany Commission. Judge Parker disallowed interest as part of an award in so-called tort claims for losses based on personal injury, death, maltreatment of prisoners of war, or acts injurious to health, yet he did allow interest to be paid as part of the awards on property loss claims.[49]

In cases between governments, settled through diplomatic channels and not through an arbitral process, the amount paid is often difficult to adequately ascertain since the process generally lacks any argumentation on behalf of the claimant. As a result of this arbitrary amount, many personal injury and wrongful death cases settled through the diplomatic process have disallowed interest, either because it was inadequately claimed or because it was too difficult to define. Regardless, interest was not paid.[50]

In numerous cases, interest was not provided as part of the award because those responsible for rendering the award believed it was inequitable to allow it. This has generally been the situation when the claim for the principal amount is not well proved or the wrong is well-established but the amount of the loss is indefinable.[51] The international arbitral commission established in 1910 between Great Britain and the United States disallowed interest in a property damage claim because the extent of damages was based on the claimant's own uncorroborated statements.[52]

Interest has also been disallowed when an arbitrary "lump sum" payment is paid in settlement of a case, on the theory that since the principal amount was not precisely stated it is too difficult to adequately establish the amount of interest.[53] In a wrongful arrest case, the 1923 United States - Mexican Claims Commission, under whose convention contained no express provision for interest, stated "[c]ases of allowing damages for illegal imprisonment are most similar to the present one, and in such cases tribunals often allowed a gross sum without interest. The Commission is prepared to follow this precedent too."[54]

Certain international commissions have disallowed interest on payments of awards stemming from ex gratia payments. These commissions which do not allow interest on an "act of grace" payment justify this omission by finding that payments made ex gratia are not based on international law.

53/ See 3 Whiteman, supra note 357, at 1992, citing several arbitrated cases where interest was disallowed on the lump sum adopted as the principal amount: Cotesworth & Powell (Great Britain v. Colombia) (over $50,000 awarded without interest on that sum); The Frederick Geering, Jr. (United States v. Great Britain) ($9,000.00 without interest awarded in order to blot out recollection of the incident); But cf. Brownlie, supra, note 19 at 228 (the fact that the 'lump sum' awarded includes interest . . . does not contradict the principle that compensation should include interest on the damages at the time of injury).

54/ Opinions of the Commissioners 86, docket 47 (1927) (emphasis added). See also Mariano Trevino Garza (United States v. Mexico) Opinions of the Commission p. ?? (where $11,000.00 was awarded as "round sum," without interest for property destroyed); Venable (United States v. Mexico), Opinions of the Commission 163 (1927) (interest should not be allowed when a lump sum for damages is given).

In 1925, under an agreement between Mexico and Germany, the former agreed to indemnify German nationals who had suffered damage by acts of revolutionaries through ex gratia payments. In one case, the commission found that the violative acts were "of lawful hostility according to laws of war" and "that the indemnification award was to be paid without interest for the losses sustained."[55/] Mexico was not required to pay interest on its ex gratia payments though it could be argued that this limitation is based on claims for acts of war because these acts were somehow justified.

The French - Mexican Commission, established by agreement of 1924, specifically addressed the issue of interest on ex gratia payments in the Georges Pinson case. Mr. Pinson's property had been damaged by occupying Zapatista forces in February 1915. He subsequently filed a claim before the Commission for the loss suffered, plus interest, from the date the claim was filed with the Mexican Foreign Office (June 1915). The Presiding Umpire, Commissioner Verzijl, held, in 1928, that the 1924 Convention's silence implied that in claims where Mexico's liability rested solely on its ex gratia promise to pay, no interest would be allowed. Umpire Versijl did allow for interest only if Mexico unreasonably delays payment:

> Interest would not be granted on an award which Mexico was bound to pay only because of her ex gratia promise, excepting that if Mexico did not pay the award after a reasonable time (to be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Convention) interest at the rate of 6% per annum was to be added.[56/]

Should a respondent state be held not to pay interest as part of its damage payment since it has not acknowledged legal liability, then the argument follows if a legal liability to pay damages is found, under international law that respondent state should be forced to pay interest as part of the rendered award. Arguably, since the Letelier claim is not based on an "act of war" nor it is a property claim, the arguments denying interest on ex gratia payments should not apply.

II. Under What Period Should Interest Be Computed

Once the legal hurdle is crossed for receiving interest on a wrongful death or personal injury claim, the next question to be addressed is the period of when interest should begin and end. Just as there is no clear rule regarding whether or not to award interest, the legal precedent is equally vague with regard to the period when interest should run, even in property loss claims. In the American Cast Iron Pipe Co. claim, the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission summarized the foregoing problem "[s]imilarly, there is no settled rule in universal effect as to the period during which the interest shall run. Various terminal dates have been applied by different commissions, including the date of the original injury, the date of the notice of the claim, or the date of payment."[57/]

While there are varying approaches to when the period of interest shall commence, the completion date is almost universally computed to the date of payment or the date of the final award of the commission making the decision. As Ralston observed:

> The general rule has been, subject to the language of particular protocols, that interest should be allowed only to the time of the conclusion of the labors of the commission, although in certain instances, under protocols at least not forbidding it, interest has been permitted to the day of payment of the award. The usual theory of commissions has been that they lacked power to extend an obligation and keep it running at a time when they were themselves functus officio.[58/]

Thus, there are basically three alternatives available to the Letelier Commission for awarding interest as part of the award: (1) from the date of injury to the date the award was signed or the date of actual payment; (2) from the date the respondent state first became aware of the claim, to the date the award was signed or the date of actual payment; and, finally, (3) from the date the award was rendered or signed by the international body, to the date of actual payment.

A. Date of Actual Injury to the Date the Award Was Signed or the Date of Payment

The first option is rarely used in a wrongful death or personal injury claim while it is frequently applied to property loss claims. As previously discussed, this was the same method incorporated in the Lusitania cases and the United States - Mexican Claims Commission cases. In the latter decisions, the Commission noted that it awarded interest, in contract claims, even though the Convention of 1923 made no provision for it. When referring to the period of when interest should run, the Commission held that interest was to run from the date of the breach to the date of the last award rendered by the Commission. Interest was excluded on any claims for personal injury and wrongful death, except in the few noted exceptions.[59/] Similarly, the FCSC held in the contract case of the American Cast Iron Pipe Company "the prevailing opinion in international law is that such interest should run from the date the claim arose until the 'date of payment.' The date the claim arose in this case is the date of loss."[60/] This approach has also been followed more recently at the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal. Interest was usually awarded from the date of breach to the date of payment.[61/]

Although there is scant international case law adopting the date of a tort injury as the date to commence interest, some notable international decisions do exist that have followed this approach. The following cases adopt this analysis:

1. Case of Theodore Webster's Administrator[62/]

On January 4, 1866, Theodore Webster, the American claimant, and other foreigners sought refuge in a British-owned house with an American flag hoisted on top. Regardless of the flag's alleged symbol of protection, Mr. Webster and the others were attacked by Mexican soldiers and he later died from these injuries. The Umpire, Sir Edward Thornton, awarded $10,000.00, for the wrongful death of Mr. Webster because "the soldier who wounded Webster was under the immediate command of a Mexican Officer . . . so that the government became liable for it." The award also included 6% interest from the date of his death to the date of the final award.

2. Case of Heirs of Cyrus Donoughho[63/]

Mr. Donoughho was murdered when he inadverdently interfered in a domestic dispute between a jealous Mexican national and his wife. Through a series of events, the Mexican authorities did not adequately respond to the attack. As a result of this inaction, Umpire Thornton awarded $12,000 in Mexican gold, with 6% interest to commence the day after the murder until the date of the final award. The murder was, in the opinion of the Umpire, an injustice done to a U.S. citizen as contemplated by the Convention of July 4, 1868.

In both of the cases, Umpire Thornton filed a subsequent opinion responding to the Mexican Agent's objection of the allowance of interest in the wrongful death claims. This opinion, dated October 25, 1876, states:

> The Umpire has to say that in these cases he considered what was the value of the life to the heirs at date of the death, and that the heirs were entitled to receive this value at once; consequently they had a right to interest from that date. If it had not been so, the Umpire would have awarded a larger sum so as to make up for the absence of interest from the date of the death of the two persons above mentioned until July 31, 1876.[64/]

As previously noted, this same Commission failed to follow a consistent approach, for there are other personal injury and wrongful death cases where interest was not awarded from the date of death. There does not appear to be a rational basis for this discrepancy. Perhaps one could be made for the egregious violations committed by Mexican nationals, but there are other murder cases where interest was only allowed on the personal property losses.

B. Date Claim was Presented to the Date the Award was Signed or the Date of Payment

This second option is more frequently used, particularly in contract cases where there are a multitude of international decisions which award interest from the date the claim was presented to the respondent state. Borchard notes that "[n]umerous commissions, especially in contract cases, have applied the rule that a government is only chargeable with interest from the time a demand for payment has been made, or the government put upon notice of the existence of a claim."[65/]

This has not been as evident in wrongful death or personal injury actions, yet some international precedent does exist. In the matter of John Korenda, a U.S. claimant before the FCSC, a claim was filed against the Cuban government for the wrongful death of Peter Korenda, John Korenda's son. Peter was an American tourist who was shot and killed by Cuban authorities on March 13, 1957. The Commission claimed $100,000.00 for John for the wrongful death of his son. In addition, interest was awarded on this amount, from the date the Cuban government accepted liability and agreed to pay, until the date of settlement.[66/]

The Claims Commissions established between Venezuela and other countries in 1903 awarded interest only from the date of the presentation of the claims although the protocols which created the Commissions did not provide such a date. A claim presented by Italy illustrates this point. In the Giovanni Cervietti case, Italy claimed for personal property losses suffered in July 1902, including interest from the date of injury. Umpire Ralston denied the request and instead awarded interest from the date of presentation:

> Governments may not be presumed to know, until a proper demand be made upon them of the existence of claims which may have been created without the authorization of the central power, and even against its express intruction . . . . The umpire . . . does not now consider that it would be just to charge Venezuela with the payment of interest for perhaps long periods of time during which that Republic was not notified that a claim was made against it.[67/]

Claims were presented by the United States against China for several United States citizens that were murdered in China during the Revolution of 1911-1912. China paid the claims ranging from $5,000 in gold to $25,000 in gold. On January 8, 1915, the Chinese Government paid interest at the rate of 5% per annum from April 26, 1913, the approximate date of the presentation of the claims, to November 24, 1914, the date of payment of the principal.[68/]

C. Date Award was Rendered, or Signed, to the Date of Actual Payment

The third alternative to awarding interest is the most plausible to justify. Once a judgment is entered or a decision signed, then payment should immediately follow since the legal right for the claimant to receive the award has been created. For a variety of reasons, payment is not always immediatly forthcoming. Regardless of the cause of delay, the obligation to pay exists at that moment and interest should begin accruing at the time payment becomes due. This analysis has been followed in many cases.

The Commission established between Brazil and the United States in 1849 awarded interest from the date the claim was signed. Umpire Fisher awarded 6% interest in the claim of Thomas Perkins Pingree from the date the claim was rendered until the date of payment.[69/]

A claim was submitted by Bernard Campbell against the Haitian government for personal injuries he sustained while in Haiti. On April 18, 1888, Mr. Campbell was assaulted by Haitian soldiers, beaten and thrown into the sea. After numerous correspondences between the Department of State and the Solicitor of Haiti, it was agreed, on April 25, 1888, that the Republic of Haiti was to pay the "U.S. legation at Port au Prince $10,000.00 in American gold, to wit, $5,000.00 from the 1st day of June next, and $5,000.00 on the 1st day of June 1899, the balance remaining due after the first payment ($5,000.00) will bear interest for the year at the rate of 6%."[70/] Interest was allowed from the date of the award to the date of payment.

Some commissions felt uncomfortable with awarding interest past their existence, thus interest was awarded from the date the decision was made until the last award was made by the commission.

The United States - Germany Commission stated "where [the] loss is neither liquidated nor the amount thereof capable of being ascertained by mere computation, such as losses based on personal injury or death . . . interest [allowed] only upon the amount of the award from the date of the award."[71/]

The United States - Mexican Claims Commission of 1923 specifically stated that "the Commission will not award interest beyond the date of the termination of the labors of the Commission, in the absence of specific stipulation in the Agreement of September 8, 1923 authorizing such action."[72/]

III. Rate of Interest

Although the analysis is repetitious, it nevertheless applies to the rate of interest. Thus, the argument is reiterated that, in addition to the lack of a universal rule regarding if interest should be awarded, and then if so when, the rate to be awarded is equally tenuous. In 1966, the FCSC aptly observed:

> Although there is no settled rule as to the rate of interest, it is an appropriate exercise of the > jurisdiction of the Commission to determine this rate in accordance with all the circumstances before it, including the applicable principles of international law, justice and equity. Its object in so doing is to arrive at a just and equitable compensation for the wrong. The Commission may also consider its own decisions concerning the applicable rate of interest in its prior international claims program.[73/]

When selecting the rate of interest, assuming arguendo, interest will be awarded, the Letelier Commission must consider what rate would best compensate the claimants for their losses. Eagleton notes "[t]he rate of interest is determined according to the circumstances, the object being to determine a just compensation for the wrong."[74/] In addition to providing full compensation, the interest rate selected can be based on other factors such as the rate prevailing at the time and place where the claimant resided or where the claim arose.[75/] In the Letelier claim, the District of Columbia satisfies both of these requirements.

Another method of determining the interest rate is to consider the current world financial condition. The Permanent Court of International Justice recognized the "present financial situation of the world" in its determination of the rate of interest for the award in the S.S. "Wimbledon" case.[76/]

Interest rates have covered a broad spectrum in the international arena. The awarded rates have ranged from a low 3% to as high as 20%.[77/] For no apparent reason, 6% often appears as a standard rate awarded in international decisions. The FCSC used this rate and said "[t]he Commission has adopted the figure of 6% as a traditional and customary interest rate . . . . in light of this international law and precedent, custom and tradition, the Commission therefore concludes that an award of interest in the present case at the rate of 6% in an appropriate, equitable and just measure of compensation under all the circumstances."[78/]

The standard use of 6% in international decisions does not appear to have a legal justification other than the idea that frequency breeds uniformity and thus precedent is created. Lillich notes "[a]t present, 6 percent assuredly is not an appropriate rate of interest in the Law of International Claims, despite the fact that it may have been for the first two-thirds of this century . . . ."[79/]

A more recent international tribunal awarding a higher interest rate in its decisions is the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal. The Tribunal frequently awarded between 10% and 12%, per annum, from the date the claim arose, i.e. date of injury, until the date of payment.[80/] Admittedly, these are primarily breach of contract claims but the analysis is relevant.

Perhaps one of the best summaries of the variant interest rates awarded by international tribunals is found in Ralston's Law and Procedure where he lists some examples:

> The rates allowed . . . materially differ, as, for instance: At the rate of three per cent, such being the legal rate fixed in Venezuela: before the American, British, German, and Italian commissions. At the rate of four per cent: British-American Arbitration schedule. At the rate of five per cent: the Costa Rica Packet case; by the umpire of the Swedish-Venezuelan Claims Commission, by the United States and Mexican Commission of 1839, by the Ecuadorian Claims Commission. At six per cent: claims arising out of Panama Riot (but five per cent on all other claims before the same

The Islamic Republic of Iran, AWD 192-285-2 at 26 (10/4/85) (interest awarded at 12% per annum from date claim arose); Blount Brothers v. The Islamic Republic of Iran, AWD 215-52-1 at 33-34 (3/6/86) (interest awarded at rate of 11.5%, rounding to nearest quarter of a percentage point).

> Colombian Commission); the American Whaling Claims against Russia; the Mermaid case between Spain and Great Britain, the claims before the British-American Claims Commission of 1871, by the Mexican-Venezuelan umpire, the Spanish Spoliation Commission, the Macedonian case, the Spanish-American Commission, the Mexican Commission of 1839 (six per cent being the legal rate in Florida and considered applicable in the Green case, and in the Nicholas case, contract being made in Louisiana, but in other cases five per cent); the Canevaro case, Italy vs. Peru, Hague Permanent Court of Arbitration, the rate fixed by the Peruvian Civil Code being followed; Judgment No. 1, Permanent Court International Justice, Wimbledon case- 'in the present financial situation of the world and having regard to the conditions prevailing for public loans six per cent is fair' - interest running from date of judgment as being the 'moment when the amount of the sum due has been fixed and the obligation to pay has been established'; and eight per cent, by the umpire of the Spanish-American Claims Commission, in the case of seizure of property in violation of treaty stipulations.[81/]

The multitude of interest rates among the international decisions suggests that since the range of rates is so wide, it follows that the Letelier Commission has broad discretion in determining exactly what rate should apply. For example, should the Commission decide to award the rate prevailing at the situs of the tort, then it could be argued that the D.C. Statute governing interest applies.[82/] Similarly, should the Commission choose to follow the approach that the rate should adequately compensate for the losses, then conceivably a higher rate could be awarded. If the Commission chooses to look at the current world economic situation, then rates of 14 to 18 percent should be considered. Whatever specific rate or method to compute the rate is awarded, there is arguably international precedent to back it up.

81/ Ralston, supra, § 212 (emphasis added).

82/ See D.C. Stat. § 28-3302 (a) (where the rate of interest in D.C. is 6% per annum in absence of express contract) and (c) (where rate of interest on judgments and decrees shall be 70% of the interest rate set by the Secretary of the Treasury).

IV. Conclusion

Under principles of international law, full compensation includes reparation for the damages incurred to the Letelier, Karpen and Moffit families. In this regard, it only just that reparation encompasses, among other damage amounts, interest as part of the damage award. The principle of full compensation also requires that interest be calculated from the date of injury until the date of payment. Using these dates is the only fair way that the families will be fully and fairly compensated.

The Letelier Commission should also factor in their determination the inequitable time delay in adjudicating this claim. The award for damages is often determined by what is reasonable under the circumstances and interest is awarded from an "equitable" date. Whiteman notes that this is particularly evident when the facts of liability and loss are clearly established, but the actual "extent" of loss is not known.[83/]

As the foregoing discussion illustrates, full compensation should include interest as part of the award. While international precedent has not consistently awarded interest, particularly in wrongful death and personal injury cases, enough variant approaches and theories exist under international law to support the argument that interest should, in fact, be awarded as part of the damage award.

1. September 21 ~~will be~~ 15 the 15th anniversary of the Letelier/Moffitt assassination. The Department is concerned that prosecution in Chile may become barred by the passage of time. In order to get a clearer picture of what the GOC must do to bring those responsible to justice and time frame in which specific steps must be taken, Department requests that post obtain answers to the following questions.

2. What is the statute of limitations for murder in Chile? For passport fraud and related crimes? What events can toll the statute of limitations? What effect do any statutes of limitations have on the GOC's plan bring those responsible for the murders to justice through appointing a special investigative judge in the "passports case"? Specifically, must any specific stage of the proceedings be reached before the statute of limitations period runs? Would running of period of statute of limitations for prosecution under Chilean law have any effect on a U.S. extradition request based on same crime?

3. Reftel B states that the Letelier family has been admitted to the "passports case" as a civil party claiming damages. Is there a separate statute of limitations for the civil claim? Can the families file independent civil claims against the individual defendants in Chile? If so, what is the statute of limitations for such claims? (The families have private counsel who is responsible for advising them on all available options. We do not intend to interfere in the attorney-client relationship by suggesting that private suits should or should not be filed. Information is sought for Department's information only.)

4. Department understands that post will likely have to seek advice of outside counsel ~~in order~~ to answer the above questions. If ~~so~~, post should submit request for funding of local counsel in accordance with reftel a.

U.S.-CHILE POLITICAL ISSUES

Letelier/Moffitt Case: A Supreme Court judge has reopened the criminal case against Chileans accused of complicity in the assassinations of former Foreign Minister Orlando Letelier and his U.S. assistant Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C., in 1976. Chile's Congress has also ratified a U.S.-Chilean accord to establish an international commission to determine the amount of ex gratia compensation to members of the Letelier/Moffitt families. We are pleased with the Aylwin government's progress in advancing justice in this matter, which negatively affected bilateral relations for many years. (A recent New York Times article incorrectly linked progress on Letelier to prospects for an FTA.)

THE LETELIER CASE

Background. In 1976 former Chilean Foreign Minister Orlando Letelier was assassinated by agents of the Chilean secret police on the streets of Washington, D.C. Letelier's co-worker, Ronni Moffit, a U.S. citizen, was killed, as well, and her husband, Michel Moffit, was wounded. Criminal indictments of two senior Chilean officials remain outstanding. The families of the victims brought a wrongful death action in a U.S. court against the Republic of Chile and obtained a dollar judgment. The families have been unable to collect the judgment because of Chilean intransigence, and because U.S. law does not allow them the remedy of seizing foreign government assets in the U.S. in this case. They have, accordingly, sought an amendment to the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act which the U.S.G. has opposed because of its adverse implications for principles of sovereign immunity important to us. The U.S.G. has espoused the claim of the families.

Because of lack of progress toward a satisfactory resolution, in January 1989 the U.S.G. invoked a 1914 Treaty with Chile which requires the establishment of a fact finding commission to investigate and report upon the facts of the Letelier case. Chile has questioned the appropriateness of the use of this procedure. In recent months, there have been senior level meetings which have discussed the 1914 Treaty and the Letelier case. The present government, and the leading opposition candidate, apparently, accept that the Letelier case is the major hurdle that must be overcome before U.S.-Chilean relations can assume a normal character.

IMPEDIMENTS TO NORMALIZATION OF RELATIONS ARISING FROM THE LETELIER CASE

1. There is a general bar on all forms of assistance to Chile contained in Sec. 726 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981. The bar may be removed if the President certifies to Congress, inter alia,: "that the Government of Chile . . . has taken appropriate steps to cooperate to bring to justice by all legal means available in the United States or Chile those indicted by a United States grand jury in connection with the murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt." (The other requirements that must be met relate to progress in human rights, that the provision of assistance is in the national interest, and that Chile is not involved in international terrorism. We assume that there is agreement that these requirements are met.)

DECL:OADR

Alwyin has indicated that he is willing to appoint a special prosecutor to investigate the Letelier case in Chile. He is seeking from us an indication that we will regard that step as sufficient for the President to make the Sec. 726 certification.

We should take the following position.

a. Generally, appointment of a special prosecutor by Chile should be sufficient to make the 726 certification (insofar as it pertains to the Letelier case) if the investigation by the special prosecutor can lead to serious criminal prosecutions in Chile. Expulsion or extradition is not necessary to satisfy the law. Nor do we need to know the results of the investigation before the certification is made.

b. We should explore with Alywin several points to assure ourselves that a Chilean special prosecutor will have the authority to conduct a serious investigation. We should consider requesting from Alywin a meeting with his experts to discuss how a Chilean special prosecutor would proceed. We need to be assured that a special prosecutor's investigation can lead to a serious criminal prosecution in Chile, and, particularly, that the investigation can proceed beyond passport fraud, which is where this matter has been relegated in the past. Second, we should press for an opportunity to make available to the special prosecutor information developed by the U.S. in its investigation, and seek some assurances that such information would be taken into account. And, third, we should consider suggesting that some foreign notables serve as guarantors for the special prosecutor's investigation - providing it with international credibility. The 1914 Commission could play such a role.

c. Timing: In the near term, we should signal to Alwyin that, in general, if other elements of the Letelier case are also on track, the U.S.G. would respond favorably to an appointment (not the announcement of an intention to appoint) of a special prosecutor, including by making the requisite certification under Sec. 726. We should make clear, however, that we do wish to discuss this further to assure ourselves that such a special prosecutor's investigation will lead to meaningful results. Such a meeting should occur in the period between the election and the inauguration.

2. Sec. _____ of the Foreign Ops Appropriation Act makes $50,000 of IMET available if the President certifies that progress is being made to resolve the Letelier case. This is a lesser standard than Sec. 726. If between now and the inauguration a Pinochet government takes a meaningful step in this regard, such as agreeing to a proposed MOU on a procedure and commitment to resolve the Letelier case, or by making appointments under the 1914 Treaty of the Chilean non-national member and agree with the U.S. on a president, this finding should be made. If the Pinochet government does not take these steps, then this finding should be reserved to occur after cooperative steps are taken by an Alywin government.

3. Civil Case. The outstanding civil judgment against the Republic of Chile amounts to about $10 million. Until Chile settles the issue with the claimants, the potential for continuing U.S. litigation to seize Chilean government assets exists, along with legislative efforts to provide such a remedy to the claimants. The U.S.G. has, of course, espoused this claim as its own. Until the claim is settled, it will be a thorn in the side of U.S.-Chilean relations.

Alwyin has signaled that he is prepared to submit a request to Chile's legislature to provide a financial settlement in this regard. While the U.S.G. has espoused the claim, in political terms, this is ultimately a question of what will satisfy the claimants and their Hill supporters.

For the present, we should encourage Alwyin's thinking, and emphasize the importance of resolving the claim quickly and satisfactorily. We should ask Alwyin whether it will be easier for him if (a) he seeks money for a direct ex gratia payment to the families, or (b) if he were to seek money to pay a U.S. claim against Chile. If he were inclined toward the latter, we could discuss before the inauguration a government to government settlement package, with a view to finalizing a government to government understanding after inauguration. If the former, we should tell Alwyin that the U.S.G. will drop its espousal if the claimants settle directly. In either case we will need to ensure that there are good communications between the U.S.G., the claimants and Alywin's people.

4. Indictments. In all of this we need to make clear to Alywin and others that we are not dropping the indictments and will at every appropriate opportunity seek the expulsion or extradition of Contreras and Espinoza.

5. 1914 Treaty. The 1914 Treaty is a flexible mechanism that could be made to work to provide a solution to some or all aspects of the Letelier case. On the other hand, if Alwyin appoints a special prosecutor and makes an acceptable settlement with the claimants, there may be no need to resort ultimately to the Treaty's procedures. Until that time, we should continue to press for full implementation of the Treaty.

6. Apology. The 1976 assassination is the clearest case of state sponsored terrorism in the United States. Some suggest that something more is required from the Republic of Chile in the way of an apology. We believe that if Alwyin carries through with the appointment of a special prosecutor and makes an acceptable financial settlement with the claimants, we should require nothing more from him in this regard.

~~INTRODUCTION~~

On June 11, 1990, an Agreement and Compromis, was signed between the Governments of the Republic of Chile and the United States of America, through which a diplomatic dispute was settled between both Governments concerning the responsibility and cooperation of the Chilean Government in clarifying the deaths of former Chilean Foreign Affairs Minister Mr. Orlando Letelier and of United States citizen Mrs. Ronni Karpen Moffitt, and the injuries to the United States citizen Michael Moffitt, event occurring in Washington on September 21, 1976.

In said Agreement, N° 3, the Government of Chile, "without admitting liability in the matter" and as a way of expediting the normalization of relations between both countries, expressed its willingness to make an "ex gratia" payment; that is, without there being a legal obligation to make this payment.

This Agreement was negotiated by the new Administration of Chile, through official representatives of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, for the purpose of terminating pending disputes with the Government of the United States, and in this way normalizing relations between both countries.

The Agreement was first approved by the Chamber of Deputies, followed by the Senate of Chile, although, in the latter, was approved by a narrow majority. Finally, the Agreement and Arbitration Agreement were published in the Official Gazette on October 9, 1991, after notifying the United States Government of the Agreement's entrance into force on September 4, 1991.

On October 3, on the basis of the Arbitration Agreement subscribed to between both parties, the Commission -- stipulated in the Treaty of 1914 for the settlement of disputes between Chile and the United States (designated "Bryan-Suárez between Chile and the United States (designated "Bryan-Suárez Mujica") -- was constituted. The establishment of the Commission took place in the city of Washington, at the headquarters of the Organization of American States (O.A.S.), and was presided by Dr. Andrés Aguilar of Venezuela. On that same date the extensive United States presentation was received, which includes its estimate of the amount of compensation that should be decided upon concerning the murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Karpen Moffitt and the injuries suffered by Michael Moffitt.

The Chilean party was represented by the President of the State Defense Council and by one of its advisory attorneys, Mr. Juan Pablo Román, both officials appointed by the Chilean Government as its representatives in the aforementioned International Commission that will set the amount of ex gratia compensation to be paid by the Chilean State to the United States Government, which, in turn, acts on behalf of the immediate families of the victims of the bomb attack of September 21, 1976.

THE AGREEMENT AND COMPROMIS OF JUNE 11, 1990.

A. Background and frame of reference of the diplomatic negotiations which culminated in the Agreement and Compromis.

It is important that the Commission weigh the events surrounding the aforementioned diplomatic Agreement.

In the wake of the bomb attack and assassination committed in Washington on September 21, 1976, police and judicial investigations in the United States pointed to the participation of agents of the ex-DINA, National Intelligence Direction, which was later dissolved and whose directors are being accused of perpetrating the crime and who may have conspired with Cuban agents to carry out the deplorable bombing. In the course of the investigation, the United States courts have convicted Michael Townley, a United States citizen who resided in Chile, several Cuban agents, and a former officer of the Chilean Army, Armando Fernández Larios.

However, the steps for extraditing the former Army officer who headed the ex-DINA, Mr. Manuel Contreras Sepúlveda, and his immediate colleague, officer Mr. Pedro Espinoza Bravo, were not accepted by the Supreme Court of Chile in judgements rendered in 1979. As a consequence of this refusal and of the unfavorable course of the criminal investigation before the Chilean Military Courts, the Government of the United States deemed, and accordingly communicated, that the Government of Chile had not cooperated in the investigation and in discovering all the guilty parties, a position that the former Government flatly rejected.

UNCLASSIFIED

On the other hand, the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt filed a civil suit before the Court of the District of Columbia in order that the accused parties and the Republic of Chile indemnify the civil and moral damages suffered by them as a result of the death of their relatives and the injuries of the survivor, Mr. Moffitt.

Since the Republic of Chile invoked the privilege of immunity from jurisdiction for being judged by a foreign court, the suit carried on in default, ending in a judgement condemning Chile to pay several benefits in favor of the plaintiffs. While the position of the Chilean Government regarding immunity from jurisdiction was not accepted by the United States court, subsequently in a second suit seeking enforcement of the prior judgement by attaching assets of Linea Aérea Nacional (LAN), a New York Court accepted the Chilean arguments and ordered that the embargoes affecting Chilean planes be canceled.

It is also relevant to note that the decision rendered in 1980 by Judge Joyce Hens Green of the District Court of the United States ordered the Republic of Chile to pay the following amounts:

I. Concerning Orlando Letelier.

(a) Pursuant to the Survival Statute, the Republic of Chile was ordered to pay, jointly and severally with the other defendants, the sum of US$ 30,000 as compensation for the pain and suffering of Isabel, Cristián, José Ignacio, Francisco, and Juan Pablo Letelier.

(b) Pursuant to the wrongful death Statute, the Republic of Chile was ordered to pay, jointly and severally with the other defendants, the sum of US$ 1,526,479 to the plaintiff, Michael Maggio, as Orlando Letelier's personal representative.

UNCLASSIFIED

II. Concerning Ronni Karpen Moffitt.

(a) Pursuant to the Survival Statute, the Republic of Chile was ordered to pay, jointly and severally, the sum of US$ 80,000 as compensation for the pain and suffering of Michael Moffitt and Hilda and Murray Karpen.

(b) Pursuant to the wrongful death Statute, the Republic of Chile was ordered to pay, jointly and severally, the sum of US$ 916,096.

III. Concerning Michael Moffitt, widower of Ronni Moffitt.

The judicial decision stated that no judgement for damages can be entered in his favor, other than as to pain and suffering, since the record is barren as to of any specific information concerning the psychiatric therapy, other than vague references thereto. It added that the expenses accordingly incurred and expected to incur in the future, if at all, are only speculative.

Wherefore, the judgement only ordered the Republic of Chile to pay to Michael Moffitt the sum of US$ 400,000.00, jointly and severally with the other defendants, as compensatory damages for personal injury and pain and suffering.

In other words, the total compensation that the Republic of Chile was ordered to pay by a judgement rendered by default and without proper defense amounted to the sum of US $2,952,575.00, without the Chilean State being ordered to pay any sum for fees and expenses of the plaintiffs' attorneys, or for punitive damages, or for financial damages caused to Mr. Michael Moffitt. (Annex I).

In view of the fact that the plaintiffs' family could not execute the judgement rendered against the Republic of Chile, the Government of the United States of America resolved in 1988 to extend diplomatic protection in favor of its citizens,

UNCLASSIFIED

Mr. Michael Moffitt, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Karpen, and Mr. Juan Pablo Letelier (the latter whom it would seem is a United States citizen, notwithstanding the fact of being a congressman in the National Congress of Chile).

Indeed, the Embassy of the United States in Santiago, Chile, through note N° 082 dated April 18, 1988, informed the Ministry of Foreign Affairs that Chile should fulfill the international obligation of compensating the United States for damages suffered by said persons and by the Government of the United States, damages that included those incurred during the criminal investigation over the past 12 years, as well as the economic and other losses suffered by the families of Mr. Orlando Letelier and Mrs. Moffitt. Note N° 082 added that the United States was willing to accept that the Government of Chile pay as a complete and final settlement for financial responsibility the sum of US$ 12,000,000.00, without the international action affecting the judgements that United States courts might render against the Government of Chile, unless both Governments could reach an agreement; the note ended urging the Government of Chile to settle the pending matter through diplomatic channels, which would make the question of the jurisdiction of United States courts superfluous.

The Government of Chile at that time, through note N° 9988 of May 24, 1988, rejected the assertions and requests set forth in the mentioned note, declaring that it had cooperated in the investigation of the assassination already discussed, and that with regard to the civil claims, the State of Chile did not recognize the validity of the judgement rendered by the United States of America, since it violated the international principle of immunity from jurisdiction.

The Chilean note ended by reiterating that the controversies between sovereign states can only be settled through settlement procedures recognized by international law, and that the Chilean Government would not consider any U.S. claims associated with this matter as long as the jurisdictional aspect had not been recognized and settled by an appropriate international court, for which reason it reiterated its proposal of turning the jurisdictional problem over to the decision of an international court.

It is relevant to add that, previous to this latter Chilean note, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on several previous occasions had represented to the Government of the United States its rejection, on the principle of immunity from jurisdiction, to the validity of the judgement of the United States court against the sovereign State of Chile. On several occasions the Government of Chile enclosed legal memorandums which set forth the Chilean argument on immunity from jurisdiction and how this principle was recognized in the national legislation as well as in international instruments, calling on the United States Government to represent these points of view before the United States courts, as it had done in other cases of international disputes. (Annex II).

And so, at the end of 1989, a deadlock existed in the settlement of this delicate international problem, and there was not a glimmer of how an agreement could be reached that would allow for a compensation for damages without the Chilean State having to admit liability.

Without doubt, this unsettled problem affected the normal relations between both States. For that reason, the new Government of Patricio Aylwin entrusted the Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Edmundo Vargas, the mission of carrying out a diplomatic negotiation with the Government of the United States in order to attempt an agreement of mutual advantage that would put an end to the pending dispute. The referred negotiation culminated in the Agreement between both Governments signed on June 11, 1990.

B. Collaboration of the new Chilean Government toward the complete investigation of the Letelier case and attitude of moral repair in favor of the deceased persons who, during the period between 1973 - 1989, suffered violations of their human rights.

The new Government promoted the passing of a law in the Chilean Parliament that would enable the matter (designated the "Letelier Case") concerning homicide and passport forgery, then subjected to the jurisdiction of the Military Courts, to be transferred to the Civil Courts; for which purpose, Law 19,047 (designated "'Cumplido' Law") incorporated a new provision to that effect. (Art. 7, that modifies and adds a new number to Art. 52 of the Tribunal Organic Code). (Annex III).

Furthermore, the new Government, based on Article 52, No. 2 of the Organic Courts Code, added by the new Law 19,047, requested that the Supreme Court appoint a Judge of the Supreme Court to devote himself to carrying out the proceedings which had been discontinued by the Military Courts and pending an appeal before the Supreme Court, a request that was approved by the Court, which appointed Mr. Adolfo Bañados, member of the referred to Supreme Court, as Prosecuting Judge.

Before the new Prosecuting Judge and with the determined cooperation of the State Defense Council, the investigation has gone forward, and former officers Messrs. Manuel Contreras and Pedro Espinoza are under preventive detention, notwithstanding the defendants' pending appeal.

Furthermore, the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, all of which having been considered in the Presentation, have appeared before the Chilean courts to file criminal actions, which have been declared admissible; therefore, if the proceedings continue on to the following stage of the penal action in the presence of both parties, it is possible for said plaintiffs to file civil suit against the State of Chile, claiming compensation for damage, being possible to claim damages notwithstanding the claim of the same made by the United States in the Presentation concerning the ex gratia compensation filed with the Commission.

With respect to this, the Agreement omits stating that once the ex gratia compensation determined by the Commission is paid and all respective U.S. civil claims are satisfied, whether it is possible for the families to insist upon obtaining a higher compensation from the State of Chile through a law suit before Chilean Courts. In view of this omission, we point out that from the formal or procedural point of view, the possibilities for suing the State of Chile are open, which does not preclude the defenses that the State of Chile might present if a new action is brought against it. This situation must be considered by the Commission, in determining the amount of the Compensation.

Furthermore, the Government propitiated the formation of the Commission for Truth and Reconciliation which investigated, without having the capacity or category of a court, numerous cases of deceased persons, against whom there presumably existed a violation of their basic rights. The report (issued by said Commission) singles out, among these cases, the one concerning Orlando Letelier and R. Moffitt, and briefly explains the opinion formed about the matter, in all conscience, by the Commission. (Annex IV).

Also, the new Government sent a bill of law to Congress that establishes several regulations relative to compensations in benefit of the families of the victims referred to in the National Truth and Reconciliation Commission report, among whom are included the late Orlando Letelier and R. Moffitt. This bill of law remains pending in the Chamber of Deputies and has an approximate cost in benefits to be paid by the State of Chile of CH$ 8,000,000,000 during the first year and of CH$ 4,500,000,000 for the following years, estimating a total of 6,000 beneficiaries. (Annex V).

UNCLASSIFIED

It is worthy to mention the clearly compensatory attitude of the new Chilean Government from the point of view of moral satisfaction, and how it expects to favor all the victims, without discrimination, in a manner compatible with the austerity of Chilean finances.

The new Government's attitude of giving compensation, insofar as is possible, for the excesses committed during the former Government must be considered by the International Commission in deciding this case. It was also expected that the family of Mr. Orlando Letelier would have duly understood this, since in several statements made before the Chilean and United States mass media, they have indicated that the compensation was requested to punish the Chilean Military Government which did not collaborate in the investigation and conviction of those responsible for the assassination of Letelier and who remained unpunished in Chile. (Annex VI).

In conclusion, the new Government has collaborated in the investigation of the incident occurred in Washington, the case is being prosecuted by the competent Chilean court, and in general, a clear disposition for moral and material compensation has been evidenced in favor of the persons whose rights were violated, among whom are included the late Orlando Letelier and R. Moffitt.

C. The meaning and scope of the Agreement and Compromis.

In the opinion of the Chilean defense, it is opportune to clarify the meaning and scope of the Agreement and Compromis subscribed to with the United States of America

UNCLASSIFIED

relative to determining the amount of ex gratia payment that the Government of Chile must pay.

(a) What is involved here is an agreement that does not constitute an act of execution or application of the Treaty of 1914, since the International Commission is not going to investigate anything related to the possible responsibility of the State of Chile, but rather of determining only the amount of compensation Chile is to pay, notwithstanding the fact that this country neither acknowledges nor accepts responsibility for the incident which occurred on September 21, 1976, which caused the death of Mr. Orlando Letelier and of Mrs. Ronni K. Moffitt and injuries to Mr. Michael Moffitt.

What is involved is a new international obligation that the State of Chile undertakes, which is that of making an ex gratia payment to the Government of the United States; and, inasmuch as Chile does not acknowledge responsibility for the incident, it was necessary to establish that the "ex gratia" payment "should be equal to that which would be due, if liability were establish," opting for this way of calculation in the absence of another objective element that could be used in this matter, and also because, to carry out the estimate of the amount of compensation, the International Commission must confine itself to the applicable principles of international law, without allowing to prevail those set forth in the internal legislation of the States parties to the Agreement, except to the extent to which such principles might concur.

For that reason, the Message of the Government of Chile to Parliament requesting approval of the Agreement and Compromis involved with the Government of the United States of America, indicated textually that: "By resorting to the ex gratia payment, and thereby settling a claim that the United States of America had previously formulated as an alternative to the alleged compensation for damages, it is no less true that in this way a practice accepted by international law is followed, and that, moreover, all other possible civil claims relating to the matter, which the Government of that country might have against the Government of Chile, are considered settled."

"In this way, the new international obligation of making an ex gratia payment will substitute the United States claim for compensation, which Chile does not accept, as well as the international obligation of responding to the summons of the International Commission, in the terms agreed to in the Treaty of 1914, in order to investigate and inform on all the aspects involved in said crime and which entail the responsibility of the State of Chile."

"But, moreover, this new obligation is based exclusively on the purpose of expediting the normalization of relations between the United States of America and Chile, and therefore, lacking legal relation with the dispute that existed, expressly does not admit any responsibility regarding it, which, on the other hand, is considered settled and, therefore, cannot be brought up again in the future." (Annex VII).

(b) The Agreement between both countries states that Chile will pay a "compensation" ex gratia for the deaths of Mrs. Moffitt and Mr. Letelier and for the personal injury caused to Mr. Moffitt. Nowhere in the Agreement does it speak of the Government of Chile paying an "indemnification" for those acts.

According to the Dictionary of the Royal Spanish Academy of Language, which contains the natural and obvious meaning of the words, "compensation" and "indemnification" are not synonymous.

In fact, the word "indemnification" is the "action and effect of indemnifying," and "to indemnify is to repair for damage or injury"; in other words, to procure that the indemnified be undamaged, that is, "free or exempt from damage."

On the other hand, the word "compensation" is the "action and effect of compensating" (and, formerly, according to the above mentioned dictionary, a synonym for indemnification). In turn, "to compensate," in the corresponding meaning, is "to give some thing or make a benefit as repair for damage, injury, or annoyance that has been caused." In other words, compensation does not attempt to leave the compensated person "undamaged".

(c) In merit of the aforementioned, it was placed on record in the Chilean Parliament that the "ex gratia" payment would be a compensation and not an indemnification. The sum determined by the International Commission would only cover the said compensation for the referred to deaths and damages and would include no other item, such as costs pertaining to lawsuits, personal costs and fees, possible damages to other persons, etc... (Annex VIII).

(d) The following conclusions were also placed on record in the Chilean Parliament when the Senate approved the Agreement:

- "That by means of this Agreement a dispute affecting the relations between Chile and the United States of America is settled";
- "That this Agreement does not affect the Republic of Chile from the principle of immunity from jurisdiction";
- "That by means of the 'ex gratia' payment, a practice universally accepted in international law is followed, without causal relation to the proceedings brought before the Courts of the United States of America;
- "That we understand that the Government of the United States considers settled all possible prospective claims that could be brought against Chile as a consequence of this matter"; and

UNCLASSIFIED

- "That the first part of point 3 of the Agreement; ('The United States requested from Chile, on behalf of the families of Letelier-Morel and Moffitt, the payment of a compensation on the basis that the United States regards the State of Chile legally responsible, under international law, for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt and the damages suffered by Michael Moffitt'), constitutes an opinion of the Government of the United States in regard of which the Senate is not called to issue an opinion." (Annex IX).

D. Characteristics of the Commission.

The Commission is not a court, but rather an international organism whose purpose is to issue a report in which the amount of the ex-gratia payment to be made by the Government of Chile is determined (No. 7, letter (e) of the Compromis).

This determination is carried out pursuant to the principles of applicable international law and according to the rules of procedure that the Commission establishes, in addition to those contained in the Compromis.

In doing so, the parties must put forth presentations and observations in writing, containing their allegations and evidence on which they are based.

The beforementioned characterizes the Commission as an organism for the reception of allegations and written evidence, personal appearances not being necessary. Once the reception period has been completed for the allegations and evidence, the Commission must determine the amount of the compensation that the Government of Chile will pay ex-gratia.

The Commission is also by nature a passive organ, during the period of the reception of the allegations and evidence, until the moment of making its determination on the ex-gratia payment.

UNCLASSIFIED

Any written evidence that must be or that is desired to be provided to the Commission must be self-sufficient and if it is not, it must be accompanied by a written document that gives it a self-sufficient characteristic.

The procedure is of extreme rapidity and simplicity, as indicated in No. 7 of the Compromis.

All of the preceding reveals that both Governments do not constitute a Court of Arbitration, nor an arbitral procedure. Under the protection of the Bryan - Suárez Mujica Treaty, they established a Commission in order to determine a compensation whereby the Government of Chile must pay the Government of the United States.

Evaluating losses and damages of an indemnifying nature by way of the Commission, is impossible to carry out, since it has no investigational faculties. Only one means of proof exists, that of written documents, and the procedural activity of the Governments is strictly limited to perform the presentations and observations determined by the Compromis. The evaluation of the indemnification may only be carried out in a formal indemnifying trial, whose example is given precisely by the Presentation of the Government of the United States of America, upon quoting the Godinez case, resolved by the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, in which the Government of the Republic of Honduras was charged with the damage of human rights of Mr. Godinez Cruz, producing a contested proceeding, just as in the Velázquez Rodríguez case.

The ex-gratia nature of the obligation accepted by the Government of Chile, reveals that the Government of the United States is not exercising an action of a legal nature, in order to obtain an indemnification for damage, but rather the international petition by both Governments will bring about the determination of a payment for granting a compensation destined to redress, in some form, the damage suffered by the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier and Mrs. Ronni K. Moffitt.

E. Overall critique of Presentation of the United States of America.

One's attention, of course, is called to the lack of congruity that the "Presentation of the Government of the United States of America" has with the end that said Government and Chile had in view on subscribing, in conformity with the Treaty of 1914, the Agreement and Compromis published in the Official Journal of Chile, dated last October 9th.

In fact, if through said Agreement a way is found to expedite the normalization of relations between both States and conclude the diplomatic disagreement pending between both countries for more than 10 years, the wording and the content of the "Presentation" reflect in no way the aforementioned purposes, since it exaggerates the details of a terrible and unnecessary crime and claims compensation for an entirely exaggerated and exorbitant amount, superior to any amount paid in Chile for illegal acts, resulting in death of persons.

So that the Commission may judge the exaggeration of the United States Presentation, it is pertinent to point out as comparative data, that the claimed compensation is in all items far superior to the one ordered to by a United States court of the District of Columbia for US$ 2,952,575.00, which is known from the suit filed by the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier and Ronni K. Moffitt and is even far superior to the US$ 12,000,000 claimed by the United States in its note of April 18, 1988, a sum which included expenses that the U.S. would have had in the criminal investigation of the incident.

The Government of Chile believes, that it is not a good way to normalize relations, to repeat in detail acts about which the Agreement itself indicates that the State of Chile admits no responsibility, nor is it to expect a compensation clearly superior to the aforementioned appraisals by United States Courts, as well as the U.S. Embassy itself in Santiago, Chile.

UNCLASSIFIED

Then, the "Presentation" conjectures on the assumption that it is a law suit for damages, before a court that has ample powers to weigh the facts and determine responsibility.

The proceeding taking place before the International Commission, is not a civil suit for damage where all kinds of evidence are possible and where the parties would be able to oppose or inspect contrary evidence. The Commission's only mission is to determine the amount of a voluntary and "ex gratia" compensation that the Government of Chile shall pay to the United States, and for such reason it shall listen to the parties, but this limited power does not convert the Commission into an International Court to which the parties have given their full jurisdiction over the matter.

Without detriment to the aforementioned, the way the "Presentation" explains and considers the damages demonstrates a clear intention to convict the State of Chile for its responsibility in the incident.

Nothing else can be implied by claiming interest on moral damages which must be reimbursed as of the date of the incident, September 21, 1976, rather than from the date of the Commission's decision. Nor can anything else be implied by the Presentation when it claims payment of fees, during 12 years, for legal actions taken by private attorneys, including even the actions they carried out to prepare the Presentation.

Additionally, it is particularly meaningful that the Chilean State, which has not admitted liability in the incident, is expected to pay the cost of legal actions of the professionals who acted before the court of the District of Columbia, under which circumstance the Republic of Chile invoked the international principle of immunity from jurisdiction and by so doing did not accept to defend itself and appear before a foreign court. If through the Agreement, a dispute is put to an end which arose precisely, among other reasons, because of the immunity from jurisdiction invoked by Chile in connection with a United States court decision, it is self-defeating, to say the least, to expect that the State of Chile be penalized or punished with the cost of litigations carried outside of Chile and before courts of which Chile admits no jurisdiction.

If, hypothetically, the Commission were to accept the United States claim in this part, it would mean that the purpose of the Agreement had not been fulfilled, and it would additionally create a new political or historical disagreement even more serious than the one that diplomatic negotiation has endeavored to settle.

The Governments of Chile and the United States, have resolved, by means of direct agreements or arbitration, problems that affected their good diplomatic relations, for which reason precedents exist between the parties that must be analyzed. Such are the cases of: (a) the Convention of the Frigate "Franklin", which was subscribed on September 10th, 1858, as a result of the ship having been detained for suspicion of infringing the customs laws of Chile; (b) the Convention related to the Bergantín "Macedonian", by means of which it was agreed to submit for arbitration of His Majesty the King of Belgium, concerning the legitimacy or illegitimacy of the seizure of an amount of silver coins and bars, subscribed on November 10th, 1858; and (c) the Baltimore case, resolved in 1892.

It is well-known in international law that punitive damages against States are unacceptable. Nor is this claim acceptable even though it be disguised under other terms suggesting implicitly that the State of Chile is delinquent in fulfilling its obligations by delaying the execution of the decision of the United States Judge rendered in 1980 by invoking the international principle of immunity from jurisdiction.

Furthermore, in the Presentation, damages for expenses incurred after the signing of the Agreement on June 11, 1990, are expected to be included.

We reiterate that Chile, by entering into the Agreement, did not admit liability and that the payment that it will carry out will be made for the sake of international harmony. It is improper that the Presentation invoke Chile's delay in the claimed payment of moral damages, surcharging the amount to be paid with high yearly interests of 10% beginning from the date of death.

Finally, the Government of Chile wishes to emphasize within its compensatory intention, the promulgation of law 18,979 issued by the initiative of the new Government of Mr. Patricio Aylwin and published in the Official Gazette of May 11th, 1990, which is the same date that both governments reached an Agreement ending diplomatic differences. (Annex X).

In said law, Mr. Orlando Letelier del Solar was reinstated posthumously as of June 8th, 1976, as a Chilean citizen, redressing the injustice that was committed having arbitrarily deprived him of said essential tribute, a gesture that was appreciated by Deputy Mr. Juan Pablo Letelier in representation of his family.

CHAPTER II.

A. Principles of Generally Accepted Private Law.

I. Introduction.

The Compromis concluded between both Governments establishes that "the Commission shall determine the amount of payment to be made by the Government of Chile in accordance with applicable principles of international law, as though liability were established"; and that the "ex gratia" payment will be made in favor of the members of the families affected by Orlando Letelier's assassination, and for the personal injuries sustained by Michael Moffitt.

It is relevant, therefore, to determine what the principles of generally accepted private law are on this matter. These are pursuant to what has been provided for in article 38, letter (c) of the Statute of the International Court of Justice, incorporated in the Charter of the United Nations dated June 26th, 1945. "The general principles of law recognized by civilized nations" are a source of international law, without prejudice to the use "of judicial decisions and teachings of the most qualified publicists of the various nations", as an auxiliary means for determining rules of law.

In dealing with a legal institution so specific and delimited as is tort liability, and particularly in what is important here, treating the subject relative to the regulation of damage subject to indemnity, there can be no doubt that those general principles of law are developed from both those that have been accepted in general international practice, as well as those that are common to the generality of positive internal systems of different nations. The determination of such principles must be made with the assistance of the doctrines of the most qualified publicists of different nations and of the relevant legal decisions, pursuant to that provided by Article 38 cited above.

Incidentally, the principles to which we refer have no bearing upon the responsibility of a State for the damage caused by it or by its subjects to another State, but rather with those that they have caused to private individuals whose protection has been assumed by the State which the affected parties are nationals. This is the situation presented in this case, since in the Agreement subscribed by both Governments it is expressly stated that the "ex-gratia" payment will not be received by the Government of the United States for itself, but rather on behalf of the families of the victims; and this latter Government declares that upon receipt of this payment from the Government of Chile, its claim will be considered settled, "and any other possible civil claim of the United States Government in regard to this matter".

Therefore, while being concerned with compensating damages caused to an individual and not to a State, that is, with relations subject to private law from the point of view of who has suffered the damage, the generally accepted principles of law for nation's internal systems in what refers to damages subject to indemnity, become considered, as such, rules of international law. It is made clear by Louis Cavaré, in expressing that when the damage has been caused, not to a State, but rather to an individual, the State does not intervene, except for protecting its nationals and the situation is equivalent to the one that generates liability pursuant internal to law. (1)

II. The principle of equivalency between the damage and the reparation.

It is a general principle of recognized law by the civilized nations as a basis or support of the regulatory system of civil liability that the reparation must be equal to the amount of the damage, which means that the victim must end up, whenever possible, in the same state had the damaging act not occurred. From this principle it can be deduced that the reparation must not be less than the damage, nor greater. This latter consequence implies that the indemnification or compensation can never constitute a source of income or profits for the receiving party, in that wealth would be produced without cause. If one obtains the reimbursement of what was actually lost, - actual damages ("Damnum Emergens"), - and what was surely prevented from receiving as a direct and necessary consequence of the injurious act, - loss of profits ("Lucrum Cessans"), - the victim remains completely indemnified. On the contrary, should a reparation be achieved that exceeds the true and certain amount of the "damnum emergens" (actual damages) and the "lucrum cessans" (loss of profits), an unlawful gain or unjustified profit is brought about in his favor, which would leave him in a better situation than he had before suffering the damage and that, for the same reason, would constitute an enrichment devoid of a cause.

This principle has received formal recognition both in international law as well as in comparative jurisprudence.

Charles Rousseau, professor of the Law School of Paris, expresses that "the principle of the integrity of the reparation carries with it two consequences: (a) the reparation must not be lesser than the damage; (b) nor must it be greater." And, developing the idea, he adds: "This second principle is found to be in direct relation to the first and means that the illicit act cannot be the source of enrichment for the victim." (2)

III. The principle of certainty of the damage.

UNCLASSIFIED

The principle of the universally accepted law that requires the certainty or factuality of the damage in order that it be compensated, that is, in order to consider it a constituent of a damage susceptible for reparation, is intimately related to what has been discussed.

That the damage be certain or factual means that the entreated economic reduction, whether it be due to actual damages or loss of profits, has actually occurred, that its existence is positively known, that had the injurious act not come into the picture the victim would have conserved something lost or would have necessarily received something that as a consequence of this act has failed to obtain. The reality or certitude of the damage encompasses not only the present, but also the future, conditioned upon this latter necessarily coming about.

It is inferred from the indicated principle that a hypothetical or eventual damage, based on suppositions or conjectures, however probable they may seem, does not give the right to indemnification. The probable profits or income, whose coming about depends on the occurrence of certain suppositions or that hypothetically determined information or future circumstances are given, do not constitute definite damages, because for its establishment it is necessary to enter into the area of conjectures, in such a way that they cannot be considered in the calculation of indemnification. The same is worth mentioning about the deprivation of a simple expectation: its loss is not subject to indemnity since it does not introduce a certain or real damage.

This principle has had formal acceptance both in the doctrines of international law as well as comparative jurisprudence.

Louis Cavaré, honorary professor of the School of Law and Economic Sciences of the University of Rennes and member of the Institute of International Law, in his work titled "Positive Public International Law", regarding this point expresses:

"In order for the damage to implicate the State's responsibility, a certain number of characters must be presented. It is agreed that it must be certain, and that it must not have been repaired".

And in referring especially to the first, adds:

"The damage must be certain. This is a condition that has been affirmed by numerous judgements and we will continue to see with the study of the direct damages. The damage must not, indeed, be contingent. There must be no doubt concerning this point". (3)

Eduardo Jiménez de Aréchaga, in his work entitled "El Derecho Internacional Contemporáneo" (Contemporary International Law) is equally explicit in affirming the principle. In the separate paragraph in relation to "Indemnification", after indicating that this is the normal form of reparation, adds:

"The indemnification must compensate all the damages produced as a consequence of the illicit act,... but not the presumed earnings that are of a highly problematic or conjectural nature, "too remote or speculative" or "possible damages, but contingent and undetermined". (4)

In Uruguay, Jorge Peirano Facio, professor of Civil Law of the School of Law and Social Sciences in Montevideo, in his complete and documented work "Responsabilidad Extracontractual" (tort liability), in referring to "certain damages" characterizes the principle as follows:

"According to the teachings sustained on the doctrine, the first characteristic of the damage that must be present in order to be considered relevant to the effects of tort liability is that of being certain". And after indicating that the meaning that some attribute to this word is unacceptable, affirms that damages are certain when their existence is certain, but the responsible party cannot be referred to with absolute conviction", adding that in its correct sense: "uncertain damages are spoken about whose existence is not entirely established, enabling doubts to be set forth concerning their reality. It is notorious that when one speaks in this matter about certain damages, the second interpretation of the word is alluded to, since in the first meaning, this word is connected to the problem of a causal relation. In the meaning that we now attribute to it, we consider, then, certain damage that which is real and actual, and not merely hypothetical or possible". (5)

DECLASSIFIED

Later on, this same author treats "eventual damage" in these terms: "Eventual damage can be found close to future damage, but it is distinguishable in the majority of cases. The fundamental difference between these two types of damages is characterized sufficiently when it is remembered that future damage is only a variety of certain damage, while the concept of eventual damage is precisely and radically the opposite of certitude: eventual damage is equivalent, then, to damage that is not true; in other words, damage merely based on suppositions or conjectures".

"Our jurisprudence always has been final in the sense of not admitting the reparation of problematic or eventual damage. In this sense, it has been decided that it is not admissible to consider, that which is derived from the non-realization of future sales as damage to the effects of tort liability; - that they are eventual damages and therefore non-eligible for indemnity, those related to the difference between a salary that a fired official could normally earn and that which would have been received had he stayed in his administrative career in a higher office-; that only the earnings that, according to the natural course of events, the victim of an offense could have received should be considered and not mere and vague hopes-; that it is inadmissible to indemnify the damages in relation to what a person could have earned that left his business in order to take care of his wife, particularly when she is not seriously ill".

"In our law, then, eventual damage cannot be considered damage to the effects of tort liability. This solution, on the other hand, is also final in foreign jurisprudence and doctrine." (6)

In Argentina, Jorge Joaquín Llambias, author of in important treatise on Civil Law, in his "Manual de Derecho Civil - Obligaciones" (Manual on Civil Law - Obligations), he indicates expressly that "the requisites for receiving indemnity for damages are: 1) that the damage be factual and not eventual; 2) that it be subsistent at the time of its calculation; 3) that it be personally of the injured party; 4) that the equity loss have a bearing on the legitimate interest of the injured party; 5) that the damage have a relevant legal causal relation to the illicit act. (7). And he defines eventual damage saying that "eventual damage is the problematical or conjectural, that may or may not occur and therefore is not, in principle, subject to indemnity. If indemnity is given, then, and afterwards the damage does not take place, the only eventual injured party will become wealthier without cause at the expense of the responsible party." (8)

The French doctrine is also categorical.

Louise Josserand, Honorary Dean of the Lyon School of Law and Counsellor of the Court of Appeals, in his "Civil Law, General Theory of Obligations", affirms:

"In order to assume tort liability, it is indispensable that damage has been caused, and that this damage be certain"; and in defining this last requirement, adds: "It is also indispensable that the damage be certain: a merely eventual or hypothetical damage is not taken into consideration..." (9).

Henri and León Mazeaud and André Tunc, professors of the Paris School of Law, in their classic "Theoretical and Practical Treatise on Tort and Contractual Civil Liability", in asking in which cases damage exists as an element of liability, answer with the following: "when it is certain. When it has not already been repaired. When it is personal of the plaintiff. When it makes an attempt against an acquired right".

In developing these constituents, they comment on the certitude of damage:

"Upon requiring that the damage be certain, it is understood that it must not be wherefore, simply hypothetical, eventual. It is indispensable that the judge be certain that the plaintiff would have found himself in a better situation had the defendant not carried out the act for which he is being reproached", indicating further on that the future damage must also be considered if it presents the same characteristics of certitude (10).

Farther on, they add: "Jurisprudence has never created any difficulties in accepting these principles. From the moment that the damage is certain, its reparation is granted, even when it may be future. The action of responsibility is denied only when the damage claimed by the victim is eventual."

"In order to put an end to the vacillations that may arise in the use of one for the other, between the adjectives "current" and "certain", "future" and "eventual", the Chamber of Admission of the Court of Appeals, in three dictated verdicts before the luminous decision of the Pilon magistrate, on June 1st, 1932, formulated the rule in clearer terms: 'Whereas, if it is not possible to concede the payment of loss and damages as a reparation for purely eventual damages, a different way occurs when the damage, although future, appears to the judges as a certain and direct extension of a current state of affairs and susceptible to immediate estimation". (11)

In Italy, Francesco Messineo, professor of the University of Milán in his well known "Manual of Civil and Commercial Law", in what concerns the principle of certainty of damage indicates:

"In order for the damage to give claim to indemnity it is necessary, in addition, that it be certain and true; in other words, indemnity cannot be given to hypothetical damage, that is, potential or eventual, but not already manifested in reality (and that, therefore, may also not be manifested), while for the moment the affected patrimony is intact"; and then adds: "future damage (not current) can be a matter of responsibility as long as its survival is certain". (12)

IV. The principle that reparation does not have a sanctionary or punitive nature.

From the principle that the reparation must be the equivalent to the caused damage, it is inferred that in order to regulate it, neither the seriousness of the act nor the degree of guilt of the responsible party, can be taken into account, but rather only the true extension of the damage as seen from the point of view of the suffering party. Therefore, international law rejects all possibility of increasing the indemnification through or by way of penalty or punishment.

Charles Rousseau, in his already mentioned work, in referring to the nature of the reparation, emphasizes that "international responsibility does not have a punitive nature. The reparation does not have a punitive but rather a compensatory nature", and he cites several precedents to thereby confirming it. (13)

Eduardo Jiménez de Aréchaga, in his beforementioned work, indicates that "compensations of a punitive or exemplary nature, based on the disapproval of the illicit act and as a measure of dissuasion or reform of the offensor, are incompatible with the basic idea that serves as a basis for the obligation to repair. The imposition of such sanctions go beyond the jurisdiction conferred upon the International Court of Justice in its by-laws, and what is normally attributable to the international tribunals to whom it is not conferred "the power of repression" (14).

The Inter-American Court of Human Rights, in the cases of Velázquez Rodríguez and Godinez Cruz, based on the same principle, refused the charge for punitive damages as part of the indemnification, charge which was based on "the extremely serious violations of human rights" that were produced in those cases. In its judgement dictated in the year 1989, the Court said:

"Although some internal courts, particularly the North American courts, establish indemnities whose values serve exemplary or dissuasive purposes, this principle is not applicable in the current state of international law" (15).

The same principle is accepted by Paul Reuter, in his "Public International Law" (16) and in the judgements cited in the "Manual of Public International Law" of Max Sorensen (17) and in the "Public International Law" of Alfredo Verdross (18).

B. Principles of international law applicable in determining the amount of payment of the ex-gratia compensation.

I. Introduction.

The international responsibility of a State is derived from acts or omissions to which they are attributable and that constitute violations of its obligations under international law. (19) States can consent to submit differences occurring between them without accepting the existence of an obligation arising from a violation of international law. (See ex gratia payments, infra Section VI).

The basic principles regarding reparation in international law were established in the Chorzow Factory Case by the Permanent Court of International Justice in 1928. The Court indicated that the existence of responsibility generates the obligation to redress the damage caused.

"The essential principle contained in the actual notion of an illegal act--a principle which seems to be established by international practice and in particular by the decisions of arbitral tribunals--is that reparation must, as far as possible, wipe out all the consequences of the illegal act and reestablish the situation which would, in all probability, have existed if that act had not been committed. Restitution in kind, or, if this is not possible, payment of a sum corresponding to the value which a restitution in kind would bear; the award, if need be, of damages for loss sustained which would not be covered by restitution in kind or payments in place of it--such are the principles which should serve to determine the amount of compensation due for an act contrary to international law." (20)

International law has gradually made more concrete the legal basis and extension of the obligation to compensate, including cases of ex gratia payments. The following considerations are relevant in the current case:

- International law establishes in principle the obligation to compensate property damage, on account of actual damages and loss of profits, mental or psychological damage and moral damage inflicted upon individuals in whose favor diplomatic protection is duly exercised. Such obligations arise in cases of death as well as bodily injuries, even though the extent of the compensation is not the same.

- Punitive damages are contrary to the law and cannot be considered, therefore, neither explicitly nor implicitly (as aggravating circumstance or moral damage) for determining the amount of the compensation due.

- International law also requires a direct causal relation so that damages can be compensable.

- The burden of proof of damages correspond to those claiming their occurrence and, international law establishes criteria for weighing the evidence presented.

- International law is also applicable in analyzing the legal basis of payment of expenses incurred by the parties in the preparation of their petitions and in attorney fees made in advance of the situation presented for arbitration. As well, international law determines the situations in which it is lawful to pay interest.

- Essential circumstances exist, valid under international law, which should be considered determining the amount of the ex gratia payment.

The Presentation of the United States Government does not satisfy the criteria prescribed by international law for determining the amount of the ex gratia payment which Chile must make.

Following reference is made to the pertinent legal standards and its violation in the Presentation of the Government of the United States. Chapter III, containing Observations made by the Chilean Government, will individually analyze the different charges and their justification, if any, made in the Presentation.

II. Types of Damage.

UNCLASSIFIED

(a) Material Damage:

i. Legal principles.

In regard to the loss of life, compensation should cover the damage occasioned to third parties as a result of the violent death of the victim. (21) The normal criteria for establishing the quantum of the compensation is usually the direct loss caused to the dependents. This loss should be measured according to the degree of economic dependence that existed between the petitioner and the victim. (22) In the matter of damage or destruction of property, the essential element of compensation is the replacement value. (23)

In the Lusitania Case, (24) profusely cited by the United States Government, numerous petitioners sought to persuade the Mixed Claims Commission to take into account the "value of the life lost" in order to set the respective compensation. As Whiteman explains, the Commission refused to act in this manner. "Instead, he repeatedly asserted that the measure of damage was not the 'value of the life taken', but, the pecuniary loss sustained by the claimant on account of that death." (25)

The Inter-American Court of Human Rights also followed the legal principles of international law in this same matter, establishing that the compensation due to a surviving victim of a wrongful act, is different than that due to the dependents of a deceased victim.

According to the Velázquez Rodríguez Case (26), the Court manifested that:

"However, it is necessary to keep in mind that the calculation of the loss of profits should be made considering two distinct situations. When the person entitled to the indemnification is a victim affected by total and permanent disability, the indemnification should take in all that he no longer receives, with the corresponding readjustments, and according to his probable life expectancy. Under this assumption, the victim's only income is the amount he would have received as loss of profits and which now he does not receive."

"If the beneficiaries of the indemnification are relatives, the matter is set forth in different terms. The relatives in principle have the current or future possibility of working or having an income of their own. The children, who must be guaranteed the possibility to study up to an approximate age of 25 years, could, for example, work from that moment on. It is not justified, then, in those cases, to adhere to rigorous criteria, more appropriate to the situation described in the paragraph above, but rather to make a prudent appraisal of the damages, according to the circumstances of each case." (Emphasis added).

In the above terms, the material damage caused by the loss of life, only covers the income that the victim would have provided to the dependent individual, if the victim had not died. (27) In order to fix this amount, the petitioner's age and the relationship of real proven economic dependency must be taken into account, indicating the amounts received prior to death. The Department of State of the United States in its Suggestions for Preparing Claims for Personal Injury or Loss of Life, dated July 1, 1955, recommended that in the case of death: "The claims .... should be supported with evidence that states the following:... c. The extent of the contributions made by the deceased for the maintenance of the claimant." (28) According to the above mentioned, the victim's income (i.e. salary, investments) and the reasonable probability of its increase achieves relevance beginning only upon identification of a condition of proven economic dependence and a reasonable time period for its continuation. The Inter-American Court of Human Rights, in the previously mentioned case, set the age of 25 for the victim's children.

The dependent's monetary loss, due to the personal services provided by the victim in the field of care, education and personal supervision, should also be considered to compensate for material damages. (29)

The burial costs are compensable only if they have been made by the dependents receiving financial support from the victim. (30)

ii. Valuation of material damages in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The valuation presented by the United States Government for property damages resulting from the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, do not satisfy the requirements prescribed by international law and will not permit, therefore, in the language used by the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, the realization of "a prudent estimation of damages."

In both cases, the total amount that the deceased would have earned, without offering concrete evidence regarding the existing real economic dependence, is considered. International law does not permit the calculation of future earnings and the mere discount of personal expenses, as is done in the Presentation of the United States. The utilization of such a method of economic analysis -- carried out by two professionals that, as set forth in the Presentation of the United States Government, have been involved in internal cases before courts of the United States -- unjustifiably reverses the terms required by international law. In the compensation claimed for the death of Mr. Letelier, no reference is made or is any evidence given of the amounts that he would have allotted to his spouse and children, in consideration of their ages. The Presentation of the United States Government fails to give clear information regarding when Mrs. Letelier and each of their children began to work. Added to the above, is a mechanical application of criteria invoked by the claimants as valid for other collaborators of the I.P.S. regarding Mr. Letelier's income, resulting from possible books and future conferences. The short stay Mr. Letelier had in said Institute makes it unwise to reason by analogy. Mr. Letelier's personality as a Chilean politician and prominent public figure, makes it possible to set forth that the most reasonable would be comparing Mr. Letelier to those he really associated with: public men, of the highest level, from his country. For the same reason, utilization of a more exaggerated projection, on the basis of estimating his income as an international banker, lacks all grounds, as analyzed in Chapter III.

The calculation of material loss inflicted upon Michael Moffitt by the death of Ronni Moffitt is, as previously set forth, unjustified. Indeed, in the Presentation of the Government of the United States, the value of all Mrs. Moffitt's life is calculated and, with a deduction, for personal expenses, presuming two children, the claimants arbitrarily proceed to transfer to Mr. Moffitt's benefit, the monetary loss that the victim hypothetically would have earned during her whole life. The Presentation of the United States Government does not include any evidence of the existence of Mr. Moffitt's financial dependence with respect to his wife's income. The Presentation of the United States does not indicate the dates when Mr. Moffitt remarried and when his children were born. Keeping in mind the criteria established by international law for fixing the proper amount of compensation, the Chilean Government deems that the information omitted is essential for making a prudent estimation of damages, provided, it is further proven that Mr. Moffitt depended financially on his wife. The Chilean Government also points out that Ronni Moffitt's parents did not receive any type of financial assistance from her, therefore they fortunately did not suffer any type of material loss.

iii. Injuries inflicted upon survivors. Applicable principles.

In the case of injuries inflicted upon survivors, in general, the courts of arbitration have indicated that the damages to be considered in establishing the amount due for indemnification includes: physical injuries, economic loss as a result of convalescence, decrease in future work capacity. (31)

iv. Injuries inflicted upon survivors in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The United States Government has not set forth any petition based on the material damage that could have been caused to Michael Moffitt for the bodily injuries he received. This shows that fortunately Mr. Moffitt did not suffer any direct economic loss. Neither has Mr. Moffitt experienced a decrease in his work capacity.

(b) Damages to Health, Psychological and Mental.

i. Applicable principles.

Psychological and mental health damages are those of an organic or pathological nature, provoked by suffering or shock caused by the wrongful act. These damages include physical suffering of the survivor with organic consequences, as well as harmful psychological consequences in the surviving victims and in the immediate family members, originating directly from the illicit act that generates the responsibility. (32)

On account of psychological and mental damages, medical and travel expenses made for these purposes, are compensated. All expenses must be duly supported by trustworthy documentation. (33)

ii. The psychological and mental damages in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The Chilean Government, in accordance with the applicable standards of international law, does not dispute the validity of medical and travel expenses made to receive said attention. The Chilean Government, points out, however, that expenses in the preparation of the Presentation of the United States Government are included in medical expenses, and that such expenses should therefore be paid by said Government. The Chilean Government also points out that the medical expenses are not duly verified. Also, it should be born in mind that the Judgement of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia did not grant damages for this purpose to Michael Moffitt, since "...the file does not have any specific information, except for vague references, regarding psychiatric therapy. As a result, the expenses he incurred and expects to incur in the future, if they do take place, are merely speculative."(34)

(c) Moral Damages.

i. Applicable principles.

Moral damages are those which are effectively produced as a consequence of attacks to the victim's honor or reputation or as a result of the suffering caused to the survivor or to a close relative. The moral damages must be real and direct, and not merely sentimental or vague.(35)

The existence of moral damage should be irrefutably proven and also be directly related to the illicit act. If the causal relation is remote or is due to factors external to the wrongful act, it is not possible to argue the need for indemnification. (36) In evaluating the existence of moral damages, all relevant factors must be taken into account, among others, the real impact that the act generating the damage has had, the existence of permanent damages, alteration in the lives of those claiming the existence of damage and the existence of legitimate declarations or rulings of acknowledgement. The Inter-American Court of Human Rights in the Velásquez Rodríguez Case (page 13, paragraph 36) ruled that: "...the Court understands, in merit, that the Judgement of the July 29, 1988 constitutes in itself a form of redress and moral satisfaction of significance and importance to the relatives...." (See also Chapter I of the Observations of the Chilean Government).

The moral damage has a compensatory character, therefore this kind of damages should not be a disguised way of achieving the imposition of punitive damages, unauthorized by international law. (37)

The report of Dr. Armando Roa, Professor of the University of Chile, analyzes the insufficiency of Dr. Kaufman's psychiatric report. (See Exhibit N° XI.)

ii. The moral damages in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The Government of Chile does not deny the admissibility of claims for moral damages which meet the requirements of international law. The Presentation of the Government of the United States, does not give complete information which would permit a reasonable way of evaluating the magnitude of the moral compensation, according to the applicable rules of said law. The amounts that are expected to be achieved are also arbitrary.

Regarding Mr. Letelier's four children, the same amount is requested for each of them. Taking into account the ages, activities and different life styles of the children, the arbitrariness of the amount requested is manifest. The amount claimed, for each of his children, is not based on the real moral damages caused by the death of their father. The Presentation of the Government of the United States does not state that any of them have been placed under any psychiatric treatment and limits itself to including a psychiatric report, made without examining Mr. Letelier's children. In the case of the disappearance of Saul Godinez Cruz, determined by the Inter-American Court of Human Rights and cited by the Government of the United States (see page 73, note 70 of the Presentation of the United States), the Court fixed an amount for moral damages on the basis of the testimony of a psychiatrist who personally examined, and on numerous occasions, the victim's relatives. The Government of Honduras had ample opportunity to cross-examine the psychiatric expert, which effectively took place. The nature of the proceeding before the Commission requires that it receives founded and reasonable written evidence, which must not be limited to declarations of those affected without a direct examination by competent professionals. The Government of Chile also represents that, what concerns the psychiatric situation of the affected persons is also extended to their social and work situation. The Presentation of the United States also fails to deliver information about the current status of the Letelier-Morel family, among whom includes a respectable congressman of the National Congress of Chile. For the Chilean Government, the important political position attained by Juan Pablo Letelier in representation of one of the political parties that forms the current coalition that governs the Republic, cannot be claimed to be an expression of moral damages that he has been inflicted. The Government of the United States has abstained from furnishing concrete evidence regarding the situation of the other family members. It does not furnish proof regarding the indignity suffered in the withdrawal of job offers, nor does they it information as well about the substantial international solidarity the family received. In Isabel Letelier's case, certain information that permits the fixing of a reasonable moral compensation and which is of public knowledge, is not given. This includes the international solidarity and the public acknowledgement on behalf of the Chilean people and Government to Isabel Letelier, including the support of the President of the Republic in declarations made before and after assuming his distinguished position. The United States has also abstained from giving information regarding Isabel Letelier's work situation, including a description of her duties. The Chilean Government also points out that it is relevant to consider that the democratic Chilean Government has unceasingly continued its search in resolving Orlando Letelier's murder and this is known and appreciated by all family members involved.

The Presentation of the United States Government does not fully justify the amounts requested by reason of Murray Karpen and Hilda Karpen's moral damages. In the first instance, they do not give information regarding the impact of the assumed loss of memory and other consequences affecting the work and social condition of Mr. Karpen. The evolution of Mrs. Karpen's ulcers cannot, with any certainty, be traced to a single act.

Regarding the moral damages claimed by Mr. Moffitt, the Chilean Government sustains that it is important to consider that Mr. Moffitt got married again and had children. The Chilean Government also sustains that it is important to consider, in determining the moral damages demanded for Mr. Moffitt's bodily injuries, that this damage fortunately did not cause a decrease in his capacity to earn a living, progress in society and reconstruct his family life.

III. Illegality of Punitive Damages.

(a) Juridical Background.

International courts have not been willing to order payment for vindictive or punitive damages. These damages imply the determination of indemnifications for vindictive or dissuasive purposes in the case of particularly repudiated illicit acts. The umpire, Mr. Parker, in the Lusitania Case indicated that "...The fundamental concept of 'damages' is satisfaction, reparation for the loss suffered; a judicially ascertained compensation for wrong... The superimposing of a penalty in addition to full compensation and naming it damages, with the qualifying word exemplary, vindictive or punitive, is a hopeless confusion of terms..." (38) The Inter-American Court of Human Rights, gathering legal principles of international law in connection with indemnification, indicated that in its present state international law does not recognize what are known as "punitive damages". The Court indicated in its Judgement of July 21, 1989 (Compensatory Indemnification Velázquez Rodríguez Case) that:

> Counsel also request payment by the Government for punitive damages, as part of the indemnification, for dealing in the case of extremely grave Human Rights Violations.
> The expression "adequate compensation" utilized in Article 63.1 of the Convention, referring to a part of the redress and directed to the "injured party", is compensatory and non-penalizing. Even though some internal courts, particularly the Anglo-American courts, fix indemnifications whose values have vindictive and dissuasive purposes, this principle is not applicable in the current state of international law. (Emphasis added).
> For all of the preceding, the Court considers, therefore, that the adequate compensation, which the judgement on the merits of July 29, 1988, qualified as "compensatory" includes reparation to the victim's family members for the material and moral damages they suffered due to the forced disappearance of Manfredo Velásquez (pages 23-24)."

The Court's opinion reflects the universal doctrine. (39)

(b) Punitive damages in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The Presentation of the Government of the United States, considered in its context, in fact seeks to achieve that punitive and vindictive damages are ordered against the Government of Chile.

Such a pretension violates international law and the arbitration agreement agreed to by both Governments. See, inter alia, in the Presentation of the United States: page 5, "The amount of the award must reflect the egregious circumstances accompanying this act of terrorism."; page 44, "The amount and circumstances in which awards for "mental suffering" or "moral damage" have been made, have varied widely based on the particular facts of the case and the egregiousness of the manner of injury."; page 45, "All the attendant circumstances are taken into account, including aggravating factors which serve to increase the compensation."; page 75, "The family members' psychological injury was compounded by the particular circumstances surrounding the assassination, circumstances which had almost as strong an adverse impact as the deaths themselves."; page 72, "This case appears to be extreme also in the extent of suffering the intentional and malicious nature of the act has caused." The Government of the United States seeks only here to distinguish this last phrase from a claim for punitive damages, indicating in its note number 69 that the classification that is made of the act is meant to evaluate the damage caused to the families and not meant to be a punishment.)

UNCLASSIFIED

The Presentation of the United States does not mention the concrete actions taken by the Chilean Government destined to establish respective criminal liabilities, nor those destined to give satisfaction to the victims (see Chapter I above).

IV. Damage and Causal Relation.

(a) Applicable Principles.

The concept of compensable damage is of a legal nature, inasmuch as an act and its effects have juridical consequences only if the law thus specifies. (40) Indeed, the notion of "compensable damage" is a concept of a technical-juridical nature that does not necessarily correspond to what is understood as such in common language. According to the standards of interpretation accepted under international law, words should be interpreted in accordance with their ordinary sense or meaning, unless they have been defined in a technical sense. (41)

To specify the concept of compensable damages under international law, firstly, the terms direct and indirect damages must be distinguished.

Direct damage, that which has a direct relationship with the damage caused (42), is of two kinds:

- Damage that is, in its totality, attributable to a sole generating act (simple causal relation) and
- Damage, although not exclusively caused by the individual responsible for the illicit act, since other causal factors intervene in addition to the illicit act, causes damage that is directly derived, without any doubt or external disturbance, from the generating illicit act, (simple causal relation in the second degree). (43)

UNCLASSIFIED

The previous classification has fundamental importance for the present case, since it influences the amount of compensation to be paid, whether dealing with actual damage or loss of profits. It is generally accepted that actual damage is also indemnified, as in the case of simple causal relation in the first or second degree. The loss of profits, on the other hand, is indemnified only in the case of causal relation in the first degree. (44) Based on the aforementioned, income expectations that depend on nominations involving the intervention of other persons, are not reimbursable.

Indirect damages (unforeseeable, personal or non-compensatory) are those in which the causal relation with the illicit act is remote and doubtful. This type of damages are not compensable. (45)

In brief, compensation for damage is the result of its causal proximity originated by the illicit act. If the causal relation is remote, there is no right to indemnification. If the damage caused is the result of the illicit act, plus other intervening factors, (simple causal relation in the second degree), only the actual damage is compensated for and not the loss of profits. For that reason it is not compensable, nor can it be taken into account for fixing the proper amount of indemnification, what an individual could have earned if he had changed jobs and had the illicit act not intervened. Regarding simple causal relation in the first degree, the direct damage as well as the loss of profits is compensated.

(b) Damages and Causal Relation in the Presentation of the Government of the United States.

The Presentation of the United States Government includes indemnification for non-compensatory damages. This Presentation seeks to ignore the nature of the juridical technical concept of the notion of compensatory damage, by including expenses in the preparation of the Presentation and legal fees. To the aforementioned it is added as legal expenses; steps constituting lobbying activities in the United States (travel, meetings and conferences) directed at changing the legal standards of that country and particularly its Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act. The necessary condition of simple causal relation between the act and the damage is also violated, including, in the calculations, Mr. Letelier's probable income, resulting books and future conferences. In an even more notable manner, this occurs with the hypothesis that Orlando Letelier would work as a banker in the future. The Government of Chile suggests that the natural course of Mr. Letelier's working life, as a prominent Chilean public figure and politician, is equivalent to the highest degree of public service to his country.

Neither does the indemnification requested on Mr. Moffitt's behalf for the death of his wife, satisfy the notions of compensatory damage, since the claimants do not provide information regarding the real financial support that she would have contributed to Mr. Moffitt. As was previously noted, there is no presentation of concrete information regarding the dates of remarriage and births of Mr. Moffitt's children.

Nor does the Presentation by the United States provide concrete information that would permit a prudent evaluation of the moral damage on the basis of demonstrating connexions of current causal relation.

V. Burden of Proof and Criteria for Weighting the Evidence.

(a) Applicable Principles.

According to international law, the burden of proof rests upon the person claiming the illicit act and its consequences. (46) Regarding evidence, international law is inspired by the principles of law accepted by civilized nations, which may be applied at an international level. International tribunals have accepted that there are occasions when the required evidence, does not have to be the highest level required by municipal legal systems. Therefore, for example, the Inter-American Court of Human Rights has indicated that, for an international tribunal, the criteria for weighting the evidence is less formal than in the municipal legal systems. In order to establish a criteria for weighting the evidence, the international order admits different classifications according to the nature, character and seriousness of the lawsuit. (47) According to the Court: "The practice of international and national tribunals demonstrates that direct evidence, whether testimonial or documentary, is not the only legitimate consideration on which the sentence is based. Circumstantial evidence, indications and presumptions, can always be used when consistent conclusions regarding the acts can be deduced from them." (48)

In the same ruling, the Inter-American Court added that to justify the admissibility of the indicial or circumstantial evidence, that: "Unlike internal criminal law, in trials regarding human rights violations, the State's defense cannot rest upon the claimant's impossibility to put forward evidence which, in many cases, is unobtainable without the State's cooperation. It is the State who has control over the means for revealing events occurring within its territory. The Inter-American Commission, even though it has the authority to carry out investigations, in reality, in order to carry them out within the jurisdiction of the State, depends upon the cooperation and the means provided by the government." (49)

A contrario sensu, if evidence of the damages inflicted is accessible to the government claiming it, inter alia (these having taken place within its territory) the application of a strict criteria of evidence should be expected, excluding simple presumptions and circumstances.

In applying the above mentioned principle, many charges have been rejected due to the lack of sufficient evidence. In the C. H. White versus Russia Case, Arbitrator Asser rejected the petitions formulated, indicating that "the interested parties' declarations could not, on their own, be accepted as sufficient evidence." (50) Arbitrator Thornton as well, "refused to decide in favor of the petitioners when their only evidence of complaint were their own declarations." (51)

In numerous occasions the arbitral commissions have concluded that a legal presumption exists against a petitioner who does not present evidence which he is able to present, since it is in his possession. (52)

(b) Evidence in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The Presentation of the United States includes insufficient evidence, even though it refers to acts and documents that the Government of that country should have in its possession. It is reasonable to suppose that the Government of the United States has in its possession the tax declarations of all those who claim material damages. Numerous psychiatric expenses are charged even though they are old and not presented in the internal proceedings (were these entered as a loss?). A large number of trips or negotiations are presented on the basis of declarations made by the involved parties. Almost all of them are neither related to nor justify the damage caused and refer to activities of lobbying groups or of others, that are not proven as compensable damages. In order to prove the existence of moral damage to Orlando Letelier's children, the Presentation is based exclusively upon sworn declarations of the affected parties and the report of a psychiatrist who examined one member of the family. The existence of a causal relation between the moral damages alleged for the parents of Ronni Moffitt is remote and no background information is given regarding the work and social condition of the parents. No information is given which permits a reasonable evaluation of the moral damage inflicted upon Michael Moffitt, including his second marriage and the constitution of his family. Nor is evidence provided concerning the relation of economic dependence between Orlando Letelier and Isabel Letelier and each of their children. In the same manner, proof of the relation of economic dependence between Michael and Ronni Moffitt is not presented. All the above is particularly relevant because it relates to a written proceeding, in which the experts were chosen by the Government of the United States or the family members.

VI. Special Matters.

(a) Expenses involved in the Presentation of Claims and Legal Fees.

i. Preparation of the Claims.

The preparation and presentation expenses of claims, in silence of an arbitration compromis are borne by the party which incurs them.

Under international law there is no obligation binding one party to pay for the preparation and presentation expenses of the petitions that are made by the other party, including legal fees for motions before the tribunal or the pertinent international commission. As Whiteman explains: "It may be stated that there appears to be no duty to compensate the respondent government for the expenses incurred in the settlement of the claim. Usually the expenses of arbitration are borne equally by the two governments. And frequently the claimant government's expenses are deducted from the total amount of the awards before payment of the individual claims is made." (53)

The Mixed Claims Commission between the United States and Germany never accepted to order payment for reasons of legal and other expenses needed for the preparation and presentation of the claims. (54)

The practice before the Claims Tribunal between Iran and the United States, cited frequently in the Presentation, confirms that express authorization is required for determining the above mentioned expenses. Indeed, Article III, 2nd paragraph of the Claims Settlement Declaration prescribes that the Tribunal members will be designated and the Tribunal will conduct its business in accordance with the rules of the United Nations Commission for International Trade Arbitration Law (UNCITRAL), except when these rules are modified by the parties or by the Tribunal to assure the performance of the Arbitration Agreement. (55)

The UNCITRAL rules, confirming the need for express provisions authorizing the Tribunal to rule on expenses, are particularly referred to in its Articles 38, 39 and 40, specifically to the proceeding expenses before the Tribunal and the way in which they will be settled by the parties.

Pursuant Article 38, modified by the Tribunal, the Claims Tribunal has jurisdiction to rule about arbitration costs. The term "costs" only includes: a) the cost of experts and other special assistance required by the Court of Arbitration in a particular case; b) trips and other expenses of witnesses, as long as these expenses are approved by the Claims Tribunal; c) costs of legal representation and assistance to the successful party, if these costs were claimed during the proceedings before the Claims Tribunal and only as long as the Claims Tribunal considers them to be reasonable. (56)

Article 39 of the UNCITRAL rules and regulations establishes criteria used by the Tribunal in deciding expenses, indicating that these should be reasonable, taking into account the amount of the dispute, the complexity of the issue, the time dedicated to the case by the arbiters and any other relevant circumstance. (Ibid.)

Article 40 of these same regulations establishes, in general, the principle that the arbitration costs will be paid by the defeated party in the proceedings, even though the Tribunal can decide upon this considering the circumstances of the case. (Ibid.) This UNCITRAL rule follows, in general, the commonly accepted legal principle, that the defeated party must pay the expenses of the trial. This principle is not applicable in situations that cannot be conceived in terms of a successful and a defeated party.

The proceedings before the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, are irrelevant in the current case for establishing the legal basis of the expenses paid in the preparation of the claims. In the case of the American Convention on Human Rights, the proceedings follow the norms of due process. The parties have ample opportunity to question, verbally or in writing, the evidence presented. The Court has the authority to name experts or skilled experts. The proceeding concludes with a successful and a defeated party. Moreover, the jurisprudence of the Court, in the sense of admitting expenses, is based on an express text, an international treaty, which should, therefore, be ratified so that its obligations are legally binding on the parties. Neither is the mere ratification of the American Convention enough for the Court to have adversary jurisdiction. An express declaration is also required accepting such authority on behalf of a State. (57) It is also important to indicate that in the proceedings before the Inter-American Commission of Human Rights, each party pays his own expenses.

ii. Preparatory expenses in the Presentation of the Government of the United States.

The Presentation of the United States includes preparatory expenses, in violation of the Compromis and the relevant rules of international law.

iii. Legal expenses prior to the proceeding, before arbitration and international courts.

These expenses can be distinguished from those previously described, since they refer to the feasibility of presenting as costs, the legal and other expenses incurred in the proceedings within the municipal legal order of one of the States that is a party in a dispute. When these expenses are claimed as preparatory costs of the presentation, the claims are unjustified for the reasons indicated above.

Insofar as they are not related to the preparation of the parties's claims they are not compensable, unless the parties have given their express consent in the respective arbitration compromis. In this sense, it is important to note that the Claims Tribunal between Iran and the United States, to which reference has been previously made, even though it is expressly endowed with the authority to decide on expenses made in the proceedings before the Tribunal itself, has not accepted to order payment resulting from legal expenses made in other proceedings than those that have taken place before the same Tribunal.

The Claims Tribunal between Iran and the United States, ruling in the Computer Siemens Corp. vs. The Islamic Republic of Iran Case [1986] rejected the American claim to demand compensation for the legal expenses incurred during the course of the litigation before their national courts, made prior to the establishment of the "The Hague" Tribunal. The court determined that "the costs incurred by the claimant in the lawsuit in the United States were not included in Article 38 of the Tribunal's regulations."

Confirming the aforementioned, the Claims Tribunal in the Iran vs. the United States Case, sentenced, in a series of cases (58) that "only expenses produced by the proceedings of this Tribunal are compensable. Only some of the costs requested by the claimant satisfy this requirement. Also, the costs claimed include a number of items which constitute damages rather than costs. Moreover, the charge for the latter will in no way be compensable, when violating the terms of the contract." In the case of the inter-American system the proceedings in force are the result of the existence of express norms and, as was stated previously, payment has not been demanded for legal expenses, incurred under the municipal legal order of the States by the Inter-American Commission of Human Rights. (See below.)

To this should be added that the concept of costs is a technical concept different from that of compensation for bodily injuries or compensation for the loss of life. This deals with different legal notions. Therefore, it is unjustified to claim legal expenses, not permitted in the compromis, by way of including them as damages. (59)

The Rainbow Warrior Case (60) confirmed the need for express consent for demanding payment of legal expenses prior to proceedings before international tribunals. Firstly, the United Nations Secretary General decided the case ex aequo et bono, and not on the basis of international law. Secondly, the matter was resolved by awarding a lump sum, to satisfy the parties claims.

iv. Legal fees prior to the arbitration proceedings included in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The Presentation of the Government of the United States unjustifiably includes these expenses, since they can not be claimed as damages. In the same manner, the Presentation of the United States does not prove the causal relation between these expenses, the illicit act and the proceedings before the Commission. The Presentation includes numerous expenses of an undetermined nature and others resulting from typical lobbying activities to amend United States legislation. It should be taken into account that, in accordance with the United States legal order, it is impossible to order the payment of costs against a State in cases like the one initiated in that country against the State of Chile. For this reason, the verdict of the U.S. Court for the District of Columbia did not order such payment.

Therefore, those who initiated legal proceedings against the Chilean State in the United States, should have known that they could not recover legal expenses, even if they won the case.

(b) Payment of Interest.

i. The payment of interest under the applicable rules of international law.

Even though there are contradictory decisions regarding the payment of interest in the case of monetary indemnifications, such as García Amador, Sohn and Baxter explain, "the most common decisions are those which do not accept interest, whether explicitly or implicitly." (61) These same authors add that though this conclusion is of general value, the greatest uniformity exists in cases of illegal arrests or physical injuries to persons. (62) In cases relating to violent death, the general rule has also been to not pay interest. (63) To the above mentioned rule, it should be added that with reference to ex gratia payments, precedents exist where no interest is paid. In the Pinzón Case, the President of the Franco-Mexican Commission pointed out that when Mexico's responsibility was based on an ex gratia pledge, payment of interest should not be ordered. The General Claims Commission between the United States and Mexico paid interest only in the case of breach of contract. Even though there are certain exceptional decisions in which interest has been awarded, as in the Wimbledon Case, it has been calculated as of the date of the court decision, and not from the date when the damages occurred, thus the rejection of interest has been the general norm. (64)

This reasoning was confirmed in the Lusitania Cases, in which it was decided, that: "There is no basis for giving an indemnification in interest when the damage is not settled nor is the amount possible to determine by mere computation.... Belonging to this class are claims for damages based on bodily injuries, death...." (65)

The jurisprudence of the Claims Tribunal between Iran and the United States, though it only decided upon disputes not having to do with bodily injuries or death, confirms the interpretation that the most acceptable doctrine is that no interest is paid in non-commercial matters. (66)

Bouchard confirms this conclusion in cases of diplomatic claims made by States relating to bodily injuries or death. (67)

ii. The payment of interest in the Presentation of the United States Government.

The Presentation of the United States Government includes claims for interest in the case of damages for loss of life and bodily injuries, whereas, in the absence of an express agreement, this is not accepted under international law. Moreover, the Government of Chile suggests that the nature of the compromis and the combination of applicable circumstances in the case of an ex gratia payment do not permit the payment of interest.

(c) Diplomatic Protection offered by the Government of the United States to the Family of Orlando Letelier.

Traditional rules of international law do not permit the exercise of diplomatic protection without the existence of a constant nationality bond between an individual and the State that protects him. (68)

It is an established rule in international law that, "a State may not file a complaint in the name of a person who does not have its nationality. (69)

The opinion of the most competent publicists categorically supports this principle: "As concerns the presentation and execution of international claims, no other rule is more strictly observed."(70)

In cases of dual citizenship, as is already reinforced by international law, a State can fail to provide diplomatic protection given by a foreign State to their native citizens, even when such citizens have dual nationality. Indeed, Article 4 of the Hague Convention of 1930 states: "a State cannot offer diplomatic protection to one of his native citizens against a State whose nationality that person also has." Said principle is also supported by the opinion of the major publicists (71) as well as by international decisions. (72)

It is only possible to exercise diplomatic protection by the State with which this individual whose rights have been violated, has an effective nationality bond. (73)

These principles cannot be ignored in the solution of an affair before the Commission. Its relevance is particularly noted because one of the victims was a Chilean public figure, who saw and foresaw his destiny bound to that of his native land. The natural course of a personality like Orlando Letelier was, had he not been assassinated, to return to the service of his country.

In the current situation submitted to the Commission, it is essential to consider, as well, that Isabel Morel and all of her children are Chileans. It is of public knowledge that Isabel Morel is now living in Chile and that one of her sons is a member of National Congress. The Chilean State is currently discussing indemnifications for suffering that occurred in the past, in the spirit of achieving national reconciliation. The payment of compensation to Chilean citizens, totally disproportionate with the amounts that will be granted to other Chileans, is an element of unreasonable discrimination. This is of particular interest considering the personal history of Orlando Letelier and his patriotic conceptions which made him see his country as the center of his work.

In conclusion, the Commission must consider the particular circumstances of the Chilean acceptance of diplomatic protection offered by the United States to the Family of Orlando Letelier. Under other circumstances this protection would be unacceptable, by virtue of the close relationship between the affected party and the petitioners, also considering, the initiation of legislation in Chile for compensation to the family members of victims of political violence.

VII. Circumstances to be taken into account in order to determine the compensation to be paid.

The aforementioned factors, to be considered in determining the extension of the compensation do not exclude others that may be taken into account to evaluate in a prudent manner the damages and which are part of the context in which the affected parties are involved. (71) The identification of an act as malicious for the purpose of creating an aggravation, is not, however, pertinent, since it implies evaluating motives and, further, punitive damages are not allowed. On the other hand, the Government of Chile considers that the agreement requires taking into account the valid circumstances which are enumerated as follows, given that reference is made to the amount of the ex gratia compensation to be paid (See Chapter I).

(a) The attitude of the Chilean Government of giving satisfaction to the families that have suffered, by way of actions and declarations at the highest level of the Chilean State (See Chapter I). To the forementioned is added the revival of criminal actions, as a consequence of the steps taken by the Government of President Aylwin, directed at establishing the respective criminal responsibilities. These measures cannot be ignored, according to international law, for the purpose of deciding whether means of satisfaction have been presented which should be taken into account. (See García Amador, Sohn and Baxter op. cit. 108)

(b) The Government's willingness to make an ex gratia payment. The States, including the United States, have accepted the legal basis of these payments, which are those made, as explained by the Legal Adviser of the Department of State of the United States, "...without acknowledging, and irrespective of legal liability." (75) Referring to a situation where the United States did not accept legal responsibility, said Legal Adviser indicated that the United States "...is not paying 'reparations', a word which implies wrongdoing...Instead, the President has decided to make an ex gratia payment as a humanitarian gesture to the families...." (76) Examples of utilization of ex gratia payments by the United States include payment to Switzerland, after the Second World War, as compensation for the bombarding of Schaffhausen, the payment to Japan for injuries and damages caused to a Japanese fishing-boat and its crew, as a consequence of radiation caused by nuclear testing in the Pacific, the payment of 1.6 million dollars to individuals who suffered personal or material damage during the invasion of Grenada. (77)

In regard to the downing of Flight 655 of Iran Air on July 3, 1988 by U.S.S. Vincennes, the United States offered to make an ex gratia payment in benefit of the victims. In the case of the nationals of India, Italy, Pakistan, Yugoslavia and the United Arab Emirates, who died in the flight, the United States offered to pay $ 250,000 dollars for victims that were full-time workers and $ 100,000 dollars for the others. (78) An official of the Department of State indicated that the United States was offering less than the amount requested by the victims in the Stark Case because there was no similarity between both incidents. (79) Involving Iranian victims on the flight, no agreement has been reached. Iran has not collaborated with the United States in its efforts to obtain information about victims of their nationality, and has brought a case against the United States before the International Court of Justice at The Hague requesting, inter alia, that the Court declare that the United States is responsible to pay compensation "...in the measure of the damages suffered by Iran Air and the affected families..." (80)

The importance of ex gratia payments is based upon the fact that they can assist the victims in circumstances where it is impossible to investigate the facts or the acknowledgement of the existence of a violation of an international obligation is unacceptable. (81)

In the above mentioned frame of reference, the level of compensation to be paid is, in accordance with that expressed by Legal Adviser of the Department of State of the United States in 1988, a matter "... essentially within the discretion of the State offering such payments." (82)

Even though a State may accept, in the terms of a compromis, to submit to a Commission the fixing of compensation, it is relevant to consider the ex gratia nature of a payment. Given that the compromis refers to international law and authorizes the taking into account of all the relevant circumstances, the inexistence of international responsibility is a part of the combination of factors to be considered. The practice of ex gratia compensations, which is often reflected in the granting of lump sums, is in accordance with this interpretation. In standardizing these norms, professor Harold G. Maeier stated that "an attempt to calculate the value of each individual life would be not only administratively unfeasible, but politically intolerable. The normal method of computing damages for the wrongful death in the United States and in many other countries, is to determine the monetary value of the life of each person to his or her survivors. This 'value' is determined on the basis of the deceased's, earning capacity, and the standard of living where he or she lives...The political difficulties created by attempting to compute compensations on an individual basis would be even greater than the mechanical ones. The standard of living, life expectancy and earning capacity vary greatly with the nationality and domicile of each of these victims. Determining the amount of each award in the traditional way would necessarily result in an implicit finding that some nationalities were 'worth more' than others." (83)

CHAPTER III.

ANALYSIS OF THE PRESENTATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

I. Introduction.

As has been pointed out in Chapter I of this presentation, if the Commission were a Court of Justice deciding a lawsuit between parties, whether between States, or between individuals and a State, consideration should be given to the damage suffered by the victims, which must be compensated for by the responsible party. In such a hypothetical lawsuit, the parties would have all the guarantees of due process.

In the matter which constitutes the Commission's purpose, in accordance with the Agreement subscribed with the Government of the United States of America, the State of Chile does not admit negligence or malice, for which reason it is not admissible to demand compensation in the manner set forth in the Presentation filed with the Commission.

In fact, the Presentation of the Government of the United States of America is filed on the basis of an indemnification claim for damages, which is not the Commission's purpose, in such a way that the facts and basis of Chapter IV of said Presentation are absolutely erroneous, and all theoretical and practical structures of said Chapter do not agree with the purpose nor the meaning of the Agreement subscribed to by both Governments.

It is a principle of law that in order to establish the amount of a compensation, one must not take the responsible party into consideration, but rather the victim, inasmuch as it is not a question of guilt, but rather of damage and those suffered by the victim.

The Commission, having been converted into to a Court of Justice by the Government of the United States of America, is being dragged into penalizing the State of Chile by transforming the indemnification for damages into a punishment. Furthermore, it should be added, that by nature, the procedure agreed upon in the Agreement does not admit such a focus, since "inter alia" implies a written procedure, the experts are chosen and paid by the parties and the witnesses cannot be cross-examined. By virtue of the beforementioned, the Presentation, together with its petitions, should have satisfied the highest assessment requisites of the submitted evidence.

In order to determine the compensation claimed by the Government of the United States of America for each of its protected claimants, the Commission should ascertain the damage actually suffered by each one of them, and not the abstract damage that any person might have experienced. The evaluation of the damage must be specifically made; the damage is appraised through the victim, since it is he who has right to the complete compensation for the damage suffered. In any case, the Commission must consider the significant circumstances mentioned in paragraph VI, Chapter II, of these Observations. The Presentation does not satisfy the requisites of: (a) considering the current and effective damage suffered by the victims; (b) the weight of the evidence and assessment criteria of the same; (c) considering the set of valuable circumstances in order to demand a just compensation.

The Presentation is analyzed in detail as follows:

II. Damages and the amount of compensation claimed in favor of Mr. Michael Moffitt.

A. "Damnum Emergens" and "Lucrum Cessans".

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The Presentation filed by the Government of the United States of America, in Mr. Moffitt's case, states that the actual damages ("Damnum Emergens") and loss of profits ("Lucrum Cessans") consists of:

i. Medical, travel and other expenses, which were incurred by the families in relation to the pursuit of justice. (It is specified that Michael Moffitt paid medical, travel, and various direct expenses for a total of US$ 18,207.48.)

ii. Direct expenses disbursed by several lawyers (specifying that the Letelier, Karpen, and Moffitt families would together be creditors to US$ 48,367.70).

iii. The loss of profits ("Lucrum Cessans") amounts to US$ 2,065,345.00.

In this paragraph the titles indicated by the letters (a) and (c) will be analyzed, inasmuch as the "direct expenses disbursed by various lawyers" (b), will be analyzed in Chapter V.

B. Actual damages ("Damnum Emergens") corresponding to medical, travel, and various direct expenses.

The Presentation states that the expenses incurred by Mr. Moffitt are contained in a list that is attached as Annex Nº 18.

The State of Chile is demanded to pay the Government of the United States of America the sum of US$ 18,207.48 on account of:

(a)	Expenses related to travel	US$ 4,614.03
(b)	Psychiatric sessions	US$ 13,575.00
(c)	Copies and Typing	US$ 18.45

UNCLASSIFIED

T o t a l US$ 18,207.48

(a) Travel expenses and others related thereto.

(a.1.) Without any basis whatsoever in the Presentation, US$ 4,614.03 is calculated for travel expenses.

The Government of Chile rejects said claim because there is no basis for demanding the payment of such expenses, there is no evidence whatsoever supporting that they pertain to a direct detriment to Mr. Moffitt, and the expenses incurred have no direct relation to the loss suffered by the victim.

The Presentation of the Government of the United States of America is mistaken in pretending to obtain said amount, US$ 4,614.03, for Mr. Moffitt, for the reasons indicated in Exhibit Nº 18, since the travels, actions, meetings (lobbying), and telephone calls referred to in the minutes, form no part of the damages which occurred to Mr. Moffitt, but are rather due to his activity in obtaining from a State, which enjoys immunity from jurisdiction, compensation for the death of his spouse and for his own personal suffering.

It can be seen that the travels, meetings, and telephone calls with no documentary support whatsoever, except for Mr. Moffitt's own statement listed in Exhibit Nº18, attached to the presentation, would denote relation to the legal proceedings which he attempted to carry out in order to obtain his legitimate indemnification against the perpetrators of the crime committed to his spouse.

These would form part of the legal expenses.

(a.2.) The purpose of condemning the defendant to pay for the plaintiff's legal expenses is to compensate the latter for the damage caused by the proceedings, whenever the defendant has been unwilling to voluntarily fulfill the plaintiff's claim or petition.

UNCLASSIFIED

In the matter submitted for the Commission's consideration, there is no law suit, nor has the State of Chile been part of any law suit, whereby it is not admissible, nor should payment be imposed for the proportional legal expenses destined to reimburse the expenses incurred by Mr. Moffitt with regard to the different petitions filed with state agencies of the United States of America, in order to obtain the compensation he is claiming.

On the other hand, the amount of the expenses he claims, have neither been necessary nor beneficial, for the Government of Chile to have consented to subscribe to the Agreement which gave rise to the Commission. Moreover, within the procedures established in the Agreement, the State of Chile cannot be accused of resisting use of legal avenues in resolving the problem that grieves Mr. Moffitt. The State of Chile has done nothing except represent to the Government of the United States, as has been stated in Chapter I, that it cannot be taken before any foreign court without its prior consent. Nor does this imply an abuse of international law, since immunity from jurisdiction emanates from, among other rules, the Code of Private International Law (Bustamante Code), subscribed to by the Government of Chile in the Sixth International American Conference, in which the Government of the United States of America was represented by 9 persons and declared that, notwithstanding its inability to approve the Bustamante Code at that time (February 20, 1928), it maintained the firm idea of not withdrawing itself from Latin America, reserving its vote with the hope of being able to adhere to part of, or to a considerable portion, of its stipulations.

As such, the Government of the United States knows, or should know, that in said convention, the valid legal standard within Inter-American International Law stipulated that a State, through its judges and courts, has no jurisdiction to decide a civil suit for indemnification of damages (Art. 333) against another State.

In this way, the travel and other related expenses are claimed as direct damages, since they cannot be claimed as legal expenses, because they do not meet the two basic requirements to be considered as such, namely: (a) to be indispensable or useful; and (b) evidence proving the responsibility of the defendant in forcing the plaintiff to overcome his resistance to abide by the law.

It is insisted, that the submission of the existing dispute between the Governments of the United States of America and of Chile, to the decision of the commission is not due to a culpable or malicious resistance by the latter Government. Said culpable resistance would occur if the Government of Chile refuses to pay the sum that the Commission might determine as compensation.

(a.3.) Carrying out a detailed analysis of expenses, the reason for making these trips is unknown; that is, from what location to Washington D.C., what were the means of transport (planes, buses, trains), etc.

-- Nor is it stated the reasons or purpose for making such trips. Such is the case of the trip that apparently was made from Washington D.C. to New York in December of 1981, which indicates: "Meeting about: Central Bank of Chile."

It is obvious and clear that the Central Bank of Chile has nothing, nor had anything to do with the payment of an indemnification for damages to the families represented by the Government of the United States of America.

It is not stated with which Bank representatives the meeting was held, not to mention the matters discussed, in order to learn something about the trip's benefits.

-- The same thing occurs with 12 trips intended for "Lobbying". The State of Chile is required to pay US$ 1,068.00 for lobbying matters, but without knowing their benefits so that the current democratically elected Government of Chile, would subscribe to the agreement that brought the Commission into existence and which must determine the amount of ex-gratia compensation.

There is no doubt that the benefit obtained from those trips is irrelevant, since the Agreement between both Governments was negotiated in 1990, scarcely 4 months after the establishment of the present Government, presided by Mr. Patricio Aylwin A.. This implies that all lobbying subsequent to June 1990 has no relevance whatsoever, since the agreement had already been adopted between the Governments and it only depended on them to put it into practice, without requiring any lobbying on the part of Mr. Moffitt. The uselessness of the lobbying prior to 1990 is clear and explicit in the diplomatic notes exchanged between both Governments and which are attached as Exhibit N°2, already analyzed in Chapter I.

-- Also, payment is demanded for a trip made in relation to a press conference. It is not stated where he is travelling from, what the press conference is about, what benefit said conference has for the Commission's determination of an ex-gratia compensation, nor is it given at least some illustrative information regarding this point.

-- The State of Chile is demanded to pay expenses that Mr. Moffitt may have incurred in a number of meetings with the Department of State. There are 7 meetings in all. The Government of Chile rejects this demand for payment, since such expenses have nothing to do with the Presentation filed in accordance with the terms of the Agreement by the Government of the United States of America. Moreover, the usefulness of such meetings is not proven, and if such usefulness exists, it would also have been useful to the Government mentioned.

UNCLASSIFIED

For this reason, from every point of view, the meetings in the Department of State, carried out by Mr. Moffitt with officials who have not been identified, cannot be nor should be considered by the Commission.

-- It is demanded the payment of the cost incurred in making three trips for attending meetings in which different American politicians and congressmen hypothetically may have made reference to the matter that should be resolved by the Commission. The cost of said meetings amounts to US$ 672.24. The Government of Chile rejects such claim, since they show no relation to any valid proceedings associated with the compensation that the State of Chile has undertaken to pay the United States of America. The Commission must only confine itself to completely reject such claim, since it is not within the scope of its jurisdiction, inasmuch as these expenses cannot be qualified as a direct damage caused to Mr. Moffitt and thereby be considered in the compensation. they are D.C.

-- The Government of Chile rejects the claim of US$ 1,362 for trips to Washington D.C. for "meeting with lawyers". In fact, such expenses cannot be considered a damage caused to Mr. Moffitt by the Government of Chile, since such trips, assuming their certainty and occurrence, depended only upon Mr. Moffitt's will, who was able to make them at his sole discretion, without their having any relation whatsoever with the decision that the Commission must adopt.

In the opinion of the Government of Chile, it is absolutely inappropriate that the United States Government claim as direct damage, resulting from the assassination of Mrs. Ronni Moffitt or of injuries suffered by Mr. Michael Moffitt himself, expenses which lack association to said direct damage suffered by those for whom the claim is made. Such is the case of, among others, those incurred in the meetings held with unidentified lawyers, and even when they might have some connection, have no relation to the compensation that the Commission must determine.

It is important to point out that in diplomatic note N°082, attached as Annex II, the Government of the United States of America stated that it would not claim any of its own expenses. The expenses now claimed contradict said undertaking which was taken into consideration in order to subscribe to the Agreement.

The meetings with lawyers, or the meetings which Mr. Moffitt held in the Department of State, would imply a charge for the negotiations taken place for undetermined purposes, completely unrelated to the demanded compensation for damages.

For the same reasons pointed out previously, the Government of Chile rejects the meetings with the representatives of "Human Rights Watch", the preparation of a Memorial, and the telephone calls, whose recipients are unknown.

(b) Psychiatrists' Fees and others related thereto.

The Presentation filed by the United States Government demands that the Government of the Republic of Chile pay Mr. Moffitt the sum of US$ 13,575 for psychiatrists' fees.

According to the document attached as Exhibit N° 18, psychiatrists, Dr. Joseph Novello and Dr. Harold Kaufman, were consulted.

There is no accompanying document whatsoever related to Dr. Joseph Novello, to the office visits made to him, or the work which said physician may have carried out with respect to Mr. Moffitt. In these circumstances, it is obvious that any charge related to an act that has not been proven, nor can be analyzed, should be rejected.

Also attached are the corresponding bills paid to Dr. Kaufman, one of which corresponds to 73 office visits totalling US$ 4,745.00, and the other for 29 hours of work, apparently for the purposes of preparing the report attached as Exhibit N° 4, totalling US$ 8,700.

The State of Chile rejects the claim of the sums mentioned, since they do not correspond to the compensatory concept within the Commission's attributions, to determine the amount of said compensation.

According to the report attached as Exhibit N° 4, Dr. Kaufman diagnosed a psychiatric trauma, but without establishing the treatment that Mr. Moffitt followed.

In order to establish the actual damages ("Damnum Emergens") corresponding to expenses incurred in treatment of a psychiatric nature, the Government of Chile, as well as the Commission, should have unquestionable evidence of the facts of a medical treatment in accordance with the diagnosis made. The mere statement made by Dr. Kaufman of receiving Mr. Moffitt on 73 occasions for the purpose of analyzing, with him, his trauma, does not constitute sufficient evidence of a specific treatment for damages, which are pretended to be compensated, by a US$ 500,000 claim.

It is insisted before the Commission, that this is not a law suit of compensatory character, but rather a question between States, for the purpose of compensating the families for the crime committed on September 21, 1976. It is impossible to demand damages without proving the basis for such demand and it is impossible to expect that the Government of Chile would object the evidence presented, without having a lawsuit with all ways and means allowed for producing and challenging evidence. Therefore, the Presentation should satisfy the highest criteria of evidence assessment, which has simply not taken place..

For example, the report states that the treatment began on February 8, 1978, and continued until May 8, 1981. In other words, it lasted 3 years and 3 months, a period in which 73 office visits took place, at the rate of 2 sessions per month.

UNCLASSIFIED

Professor of Psychiatry at the University of Chile, Dr. Armando Roa, has analyzed Mr. Kaufman's report, which is attached as Annex XI, and which indicates that said report is insufficient to establish the psychiatric diagnosis mentioned in the Presentation that may be attributable to Mr. Michael Moffitt.

It is stated that Mr. Moffitt suffers from a trauma, or post-traumatic stress. However, it is known that Mr. Moffitt has married and carries on the life of a businessman in New York, as a finance specialist, a situation that contradicts the deep consequences of stress or trauma.

-- It is interesting to note the statement made by Dr. Andreasen, entailing the payment of a compensation by means of a global sum, which would rapidly solve the situation of a person affected as Mr. Moffitt is. (See analysis by Professor Dr. Armando Roa, in Annex XI).

Analyzing all these circumstances, in order to determine the psychological damage to Mr. Moffitt, it is evident that they correspond to a suit of compensatory character, a suit which is the antithesis of the procedure agreed upon by both Governments before the Commission.

-- Also, Dr. Kaufman's charge of US$ 8,700 for 29 hours of work is inadmissable considering the extreme vagueness of the charge formulated as damage.

Said charge is not a damage, since it is the requirement of a qualified expert to prepare a report for the purpose of justifying the claim of US$ 500,000 for mental anguish and psychological trauma. The Government of Chile, according to the Agreement, has no legal reason whatsoever to assume responsibility for the expense entailed by the Government of the United States of America in proving the above mentioned anguish and psychological trauma.

So much so, that Dr. Kaufman's bill for services is presented to the lawyer, Mr. Buffone, on June 18th, 1990, when the Agreement between both Governments had already been signed, thereby making it evident that this is a specific expense incurred in preparing the Presentation filed by the Government of the United States of America.

-- The Government of Chile cannot be condemned to pay the cost of work carried out by the lawyers of the Department of State in order to justify the claim of the compensatory damages contained in the Presentation, since said cost does not constitute damage to Mr. Moffitt, but rather an expense he voluntarily assumed and which his Government has not wished to bear, charging the Government of Chile US$ 500,000 for reason of mental anguish and psychological trauma. In addition, the Agreement does not state that the Government of Chile must pay the expenses of the Presentation filed by the Government of the United States of America. (See Chapter V).

(c) Photocopies and Typing.

The Government of Chile is required to pay US$ 18.45 for photocopies and typing.

Nowhere in the Presentation does it state the basis for said damage, which supposedly the State of Chile has caused Mr. Moffitt. Nor has any bill been presented indicating what has been photocopied and typed, nor who did it, nor the length or duration of the work.

Said demand for payment is merely a desire to compensate for damage occurring to Mr. Moffitt, and is unrelated to either Government's objectives.

The Commission should reject the above mentioned claim, for lack of basis and for inappropriateness.

C. ("Lucrum Cessans") Loss of Profits.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

As has been indicated, the Presentation states that Mr. Moffitt's losses total US$ 2,065,345.00 according to the calculations which have been worked out for that purpose.

Said calculations are based upon reports prepared by a consulting firm, on the basis of an hypothesis or probability.

Such calculations are exaggerated even for a compensatory damage law suit, where it is possible to contradict the presented evidence, with all guarantees to the parties which, in theory, is known as due process, which allows for the possibility of challenging and analyzing the evidence.

The Presentation of the Government of the United States of America states the following as future truthful facts:

- That Mrs. Moffitt would have remained in her profession as a fund-raiser for non-profit organizations.
- That Mrs. Moffitt would have had two children.
- That Mrs. Moffitt performed non-commercial, or domestic services of great worth (refinishing of old furniture, house painting, and gardening).
- That during her pregnancies, Mrs. Moffitt would have performed even greater non-commercial jobs of value.
- That Mrs. Moffitt would have received supplementary benefits as a fund-raiser.

It is evident that the hypothetical presumptions of Mrs. Moffitt's life can be questioned at length. Some of these doubts are indicated below:

(1) Mrs. Moffitt, according to what her spouse explained under testimony on Friday, June 20, 1980 -- as per the document which is attached as Exhibit N° 16 -- indicated that after her graduation she worked in an elementary school in Montgomery County. She taught there, as she had been trained, for 1 year.

UNCLASSIFIED

Mr. Moffitt points out that she quit her job voluntarily. There is no evidence of this in the Presentation.

Afterwards, without indicating a date, she becomes employed as a secretary in an insurance company. Mr. Moffitt stated that in 1972-1973, his wife worked as an elementary school teacher and in Washington D.C., she devoted herself to directing and promoting a music center, sponsored by the National Foundation for the Humanities, which held evening classes. Also Mrs. Moffitt collaborated in the music education of children. The music center was closed down due to its inability to pay its bills.

Subsequently, she developed activities in a public mall in Washington related to the exhibition of handicrafts, at which time she becomes associated with the I.P.S., working as a secretary.

As can be seen from the curriculum described by Mr. Moffitt, his spouse, in some three years of activity, was engaged in five different jobs, some different from others and some without pay. All this is ignored by the experts paid by the State Department, who presume that Mrs. Moffitt would have a high degree of stability in her hypothetical jobs.

It is obvious that even in a contested proceeding for compensation of damages, the hypothesis of NERA found in Exhibit Nº 16 could be extensively challenged. What has been expounded upon only serves as an example that the Commission cannot consider such hypotheses as definitive, nor as the basis of evidence. It is insisted that precisely for not being a typical lawsuit for compensatory damages, the Presentation should have satisfied the highest criteria of evidence assessment.

UNCLASSIFIED

(2) Mr. Moffitt states that they would have had two children had their marriage continued. That constitutes a hypothesis based upon the statement of the affected person and which moreover serves as foundation for increasing Mrs. Moffitt's hypothetical salary. To that is added the declaration of Mr. Conway, stating that Mrs. Moffitt would have obtained other additional resources from other sources not mentioned.

With the hypothetical raising of two children, moreover presupposing that she would perform additional fund-raising jobs, nothing is known about Mrs. Moffitt's fertility and her work stability as a fund-raiser.

The hypothesis of NERA lacks human reason, and even in a contested proceeding it would not be admissible.

(3) Mr. Moffitt also stated that Mrs. Moffitt performed household chores of important economic worth.

How is that proved?

No evidence is submitted before the Commission, and yet the consultants of the Department of State appraise such services at a sizable sum, which they project indefinitely during all the hypothetical life of Mrs. Moffitt.

The report does not take into account current statistics concerning the length of marriages in the United States of America.

Why is it envisioned that the Moffitts would always live in houses with a garden, whose extension is unknown, and that they would always paint the house?

Why should Mrs. Moffitt assume responsibility for such tasks and not Mr. Moffitt?

All these and many other questions should be asked and answers should be given before the Commission. The procedure agreed upon by both Governments is not a suit but rather an institutional process of an international nature to determine a compensation and not an indemnification, the State of Chile being presumed responsible, in order to normalize the relations between both States. The Presentation does not take into account the nature of the procedures agreed upon and its evidence does not satisfy the highest criteria of assessment as required, attempting to produce improbable hypotheses.

UNCLASSIFIED

(4) NERA forms the hypothesis that Mrs. Moffitt would have increased the worth of her valuable household services during the periods of pregnancy and the raising of her hypothetical children.

It is highly feasible that Mrs. Moffitt would not have been able to perform such services during the periods of pregnancy and child-raising, whose prolongation could be established.

This is a matter that NERA does not study.

(5) NERA's study emanates from the hypothesis that Mrs. Moffitt would work overtime, as well as supplementary or shared hours with the IPS in raising funds for other organizations.

NERA forgets that Mr. Moffitt indicated in his judicial statement, that his wife "had expressed a desire about going back to graduate school and perhaps getting back into the educational area, because she believed that it could have been done a lot better than she observed it being done." (Exhibit Nº16, Element of Evidence Nº1)

It is probable that the NERA's staff had no reason to consider such declarations, but since the statements of Mr. Moffitt are considered for increasing the valuation, it is certain that they also ought to consider those that can decrease said calculations.

UNCLASSIFIED

The above confirms the total and complete absence of the necessary certainty that must exist in the determination of lost profits ("Lucrum Cessans"), a certainty non-existent in the explanation made by NERA.

The only existing certainty is that which is deduced from the certificate issued by Mrs. Diana de Vegh, dated July 20th, 1990, that Mrs. Moffitt's salary was US$ 15,000 a year. However, said certificate does not fulfill the requirements for evidence, which must be required and proven in the solution of an international conflict, which must be sufficient to withstand the highest assessment criteria.

In fact, for it to be sufficient, the documents related to the labor association between the IPS and Mrs. Moffitt, receipts of salary payments, tax declarations on the wages received by Mrs. Moffitt, among others, must be attached.

Until the above mentioned elements of evidence are furnished, the Government of Chile formally objects to the document provided by Mrs. Diana de Vegh, attached as "Element of Evidence 2" in Exhibit N° 16, as it is a mere salary estimate.

In conclusion, the Government of Chile entirely questions the calculations totalling US$ 2,065,345.00, regarding the loss of profits ("Lucrum Cessans") that Mr. Michael Moffitt might have experienced, and which is requested as compensatory payment based upon an hypothesis lacking certainty and constituting an indemnification alien to the Commission's objectives and attributions.

D. Moral Damages.

The Presentation requests that the Commission determine that the State of Chile pay the sum of US$ 500,000 to the Government of the United States of America, in order that it, in turn, transfer said amount to Mr. Michael Moffitt for moral damage suffered as a consequence of the death of his former spouse.

In Mr. Moffitt's case, it is claimed that the injury in his feelings of affection towards Mrs. Moffitt, are the basis of the moral damage. Such damage must be certain and such certainty has only existed during the period of time which has elapsed since September 21, 1976, until the time that he became sentimentally attracted to his current spouse, inasmuch as his affection is replaced to such a degree that he marries her.

The Presentation makes no mention of these facts, in such a way that the moral damage caused by the death of Mrs. Moffitt, is limited to an event in time.

This situation is quite complex, since the victim's parents are added to the Moffitt family, so that the whole family, parents and son-in-law (former spouse), claim for joint compensation for the same moral damage; the loss of a family member, which is valued at US$ 1,000,000. (It is presumed that the moral damage to Mr. Murray Karpen is equal to that of his spouse, the latter being appraised at US$ 250,000).

Mr. Michael Moffitt's moral affliction has disappeared, turning now towards his actual spouse and in their offspring.

Today, seeking to compensate Mr. Moffitt's moral damage for the loss of his former wife, without considering his affection for his present wife and children is not legally admissible. The Commission ought to consider that Mr. Moffitt has completely reconstituted his emotional life, forming a family.

Today, Mr. Moffitt does not show any moral damage for the death of his former spouse, without detriment to the fact that he had at one time. Before the Commission, Mr. Moffitt presents an historical damage for the purpose of being compensated.

UNCLASSIFIED

The moral distress suffered by Mr. Moffitt since September 1976 until the moment he entered into a serious relationship with his present spouse is an historic fact of his personal life whose compensation shall be determined taking into consideration that today he is not afflicted by said suffering. The Presentation does not give sufficient evidence that Mr. Moffitt does not live a new happiness, or a new spiritual joy that entirely supplanted his previous affliction. Nor does it deliver objective information which permits evaluating each and every one of the relevant circumstances in order to determine the alleged compensation. Although moral damage is at stake, the economic income, the employment situation and the current social condition cannot be ignored, since they demonstrate to what extend he has been affected by the claimed moral damage. Furthermore, Dr. Kaufman's psychiatric report makes no reference to the important fact that the patient has contracted matrimony and has at least two children (see page 12 of Professor Armando Roa's report which is attached as Annex XI.

In conclusion, the Government of Chile rejects, for the reasons expressed, the demand of the United States of America to compensate the moral damage to Mr. Michael Moffitt due to the death of Mrs. Ronni Karpen Moffitt.

E. The indemnification claimed for mental anguish and psychological trauma suffered by Mr. Michael Moffitt.

The Government of the United States of America requests for Michael Moffitt, US$ 500,000 for his significant moral damage, including psychological injuries that he suffered, as victim of attempted murder.

A basic question arises in order to accede to the petition of the Government of the United States of America: Why US$ 500,000? There is no basis in said petition.

First of all it is worthwhile to again emphasize to the Commission that the civil concept of liability and the penal concept of guilt are entirely different.

In the case submitted for the Commission's consideration, the situation is even clearer, since it is established that the State of Chile will pay ex-gratia, without admitting liability.

The Presentation states as basis of its petition, the case submitted before the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, the Godinez-Cruz case, similar to the Velásquez-Rodríguez case.

Said decisions are illustrative, bearing in mind that they have been rendered by a Court, which the Commission is not, and based upon due process, regulated by the standards of the Inter-American Convention on Human Rights of November 22, 1969, the Statute of the Inter-American Commission of Human Rights, approved in October of 1979 by the OAS, the Regulations of the Inter-American Commission of Human Rights, approved by the Commission on April 8, 1980, the Statute of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, approved in October of 1979 by the OAS, and the Regulations of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, approved by the Court in 1980.

The Inter-American Court's own rulings, on the substance of the matter, already constitute, by themselves, "a significant and important form of moral representation and satisfaction for the families of the victims."

It cannot be ignored that the Government of Chile, through the declarations and actions of its highest authorities, including the President of the Republic, has given moral satisfaction to those affected, as indicated in Chapter I.

In effect, the investigation ordered to be carried out by the National Commission for Truth and Reconciliation, created by Decree Law N°355 on April 25th, 1990, of the Ministry of the Interior of the Republic of Chile; the discourse delivered by the President, Mr. Patricio Aylwin A. on March 4th, 1991, and Address Nº293-321 sent by the President of the Republic to the National Congress on March 26th, 1991, in which various provisions concerning reparations in benefit to the families of the victims referred to in the report of the National Commission of Truth and Reconciliation, all of which must be understood as in themselves constituting a form of significant and important moral reparation and satisfaction for the families of the victims.

The judgement mentioned by the Presentation adds, in the Velásquez and Godinez cases (Nº38), that the just compensation provided for by Article 63.1 of the Inter-American Convention, in referring to a part of reparation and in directing itself to the injured party, is compensatory and not punitive. The judgement indicates: "Although some municipal courts, particularly Anglo-American, fix compensations whose amounts serve for exemplary or dissuasive purposes, this principle is not applicable under the current state of international law."

The Government of Chile clearly deems that the compensation requested by the Government of the United States of America, for the purpose of compensating the moral damages of Mr. Michael Moffitt, both for compensating the death of his former spouse, as well as for the psychological trauma that he himself suffered, possess such a nature and are clearly extraneous to the concept of justice that must prevail.

The Commission must comply with the provision established in Nº4 of the Compromis, in order that the determination of the payment that must be made by the Government of Chile be done "in accordance with applicable principles international law", and clearly, the indicated judgements of the Inter-American Court and the Inter-American Convention subscribed by the United States of America on June 1st, 1977, contribute principles of international law applicable to the case, without prejudice to the special circumstances that must be taken into account under the current situation, as indicated in Chapter II.

The moral damage for the entire Velásquez family amounts to 250,000 Lempiras (N°52 of the judgement), equivalent to approximately US$ 47,035.00, as of the month of September 1991.

The Presentation by the Government of the United States of America, pursuant to the rules of international law as recognized at the Inter-American level, is far from being just.

On the level of European international law, the European Commission on the Rights of Man, in case N° 5961/72 (Amekrane versus the United Kingdom) on July 19th, 1974, accepted the declaration of the United Kingdom to pay Lbs 37,500 Sterling to the claimants, establishing that it is the only payment to be made, under the condition that no other payment will be required from the authorities of Gibraltar or the United Kingdom, all of which without recognition that the rights of the claimants as recognized by the Convention had been infringed. Said amount was equivalent to US$ 89,362.50 in 1974 (Today approximately US$ 317,224.71)

In considering the cases decided by the Courts of the United States of America, including the Civ. A. claim 78-1477 (United States District Court of Columbia. Isabel Morel de Letelier et al., Plaintiffs V. The Republic of Chile et al., Defendants), the Commission must take into account the Compromis subscribed between both Governments, and only if they be in accordance with international law, since such cases are representative of the doctrines applied by Anglo-American courts, as indicated in the aforementioned Velásquez case by the Inter-American Court.

To conclude, the Commission must apply criteria based on justice and not chastisement, given that the Government of Chile does not recognize responsibility, in the same way the Government of the United Kingdom did not, in the aforementioned case, and, furthermore, that payment is made ex-gratia. In Chapter VI, the amount that the Government of Chile considers to be just, is indicated along with the grounds for doing so.

III. Injury and the amount of damages claimed in favor of Hilda and Murray Karpen.

A. Moral damage suffered by Hilda and Murray Karpen.

The Presentation formulated by the Government of the United States indicates that the following has been requested in the name of Hilda and Murray Karpen: US$ 250,000 dollars for moral damage suffered by Hilda Karpen; US$ 500,000 dollars for moral damage and physical injuries suffered by Murray Karpen and US$ 24,285 covering medical expenses and other direct costs. This is a total of US$ 774,285.00, plus 10% interest per annum as of September 21st, 1976, which amounts to US$ 1,161,427.50 (approximately).

The preceding means that what is requested in the Presentation is equivalent to US$ 1,935,712.50. Concerning the interest, these are discussed in Chapter IV, without prejudice to what has already been indicated in Chapter II, Section VI Special matters, letter b.

There is no basis for the claim formulated on the grounds of moral damage as refers to its extremely high valuation which in capital amounts to US$ 750,000.

It must be called to the attention of the Commission, that in the lawsuit filed by the Letelier and Moffitt families against the National Intelligence Direction (DINA and Others) in accordance with the judgement Annexed as I, the District of Columbia Court sentenced the responsible parties, in accordance with the merits of said judgement, to the sum of US$ 80,000 in favor of the married couple Murray and Hilda Karpen, for the death of their daughter.

In spite of the absence of the defendants, it is obvious that said lawsuit observed a greater strictness in conforming to the existing legal provisions concerning evidence under applicable judicial systems, for the District of Columbia; which must be considered as a judgement on this matter more in accordance with justice, since it was directed at obtaining an indemnification.

In comparing said amount with the exorbitant petition formulated by the Government of the United States of America, one arrives at the conclusion that an unjustified amount is sought in favor of the Karpen couple at the expense of the State of Chile, and to establish in addition, a penalty against said State, for the responsibilities not acknowledged, for the assassination of Mrs. Ronni K. Moffitt.

The Government of Chile understands the pain experienced by Mrs. Hilda Karpen, as well as the pain that has affected all the family members due to the violence in the past 15 years prior to 1990, as shown in the text of President Patricio Aylwin A.'s address. For this reason, the phrase as to "No amount of money can bring her back to us," as testified by sworn affidavit subscribed on the 25th of July 1991 before the Notary Public, Patricia A. Zocco, reveals that the claim for compensating Mrs. Hilda Karpen, in the manner formulated by the Government of the United States of America in their presentation, exceeds the natural measure of justice that the Commission must determine, in establishing the amount of the compensation, which, in no case shall be an indemnification, as was that fixed by the Court of the District of Columbia, according to what we have already indicated.

Said compensation is sought to be increased, adding an illness that Mrs. Hilda Karpen had begun to suffer.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

It has not been proven in any way that Mrs. Hilda Karpen's ulcer, with which she has begun to suffer, has any direct relation to the death of her daughter.

The Godinez and Velásquez cases, the former mentioned in the Presentation, once again constitute an accurate parameter for considering the justice in the reparation of moral damage claimed by the Government of the United States of America for Hilda and Murray Karpen - a reparation which, in the mentioned cases, is produced by indemnifying judgement and before a court, before which due process can be carried out.

In the matter brought to the consideration of the Commission, it is only a question of establishing a compensation and not an indemnification, that in a voluntary manner, the State of Chile has desired to pay, for the purpose of normalizing diplomatic relations with the Government of the United States of America.

It is pointed out to the Commission that the amount of US$ 750,000 is sufficient capital in order to obtain a pension of US$ 45,000 deposited at 6% per annum.

The latter does not take into consideration the calculation of interest that the Presentation claims, the inappropriateness of which is analyzed in these Observations.

The Government of Chile is unaware of the level of income of Mr. Murray Karpen and his spouse, but infers from the context of the Presentation and especially of the private representations made by both spouses, that said income may be approximately similar to what they have received annually. Nor has the Presentation of the Government of the United States of America proved the existence of the economic dependence of the parents upon their daughter Ronni. The Government of Chile considers it essential that authentic evidence be provided concerning the level of income of the Karpen couple.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

That the compensation for moral damage of the parents of the deceased victim of murder be disproportionate goes against the most elementary principles of international justice and international law as pointed out in Chapter II: The indemnification for moral damage has as its purpose to alleviate the pain in the intrinsic affection to human nature, for the death of a child. The compensation has as its purpose the recognition of the existence of said pain and consequently the purpose of attenuating it. Should it be added that such an act is carried out as an act of grace the degree of compensation must also be lower.

The Presentation in this chapter tends to materialize the intimate feelings and the ethics that must exist in the analysis of moral damage that affects the Karpen couple and which the judicial organism of the United States of America evaluated in an amount which is almost 10% of that evaluated by the Department of State. Since the petition is brought by said Department within the framework of the Agreement and Compromis subscribed with the Government of Chile, the latter calls the attention of the Commission, in order that the matter submitted to its consideration be reduced to proportions in accordance with the purpose kept in mind by the Parties upon forming the Commission. Such a purpose is that of normalizing the relations with the United States of America, insofar as the claim made by its Government through the Diplomatic Note of April 18th, 1988 will be regarded as satisfied. It has never been the purpose, of the parties to disproportionately compensate the persons affected by the death of Mr. Letelier and Mrs. Moffitt, nor to hold them indemnified of all incidences of an economic order in the future, that could be derived from such deaths, especially when the non-existence of economic dependency has been demonstrated.

The Commission's actions, by accepting the exorbitant amounts claimed on account of moral damage to the

UNCLASSIFIED

Karpen couple, would not only imply the determination of an excessive compensation, but would also be contrary to the principles of international law.

What has been expounded leads the Government of Chile to request the Commission, in order that it substantially reduce the claimed amounts, in accordance to what is indicated in Chapter VI in the present Observations.

B. Direct damages for medical expenses and interest.

The Presentation formulates a claim of US$ 24,285 for medical expenses of Mr. Murray Karpen and other direct expenses, and interest of 10% per annum on the expenses and moral damages, from the date of death.

Such an amount is detailed as follows:

US$ 4,250	Funeral expenses;
US$ 14,785	Hospitalization, medical bills, medicines and costs caused by attacks; and
US$ 5,250	Travel to Washington for meetings with the Department of State.

Each of said amounts are analyzed as follows:

(a) Funeral Expenses: The Government of Chile, in spite of the fact that these actual values are not certified in any way, and which correspond to the funeral of his daughter, but are rather is the mere and sole affirmation of Mr. Murray Karpen, will not object to said amounts once it is certified that economic dependency existed, just as required by international law.

(b) Hospitalization and Medical Expenses: The Government of Chile objects to all of these expenses since no effective receipts have been attached, and it is a global account which must be analyzed in a more detailed manner. The referred to account is only supported by the interested party's own affirmation which is inadmissable for the purposes of claiming payment.

(c) Travel to Washington D.C. for meetings with the Department of State:

The Government of Chile also rejects this global entry, since this is not damage suffered by Mr. Murray Karpen, but rather an expense which he, at his sole discretion, has considered appropriate, the scope of which is unknown, although it is possible to infer that such travel is related to interviews carried out for the drafting of the Presentation or other processes.

(d) Interest:

Such expenses can never reach the degree of damage that may or must be compensated by the Government of Chile, since all the expenses of the Presentation are obviously the responsibility of the party who incurred them, that is the Department of State - the organism who, in representation of the Government of the United States, made the diplomatic claim the settlement of which is sought through the Commission's determination the compensation.

Finally, the Government of Chile, also rejects the claim of interest of 10% or under any other applicable rate on such expenses, as of the date of the death of Ronni K. Moffitt. Concerning hospitalization, medical expenses and travel, such calculations as requested are erroneous. But even so, the Government of Chile must reject such a petition, in whichever manner it is formulated, according to the reasoning explained in Chapter V of these Observations.

IV. Injury and the amount of damages claimed by the family of Mr. Orlando Letelier.

On this matter we reaffirm in this Chapter what has been put forth in Chapter II Section VI, regarding the analysis, as a basic mitigating element for the determination of compensation, of the normal inadmissibility that the Government of the United States should act on behalf of Chilean nationals.

Without prejudice to the foregoing, the observations warranted by the Government of Chile to the claims presented in the Presentation will be analyzed.

A. The "Damnum Emergens" and "Lucrum Cessans" suffered by the family of Mr. Orlando Letelier.

In the Presentation, the Government of the United States of America requests the amount of US$ 3,473,665 for the economic losses suffered by the family of Mr. Orlando Letelier.

Once again, the NERA system was employed, establishing an hypothesis based on a series of subjective estimation.

It is assumed that Mr. Orlando Letelier would write books, dictate conferences and courses, all such activities which would allow him to obtain important benefits.

The only concrete and real fact is that, up until the time of his death, Mr. Orlando Letelier, received a remuneration from the I.P.S. Mr. Letelier, Chilean public figure of renowned trajectory, developed intensive international political activity, in support of his political party - the Socialist Party. It is public knowledge that such activity is carried out for reasons of ideological commitment and are not motivated by the purpose of making a profit. Mrs. Isabel

UNCLASSIFIED

Letelier states: "Orlando was committed to continue his efforts in order to expose the crimes and damages that the Pinochet dictatorship was perpetrating against the Chilean people. He was a frank critic of the policies of the dictatorship in Chile and an indefatigable champion of the Chilean people and the many victims of the abuses of human rights in Chile. He travelled to Europe and other parts all over the world in an effort to transmit his message, and make known what actually was occurring in Chile."

It follows that all of the hypotheses concerning the possibilities of life that are presumed in the study prepared by NERA for the Department of State, dated July 22nd, 1991, which are attached as Exhibit N°15, must be rejected. In Chapter II, it has been extensively abounded that in order to determine the loss of profits ("lucrum cessans"), the amount that the victim may have obtained in possible activities or businesses cannot be considered.

The initial hypothesis set forth in the NERA report is the most manifest and evident expression of a great amount of speculation that is used as a basis. It supposes that Mr. Letelier could have chosen "two alternative professional directions" that is "reasonable to assume" and that he "very likely" would have taken if it had not been for his death. The first that is assumed is that he would have stayed in the IPS as executive associate during the rest of his professional career; and the second, that "he would have withdrawn from the IPS and would have joined some bank of importance as an international banker". However, for this "second possibility" it is assumed that "he would have continued in the IPS until 1980" and that he would have "then become a banker." There is a considerable difference between what the report calls "loss of income" between both hypotheses: for the first, the alleged loss is estimated to be: US$ 2,021,104, and the second to be: US$ 3,484,352, the latter amount being greater than the former by more than 70%.

The mere mention of this proposal is conducive to rejection. The report itself is responsible for establishing that the change in Mr. Letelier's "career path" from the IPS to international banking as of the year 1980, is no other than a mere probability o speculation, a mere supposition or conjecture, that can only lead to the establishment of contingent or hypothetical damage, which pursuant to law is never compensable. Mr. Letelier's desires or hopes of changing activities in order to improve his income, and even certificates or merits that could have been shown for the goal of achieving this purpose, are not sufficient in order to ensure that it was necessarily going to occur. The continuance of the conditions for so doing, the persistence of his rights, the reality that the international banking system would have chosen him and that, furthermore, given him a level of remunerations that it is supposed they would have granted, etc - all are conjectural elements that, precisely being so, cannot be accepted. The only thing concrete and which is not of a speculative nature, lies in the fact that the natural course in the life of the outstanding politician, Mr. Orlando Letelier, would be associated to his country, to return to it, as soon as it were possible for him, in order to discharge duties at the highest level.

It is fitting, then, to entirely reject all the calculations contained in the report about the contingent financial losses that could have been brought about, in the hypothesis that Mr. Letelier may have entered the international banking system as of the year 1980.

As concerns the presumed loss of income under the hypothesis that Mr. Letelier would have continued in the IPS until reaching the age of 75, which would occur in the year 2007, it is appropriate to formulate following commentaries:

The calculations found in the report concerning the matter leads to the assumption of a loss of income from the year 1976 to the year 2007 amounting to US$ 2,021,104.

Such calculations are made on the precarious basis of supposing or conjecturing:

- that Mr. Letelier would have lived to the age of 75 years;
- that until reaching that age he would have maintained, without weaknesses, his employment capacity and his health;
- that he would not have retired before the year 2007;
- that the IPS would have contracted his services until that year;
- that the IPS itself would maintain its existence until the same year;
- that Mr. Letelier would have permanently increased his annual income;
- that the IPS would be in financial conditions to pay these yearly increases;
- that Mr. Letelier would have published a book every four years, about non-specified topics, receiving a 20,000 dollar payment for each book; and would have carried out publications about his work in magazines, which are also not identified, receiving 7,500 dollars each year for this concept, amounts all of which would have increased with the inflation rate until the year 2007;
- that he would have assigned all his income, except his personal expenses, to the expenses of his family;
- that he would have provided household services for his family, such as home repairs, carpentry, construction and gardening work, dedicating two hours daily to such tasks, although, as acknowledged in the report, there is no "definite information on the number of hours Mr. Letelier would have spent performing these services";

UNCLASSIFIED

- that the nature, quantity and quality of these tasks or household services had, in fact, the economic value assigned to each, etc.

All that contained in the NERA Report is unacceptable in law, since it is inevitably conducive to conjecturing the existence of fortuitous or hypothetical damages, that can not be taken into consideration in establishing an indemnification, much less a compensation.

It is important to point out, that after being the Embassador of the Republic of Chile before the White House, Mr. Letelier was appointed Minister of Foreign Relations of Chile, having taken office on May 22nd, 1973. At that time, the country was in a state of absolute upheaval. He remained in said office until August 8th, 1973, since on the 9th of the same month, he was appointed as Minister of the Interior, holding the position of Political Chief of Staff. A few days later, on August 23rd, he assumed as acting Minister of National Defense, as such that upon the fall of the Government on 11th of September, 1973, Mr. Orlando Letelier was carrying out two ministerial functions.

This is recounted only for the purpose of pointing out the deserved political vocation that Mr. Letelier assumed, all of which obviously conflicts with the hypothesis of considering him as a possible candidate for occupying an office in the international banking system.

The only certain thing, is that Mr. Letelier would have returned to Chile during the year 1988, an era during which the great majority of exiles could re-enter the country, associating himself with the political activities of the moment, the remuneration of the leaders of which is practically unknown.

UNCLASSIFIED

In any case, Mr. Letelier would have returned to Chile by the time the National Congress unanimously restored its nationality. It is obvious that, following his trajectory, Mr. Letelier would have stood as a candidate for a popularly elected public office, whether as Representative or Senator, or carried out functions as Minister of State. (Exhibit 8, page 5)

Without prejudice to the foregoing explanation for establishing a just indemnification, the Presentation reveals serious contradictions.

In effect, the certificate subscribed by Diana de Vegh, dated July 20th, 1990, indicates that in 1976 Mr. Letelier received US$ 33,000 a year.

Mrs. Isabel Morel de Letelier indicates that her husband's salary amounted to US$ 25,000 a year, as indicated in the transcription of the proceedings of the Civil suit 78-1477 of the United States Court for the District of Columbia, attached to the Presentation as Exhibit No. 15, which is confirmed by NERA's affirmation, indicating in addition that his salary was increased by US$ 1,000 for each of his dependents. It is not specified who are the dependents and until what date they can be considered dependents, should such an affirmation be effective.

Therefore, it appears that the only thing clear and specific is Mrs. Morel's declaration, who supposedly knew exactly what her husband earned, given the harmonious relation that existed between them, as inferred from the document attached to the Presentation as Exhibit No. 8 ("Orlando remained a devoted father and loving, caring husband").

In this way, in order for the Commission to carry out a just and equitable determination, it must necessarily reject all and every one of Mr. Letelier's hypothetical future and always successful activities, and establish a compensation based on the only certain facts which are known and which are supported by the facts transmitted by the Department of State of the Government of the United States of America.

If the amount requested in the Presentation is invested at a rate of 6% per annum, the US$ 3,473,665 would result in an annual income of US$ 208,419.00, or US$ 17,368 monthly.

Once again, it is shown that the Presentation of the Government of the United States of America, is disproportionate and unjustified. The result of said arithmetic calculation exceeds far beyond the real and hypothetical remunerations that Mr. Letelier may have obtained had he been alive.

The calculations made concerning Mr. Letelier's personal services rendered at home, conflict with the sole affirmations of Mrs. Morel de Letelier. She expresses that "in spite of all the traveling and political activities, I guess the way he relaxed better was by gardening and building things, and he loved carpentry."

In this way, it is admitted that Mr. Letelier did not dedicate time to the so-called "services that Mr. Letelier performed to the benefit of his family", according to what is indicated in Chapter V in the report prepared by NERA. Mrs. Morel de Letelier's husband apparently rested very little, performing some gardening or simple carpentry activities (making bookshelves).

It was never the intention of the Letelier family that the head of their household could increase the family income, with the time that Mr. Orlando Letelier dedicated to the "services to the benefit of his family", since such activities were carried out for his personal benefit, in order to achieve rest, recreation or distraction from his overwhelming travel and intense political activity, which naturally consume a great amount of intellectual activity, the performance of manual labor being the way to counteract this.

From there to conclude that Mr. Letelier performed activities of "services to the benefit of his family", valued in monetary terms, is truly an hypothesis that has no serious supporting element.

The report prepared by NERA indicates that Mrs. Morel mentioned in the affidavit attached to the presentation as Exhibit No. 8, "that her husband was a good family man and dedicated much time to necessary house work and gardening, dedicating many hours to the family", is absolutely inaccurate. Mrs. Morel de Letelier's affidavit contains no quantification of the time that her husband dedicated to "services to the benefit of his family."

In this way, the calculation made by NERA must be rejected not only for being hypothetical the determination of the loss of profits for "services to the benefit of his family", that Mr. Letelier could have rendered, but also because no evidence or element exists that permits establishing, with reasonable certainty, that Mr. Orlando Letelier dedicated time for the purpose of making a profit in rendering "services to the benefit of his family."

The report prepared by NERA indicates that Mr. Letelier earned US$ 2,050 a year for giving lectures at the American University.

The Presentation contains no evidence thereof. Mrs. Morel de Letelier alludes to some courses, without indicating their purpose, length of the contract, the received emoluments, the taxes paid for such income, among others.

The degree of evidence presented by the Government of the United States, to lay claim to the enormous amounts requested, is of a minimal grade of certainty, for which reason it is formally requested of the Commission that they not carry out any determination without having added to the record, and which may be verified by the Government of Chile, the authentic documents that convincingly prove the actual income expected to be used as the basis for the calculation of any compensation.

In summary, with respect to the loss of profits ("lucrum cessans"), the Government of Chile concludes that the only actual amount that could be used from the attached documentation, is the US$ 25,000 that Mr. Orlando Letelier received annually from the IPS, not knowing whether said amount was subject to discounts of a tax nature.

The rest of the valuation that the Presentation formulates are mere hypotheses, that cannot be considered in a serious and equitable calculation in order to establish an ex-gratia compensation for the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier.

B. Moral damage suffered and claimed for by Mrs. Isabel Morel de Letelier.

The Government of the United States of America, claims US$ 500,000 for moral damage suffered by Isabel Morel de Letelier. In Chapter IV, letter B, of the Presentation entitled "Determination of Amount of Compensation for Moral Damage", the consequences of the death of Mr. Orlando Letelier is described, in the person of Mrs. Isabel Morel, and ends by requesting that said moral damage be settled by US$ 500,000.00, plus interest as requested in Chapter VI, denominated "Conclusion".

Other than the quoted description, no other information is given for establishing said value for moral damages.

The claimed amount appears absolutely exorbitant to the Government of Chile, amount which has no relation to what is currently happening in Chile, where Mrs. Morel is currently living.

UNCLASSIFIED

It has been indicated previously that the Government of Chile and the National Congress, in which one of the sons of Mrs. Morel, the Honorable Deputy Mr. Juan Pablo Letelier conducts his activities, is considering a Bill for compensating the damage suffered by the family members of the arrested and missing persons indicated in the Report of the Commission for Truth and Reconciliation.

Moral damage is among such damage being considered for redress in said draft law, under the terms indicated in Article 3 thereof (See Annex V).

To such effect, the draft law establishes a monthly allowance amounting to CH$ 140,000.00, accumulatively readjustable each time the Consumer Price Index, fixed monthly by the National Statistics Institute, is greater than 10% in any period. In addition, a one-time compensatory bonification amount is granted equivalent to 12 months' pension.

The first amount is approximately equivalent to US$ 274 a month and the second to US$ 3,288.

There is absolutely no doubt that Mrs. Morel, in making use of the diplomatic protection of the Government of the United States of America and in choosing the referred to moral indemnification, is obtaining an enormous amount, compared to what the Chilean State would pay to the victims of human rights violations and political violence - in accordance with the situation being discussed in Chile.

The Commission must consider this situation, in order to determine the corresponding equitable compensation in relation to the moral damage suffered by Mrs. Isabel Morel.

Naturally it seems inequitable that Mrs. Isabel Morel, under the diplomatic protection of the Government of the United States of America, obtain the amount of US$ 500,000.00 and not make use of the general policy of all the beneficiaries of common legislation, which has already received the favorable vote of the legislators of the Government coalition of which her own son, the Honorable Deputy Mr. Juan Pablo Letelier, forms part, all with the resources of the public treasury of the Chilean State.

UNCLASSIFIED

Furthermore, the situation described in the affidavit that appears as Exhibit No. 8 of the Presentation, is not consistent with the current reality of Mrs. Isabel Morel, inasmuch as she is in charge of the women's rights program of the I.P.S., as program head, enjoying extensive periods of alternate residency between the United States and Chile. Nor does it indicate if she is the owner of real estate in the United States of America or in Chile, if she enjoys allowances or other income derived from investments. Neither does the Presentation indicate if Mrs. Isabel Morel has had the possibility of finding companionship and support in her emotional life. The Presentation should deliver sufficient information in order to evaluate the economic situation of Mrs. Morel de Letelier, and at the same time, information about whether her children have married, established families and the number of grandchildren.

As far as the psychological evaluation of Mrs. Morel, which is attached to the Presentation as Exhibit No. 9, it contains a great number of vague concepts that have no relation with the possibility of evaluating moral damage.

In effect, it is indicated that Dr. Gordon met Mrs. Isabel Morel in 1974, i.e. two years before the murder of her husband, apparently during the period in which she indicates as having lived in the Republic of Venezuela.

Dr. Gordon has treated Mrs. Morel from 1980, i.e. four years after the assassination, a period during which apparently she did not consult a physician.

It is indicated that Mrs. Morel has been displaced from society, a situation which contradicts the affidavit that she signed and which is attached as Exhibit No.8, since it says:

UNCLASSIFIED

"Despite the fact that, I have interesting job". No one who has been displaced from society has an interesting job.

The report is dated August 2nd, 1991, indicating that Mrs. Morel has felt rejected and insecure in the country in which she has been forced to live in exile.

Said report prepared by Dr. Gordon, has been analyzed by Dr. Armando Roa, professor the University of Chile, who, on the basis of said report, considers that "it cannot be proven in any way", that Mrs. Isabel Morel de Letelier suffers from incurable chronic "stress" (See Annex XII).

The Government of Chile is aware that Mrs. Morel is highly regarded in liberal circles in Washington, and among the Chilean leftist sectors, which form part of the current Government coalition, having ended her forced and voluntary exile as soon as the President of the Republic, Mr. Patricio Aylwin A., entered office, which occurred on March 11th, 1990.

Dr. Gordon indicates that, "as if compelled by an enormous need to address the wrongs of the world, and particularly those done to the Chilean people, she (Isabel Morel) neglects herself physically and emotionally."

Such a description of a state of mind contains an enormous political and ideological slant, since the Chilean people from 1989, have been in a process of transition toward a political life of full democracy and freedom. While there exist serious and strong deficiencies in sectors of the population, such deficiencies are being remedied by the current Government of the Republic within possible means, that among its party members, includes the political group to which Mr. Letelier and Mrs. Morel are a part.

The interview that Mrs. Isabel Morel held with a journalist of the "La Segunda" newspaper in Washington, and published in May of 1990, in which the topic of indemnification is referred to, is attached as Annex No. VI. It is important to emphasize in said interview that Mrs. Morel indicates that at least the "Leteliers" have not proposed the sum of US$ 12,000,000 as an indemnification. Such an amount would have been fixed by the Government of the United States of America.

As can be seen, the indemnification that the Government of the United States of America requests from the Government of Chile for compensating the moral damage to Mrs. Isabel Morel, is absolutely disproportionate to a reasonable ex-gratia compensation, that could be granted to a person that is not a national of the claimant Government and that has requested diplomatic protection, against a Government that has acted in order to elucidate, in all its dimensions, the death of Mr. Letelier, who, without a doubt, would have efficiently contributed at the highest level towards the democratic transition in Chile.

The Commission ought to determine a different sum, amounting to that which is indicated in Chapter VI.

C. Moral damage suffered and claimed for by the children of Mr. Orlando Letelier.

The Government of the United States of America claims for each of the children of Mr. Orlando Letelier, the amount of US$ 250,000 which totals US$ 1,000,000.

The basis for this claim are the affidavits themselves of Messrs. Letelier - Morel and the report that Dr. James Gordon has issued on them.

Dr. Gordon declares, especially for the purposes of the Presentation, that he has had a personal professional connection with one of the Messrs. Letelier - Morel, without, indicating any details concerning the professional attention that he may have rendered them. The rest of the report refers to the examination that he has made of the affidavits, personally made by each one of the children of the Letelier - Morel couple, for the specific purpose of being accompanied to the Presentation.

It is evident that the declaration of each of those affected by the assassination of Mr. Orlando Letelier, revealing his affliction and what he would have felt at the death of his father is sufficient by itself, without having to certify said feelings by way of an examination of such declarations by a doctor who has not interviewed them. The affidavits, in addition to the legitimate lamentations of the Letelier - Morel couple, all are characterized by an impressive lack of information, that decrease their likelihood.

In effect, one cannot ignore that it is essential to know what each of the Messrs. Letelier - Morel are today. Precisely as a result of the procedure, the Presentation must include substantiated answers to the following questions:

What are each of them doing today?
What educational degrees do they possess?
What are their means of livelihood?
Have they married?
How many children to they have?
What are their personal assets?
Have they travelled?
Where do they live?
Do they have political interests?

and many others, which are necessary in order to evaluate the moral damage being claimed; such questions cannot be formulated.

It is of public knowledge that one of the Messrs. Morel-Letelier, specifically Mr. Juan Pablo, is a Deputy for one of the districts of the Metropolitan Region in the Chamber of Deputies of the National Congress - a person who has been an active participant in the Chilean Parliament, being one of the leaders of the Socialist Party group, to which his father belonged. The recognition he has in his electoral district constitutes an unquestionable form of moral reparation.

It is known that another of the children of Mr. Orlando Letelier, is a cinema artist, another declares residence in Chile, without indicating what he does for a living, who is his wife, where he lives, etc. The vagueness of the declarations, is obviously formulated in order to emphasize a degree of abandonment and solitude that would justify the enormous indemnification claim for moral damage.

If the indemnification for moral damage granted by the Civil courts of the District of Columbia, merely as a piece of information already commented upon, is compared with what is required for the four children of Mr. Orlando Letelier, once again it is confirmed that this is an indemnification of a punitive nature, instead of an assistance from the State of Chile in recognition of the suffering felt by the Messrs. Letelier - Morel.

Furthermore, Messrs. Letelier - Morel have become parties to the legal recourses existing today in Chile, in order to pursue the responsibility of those guilty of the assassination of their father, in which recourses the Honorable Deputy, Mr. Juan Pablo Letelier has played an active role.

The Commission must keep in mind, in determining the sought after compensation, that a Deputy representative of the popular sovereignty of Chile, is claiming protection through a foreign government, against the State whose sovereignty he represents together with the rest of the Chilean Congressmen. This occurs, in the particular moment in that the Chilean Congress is debating the topic of the compensations for the victims of violations of human rights and political violence.

The Government of Chile deems, that the just compensation determined in favor of the children of Mr. Orlando Letelier must not be in any case disproportionate, considering their condition as Chileans, due to the grave moral, social and legal repercussions it would entail for the country in the transition process towards democracy that is being developed.

UNCLASSIFIED

The amount requested for each child is approximately equivalent to CH$ 88,750,000.00, which is comparable to 28 economic family dwellings, which receive state subsidies, having an approximate surface area of 40m2, with 150m2 of land, in the peripheral communities of Santiago and Valparaíso.

Also, this is equivalent to a luxurious mansion in the areas of the city which are utilized by those of a higher economic bracket in the country, including large pieces of land, swimming pools, saunas, etc.

These comparisons are carried out so that the Commission may appreciate the impact that the compensation determined can have, should the enormous amount claimed by each of the Messrs. Letelier - Morel be granted.

CHAPTER IV.

INADMISSIBILITY OF INTEREST PAYMENTS.

I. Introduction.

In Chapter II, Section VI (b), of these Observations, it has been shown that the claim for interest in cases of physical damages or death to persons under international law is inadmissable. In the present Chapter the reasons for disallowing the petition of the Government of the United States in this matter, will be explained from the point of view of the patrimonial loss experienced by the families of the victims. This explanation will be illustrated by a number of cases taken from the diplomatic history between the Governments involved relative to the payment of compensation for patrimonial loss suffered by United States citizens.

In the Presentation, the Government of the United States claimed a 10% per annum interest payment, as of September 21, 1976, on the following claims:

(a) Those associated with moral damages in favor of Isabel Morel de Letelier and her four children;

(b) Those associated with moral damages in favor of Hilda Karpen, with moral damages and damages for physical injuries in favor of Murray Karpen, and with his direct damages; and

(c) Those associated with moral damages, and damages for personal injuries, and direct expenses in favor of Michael Moffitt.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The claims -- although baseless, as has been demonstrated in Chapter III -- that are set forth for the above-mentioned items amount to US$ 3,292,492.48, so that the application of interest of 10% per year over that sum, as of September of 1976, would mean increasing said cost to the exorbitant figure of US$ 8,231,231.20, without prejudice to that which is claimed for "loss of financial support and of services" and for "payment of attorney fees and expenses."

The Presentation of the United States basically relies in its argument for interest claims in that these would be intended for "compensating the loss of the use of money during the fifteen years gone by since the date of the deaths of Ronni Moffitt and Orlando Letelier," since "in order for the refund to the families to be complete, it is necessary that they be compensated for this delay."

The interest claimed by the Government of the United States is inadmissible because:

(a) it is irrelevant to consider interest when dealing with an ex gratia payment;

(b) the injurious act is not the cause of the obligation to pay compensation;

(c) its non-collection by the injured parties does not constitute a definite damage, but rather a merely hypothetical and possible damage;

(d) the obligation to indemnify is unliquidated since its amount has not been determined, therefore default in payment, which is an indispensable requirement to accrue interest on an outstanding sum, could not have existed; and

UNCLASSIFIED

(e) because they would amount to an excessive compensation superior to the amount of damage directly and necessarily caused by the detrimental act.

II. The interest claimed by the Government of the United States are inadmissible.

(a) Interest may not be considered when discussing an ex-gratia payment.

The Government of Chile considers the referred claim for interest as inadmissible and rejects it, in the first place because it does not coincide with the nature of an "ex-gratia payment", agreed upon with the Government of the United States and the amount of which is to be determined by the Commission.

The "ex-gratia" payment, as its name suggests, does not stem from the fulfillment of a legally established obligation to indemnify, but, to the contrary, implies that the Government which offers it does not acknowledge that it is obliged to make payment, but rather does so for political and humanitarian reasons. Consequently, the "ex-gratia" payment cannot be determined by dating things back to bygone times before the offer. It must be calculated by means of the assessment of its amount from the moment in which, by agreement of the parties, that payment must be made. If it were not so, it would no longer be "ex-gratia", but would become an acknowledgement of responsibility, with the same effects of that declared by a condemnatory judicial decision.

The text of the "Agreement" subscribed to by both governments is very explicit in order to establish that, "without admitting liability, the Government of Chile, in order to facilitate the normalization of relations, is willing to make an 'ex-gratia' payment, subject to the provisions of Paragraph 5, to the Government of the United States of America, to be received on behalf of the families of the victims" (paragraph 3). According to paragraph 5, the commitment of the Government of Chile is that of making the "ex gratia" payment in accordance with "the amount of compensation as determined by the Commission", "as soon as possible and after the necessary legal requirements have been fulfilled, following the determination by the Commission." In both paragraphs, then, the idea is implicit concerning a present or current determination of that payment by the Commission, without retroactive effect.

It does not alter what has already been stated that, subject to paragraph 4 of the "Agreement", "the ex-gratia payment should be equal to that which be due if liability were established", since this paragraph has no other scope than to establish that the question of existence of responsibilities remains excluded from the controversy and from those matters which must be decided upon by the Commission; and the final phrase of the cited paragraph thus expresses as a consequence or corollary: "in light of the understandings set forth herein, the amount of the compensation to be paid shall be the sole question to be determined by the Commission." To understand that the Government of Chile would have accepted that the Commission could order benefits for delay in the payment would not only be contrary to the nature of the "ex-gratia" payment, (1) but also would mean authorizing the Commission to pass a condemnatory judgement as though it were a court of justice with according jurisdictional powers, which is inconsistent with the meaning and spirit of the agreement subscribed by both countries.

In summary, for the sole reason that we are dealing with an "ex-gratia" payment, to take into account interest is inappropriate, nor is it either appropriate according to what follows below.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

(b) The injurious act is not the cause of the obligation to pay compensation.

It is not distinctly perceivable what the relation of causality between the injurious act and the non-collection of interest might be. The damage that would be an immediate and direct consequence of that act are indemnifiable, because they are causally linked to it. But the non-collection of interest is not derived from that fact; it is not the direct and necessary result of the same, but rather of another event subsequent to its occurrence. The Presentation itself recognizes that it is dealing with "additional damage by virtue of the delay in receiving prompt payment." They would be, therefore, the consequence of another act different from that which caused the damage: that is, the delay of the payment of indemnification. This latter act can give rise to a specific penalty: that is, the order of payment of interest on arrears. But for that to happen, the debtor must be in default of payment, which in turn requires that the obligation be perfectly established, as to its existence as well as to its amount, and that payment of the same not be made within the term set by the parties themselves or by judicial decision. (2) Nothing of the sort occurs in the instant case.

In the case of the frigate Franklin, detained by Chile in 1832, the Governments of Chile and the United States settled their dispute through the Convention signed on September 10, 1858. (3) The obligation assumed by Chile in said Convention was that of compensating the losses suffered by the owners, the captain, and the other persons with interests in the frigate. However, there was no express acknowledgment of responsibility by the Government of Chile. In this case, it was expressly agreed upon to pay interest at the rate of 6% per annum, as of January 1, 1859 (Art.2). In this way only the delay in the approval of the Convention by the Chilean Congress was compensated .

UNCLASSIFIED

(c) The non-collection by the injured parties does not constitute a definite damage, but rather a merely hypothetical and possible damage.

The collection of interest is inadmissible, in the third place, because it is sustained on an erroneous concept of the principle on which it is founded.

The principle that compensation must be equivalent to the damage means, as previously explained, that it must not be less than the damage, nor greater. This implies that the compensation cannot constitute a source of gain or profit for the receiving party, in terms of procuring for said party a patrimonial benefit or gain which exceeds the amount of ascertainable damage suffered as the immediate and direct consequence of the injurious act.

Consequently, it is beyond doubt that such a principle must be kept in mind in determining the amount of compensation, and for that reason it is necessary to distinguish whether or not the amount is to be determined from the moment that the damage is produced or from the date in which its appraisal is made.

In the first case -- that is to say, if the amount of compensation is determined according to the value of the damage from the moment in which the detrimental act occurred -- it is lawful to adjust that value according to the devaluation which the nominal monetary unit has undergone, so that the injured party would thus receive a full compensation. But certainly that does not authorize adding interest to the amount of compensation, since in the field of economics as well as of law, interest is not a means of adjusting money to maintain its constant value, but rather typically constitute a profit, benefit, or gain produced on capital. As such, to apply interest on the amount of indemnification means failing to fulfill the principle on which the collection of the same is sustained, since interest is always a profit or gain, which increases that amount, and is not causally associated with the injurious act.

In the second case -- that is to say, when the amount of compensation is determined according to the value of the damage at the moment in which its assessment is made -- it is clear that no adjustment is applicable, since it is already so adjusted; nor is it admissible to add retroactive interest, because if that were done it would be granting a profit, benefit, or gain to the injured party equal to the amount of interest acknowledged to the party, clearly a breach of the principle mentioned above. In a word, that would mean granting a double indemnity. (4)

The presentation of the Government of the United States claims the application of a 10% interest per annum as of the year 1976, both on the amount of moral damages and, damages for personal injury as well as on direct expenses. With regard to the former, its inadmissibility is manifest if one considers that the valuation of the moral damage and personal injuries is made now, in 1991, and not according to the appraisal that might have been made of the same in 1976, so that adding 15 years of retroactive interest onto its current value is clearly increasing the amount in an artificial way and converting the interest into a net profit or gain in favor of the persons for whom it is claimed.

As refers to interest applied to what the Presentation calls "direct expenses", its rejection is imposed for the reasons previously indicated; i.e., because the interest claimed is not a means for avoiding monetary devaluation; and inasmuch as they constitute a source of profit or gain, it becomes inadmissible to add them on to the amount of such expenses. It would be appropriate, on the other hand, to adjust the amount in case of devaluation of the monetary unit in which the expenses were made; but the Presentation makes no petition to that effect, nor does it indicate the exact date in which they may have been made and commencing from when they should be adjusted, for which it is not appropriate for the Commission to make a determination thereon.

In the case of the USS Baltimore, originated by the deaths of United States sailors in the Chilean port of Valparaíso, the agreement between the two Governments contained elements of satisfaction as means of reparation of the damage caused, which suggested the responsibility of the State of Chile. At no time, however, was the payment of interest offered or claimed by the parties. (5)

In summary, the claim of interest is inadmissible according to the very principle on which it is founded.

(d) Interest may not arise from an unliquidated obligation.

What has just been explained leads to the question of delayed interest in the case of unliquidated debts.

Debts are unliquidated when they are not perfectly determined, whether in their existence or in their amount. They, exist, for example, when an act has occurred which can give rise to indemnification; but it is not known for certain whether the author of the act will be declared responsible for the same, nor what amount of indemnification must be paid.

As long as the debt remains unliquidated, the debtor cannot incur in delay, since this consists in the wrongful delay in payment of the quantity owed; such that when the obligation or its amount have not been previously determined, it is inadmissible to say that the debtor has wrongfully delayed payment; whenever this might occur it is necessary for the debtor to know that he is such, as well as the amount that is owed. Moreover, not even the creditor knows for sure what he has the right to claim.

UNCLASSIFIED

Hence, it is inferred that the unliquidated debts do not accrue interest, since the debtor of an unliquidated obligation cannot be held delinquent while it continues as such. Only once the obligation has been liquidated and the debtor legally required to make payment is default in payment established. (6)

When these principles of municipal law, recognized by the majority of civil legal orders, are applied to the present case, the inadmissibility of the claimed interest in the Presentation of the United States becomes evident, inasmuch as the obligation to compensate the damage is unliquidated, and thus its amount is not even known. Only once the Commission has determined the amount of the "ex-gratia" payment which Chile must effect will that amount be known and only then can there be delay, provided that payment is not made within the term set forth in the Agreement subscribed by both Governments.

The "second" Macedonian case serves both as a contrast to and as an illustration of, these ideas. It arose through the seizure by the Chilean Fleet of a cargo of silver from a United States citizen in 1821. The matter was submitted by the two Governments to the arbitration of the King of the Belgians, deciding ex aequo et bono, through a Convention signed on November 10th, 1858. (7) In said Convention the question of whether interest was owed on the appropriated capital was specifically submitted, as well as what the rate was to be, and as of what date payment of interest should be made.

The considerations of the arbitrator were the following:

"It is a fact that the sum seized amounted to 70,400 pesos or dollars;

"Whereas this sum proceeded from a transaction mutually undertaken and whose settlement should be made according to the terms set forth in the contract which took place between the parties on November 25th, 1819;

UNCLASSIFIED

(The product of the transaction was to be apportioned in 1/5 for Mr. Smith and 2/5 for his United States creditors.)

"Whereas the capture was groundless, the restitution of the seized capital must include with it the restitution of interest;

"Whereas, however, that until March 19th, 1841, the Government of the United States has done nothing to accelerate the settlement;

"Whereas, furthermore, that from December 26th, 1848, the High contracting Parties to the contract were in agreement in principle regarding the need for an arbitration".

The arbitrator, in his decision of May 15th, 1863, granted interest on the fractional part of the owed capital, at the rate of 6% per annum, but only from March 19th, 1841, to December 26th, 1848. (8)

Consequently, the damage suffered by the affected individuals was of a commercial and adjustable nature according to a contract previously agreed to. On this basis, the question of interest was expressly submitted for the decision of the arbitrator. (9) The arbitrator confirmed that the delay of payment of one State vis-a-vis another occurred only with the formal claim by the latter against the former.

(e) The interest claimed would amount to a lucrative compensation.

Without prejudice to what has been stated, it is worth taking into account the proposal referring to the claimed loss of interest sustained by the injured parties for the non-use of claimed sums from the date of the damage until that of its compensation, which is designated "additional damages by virtue of the delay in receiving prompt compensation."

The consideration of such "additional damages" is based on the erroneous assumption that money produces interest by the mere fact of its receipt. In order for money to produce interest -- that is, civil benefits -- it is essential to invest it or do business with it, either by lending it, depositing it, or entering into other legal acts capable of generating profits or benefits. That makes the increase of money possible; but it also involves the risk of deterioration or loss.

It cannot be accepted, therefore, that the affected parties have been prevented from earning 10% yearly interest for the mere fact of not having been able to make use of the money relevant to the compensation, and that for that reason they have automatically become adversely affected by a quantity equal to the amount of said interest.

The claim for interest set forth in the Presentation supposes or speculates that the injured parties would have allocated the money for the undertaking of lucrative investments, that these would always have been successful, and that they would have obtained an interest of 10% per annum. The non-collection of interest on those sums does not constitute, therefore, a certain or real damage, but rather one merely hypothetical or possible, that may or may not have occurred, and whose existence depends upon foretelling or speculating the above assumptions, which in law does not constitute a recoverable damage.

III. Conclusion.

In conclusion, we have confirmed that under applicable rules of international law, interests are not due as compensation in cases for physical damage, or the violent death of individuals. In cases of ex-gratia payments it is furthermore inappropriate to consider interest, given the nature of these payments. Nor a fortiori may interest be applied retroactively. This, no doubt, has been the intention of the parties.

Indeed, no causal relation is established between the injurious act and the payment of ex-gratia compensation, which underlines the inadmissibility of accounting for interest.

In cases of compensation arising from violent death of individuals, the granting of interest would be equivalent to double indemnity. This is confirmed by the principles applied in international decisions, according to which it is inadmissible to grant interest on this class of debts: a) since they are not liquid; and b) even if they were liquid, during the period prior to their diplomatic claim by one Government to another. The above is also based upon the principle of the equivalence between the damage and the compensation.

These conclusions uphold the consistent practice between the Governments of Chile and of the United States, in the sense that when the parties have intended to consider interest in the settlement of their disputes, they have expressly so stipulated in their agreements or conventions. In the instant case before the Commission, there is no stipulation whatsoever concerning the subject of interest.

It is therefore concluded that in the present situation the nature of the damage and the ex-gratia character of the payment must prevail, according to which the payment of interest by the Government of Chile to the Government of the United States on behalf of the affected families does not apply.

CHAPTER V.

CLAIM FOR LAWYERS' FEES AND EXPENSES.

Illegality of the claim for fees and expenses in accordance with the Agreement and Compromis subscribed between The United States of America and the Republic of Chile.

I. Introduction.

The Government of Chile has promised to make an ex gratia payment, determined by the Commission, as though responsibilities had been established for the State of Chile.

Since responsibility in the assassination of Mr. Orlando Letelier and of Mrs. Ronni K. Moffitt, occurring on September 21, 1976, is not acknowledged by the Government of Chile, it is evident that Chile cannot be considered as being obliged to pay lawyers' fees and direct expenses disbursed by several lawyers, the latter amounting to US$ 48,367.70.

II. The claim for lawyers' fees and expenses is unfounded.

The reasons by which it is not acceptable to order the payment of fees and other direct expenses disbursed by several lawyers, are the following:

(a) The Agreement and Compromis do not allow the claim.

The Agreement and Compromis, in no part establish that such expenses must be assumed by the parties. Moreover, in the diplomatic note, which gave rise to the current disagreement between the Government of the United States of America and the

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Government of Chile, the solution of which must be deemed settled once payment of the material compensation for the Presentation is determined, it was expressly indicated that the Government of the United States would not charge its expenses.

Among the costs of the fees claimed in the Presentation, there are important amounts related to the expenses and fees incurred in the preparation of the Presentation.

In fact, it is sought to charge the referred US$ 48,367.70, amount which includes US$ 4,422.45 resulting from direct expenses, according to what is indicated in Exhibit N° 20, which came about between June of 1990 and August of 1991.

It is evident that this expense arises exclusively from the preparation of the Presentation drafted by the Department of State, with the collaboration of lawyers, and Messrs. Karpen, Moffitt and Letelier.

No expense, whether by an individual or by an organism of the Government of the United States, that is needed to prepare the Presentation, can be claimed against the Government of Chile, who ex gratia has expressed itself in favor of paying a just compensation to the family members of those murdered on September of 1976.

The same thing applies to the claims presented by Mr. Buffone or the Department of State for US$ 78,075.30, arising from Mr. Eden's work and the NERA reports which were used in preparing the Presentation, as indicated in Exhibit N° 19.

(b) Payment of fees and expenses is not due in cases of ex gratia payment.

The payment to be determined by the Commission is an ex gratia act, and obviously a voluntary act, intended to normalize relations between the two States. Therefore, the expenses made by one party cannot be claimed so that the Commission may act in a certain way.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The sole act of requesting payment for expenses and legal fees reveals the mistaken conception that the Government of the United States of America has given to its Presentation.

The Government of the United States of America should convince itself that it is not at trial against a Government that acts outside of international law. The Government of Chile has graciously consented to pay compensation for the damage suffered by the family members of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt. It is for that reason that the Government of Chile is not only found to be within the norms of international law, but also is cooperating toward the harmony that should exist in international relations.

It is evident that the costs of said acts are the responsibility of each of the parties.

As precedents, in the disputes that Chile has circumstantially had with the Government of the United States of America, as are, the "Franklin" case, the "Macedonian" case, and the "Baltimore" case, it has never happened that either of the parties assumed a special cost for fees and expenses.

Indeed, on June 21, 1859, the National Congress approved the Agreement that had been negotiated, concluded and signed on September 10, 1858, between the Republic of Chile and the United States of America. By virtue of said Agreement, the Government paid the sum of CH$ 15,000, Chilean currency of the time, as "an indemnification" equitably due to the owners, the Captain and other interested parties in the American whaler "Franklin", which had been detained in Talcahuano in 1832 under suspicion of violation of Chilean customs laws -- said sum having to be considered by all interested parties in that ship as total payment for all the losses experienced and for the expenses they incurred as a consequence of their detention in Talcahuano in the year 1832.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The Macedonian Case was submitted to the arbitration of His Majesty the King of Belgium, in accordance with the agreement signed on November 10, 1858, who should have established, among other matters, whether the Government of Chile, in addition to the principal sum, should pay interest over this amount, and if so, what was the rate and from what date was it to be paid. No question regarding expenses or costs was established between the parties.

In the Baltimore Case, the Government of the United States of America and the Government of Chile agreed to arbitration in order to resolve the problem that had arisen, which arbitration did take place. The Government of Chile agreed to pay to the Government of the United States of America, the amount of CH $75,000 in gold, without consideration of additional costs and expenses.

In these cases between both Governments, directly or through arbitration, the expenses of the respective Governments have not been considered, be they for preparation or of any other nature. It follows from this that in the relations between both States, it is not in order to claim for the payment of expenses related to the preparation of presentations or complaints, since in the respective agreements, nothing has been stipulated to that effect.

(c) The payment of lawyer fees and expenses is not due, since there has been no litiscontestation between the parties.

The collection of such expenses or costs, implies placing the party obliged to pay, in a position of having been defeated in a "litiscontestation" before a competent international tribunal.

UNCLASSIFIED

No international litigation of this kind exists between both States, nor has the Commission been given full jurisdiction to be acquainted with the diplomatic dispute.

Therefore, no nation is either successful or defeated. The latter is the one who should cover the expenses of the victory.

This is yet another reason to reject the payment claimed by the Government of the United States of America.

(d) The payment of costs incurred prior to the proceedings before the Commission.

It is inappropriate to pay the fees of the lawyers hired by the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt and other expenses they incurred for court proceedings and of any other nature, prior to the date of the Agreement subscribed between both Governments.

The order to pay costs, according to the generally accepted principles of law, consists in redressing the damage caused by the trial, if the defendant does not voluntarily proceed to make reparation. Obliging the victim to obtain legal recognition of his right, the offender has caused the victim a new damage, concerning the expenses claimed for the prosecution of the action. Likewise, this order will be borne by the liable third parties, since they are responsible for all the damaging consequences of the act committed by the perpetrator of the crime. (Theoretical and Practical Treaty of Public, Criminal and Contractual Responsibility. Henri and León Mazeaud - André Tunc. Third Book. Volume I. Fifth Edition, Ediciones Jurídicas [Legal Editions]).

However, the State of Chile does not have any pending lawsuit related to the indemnification of damages for events occurring on September 21, 1976, affecting the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier and Ronni K. Moffitt.

UNCLASSIFIED

Furthermore, in the trial sustained by said family members with the participation of the lawyers Messrs. Michael Tigar and Samuel J. Buffone before the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, notwithstanding having directed themselves against the State of Chile and in which they did not take part, the Government of Chile was not ordered to pay costs, as recognized in the declaration made by the lawyer, Mr. Buffone, in Exhibit N° 20 of the Presentation.

The proceeding in which the ex gratia Compensation to be paid by the State of Chile is fixed, cannot be deemed to be a judicial proceeding and the family members of the murder victims, occurring on September 21, 1976, are not parties to the proceeding nor do they have a right to claim costs and expenses of any nature.

In accordance with the principle indicated previously, the Government of Chile has, with the United States of America, agreed to submitting the question of the ex gratia payment, as concerns its amount, to the Commission. Therefore, there has never been a refusal of payment of a compensation agreed upon by both States.

On the other hand, in their particular lawsuit, the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier and Mrs. Ronni Moffitt could pursue the collection of costs and expenses against those liable defendants, natural persons, that were sentenced to pay. The Government of Chile is unaware that they have taken actions in this direction.

The Government of Chile is only bound to submit itself to the jurisdiction of the courts of its own country, in conformity with the procedures established by the Political Constitution of the Republic of Chile and the laws pertaining to legal process. Since it does not accept the jurisdiction of the United States Court for the District of Columbia, it would never be obliged to pay for costs and expenses of this lawsuit as sought by the Presentation.

Similarly, the refusal of the Government of Chile to comply with a verdict of a court of the United States of America, cannot lead, in accordance with the principles and standards of international law, to the payment of the costs of this lawsuit, since that would be contrary to a principle of international law regarding the immunity of jurisdiction, without detriment to that it would also be in violation of a standard of Chilean Public Law.

(e) The payment of lobbying expenses before the U.S. legislature is not due.

It also appears odd and thus the Government of Chile rejects any attempt to claim costs and expenses which the lawyers of the family members of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt would have incurred, for the intention of modifying the statutes of the United States of America, specifically, the "Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act" in negotiations carried out in 1984.

The foregoing explanation should be considered absurd, inasmuch as it expects that the cost of amending laws of the United of States of America should be assumed by a foreign State.

It is illustrative, for the Members of the Commission, to remember that it was Mr. Orlando Letelier, in his capacity as Minister of Foreign Relations of Chile, who lead the defense of the principle of jurisdictional immunity before the foreign Courts of its time when they attempted to place an attachment on the possessions of the State of Chile, specifically as a result of the nationalization of copper mines being exploited by foreign companies of United States nationality.

In conclusion, it is absolutely inappropriate that through the Presentation's claims, the Government of the United States seeks to increase the amount of the ex gratia compensation with the additional cost of the fees and expenses of the private attorneys of the Letelier and Moffitt families, without prejudicing the right they have to pursue payment of the fees and expenses decreed by the judgement of the Court of the United States against the individuals who were convicted by said tribunal. Likewise, the additional charge for negotiations related to amendment of the 1976 Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act or before the Department of State, does not proceed and it is especially contrary to the Agreement and Compromis of June 11, 1990 to include expenses and fees that are subsequent to the subscription of a diplomatic agreement that put an end to a dispute between both States.

CHAPTER VI.

A FAIR AND REASONABLE COMPENSATION.

I. Theoretical Basis.

(a) The Government of Chile believes that a prudent compensation involves payment to the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier and Mrs. Ronni Karpen Moffitt, which lessens or alleviates their damages, associated with the actual damages (damnum emergens) and loss of profits (lucrum cessans), as well as moral damage. This compensation is not the same as an indemnification, since the latter's purpose would be to leave the family members of the bomb attack victims, occurring in Washington D.C. on September 21, 1976, undamaged.

(b) This prudent compensation takes into consideration the efforts the Government of Chile is making, to redress the damages of political violence that occurred, in connection with the Chilean Government from 1973 until 1990. These efforts would necessarily include the compensation to be paid to the family members of the victims of the previously mentioned bomb attack.

(c) As well, a prudent compensation should be fixed within the scope of the ex gratia payment made by the Government of Chile, without admitting liability and as a way of reestablishing full diplomatic relations between both Governments.

UNCLASSIFIED

(d) Lastly, a prudent compensation takes into consideration all of the information, allegations and arguments contained in the Presentation and in the previously formulated Observations.

II. Compensation to the family members of Mr. Orlando Letelier del Solar.

(a) Income before his return to Chile.

In calculating a prudent compensation for material damages suffered by the family members, the basis used is the approximate remuneration that Mr. Letelier received at the I.P.S. at the date of his death, as indicated in the Presentation.

Said remuneration is calculated until 1990, presuming that Mr. Letelier would have returned to Chile at this time, with the object of incorporating himself into the transitional process towards democracy, for which he carried out active work at an international level, as shown in Chapter III.

(b) Income after his return to Chile.

After 1990, it is estimated that he would have received remuneration equivalent to that of a Minister of State of the Republic of Chile; and, from the age of 65, at which time he would have retired, he would have received a retirement payment until the age of 74.

In both cases, it states that Mr. Letelier would have spent 40% of his income on family activities, which corresponds to the material damage and the loss of profits (lucrum cessans) of his wife and children, considering the time at which the latter would normally be independent.

Summary:

(1)	Before returning to Chile: (1990)
	US$ 308,333	40 %	=	US$ 143,333
(2)	After returning to Chile:
	Salary as a Minister of State	40 %	=	CH$ 20.160.000
	Retirement Pension	40 %	=	CH$ 6.480.000
				CH$ 26.640.000

This last amount, up to this moment, is currently equivalent to approximately US$ 74,000.

	1.	US$	143,333
+	2.	US$	74,000
T o t a l		US$	217,333

(c) Moral Damage.

This is calculated on the highest indemnification (not compensation) that the State of Chile would be ordered to pay in a lawsuit before the Chilean courts, approximately CH$ 50.000.000.---, equivalent to US$ 138,000.---- .

As a result, the family of Mr. Orlando Letelier, consisting of his wife and his four children, could receive the amount of US$ 355,333.---------- .

The Government of Chile, believes that the distribution of said amount should be made between the family at their own decision, inasmuch as there is a lack of information in order to indicate the amount that each one of its members would receive or to weigh the factors that would allow them to establish differences between them.

III. Mr. Michael Moffitt's Compensation.

The Government of Chile only acknowledges payment of moral damages, since no estimates nor requisites for claiming material damages are given.

The moral damage caused by the death of his spouse are assessed at US$ 200,000.---------- and the personal injury at US$ 50,000.----------, all in accordance with the Observations formulated in the preceding Chapters, II and III.

IV. Compensation to the parents of Mrs. Ronni Karpen Moffitt.

The Government of Chile believes that the only reasonable and prudent compensation that could be paid to Mrs. Hilda and to Mr. Murray Karpen amount to US$ 70,000.-------, all in conformity with the observations formulated in the previously mentioned Chapters II and III and in the cases examined.

V. Maximum Limit.

The Government of Chile, according to what has been stated in the present Chapter, believes that the maximum amount that should be paid to the Government of the United States of America, in accordance to the Agreement and Compromis, amounts to US$ 675,333.----, without payment of interest of any kind or surcharge for costs and fees.

The amount referred, to will be paid as set forth in the Agreement and Compromis, that is "as soon as possible and after the necessary legal requirements have been fulfilled following the determination by the Commission." (Point 5 of the Agreement).

2. AGENDA ITEM 1 - ELECTION OF VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS. KAREL WAGNER, CHAIRMAN OF THE CZECH AND SLOVAK ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY COMMISSION WAS ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION TO REPLACE RETIRING VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD, STANISLAV HAVEL. THE PHILIPPINE REPRESENTATIVE, ALTHOUGH AGREEING TO WAGNER'S ELECTION, STATED THAT THE G-77 WAS UNDERREPRESENTED IN THE BUREAU AND FOR THIS REASON SUGGESTED THAT IN THE FUTURE THIS SHOULD BE TAKEN INTO CONSIDERATION IN THE ELECTION OF BUREAU MEMBERS.

3. AGENDA ITEM 2 - THE ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1989. CHAIRMAN ENDO STATED THAT THE REPORT AS CONTAINED IN GOV/2440 WAS MODIFIED TO DELETE SAFEGUARDS LANGUAGE OBJECTIONABLE TO SOME MEMBERS OF THE BOARD. THE WORDING ON THIS REMAINED THE SAME AS THAT IN THE 1988 ANNUAL REPORT.

THE COUNTRIES COMMENTING ON THIS AGENDA ITEM, ON JUNE 11, INCLUDED: ITALY, INDIA, JAPAN, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, THE NETHERLANDS, THF UNITED KINGDOM, CHINA, CHILE, GHANA, FRANCE, THE GERMAN DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC, THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY, NIGERIA, MEXICO, THE USSR, TUNISIA, IRAQ, PAKISTAN AND POLAND.

ALL APPROVED THE ANNUAL REPORT WITH MOST COMMENDING THE SECRETARIAT ON THE FORMAT AND CONTENT OF THE REPORT. CHINA, CHILE, NIGERIA, IRAQ AND PAKISTAN COMMENTED ON THE NEGATIVE EFFECT OF ZERO REAL GROWTH ON THE AGENCY'S PROGRAM. THE NETHERLANDS STATED THAT THEY PRESENTLY SUPPORT THE ZERO REAL GROWTH POLICY BUT ARE REVIEWING THEIR POSITION. THE USSR STATED THAT IN THEIR VIEW, ZERO REAL GROWTH WAS UNCLASSIFIED

ONLY SYMBOLIC IN LIGHT OF THE ACTUAL INCREASE IN VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS TO TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE AND INCREASE IN AGENCY STAFFING SINCE THIS POLICY WAS INITIATED.

4. ITALY REGRETTED THE LACK OF PROGRESS ON THE ISSUE OF INTERNATIONAL DOSE LEVELS AND TRANSBOUNDARY EFFECTS OF NUCLEAR INCIDENTS BUT COMMFNDED THE INCREASE IN OSART MISSIONS AND HOPED THAT THERE WOULD BE A LIKE INCREASE IN ASSET MISSIONS IN 1990.

5. INDIA EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH THE DELETION OF WHAT THEY CONSIDERED UNDESIRABLE LANGUAGE IN THE SAFEGUARDS SECTION, NOTING THAT THIS DELETION DEMONSTRATED SENSITIVITY TO INDIA'S CONCERNS.

6. JAPAN REGRETTED THE DECREASE IN THE TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE SUPPLEMENTATION RATE, COMMENDED THE OSART AND RAPAT MISSIONS AND THE AGENCY'S ACTIVITIES IN THE AREAS OF NUCLEAR LIABILITY AND DUMPING OF NUCLEAR WASTE. JAPAN STRONGLY SUPPORTED THE AGENCY'S ROLE JN PUBLIC AWARENESS, MENTIONING JAPAN'S VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS TO THIS ACTIVITY. JAPAN ALSO EXPRESSED SUPPORT FOR THE NEXT PHASE OF THE ITER PROJECT.

7. THE NETHERLANDS REMARKED THAT IT COULD SEE NO DISTINCTION BETWEEN THE AGENCY'S PROMOTIONAL AND REGULATORY ACTIVITIES SINCE BOTH ARE IN THE INTERESTS OF ALL MEMBER STATES.

8. THE UK COMMENDED THE AGENCY ON ITS OSART MISSIONS, STATING THAT THE OSART MISSION TO THE UK IN JULY 1989 WAS BENEFICIAL TO THE UK.

TAGS: PREL, ECON, ETRD, CU, NU, ES, UR, US
SUBJECT: SOVIET VIEWS ON CENTRAL AMERICA AND CUBA

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT

2. ACTION REQUEST -- SEE PARA 6.

/------

"SPECIAL TREATMENT" FOR CUBA

4. IN A JUNE 15 MEETING WITH MFA LATIN AMERICA ADMINISTRATION CHIEF YURIY PAVLOV, POLCOUNS NOTED THAT THE SOVIETS WERE PLANNING TO CONDUCT TRADE WITH THEIR WARSAW PACT PARTNERS ON A WORLD PRICE, HARD CURRENCY BASIS BEGINNING IN JANUARY 1991, AND ASKED IF THIS WOULD APPLY TO CUBA AS WELL. PAVLOV SAID IT WOULD, BUT ADDED THAT COMECON HAD AGREED TO GIVE CUBA, MONGOLIA, AND VIET NAM "SPECIAL TREATMENT," SO THAT THESE LESS DEVELOPED ECONOMIES WOULD NOT BE DISRUPTED. HE WAS RATHER VAGUE ON HOW THIS WOULD BE ACCOMPLISHED, NOTING ONLY THAT THE SHIFT TO A NEW PRICING SYSTEM WOULD BE GRADUAL, WITH "SOME ARRANGEMENTS" INVOLVING CREDITS. ALL FUTURE CREDITS

WOULD BE IN TERMS OF HARD CURRENCY, HOWEVER. PAVLOV AGREED THAT SOVIET PARLIAMENTARY LEADERS SUCH AS YELTSIN MAY PUSH TO DECREASE FOREIGN AID, BUT MAINTAINED THAT THIS WOULD DEPEND ON REDUCTIONS IN THE U.S. MILITARY BUDGET, WHICH WERE NOW PROCEEDING VERY SLOWLY.

CUBANS MORE MODERATE ON EL SALVADOR?

5. PAVLOV SAID THAT DURING HIS VISIT TO HAVANA LAST MONTH HE FOUND THE CUBANS "QUITE POSITIVE" ON SUPPORTING THE SYG'S EFFORTS TO BRING ABOUT A CEASE-FIRE IN EL SALVADOR IN SEPTEMBER. HE NOTED THAT THEY HAD TOLD UN ENVOY DE SOTO THAT THEY WERE SUPPORTING MODERATE ELEMENTS WITHIN THE FMLN, A SIGNIFICANT STEP ACCORDING TO PAVLOV, SINCE THE CUBANS HAD NEVER MADE SUCH A STATEMENT BEFORE. PAVLOV ASSERTED THAT THERE WAS NOW A GOOD CHANCE FOR INVOLVING THE CUBANS IN THE PEACE PROCESS, POSSIBLY WITHIN A FRAMEWORK PROPOSED LAST YEAR, I.E., THAT THE CUBANS SHOULD PARTICIPATE ALONG WITH THE SOVIET UNION AND THE U.S. IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS' FORUM. SUCH A MOVE AWAITED ONLY A POSITIVE SIGNAL FROM THE U.S., WHICH HAS PREVIOUSLY REJECTED THE IDEA. PAVLOV CRITICIZED THE U.S. FOR PUBLICLY STATING THAT CUBA MUST MEET CERTAIN CONDITIONS BEFORE TALKS CAN BEGIN, THEREFORE "TYING YOUR HANDS."

SOVIETS SEEK INFORMATION ON NICARAGUAN NEEDS

EVEN BEFORE THE DEFEAT OF THE SANDINISTAS--BUT CONCEDED THAT THE ELECTION RESULTS HAD GIVEN NEW AMMUNITION TO THOSE OPPOSING CONTINUED AID. PAVLOV SAID THAT IN ORDER TO PRESENT A MORE EFFECTIVE ARGUMENT FOR AID TO NICARAGUA, AND TO AVOID DUPLICATION OF EFFORTS, HE WOULD APPRECIATE ANY INFORMATION WE COULD PROVIDE REGARDING THE TYPE OF AID THE U.S. IS PROVIDING AND THE SPECIFIC NEEDS OF NICARAGUA. (ACTION REQUEST: COULD DEPARTMENT PLEASE PROVIDE ANY INFORMATION WE COULD PASS TO PAVLOV IN THIS REGARD.)

7. IT IS PLAUSIBLE, GIVEN THE POST-SUMMIT EMPHASIS HERE ON "PARTNERSHIP" WITH THE U.S., THAT THE MFA WOULD INDEED ARGUE FOR CONTINUING AID TO NICARAGUA IN COORDINATION WITH AMERICAN EFFORTS. IN OUR VIEW, THE APPEARANCE OF SUCH NEW THINKING IN THE RELATIVELY CONSERVATIVE, HIDEBOUND SOVIET LATIN AMERICA POLICY-MAKING APPARATUS SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED.

SUBJECT: SOVIET VIEWS ON CENTRAL AMERICA AND CUBA

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT

2. ACTION REQUEST -- SEE PARA 6.

/------

MOSCOW 2ØØ2Ø Ø1 OF Ø2 171201Z Ø22668 7Ø9Ø28
ACCOMPLISHED, NOTING ONLY THAT THE SHIFT TO A NEW PRICING SYSTEM WOULD BE GRADUAL, WITH "SOME ARRANGEMENTS" INVOLVING CREDITS. ALL FUTURE CREDITS WOULD BE IN TERMS OF HARD CURRENCY, HOWEVER. PAVLOV AGREED THAT SOVIET PARLIAMENTARY LEADERS SUCH AS YELTSIN MAY PUSH TO DECREASE FOREIGN AID, BUT MAINTAINED THAT THIS WOULD DEPEND ON REDUCTIONS IN THE U.S. MILITARY BUDGET, WHICH WERE NOW PROCEEDING VERY SLOWLY.

CUBANS MORE MODERATE ON EL SALVADOR?

5. PAVLOV SAID THAT DURING HIS VISIT TO HAVANA LAST MONTH HE FOUND THE CUBANS "QUITE POSITIVE" ON SUPPORTING THE SYG'S EFFORTS TO BRING ABOUT A CEASE-FIRE IN EL SALVADOR IN SEPTEMBER. HE NOTED THAT THEY HAD TOLD UN ENVOY DE SOTO THAT THEY WERE SUPPORTING MODERATE ELEMENTS WITHIN THE FMLN, A SIGNIFICANT STEP ACCORDING TO PAVLOV, SINCE THE CUBANS HAD NEVER MADE SUCH A STATEMENT BEFORE. PAVLOV ASSERTED THAT THERE WAS NOW A GOOD CHANCE FOR INVOLVING THE CUBANS IN THE PEACE PROCESS, POSSIBLY WITHIN A FRAMEWORK PROPOSED LAST YEAR, I.E., THAT THE CUBANS SHOULD PARTICIPATE ALONG WITH THE SOVIET UNION AND THE U.S. IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS' FORUM. SUCH A MOVE AWAITED ONLY A POSITIVE SIGNAL FROM THE U.S., WHICH HAS PREVIOUSLY REJECTED THE IDEA. PAVLOV CRITICIZED THE U.S. FOR PUBLICLY STATING THAT CUBA MUST MEET CERTAIN CONDITIONS BEFORE TALKS CAN BEGIN, THEREFORE "TYING YOUR HANDS."

6. PAVLOV SAID HIS MINISTRY WAS "PRESSURING" SOVIET ECONOMIC ORGANS TO CONTINUE ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TO NICARAGUA, BUT WAS RUNNING INTO DIFFICULTY. HE MAINTAINED THAT THERE WAS NO IDEOLOGICAL PROBLEM--IN FACT, THE ECONOMIC BODIES FAVORED CUTTING AID TO NICARAGUA EVEN BEFORE THE DEFEAT OF THE

SUBJECT: DEATH CASE OF MICHAEL VERNON DEVINE

1. USCIT MICHAEL VERNON DEVINE, DPOB 07/24/41 KANSAS, A LONG-TIME GUATEMALA RESIDENT, WAS KIDNAPPED AND MURDERED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS ON JUNE 8, 1990 NEAR HIS FARM IN POPTUN, DISTRICT OF PETEN, GUATEMALA. EMBASSY DUTY OFFICER WAS NOTIFIED OF THE DEATH AT 11:00 P.M. ON JUNE 8 BY A FAMILY FRIEND, DENNIS WHEELER, WHO LIVES IN ANTIGUA.

2. MR. WHEELER REPORTED TO EMBOFF THAT ROBBERY APPARENTLY WAS THE MOTIVE FOR THE ATTACK. MR. DEVINE, HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN HAVE LIVED IN GUATEMALA SINCE 1971. MR. DEVINE WAS BURIED IN GUATEMALA. A SON, WHO IS A STUDENT IN THE U.S., HAS BEEN NOTIFIED OF THE DEATH OF HIS FATHER.

3. ON JUNE 9 EMBOFF CONTACTED THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE NATIONAL POLICE IN GUATEMALA CITY AS WELL AS THE NATIONAL POLICE IN CHARGE OF THE DISTRICT OF PETEN FOR DETAILS. TELEPHONE SERVICE BETWEEN POPTUN AND GUATEMALA CITY IS VERY LIMITED. NATIONAL POLICE IN PETEN DEPEND LARGELY ON RADIO COMMUNICATION. SEVERAL SECTIONS OF THE EMBASSY ARE MAINTAINING CONTACTS WITH APPROPRIATE GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO OBTAIN OFFICIAL INFORMATION AND REPORTS.

4. MR. WHEELER TOLD EMBOFF THAT HE AND THE WIDOW, MRS. DEVINE, WILL TRAVEL TO GUATEMALA CITY FROM POPTUN ON JUNE 11. THEY WILL VISIT THE EMBASSY ON JUNE 12 TO MAKE A REPORT, AND TO PRESENT DOCUMENTS NECESSARY TO ISSUE THE OF-180, REPORT OF DEATH OF AN AMERICAN CITIZEN ABROAD.

5. NO PRIVACY ACT AUTHORIZED.

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Guillermo Ungo and Ruben Zamora

You are meeting on Thursday with Guillermo Ungo and Victor Valle of the National Revolutionary Movement and Ruben Zamora and Hector Silva of the Popular Social Christian Movement. While in Washington Ungo and Zamora will participate in the Georgetown University conference being organized by Father Currie.

The following issues are likely to be raised:

Peace Talks. The GOES and the FMLN began the second round of talks on June 19 in Mexico. At this session they will begin actual negotiations of reform items on the agenda agreed upon during the first round in May. What do Ungo/Zamora expect out of this round?

FMLN Violence. We have reports of FMLN planning for another offensive. Do Ungo/Zamora believe this to be true? What would the FMLN hope to gain?

FMLN/Parties' Consultation. Representatives of Salvadoran political parties met with the FMLN in Caracas after the GOES/FMLN round ended, as part of the "consultation" process, and plan to do the same after the Mexico round. Reporting suggests that ARENA may try to resist any changes to the electoral law which would jeopardize their hold on the three branches of government. Are the FMLN/party meetings a useful exercise? Are the parties developing a consensus on key issues, like electoral reform?

Oqueli Murder. During the Central American summit Cerezo gave Cristiani a copy of the GOG's report on Hector Oqueli's murder. While we do not yet have a copy of the report, according to our Embassy in Guatemala, the report concludes that the murderers are right-wing Salvadorans but offers no proof. Do you have any further information on the killing?

REF: A) STATE 199095 B) GUATEMALA 7222 C) GUATEMALA 7088

1. ON JUNE 20, 1990, CAROLE A. DEVINE, WIFE OF MICHAEL VERNON DEVINE, SIGNED A PRIVACY ACT WAIVER WITH THE FOLLOWING RESTRICTION: QUOTE I DO NOT WISH ANY INFORMATION DIVULGED WHICH WOULD JEOPARDIZE THE SECURITY OF MYSELF OR OUR CHILDREN, FOR INSTANCE WHERE WE ARE CURRENTLY STAYING, TELEPHONE NUMBER OR WITH WHOM UNQUOTE.

2. THE WAIVER AUTHORIZES RELEASE OF INFORMATION TO: 1) ANY RELATIVE. 2) ONLY THE FOLLOWING RELATIVES: [redacted] B6 (EMBASSY RECOGNIZES THE INCONSISTENCY CONCERNING FAMILY MEMBERS). 3) ANY MEMBER OF CONGRESS. 4) REPRESENTATIVES OF THE MEDIA.

3. EMBASSY RECEIVED A REPORT DATED JUNE 13, 1990 FROM THE GUATEMALAN NATIONAL POLICE, DEPARTMENT OF PETEN, WHICH ALLEGES THAT THOSE RESPONSABLE FOR THE DEATH OF MICHAEL VERNON DEVINE ARE JOSE VICENTE CORNELIO AND SEVERAL UNKNOWN PERSONS. ACCORDING TO THE POLICE REPORT, MICHAEL DEVINE SHOT JOSE VICENTE CORNELIO IN THE LEG ON MAY 23, 1985 WHEN THE LATTER WAS CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF STEALING CHICKENS FROM THE DEVINE FARM. FOLLOWING THE SHOOTING, MR. DEVINE PAID FOR THE MEDICAL EXPENSES OF JOSE VICENTE CORNELIO AS WELL AS COMPENSATION FOR THE TIME THAT MR. VICENTE WAS UNABLE TO WORK.

4. THE POLICE REPORT RAISES A NUMBER OF UNANSWERED QUESTIONS CONCERNING CONCLUSIONS MADE BY THE GUATEMALAN INVESTIGATORS. FOR INSTANCE, THE REPORT INCLUDES STATEMENTS WHICH ARE PREFACED WITH QUOTE IT WAS ESTABLISHED UNQUOTE AND QUOTE IT WAS CONCLUDED UNQUOTE, WITHOUT PROVIDING SUBSTANTIATING EVIDENCE.

5. MRS. DEVINE AND FRIENDS OF MICHAEL DEVINE QUESTION THE POLICE REPORT, SINCE THE INCIDENT INVOLVING JOSE VICENTE CORNELIO OCCURRED OVER FIVE YEARS AGO AND, SINCE THE INCIDENT, THERE SEEMED TO BE NO ILL FEELING BETWEEN THE TWO.

6. MRS. DEVINE HAS EMPLOYED THE SERVICES OF A U. S. CITIZEN NAMED CARL WEST TO INVESTIGATE HER HUSBAND'S MURDER. MR. WEST IS A SECURITY CONSULTANT WHO LIVES IN GUATEMALA.

SUBJECT: SOVIETS EXPRESS WILLINGNESS TO DEAL ON CUBA

2. YURIY PAVLOV HAS INDICATED THAT THE SOVIETS ARE READY TO SERIOUSLY TALK ABOUT CUBA AND WOULD LIKE OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION THAT THE A/S ARONSON IS PREPARED TO DISCUSS POSSIBLE CHANGES IN U.S. POLICY IN THEIR UPCOMING MEETING. HE SAID HE NEEDED THIS ASSURANCE BEFORE HE COULD APPROACH SOVIET MILITARY OFFICIALS AND THE CUBANS. PAVLOV APPEARED TO ENDORSE PROPOSALS RECENTLY APPEARING IN THE U.S.

PRESS WHICH SUGGEST A U.S. PROMISE NOT TO INVADE CUBA AND AN AMERICAN WITHDRAWAL FROM GUANTANAMO BAY IN EXCHANGE FOR A SOVIET WITHDRAWAL. PAVLOV'S MAIN CONCERN SEEMED TO BE THAT ANY U.S.-SOVIET AGREEMENT NOT APPEAR TO PROVIDE FOR AN EMIGRE-LED GOVERNMENT IN HAVANA. TURNING TO EL SALVADOR, PAVLOV NOTED THAT THE SOVIETS HAD ASKED THE CUBANS AND THE FMLN TO REFRAIN FROM OFFENSIVE ACTIONS. PAVLOV REQUESTS THAT A/S ARONSON PROPOSE SPECIFIC DATES FOR THEIR MEETING IN JULY. END SUMMARY.

4. ASKING IF WE COULD "CONFIRM THAT THIS STILL STANDS," PAVLOV SAID THAT IF SO, "WE WILL ALSO TRY TO MAKE SOME PREPARATIONS IN THAT SENSE." NOTING THAT HE HAD MADE CLEAR THAT THE SOVIETS COULD NOT "NEGOTIATE BEHIND CUBA'S BACK," PAVLOV SAID IT HAD BEEN UNDERSTOOD THAT THE SOVIETS WOULD KEEP CUBA INFORMED. PAVLOV NOTED THAT THIS DISCUSSION HAD

Department of State

TAKEN PLACE IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT, WITH NSC STAFFERS PRESENT, AND HE THEREFORE ASSUMED THAT THESE WERE MORE THAN JUST OFF-THE-RECORD REMARKS. NEVERTHELESS, IN ORDER TO "MAKE IT EASIER FOR US TO TALK TO PEOPLE IN THE DEFENSE MINISTRY AND ALSO TO CUBA," PAVLOV SAID HE WOULD APPRECIATE OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION OF THIS U.S. POSITION. HE ADDED THAT HE HAD ALREADY DISCUSSED SOME OF THESE IDEAS WITH THE CUBANS DURING HIS SUBSEQUENT VISIT TO HAVANA, AND THAT HE HAD THE IMPRESSION THAT "THEY WERE ALSO THINKING ALONG THESE LINES."

5. POLCOUNS NOTED THAT IT MIGHT BE DIFFICULT TO CONVINCE THE CUBANS TO ACCEPT THE IDEA OF A DECREASED THREAT, SINCE THESE "THREATS" PROVIDE JUSTIFICATION FOR THE CONTINUATION OF MILITARY AID. PAVLOV RESPONDED THAT THIS DEPENDS ON HOW MUCH THE U.S. WANTS TO HELP CONVINCE CASTRO OF THE LESSENED THREAT. HE CITED AN ADDRESS BY AN ACADEMIC AT THE RECENT CONFERENCE HE ATTENDED IN MIAMI WHICH PROPOSED THAT THE U.S. DECLARE THAT IT WOULD NOT INVADE CUBA, THAT IT WITHDRAW FROM GUANTANAMO BAY, AND THAT THE SOVIETS WITHDRAW AS WELL, WITH CASTRO THEN "ALLOWED TO GO TO HIS FATE." PAVLOV NOTED THAT HE HAD PUBLICLY SPOKEN IN SUPPORT OF THIS NOTION. HE THEN CITED A RECENT "TIME" MAGAZINE ARTICLE, AND A JUNE 8 ARTICLE IN THE "MIAMI HERALD," WHICH HINTED THAT CUBAN EMIGRE LEADERS IN MIAMI "WERE THINKING ABOUT SOME CHANGE IN U.S. POLICY TOWARD CUBA, TO MAKE IT LESS HOSTILE, AND SEE WHAT HAPPENS." PAVLOV ADDED THAT HE WAS NOT SURE WHETHER OR NOT THIS REFLECTED THINKING IN HIGHER CIRCLES.

6. PAVLOV SAID HE DID NOT AGREE THAT CUBA HAD NO INTEREST IN A DECREASE OF TENSIONS. WHILE HE CONCEDED THAT THE CUBAN LEADERSHIP WAS USING "THE

Department of State

UNCLASSIFIED

IMAGE OF THE WOLF NEARBY" TO MAINTAIN STRICT CONTROLS INTERNALLY. HE ARGUED THAT THE HIGH STATE OF MILITARY PREPAREDNESS WAS ALSO VERY COSTLY FOR THE CUBANS, AND THAT "ON THE WHOLE THEY ARE VERY TIRED OF THAT SITUATION, ON BALANCE THEY WOULD PROBABLY WELCOME THE PROPOSALS." HE NOTED THAT THE CUBANS WERE EXPERIENCING MORE AND MORE ECONOMIC PROBLEMS, POINTING OUT THAT THE CUBANS HAVE BEEN UNABLE TO SUPPLY THE FULL QUOTA OF SUGAR TO THE EAST EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AND AS A RESULT THOSE COUNTRIES WERE CUTTING EXPORTS TO CUBA. "THIS IS NOT JUST A POLITICAL PROBLEM," HE ASSERTED.

7. PAVLOV THEN TURNED TO THE "TIME" ARTICLE, QUOTING A PASSAGE REFERRING TO CUBA WHICH PROPOSED THAT "IT MIGHT FINALLY BE TIME TO SAY 'DIFFERENT,' AND SUGGESTING THAT "TESTING GORBACHEV'S REASONING MAY BE RISK-FREE." PAVLOV AGAIN MENTIONED THE "MIAMI HERALD" ARTICLE, WHICH HE SAID PROPOSED "SOMETHING ALONG THE LINES OF THE NECESSITY TO GIVE THE SOVIETS SOME REASSURANCE THAT IF CASTRO GOES THEY CAN PRESERVE INFLUENCE IN CUBA, SO THE CUBAN PEOPLE WILL NOT BE SO HOSTILE TO THE SOVIETS--SAYING SOMETHING LIKE 'THE CUBANS IN MIAMI WILL NOT BE THE (NEW) LEADERS.'"

8. PAVLOV SAID THAT CUBAN LEADERS BECAME VERY NERVOUS WHEN THEY READ OF THE MEETING BETWEEN THE SOVIETS AND THE CUBAN EMIGRES IN MIAMI. HE ADDED THAT "WE SHOULD NOT AUTOMATICALLY TAKE FOR GRANTED THAT THE MIAMI PEOPLE WILL COME AND TAKE OVER." PAVLOV SAID HE DID NOT EXCLUDE THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE EMIGRES COULD RETURN TO CUBA (HE NOTED THAT IT HAD TAKEN THE SOVIET UNION 70 YEARS TO END ITS CIVIL WAR AND ALLOW EMIGRES TO COME BACK), BUT THERE WAS "NO NECESSITY THAT THEY LEAD THE COUNTRY." HE ARGUED THAT THERE SHOULD BE NO DIRECT CONNECTION BETWEEN A U.S.-SOVIET AGREEMENT ON CUBA AND THE INSTALLATION OF AN EMIGRE-LED GOVERNMENT. "IT IS ALSO IN YOUR INTEREST THAT THE SITUATION IN CUBA EVOLVE GRADUALLY WITHOUT ECONOMIC UPHEAVALS," HE ADDED.

9. POLCOUNS POINTED OUT THAT "GRADUAL EVOLUTION" IS OFTEN DIFFICULT WHEN A REPRESSIVE REGIME FALLS, AS DEVELOPMENTS USUALLY MOVE QUICKLY. PAVLOV RESPONDED THAT THERE WERE ALREADY PRECEDENTS FOR SUCH TRANSFORMATIONS. WHILE HE WAS "NOT DRAWING A PARALLEL," PAVLOV CITED THE SITUATION IN CHILE, WHERE THE U.S. AND OTHER COUNTRIES WERE EXERTING PRESSURE, BUT "YOU WERE MODERATING THAT PRESSURE."

10. TURNING TO EL SALVADOR, PAVLOV NOTED THAT INSTRUCTIONS HAD BEEN SENT TO THE SOVIET EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON TO INFORM THE DEPARTMENT THAT THE SOVIETS WERE TALKING TO THE CUBANS AND FMLN REPRESENTATIVES ADVISING THEM TO REFRAIN FROM ANY OFFENSIVE ACTIONS. HE MAINTAINED THAT THE GOES HAD ADOPTED AN INFLEXIBLE POSTURE IN THE MEXICO CITY TALKS BY PROPOSING TO POSTPONE REFORMS IN THE ARMY UNTIL AFTER A CEASEFIRE AGREEMENT AND THE END OF THE CONFERENCE. PAVLOV ARGUED THAT WITHOUT A DISCUSSION ON CLEANING UP THE SALVADORAN MILITARY IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE FMLN TO TAKE THE TALKS SERIOUSLY, BECAUSE THERE COULD BE NO GUARANTEE THAT ANY AGREEMENTS WOULD BE ACCEPTED BY THE ARMED FORCES.

11. PAVLOV NOTED THAT HE AND A/S ARONSON HAD SPOKEN

IN GENERAL TERMS ABOUT MEETING IN MOSCOW DURING THE SECOND HALF OF JULY. HE ADDED THAT HE PLANNED TO TAKE A COUPLE OF WEEKS OF VACATION SOMETIME DURING

Department of State

UNCLASSIFIED

THE MONTH AND WOULD APPRECIATE IF A/S ARONSON COULD PROPOSE SPECIFIC DATES FOR THE MEETING SO HE COULD FINALIZE HIS PLANS.

12. COMMENT. WE WERE STRUCK BY THE TENOR OF PAVLOV'S REMARKS ON CUBA, WHICH DIFFERED DRAMATICALLY FROM ANYTHING WE HAVE HEARD FROM HIM BEFORE. HE APPEARED TO CONSIDER VERY REAL THE POSSIBILITY THAT CASTRO'S DAYS ARE NUMBERED. EVEN IF CASTRO HANGS ON, PAVLOV SEEMED TO BE SAYING THE SOVIETS ARE READY FOR DRASTIC CHANGES IN THEIR RELATIONSHIP WITH HIM. MATLOCK

CUBA AND THE SANDINISTAS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE INTRODUCTION OF THESE MISSILES INTO EL SALVADOR. WE WOULD REGARD IT AS AN EXTREMELY SERIOUS AND DANGEROUS ESCALATION OF THE WAR WERE THE SA-7'S TO BE USED, AND ONE WHICH WOULD INEVITABLY IMPACT NEGATIVELY UPON OUR

RIVERA DAMAS AND URIOSTE DIFFER ON DIALOGUE...

3. (U) IN INDIRECT CRITICISM OF THE FMLN'S INSISTENCE THAT THE MILITARY ISSUE BE FIRST ON THE AGENDA, RIVERA DAMAS SUGGESTED IN THE JUNE 18 HOMILY, THAT THE GOES AND THE FMLN BEGIN THE MEXICAN ROUND OF NEGOTIATIONS WITH TOPICS THAT THEY CAN EASILY AGREE ON. HE PREDICTED THAT THE HARDEST POINT OF THE NEGOTIATIONS WILL BE THE QUESTION OF WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE SALVADORAN MILITARY. HE SAID THAT THE TALKS COULD BREAK DOWN IF THEY INSIST ON TACKLING THAT PROBLEM FIRST. THEREFORE, IN HIS OPINION THE TWO SIDES SHOULD BEGIN THE TALKS ON A DIFFERENT TOPIC.

4. (U) IN STARK CONTRAST, MONS. URIOSTE, CLEARLY ALLUDING TO "PURIFICATION" OF THE SALVADORAN MILITARY, SAID THAT THE GOES AND THE FMLN CANNOT AVOID TACKLING THE HARD QUESTIONS EARLY IN THEIR SEARCH FOR AN ACCORD DURING THE MEXICAN ROUND OF TALKS. HE SAID THAT LIKE CONFESSION, THE WORST ACTS ARE THE ONES THAT HAVE TO BE CONFESSED FIRST. MONS.

[redacted]

URIOSTE ALSO SAID THAT A DEMOCRACY CANNOT PROGRESS UNLESS THE IMPORTANT POINTS (AGAIN ALLUDING TO THE SALVADORAN MILITARY) ARE FACED HONESTLY AND SERIOUSLY.

5. (U) ALSO REGARDING THE TALKS, MONS. RIVERA DAMAS SAID THAT AFTER VISITS FROM UN SECGEN REPRESENTATIVE ALVARO DE SOTO AND GOES COMMISSION MILITARY REPRESENTATIVE COL. MAURICIO VARGAS, IT WAS HIS IMPRESSION THAT THE CHURCH WOULD BE ASKED TO PLAY A GREATER ROLE IN THE PEACE PROCESS. HE CALLED THE LATEST ROUND OF TALKS A "GREAT OPPORTUNITY" THAT SHOULD NOT BE SQUANDERED.

...BUT AGREE ON THE JESUIT MURDER CASE

6. (U) TURNING TO THE JESUIT MURDER CASE, MONS. RIVERA DAMAS INDICATED THAT SINCE THE GUILTY PARTIES ARE KNOWN, THE ONLY THING LEFT IS TO MAKE SURE THEY ARE TRIED AND CONVICTED WITHIN THE CONFINES OF SALVADORAN LAW. HE SAID CREDIBLE WITNESSES NEED TO BE ASSURED THAT THEY WILL NOT SUFFER FOR THEIR TESTIMONY.

7. (U) MONS. URIOSTE OBSERVED THAT THE GOES IS OBLIGATED TO INVESTIGATE ALL MURDER CASES, INCLUDING THE 1980 MURDER OF SAN SALVADOR ARCHBISHOP OSCAR ARNULFO ROMERO. HE ASSERTED THAT REGULAR ELECTIONS ARE NOT A SIGN OF DEMOCRACY, THE REAL TEST IS A RELIABLE SYSTEM OF JUSTICE. FINALLY, SPEAKING OF VIOLENCE COMMITTED BY FMLN GUERRILLAS DURING THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS IN MEXICO, MONS. URIOSTE SAID THAT THERE ARE NO ACTS OF VIOLENCE THAT MERIT SUPPORT.

8. (LOU) COMMENT: THE DIFFERENCE IN VIEWS IS UNUSUAL SINCE THE ARCHDIOCESE, IN CONTRAST WITH THE SALVADORAN CHURCH IN GENERAL, GO TO GREAT LENGTHS TO PLAY FROM THE SAME SHEET OF MUSIC. WHATEVER THE REASONS BEHIND IT, THE NEWS MEDIA DID NOT PICK-UP THE CONTRASTING VIEWS, SO UNLESS (OR UNTIL) NEW DIFFERENCES SURFACE WE WILL NOT BE ABLE TO JUDGE WHETHER THERE ARE ANY DEVELOPING SCHISMS IN THE HIERARCHY. ON THE QUESTION OF A GREATER ROLE FOR THE CHURCH IN THE TALKS, THIS IS THE FIRST WE HAVE HEARD OF IT. SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE NEW ROUND, THE LEADERS OF THE ARCHDIOCESE HAVE BEEN CHAFING AT THE [redacted]

POLCOUNS TO INFORM EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR OF THE VISIT AND THANK THE EMBASSY FOR ASSISTANCE RENDERED DURING PREVIOUS VISITS. PASTOR RIDRUEJO EXPRESSED CONCERN FOR HIS SAFETY DURING HIS VISITS TO ES. HE WAS EAGER FOR A USG READOUT OF RECENT EVENTS IN ES; HE SAID HE WAS PESSIMISTIC ABOUT PEACE PROSPECTS IN THE SHORT TERM, BUT MORE OPTIMISTIC IN THE LONG TERM. REGARDING HUMAN RIGHTS, HE SAID HE CONSIDERED THE NOVEMBER 1989 MURDER OF THE JESUIT PRIESTS, THEIR HOUSEKEEPER AND HER DAUGHTER TO BE A LITMUS TEST OF THE GOES' COMMITMENT TO GAIN CONTROL OVER MILITARY ABUSES, AND UNDERSTOOD THAT THE US CONGRESS AND ADMINISTRATION FELT THE SAME WAY. PASTOR RIDRUEJO, RECENTLY APPOINTED SENIOR ADVISER AT THE SPANISH MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, SAID THIS COULD BE HIS LAST VISIT TO EL SALVADOR. HE WAS TIRED, HE SAID, AND WANTED TO TURN THE RESPONSIBILITY OVER TO SOMEONE ELSE. HE ADMITTED IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO FIND ANYONE WHO HAD THE TRUST OF BOTH THE FMLN AND THE GOES. MISSION WOULD APPRECIATE EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR'S EVALUATION OF SECURITY CONDITIONS WHICH WE COULD PASS ON TO THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER FOR PASTOR RIDRUEJO. END SUMMARY.

3. THE MEETING WITH UNHRC SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE TO EL SALVADOR JOSE ANTONIO PASTOR RIDRUEJO TOOK PLACE IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER JUNE 28 AT HIS REQUEST. MIGUEL DE LA LAMA OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER WAS ALSO PRESENT. PASTOR RIDRUEJO OPENED BY THANKING THE USG AND ESPECIALLY EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR FOR ITS COOPERATION DURING HIS PREVIOUS VISITS. HE SAID HE HAD TENTATIVE PLANS TO MAKE AN OFFICIAL VISIT TO EL SALVADOR THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 23 - 30, PENDING CONFIRMATION BY THE GOES.

4. HE EXPRESSED GREAT CONCERN FOR HIS PERSONAL SECURITY

DURING THESE VISITS. HE SAID HE HAD NOT YET BEEN PERSONALLY THREATENED, BUT HE HAD BEEN PARTICULARLY SHAKEN BY THE MURDER OF THE JESUITS, PERHAPS BECAUSE THEY WERE FELLOW SPANIARDS. HE SAID HE WAS WORRIED ALSO ABOUT THE FMLN. AGAIN, HE HAD RECEIVED NO THREATS, BUT HE KNEW THEY WERE UNHAPPY WITH HIS NEGATIVE COMMENTS ABOUT THEM IN HIS REPORT TO THE 1990 UNHRC. "MISTAKES CAN HAPPEN", HE ADDED. HE ALSO UNDERSTOOD THERE HAD BEEN THREATS AGAINST UNDP IN EL SALVADOR. THUS HE WANTED TO MAKE SURE EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR KNEW HIS ARRIVAL DATE AND HIS WHEREABOUTS WHILE HE WAS IN COUNTRY. HE SAID HE WOULD APPRECIATE A THREAT ASSESSMENT FROM THE EMBASSY. (MISSION COULD PASS THIS INFORMATION TO DE LA LAMA AT THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER; WE BELIEVE IT WOULD BE A GREAT RELIEF TO PASTOR RIDRUEJO TO HAVE THE EMBASSY'S COMMENTS.)

5. HE ASKED ABOUT THE FEBRUARY 11 BOMBING IN SAN JOSE LAS FLORES. HE UNDERSTOOD THERE HAD BEEN 5 DEAD AND 16 WOUNDED, AND THAT ARMY PERSONNEL WERE SUSPECTED. MISSIONOFFS COULD PROVIDE NO FURTHER DETAILS, SO PASTOR RIDRUEJO ASKED IF EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR COULD COLLECT INFORMATION AND SAVE IT FOR HIS VISIT. HE SAID THE INFORMATION HE HAD WAS FROM A LEFTIST SOURCE WHO WAS VERY CREDIBLE. ONCE AGAIN HE EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR PAST USG COOPERATION AND HOPED IT WOULD CONTINUE.

7. ON OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, PASTOR RIDRUEJO NOTED REPORTS BY AMERICAS WATCH ON CRIMES ATTRIBUTED TO THE GUERRILLAS. HE ALSO ASKED ABOUT A REPORT BY THE LAWYERS COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RIGHTS QUOTING THE FMLN AS SAYING [redacted]

THEY HAVE TRIBUNALS AND THAT WHAT THE GOES CALLS SUMMARY EXECUTIONS ARE THE RESULT OF FAIR TRIALS. THE LAWYERS COMMITTEE DISPUTED THE FMLN ON THIS POINT, AND PASTOR RIDRUEJO CONCURS.

NEGOTIATIONS. HE THINKS THE FMLN CAN UNLEASH ANOTHER OFFENSIVE ANYTIME IF THEY ARE NOT HAPPY WITH THE NEGOTIATIONS. DESPITE THIS VIEW, PASTOR RIDRUEJO EXPRESSED OPTIMISM IN THE LONGER TERM, BUT HE OFFERED NO RATIONALE FOR THIS OPINION.

9. ENUMERATING THE PRESSURES HE WAS FEELING, HE SAID HE WAS RELUCTANT TO CONTINUE HIS WORK FOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER BEYOND THIS YEAR. HIS NEW POST WITH THE SPANISH JUSTICE MINISTRY, HIS AND HIS FAMILY'S CONCERN FOR HIS SECURITY, AND THE PRESSURE INHERENT IN THE WORK WERE LEADING HIM TO HIS CONCLUSION.

10. ON THE OTHER HAND, HE OFFERED, IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO FIND SOMEONE WHO COULD GAIN THE CONFIDENCE OF BOTH THE GOES AND THE FMLN. HE REMARKED THAT THE FMLN HAD ACCUSED HIM ON ONE OCCASION OF BEING BOUGHT BY THE U.S., BUT THAT LATER THEY HAD WRITTEN HIM ASKING HIM TO CONTINUE IN THE POST. HE SAID THE FMLN HAD ASKED HIM TO REPROACH THE GOES FOR NOT BEING SERIOUS IN THE NEGOTIATIONS.

11. COMMENT: PASTOR RIDRUEJO'S RECENT INFORMATION ON THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR IS BASED ON WHAT HE HAS [redacted]

READ IN THE PRESS AND WHAT HE HAS OBTAINED FROM NGO REPORTS. HIS APPRECIATION FOR PAST EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR ASSISTANCE IS REAL, AND FURTHER CONTACTS WHEN HE ARRIVES IN SEPTEMBER WILL NO DOUBT ENABLE THE EMBASSY TO CALL TO HIS ATTENTION THE MOST SIGNIFICANT EVENTS AND TRENDS IN THE USG VIEW. PASTOR RIDRUEJO MAY NOT HAVE MADE UP HIS MIND ABOUT CONTINUING FOR ANOTHER YEAR AS SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE FOR EL SALVADOR. THE REASONS HE GAVE, HOWEVER, SEEMED SINCERE AND SIGNIFICANT. MISSION WILL KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER, AND WILL REPORT ANY DEVELOPMENTS. ABRAM

1. REFTEL UPDATING THE INVESTIGATION INTO MURDER OF AMCIT MICHAEL DEVINE CITED AN UNSPECIFIC THREAT TO QUOTE GRINGOS UNQUOTE IN THE AREA OF POPTUN, WHERE AMCIT MICHAEL DEVINE WAS MURDERED JUNE 8. EMBASSY HAS TAKEN THE FOLLOWING ACTIONS CONCERNING THE VAGUE THREAT:

A) ON JULY 11, EMBOFF MET WITH ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GENERAL MARROQUIN TO ACQUAINT HIM WITH THE THREAT AND ASK HIS COOPERATION BOTH IN INVESTIGATING THE GROUNDS OF SUCH A THREAT AND TO ENSURE THAT NO HARM COME TO LOCAL RESIDENTS OF POPTUN, PARTICULARLY TO AMCITS. HE WAS NOT AWARE OF SUCH A THREAT. HE INDICATED THAT THE PREVIOUS WEEK HE HAD INSTRUCTED THE LOCAL ARMY COMMANDER TO INCREASE HIS PATROLS IN ORDER TO PROVIDE INCREASED SECURITY TO ALL OF THE LOCAL POPULATION. ADDITIONALLY, HE INDICATED THAT HE WOULD INFORM THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE OF THIS RUMOR AND ENSURE THAT THE LOCAL COMMANDER TOOK ACTION TO RESPOND TO ANY IDENTIFIED THREAT.

B) CONGEN CONTACTED THE PARENT ORGANIZATIONS IN GUATEMALA CITY OF THE RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS WHO HAVE AMCITS RESIDING IN POPTUN, I.E. THE MARYKNOLL ORDER (HAS ONE PRIEST AND TWO LAY NURSES), THE MORMONS (HAVE TWO MISSIONARIES) AND THE SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS (ONE MARRIED COUPLE WITH A YOUNG CHILD). DUE TO PAUCITY OF TELEPHONE COMMUNICATIONS IN POPTUN, WE ARE NOT ABLE TO CONTACT AMCITS DIRECTLY. WE INFORMED THE ORGANIZATIONS OF THE NATURE OF THE THREAT, AND ASKED THEM TO INQUIRE OF THEIR PEOPLE IF THEY ARE AWARE OF ANY SIMILAR RUMORS AND IF SO, TO REPORT THEM TO THE EMBASSY. DUE TO OUR EXPERIENCE IN THE SISTER DIANA ORTIZ CASE, WE STRESSED PARTICULARLY WITH THE MARYKNOLL ORDER OUR DESIRE TO BE KEPT INFORMED OF ANY THREATS THEY ARE AWARE OF. OUR INTERLOCUTORS WERE APPRECIATIVE OF THE INFORMATION AND INDICATED THEY WOULD KEEP US INFORMED, BUT AS OF THE TIME OF OUR INITIAL CONVERSATIONS, NONE HAD HEARD OF THREATS TO AMCITS IN THE AREA.

2. WE ARE NOT AWARE OF ANY OTHER AMCITS RESIDING IN THE AREA, BUT WILL LOOK INTO THAT NEXT WEEK WHEN AN EMBASSY OFFICER PLANS TO VISIT POPTUN. TAYLOR

SUBJECT: JESUIT CASE: UPDATE 69 - MEETING WITH JUDGE ZAMORA

[redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. LEGAL OFFICER (L/O), AN FBI SPECIAL AGENT, AND ASSISTANT LEGAL OFFICER (A/LO) MET WITH JUDGE RICARDO ALFREDO ZAMORA ON JULY 11, 1990, TO DISCUSS RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE JESUIT CASE.

3. JUDGE ZAMORA MADE IT CLEAR THAT HE STILL BELIEVES THAT THE ORDER-OF-THE-DAY REGISTER IS A FAKE. EMBASSY OFFICERS INFORMED JUDGE ZAMORA THAT THE FBI STANDS READY TO OFFER ASSISTANCE REGARDING THE AUTHENTICITY OF THIS REGISTER. AS A RESULT, ZAMORA WILL BRING THE REGISTER TO WASHINGTON, D.C., FOR TESTS AT THE FBI LABORATORY DURING THE WEEK OF JULY 23 (SEE DETAILS SEPTEL).

4. ALSO, THE TESTIMONY OF COLONEL AVILES IS SELF-CONTRADICTORY AND BLATANTLY SELF-SERVING, ACCORDING TO ZAMORA. AT ONE POINT, AVILES TESTIFIED THAT UNTIL HE RETURNED (JUNE 1990) FROM TAIWAN, HE KNEW NOTHING ABOUT BUCKLAND'S STORY THAT BENAVIDES HAD SUPPOSEDLY CONFESSED TO RIVAS. YET, AT ANOTHER POINT, AVILES RECALLS THE JANUARY 1990 MEETING HE HAD WITH SALVADORAN CHIEF OF STAFF COL. PONCE AND US MILGRP COMMANDER COL. MENJIVAR ON THIS VERY SUBJECT.

5. DESPITE HAVING BEEN ARRESTED BY THE NATIONAL GUARD ON JULY 5, LIEUTENANT COLONEL CARLOS CAMILO HERNANDEZ HAD NOT YET BEEN REMANDED TO THE COURT AS OF 1100 ON JULY 12. BY SALVADORAN LAW, THE SECURITY FORCES MUST TURN OVER A PRISONER TO THE COURTS WITHIN SEVENTY-TWO HOURS OF HIS ARREST.

6. PROSECUTORS TOLD A/LO ON JULY 12 THAT BENAVIDES SAID NOTHING OF IMPORTANCE WHEN HE TESTIFIED ON JULY 11. AT ONE POINT, PROSECUTORS SAY, BENAVIDES CLAIMED THAT HE HAD SIGNED THE ORDER-OF-THE-DAY REGISTER IN HIS OWN HAND. WHEN SHOWN THAT ALL ENTRIES CARRIED ONLY HIS SEAL, BENAVIDES RECANTED RELUCTANTLY.

7. COMMENT: MAJOR HERRERA CARRANZA IS SCHEDULED TO TESTIFY ON JULY 13. HIS TESTIMONY SHOULD BE PARTICULARLY REVEALING SINCE HE SUPPOSEDLY ORDERED LT. CUENCA OCAMPO TO ACCOMPANY THE ATLACATL ON ITS SEARCH OF THE JESUITS' RESIDENCE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL AMERICA ON NOVEMBER 13.

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PGOV, KJUS, ES
SUBJECT: JESUIT CASE: UPDATE 71

1. (U) LIEUTENANT COLONEL CARLOS CAMILO HERNANDEZ WAS FINALLY CONSIGNED TO THE COURT ON JULY 18. THIS ACTION CAME TWENTY-ONE DAYS AFTER JUDGE RICARDO ALFREDO ZAMORA ORDERED HIS ARREST AND ELEVEN DAYS AFTER COLONEL RENE EMILIO PONCE, CHIEF OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES, ANNOUNCED TO THE PRESS THAT THE NATIONAL GUARD HAD TAKEN HERNANDEZ INTO CUSTODY. SALVADORAN LAW REQUIRES THAT A PRISONER BE TURNED OVER TO A JUDGE WITHIN 72 HOURS OF HIS ARREST.

2. (C) ON JULY 18, 1990, ZAMORA TOLD THE ASSISTANT LEGAL OFFICER (A/LO), GENERAL RAFAEL HUMBERTO LARIOS LOPEZ, THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE AND PUBLIC SECURITY, HAD CALLED HIM ON JULY 17 TO APOLOGIZE FOR ANOTHER APPARENT MIX-UP (SEE PARAGRAPH 6). ACCORDING TO ZAMORA, LARIOS SAID THAT HE HAD BEEN MISINFORMED BY HERNANDEZ'S ~~DEFENSE~~ ATTORNEY, DR. CARLOS CASTELLAN, ABOUT WHETHER HERNANDEZ WOULD HAVE TO APPEAR BEFORE THE COURT.

3. (U) ON JULY 17, DR. CARLOS CASTELLAN, APPARENTLY RESIGNED AS THE DEFENSE ATTORNEY FOR HERNANDEZ DUE TO "DEATH THREATS FROM UNIDENTIFIED SECTORS," ACCORDING TO WHAT CASTELLAN TOLD NEWS REPORTERS.

4. (C) ZAMORA SAYS HE QUESTIONED CASTELLAN VERY CLOSELY ON EXACTLY WHAT KIND OF THREATS HE HAD RECEIVED, BUT CASTELLAN MERELY REPEATED THAT HE HAD RECEIVED THREATS. ZAMORA DOUBTS THAT CASTELLAN RECEIVED ANY THREATS AT ALL BUT RATHER WAS SEEKING AN EXCUSE TO EXTRICATE HIMSELF FROM THE CASE. JULY 19 LOCAL MEDIA REPORTS THAT CARLOS MENDEZ FLORES, BENAVIDES' DEFENSE ATTORNEY, HAS BEEN RETAINED BY HERNANDEZ.

5. (C) COMMENT: ON JULY 20, ZAMORA TOLD THE CHARGE AND A/LO THAT HE BELIEVES THAT HERNANDEZ IS MORE DEEPLY INVOLVED IN THIS CASE THAN ANYONE HAS SUSPECTED SO FAR. ALTHOUGH THE JUDGE DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT HERNANDEZ WAS INVOLVED IN THE PLANNING OR THE CARRYING OUT OF THE MURDERS THEMSELVES, HE

SAN SA 09951 2423282 001979 001979

BELIEVES THAT HERNANDEZ WAS IN CHARGE OF THE COVER-UP. ACCORDING TO ZAMORA, THIS THEORY IS MADE MORE PLAUSIBLE BY THE FOLLOWING FACTS:

-- ACCORDING TO AT LEAST TWO PERSONS, HERNANDEZ ORDERED THE MIDNIGHT BURNING OF THE REGISTERS AT THE MILITARY ACADEMY.

-- THE MEMBERS OF THE AD HOC COMMAND STAFF AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL HAVE TESTIFIED THAT HERNANDEZ, AS WELL AS BENAVIDES, HAD THE AUTHORITY TO GIVE ORDERS TO ANY UNIT, INCLUDING THE ATLACATL, BASED AT THE MILITARY ACADEMY.

-- FOLLOWING THE SURPRISE RESIGNATION OF CASTELLAN, HERNANDEZ HAS NOW RETAINED THE SAME TEAM OF ATTORNEYS WHICH IS DEFENDING THE ACCUSED MURDERERS OF THE JESUITS. [illegible] APPEARS THAT HIS FATE IS NOW TIED TO THEIRS.

6. (C) WHETHER THE MIX-UPS OVER HERNANDEZ REPRESENT A PLOT BY THE MILITARY TO CONFOUND THE JUSTICE SYSTEM OR RANK INCOMPETENCE OR MURPHY'S LAW TRIUMPHANT IS DIFFICULT TO SAY. THE EFFECT, THOUGH, IS TO MAKE IT APPEAR AS IF THE MILITARY IS NOT FULLY COOPERATING WITH THE INVESTIGATION.

SUBJECT: JESUIT CASE: BUCKLAND CALLED TO TESTIFY

REF: A) SAN SALVADOR 9405, B) SAN SALVADOR 8486

[redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. ON JULY 18, 1990, JUDGE RICARDO ALFREDO ZAMORA TOLD ASSISTANT LEGAL OFFICER (A/LO) THAT HE HAS REQUESTED THAT U.S. MAJOR ERIC G. BUCKLAND GIVE TESTIMONY IN THE JESUIT CASE. ZAMORA SAID THAT HE HAD SENT THE REQUEST (JULY 17) THROUGH THE FOREIGN MINISTRY WHICH WOULD THEN PASS IT ON TO THE EMBASSY. ON JULY 23, DR. JOSE MANUEL PACAS CASTRO, THE SALVADORAN MINISTER FOR EXTERNAL RELATIONS, TOLD THE CHARGE THAT HE HAD RECEIVED ZAMORA'S REQUEST. HOWEVER, BECAUSE THE REQUEST WAS NOT SENT IN THE PROPER FORM, HE IS SENDING IT BACK TO ZAMORA.

3. AS REPORTED IN REFTEL A, THE JUDGE BELIEVES THAT COLONEL CARLOS ARMANDO AVILES IS LYING ABOUT WHAT HE KNOWS AND WHEN HE KNEW IT. ZAMORA BELIEVES THAT AVILES KNOWS MORE ABOUT THE MURDERS AND WHO COMMITTED THE MURDERS THAN HE (AVILES) IS LETTING ON. THE JUDGE TOLD A/LO THAT HE PLANS TO BRING CHARGES OF PERJURY AGAINST AVILES, BUT BEFORE HE CAN DO SO HE BELIEVES IT ESSENTIAL TO QUESTION BUCKLAND PERSONALLY.

4. COMMENT: FROM THE VERY BEGINNING, THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT HAS INSISTED THAT THE SALVADORANS SHOULD DO EVERYTHING IN THEIR POWER TO FULLY AND COMPLETELY INVESTIGATE THIS CASE. WE HAVE EMPHASIZED OVER AND OVER AGAIN TO SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS THE DIRE CONSEQUENCES WHICH WOULD FLOW FROM THEIR FAILURE, OR EVEN THEIR PERCEIVED FAILURE, TO BRING THE PERPETRATORS OF THIS ATROCITY TO JUSTICE.

5. REGARDLESS OF WHAT BUCKLAND MIGHT BE ABLE TO ADD TO THE CASE, A REFUSAL TO MAKE HIM AVAILABLE WOULD HAVE AT LEAST TWO POTENTIALLY SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES:

-- IT WOULD BE SEEN (IN EL SALVADOR, LATIN AMERICA, AND SPAIN) AS GRINGO HYPOCRISY. IT WOULD APPEAR AS IF THE U.S. WERE PUSHING FOR A FULL AND COMPLETE INVESTIGATION ONLY WHEN SUCH AN INVESTIGATION DID NOT HAVE THE POTENTIAL TO EMBARRASS THE UNITED STATES.

-- IT WOULD ALSO HELP PROVIDE THE SUPREME COURT WITH AN ADDITIONAL RATIONALE FOR DROPPING THE CASE ENTIRELY (SEE REFTEL B, PARAGRAPH 3D) AND THE OPPORTUNITY TO BLAME THE UNITED STATES FOR MAKING IT IMPOSSIBLE TO CONTINUE THE CASE.

6. ALTHOUGH WE HAVE NOT YET RECEIVED A FORMAL REQUEST FROM THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT THAT BUCKLAND BE MADE AVAILABLE TO JUDGE ZAMORA IN SAN SALVADOR, WE BELIEVE WE SHOULD BE PREPARED TO ACCEDE QUICKLY TO THE REQUEST WHEN IT IS RECEIVED.

1. SUMMARY: THE MEXICAN NUCLEAR POWER REACTOR (UNIT 1) AT LAGUNA VERDE SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED PREREQUISITE COMMERCIAL OPERATING PROCEDURES ON SATURDAY, JULY 14, AT 2210 HOURS - NEARLY FIFTEEN YEARS AFTER CONSTRUCTION OFFICIALLY BEGAN. THE FACILITY HAS COMPLETED THE REQUIRED 100 HOURS OF OPERATING AT 100 PERCENT POWER AND ALSO THE SPECIAL AUDIT REQUESTED BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF VERACRUZ. MIGUEL MEDINA, DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR NUCLEAR SECURITY AND SAFEGUARDS (CNSNS) ADVISED SCIATT THAT THE LICENSE AUTHORIZING COMMERCIAL OPERATION OF THE PLANT WOULD LIKELY BE ISSUED IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS. END SUMMARY.

THE STATUS OF THE PLANT

2. UNIT 1 OF LAGUNA VERDE FIRST ACHEIVED 100 PERCENT POWER ON MARCH 17, 1990 AT 2100 HOURS. NUMEROUS PROBLEMS, OFTEN CAUSED BY FLUCTUATING POWER LEVEL ON THE NATIONAL GRID, CAUSED CONSIDERABLE DELAY IN COMPLETING ALL THE REQUIRED TESTS FOR CNSNS AUTHORIZATION OF THE LICENSE FOR COMMERCIAL OPERATION. (NOTE: CNSNS IS ROUGHLY THE EQUIVALENT OF THE U.S. NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION-NRC-AND IS THE GOM ORGANIZATION WHICH LICENSES NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS.) LAGUNA VERDE HAS, HOWEVER, BEEN SUPPLYING ELECTRICITY TO THE GRID SINCE APRIL 13, 1989 AFTER FUEL WAS LOADED ON NOVEMBER 4, 1988. REPORTED INVESTMENT IN BOTH UNITS 1 AND 2, INCLUDING INTEREST, WAS 3.9 BILLION DOLLARS AS OF MID-JUNE. INVESTMENT EXCLUDING INTEREST WAS 2.6 BILLION DOLLARS. TOTAL ENERGY SUPPLIED TO THE GRID AS OF MID-JUNE WAS 857,000 MWH.

3. UNIT 2 IS CURRENTLY UNDER CONSTRUCTION AND IS JUST OVER 50 PERCENT COMPLETE. PROGRESS ON UNIT 2 HAS BEEN MUCH FASTER, BECAUSE THE FEDERAL ELECTRICITY COMMISSION (CFE) HAS BEEN ABLE TO DRAW ON THE EXPERIENCE GAINED IN BUILDING UNIT 1. CFE ESTIMATES THAT UNIT 2 WILL BE READY TO LOAD FUEL BY JANUARY 1993, BUT A MORE CONSERVATIVE CNSNS SOURCE BELIEVES THAT MAY WELL BE DELAYED UNTIL 1994

MEXICO, IS LONG AND HAS BEEN FRAUGHT WITH FINANCIAL AND TECHNICAL PROBLEMS. THE DECISION TO BUILD THE REACTOR WAS TAKEN 22 YEARS AGO (IN 1968). TECHNICAL FEASIBILITY STUDIES WERE CONDUCTED FROM 1970-76, THE LOCATION WAS DECIDED AND CONSTRUCTION STARTED IN 1976. CRITICS WHO STATE THAT THE TECHNOLOGY OF THE PLANT IS NEARLY 22 YEARS OLD BASE THEIR ARGUMENT ON THE FACT THAT THE DECISION THAT MEXICO SHOULD EMPLOY NUCLEAR POWER WAS TAKEN IN 1968, BUT FAIL TO NOTE THAT THE REACTOR DESIGN WAS NOT ACTUALLY SELECTED UNTIL 1976. CFE SAYS THAT THE ORIGINAL REACTOR DESIGN WAS A GE BWR-3, BUT THAT THEY HAVE ADAPTED IT TO MORE MODERN TECHNOLOGY AND IT NOW CORRESPONDS TO A BWR-5 MARK II REACTOR, RATED AT 654 MEGAWATTS ELECTRIC

THE PUBLIC REACTION

5. PUBLIC OPPOSITION TO THE PLANT, NEVER LARGE IN NUMBERS OF PEOPLE, HAS LESSENED DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS. THE RADICAL ANTINUCLEAR ACTIVISTS WHO PREDICTED IMMINENT DISASTER FROM THE OPERATION OF THE PLANT HAVE BEEN PROVEN WRONG. MANIFESTATIONS HELD IN JUNE 1988 INVOLVED APPROXIMATELY 500 DEMONSTRATORS AND BLOCKED THE MAIN ROAD FROM VERACRUZ TO TAMPICO FOR 4 DAYS. THE MOTHERS OF VERACRUZ (MADRES VERACRUZANAS), A REPORTEDLY VOCAL ANTINUCLEAR ORGANIZATION, NEVER NUMBERED MORE THAN 20. THAT WAS THE HEYDAY OF THE ANTINUCLEAR MOVEMENT IN MEXICO. SECRETARY OF ENERGY, MINES, AND PARASTATAL INDUSTRY (SEMIP), THE ANTINUCLEAR MOVEMENT IN MEXICO DID NOT EVEN EXIST UNTIL THE ACCIDENT OF THREE MILE ISLAND IN THE UNITED STATES (1979). IN THE YEARS 1980-81 SOME ACTIVISTS AND SOME RESIDENTS OF THE STATE OF VERACRUZ BEGAN ANTINUCLEAR PROSELYTIZING IN MEXICO, BUT THE MOVEMENT REALLY GAINED STRENGTH AFTER THE CHERNOBYL ACCIDENT IN THE SOVIET UNION (1986). NEWSPAPER ARTICLES STILL APPEAR, ON AN ALMOST WEEKLY BASIS, REPORTING ALLEGED RADIOACTIVE LEAKS, LACK OF MAINTENANCE MATERIALS, COST OVERRUNS, ETC..., BUT THE SUCCESSFUL OPERATION OF THE PLANT HAS SO FAR DEFUSED THE POLEMICS OF THE ISSUE.

RESPONSE OF THE GOVERNMENT

6. GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES FROM SEVERAL AGENCIES AND FROM THE CONGRESS HAVE GONE ON RECORD SUPPORTING THE OPERATION OF THE PLANT. TWO YEARS AGO, AN ELECTION YEAR, NOBODY WANTED TO TALK ABOUT IT. NOW, WHILE THEY ARE NOT NECESSARILY SEEKING OUT OPPORTUNITIES TO MAKE THEIR VIEWS KNOWN, GOM OFFICIALS ARE WILLING TO DISCUSS THE TOPIC WHEN QUERIED AND READILY STATE THEIR SUPPORT.

7. CFE: OBVIOUSLY THIS GROUP HAS ALWAYS SUPPORTED LAGUNA VERDE, SINCE IT BELONGS TO THEM. IN AN INTERVIEW WITH "MIRA" MAGAZINE PUBLISHED APRIL 25, 1990 JUAN

EIBENSCHUTZ WAS RECOGNIZED AS THE "FATHER OF LAGUNA VERDE" AND THREE PAGES WERE DEDICATED TO HIS EXPLANATION OF THE LOGIC OF NUCLEAR ENERGY FOR MEXICO. THE ENERGY SECTOR HAS TRIED TO AVOID BEING CAUGHT UP IN THE POLITICAL DEBATE ABOUT LAGUNA VERDE, INSISTING THAT THEY ARE ONLY INTERESTED IN THE SAFE GENERATION OF ELECTRICITY

8. CNSNS: THE ORGANIZATION CHARGED WITH REGULATING LAGUNA VERDE AND ISSUING THE LICENSE FOR COMMERCIAL OPERATION HAS ADMITTED THAT THE DELAY DURING THE LAST TWO YEARS IN OBTAINING OFFICIAL AUTHORIZATION WAS A POLITICAL DELAY. THEY, ALONG WITH THE CFE, TRY TO HOLD THEMSELVES ABOVE THE POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE CONFRONTATION PREFERRING TO ADDRESS ONLY THE TECHNICAL ISSUES. HOWEVER, CNSNS WAS OBLIGED BY PRESIDENT SALINAS TO WRITE A DETAILED REPORT ON THE OPERATION OF THE NUCLEAR FACILITY AND THE PROBLEMS THEY HAVE ENCOUNTERED. THIS APPROXIMATELY 100 PAGE VOLUME IS PRINTED, BUT HAS NOT YET UNCLASSIFIED

BEEN "OFFICIALLY" PUBLISHED. THE PRESIDENT REQUESTED THE REPORT AFTER PROMISING THE "MADRES VERACRUZANAS" (THE ABOVE MENTIONED ANTINUCLEAR GROUP OF ABOUT 7 OR 8 WOMEN FROM THE STATE OF VERACRUZ) THAT HE WOULD MAKE AVAILABLE TO THEM A COMPLETE REPORT ABOUT THE PLANT. THE DOCUMENT APPARENTLY GOES INTO GREAT DETAIL ABOUT THE OPERATION OF THE PLANT, PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED, AND RECOMMENDATIONS MADE AND ACTED UPON.

9. SEDUE: SERGIO REYES LUJAN, UNDERSECRETARY OF ECOLOG FOR THE SECRETARIAT OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND ECOLOGY (SEDUE), IN AN INTERVIEW WITH THE LEFTIST DAILY "UNO MAS UNO" PUBLISHED JANUARY 17, 1990 STATED THAT THE LAGUNA VERDE PROJECT IS VIABLE AND INSISTED THAT THE ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT STUDY FOR THE PLANT WAS THE MOST COMPLETE HE HAD EVER SEEN. FROM HIS POINT OF VIEW LAGUN VERDE SHOULD CONTINUE IN OPERATION, ESPECIALLY SINCE IN HIS VIEW IT HAS BEEN PROVEN THAT EMISSIONS FROM CONVENTIONAL COAL AND OIL ENERGY SOURCES HAVE CONTIRBUTE TO GLOBAL CLIMATE CHANGE.

10. THE CONGRESS: HECTOR MAYAGOITIA DOMINGUEZ, SENATOR FROM THE STATE OF DURANGO AND PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE'S ENERGY COMMISSION (AND FORMERLY DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY-CONACYT-IN THE DE LA MADRID ADMINISTRATION) HAS STATED UNEQUIVOCALLY THAT LAGUNA VERDE SIGNIFIES NO RISK TO THE PUBLIC AND IS ESSENTIAL TO MEETING THE FUTURE ENER GY NEEDS OF MEXICO.

HE ESTIMATES THAT MEXICO'S PETROLEUM RESERVES WILL BE DEPLETED IN 35 YEARS AND RECOMMENDS THAT MEXICO CONSIDER MORE NUCLEAR ENERGY PROJECTS NOW TO HELP REDUCE THE PACE

HE INSISTS THAT SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY ARE INDISPENSABLE ELEMENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT AND THAT LAGUNA VERDE FORMS PART OF THE PROCESS OF S AND T MODERNIZATION IN MEXICO.

HE HAS REQUESTED INDICATES THAT IT IS NOT SAFE. THE FAC THAT IT HAS BEEN "IN OPERATION" SINCE FUEL WAS LOADED OVER TWENTY MONTHS AGO IS NEVER ACKNOWLEDGED. SCI SECTION SOURCES INDICATED THAT THE REPORT WAS COMPLETED JULY 13, 1990. THE AUDIT WAS PERFORMED BY A GROUP OF SPANISH CONSULTANTS HEADED BY MANUEL LOPEZ RODRIGUEZ (DIRECTOR OF THE SPANISH NUCLEAR ENERGY COUNCIL APPROXIMATELY TEN YEARS AGO). SOURCES AT THE PLANT SAID THE AUDIT WENT WELL, INDICATING THAT THE FACILITY DESERVED A FAVORABLE REPORT.

MORE PLANTS IN THE FUTURE?

12. MEXICO'S NUCLEAR ENERGY PROGRAM OF 1980 INCLUDED AMBITIOUS PLANS TO CONSTRUCT APPROXIMATELY TWENTY REACTORS IN A PERIOD OF TWENTY YEARS. IN THE YEARS SINCE THOSE INITIAL PLANS WERE LAID THERE HAS BEEN A SIGNIFICANT NUCLEAR POWER ACCIDENT, A GROWING ANTINUCLEAR MOVEMENT, AND AN ECONOMIC CRISIS. PLANS FOR ADDITIONAL REACTORS TO BE CONSTRUCTED AFTER UNIT 2 OF LAGUNA VERDE IS COMPLETED ARE ON THE BACK BURNER. CERTAINLY THERE ARE NO PLANS TO CONSTRUCT ADDITIONAL PLANTS DURING THE CURRENT ADMINISTRATION. ALREADY A GROWING GROUP OF SCIENTISTS, TECHNICIANS AND ENERGY EXPERTS ARE SUGGESTING THAT MEXICO CONSIDER EXPANDING ITS NUCLEAR ENERGY PROGRAM

WITH THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE "NEW GENERATION" OF "INHERENTLY SAFE" NUCLEAR REACTORS. IN CONVERSATIONS WITH SCIATT THE LAGUNA VERDE ENGINEERS EXPRESSED ENTHUSIASM WITH A NOTE OF ENVY FOR MORE ADVANCED NUCLEAR TECHNOLOGY.

SUBJECT: OPIC Financing and Insurance for U.S. Investment in Chile

ISSUE FOR DECISION

Whether to transmit to the President for his signature a determination to reinstate Chile's eligibility for project financing and investment insurance provided by the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC).

ESSENTIAL FACTORS

By law, OPIC may offer financing and insurance only in countries which are taking steps to adopt and implement laws that extend internationally recognized worker rights. In 1987, the President, following a recommendation from the U.S. Trade Representative, determined that Chile was not taking steps to extend worker rights and terminated Chile's beneficiary status under the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP). Consistent with that determination, OPIC stopped issuing new guaranties in Chile. Existing contracts have been honored.

The Government of Chile requested restoration of its GSP beneficiary status shortly after the inauguration of President Aylwin in March of this year. USTR is reviewing this request, which has the support of the AFL-CIO and the CUT, Chile's largest labor confederacy, and expects to send a favorable recommendation to the President. Approval of the request will mark the first time the USG has moved to restore GSP benefits.

While indications are that the worker rights problems that triggered the denial of GSP have been addressed, the review will cover all GSP criteria, including adequate protection for intellectual property rights. USTR, under pressure from the Pharmaceutical Manufacturer's Association, insists that Chile must enact a new patent law before GSP is restored. The Chilean Congress is now in recess, and cannot conclude such a law before November.

DECLASSIFIED

On Tuesday, October 2, the President will receive Chile's President Aylwin in the Oval Office. Aylwin hopes for recognition from the President of the transition in Chile from the Pinochet regime to an elective democracy. Moreover, while Chile's economic reform policies are the best in Latin America, the Chilean opposition has critized the Aylwin government for failing to win U.S.support for those policies through GSP, OPIC, USAID, bank negotiations, or in the international financial institutions.

Recently, the OPIC Board of Directors approved insurance for the privatization by U.S. investors of a $384 million pulp mill in Chile provided that the worker rights bar to OPIC is lifted. While U.S. investors hold the largest stock of foreign investment in Chile, U.S. investors have invested little new capital since OPIC closed its doors. OPIC has additional projects in its pipeline that can proceed once OPIC is restored.

Section 231A(a)(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act (FAA) allows the President to waive the worker rights requirement imposed on OPIC if he determines that the issuance of OPIC financing and insurance guaranties is in the national economic interest. This authority, added to the FAA in 1985, has only been used once, in June of this year, to restore OPIC to Nicaragua. Use of this waiver authority does not prejudice the worker rights review under way for purposes of GSP nor affect a decision on GSP restoration.

A Presidential determination and the reasons for it must be reported in writing to the Congress. Consultations with the Hill have revealed no objections to such a step, indeed we have seen considerable support for some tangible affirmation of Allwyn's policies during his visit. We believe that the President should waive the worker rights requirement to enable OPIC to guaranty U.S. investment in Chile.

RECOMMENDATION

That you sign the attached memorandum to the President (Tab 1), recommending that he sign a waiver of the worker rights requirement for Chile.

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PGOV, KJUS, ES
SUBJECT: JESUIT CASE: PROSECUTOR CALLS BUCKLAND'S TESTIMONY ESSENTIAL

REF: SAN SALVADOR 9926

[redacted] -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. ON JULY 25, 1990, A PROSECUTOR IN THE JESUIT CASE TOLD THE ASSISTANT LEGAL OFFICER (A/LO) THAT HE BELIEVES IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT U.S. MAJOR ERIC W. BUCKLAND TESTIFY IN PERSON IN SAN SALVADOR. IN THE PROSECUTOR'S OPINION, HAVING BUCKLAND RETURN TO EL SALVADOR WOULD HELP IN THE JESUIT CASE BECAUSE:

-- BUCKLAND MAY KNOW MORE ABOUT THE CASE THAN HE ADMITTED IN HIS STATEMENT.

-- EVEN IF BUCKLAND CAN ADD NO NEW INFORMATION, HIS APPEARANCE WOULD DEMONSTRATE THAT THE SALVADORAN JUSTICE SYSTEM IS SERIOUS ABOUT INVESTIGATING THIS CASE AND THAT IT HAS THE FULL BACKING OF THE UNITED STATES IN DOING SO.

-- BUCKLAND'S RETURN AND TESTIMONY COULD ENABLE THE JUDICIARY TO MORE NATURALLY AND EASILY EXPAND ITS INVESTIGATION TO ADDITIONAL SENIOR OFFICERS OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES, SUCH AS LIEUTENANT COLONEL MANUEL ANTONIO RIVAS, DIRECTOR OF THE SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE UNIT (SIU), AND COLONEL NELSON IVAN LOPEZ Y LOPEZ, FORMER LIAISON TO THE SIU FOR THE HIGH COMMAND AND PRESENT COMMANDER OF THE MILITARY ENGINEERS DETACHMENT.

3. ON THE OTHER HAND, ACCORDING TO THE PROSECUTOR, SHOULD THE UNITED STATES REFUSE TO MAKE BUCKLAND AVAILABLE IN EL SALVADOR, THIS WOULD BE READ AS A SIGN THAT:

-- THE UNITED STATES MILITARY IS OVERLY PROTECTIVE OF ITS SALVADORAN MILITARY PROTEGES.

SAN SA 10098 262305Z 006282 405917

-- THE U.S. IS NOT SERIOUS WHEN IT TELLS EL SALVADOR AND THE WORLD THAT IT WANTS TO SEE A FULL AND COMPLETE INVESTIGATION INTO THE CRIME.

4. A/LO POINTED OUT THAT BRINGING BUCKLAND BACK TO EL SALVADOR TO TESTIFY MAY BE IMPOSSIBLE UNLESS AN AGREEMENT IS REACHED BEFOREHAND TO GIVE BUCKLAND SOME SORT OF IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION. THE PROSECUTOR SAID THAT ALTHOUGH SALVADORAN LAW HAS NO PROVISION FOR IMMUNITY, HE IS CONFIDENT THAT A MUTUALLY ACCEPTABLE AGREEMENT CAN BE WORKED OUT. HOWEVER, HE EMPHASIZED THAT ATTORNEY GENERAL MENDOZA WOULD NOT BE SATISFIED WITH ANOTHER SWORN DECLARATION FROM BUCKLAND.

RELEASED

5. COMMENT: ON JULY 25, POST RECEIVED A DIPLOMATIC NOTE FROM THE SALVADORAN FOREIGN MINISTRY REQUESTING INFORMATION ON BUCKLAND'S STATUS WHILE HE WAS IN EL SALVADOR AND THE DATES WHICH HE SERVED IN THAT POSITION. POST IS IN THE PROCESS OF PREPARING A REPLY WHICH SHOULD BE READY BY CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON JULY 26. AS OF 1200 ON JULY 26, POST HAD STILL NOT RECEIVED A FORMAL REQUEST FROM THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT THAT BUCKLAND BE MADE AVAILABLE TO JUDGE ZAMORA IN SAN SALVADOR.

2. ACCORDING TO REFTEL A, THE FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT (FMLN) GENERAL COMMAND ANNOUNCED ON JULY 26 THAT PRESIDENT ALFREDO CRISTIANI IS ONE OF THE PERSONS POLITICALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MURDERS OF THE JESUITS. THEY BASE THIS CHARGE ON CRISTIANI'S AUTHORIZATION OF THE SEARCH OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL AMERICA (UCA) ON NOVEMBER 13. BY ORDERING THE SEARCH OF THE UCA, THE FMLN CLAIMS, PRESIDENT CRISTIANI AND THE HIGH COMMAND "TOOK THE DECISIVE STEP IN THE SERIES OF DECISIONS AND ORDERS THAT LED TO THE MURDER OF THE JESUIT PRIESTS THREE DAYS LATER." ALSO, THE FMLN REPROACHED CRISTIANI FOR HAVING "KEPT SECRET FOR SEVEN MONTHS THE FACT THAT HE AUTHORIZED THE SEARCH OF THE UCA."

3. ON JULY 27, 1990, JUDGE RICARDO ALFREDO ZAMORA RUIZ TOLD THE ASSISTANT LEGAL OFFICER AND THE DEFENSE ATTACHE THAT A DECEMBER 5 REPORT (SEE REFTEL B, PARAGRAPH 5) FROM COLONEL RENE EMILIO PONCE, CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES, SUGGESTS THAT THE PRESIDENT AUTHORIZED THE UCA SEARCH ONLY AFTER THE FACT. ACCORDING TO THE REPORT, COLONEL GUILLERMO ALFREDO BENAVIDES MORENO (COMMANDER OF THE MILITARY ZONE WHICH INCLUDED THE UCA AT THE TIME OF THE MURDERS) CALLED COL. PONCE ON NOVEMBER 13, 1989, TO ASK FOR PERMISSION TO SEARCH THE UCA. COL. PONCE IMMEDIATELY CALLED THE PRESIDENT AT 2058 AND RECEIVED THAT AUTHORIZATION OVER THE PHONE FROM CRISTIANI. BUT, OTHER TESTIMONY AND EVIDENCE IN ZAMORA'S POSSESSION INDICATES THAT THE SEARCH WAS ALREADY COMPLETED AT 1930.

4. ZAMORA TOLD EMBASSY OFFICERS THAT HE WOULD INFORM THE SUPREME COURT THAT, CONTRARY TO THE FMLN'S CLAIMS, THE FACT THAT CRISTIANI AUTHORIZED THE SEARCH HAS BEEN ON THE LEGAL RECORD SINCE DECEMBER 5. THE SUPREME COURT COULD THEN RELEASE THAT INFORMATION IN ITS PRESS BULLETIN.

(N.J 040)

I had an excellent series of meetings in the United States, where I encountered strong interest in Chile, and strong hopes for the success of democracy here coupled with continued economic growth. The tendency in Seattle, Washington, San Francisco, California, Washington, D.C., and New York is to begin to view your country as moving from the third world into the first. In that sense, Chile is seen as well ahead of Argentina and Brazil, probably even Mexico.

The team from the White House which was here while you were out of the country had good meetings with their Chilean colleagues and it seems we are in agreement on the basic ingredients of a good visit by President Bush.

I have been asked to raise several specific points with you:

I. Sanctions

A. My government is gratified that Chile is seeking to have the Pasaportes Case moved from military to civilian jurisdiction and intends to seek a Ministro en Visita to conduct a credible investigation into the Letelier murder. It appears that opening a new case based on the administrative investigation in the Cancilleria is a positive step as well. Of course we recognize your government's disposition to make an ex gratia payment to the families is also positive. Simultaneously, we have noted that you have introduced legislation to expand intellectual property protection in Chile.

B. In order to be able to lift the Kennedy/Harkin sanctions, and to restore the GSP/OPIC privileges, we must be able to satisfy legitimate concerns about Chile's commitment to pursue the criminal aspects of the Letelier case and to deal with the issue of pharmaceutical patent protection which the former government did not do.

C. As you know, President Bush's visit will coincide with the 14th anniversary of the Letelier-Moffitt murders, bringing them into focus and giving rise to speculation on the matter. It is important that the US President be able to note that the government of Chile is "taking appropriate steps to cooperate" in the Letelier matter: we believe that passage of the leyes Cumplido and naming of a Ministro en Visita will satisfy that requirement for the time being. While there is no connection in our statutes between the indemnification matter and the Kennedy sanctions, there is a connection in the minds of important members of our Congress. Approval of the accord we signed on June 11 by at least one house of the Chilean congress would help very much.

D. Moreover, to clear the GSP/OPIC matter, we have reported your government's confidence that the Chilean congress should produce new legislation on intellectual property by the end of August. When the law your government introduced in the Camara passes the Senate without substantive changes, the benefits should be restored without delay.

E. It is not too early for interested Chileans to let influential members of the US Senate and House of Representatives, as well as the White House, know of the importance to Chile of the lifting of these sanctions. It is preferable that the message be sent in writing.

F. Moreover, it will also help if you can give me your views about the prospects for passage of the Leyes Cumplido and the naming of a Ministro en Visita, as well as for approval of the acuerdo on indemnification. I would also like to know your views on the patent law's prospects. While I was in Washington, we agreed that I will return there to brief interested parties to make sure that our own congressional recess does not interfere with the process of moving rapidly on these matters.

G. I know I do not need to mention that it is important to avoid the appearance of hasty action in both these matters.

II. Uruguay Round

A. See attached points.

III. President Bush's Initiative

A. As I am sure Minister Foxley has reported, this is a serious initiative, dating from President Bush's meetings in Cartagena.

B. Chile is in an advantageous position. If you are interested, we are prepared to begin negotiations on a bilateral framework agreement -- setting up a consultative mechanism to discuss trade related issues and, if you would like, investment matters -- immediately. That could be as early as next week. Should I stay in touch with Minister Foxley on this?

IV. Cuba

A. It appears that President Castro is anxious to gain whatever legitimacy he can in this hemisphere, while clearly risking his relations with Spain and other European countries. What is your view of that situation?

V. Our embassy in Brasil reports some interest on the part of the Collor government in including Chile in the Rio Group or Group of Eight. Have you given that much consideration? What are your views?

LEVELS OF CRIMINAL AND POLITICAL VIOLENCE DOMINATED THE GUATEMALAN POLITICAL SCENE IN JULY. THE ISSUE OF WHETHER RIOS MONT MAY "OPT" FOR PRESIDENT HEATED UP FURTHER AS GOG OFFICIALS, INCLUDING PRESIDENT CEREZO, DECLARED THAT RIOS IS INELIGIBLE. RIOS SUPPORTERS DISRUPTED A GOG-SPONSORED REUNION OF THE FORMER CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WHICH RENDERED A "RULING" AGAINST HIM. RIOS MONT'S CHURCH AND HIS CAMPAIGN HQS WERE BOMBED ON SEPARATE DAYS AND HE BEGAN TO SPEAK OF THE PEOPLE'S "RIGHT TO RESIST" IF HE IS BARRED FROM REGISTERING AS A CANDIDATE. POLLS SHOWED HIM AT THE TOP OF VOTERS' PREFERENCE. THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOSTED A WELL-ATTENDED DEBATE AMONG THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES, INCLUDING RIOS.

2. THE ASSUMPTION OF THE DIRECTORSHIP OF THE NATIONAL POLICF BY REFORMIST COL. CABALLEROS WHICH TRIGGERED SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASED POLICE ACTIVITY GAVE RESIDENTS OF THE CRIME-BESIEGED CAPITAL HOPE THE GOG IS SERIOUS ABOUT FIGHTING VIOLENCE. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN RELEASED DATA SHOWING THAT IN THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1990, GUATEMALA SUFFERED A POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLING EVERY 21 HOURS AND A POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DISAPPEARANCE EVERY 41 HOURS--LARGELY IN SAN MARCOS DEPARTMENT. MOST VICTIMS WERE INDIGENOUS PERSONS APPARENTLY SUSPECTED OF INVOLVEMENT WITH THE GUERRILLA. THE FIGURES DO NOT INCLUDE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS OF CRIMINALS, AN ACTIVITY THAT SEEMS TO BE GROWING. A CENTRIST CONGRESSIONAL DEPUTY WAS ASSASSINATED ON A RURAL ROAD BY UNKNOWN GUNMEN. CERJ DENOUNCED THE KIDNAPPING OF AN ACTIVIST IN [redacted]

ZACUALPA (QUICHE) AND THE SHOOTING OF ANOTHER; CLANDESTINE CAMPESINO ORGANIZATION CUC ALSO CLAIMED THE DISAPPEARED PERSON AS A MEMBER. THE DISAPPEARANCE SEEMS PART OF A COUNTERINSURGENCY OPERATION.

3. THE GUERRILLA WAR SEEMED TO DIMINISH NEAR MAJOR POPULATION CENTERS AS THE INSURGENTS APPEARED TO BE HONORING PLEDGES MADE IN MADRID LAST MAY TO REFRAIN FROM ATTACKS ON THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE AND TO ALLOW THE ELECTIONS TO GO FORTH. THE WAR REMAINED INTENSE, HOWEVER, ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER AS THE ARMY CONDUCTED A LARGE COUNTERINSURGENCY OPERATION IN QUICHE AND HUEHUETENANGO. THE MAJOR PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATION, CACIF, RELUCTANTLY AGREED TO ATTEND CNR-SPONSORED TALKS WITH THE GUERRILLA ORGANIZATION, URNG. THE MEETING IS TENTATIVELY DUE IN AUGUST IN CANADA.

POLITICAL AND EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS

4. JULY CONTINUED TO SEE LARGE NUMBERS OF UNIDENTIFIED BODIES TURNING UP IN AND NEAR MAJOR CITIES, IN PARTICULAR THE CAPITAL. MANY VICTIMS HAD CRIMINAL RECORDS, LEADING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN TO CONCLUDE THEY HAD FALLEN TO VIGILANTE JUSTICE. THE OMBUDSMAN RELEASED FIGURES FOR THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1990 SHOWING A TOTAL OF 204 POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLINGS (HE DID NOT INCLUDE IN HIS FIGURES SUSPECTED EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS OF CRIMINALS--SEE BELOW FOR DISAPPEARANCES). DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ TOLD THE PRESS THAT IN THE FIRST 21 DAYS OF JULY, THERE WERE 80 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS OF ALL TYPES.

5. ACCORDING TO THE OMBUDSMAN, MOST OF THE KILLINGS TOOK PLACE IN CONFLICTIVE SAN MARCOS DEPARTMENT AND HAD INDIGENOUS PERSONS AS VICTIMS. OTHER PROBLEM AREAS ARE HUEHUETENANGO, QUICHE, AND PARTS OF PETEN. THE [redacted]

THE GOG REPORT ON THE KIDNAPING AND MURDER OF SALVADORAN LEFTIST HECTOR OQUELI, ISSUED IN JUNE, CONTINUED TO DRAW CRITICISM FROM THE OMBUDSMAN, US CONGRESSIONAL STAFF, AND INVESTIGATORS FOR THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL.

DISAPPEARANCE

6. AMILCAR MENDEZ, LEADER OF THE RURAL ORGANIZATION CERJ, DENOUNCED A JULY 12 KIDNAPPING BY ARMED MEN OF ALLEGED CERJ MEMBER SAMUEL DE LA CRUZ GOMEZ OF ZACUALPA (QUICHE). MENDEZ SAID HIS ORGANIZATION FILED WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS AND REPORTED THE DISAPPEARANCE TO THE POLICE AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. THE LEFTIST CAMPESINO ORGANIZATION CUC (COMMITTEE OF PEASANT UNITY) ALSO DENOUNCED DE LA CRUZ'S DISAPPEARANCE, SAYING HE WAS A CUC ACTIVIST, AND THE DISAPPEARANCE OF A DE LA CRUZ RELATIVE, NAZARIO DE LA CRUZ PONCE, ALSO FROM ZACUALPA. TWO OTHER ZACUALPA RESIDENTS WERE REPORTED WOUNDED BY GUNFIRE. OTHER RELIABLE SOURCES REPORTED, HOWEVER, NAZARIO WAS NOT KIDNAPPED AND IS HIDING. GIVEN THE CONFLICTIVE NATURE OF THE AREA NEAR ZACUALPA, SAMUEL DE LA CRUZ PROBABLY FELL TO A COUNTERINSURGENCY OPERATION.

7. MENDEZ ALSO DENOUNCED THE JULY 2 DISAPPEARANCE OF CERJ MEMBER PEDRO TIU CAC IN CHAJAB, RACANA (TOTONICAPAN). ACCORDING TO MENDEZ, TIU CAC WAS TAKEN BY TEN HEAVILY ARMED MEN IN TWO PICK-UP TRUCKS, INCLUDING ONE ALLEGEDLY SEEN ON THE QUICHE MILITARY ZONE HQS. HE HAS NOT BEEN SEEN SINCE HIS REPORTED KIDNAPPING.

8. ACCORDING TO FIGURES RELEASED BY THE OMBUDSMAN, IN

THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1990, GUATEMALA EXPERIENCED 105 POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DISAPPEARANCES. AS WITH POLITICAL KILLINGS (ABOVE), THE OMBUDSMAN CONCLUDED THAT THE MAJORITY ARE PEOPLE SUSPECTED OF INVOLVEMENT WITH THE GUERRILLA AND WERE TAKEN IN OPERATIONS BY THE ARMY OR PERSONS LINKED TO THE ARMY. THE NEW ARMY SPOKESMAN REFUTED THE CHARGES. HE CLAIMED THE ARMY HAS RECEIVED 84 "HUMAN RIGHTS COMPLAINTS" SO FAR THIS YEAR, INVESTIGATED THEM, AND FOUND 46 THAT COULD BE SUBSTANTIATED. THESE, HE SAID, WERE GIVEN TO THE COURTS. MOST CASES, ACCORDING TO THE SPOKESMAN, INVOLVED PERSONAL GRIEVANCES AND VENDETTAS.

ARBITRARY ARREST

9. IN JULY, CERJ PUBLICLY DENOUNCED THE ARBITRARY ARREST OF CERJ MEMBER MARCUS PU PERCAC NEAR SANTA LUCIA DE LA REFORMA (TOTONICAPAN). HE REPORTEDLY WAS ARRESTED BY NATIONAL POLICE WHO THREATENED TO LABEL HIM A SUBVERSIVE UNLESS HE PAID THEM A BRIBE. PU PERCAC, ACCORDING TO MENDEZ, WAS KEPT FOR FIVE DAYS WITHOUT FOOD BEFORE BEING RELEASED. HE APPARENTLY PAID THE BRIBE. A JUDGE IN HUEHUETENANGO DENOUNCED THE ILLEGAL DETENTION OF A MINOR BY A CIVIL PATROL. THE JUDGE, WHO ASKED HIS NAME NOT BE RELEASED, REPORTED RECEIVING DEATH THREATS FROM THE PATROL LEADER AND HAS ORDERED HIM ARRESTED.

10. IN RESPONSE TO NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS ABOUT POLICE BEHAVIOR, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN HELD MEETINGS WITH THE NEW NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR. A RESULT WAS A PUBLIC COMMITMENT BY THE DIRECTOR TO HAVE HIS MEN RESPECT HUMAN RIGHTS. THE OMBUDSMAN ALSO STATED HIS OFFICE WOULD HAVE A REPRESENTATIVE, MARCO ANTONIO SAGASTUME GEMMELL, CHARGED WITH PROTECTING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF POLICE OFFICERS; THE OMBUDSMAN CRITICIZED THE WORK CONDITIONS AND PAY OF POLICEMEN WHICH HE SAID CONTRIBUTES TO ABUSES.

A POLL RELEASED IN JULY SHOWED RIOS TIED FOR FIRST WITH UCN CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO; ANOTHER POLL, DUE OUT THE FIRST WEEK OF AUGUST, IS EXPECTED TO SHOW RIOS PULLING AHEAD OF CARPIO. THE GOG, CLEARLY CONCERNED BY RIOS'S GROWING POPULARITY, BEGAN AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN AGAINST HIM. PRESIDENT CEREZO IMPLIED THAT IF RIOS IS ALLOWED TO RUN, THEN CEREZO COULD RUN AGAIN. THE GOVERNMENT, IN LEAGUE WITH MUCH OF THE OPPOSITION, CONVENED A GATHERING OF THE FORMER CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY TO EMIT A DECLARATION ON WHETHER RIOS COULD RUN. THE ASSEMBLY WAS DISRUPTED FOR THREE HOURS BY SUPPORTERS OF RIOS, INCLUDING HIS WIFE AND HIS DAUGHTER. IN THE END THE ASSEMBLY, LABELED BY RIOS A "CIRCUS," EMITTED A "RULING" AS EXPECTED: RIOS CANNOT RUN. THE "RULING" HAS NO LEGAL FORCE AND THE DEBATE CONTINUED AS THE MONTH ENDED. RIOS RESPONDED TO THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST HIM BY CITING CONSTITUTIONAL ARTICLE 45 DECLARING THE PEOPLE HAVE THE RIGHT TO RESIST VIOLATIONS OF RIGHTS. MANY OBSERVERS THOUGHT RIOS MADE A MISTAKE

BY ALLOWING HIS BACKERS TO DISRUPT THE ASSEMBLY--IT UNDERMINED HIS CLAIM TO RESPECT LAW AND ORDER.

15. TWO FACILITIES CONNECTED WITH RIOS MONT, HIS CHURCH AND HIS CAMPAIGN HQS, WERE BOMBED SEVERAL DAYS APART. NO INJURIES RESULTED. An international campaign is requested by the family, attorneys and friends of Mr. SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA, political prisoner in Santiago, Chile since June 1982. Mr. SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA has suffered one heart-attack and two pre-heartattacks in the last 16 months (the last pre-attack was in July 1990) and has been diagnosed as needing by-pass surgery. He is under doctor's orders of complete bedrest, although his prison cell is on a second floor which means he must go up and down stairs for meals, to receive visits and is subject to evacuation of his cell during frequent routine searches and ransackings of his cell by prison guards. The doctors ordered the next exam needed in his diagnosis in June 1990 (paid by the International Red Cross) but permission has not been granted for this test to be carried out.

On Wednesday August 8 the Military Martial Court rejected a liberty order for SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA issued by the military fiscal in charge of his case. In light of this setback, an international campaign is requested to secure his release. The grounds for his liberty, are humanitarian and juridical.

The juridical: Mr. SILVA ESPINOZA had three charges, for two he was sentenced 4 and 10 years respectively. The third charge has remained open since his detention in 1982 (which is contrary to Chilean law) yet the maximum sentence for the third charge is 3 years, making a maximum of 17 years.

Under Chilean law, a prisoner who has completed half of his sentence, can be given day-freedom and weekend freedom, thus returning to the prison only at night. SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA has been eligible for this consideration for six months, but has not been granted this permission.

There are several laws under consideration in the Chilean Parliament to reduce sentences and pardon some of Chile's over 500 political prisoners. If any of these laws were to pass the Congress, SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA would be eligible to be freed. The laws have been under debate since April 1990. In the meantime, over 230 political prisoners have been freed or pardoned by President Aylwin or the Military Martial Court. Prisoners with more serious charges than SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA have been freed. There seems to be no logic as to whom is freed or pardoned.

The humanitarian consideration is the most important one. SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA needs heart surgery and his condition points to continued deterioration and danger to his life. SERGIO SILVA ESPINOZA needs not only to recuperate his freedom but since he needs his life to be saved.

Interest section #413

A. Legal Basis for the request

1. Introduction

Interest is awarded to compensate for the loss of use of money over time.[1/] Fifteen years have now passed since the brutal murders of Ronni Moffitt and Orlando Letelier in Washington, D.C. Despite persistent efforts, the families have yet to receive any sort of compensation for the tremendous losses they suffered when Ronni and Orlando were assassinated in September 1976. This lack of prompt payment of compensation due has caused distinct injury and severe hardship to the families for which they must be compensated under general principles of international law.

For the Letelier family the lack of prompt compensation has caused severe financial hardship. Due to lack of financial resources Isabel Letelier was forced to endure the anxiety of not knowing from one day to the next how she would possibly feed, clothe or otherwise provide for her four teenage sons. [add a few examples of the monetary problems -- any other medical expenses -- dental???] As the boys grew up and dispersed to different parts of the world, the Leteliers could rarely, if ever, afford to travel to visit each other and lend one another much needed moral and emotional support. In fact, in the last fifteen years, they have only been able to get together once since Orlando's death. Cite to ------'s affidavit. Thus, the failure to make prompt compensation added in a very real way to the suffering and the losses of the Letelier family.

2. International Law Principles

Interest is a basic component of the duty to make full reparation for an injury. The compensatory role interest plays in international decision making is recognized by the commentators. Lillich notes "interest as part of an award by an international tribunal . . . is recognized by customary international law . . . as an element of damages inherent in just compensation."[2/] Similarly, Eagleton states "[t]he award of interest is usually considered to be merely a part of the duty to make full reparation."[3/] Article 38 of the Harvard Draft Convention of the International Responsibility of States for Injuries to Aliens provides, in part: "1. [t]he amount of any award shall include interest, either by way of inclusion in the lump sum awarded or by the addition of an amount computed from the date of the injury to the date of the award. . . ."[4/]

International law routinely provides for the payment of interest in commercial claims.[5/] Moreover, interest on property losses or other pecuniary/liquidated losses, such as medical expenses, has been accepted on the same principle as that of commercial claims - the claimant has suffered the loss of the opportunity to use the funds from the date of the loss, or from the date the expense was incurred.[6/]

International tribunals have handled claims for interest on personal injury and wrongful death cases in a number of ways. Some commissions have followed the practice of awarding a lump sum in settlement of all aspects of the case.[7/] Apparently, the delay in making payment or attempting to resolve the case is among the factors taken into account in determining an appropriate lump sum. Brownlie states: "the fact that the 'lump sum' awarded includes interest . . . does not contradict the principle that compensation should include interest on the damage at the time of the injury."[8/]

Other international commissions have simply awarded pre-judgment interest in personal injury or death cases in the same manner as interest on property losses.[9] And although still others have declined to award interest on non-pecuniary or unliquidated claims on the theory that the amount of damage is too hard to define and thus the amount of interest thereon too difficult to assess cite-----, this approach is inconsistent with the principle of full compensation.

As established earlier, the difficulty of determining an amount of compensation for a loss or injury does not mean that compensation should therefore be denied. This is especially so when the real difficulty lies in assessing compensation for physical or mental suffering - an assessment tribunals commonly make. Once that figure is established, calculating compensation for lost financial opportunity in a death case is no more difficult than in a commercial case. Brownlie states: "If in principle true compensation includes interest on the compensation (as due at the time of injury or death), the fact that the sum awarded is in some sense 'unliquidated' or arbitrary is not incompatible with the payment of interest on the compensation."[10]

It is indisputable that the families of the victims suffered additional injury by reason of the delay in receiving prompt compensation. Given that the date of death is clearly established, and this Commission will have to assess an amount to compensate for the mental suffering of the family as well as their out-of-pocket losses, calculation of an amount to compensate for delay in payment from 1976 to the present is a relatively simply endeavor.[11]

[9] See, e.g., Heirs of Cyrus Donaugho and Theodore Webster's Administrator, 3 Whiteman, supra at 1985 (----------).

[10] Brownlie, supra at 228.

[11] Dr. Perl's calculation includes interest on the money which Orlando and Ronni would have earned from 1976 until the present and on the monetary value of the services they would have performed during that time period. However, the remaining portions of the compensation should be increased to compensate for the inordinate length of time which this compensation has been delayed.

UNCLASSIFIED

B. Period of Interest

The present case is extraordinary in the amount of time that has elapsed without any compensation whatsoever since the deaths. The chart at Exhibit lists wrongful death claims asserted on an international level since the 1922 Lusitania award, showing the date of the incident and the date of the award. Most cases were resolved within 3 to 5 years and in no case did payment lag 15 years behind the incident. Such an inordinate delay cannot rightfully inure to the benefit of the delaying party. Such a rule would discourage prompt settlement of claims.

1. Interest should run from the date of death.

In accordance with the widely accepted principles outlined above - that interest is to compensate for the loss of use of money over time - a reasonable calculation of the time period during which money was lost must be made. As the claim for losses resulting from wrongful death arises on the date of death, it would be reasonable to calculate interest on the amount that compensates for the material and moral injuries sustained from September 21, 1976 to the date an award is paid to the families. Support for this position is found in the cases of Theodore Webster's Administrator[12/] and Heirs of Cyrus Donaugho,[13/] where the United States - Mexican Claims Commission awarded interest to the families from the date of death. The Mexican Agent protested the allowance of interest in these wrongful death claims. In response, Umpire Thorton stated:

> The Umpire has to say that in these cases he considered what was the value of the life to the heirs at the date of the death, and that the heirs were entitled to receive this value at once; consequently they had a right to interest from that date. If it had not been so, the Umpire would have awarded a larger sum so as to make up for the absence of > interest from the date of the death of the two persons above mentioned . . . .[14/]

International jurists frequently award interest from the date the claim arose. The Foreign Claims Settlement Commission held in American Cast Iron Pipe Company that "the prevailing opinion in international law is that such interest should run from the date the claim arose until the 'date of payment.' The date the claim arose in this case is the date of loss."[15/] This approach was also followed at the Iran-U.S. Claims Tribunal where interest was always awarded from the date of loss to the date of payment.[15/]

2. Interest can begin to run from the time the government is put on notice of a claim against it.

Several international commissions have followed the rule that a government is only chargeable with interest from the time payment was demanded from the government or otherwise put on notice of the claim's existence.[16/] The reason most often given for using the date the claim was presented as the starting point for interest is that until the government has notice of the claim, it can not be held responsible for its payment. This position is illustrated in numerous international law decisions. As Ralston notes in the NAME OF CASE decision:

> Governments may not be presumed to know, until a proper demand be made upon them(?), of the existence of claims > which may have been created without the authorization of the central power, and even against its express instruction. . . . The Umpire . . . does not now consider that it would be just to charge Venezuela with the payment of interest for perhaps long periods of time during which that Republic was not notified that a claim was made against it.17/

Claims were presented by the Unites States against China for several United States citizens that were murdered in China during the Revolution of 1911-1912. China paid the claims ranging from $5,000 to $25,000, in gold, to the families of the deceased. On January 8, 1915, the Chinese Government paid interest at the rate of 5% per annum from April 26, 1913, the approximate date of the presentation of the claims, to November 24, 1914, the date the principal was paid.18/ OTHER EXAMPLES

Even accepting that governments can not be presumed to know of a claim against them until it is presented, in the instant case, the Government of Chile was well aware of the claim's existence since shortly after the assassination. [factual basis] Moreover, in August 1978, the victims' families filed a lawsuit naming the Government of Chile as a defendant in District Court in Washington D.C. Thus, the Chilean Government was clearly aware of the claim against it and cannot invoke lack of knowledge as a reason to avoid responsibility for the unreasonable delay in resolving the claim.

C. Rate of interest

A fair or just rate of interest should be applied. (cite) However, no commonly accepted "fair" or "just" rate of interest exists. As stated by the U.S. Foreign Claims Settlement Commission "[t]he Commission's object in determining the rate of interest is to arrive at just and equitable compensation for the wrong."[19] The question then is: what rate of interest will fairly and justly compensate the victims' families for the fifteen years delay in making payment or otherwise resolving their claims?

Until about 1960, a 6% rate of interest was commonly used. However, since that time commercial interest rates have been much more volatile and 6% percent today is regarded as an extremely low rate of interest. Lillich notes: "[A]t present, 6 percent is assuredly not an appropriate rate of interest in the law of international claims . . . ."[20] More indicative of current international practice are the decisions of the Iran - U.S. Claims Tribunal, which has regularly awarded interest at rates from ten to twelve percent.[21]

Other international tribunals have recently determined that a "fair" and "just" rate of interest is much higher than those awarded at the Iran - U.S. Claims Tribunal. For example, a tribunal of the International Chamber of Commerce has decided that the appropriate rate of interest to restore a claimant to his status quo ante is 14.5 percent.[22] This rate of interest was determined based on the average rate of interest prevailing in the United States during the relevant period as determined by the arbitrator. Another illustration is found in the recent

A fair or equitable rate which would provide the families a reasonable compensation for the delay in payment of an award would be 10% from September 21, 1976 (i.e. the date of death) or, at minimum, 10% from the date the suit was filed in U.S. district court which is when the Chilean Government clearly became aware of the claim's existence.[24/]. (Julie can you find some cases using a 10% rate as a fair of just rate?)

2. SUMMARY: THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY MAY BE INVOLVED IN A COVER-UP OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF AMCIT MICHAEL DEVINE. IF THIS IS TRUE, IT CALLS INTO SERIOUS QUESTION THE CONTINUATION OF SECURITY ASSISTANCE. WE ARE CONTINUING TO PRESS GOG FOR A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION, AND HAVE PROVIDED THE GOG WITH RESULTS OF OUR EFFORTS AND THE NAMES OF PEOPLE WHO MAY BE INVOLVED IN THE MURDER. END SUMMARY.

IT HAS BEEN LIKENED TO DODGE CITY IN ITS LAWLESSNESS AND WILD WEST WAYS. ALTHOUGH THERE ARE THREE NATIONAL POLICEMEN ASSIGNED THERE, THEY HAVE NO TELEPHONE, NO VEHICLE AND NO MONEY FOR TAXIS OR OTHER EXPENDITURES. SCORES ARE SETTLED DIRECTLY, IF AT

RAISED IN CALIFORNIA. DEVINE WAS A PHYSICAL FITNESS BUFF, IN EXCELLENT SHAPE EXCEPT FOR THE FACT THAT 3-4 WEEKS PRIOR TO HIS MURDER HE HAD A BAD FALL IN WHICH HE BROKE BOTH OF HIS WRISTS. HE AND HIS WIFE CAROLE ADOPTED TWO GUATEMALAN CHILDREN WHO ARE NOW 16 AND 17 YEARS OLD, BOTH U.S. PERMANENT RESIDENTS (THEY HAVE NOT LIVED IN THE U.S. ENOUGH TIME TO BECOME CITIZENS.) BOTH HE AND HIS WIFE APPEAR TO BE HELD IN HIGH REGARD BY THE LOCAL COMMUNITY, AND DEVINE'S FUNERAL WAS THE LARGEST PUBLIC EVENT IN POPTUN IN MEMORY.

5. THE DEVINES ESTABLISHED A LARGE FARM AND WILDERNESS AREA ABOUT 2 KMS. SOUTH OF POPTUN. THEY OPERATED A HOTEL AND RESTAURANT ON THE FARM FOR MANY YEARS, OFTEN HAVING AS MANY AS 60-80 GUESTS AT NIGHT. ALTHOUGH THERE ARE REPORTS THAT GUESTS SOMETIMES USING MARIJUANA (THE HOTEL ATTRACTED A CLIENTELE OF ADVENTURERS AND BACKPACKERS), DEVINE HIMSELF APPARENTLY OPPOSED DRUG USE AND THREW OUT CUSTOMERS WHO OPENLY USED DRUGS.

6. ACCORDING TO EMPLOYEES ON HIS FARM, DEVINE WAS DEPRESSED FOR ABOUT TWO WEEKS PRIOR TO HIS DEATH. HE REFERRED VAGUELY TO THREATS AND COMMENTED THAT HE MIGHT NOT BE AROUND MUCH LONGER. DEVINE'S MOTHER DIED 40 DAYS PRIOR TO HIS DEATH, LEAVING HIM A SUBSTANTIAL ESTATE. IT IS UNCLEAR WHETHER ANYONE IN THE COMMUNITY KNEW HE HAD RECENTLY COME INTO SOME MONEY. UNTIL THE DAY BEFORE HIS MURDER, HIS WIFE WAS AWAY FROM POPTUN FOR TWO WEEKS AND WAS UNAWARE OF HIS SUBDUED MOOD OR CONCERN ABOUT THREATS.

THE MURDER

7. ACCORDING TO INFORMATION PROVIDED BY THE AMERICAN CITIZEN PRIVATE DETECTIVE HIRED BY MRS. DEVINE SUBSEQUENT TO THE MURDER, ON FRIDAY JUNE 8, AT ABOUT 3 P.M. MICHAEL DEVINE RETURNED TO HIS FARM FROM POPTUN BRINGING BEER AND OTHER SUPPLIES FOR THE HOTEL. HE WAS APPARENTLY ASSAULTED BY 4-5 MEN WHO WAITED SEVERAL HOURS FOR HIM IN A DISTINCTIVE WHITE TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCK PARKED ON THE ROAD AT THE ENTRANCE TO HIS FARM. THERE WERE SEVERAL WITNESSES WHO SAW THIS TRUCK AND ITS OCCUPANTS WAITING, SAW DEVINE ENTER THE FARM ENTRANCE ROAD DRIVING HIS VAN, AND SAW BOTH THE VAN AND THE TRUCK BACK OUT A FEW MINUTES LATER. THESE WITNESSES HAVE IDENTIFIED THE TRUCK'S OCCUPANTS EITHER ON PHOTOGRAPHS OR COMPOSITE DRAWINGS. NO WITNESSES TO THE ACTUAL KIDNAPPING AND MURDER HAVE BEEN FOUND.

8. AT ABOUT 1800 ON JUNE 8, AT LEAST TWO WITNESSES SAW THE VEHICLES PARKED TOGETHER NOSED INTO A BRUSH PILE WHERE DEVINE'S VAN WAS FOUND THE FOLLOWING MORNING. PRIOR TO HIS DEATH DEVINE WAS BEATEN, AND SHOWED A BAD BRUISE ON HIS FACE. AT 0600 ON SATURDAY, HIS BODY WAS FOUND ON THE GROUND BESIDE THE VAN. IT WAS PRACTICALLY DECAPITATED. IT APPEARS HIS THROAT WAS SLASHED BY SOMEONE STANDING BEHIND HIM WHILE HE WAS KNEELING.

IN CONNECTION WITH HIS INVESTIGATION.

THE INVESTIGATION

10. IN ADDITION TO LOCATING WITNESSES TO THE WHITE TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCK, ITS ACTIVITIES AND WHEREABOUTS, WEST HAS COME UP WITH THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

A) THE WHITE TOYOTA PICKUP IS WELL KNOWN IN THE POPTUN AREA. RESIDENTS TOLD WEST THAT IT WAS SEEN FREQUENTLY ENTERING THE POPTUN MILITARY COMPOUND, OFTEN IN COMPANY WITH ARMY GASOLINE CONVOYS. WITHIN THE PAST MONTH, IT HAS BEEN MOVED TO THE ARMY BASE IN FLORES, PETEN, AND HAS NOW BEEN PAINTED RED WITH A BLACK STRIPE DOWN THE SIDE. IT HAS BEEN SEEN BY VARIOUS WITNESSES DRIVING IN THE AREA OF FLORES AND SAN LUIS, AND MOST RECENTLY WAS SEEN LEAVING THE ARMY BASE ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, RETURNING ON SUNDAY, AUGUST 7.

B) IN FLORES, WEST HIMSELF SAW TWO OF THE MEN ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED IN DEVINE'S KIDNAPPING. THE MEN WERE IDENTIFIED BY WITNESSES WHO HAD SEEN THEM WAITING FOR DEVINE IN THE TOYOTA TRUCK THE AFTERNOON OF HIS KIDNAPPING. A TAX FORM (BOLETO DE ORNATO) WITH THE NAME OF ONE OF THE TWO (AGUSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ) WAS FOUND BESIDE THE SPOT WHERE THE PICKUP TRUCK HAD BEEN PARKED ON JUNE 8. SOME FOOD RATIONS ALLEGEDLY OF THE TYPE USED BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY, ALSO WERE FOUND WITH TAX FORM. THE TWO MEN WEST SAW REPORTEDLY HAVE SOME UNSPECIFIED RELATIONSHIP WITH S-2.

C) FABIAN AREVALO DE LA CRUZ CURRENTLY IS ASSIGNED TO THE ARMY BASE IN FLORES. WEST ALLEGES THAT AREVALO DROVE THE FOUR MEN WHO WERE LATER SEEN IN THE WHITE PICKUP ON JUNE 8 FROM THE BASE IN FLORES TO POPTUN, WHERE THEY KIDNAPPED AND MURDERED DEVINE. AREVALO WAS A PERSONAL FRIEND OF DEVINE'S. IT IS UNCLEAR WHETHER HE WAS INVOLVED IN THE ACTUAL MURDER, OR THAT HE WAS EVEN AWARE THAT DEVINE WAS TO BECOME THE VICTIM OF A CRIME. IT IS NOT YET KNOWN WHETHER HE WILL BE WILLING TO TESTIFY.

D) THERE IS A WITNESS TO THE FACT THE TOYOTA TRUCK, FORMERLY WHITE, WAS PAINTED RED ON THE FLORES MILITARY BASE.

E) WEST HAS DISCOVERED THE NAMES OF NINE PEOPLE WHO ALLEGEDLY HAD SOME INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER.

THE MOTIVE

11. THERE IS NO CLEAR MOTIVE FOR THE MURDER.
SPECULATIONS INCLUDE:
(A) ROBBERY

THIS IS THE CONCLUSION OF THE INITIAL POLICE
INVESTIGATION. APPARENTLY, HOWEVER, THE ONLY ITEMS STOLEN FROM DEVINE WERE HIS POCKET KNIFE AND WATCH.
HIS VAN AND ALL ITS CONTENTS WERE LEFT UNTOUCHED AND VERY VISIBLE.

(B) DRUGS

UNCLEAR AS TO WHETHER THE SUSPICIONS ARE THAT DEVINE WAS DEALING IN DRUGS OR WAS OPPOSED TO THEM AND GOT IN THE WAY OF SOME NARCOS.
(C) CHILD STEALING

WEST LEARNED THAT A YOUNG GIRL REPORTLY REMARKED TO HER EMPLOYER SOME EIGHT HOURS BEFORE DEVINE'S ABDUCTION THAT DEVINE WAS GOING TO BE KILLED BECAUSE HE HAD KIDNAPPED A CHILD AND SOLD IT FOR ONE MILLION DOLLARS. HOWEVER, THERE IS NO RECENT REPORT OF ANY CHILD MISSING IN THAT AREA.
(D) LAND CLAIM

TO DRIVE HIM OFF HIS LAND, WHICH MAY HAVE BEEN COVETED BY OTHERS.

THE IMPORTANT POINT, HOWEVER, IS THAT THESE ARE NOTHING MORE THAN CONJECTURES. NO EVIDENCE HAS COME TO LIGHT THAT WOULD SUBSTANTIATE ANY OF THEM.

EMBASSY ACTIONS

OF AMERICAN CITIZENS IS OUR PARAMOUNT RESPONSIBILITY. IT FOR THIS REASON THAT WE HAVE BEEN PUSHING SO HARD ON THE GOG (AND ESPECIALLY THE MILITARY) FOR AN EFFECTIVE AND ENERGETIC RESOLUTION OF THIS CASE. AT THE SAME TIME, THIS CASE GIVES THE GOG AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW THAT IT HAS THE RESOLVE TO CARRY OUT AN EFFECTIVE INVESTIGATION AND BRING THE PERPETRATORS, WHOEVER THEY MAY BE, TO JUSTICE.

16. WE ARE SERIOUSLY DISTURBED THAT THUS FAR THE MILITARY'S RESPONSES HAVE NOT INDICATED ANYTHING LIKE THE LEVEL OF ATTENTION AND/OR ENERGY WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE. MRS. DEVINE AND MR. WEST BELIEVE THAT THIS INDICATES THE MILITARY IS TRYING TO COVER UP THE INVOLVEMENT OF SOME OF ITS PERSONNEL IN DEVINE'S MURDER. THAT JUDGMENT MAY BE PREMATURE. NOW THAT WE HAVE PROVIDED ADDITIONAL NAMES AND INFORMATION TO THE MILITARY, WE WILL BE WATCHING CAREFULLY TO SEE WHAT HAPPENS. OUR HOPE IS THAT THE GUILTY PARTIES WILL BE APPREHENDED RAPIDLY AND BROUGHT TO TRIAL.

17. IF THIS DOES NOT HAPPEN, AND IF IT APPEARS THAT THE MILITARY HAS FAILED TO TAKE WHAT APPEAR TO BE RELATIVELY EASY AND LOGICAL STEPS, WE MAY HAVE TO CONCLUDE THAT THE MILITARY WISHES TO CONCEAL WHAT REALLY HAPPENED. IN THAT EVENT, IT WOULD CALL INTO SERIOUS QUESTION WHETHER WE SHOULD CONTINUE TO HAVE ANY SECURITY ASSISTANCE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE GUATEMALAN ARMED FORCES. ALSO IN THAT EVENT, WE MAY DECIDE THAT THE USG SHOULD FILE ITS OWN COMPLAINT WITH THE GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE.

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY MAY BE INVOLVED IN A COVER-UP OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF AMCIT MICHAEL DEVINE. IF THIS IS TRUE, IT CALLS INTO SERIOUS QUESTION THE CONTINUATION OF SECURITY ASSISTANCE. WE ARE CONTINUING TO PRESS GOG FOR A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION, AND HAVE PROVIDED THE GOG WITH RESULTS OF OUR EFFORTS AND THE NAMES OF PEOPLE WHO MAY BE INVOLVED IN THE MURDER. END SUMMARY.

THE SETTING

3. POPTUN IS A TOWN OF 8000 INHABITANTS LOCATED IN THE PETEN PROVINCE, AN 8-10 HOUR DRIVE FROM GUATEMALA CITY, AND ABOUT THREE HOURS OVER A VERY ROUGH ROAD FROM THE PROVINCIAL CAPITAL OF FLORES. IT HAS BEEN LIKENED TO DODGE CITY IN ITS LAWLESSNESS AND WILD WEST WAYS. ALTHOUGH THERE ARE THREE NATIONAL POLICEMEN ASSIGNED THERE, THEY HAVE NO TELEPHONE, NO VEHICLE AND NO MONEY FOR TAXIS OR OTHER EXPENDITURES. SCORES ARE SETTLED DIRECTLY, IF AT ALL. THREE OR FOUR MURDERS A WEEK ARE NOT UNCOMMON; VIRTUALLY ALL GO UNRESOLVED. AT ANY SIGN OF MILITARY INVOLVEMENT, THE NATIONAL POLICEMEN DISAPPEAR OR BECOME EVEN MORE INEFFECTIVE THAN USUAL.

THE VICTIM

4. MICHAEL DEVINE WAS ALMOST 49 YEARS OLD, BORN IN KANSAS, RAISED IN ILLINOIS. HE CAME TO GUATEMALA NEARLY 20 YEARS AGO WITH HIS AMCIT WIFE, BORN AND RAISED IN CALIFORNIA. DEVINE WAS A PHYSICAL FITNESS BUFF, IN EXCELLENT SHAPE EXCEPT FOR THE FACT THAT 3-4 WEEKS PRIOR TO HIS MURDER HE HAD A BAD FALL IN WHICH

HE BROKE BOTH OF HIS WRISTS. HE AND HIS WIFE CAROLE ADOPTED TWO GUATEMALAN CHILDREN WHO ARE NOW 16 AND 17 YEARS OLD, BOTH U.S. PERMANENT RESIDENTS (THEY HAVE NOT LIVED IN THE U.S. ENOUGH TIME TO BECOME CITIZENS.) BOTH HE AND HIS WIFE APPEAR TO BE HELD IN HIGH REGARD BY THE LOCAL COMMUNITY, AND DEVINE'S FUNERAL WAS THE LARGEST PUBLIC EVENT IN POPTUN IN MEMORY.

5. THE DEVINES ESTABLISHED A LARGE FARM AND WILDERNESS AREA ABOUT 3 KMS. SOUTH OF POPTUN. THEY OPERATED A HOTEL AND RESTAURANT ON THE FARM FOR MANY YEARS, OFTEN HAVING AS MANY AS 60-80 GUESTS AT NIGHT. ALTHOUGH THERE ARE REPORTS THAT GUESTS SOMETIMES USING MARIJUANA (THE HOTEL ATTRACTED A CLIENTELE OF ADVENTURERS AND BACKPACKERS), DEVINE HIMSELF APPARENTLY OPPOSED DRUG USE AND THREW OUT CUSTOMERS WHO OPENLY USED DRUGS.

6. ACCORDING TO EMPLOYEES ON HIS FARM, DEVINE WAS DEPRESSED FOR ABOUT TWO WEEKS PRIOR TO HIS DEATH. HE REFERRED VAGUELY TO THREATS AND COMMENTED THAT HE MIGHT NOT BE AROUND MUCH LONGER. DEVINE'S MOTHER DIED 40 DAYS PRIOR TO HIS DEATH, LEAVING HIM A SUBSTANTIAL ESTATE. IT IS UNCLEAR WHETHER ANYONE IN THE COMMUNITY KNEW HE HAD RECENTLY COME INTO SOME MONEY. UNTIL THE DAY BEFORE HIS MURDER, HIS WIFE WAS AWAY FROM POPTUN FOR TWO WEEKS AND WAS UNAWARE OF HIS SUBDUED MOOD OR CONCERN ABOUT THREATS.

THE MURDER

7. ACCORDING TO INFORMATION PROVIDED BY THE AMERICAN CITIZEN PRIVATE DETECTIVE HIRED BY MRS. DEVINE SUBSEQUENT TO THE MURDER, ON FRIDAY JUNE 8, AT ABOUT 3 P.M. MICHAEL DEVINE RETURNED TO HIS FARM FROM POPTUN BRINGING BEER AND OTHER SUPPLIES FOR THE HOTEL. HE WAS APPARENTLY ASSAULTED BY 4-5 MEN WHO WAITED SEVERAL HOURS FOR HIM IN A DISTINCTIVE WHITE TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCK PARKED ON THE ROAD AT THE ENTRANCE TO HIS FARM. THERE WERE SEVERAL WITNESSES WHO SAW THIS TRUCK AND ITS OCCUPANTS WAITING, SAW DEVINE ENTER THE FARM ENTRANCE ROAD DRIVING HIS VAN, AND SAW BOTH THE VAN AND THE TRUCK BACK OUT A FEW MINUTES LATER. THESE WITNESSES HAVE IDENTIFIED THE TRUCK'S OCCUPANTS BASED EITHER ON PHOTOGRAPHS OR COMPOSITE DRAWINGS. NO WITNESSES TO THE ACTUAL KIDNAPPING AND MURDER HAVE BEEN FOUND.

8. AT ABOUT 1800 ON JUNE 8, AT LEAST TWO WITNESSES SAW THE VEHICLES PARKED TOGETHER NOSED INTO A BRUSH PILE WHERE DEVINE'S VAN WAS FOUND THE FOLLOWING MORNING. PRIOR TO HIS DEATH DEVINE WAS BEATEN, AND SHOWED A BAD BRUISE ON HIS FACE. AT 0600 ON SATURDAY, HIS BODY WAS FOUND ON THE GROUND BESIDE THE VAN. IT WAS PRACTICALLY DECAPITATED. IT APPEARS HIS THROAT WAS SLASHED BY SOMEONE STANDING BEHIND HIM WHILE HE WAS KNEELING.

THE INVESTIGATOR

9. MRS. DEVINE HAD NO FAITH THAT THE NATIONAL POLICE OR THE MILITARY WOULD CONDUCT A SERIOUS INVESTIGATION OF HER HUSBAND'S MURDER. WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF FAMILY FRIEND DENNIS WHEELER, SHE HIRED CARL WEST TO CONDUCT A PRIVATE INVESTIGATION. WEST IS A U.S. CITIZEN WHO HAS BEEN IN GUATEMALA IN 1977. MARRIED TO A GUATEMALAN CITIZEN, WEST SPECIALIZES IN PROVIDING SECURITY ADVICE AND SAYS HE HAS BEEN BEEN A TECHNICAL ADVISOR TO THE NATIONAL POLICE. WHEELER HAD USED HIM SUCCESSFULLY IN THE PAST ON TWO KIDNAPPING CASES. WEST IS A TENACIOUS INVESTIGATOR. HE HAS WORKED VERY CLOSELY WITH THE EMBASSY IN THIS INVESTIGATION, PROVIDING US WITH COPIES OF ALL HIS REPORTS AND SHARING INFORMATION HE HAS GATHERED. TO DATE WEST HAS MADE FIVE TRIPS TO POPTUN AND/OR FLORES IN CONNECTION WITH HIS INVESTIGATION.

THE INVESTIGATION

10. IN ADDITION TO LOCATING WITNESSES TO THE WHITE TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCK, ITS ACTIVITIES AND WHEREABOUTS, WEST HAS COME UP WITH THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

A) THE WHITE TOYOTA PICKUP IS WELL KNOWN IN THE POPTUN AREA. RESIDENTS TOLD WEST THAT IT WAS SEEN FREQUENTLY ENTERING THE POPTUN MILITARY COMPOUND, OFTEN IN COMPANY WITH ARMY GASOLINE CONVOYS. WITHIN THE PAST MONTH, IT HAS BEEN MOVED TO THE ARMY BASE IN FLORES, PETEN, AND HAS NOW BEEN PAINTED RED WITH A BLACK STRIPE DOWN THE SIDE. IT HAS BEEN SEEN BY VARIOUS WITNESSES DRIVING IN THE AREA OF FLORES AND SAN LUIS, AND MOST RECENTLY WAS SEEN LEAVING THE ARMY BASE ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, RETURNING ON SUNDAY, AUGUST 7.

B) IN FLORES, WEST HIMSELF SAW TWO OF THE MEN ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED IN DEVINE'S KIDNAPPING. THE MEN WERE IDENTIFIED BY WITNESSES WHO HAD SEEN THEM WAITING FOR DEVINE IN THE TOYOTA TRUCK THE AFTERNOON OF HIS KIDNAPPING. A TAX FORM (BOLETO DE ORNATO) WITH THE NAME OF ONE OF THE TWO

UNCLASSIFIED

(AGUSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ) WAS FOUND BESIDE THE SPOT WHERE THE PICKUP TRUCK HAD BEEN PARKED ON JUNE 8. SOME FOOD RATIONS ALLEGEDLY OF THE TYPE USED BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY, ALSO WERE FOUND WITH TAX FORM. THE TWO MEN WEST SAW REPORTEDLY HAVE SOME UNSPECIFIED RELATIONSHIP WITH S-2.

C) FABIAN AREVALO DE LA CRUZ CURRENTLY IS ASSIGNED TO THE ARMY BASE IN FLORES. WEST ALLEGES THAT AREVALO DROVE THE FOUR MEN WHO WERE LATER SEEN IN THE WHITE PICKUP ON JUNE 8 FROM THE BASE IN FLORES TO POPTUN, WHERE THEY KIDNAPPED AND MURDERED DEVINE. AREVALO WAS A PERSONAL FRIEND OF DEVINE'S. IT IS UNCLEAR WHETHER HE WAS INVOLVED IN THE ACTUAL MURDER, OR THAT HE WAS EVER AWARE THAT DEVINE WAS TO BECOME THE VICTIM OF A CRIME. IT IS NOT YET KNOWN WHETHER HE WILL BE WILLING TO TESTIFY.

D) THERE IS A WITNESS TO THE FACT THE TOYOTA TRUCK, FORMERLY WHITE, WAS PAINTED RED ON THE FLORES MILITARY BASE.

E) WEST HAS DISCOVERED THE NAMES OF NINE PEOPLE WHO ALLEGEDLY HAD SOME INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER.

HE REPORTS THAT FOUR OF THEM MAY HAVE SOME AFFILIATION WITH S-2.

THE MOTIVE

11. THERE IS NO CLEAR MOTIVE FOR THE MURDER. SPECULATIONS INCLUDE:

(A) ROBBERY

THIS IS THE CONCLUSION OF THE INITIAL POLICE INVESTIGATION. APPARENTLY, HOWEVER, THE ONLY ITEMS STOLEN FROM DEVINE WERE HIS POCKET KNIFE AND WATCH. HIS VAN AND ALL ITS CONTENTS WERE LEFT UNTOUCHED AND VERY VISIBLE.

(B) DRUGS

UNCLEAR AS TO WHETHER THE SUSPICIONS ARE THAT DEVINE WAS DEALING IN DRUGS OR WAS OPPOSED TO THEM AND GOT IN THE WAY OF SOME NARCOS.

(C) CHILD STEALING

WEST LEARNED THAT A YOUNG GIRL REPORTLY REMARKED TO HER EMPLOYER SOME EIGHT HOURS BEFORE DEVINE'S ABDUCTION THAT DEVINE WAS GOING TO BE KILLED BECAUSE HE HAD KIDNAPPED A CHILD AND SOLD IT FOR ONE MILLION DOLLARS. HOWEVER, THERE IS NO RECENT REPORT OF ANY CHILD MISSING IN THAT AREA.

(D) LAND CLAIM

TO DRIVE HIM OFF HIS LAND, WHICH MAY HAVE BEEN COVETED BY OTHERS.

THE IMPORTANT POINT, HOWEVER, IS THAT THESE ARE NOTHING MORE THAN CONJECTURES. NO EVIDENCE HAS COME TO LIGHT THAT WOULD SUBSTANTIATE ANY OF THEM.

EMBASSY ACTIONS

12. EVEN PRIOR TO JUNE 15, THE DATE OF EMBOFFS FIRST MEETING WITH PRIVATE INVESTIGATOR WEST, THE AMBASSADOR AND EMBOFFS HAD CONTACTED SENIOR GOG OFFICIALS TO PRESS FOR THE FULLEST POSSIBLE INVESTIGATION OF THIS CASE. IN EACH CONTACT, EMBOFFS HAVE PROVIDED LEADS AND INFORMATION DRAWN FROM WEST'S INVESTIGATION.

-- ON OR ABOUT JUNE 13, THE AMBASSADOR ASKED MOD BOLANOS FOR HIS ASSISTANCE IN INVESTIGATING THE MURDER. BOLANOS SAID HE WOULD ASK COL. CESAR CABRERA, HEAD OF MILITARY INTELLIGENCE (G-2), TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT.

-- ON JUNE 19, THE DCM AND ANOTHER EMBOFF MET WITH COL. CABRERA TO INQUIRE AFTER HIS PROGRESS. CABRERA

SAID THAT HE HAD SUBMITTED HIS REPORT TO GEN. MARROQUIN, THE CHIEF OF STAFF.

— ON JUNE 23, THE AMBASSADOR SPOKE WITH GEN. MARROQUIN ON THE PHONE AND ASKED ABOUT THE CABRERA REPORT. MARROQUIN SAID HE HAD NO INFORMATION YET.

— ON JULY 3, THE AMBASSADOR RAISED THE CASE IN A PERSONAL INTERVIEW WITH MOD BOLANOS. BOLANOS SAID HE HAD INSTRUCTED COL. CABRERA TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT BACK.

— ON JULY 5, THE AMBASSADOR SENT A LETTER TO MOD INCLUDING ALL INFORMATION KNOWN ABOUT THE PICKUP TRUCK ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED.

— ON JULY 11, DAO OFFICER MET WITH ARMY COS MARROQUIN. MARROQUIN REPORTED HE HAD AN INTERIM INVESTIGATIVE REPORT TO SEND TO THE MOD FOR ACTION. THE MOD HAD INFORMED MARROQUIN THAT THE MOD HIMSELF WOULD BE THE EMBASSY'S POINT OF CONTACT ON THIS SUBJECT.

— ON JULY 15 DAO OFFICERS MET WITH ARMY COS. MARROQUIN REITERATED HIS INSTRUCTIONS TO DEAL WITH EMBASSY ON THE DEVINE INVESTIGATION ONLY THROUGH THE BT

MOD. MARROQUIN REPORTED HE HAD FORWARDED THE INTERIM REPORT TO THE MOD. MARROQUIN ASKED EMBASSY ASSISTANCE IN GETTING MRS. DEVINE TO MEET WITH ARMY INVESTIGATORS. HE ASSURED EMBOFFS THAT IF ANYONE HAD CREDIBLE EVIDENCE OF SOMEONE'S GUILT AND THE ARMY HAD LEGAL AUTHORITY OVER THEM, THEY WOULD BE IMMEDIATELY INCARCERATED UNTIL A LEGAL TRIAL COULD BE HELD. DATT TOLD MARROQUIN THAT EMBASSY WOULD NOT CONSIDER CREDIBLE ANY REPORT THAT DID NOT ADEQUATELY ADDRESS THE PICKUP.

-- ON JULY 16 MOD SENT AMBASSADOR INTERIM REPORT DATED JULY 13. REPORT STATES THAT THE TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCK IS NOT IN THE INVENTORY NOR IS A TRUCK WITH THOSE OR SIMILAR CHARACTERISTICS PRESENT ON THE ARMY BASE IN POPTUN. IT RECOUNTS SOME EVENTS PRIOR TO THE MURDER, PROVIDES CONFLICTING REPORTS OF DEVINE'S PERSONALITY TRAITS, SPECULATES ON POSSIBLE MOTIVES AND REPORTS THE POLICE CONCLUSION THAT THE MOTIVE WAS ROBBERY.

-- ON JULY 16, THE CHARGE MET WITH MOD AND TOLD HIM THAT THE ARMY'S INABILITY TO LOCATE AN EASILY RECOGNIZABLE VEHICLE WHICH APPARENTLY WAS WIDELY KNOWN TO POPTUN RESIDENTS WAS DISTURBING. THE CHARGE ASKED THAT ADDITIONAL EFFORTS TO LOCATE THE VEHICLE BE MADE.

-- ON JULY 18, TWO DAO OFFICERS FLEW TO POPTUN. THEY DISCUSSED THE INVESTIGATION WITH BASE COMMANDER, VISITED DEVINE FARM AND TALKED WITH FARM MANAGER BURGOS AND OTHERS.

-- ON JULY 19 EMBOFFS MET WITH COL. CABRERA, HEAD OF G-2, TOGETHER WITH MRS. DEVINE, DENNIS WHEELER AND DEVINE ATTORNEY ENRIQUE GONZALEZ. CABRERA SAID THEIR INVESTIGATION WAS ACTIVE, AND THEY HAD SOME LEADS. WHEN PRESSED ABOUT THE PICKUP, HE SAID TO DATE THEY HAD BEEN UNABLE TO LOCATE THIS PARTICULAR PICKUP BASED ON THE INFORMATION PROVIDED. HE ASKED CAROLE DEVINE NO QUESTIONS. SHE VOLUNTEERED THE NAME OF RICARDO GUZMAN, ONE OF THE PEOPLE WITNESSES CLAIM WAS WAITING IN THE PICKUP. SHE ALSO SAID THE PICKUP HAD BEEN SEEN ENTERING THE POPTUN BASE AT 6 A.M. ON JUNE 9.

-- ON JULY 25 EMBOFF MET WITH COS, MENTIONED TO HIM THAT PICKUP TRUCK WAS NOW REPORTEDLY PAINTED RED. HE RESPONDED HE HAD PERSONALLY SEARCHED THE POPTUN BASE AND THERE WAS NO SUCH VEHICLE THERE. HE ADDED THERE WERE MANY SIMILAR VEHICLES IN THE AREA AND THAT THE INVESTIGATION CONTINUES.

-- ON JULY 26 EMBOFF MET WITH MOD AND RAISED THE ISSUE. MOD RESPONDED IT WAS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

-- ON JULY 26 EMBOFFS ACCOMPANIED BY ATTORNEY GONZALEZ MET WITH LT. COL FIGUEROA OF G-2. MEETING HAD BEEN SCHEDULED WITH CABRERA AND RECONFIRMED THAT MORNING. FIGUEROA REPORTED CABRERA WAS IN THE QUICHE (A CONFLICTIVE AREA) AND FIGUEROA HAD BEEN INSTRUCTED ON ONE HOUR'S NOTICE TO MEET WITH EMBOFFS. HE REPORTED THE ARMY HAD ORDERED TROOPS TO PATROL CLOSER TO POPTUN IN THE HOPES OF FINDING SOME DELINQUENTS WHO MAY HAVE MURDERED DEVINE. HE SAID THERE ARE MANY TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCKS IN THE PETEN AND THEY HAD BEEN UNABLE TO FIND ANY TRACE OF THIS PICKUP. GONZALEZ GAVE NAME OF AGUSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ (SEE PARA 1(B ABOVE), AND SAID WITNESSES HAD SEEN THE PICKUP AROUND THE MILITARY BASE IN FLORES, NOW PAINTED RED.

-- ON AUGUST 2 DATT MET WITH COL. CABRERA, WHO AGAIN HAD NOTHING TO REPORT.

-- ON AUGUST 3 DATT AND EMBOFF MET WITH ARMY COS. THEY RESTATED IMPORTANCE THE AMBASSADOR ATTACHES TO A CREDIBLE INVESTIGATION AND EMBASSY'S DISSATISFACTION WITH ARMY'S EFFORTS TO DATE. HE SAID HE COULD RESPOND ONLY ACCORDING TO THE INFORMATION HE HAD AVAILABLE, BUT POINTED OUT THERE WAS AN ARREST WARRANT OUT FOR ONE INDIVIDUAL (THE PERSON WITH WHOM DEVINE HAD AN ALTERCATION SIX YEARS AGO).

-- ON AUGUST 7 AMBASSADOR SENT LETTER TO MOD INCLUDING NAMES OF RICARDO GUZMAN, AGUSTIN ESQUIVEL

HERNANDEZ AND ADDING NAME OF A THIRD PERSON, ALFREDO RAMIREZ, REPORTEDLY FORMERLY S-2 IN POPTUN, WHO MAY KNOW SOMETHING OF THE CRIME.

— ON AUGUST 9 AMBASSADOR SENT LETTER TO MOD INCLUDING NAMES OF SIX MORE PEOPLE ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED OR WITH KNOWLEDGE OF THE CRIME: RAFAEL TIUL CUCUL (NICKNAMED "RASQUINAS"), PABLO LAJUB EKMALE, CARLOS ZELADA MONROY (NICKNAMED "LORO"), ANDRES MORENTE TIPOL, BENJAMIN PUNTI PERUX, AND CAPTAIN PAIZ (NO FIRST NAME AVAILABLE). ALL SIX ARE REPORTED TO BE EITHER ACTIVE MEMBERS OF THE GUATEMALAN ARMY OR SPECIALISTS AFFILIATED WITH THE S-2. ALL ARE CURRENTLY IN EITHER POPTUN OR SANTA ELENA. THE LETTER REQUESTS COORDINATION WITH EMBOFFS ON ARRANGEMENTS FOR WITNESSES TO BE ABLE TO PERSONALLY VIEW THEM WITHOUT BEING SEEN BY THEM.

ADDITIONAL DEVELOPMENTS

13. ON JULY 31 CAROLE DEVINE PROVIDED TO THE COURT OF FIRST INSTANCE IN FLORES OTHER INFORMATION RESULTING FROM WEST'S INVESTIGATIONS AND THE NAMES OF THE TWO MEN (RICARDO GUZMAN AND AGUSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ) REPORTEDLY AFFILIATED WITH S-2 WHO WERE SEEN IN THE WHITE (NOW RED) TOYOTA PICKUP TRUCK WAITING FOR DEVINE THE AFTERNOON OF HIS KIDNAPPING. THESE DECLARATIONS BECOME PART OF THE CIVIL PROCEEDINGS, WHICH ARE STILL IN THE CONTROLLED (I.E. SECRET) INVESTIGATIVE STAGE.

14. DEVINE ATTORNEY GONZALEZ HAS PROVIDED THE GOG HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE ALL OF THE ABOVE INFORMATION WITH EXCEPTION OF THE SIX NAMES CONTAINED IN THE AUGUST 9 LETTER. IT HAS BECOME A PART OF THAT OFFICE'S OFFICIAL REPORT, SUBMITTED TO THE FLORES COURT ON AUGUST 8. THE DEVINES HOPE THAT THE FACT THAT THESE NAMES HAVE NOW BECOME PART OF THE OFFICIAL RECORD WILL ENSURE THEY BE ARRESTED AND QUESTIONED AND, IF APPROPRIATE, BROUGHT TO TRIAL RATHER THAN BEING ELIMINATED. ON AUGUST 9 ATTORNEY GONZALEZ PLANS TO PROVIDE THE MOST RECENT SIX NAMES TO BOTH THE COURT IN FLORES AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE.

CONCLUSION

15. FROM OUR STANDPOINT, THE PROTECTION AND WELFARE OF AMERICAN CITIZENS IS OUR PARAMOUNT RESPONSIBILITY. IT FOR THIS REASON THAT WE HAVE BEEN PUSHING SO HARD ON THE GOG (AND ESPECIALLY THE MILITARY) FOR AN EFFECTIVE AND ENERGETIC RESOLUTION OF THIS CASE. AT THE SAME TIME, THIS CASE GIVES THE GOG AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW THAT IT HAS THE RESOLVE TO CARRY OUT AN EFFECTIVE INVESTIGATION AND BRING THE PERPETRATORS, WHOEVER THEY MAY BE, TO JUSTICE.

16. WE ARE SERIOUSLY DISTURBED THAT THUS FAR THE

UNCLASSIFIED

MILITARY'S RESPONSES HAVE NOT INDICATED ANYTHING LIKE THE LEVEL OF ATTENTION AND/OR ENERGY WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE. MRS. DEVINE AND MR. WEST BELIEVE THAT THIS INDICATES THE MILITARY IS TRYING TO COVER UP THE INVOLVEMENT OF SOME OF ITS PERSONNEL IN DEVINE'S MURDER. THAT JUDGMENT MAY BE PREMATURE. NOW THAT WE HAVE PROVIDED ADDITIONAL NAMES AND INFORMATION TO THE MILITARY, WE WILL BE WATCHING CAREFULLY TO SEE WHAT HAPPENS. OUR HOPE IS THAT THE GUILTY PARTIES WILL BE APPREHENDED RAPIDLY AND BROUGHT TO TRIAL.

17. IF THIS DOES NOT HAPPEN, AND IF IT APPEARS THAT THE MILITARY HAS FAILED TO TAKE WHAT APPEAR TO BE RELATIVELY EASY AND LOGICAL STEPS, WE MAY HAVE TO CONCLUDE THAT THE MILITARY WISHES TO CONCEAL WHAT REALLY HAPPENED. IN THAT EVENT, IT WOULD CALL INTO SERIOUS QUESTION WHETHER WE SHOULD CONTINUE TO HAVE ANY SECURITY ASSISTANCE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE GUATEMALAN ARMED FORCES. ALSO IN THAT EVENT, WE MAY DECIDE THAT THE USG SHOULD FILE ITS OWN COMPLAINT WITH THE GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE.

SUBJECT: THE JESUIT CASE: AN REFLECTION

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT

2. SUMMARY: A THOROUGH REVIEW OF POST'S FILES ON THE JESUIT INVESTIGATION RAISES NEW QUESTIONS ABOUT THE COMMAND OF THE ATLACATL THE NIGHT OF THE MURDERS AND THE ROLE OF DNI COL. CERNA FLORES, THE C-3 AT THE ESTADO MAYOR., WHO APPEARS TO HAVE PLAYED AN IMPORTANT ROLE ORDERING THE ATLACATL TO PERFORM THE SEARCH OF THE UCA ON 13 NOVEMBER; CERNA FLORES ALSO MAY HAVE SHARED RADIO FREQUENCIES WITH ATLACATE LIEUTENANT ESPINOZA ESTABLISHING A COMMUNICATION LINK BETWEEN THE COMMANDO UNIT AND THE ESTADO MAYOR. DNI LT. CUENCA OCAMPO MAY HAVE BEEN THE LINK PROVIDING INFORMATION TO THE SIU WHICH HELPED BREAK THE CASE. OCAMPO WAS REFERRED TO AT ONE POINT AS AN INFORMANT BY AN SIU INVESTIGATOR. OUTSTANDING QUESTIONS REMAIN ABOUT WHAT INFORMATION HE PROVIDED AND HOW HE CAME TO POSSESS THE INFORMATION. END SUMMARY

3. POST HAS INITIATED A REVIEW OF ALL DOCUMENTS PERTAINING TO THE JESUIT MURDER INVESTIGATION. CRITICAL ISSUES OF COMMAND AND CONTROL OF THE ATLACATL COMMANDO UNIT AND HOW THE CASE WAS DEVELOPED AGAINST THE NINE DEFENDANTS REMAIN UNANSWERED. A REVIEW OF STATEMENTS MADE IN THE 28 FEBRUARY MEMORANDUM PREPARED BY MEXICO NAU CONTRACTOR ART SEDILLO, WHO WORKED ON THE JESUIT INVESTIGATION DURING THE MONTH OF JANUARY, OFFER SOME STARTLING OBSERVATIONS. STATEMENTS AND OBSERVATIONS MADE BY SEDILLO WHICH DID NOT APPEAR RELEVANT AT THE TIME HAVE GAINED RENEWED IMPORTANCE. NEW AREAS OF INQUIRY ARE SUGGESTED.

4. COMMAND AND CONTROL ISSUES:

MR. SEDILLO MADE SEVERAL OBSERVATIONS WHICH ON REEXAMINATION HAVE BEEN HELPFUL TO CLARIFY THE COMMAND AND CONTROL ISSUE. THE FOLLOWING SYNOPSIS IS ILLUSTRATIVE:

- IN HIS JANUARY 11 DECLARATION COL. BENAVIDES REFERRED TO A CONVERSATION HE HAD WITH THE C-3 COL. JOAQUIN ARMANDO CERNA FLORES ON 13 NOVEMBER. THE PURPOSE OF THE CALL WAS TO INFORM BENAVIDES THAT HE HAD BEEN DESIGNATED CHIEF OF SECURITY COMMAND OF THE

SAN SA 11037 00 OF 03 190617Z 004443 801648

MILITARY COMPLEX. BENAVIDES REQUESTED ADDITIONAL PERSONNEL AND A RADIO TRANSMITTER MX. IN WHAT AT THE TIME APPEARED TO BE A GRATUITOUS STATEMENT BENAVIDES MENTIONED THAT MAJOR MIGUEL CASTILLO WOULD REMAIN UNDER THE CONTROL OF COL. CERNA FLORES. WE LATER LEARNED THAT CASTILLO, WHO HAD BEEN ASSIGNED AS A STUDENT IN THE COMMAND AND GENERAL STAFF COURSE WAS APPOINTED AS THE O-3 OF THE COMMAND STRUCTURE AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL ON NOVEMBER 13.

SEDILLO SPENT A LOT OF TIME REVIEWING THE DOCUMENTS ON THE INTERROGATIONS CONDUCTED WITH THE MEMBERS OF THE ATLACATL COMMANDO UNIT. INFORMATION WAS DEVELOPED PERTAINING TO THE SEARCH OF THE UCA CAMPUS ON 13 NOVEMBER WHICH SHED INTERESTING NEW LIGHT ON THE COMMAND AND CONTROL ISSUE:

- LT. ESPINOZA CLAIMS THAT HE WAS TOLD ON 13 NOVEMBER AT 1600 HRS. BY HIS BATALLION DUTY OFFICER TO REPORT TO THE MILITARY SCHOOL.

- LT. ESPINOZA AND LT. CERRITOS WITH 135 MEN ARRIVED AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL AT 1800 HRS. ESPINOZA REPORTED TO COL. BENAVIDES AND (THEN) MAJ. CAMILO HERNANDEZ. AFTER THIS MEETING ESPINOZA AND CERRITOS WENT TO THE ESTADO MAYOR AND REPORTED TO THE G-3 COL. CERNA FLORES.

- CERNA FLORES TOLD ESPINOZA TO GO TO THE UCA AND SEARCH FOR TERRORISTS. IF NO TERRORISTS ARE FOUND, SEARCH THE FACILITIES HE ORDERED. CERNA FLORES GAVE ESPINOZA RADIO FREQUENCIES AND ADVISED HIM OF THE LOCATION OF OTHER UNITS IN THE AREA.

- ESPINOZA AND CERRITOS RETURNED TO THE MILITARY SCHOOL AT 1920 HRS.

- THE COMMANDO UNIT DEPARTED THE MILITARY SCHOOL AT 1945 ENROUTE TO THE UCA.

- BEFORE ENTERING THE CAMPUS DNI LT. CUENCA OCAMPO MET WITH ESPINOZA OUTSIDE THE GATES TO THE CAMPUS.

- AFTER COMPLETING THE SEARCH OF THE UCA THE COMMANDO UNIT RETURNED TO THE MILITARY SCHOOL AND ESPINOZA AND CERRITOS REPORTED TO MAJ. CAMILO HERNANDEZ. HERNANDEZ GAVE THE LIEUTENANTS A VEHICLE SO THEY COULD REPORT TO THE ESTADO MAYOR (PRESUMABLY TO COL. CERNA FLORES).

5. COMMENT: IT WOULD APPEAR THAT THE COMMAND AND CONTROL ISSUE IS CLEAR FOR 13 NOVEMBER. THE ATLACATL, EVEN AFTER ARRIVING AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL AND REPORTING TO COL. BENAVIDES AND MAJOR HERNANDEZ, REMAINED UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE ESTADO MAYOR AND SPECIFICALLY THE C-3 COL. CERNA FLORES. WHILE NOT EXPLICIT IT ALSO APPEARS THAT WHEN CERNA FLORES GAVE RADIO FREQUENCIES TO LT. ESPINOZA IT COULD HAVE BEEN SO THE COMMANDO UNIT WOULD BE ABLE TO COMMUNICATE DIRECTLY WITH THE ESTADO MAYOR. THERE IS NO TESTIMONY THAT AN EXCHANGE OF COMMUNICATIONS TOOK PLACE BUT THE CAPABILITY APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN THERE. A DOUBT REMAINS AS TO WHETHER THIS COMMAND ARRANGEMENT REMAINED IN TACT THROUGH 16 NOVEMBER. LT. ESPINOZA AND COL. CERNA FLORES SHOULD BE ABLE TO ANSWER THE QUESTION. CERNA FLORES HAS NEVER BEEN CALLED TO TESTIFY.

6. THE ISSUE OF WHO AUTHORIZED THE SEARCH OF THE UCA ON 13 NOVEMBER BECOMES EVEN MORE COMPLICATED. ESPINOZA HAS SAID THAT HE WAS ORDERED BY CERNA FLORES TO SEARCH THE UCA. IF THE DECISION WAS MADE BY HIGHER AUTHORITIES IN THE ESTADO MAYOR OR BY THE PRESIDENT IT

MUST HAVE BEEN MADE BEFORE THE MEETING BETWEEN CERNA FLORES AND LT. ESPINOZA WHICH OCCURRED BETWEEN 1800 AND 1920 HRS. WE HAVE TO QUESTION WHY BENAVIDES OPERATIONS LOG NOTES HE SPOKE WITH COL. PONCE AT 2100 HRS REQUESTING PERMISSION FOR THE SEARCH AND WHY BOTH COL. PONCE AND PRESIDENT CRISTIANI INSIST THAT THE SEARCH WAS APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT. ESPINOZA CLAIMS THAT COL. CERNA FLORES GAVE THE ORDER FOR THE SEARCH BASING IT ON THE BELIEF THAT GUERILLAS WERE ON THE CAMPUS. ESPINOZA BRIEFED BOTH MAJ. CAMILO HERNANDEZ AND SOMEONE AT THE ESTADO MAYOR AFTER HE CONDUCTED THE SEARCH. IT MAY BE THAT THE ATTEMPT TO ACCEPT

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE SEARCH AT HIGHER LEVELS WAS A PLOY TO DIVERT ATTENTION AWAY FROM COL. CERNA FLORES. BOTH THE MOTIVE AND APPARENTLY THE AUTHOR OF THE ORDER ARE DIFFERENT THAN WHAT EITHER PRESIDENT CRISTIANI OR THE SALVADORAN HIGH COMMAND WOULD HAVE US BELIEVE.

7. WE ALSO HAVE TO QUESTION WHY MAJOR CASTILLO REMAINED UNDER THE COMMAND OF COL. CERNA FLORES. CASTILLO, CONTRADICTING BENAVIDES, HAS TESTIFIED THAT HE REPORTED TO BENAVIDES, NEVER MENTIONING ANY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH COL. CERNA FLORES.

8. IF THE ABOVE ACTIONS ARE ACCURATE AND FAIRLY REPRESENT THE ACTIVITY OF THE ATLACATL PERSONNEL ON 13 NOVEMBER, CLOSER QUESTIONING OF THE SALVADORAN HIGH COMMAND AND ESPECIALLY COL. CERNA FLORES IS INDISPENSIBLE. IT WOULD APPEAR THAT THE ESTADO MAYOR RETAINED GENERAL CONTROL OVER THE OPERATIONAL CAPABILITIES OF THE MILITARY ZONE ESTABLISHED AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL AND SPECIFIC CONTROL OVER THE ATLACATL AT LEAST ON 13 NOVEMBER.

9. THE SIU HAS BEEN ASKED BY JUDGE ZAMORA TO INVESTIGATE THE RADIO NET AND FREQUENCIES USED AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL. THE REPORT HAS BEEN FINISHED AND PASSED TO JUDGE ZAMORA. ALTHOUGH WE HAVE NOT SEEN THE REPORT COL. RIVAS HAS TOLD US THAT HE IS FOCUSING HIS INQUIRY INTO THE MILITARY SCHOOL NET. THIS WOULD INEXPLICABLY IGNORE APPARENTLY AVAILABLE INFORMATION THAT THE COMMANDO UNIT MAY HAVE HAD RADIO FREQUENCIES USED BY THE ESTADO MAYOR.

10. ONI AND THE MYSTERIOUS ROLE OF CUENCA OCAMPO

SEDILLO REPORTS IN HIS 28 FEBRUARY MEMORANDUM THAT HE WAS TOLD BY AN SIU INVESTIGATOR THAT CUENCA OCAMPO WAS AN INFORMANT AND THAT HE HAD PROVIDED VALUABLE INFORMATION IMPLICATING THE DEFENDANTS IN THE CASE. CUENCA OCAMPO'S ASSISTANCE WAS KEPT CONFIDENTIAL IN THE INTERESTS OF HIS PROTECTION SEDILLO WAS TOLD.

OCAMPO PERJURED HIMSELF WHEN HE CONTRADICTED HIS ORIGINAL STORY THAT IT WAS CHANCE THAT BROUGHT HIM TO THE UCA CAMPUS ON THE NIGHT OF 13 NOVEMBER. HE HAS SUBSEQUENTLY TESTIFIED THAT HE WAS ORDERED TO THE CAMPUS BY CAPT. HERRERA. HERRERA HAS RECENTLY TESTIFIED THAT COL. GUZMAN AGUILAR, DIRECTOR OF THE ONI, GAVE THE ORDER FOR AN AGENT TO ACCOMPANY THE ATLACATL TO THE UCA ON THE NIGHT OF 13 NOVEMBER.

OCAMPO MAY BE THE KEY TO BREAKING THE CASE OPEN EVEN WIDER IF HE WAS THE INFORMANT FOR THE SIUWHICH LED THEM TO IDENTIFY THE NINE DEFENDANTS. ONE HAS TO QUESTION WHAT INFORMATION HE HAD WHICH BROKE THE CASE AND HOW DID HE COME TO HAVE IT. COULD HE HAVE BEEN AT THE UCA ON 15 NOVEMBER? WAS HE PRIVY TO CONFIDENTIAL

ONI REPORTING WHICH HE SHARED WITH THE SIU? COULD OCAMPO HAVE BEEN PLANTED TO REVEAL A MISLEADING STORY? BEFORE OCAMPO JOINED ONI HE WAS ASSIGNED TO THE ATLACATL.

IF COMMAND AND CONTROL OF THE ATLACATL REMAINED AT THE ESTADO MAYOR, BENAVIDES ROLE IN THE MURDER MAY HAVE BEEN MINOR. HE MUST HAVE KNOWN WHAT WAS HAPPENING BUT HE MAY NOT HAVE GIVEN THE ORDER TO THE LIEUTENANTS AS NOW BELIEVED. WE HAVE TO ACCEPT THE POSSIBILITY THAT COL. BENAVIDES MAY HAVE BEEN FRAMED TO DIVERT ATTENTION AWAY FROM THE SALVADORAN HIGH COMMAND.

1. ON MONDAY, AUGUST 13, FBI FORENSIC EXPERT [ ] WAS SWORN-IN AS AN AGENT OF THE COURT BY FOURTH PENAL COURT JUDGE RICARDO ZAMORA AND ENTRUSTED WITH AN ORDER LOG (LIBRO DE ORDENES) OF THE MILITARY ACADEMY. ZAMORA ASKED [ ] TO DETERMINE IF THE LOG WAS A FORGERY OR HAD BEEN ALTERED. HE ALSO ASKED IF CERTAIN SIGNATURES IN THE BOOK WERE FORGERIES. [ ] AGREED TO EXAMINE THE LOG AT THE FBI LABORATORY AND REPORT ON ITS AUTHENTICITY WITHIN THIRTY DAYS.

2. PRIOR TO HIS DEPARTURE ON MONDAY AFTERNOON [ ] COMPARED THE LOG WITH TWO SIMILAR LOGS--ONE BRAND-NEW COPY OF THE SAME MODEL FROM THE SAME MANUFACTURER AND ONE OLDER COPY, ALSO FROM THE SAME MANUFACTURER. A BRIEF EXAMINATION INDICATED THAT THE ORDER LOG HAD NOT BEEN ALTERED. THE LOG MAY BE SIGNIFICANT TO THE CASE, BECAUSE OF THE INCONSISTENCIES IT REPRESENTS IN THE TESTIMONY OF COL. BENAVIDES. BENAVIDES TESTIFIED THAT HE PERSONALLY SIGNED HIS NAME TO EACH LOG ENTRY. THIS

LOG. SUBMITTED IN EVIDENCE CONTAINS NO PERSONAL SIGNATURES OF BENAVIDES, BUT RATHER A FACSIMILE FROM A RUBBER STAMP. QUESTIONED BY JUDGE ZAMORA ON THIS INCONSISTENCY, BENAVIDES DEMURRED. THE LOG CONTAINS HANDWRITTEN ENTRIES DATED DAILY FROM SEPTEMBER THROUGH JANUARY. THE ENTRY FOR NOVEMBER 16--THE DATE OF THE JESUIT MURDER--IS INEXPLICABLY DATED OCTOBER 16.

3. SWEARING-IN , JUDGE ZAMORA THREW-UP A LAST-MINUTE OBSTACLE TO THE LOG-BOOK TRANSFER BY INSISTING THAT THE REGULATIONS FOR APPOINTING AGENTS OF THE COURT REQUIRED HIM TO SWEAR-IN TWO INVESTIGATORS. FACED WITH THE POSSIBILITY OF SENDING BACK TO WASHINGTON EMPTY-HANDED, THE ASSISTANT LEGAL OFFICER (ALO) VOLUNTEERED TO BE SWORN IN AS THE SECOND AGENT OF THE COURT PROFESSING EXPERTISE IN CRIMINAL LAW.

4. IN OTHER DEVELOPMENTS, THE PRENSA GRAFICA ALSO REPORTED YESTERDAY (AUGUST 16) THAT JUDGE ZAMORA HAD INTERROGATED A LIEUTENANT FRANCISCO MONICO GALLARDO MATA, WHO WAS ALLEGEDLY IN CHARGE OF THE STOREROOM AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL AT THE TIME OF THE JESUIT MURDERS. ACCORDING TO THE PAPER, GALLARDO MATA TESTIFIED THAT, WHILE HE DID NOT REMEMBER THE DATES, [redacted]

HE DID DISTRIBUTE ARMS TO SOLDIERS BASED AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL, EXCEPT THOSE FROM THE ATLACATL BATTALLION. HE INSISTED THAT HE DID NOT PROVIDE FOOD, ARMS, MAINTENANCE OR TRANSPORT FOR THE ATLACATL UNITS. GALLARDO ALSO TESTIFIED THAT HE KNEW BOTH LIEUTENANTS ESPINOZA GUERRA AND RENE MENDOZA. HE SAID THAT HE NEVER SAW ESPINOZA DURING THE PERIOD SURROUNDING THE MURDERS, BUT THAT MENDOZA HAD REMAINED IN THE MILITARY SCHOOL THE ENTIRE TIME. HE ALSO TESTIFIED THAT HE KNEW NOTHING OF THE MOVEMENTS OF THE UNITS THAT WERE IN THE ACADEMY ON THE 15TH AND 16TH OF NOVEMBER.

5. THE PAPER ALSO REPORTED THAT JUDGE ZAMORA HAS SENT NEW INTERROGATORIES TO COLONEL PONCE, REQUESTING THAT HE AMPLIFY HIS ANSWERS TO THE LAST SET OF QUESTIONS. COL. PONCE PREVIOUSLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HE AUTHORIZED A SEARCH OF THE UCA BY AN ATLACATL UNIT ON THE EVENING OF NOVEMBER 13. ESAF OFFICERS OF COLONEL RANK OR HIGHER ARE NOT REQUIRED TO SUBMIT TO PERSONAL APPEARANCES BEFORE THE COURT AND MAY OPT TO TESTIFY BY ANSWERING INTERROGATORIES SENT FROM THE JUDGE.

Dear Congressman Panetta,

I received the enclosed letter from the Dept. of State last week. I am also enclosing a copy of my letter to the Chilean Government giving them permission to investigate the Death of my son Frank.

I appreciate your help in this matter. I will keep you informed of any more information that I receive in the future.

Yours truly,

Frank J. Teruggi

SUBJECT: JESUIT CASE UPDATE - HIGH COMMAND RESPONDS TO MOAKLEY

1. THE ESAF HIGH COMMAND TODAY (8/20) REJECTED ACCUSATIONS THAT IT HAS OBSTRUCTED THE JESUIT MURDER INVESTIGATION, AND CALLED THE ACCUSATIONS "IRRESPONSIBLE SPECULATIONS." THE STATEMENT, ISSUED BY THE ESAF PRESS OFFICE, WAS IN RESPONSE TO CONGRESSMAN JOE MOAKLEY'S STATEMENT, REPORTED LAST WEEK IN THE NY TIMES, THAT THE ESAF WAS INTERFERING IN THE INVESTIGATION. ACCORDING TO THE ESAF STATEMENT, THE ESAF HAS RESPONDED TO ALL REQUESTS FROM THE JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES, WILL CONTINUE TO COOPERATE AND, IF IT IS PROVEN THAT MILITARY PARTICIPATED IN THE MURDER, THE ESAF WILL ENSURE THAT THE INDIVIDUAL IS PROSECUTED. THE STATEMENT CONCLUDED THAT CONGRESSMAN MOAKLEY DIDN'T KNOW WHAT HE WAS TALKING ABOUT, BECAUSE QUOTE IT IS PRACTICALLY IMPOSSIBLE FOR A FOREIGNER TO UNDERSTAND WHAT OCCURS WITHIN A PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATION LIKE THE ESAF. UNQUOTE .

2. IN OTHER JESUIT DEVELOPMENTS, THE CIVILIAN SUPERVISOR OF THE MILITARY SCHOOL WEAPONS STOREROOM, LASSO IBARRA, FINALLY PRESENTED HIMSELF TO JUDGE ZAMORA ON FRIDAY (AUGUST 17) TO PROVIDE TESTIMONY. HE HAD MISSED TWO PREVIOUS APPOINTMENTS WITH THE JUDGE, REPRESENTING A PRIME EXAMPLE OF THE ESAF'S FAILURE TO COOPERATE IN THE INVESTIGATION. ACCORDING TO ZAMORA, HE PROVIDED NO INTERESTING REVELATIONS.

SUBJECT: PAVLOV ON CUBA

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

/------

2. IN AN AUGUST 28 MEETING WITH SENATOR BOB GRAHAM (D-FLA.), MFA LATIN AMERICA CHIEF YURIY PAVLOV EXPRESSED IRRITATION WITH TV MARTI REPORTING ON HIS RECENT MEETING WITH CUBAN EXILES IN MIAMI, BUT CONFIRMED THAT SOME OF THE EXILES WILL BE VISITING MOSCOW FOR MORE TALKS WITH SOVIET OFFICIALS. HE ARGUED THAT THE U.S. COULD INFLUENCE EVENTS IN CUBA MORE EFFECTIVELY BY SEEKING TO INCREASE CONTACTS, RATHER THAN TRYING TO FURTHER ISOLATE CASTRO. HE QUESTIONED THE U.S. CALL FOR THE SOVIETS TO CUT OFF AID TO HAVANA, AND U.S. DETERMINATION TO MAINTAIN TRADE SANCTIONS UNTIL CASTRO IS GONE, ASSERTING THAT "WE CAN'T JUST LET PEOPLE GO HUNGRY." HE REITERATED THAT THE SOVIETS WOULD NOT ABRUPTLY FORCE THE CUBANS TO ADAPT TO NEW TRADE POLICIES ON JANUARY 1, BUT WOULD ATTEMPT TO GRADUALLY WEAN HAVANA AWAY FROM THE SOVIET SUBSIDIES. PAVLOV CONCEDED THAT SOME IN THE SOVIET MILITARY AND THE COMMUNIST PARTY CONTINUE TO CITE MOSCOW'S STRATEGIC INTERESTS IN CUBA, BUT MAINTAINED THAT SUCH OLD-THINKERS HAVE NO REAL VOICE IN POLICY-MAKING. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT AN EASING IN U.S. PRESSURE ON CUBA COULD PROLONG THE REGIME'S LIFE, BUT ARGUED THAT THIS WAS PREFERABLE TO VIOLENT UPHEAVAL. PAVLOV STRONGLY IMPLIED THAT THE SOVIETS BELIEVE CASTRO'S DAYS ARE NUMBERED, AND HOPE TO AVOID A VIOLENT ROMANIAN-STYLE DENOUEMENT, WHICH THEY SEE AS A REAL POSSIBILITY, GIVEN CASTRO'S PERSONALITY AND THE EFFECTIVENESS OF HIS SECURITY FORCES. END SUMMARY.

MEETING WITH THE MIAMI EXILES

3. IN AN AUGUST 28 MEETING WITH VISITING SENATOR BOB GRAHAM (D-FLA.), SENATE STAFFER AL CUMMING, AND POLOFF, MFA LATIN AMERICA ADMINISTRATION CHIEF YURIY PAVLOV SPOKE AT LENGTH ON CUBA. PAVLOV NOTED THAT HIS MEETING WITH LEADERS OF THE CUBAN EXILE COMMUNITY AT A RECENT MIAMI CONFERENCE HAD BEEN VERY USEFUL, BUT COMPLAINED THAT TV MARTI REPORTING OF THIS ENCOUNTER PUT THE SOVIETS IN AN AWKWARD POSITION. DURING HIS SUBSEQUENT TRIP TO HAVANA, THE CUBANS HAD SHOWN HIM VIDEOTAPES OF THE TV MARTI COVERAGE, WHICH, ACCORDING TO PAVLOV, HAD INACCURATELY STATED THAT SOVIET "POLITBURO MEMBERS" HAD COME TO MIAMI SPECIFICALLY TO MEET WITH THE CUBAN EXILES. PAVLOV ARGUED THAT SUCH REPORTS COULD DISCOURAGE THE SOVIETS FROM FURTHER CONTACTS WITH THE EXILES. HOWEVER, WHEN QUESTIONED ABOUT REPORTS THAT A GROUP OF CUBAN EXILE LEADERS ARE PLANNING TO VISIT MOSCOW IN SEPTEMBER, PAVLOV SAID THAT SINCE THESE INDIVIDUALS ARE U.S. CITIZENS, "IF AND WHEN THEY ARE INCLUDED IN A DELEGATION, WE WILL TALK TO THEM--AS U.S. CITIZENS."

4. PAVLOV POINTED OUT THAT WHILE HIS GOVERNMENT WAS TALKING TO THE CUBAN EXILES, THE U.S. WAS STILL "NOT QUITE WILLING TO TALK TO THE CUBAN GOVERNMENT." HE ADDED THAT U.S.-CUBAN "TECHNICAL" CONTACTS WERE "SO FEW AND SO RARE THAT EACH ONE BECOMES A FOCUS FOR PUBLICITY, AND PUBLICITY NEVER HELPS IN THESE MATTERS." "THIS IS ALSO TRUE FOR OUR CONTACTS WITH THE EXILES," HE ADDED. "IT'S NOT THAT WE WANT TO KEEP THEM SECRET, BUT WE JUST DON'T WANT TO GIVE THEM SO MUCH PUBLICITY."

ISOLATION OR INCREASED CONTACTS?

5. ASKED BY PAVLOV FOR HIS VIEW ON THE FUTURE OF U.S.-CUBAN RELATIONS, SENATOR GRAHAM SAID THAT THERE WOULD PROBABLY BE NO REAL PROSPECT FOR IMPROVED TIES UNTIL THERE WAS A NEW GOVERNMENT IN HAVANA, AND NOTED THAT CUBA'S HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES AND USE OF MASS MIGRATION IN VIOLATION OF ACCEPTED STANDARDS HAVE CREATED A VERY SCARRED RELATIONSHIP. PAVLOV SAID THAT "AS AN OUTSIDE OBSERVER," IT SEEMED THAT THE U.S. AND CUBA WERE INVOLVED IN AN ETERNAL STRUGGLE, IN WHICH IT WAS DIFFICULT TO SAY WHO STARTED FIRST, NOTING THAT HE SAW MANY HAPPY REUNIONS IN THE MIAMI AIRPORT BETWEEN VISITING CUBANS AND THEIR AMERICAN RELATIVES, PAVLOV ARGUED THAT THE U.S. SHOULD SEEK TO INCREASE HUMAN CONTACTS WITH CUBA, BY MAKING IT EASIER FOR U.S. CITIZENS TO VISIT THE ISLAND. HE MAINTAINED THAT SUCH AN INCREASE IN CONTACTS WOULD INEVITABLY INFLUENCE THE CUBAN LEADERSHIP, BECAUSE "NO LEADER CAN IGNORE THE EXPRESSED DESIRES OF HIS PEOPLE."

6. PAVLOV REITERATED THAT U.S. HOSTILITY WAS GIVING CASTRO A PRETEXT TO CONTINUE HIS REPRESSIVE POLICIES AND ACTUALLY STRENGTHENING THE CUBAN LEADER. HE COMPARED THE SITUATION TO THAT IN THE SOVIET UNION DURING STALIN'S TIME, WHEN THE ISOLATION OF THE COUNTRY PREVENTED MOST PEOPLE FROM LEARNING OF STALIN'S CRIMES, AND TENSE RELATIONS WITH THE WEST ACTUALLY STRENGTHENED STALIN'S POSITION AT HOME. HE ALSO ARGUED THAT WEST GERMANY'S DECISION TO INCREASE CONTACTS WITH EAST GERMANY EVENTUALLY LED TO THE -

ACADEMIC EXPERTS HERE GENERALLY SHARE HIS VIEW THAT OLD THINKERS WILL NOT SUCCEED IN INFLUENCING SOVIET POLICY ON THESE ISSUES. PAVLOV AND HIS COLLEAGUES, WHO FAVOR A GRADUAL END TO HAVANA'S ECONOMIC DEPENDENCY ON MOSCOW, MAY ACTUALLY FACE A GREATER THREAT FROM THE LEFT. LIBERAL FORCES HERE WOULD PREFER TO SEE A QUICKER END TO SOVIET ASSISTANCE, AND PAVLOV'S CONCERN ABOUT HUNGRY CUBANS DOES NOT APPEAR TO BE SHARED BY THE SOVIET PUBLIC, WHICH IS BEING CONSTANTLY DELUGED BY STORIES ABOUT THE WASTE OF SOVIET ECONOMIC RESOURCES IN THE THIRD WORLD. WHY OFFEND YOUR FRIENDS?

13. SENATOR GRAHAM ASKED WHY CASTRO HAD ADOPTED A BELLIGERENT STANCE TOWARD SPAIN, WHICH HAD BEEN HIS BEST FRIEND AMONG THE WESTERN COUNTRIES. PAVLOV NOTED THAT CASTRO HAS RECENTLY BEEN UNDER PRESSURE FROM HIS FRIENDS IN EUROPE AND LATIN AMERICA, AND HAS REACTED EMOTIONALLY RATHER THAN RATIONALLY, TO PROVE THAT HE IS NOT GOING TO CHANGE UNDER PRESSURE. PAVLOV ALSO SURMISED THAT CASTRO OVERREACTED BECAUSE HE FEARED THE HAVANA EMBASSY CRISIS WOULD DEVELOP INTO AN "ALBANIAN-TYPE EVENT," WHICH WOULD UNDERMINE THE STABILITY OF THE REGIME.

14. PAVLOV'S CALLS FOR THE U.S. TO LIFT TRADE SANCTIONS AND TALK DIRECTLY TO HAVANA ARE NOT NEW. HOWEVER, THIS MEETING PROVIDED FURTHER EVIDENCE THAT THE SOVIETS BELIEVE CASTRO'S DAYS ARE NUMBERED AND ARE NOW LOOKING AHEAD TO HOW THE LAST DAYS OF COMMUNIST CUBA WILL PLAY OUT. IMPLICIT IN PAVLOV'S ARGUMENTS WERE THE ASSUMPTIONS THAT CASTRO IS IN REAL TROUBLE (ANY SUDDEN CUT IN AID WILL CAUSE SIGNIFICANT UNREST); THAT THE CUBAN LEADER MAY NOT BE SUCH A POPULAR, HEROIC LEADER AS THE SOVIETS HAVE ALWAYS ARGUED (THE ANALOGY WITH STALIN AND THE UNFAVORABLE COMPARISON WITH SOUTH AFRICA), AND THAT CASTRO IS A VERY DANGEROUS FIGURE, CAPABLE, LIKE CEAUSESCU, OF

ALIA, HE IS UNDER THE IMPRESSION THAT THE FMLN IS PREPARING AN OFFENSIVE. HE NOTED THAT HE HAS ALREADY TOLD THE GUERRILLAS IN WRITING THAT AN OFFENSIVE IS NOT JUSTIFIED, ESPECIALLY WHEN THEY HAVE BEEN ENGAGED IN PEACE TALKS.

6. THE [redacted] INDICATED THAT HE HAD TOLD THE FMLN THAT HE COMPLETELY DISASSOCIATED HIMSELF FROM AN OFFENSIVE OR ITS PREPARATIONS. REITERATING POINTS HE MADE TO US SIX WEEKS AGO (REF C), HE AGREED A CEASE FIRE IS CRUCIAL SO THAT BOTH SIDES CAN TALK IN PEACE.

7. OBSERVING THAT FATHER ELLACURIA HAD MET WITH HIM IN BONN ONLY ABOUT A WEEK BEFORE HE WAS MURDERED, OUR INTERLOCUTOR UNDERLINED THAT THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT MUST MAKE PROGRESS ON THE JESUITS' MURDER CASE. [redacted] EXPLAINED THAT IF HE COULD ONLY POINT TO A SMALL AMOUNT OF FORWARD MOVEMENT, IT WOULD MAKE HIS ARGUMENTS TO THE FMLN IN FAVOR OF A CEASE FIRE MORE

8. [redacted] NOTED THAT IN HIS INFREQUENT MEETINGS WITH FMLN REPS, HE HAS ALWAYS STRESSED THAT VIOLENCE IN EL SALVADOR IS NOT JUSTIFIED. HE SAID HE HAS TOLD THE GUERRILLAS THAT ATTACKS SHOULD BE HALTED TO HELP CREATE AN ATMOSPHERE OF CONFIDENCE AROUND THE PEACE TALKS. AT A BARE MINIMUM, THE FMLN COULD DEMONSTRATE GOOD WILL BY STOPPING ATTACKS ON OFF-DUTY MILITARY PERSONNEL AND THEIR FAMILIES.

9. TURNING TO THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, OUR INTERLOCUTOR SAID THE GOES MUST ALSO DO ITS PART TO BUILD CONFIDENCE. HE EXPLAINED THAT IT IS HARD TO EXPECT THE GUERRILLAS TO DISBAND AND INTEGRATE THEMSELVES INTO GUERRILLAS TO DISBAND AND INTEGRATE THEMSELVES INTO POLITICAL LIFE IF MILITARY OR RIGHT-WING VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS ARE NOT PUNISHED. POTENTIAL EX-GUERRILLAS COULD CLAIM FEAR OF BEING KILLED.

10. TAKING THE VIEW THAT THERE HAS BEEN VERY LITTLE PROGRESS IN THE JESUITS' CASE, ASSERTED THAT IF JUST ONE RELATIVELY HIGH-RANKING OFFICER ACTUALLY WAS BROUGHT TO JUSTICE IN THIS OR ANOTHER HUMAN RIGHTS CASE, IT WOULD BREAK A VICIOUS CYCLE. OPINED THAT WHILE IT MIGHT BE DIFFICULT FOR THE GOVERNMENT, JUST ONE SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION WOULD DEMONSTRATE REAL CHANGE AND SHOW THAT THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT IS SUCCESSFULLY TAKING CHARGE. HE ASSERTED THAT THIS COULD BE DONE WITHOUT ENDANGERING THE MILITARY'S ABILITY TO DEFEND THE COUNTRY AGAINST THE FMLN.

EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR OUR POINTS AND REITERATED IN GENERAL TERMS THEIR OPPOSITION TO EVERYTHING THE FMLN STANDS FOR. BOTH UNDERTOOK TO ENSURE THAT OUR VIEWS ON THE SALVADOR PEACE TALKS WERE GIVEN FULL CONSIDERATION WITHIN THEIR RESPECTIVE ORGANIZATIONS.

New Developments in Soviet Policy Toward Latin America

With the advent of perestroyka, the Soviets have begun to adopt a more pragmatic approach in Latin America. Soviet pressure on the Sandinistas to carry out elections and respect the results, and on the FMLN to negotiate in good faith with the Government of El Salvador, are the clearest examples of new thinking in Moscow toward Cuba and Central America. Elsewhere in Latin America, the Soviets are expanding commercial and trade ties, in a search of new markets and suppliers.

The Soviet Union's new approach to Central America and Cuba is based primarily on its effort to improve relations with the U.S. and to reduce burdensome commitments to third world allies, as well as a desire to expand commercial contacts in the hemisphere. The U.S. has challenged the Soviet government to puts its "new thinking" on foreign policy in Central America to the test, and the Soviet response helped ensure the success of the Nicaraguan elections.

Moscow has also voiced some criticism of Castro for failing to embrace perestroyka, and there are signs that the Soviets are moving to cut some of their economic subsidies to Havana. Nevertheless, there is no indication that the Soviet government has decided to abandon Castro or insist that the Cubans stop backing the FMLN. The Soviets seem unprepared politically to condemn this most important client. Thus, Moscow continues to deliver arms and economic aid to Cuba, if at a reduced rate, and Soviet-Cuban military ties remain strong. This allows the Cubans to train and resupply the FMLN.

Soviet criticism of Cuba is usually tempered with assurances that any cuts in aid will be gradual, with Soviet officials arguing that a sudden cut-off could trigger domestic upheaval. And even if aid to Cuba drains Soviet resources, the Soviet government and military are still mindful of the island's strategic value and its usefulness a supplier of sugar and other resources. (A new study suggests that subsidized Soviet purchases of Cuban sugar and other goods are not as burdensome to the USSR as previously thought because the exchanges are not carried out in hard currency.) In Cuba, Castro's hold on power looks firm, despite worsening economic problems. (There are no signs of organized opposition to the regime, be it religious, military, trade union or other, and Castro has made it clear -- witness his response to human rights protests and embassy rushings -- that any uprising will be met with violence.) Castro's ties to the FMLN are strong and emotional, and his stubbornness makes it unlikely that he would cut off Cuban support to the FMLN, absent a crisis at home or a dramatic decrease in Soviet deliveries.

As a result, in the short term there is little hope for drastic changes in Cuba's role in the region or for the type of Soviet pressure necessary to bring about such change. Over the next few years, however, continued economic problems in Cuba and a gradual withdrawal of Soviet support, coupled with the Soviet desire to improve relations with the U.S., may limit Cuba's ability to pursue a destabilizing role in the region. If, on the other hand, Castro falls, the Soviets can be expected to strive to maintain a military presence, but would probably be willing to accept an opening of the economy and improved Cuban relations with the U.S. Indeed, Moscow's repeated urgings that the U.S. take up its concerns directly with Castro suggest the Soviets are looking for a graceful way to reduce their commitments to Havana.

Elsewhere in Latin America, Moscow is moving to normalize diplomatic relations and expand commercial ties throughout the region, particularly with such important economies as Brazil, Argentina and Mexico. In Central America, the Soviet Union is seeking to establish diplomatic relations with Panama and Honduras. In Brazil, the Soviets are exploring the possibility of creating joint ventures and of obtaining Brazilian-produced computer and other technology. Initially, the prospects for substantially increased trade between Moscow and Latin America are poor, due to Soviet lack of hard currency and the Latin debt problem, but there is a good possibility of growing barter trade and creation of joint ventures. In the long term, if Soviet economic reforms take hold, the Soviet economic presence can be expected to grow.

"Soviet journalist predicts Cuban crisis"

El Nuevo Herald, August 29, 1990, by Ana Santiago

Key points of interview with Alexander Machov, correspondent for Moscow News.

Soviet economic authorities have told CEMA that beginning January 1, 1991, the USSR will sell Cuba its petroleum at world market prices, and in dollars. Cuba needs $2 billion for this petroleum. Its principal product is sugar, and this leaves a deficit to generate enough money (to pay for the petroleum). Machov explained that Cuba has been living the last thirty years beyond its means. Referring to Castro, he said, "His options, once this new commerce begins, will be few. It could even make the Cuban people produce to cover the deficit, making it (Cuba) explode." Machov did not discount that the Cuban government could put one million citizens in concentration camps to reach this goal. In 1991, the Cubans on the island will see 1990 as a paradise.

Machov referred to how the changes in the Soviet Union are becoming more rapid and said that the city until recently considered the mecca of communism, Moscow, is now one of the most anti-communist cities in the world. "One sees this in the people, in Red Square, in Pushkin Plaza, where one finds the majority of Soviet newspaper editorial offices, the new center of free thinking in the Soviet Union." Machov, a Latinamerican specialist, recently renounced the Communist Party.

He and his colleagues Horymir Krystof Junek and Michal Cermak are in Miami to participate in a conference by the School of International Studies at the University of Miami on the superpowers and conflictive leaders like Fidel Castro and Saddam Hussein.

Cermak, Czeckoslovak journalist for Radio Prague International, was expelled from Cuba in January of this year, accused by the government on the island of distorting news about the Cuban situation and showing a country on the edge of crisis.

Junek writes for Pravo Lidu in Prague. He was correspondent for the Czeck news agency CTK in Mexico and in 1968 was obliged to resign his job for condemning the Soviet invasion of his country.

FSLN-FMLN

- On August 27, a van transporting explosives and FMLN documents was captured by a Honduran counterintelligence team at El Espino on the Honduras/Nicaragua border.
  - -- The cargo, concealed under the floor in false compartments, contained mortar charges, FMLN radio code books, false documents for FMLN members, ink for falsifying documents and a document detailing FMLN plans to attack GOES targets.
- On July 16, police arrested two FMLN members transporting arms in Managua.
  - -- The GON is considering sending the two guerrillas to Cuba instead of trying them in Nicaragua or extraditing them to El Salvador.
- The GON has shown no indication that it plans to crack down on FMLN activities in Nicaragua, despite promises from President Chamorro that arms supplies to the FMLN would not be tolerated.
- Lacayo personally told the FMLN last April that it could remain in Nicaragua provided it engaged in no military activities.

ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE

- The GON is about to unveil a revised economic program emphasizing market-based reforms and restructuring.

- On key elements of its recovery program (privatization and cuts in state spending) the GON has taken a more cautious approach due to Sandinista opposition.

- On September 15 -- Nicaraguan independence day -- the GON will convene its "national dialogue" of GON, labor, business and political (including FSLN) leaders to discuss the government's economic program.

  — The GON hopes that the national dialogue will achieve a social consensus a la Mexico regarding economic reform.

A3,A5

- The embassy and AID mission are closely monitoring our assistance package to make sure that our money is used to spur growth and development and is not used -- as the Sandinistas would wish -- to subsidize failed state industries.

- ARA DAS David Malpass travelled recently to Nicaragua to meet with President Chamorro's top economists and business leaders. He also met with Lacayo.

  — Lacayo expressed an interest in moving quickly to limit credit to cooperatives and public enterprises and to open the banking and distribution sectors to competition. Rather than carry these measures out by decree, however, Lacayo intends to marshall support through the national dialogue and then seek legislation to clarify the constitutionality of the changes.

CHAMORRO VISIT

- o President Chamorro requested a meeting with President Bush in Washington October 1 or 2.
  - — The White House tells us October 2 is likely.
- o Chamorro planned to travel later to Europe (to encourage Rome donor conference pledges) and Moscow.
- o The GON may cancel the meeting request due to White House scheduling difficulties and inability to schedule a Moscow trip until February 1991.

2. A NATIONAL CENTRIST UNION (UCN) MAYORAL CANDIDATE WAS KILLED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS IN SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS, AND THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT MAYOR OF CUYOTENANGO WAS SHOT AND CRITICALLY WOUNDED. AN APELLATE COURT OVERTURNED THE 1987 CONVICTIONS OF SIX POLICE OFFICERS CONVICTED OF KILLING TWO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

3. RETIRED GENERAL RIOS MONT'S ATTEMPT TO REGISTER AS A CANDIDATE FOR THE ELECTIONS RAN INTO THE EXPECTED STONEWALL WHEN THE CITIZENS REGISTRY, BACKED BY THE FULL SUPREME ELECTORAL TRIBUNAL (TSE), RULED HIM CONSTITUTIONALLY BARRED FROM RUNNING FOR PRESIDENT. A RIOS RALLY TO PROTEST THE CR'S DECISION AND DEMONSTRATE RIOS' STRENGTH FAILED TO ATTRACT A BIG CROWD. THE PARTIDO REVOLUCIONARIO (PR) CONVENTION ALMOST TURNED VIOLENT AS ARMED MEMBERS OF ONE PR FACTION PREVENTED AN OPPOSING FACTION FROM ENTERING THE CONVENTION, ALL OF WHICH LED TO A LEGAL CHALLENGE BY THE LEADER OF THE EXCLUDED FACTION TO THE RESULTS OF THE CONVENTION.

POLITICAL AND EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS

6. CELSO MILAGRO GIRON, UCN MAYORAL CANDIDATE FOR SAN

GIRON, THE THIRD UCN OFFICIAL KILLED IN THIRTY DAYS, HAD ACCEPTED THE CANDIDACY AFTER THE MURDER OF SOLOMAN BLANCO, THE UCN'S PREVIOUS MAYORAL CANDIDATE. UCN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO DEMANDED THAT THE POLICE, WHO REPORT NO LEADS, INVESTIGATE THE MURDERS OF THE THREE SLAIN UCN MEMBERS (GIRON, BLANCO, AND CONGRESSMAN RUANO). SHOWING THAT VIOLENCE DOES NOT RESTRICT ITSELF TO TAKING VICTIMS FROM JUST ONE PARTY, THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT (DC) MAYOR OF CUYOTENANGO (SUCHITEPEQUEZ), ROBERTO VALLEJOS ESCOBAR, WAS SHOT AND CRITICALLY WOUNDED IN FRONT OF HIS HOME BY AN UNIDENTIFIED GUNMAN. VALLEJOS WAS RUSHED TO THE HOSPITAL BY NEIGHBORS AND IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION.

6. ON AUGUST 30, THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM) AND THE STUDENTS UNION (AEU) PEACEFULLY MARCHED THROUGH THE CAPITAL TO MARK THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE KIDNAPPING OF TEN, AND SUBSEQUENT MURDER OF FIVE, SAN CARLOS

UNIVERSITY (USAC) STUDENTS. THE MARCHERS PRESENTED DOCUMENTS CONTAINING NAMES, DESCRIPTIONS OF THE VEHICLES, AND LICENSE PLATE NUMBERS, TO POLICE, GOVERNMENT OFFICES, AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, CALLING ON THEM TO SOLVE THE CRIMES.

7. A QUETZALTENANGO APPELLATE COURT OVERTURNED THE 1987 CONVICTIONS OF 6 POLICE OFFICERS FOUND GUILTY OF [redacted]

MURDERING 2 UNIVERSITY STUDENTS. THE COURT'S DECISION SET OFF A FIRESTORM OF PROTESTS FROM GUATEMALAN AND FOREIGN HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS. THE JUDGES, DENYING IN PUBLIC STATEMENTS THAT THEY HAD BEEN PRESSURED, CLAIMED THERE WAS NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO UPHOLD THE 1987 CONVICTIONS. CRITICS OF THE DECISION STATED THAT IT WOULD CONTRIBUTE TO THE ATTITUDE OF IMPUNITY HELD BY SECURITY OFFICIALS. THE CONVICTION OF THE POLICE OFFICERS HAD BEEN CITED AS ONE OF THE VERY FEW POSITIVE EXAMPLES OF HOW TO PROSECUTE A HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATION CASE. WHILE IT IS NOT CLEAR WHAT FURTHER LEGAL ACTION, IF ANY, THE GOG WILL PURSUE ON THIS CASE, POLICE CHIEF CABALLEROS ANNOUNCED THAT THE SIX POLICEMEN WOULD NOT BE TAKEN BACK INTO THE FORCE.

DISAPPEARANCE

8. DISAPPEARANCES CONTINUED IN AUGUST. THE STUDENT ASSOCIATION (AEU) DENOUNCED THE AUGUST 1 DISAPPEARANCE OF USAC LAW STUDENT ELEODORO ANIBAL PALMA. THE THIRTY YEAR OLD STUDENT REPORTEDLY DISAPPEARED IN THE CAPITAL WHILE ON HIS WAY TO VISIT TO RELATIVES. THE AEU CLAIMED HE WAS TAKEN BY SEVERAL HEAVILY ARMED MEN. A COMPLAINT WAS FILED WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. IN ANOTHER PUBLICIZED CASE, THE ARMY CLAIMED THAT SERGIO GOMEZ, MILITARY COMMISSIONER OF TAJUMULCO (SAN MARCOS), WAS KIDNAPPED BY SEVEN MEN DRESSED IN OLIVE GREEN UNIFORMS. THERE WAS NO REPORTED PROGRESS IN RESOLVING THE MAY DISAPPEARANCE OF CONDEG ACTIVIST SOLIS PAJARITO IN THE CAPITAL AND IN THE JULY DISAPPEARANCE OF A CERJ ACTIVIST IN QUICHE.

9. ON AUGUST 17, THE GUATEMALAN DAILY "EL GRAFICO," OWNED BY UCN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO, REPORTED THAT MAXIMILIANO VASQUEZ, A UCN ORGANIZER, HAD BEEN ARRESTED BY A MILITARY COMMISSIONER BECAUSE OF HIS POLITICAL ACTIVITIES. THE FOLLOWING DAY, IN A LETTER TO THE PAPER, ARMY SOPKESMAN COL. DURAN HERNANDEZ DENIED THE ACCUSATION, STATING THAT VASQUEZ HAD BEEN ARRESTED BY THE POLICE ON CRIMINAL CHARGES.

VIOLATIONS OF LAW IN AN INTERNAL CONFLICT

10. DESPITE PUBLISHED THREATS IN JULY TO RESUME ATTACKS AGAINST ECONOMIC TARGETS, THE GUERRILLA CONTINUED TO ABIDE BY PROMISES MADE LAST MAY IN MADRID TO AVOID SUCH ACTIONS. WAR ACTIVITY REMAINED INTENSE, HOWEVER, IN THE TRADITIONALLY CONFLICTIVE DEPARTMENTS OF HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS WHERE REPEATED CLASHES TOOK PLACE BETWEEN THE GUERRILLAS AND THE ARMY, WHICH SOUGHT TO CUT OFF THE INSURGENTS FROM THE MEXICAN BORDER. THE GUERRILLAS SHIFTED ACTIONS TO THE SOUTH AND FIRED UPON A MILITARY BASE IN CHICACAO (SUCHITEPEQUEZ). THE GUERRILLAS ALSO DISTRIBUTED FLYERS IN THE CAPITAL CALLING ON SECURITY FORCES TO LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS.

11. THE MAJOR PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATION, CACIF, PARTICIPATED IN THREE DAYS OF DISCUSSIONS IN CANADA WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUERRILLA UMBRELLA ORGANIZATION, URNG. 2. SUMMARY: MILITARY LOG BOOKS HAVE BEEN AN IMPORTANT FEATURE IN THIS FRUSTRATING INVESTIGATION. JUDGE ZAMORA PRESENTLY HAS A LONG LIST OF MORE THAN TWENTY LOG BOOKS FROM THE MILITARY ACADEMY, WHICH HE HAS REVIEWED AND FOUND USELESS. APPROXIMATELY SIXTEEN LOGS WHICH HE WISHED TO EXAMINE WERE DESTROYED IN EARLY DECEMBER. HE HAS IN HIS POSSESSION ONE LOG BOOK FROM THE MILITARY ACADEMY WHICH WAS ALLEGEDLY MAINTAINED BY COL. BENAVIDES, HIS PRIMARY SUSPECT. THIS, HE SUSPECTS IS A FORGERY. END SUMMARY.

3. IN A RECENT CONVERSATION WITH LEGOFFS, JUDGE ZAMORA RECOUNTED THAT HE FIRST LEARNED OF THE EXISTENCE OF CERTAIN MILITARY ACADEMY RECORD BOOKS FROM LIEUTENANT YUSSHI MENDOZA, ONE THE SUSPECTS IN THE JESUIT MURDERS. MENDOZA TESTIFIED THAT HE RECEIVED ORDERS FROM LT. COLONEL CAMILO HERNANDEZ, THEN SUB-DIRECTOR OF THE MILITARY ACADEMY, TO BURN THE BOOKS ONE NIGHT IN EARLY DECEMBER 1989, AT MIDNIGHT. SIXTEEN BOOKS WERE ALLEGEDLY BURNED, BUT ZAMORA DOES NOT KNOW (AND HAS NOT REQUESTED A LIST OF) PRECISELY WHAT WAS LOST. HE BELIEVES THE LOST BOOKS INCLUDE TRANSPORTATION LOGS, PERSONNEL LOGS, AND PERSONNEL MOVEMENT RECORDS.

4. LT. COLONEL CAMILO HERNANDEZ LATER TESTIFIED THAT, WHILE HE DID ORDER MENDOZA TO LOCATE THE BOOKS, HE DID NOT ORDER THEM BURNED. IN THIS SAME TESTIMONY HE MENTIONED ANOTHER LOG BOOK, MAINTAINED BY COL. BENAVIDES, WHICH HAD NOT BEEN DESTROYED. THIS WAS THE "LIBRO DE ORDENES"--THE BOOK OF ORDERS. ZAMORA REQUESTED AND RECEIVED THE LOGBOOK, WHICH HE SUSPECTS IS A FORGERY. ACCORDING TO ZAMORA, BENAVIDES TESTIFIED THAT HE PERSONALLY SIGNED EACH ENTRY INTO THIS BOOK IN LONGHAND. IN THE VOLUME SUBMITTED AS EVIDENCE, EACH OF BENAVIDES' SIGNATURES IS REPRODUCED WITH A RUBBER STAMP FACSIMILE. HIS LONGHAND SIGNATURE APPEARS ONLY ONCE, ON THE FIRST PAGE. PUZZLED BY THIS DISCREPANCY, ZAMORA HAS REQUESTED THE FBI TO EXAMINE THE BOOK FOR EVIDENCE OF TAMPERING. POST EXPECTS THE RESULTS OF THE FBI EXAMINATION WITHIN A FEW WEEKS.

5. DURING THE TEMPEST OVER THE BURNT LOGBOOKS, JUDGE ZAMORA ASKED MINISTER OF DEFENSE LARIOS FOR A LIST OF ALL MILITARY ACADEMY RECORD BOOKS WHICH HAD NOT BEEN DESTROYED. LARIOS REPLIED WITH A LIST OF MORE THAN TWENTY BOOKS--JUDGE ZAMORA DID NOT RECALL THE EXACT NUMBER AND IT DOES NOT APPEAR RELEVANT. ZAMORA REVIEWED THIS LIST OF LAUNDRY, KITCHEN AND CLASS ATTENDANCE LOGS AND FOUND IT WORTHLESS. HE SHARES OUR VIEW THAT ANYTHING OF INTEREST HAS BEEN DESTROYED.

6. JUDGE ZAMORA HAS NOT REQUESTED PERSONAL DIARIES FROM ANY OF THE ESAF OFFICERS INVOLVED IN THE CASE. POST HAS SUGGESTED ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS THAT HE OBTAIN BENAVIDES' DIARY, BUT HE HAS NOT FOLLOWED OUR ADVICE. HE HAS SENT INTERROGATORIES TO FORMER MOD LARIOS AND CURRENT MOD PONCE, BUT HAS NOT REQUESTED THEIR PERSONAL DIARIES.

7. COMMENT: WE HAVE ONE LOGBOOK UNDER EXAMINATION, A LIST OF MORE THAN TWENTY USELESS LOGS AND SIXTEEN PERHAPS POWERFULLY RELEVANT LOGS WHICH WERE INCINERATED TWO WEEKS AFTER THE CRIME. THE PROMULGATION OF RECORD BOOKS AT THE MILITARY ACADEMY, AND INDEED THROUGHOUT THE ESAF, BELIES A FRANK SKEPTICISM FOR THE RELIABILITY OF MEMORY. ESAF OFFICERS ARE FASTIDIOUS RECORD-KEEPERS. DAILY DIARIES ARE DE RIGUER AT THE ESTADO MAYOR; THEY FLOAT UNDER THE ARM OF EVERY OFFICER, AND SNAP OPEN AT THE BEGINNING OF EVERY MEETING. FOR ALL THE SCRIBBLING THESE COLONELS DO, ONE WOULD THINK THAT ZAMORA WOULD FIND THESE DIARIES INFORMATIVE. BY RULE OF LAW, HE MUST BE LED TO NEW EVIDENCE BY INFORMATION THAT HE HAS ALREADY GATHERED. THIS CLEARLY LIMITS THE SCOPE OF HIS REQUESTS. IN FACT, HE HAS APPARENTLY DECIDED THAT THESE DIARIES WILL HAVE NO VALUE TO THE INVESTIGATION. WE DISAGREE WITH THE JUDGE. WHILE IT IS UNLIKELY THAT ANY DAMNING INFORMATION REMAINS IN THE DIARIES AFTER SO MUCH TIME HAS PASSED, IT WOULD STILL BE INTERESTING TO COMPARE THE NOTES OF THOSE WHO ATTENDED THE MEETINGS AT THE ESTADO MAYOR ON THE DAYS JUST PRIOR TO THE MURDERS. AT THE VERY LEAST, THEY MIGHT ADD TO THE BODY OF GENERAL KNOWLEDGE NOW AVAILABLE IN THE CASE. ZAMORA'S RELUCTANCE TO REQUEST THE DIARIES--OR TO REQUEST THE SIU TO INVESTIGATE THEM--PROBABLY REFLECTS HIS GROWING HOPE FOR A MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH. HE FEELS PRESSURED FOR A PROMPT RESOLUTION AND MAY FEEL THAT THE VALUE OF THE DIARIES IS OUTWEIGHED BY THE TIME AND ENERGY IT WOULD TAKE TO ANALYZE THEM. IN FACT, IF THE INVESTIGATION IS TO BE ADVANCED, IT WILL REQUIRE THE KIND OF PAINSTAKING THOROUGHNESS THAT HAS BROUGHT IT TO THIS POINT.

RELEASED

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

Enclosed is what are believed to be human bone or skeleton. A Guatemalan forensic physician has determined that, in fact, no evidence of human tissue can be found in these samples (report attached).

Two American citizens, Griffith Davis and Nicholas Blake disappeared in late March 1985. An informant claims they were murdered near the town of El Llano, Buehuetenango Department and their bodies were tossed by the side of a mountain trail. Approximately 16 months later, the remains were allegedly recovered and carried to another spot where they were burned in a bonfire. It is not certain whether the ashes were searched afterwards for whatever remained.

This case is of particular interest to the Department of State and the White House. Embassy has discussed this case in detail with Mr. Joseph Gannon, Legal Attache in Mexico City.

REQUEST OF FBI LABORATORY:

Laboratory is requested to identify enclosure as remains of human skeleton.

Please make results of examination available to:

SUBJECT: 1990 COUNTRY REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES: GUATEMALA

1. LOU--NOFORN--ENTIRE TEXT

2. FOLLOWING IS THE 1990 COUNTRY HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT FOR GUATEMALA.

GUATEMALA

The Constitution took effect January 1986. It provides for election by universal suffrage of a one-term President, a unicameral Congress--increased in 1990 from 100 to 118 members--and municipal officers; it guarantees a long list of rights, and calls for an independent judiciary and a Human Rights Ombudsman, responsible to Congress. The Christian Democrats began governing in 1986 after free and fair elections. National elections are due November 11; a run-off, January 6, with transfer of power January 14. Presidential control over the security forces, while not absolute, is greater than usually acknowledged. The Army (43,000 men) has the key role in national security and is fighting a 30-year foreign-supported leftist insurgency. The Army includes a 3000-man Mobile Military Police that guards key facilities and takes part in anti-crime operations. The National Police (12,000 men) and the Treasury Police (2,000) report to the Interior Minister; both suffer corruption, poor training, low pay, and low morale. About 500,000 men in civil defense committees (CVDC) carry out counterinsurgency and law-and-order tasks. Service in the CVDCs is suopposed to be voluntary, but this not always the case.

Hobbled by a weak justice system and a lack of will, authorities did not stem growing violence. Despite notable improvement over the performance of past years, reliable evidence indicates security forces still committed, with [illegible] major human rights abuses. Most victims were rural indigenous people suspected of involvement with guerrilla movements. While harassment of local rights groups was not as blatant as in 1989, activists reported threats and endured acts of lethal violence often apparently at the hands of security forces. Criticism of Guatemala's human rights record by the U.S. Ambassador and government drew public and press attention--the U.S. Ambassador was recalled to stress the seriousness with which we view human rights issues.

Communist guerrillas killed policemen, unarmed soldiers, and military commissioners (civilian Army employees); they engaged in armed robbery, economic sabotage, mine warfare, kidnaping, forced labor and recruitment, and used children in combat. In May talks in Madrid between guerrilla and political party representatives, the guerrillas promised to halt attacks on economic and civilian targets and allow elections to go forth. These promises were not honored. There is evidence of guerrilla involvement in the illicit opium trade.

Government engaged in heavy deficit spending; inflation hit an annual rate of over 55 percent--a blow to already low living standards. Little was achieved in reducing illiteracy and infant mortality. Corruption and mismanagement are widespread. The number of labor unions rose but some members credibly alleged harassment from a variety of sources. There was no resolution to some major cases of past abuses in which the United States has expressed strong and continuing interest, e.g., the 1985 disappearances of American citizens Blake and Davis, the 1988 El Aguacate massacre, the 1989 disappearances of 11 students of whom 6 were killed, and the 1989 abduction of U.S. citizen nun Sr. Diana Ortiz. A court reversed the 1988 conviction of six policemen for the 1987 murders of two men in Quetzaltenango--the only major win over human rights abusers linked to the security forces. The government has appealed the reversal.

RRESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

SECTION I

RESPECT FOR THE INTEGRITY OF THE PERSON, INCLUDING FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

As in 1989, official statistics showed about 2,000 homicides nationwide; critics, with reason, claimed this was an understatement. Press reports and other available information pointed to a number at least three times the official one. In June, for example, press reports indicated the homicide rate in and around the capital reached an average of one per hour. While most killings resulted from personal vendettas and other crimes, including drug trafficking and gang warfare, extrajudicial killings, including politically motivated ones, appeared to rise in 1990.

The Human Rights Ombudsman calculated about 400 politically motivated killings in 1990, mainly in conflictive rural areas of San Marcos, Huehuetenango, Quiche, and Peten Departments. Most victims were indigenous people presumably killed by security forces, usually the Army, for suspicion of backing guerrilla groups. The Ombudsman's figure does not include an unknown but probably large number of vigilante killings of criminals and suspected criminals. While not demonstrated conclusively, security force involvement in many vigilante actions seems likely. The rise in extrajudicial killings was a response to increased guerrilla activity and frustration over violent crime in urban areas, particularly the capital.

No information points to political and other extrajudicial killings as officially condoned policy, but authorities failed to investigate these and bring the authors to justice. While members of the security forces faced arrest, conviction, and sentencing for common crimes, including murder of rural people, no examples existed of trials and convictions for political or extrajudicial killings by security force personnel. Authorities did not prevent some members of the security forces, in particular certain rural military zone officers, from conducting extrajudicial killings. These persisted despite attempts by foreign donors--including the U.S.--some senior officers, the Ombudsman, and the new Police Director--an active duty Army colonel--to change traditional human rights attitudes and practices within the security forces. Efforts included firing and arresting large numbers of allegedly corrupt and abusive policemen.

Guerrilla forces killed civilians, off-duty soldiers, and policemen. In July, for example, guerrillas in San Rafael Petzal (Huehuetenango) shot and killed two unarmed men and wounded eight others participating in a civil defense patrol. Many policemen in rural areas were killed throughout 1990 in ways strongly suggesting guerrilla involvement.

In January, armed men seized Salvadoran leftist Hector Oqueli and Guatemalan attorney Gilda Flores in the capital. Their bodies appeared hours later near the El Salvador border. The crime led to strong local, US government, and international demands for a complete investigation. The government condemned the killings and in March issued a preliminary report on its investigation. A final report in June implied, without strong supporting evidence, that friends of Oqueli and Salvadorans resident in Guatemala were responsible. There were no arrests. The case remains open.

In February, two Coca-Cola workers, the Sagastume brothers, were killed. While not clear if the crime was related to a long strike against the Coca-Cola bottler, CAVISA (see sec 6), credible information indicated the brothers, found dead with a third man, died as a result of criminal activity. Also that month, according to police, 12 men in "olive green" uniforms and carrying automatic weapons, entered a home near Cuyotenango (Suchitepequez) and killed Antonio Gonon Morales and wounded his wife and his daughter-in-law. Police blamed guerrillas but could offer no motives.

On March 17, nine people were seized near Malacatan (San Marcos) by armed men. The bodies of five later appeared: Teodoro Mejia, Arcadio Mejia, Efrain Ventura, Luis Ventura, and Joaquin Ortega. A survivor, a child, was also found. While information was inconclusive, local observers blamed the Army. San Marcos is a very conflictive region in which guerrilla activity (that same day guerrillas killed a San Marcos police chief), drug trafficking, and Army operations are common.

CERJ (Runujel Jûnam Council of Ethnic Communities), a rural-based organization dedicated mainly to opposing obligatory service in civil defense committees, has been accused by the Army of being a guerrilla front group. During the year, three members of CERJ were killed, at least two apparently by persons protected by security forces. On March 19, Maria Mejia (whom CONAVIGUA, a local widows association, also claimed as a member) was killed in her home near Parraxtut, Sacapulas (Quiche). Her husband, Pablo Lastro Tojin, wounded in the attack, named two men, both allegedly military commissioners, as the killers. Arrested in May, both went free in June for "lack of evidence." The Army denied they were commissioners but unconfirmed information indicates a Quiche Army officer promised the suspects quick freedom if they agreed to be arrested and brought before a judge. (see sec 4).

On April 10, masked gunmen killed CERJ activist Jose Vicente Garcia in front of his family. He previously had denounced receiving threats. Reliable information indicates the killers, though not military, were shielded by Army officers. A knowledgable independent local observer stated the activist was probably killed for suspicion of "subversive activities."

On May 1, CERJ member Jose Maria Ixcaya was killed in Solola as he left for the capital to participate in May Day rallies. A cousin of his publicly accused the Army of the killing; a credible source indicated, however, it might have resulted from a dispute unrelated to CERJ.

Jose Vielman, son of the conservative head of a lawyers group (JUDE), died in March near a police checkpoint outside the capital. Initial reports portrayed the death as resulting from a botched robbery attempt by highwaymen. Subsequent reliable information indicates, however, Vielman died resisting police attempts to rob him. An internal investigation is reportedly underway.

In June, long-time resident U.S. citizen Michael Devine was brutally slain near his home in Peten Department. First reports depicted the crime as a robbery-murder. Subsequent information, however, showed that Army personnel participated in the killing. The motives remain uncertain. The Peten military zone commander, suspected of sending those who killed Devine, was removed and transferred to the capital. In September, President Cerezo, in an unprecedented and welcome move, publicly acknowledged the possibility of security force involvement and promised a full investigation. The Human Rights Ombudsman also indicated he had information showing possible military involvement. In September, the court in Flores (Peten) issued arrest warrants for several persons, including four soldiers, for suspicion of involvement in the murder of Mr. Devine. The local press gave this important development widespread coverage. The US Government continues to insist that the guilty be brought to jusitce.

On July 25, centrist Congressman Otto Rolando Ruano and his driver were killed 55 miles from Guatemala City. The following month centrist Mayoral candidate Celso Milagro Giron was killed in San Pedro Jocopilas (Quiche); he had become a candidate after the killing of the prior candidate, Solomon Blanco. More violence followed in San Pedro Jocopilas including the violent death in September of Christian Democrat activist mayor of Cuyotenango (Suchitepequez), Roberto Vallejos, was shot near his home. He survived. Authors and motives were unknown.

On September 11, Mirna Elizabeth Mack Chang, a Guatemalan academic researching issues affecting displaced persons in the highlands, was stabbed or cut 17 times and killed near her office in Guatemala City. GAM and other human rights organizations and university groups denounced the killing as politically motivated. Initial police reports, however, indicated robbery as the motive as the killers took her purse and credit cards. The case remains unsolved and the US government continues to press for a resolution.

In a major reversal for already weak efforts to hold security forces accountable for abuses, in August an appellate court found "insufficient evidence" to uphold the 1988 convictions and 30-year prison terms of six policemen, including a former Quetzaltenango police chief, for the 1987 abductions and murders of two university-affiliated agronomists, Rene Leiva Cayax and Danilo Alvarado Mejia. The killings apparently had been connected with a bus strike and other labor and civil unrest in Quetzaltenango at the time. This had been the only case in which members of the security forces were arrested, tried, convicted, and sentenced to prison for serious human rights abuses. Police Director Col. Caballeros said he would not accept the men back into the police force. The government has appealed the court's decision to rescind the convictions.

The government did not solve the 1989 murders of 6 university students--these were among 11 who disappeared (see sec 1b). It was widely thought at least some came under suspicion of pro-guerrilla activities. There was no resolution of the August 1989 murder of Christian Democratic politician Danilo Barillas. The 1989 killing of GAM (Mutual Support Group) activist Aurelio Lorenzo Xicay also remains unsolved; a police report released in March stated Xicay had been drunk at the time of his death from a blow to the head. Authorities did not solve the 1989 Sanquin (Chimaltenango) killings in which a military commissioner, his son, and three others were slain by men who might have been guerrillas. A police report on the July 1989 death of former Coca-Cola union member Jose Pantaleon identified several persons as responsible and implied the killing had to do with personal problems. The November 1988 El Aguacate massacre was also not resolved.

The U.S. government is active in seeking a resolution to several of these cases. Among those receiving particular emphasis are: the killings of Hector Oqueli, Rene Flores, Elizabeth Chang, and Michael Devine; the disappearances and murders of several university students; the killings of minors by policemen; and the El Aguacate massacre. Efforts were limited by the legal constraints facing a diplomatic mission and limitations of personnel, time, and investigatory expertise.

There were no completely reliable figures for 1990 on the number of disappeared persons. According to an official report released early in 1990, authorities knew of 2,588 disappearances from all causes January 1989 - January 1990. The report stated the Police resolved 1,763 of those: 1,537 were found safe, 35 in hospitals, and 191 dead. Of the remaining 825, police claimed 198 consisted of false reports and 206 of persons who had reappeared but had not been reported as such. The Office of the Human Rights Ombudsman calculated Guatemala suffered some 200 politically motivated disappearances during 1990. Given that there is no solid evidence of clandestine prisons, a valid assumption is that most of the politically motivated disappearances ended in death. According to the Ombudsman, most occurred in conflictive rural areas and consisted of persons suspected of involvement in guerrilla activities. The government failed to resolve these disappearances. The Ombudsman concluded security forces bore responsibility for the majority of these types of disappearances. The Ombudsman's calculations and conclusions seem reasonable.

In January, the son of a prominent leftist journalist told of being abducted and briefly held by persons apparently connected to the security forces. His captors, according to him, carried automatic weapons and drove a radio-equipped vehicle of a type usually associated with the military presidential guard. According to this account, he was queried about activities at San Carlos University and released when his abductors received orders over the radio to do so. A military source denied Army involvement, saying the incident resulted from a dispute over a girlfriend.

In February, two disappearances in the capital drew much foreign and local attention, prompting a resolution by Guatemala's Congress calling for the victims' relase and for authorities to prevent and resolve these sorts of the victims. On February 6, San Carlos University law student Armando Oscar Piedrasanta was taken by armed men, beaten, and abandoned along a highway early the following day. The authors and motives were unknown but the assumption was Piedrasanta was suspected of "subversive activities." He reportedly has left Guatemala.

On February 10, Dr. Carmen Angelica Valenzuela Argueta, a pediatrician, was pulled from her car in the capital by armed men in a four-wheel drive vehicle with tinted windows. The daylight kidnaping led to a strong public demand for her release and to foreign embassies, including the U.S., working to that end. Freed February 18, she made no public statements, and left for abroad. Motives for the abduction generated speculation ranging from suspicion of possible involvement with guerrilla sympathizers to the belief she was about to reveal rampant corruption in the Ministry of Health.

In April, guerrillas abducted two off-duty soldiers in the Peten. The seizure took place during a unilaterally declared Holy Week cease fire by the guerrillas. The soldiers were eventually freed.

Luis Miguel Solis Pajarito, member of a displaced persons organization, CONDEG, disappeared May 3 in the capital. His wife, a GAM member, labeled the military responsible and alleged he was in one of the capital's military facilities. She filed writs of habeas corpus with no result. She has subsequently alleged receiving threats. The disappearance led to protests, including GAM's take-over the office of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC). Given that some military see CONDEG as a pro-guerrilla group, security force involvement in the disappearance cannot be dismissed, but no conclusive evidence of Army involvement exists.

Two CERJ members disappeared in July. On July 2, armed men in two pick-up trucks apparently seized Pedro Tiu Cac in Chajab, Racana (Totonicapan). Samuel de la Cruz Gomez, reportedly a member both of CERJ and of leftist CUC (Committee of Campesino Unity), was taken near Zacualpa (Quiche) July 12 apparently by an army patrol. Gunfire injured two persons trying to save de la Cruz Gomez from his captors. Neighbors captured a man they said was a military commissioner--he denied it--and took him to Santa Cruz del Quiche where he was jailed. The alleged commissioner was eventually freed following lab evidence he had not fired a weapon and testimony placing him elsewhere at the time of the disappearance.

The University Students' Association (AEU) reported the August 1 disappearance of law student Anibal Palma. The 30-year old man allegedly was taken by several armed men in the capital. The AEU filed a complaint with the Office of the Human Rights Ombudsman. Also in August, military commissioner Sergio Gomez was reported abducted by seven heavily armed guerrillas in olive green uniforms near conflictive Tajumulco (San Marcos), the main area for ORPA (Armed Revolutionary Organization of the People). No further information was available.

Four CERJ members who disappeared April 1989 in Suchitepequez were not found; the assumption is that the men are dead. There was no resolution of the disappearances of several university students who vanished between August 21 and September 10, 1989 (see section 1. a); official reports issued in 1990 suggested the disappearances and deaths were due to internal student conflicts, an idea not generally accepted. The August 1989 disappearance of GAM member Rumalda Camey remains unsolved.

No progress has been made in the kidnaping November 2-3, 1989 of U.S. citizen nun Diana Ortiz. A police investigation and official statements cast doubt on her claim of having been abducted from a religious retreat in Antigua (Sacatepequez) by security forces and tortured in a clandestine chamber. Soon after her escape, Ortiz left Guatemala. Despite many requests, Ortiz has not provided further information to Guatemalan or U.S. officials. The case remains open with lack of information from Ortiz hampering serious investigation. The U.S. government continues to press on all parties the importance of resolving this case.

The August 1985 disappearances of two Americans, Nicholas Blake and Griffith Davis, also remained unsolved. Officials in 1990, however, showed more willingness than previously to solve the case and gave improved cooperation to U.S. Government efforts. The U.S. government continued to insist that this important case needed to be solved.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

There were no verified reports of inhuman or cruel treatment of detainees in official custody. There were, however, credible reports of excessive force by police

Army, civil defense patrols, military commissioners, and police of persons in rural areas. Prison conditions were tough: Penal authorities were hampered by overcrowding and lack of funds and trained personnel.

There were credible reports of mistreatment and even torture leading to the deaths of persons detained extrajudicially. Persons who escaped from or were released by captors apparently linked to the security forces, related accounts of physical and mental abuse.

Many of the bodies found throughout Guatemala bear signs of torture or post mortem mutilation. Some human rights groups view signs of torture as prima facie evidence a crime is political in motive. That conclusion is not valid: Criminal gangs and others resolving personal vendettas often use torture.

One very disturbing development was credible information of severe mistreatment and even murder by policemen of street children. These homeless children often engage in prostitution and other crimes and frequently use dangerous inhalants, such as paint thinner and shoemakers' glue. Amnesty International issued a report in July discussing some of these abuses and reported threats against persons and groups working with street children. Police officials were working to resolve these cases and had undertaken several investigations. Four policemen were arrested in June for the murder of minor Nahamon Carmona. The US Government has been active for some time in pressing for an end to this particularly reprehensible abuse.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

An arrest warrant is needed when an accused is not caught committing a crime. According to the Constitution, police cannot hold a person for over six hours without bringing him to a judge. The law provides for bail, access to lawyers, and limits to 20 days the time anyone may be held for investigation, after which he must be charged or released. Authorities must produce detainees on request. Exile is not used.

Allegations of arbitrary arrest or detention by police, as distinct from other security forces, were infrequent. There were no verified cases of arrests of political opponents for their beliefs. While there was illegal incarcerations took place, there were credible reports of security force "safehouses" used to conduct brief illegal detentions, interrogations, and, at times, torture and murder. Writs of habeas corpus are, as expected, ignored by those conducting illegal arrests.

CERJ alleged an arbitrary arrest by police in July of Marcus Pu Percac near Santa Lucia de la Reforma (Totonicapan). Police officers, according to CERJ, threatened to label him a subversive unless paid a bribe. Pu was freed after apparently paying the solicited bribe. The story could not be confirmed. Also in July, a judge in Huehuetenango ordered the arrest of a civil defense patrol leader for the illegal detention of a minor. The judge reported death threats. There was no confirmation on the arrest.

On August 17, daily "El Grafico," owned by centrist UCN presidential candidate Jorge Carpio, reported UCN activist Maximiliano Vasquez was arrested by a military commissioner because of political activities. In a letter the next day, the Army spokesman denied the claim, stating Vasquez was arrested by police on criminal charges; a police source supported that version.

In September, CERJ denounced that 86 persons from in and around Amachel (Quiche) had been forcibly transported to and were being illegally held at a military installation in Nebaj (Quiche). The Ombudsman and the UN human rights expert traveled to Quiche to investigate this allegation. They could not confirm allegations of severe mistreatment nor did they find that the persons were being held at a military base. It was not clear, however, that those taken to Nebaj from highly conflictive Amachel had moved of their own free will.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

The Constitution calls for an independent judiciary made of a court of constitutionality, a supreme court, appeal courts, and several courts of special jurisdiction. Military courts have jurisdiction only over the Army, including military commissioners. Civilian trials are public; defendants have the right to be present and to legal representation. Convictions are automatically reviewed by an appeals court. There were no political prisoners. Despite reform efforts, however, the judiciary remained troubled, suffering corruption, low morale and poor pay.

In January, an appeals court reduced the sentences of those convicted of attempting the overthrow of the government in May 1989. All of the plotters went free in February, despite opposition from the Army command.

A U.S.-funded model court program run by Harvard University ended and was not renewed. Those running the program expressed frustration with the lack of will on the part of authorities to reform the nation's court system and to undertake prosecutions of human rights offenders. On the more positive side, the Congress began debate of a radical revision of the penal code which would modernize, speed up, and presumably make the justice system more responsive and accessible to the common person. The proposed new code, while welcome, would still face a Constitutional restriction on trying military in civilian courts, thereby limiting the ability of those courts to act against human rights abusers in uniform.

The U.S. Department of Justice, through its ICITAP program, trained police personnel--over six hundred since the start of the Cerezo Administration--in a range of modern criminal investigative techniques. Many of those trained, however, were subsequently not employed on the police or left out of frustration over an inability to use their skills. The new police director promised to make an effort to keep such trained personnel and to make use of their talents. As 1990 ended, he had made a start to this end.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

The Constitution provides for the inviolability of home, correspondence, and private documents. While this provision was usually respected, there were exceptions. Heavy-handed Army efforts to enforce the military draft law resulted in persons taken off the streets or in homes without a court order. Similar charges were made against military commissioners who sought to enforce the draft in rural areas. According to the press, for example, Armando Montoya of El Progreso (Jutiapa) stated that on September 2, military commissioners shot him in the course of efforts to draft him.

The Constitution requires self-defense organizations to be voluntary. The Human Rights Ombudsman, responding to a request from CERJ, found that while the decree

Constitutional, forced participation existed in violation of the decree and the Constitution. In March, the Chairmen of the Congressional Human Rights and the Defense Committees gave similar opinions. In most parts of the country, self-defense committees and patrols appear largely voluntary. As in past years, however, the degree of voluntarism in conflictive parts of Quiche and Huehuetenango is open to serious question; there are scattered reports of forced participation in small communities in Solola and Baja Verapaz Departments. The Army denies it pressures, threatens, or persecutes those who advocate against the committees or who refuse to join. There is, however, credible evidence that such persons suffered serious abuses, including murder (sec. 1.a).

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

The 30-year armed internal conflict continued. There were accusations of indiscriminate use of aircraft and artillery on civilian targets. The office of the Human Rights Ombudsman looked into reports of a major aerial attack on a small community in Quiche; a deputy ombudsman could find no evidence of bombing. Given the small, tightly controlled aerial and artillery assets, charges of "carpet" bombing, mass artillery barrages, and attacks by helicopter gunships are not credible.

The year began with increased guerrilla military activity, including attacks on the economic infrastructure, such as bridges, farms, roads, electrical pylons, road maintenance and telephone equipment, prompting the Human Rights Ombudsman to denounce the guerrillas as violators of human rights. In February, a guerrilla unit attacked an army patrol inside the town of Santa Maria de Jesus, 12 miles from the capital. The ensuing battle killed three small children. Persistent guerrilla efforts to cut major roads resulted in the deaths of civilians caught in the fire between guerrillas and security forces. There is reliable information indicating guerrillas targeted policemen for murder. During 1990, guerrillas briefly overran several communities and forced residents to gather for propaganda meetings. In May, guerrillas in Huehuetenango ambushed a civilian truck transporting sick and injured soldiers in civilian dress to hospital; eight were killed.

On August 31, guerrillas in the Peten overran and destroyed a medical-dental compound operated by a long-resident American missionary family, the Stoltzfuz. The compound was destroyed, medical supplies stolen, and the family held at gunpoint and threatened with death unless they left Guatemala. A press release from the guerrilla-controlled news agency CERIGUA claimed guerrillas carried out the attack in retaliation for the family's alleged support of the Army, i.e., the missionaries had treated seriously wounded soldiers. One of the Americans suffered further harassment apparently at the hands of guerrillas in the capital.

Despite promises not to interfere with elections, credible reports indicated guerrilla efforts to prevent people from taking part in political activity. Guerrillas also reportedly tried to prevent rural people from participating in Independence Day celebrations. Guerrillas used children as young as 13 years old in combat. They maintained tight control over several communities in northern Quiche, labeled CPRs (Communities of Resisting Populace), in which they used forced labor and obligated people to join guerrilla militia units.

There was little reliable information in 1990 on the fate of captured guerrillas. Information from other years, however, indicates such persons often faced torture and death. Some, however, did avail themselves of amnesty, cooperating with the Army, and received good treatment: One such prisoner was a 14-year-old guerrilla who had been recruited from a refugee camp in Mexico and turned himself over to the Army in March.

Informal talks aimed at ending the 30-year internal conflict were sponsored by the National Reconciliation Commission (CNR), created by the Esquipulas Accords. The first talks took place in March in Oslo between the CNR and representatives of the guerrilla umbrella organization, the URNG (Guatemalan National Revolutionary Unity) which consists of three guerrilla movements and a faction of the illegal Communist party (PGT). The next talks were in Madrid in May between the URNG and representatives of Guatemala's legal political parties. The major private sector organization, CACIF, met the URNG in Ottawa at the end of August. Church leaders held talks with the URNG in Quito in late September with "popular associations" scheduled to meet the URNG in Mexico October/November. The talks are to culminate in a meeting between government representatives and the URNG. These talks are the most could end in coming months. The war continues to serve as the principal justification for the serious human rights abuses suffered in Guatemala.

SECTION 2

RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

The Constitution provides for freedom of expression; there were no signs of officially ordered or sanctioned efforts to restrict it. Vocal critics of the government, particularly in this election year, had widespread media access. In 1990, a new daily, "Siglo XXI," appeared and took a line generally critical of the government. The other three major papers were also critical of the government, one openly favored an opposition presidential candidate: its owner. Highly critical press releases, paid advertisements, and other pronouncements by political parties, private sector groups, labor unions, human rights organizations, guerrilla groups, and guerrilla-fronts such as CPR and CERIGUA (see sec 1. g) ran without official interference. Foreign films, t.v. programs, books, magazines, and newspapers were available, limited by cost and hard currency concerns.

There continued to be "self-censorship" on certain topics. Journalists abandoned some themes or watered down conclusions rather than test the limits of tolerance of certain groups, particularly in the security forces. There was no press discussion, for example, of corruption in the Army, although civilian corruption was an electoral issue. There was, nevertheless, thorough coverage given charges by the U.S. Embassy that an active-duty military advisor to President Cerezo, the head of a now defunct Presidential anti-corruption unit, was involved in drug trafficking. The press, however, ran no independent investigation.

BB. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

The Constitution recognizes the right of peaceful assembly and association. Parades, rallies, marches, forums, public debates, and seminars took place openly and freely throughout 1990. Political parties registered large numbers of candidates and members. Organizations need legal association status, a organizations without good funding or legal expertise. As the year ended, fore example, CERJ efforts to become a registered organization had still not prospered after 18 months. The lack of legal association status, however, did not prevent a large number of associations, including CERJ and others with international ties, from operating and holding authorized rallies and marches.

Some human rights groups, such as GAM, CONAVIGUA, and possibly CERJ, showed a willingness to engage in civil disobedience and illegal and even violent actions. In May, the GAM, protesting the disappearance of Solis Pajarito, illegally occupied for several days the offices of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC). GAM also threatened to occupy the offices of the Human Rights Ombudsman but was dissuaded by a warning from the Ombudsman that he would not tolerate illegal activities on the office's property. GAM was also involved in the occupation of the CAVISA bottling plant (see sec 6). Brigadas de GAM personnel exchanged rocks with civil defense patrol members in a village near Chichicastenango (Quiche). GAM had sought to march in protest over allegedly obligatory patrol membership. The march turned violent when, according to the GAM and other witnesses, patrol members began pelting the marchers with rocks; other eyewitness accounts, however, have the first rocks thrown by the marchers. GAM and CONAVIGUA organized a demonstration in June in Pacoc (Quiche) which turned violent when, according to a reliable eyewitness, the demonstrators pelted two local policemen with rocks. Some demonstrators later claimed there had been an attempt to kidnap them--there was no evidence of such an attempt. Persons claiming to belong to CERJ and boasting of the protection afforded them by their international ties were reliably reported by an eyewitness to have engaged in public threats against officials in Zacualpa (Quiche).

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

There is no state religion. Religious freedom is guaranteed in the Constitution and respected in practice. While 70 percent of the populace is nominally Roman Catholic, many Indians mix traditional and Catholic beliefs. A large number of other faiths work freely in Guatemala: Over 25 percent of the population adheres to a variety of Protestant denominations, many with international ties. As a rule, foreign priests and missionaries worked without official interference. Guatemala has Mormon, Jewish, Baha'i, Buddhist, Jehova Witness, and Islamic communities.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, REPATRIATION

The government did not restrict foreign travel; critics traveled abroad freely and returned. Government does not revoke citizenship for political reasons. Movement within Guatemala was generally unhindered except in conflictive areas. Guerrillas of the EGP (Guerrilla Army of the Poor) continued to maintain tight control over several villages in northern Quiche and severely restricted the travel of residents with threats of violence and generous use of land mines. Some persons in civil defense patrols claimed their freedom to travel from their villages, particularly during the sugar harvest on the coast where many work, is restricted by patrol leaders who demand payments for the days an individual will miss patrol duties.

Guatemala remained a refuge for thousands of Central Americans. Repatriation of refugees from Mexico continued during 1990. Many of the estimated 40,000 refugees still in UN camps in Mexico waited to see the outcome of elections in Guatemala; others had clearly established roots in Mexico and will probably not return. The government welcomed the return of the refugees and efforts were made to settle them quickly. There were credible reports of guerrilla efforts to dissuade refugees from returning to certain areas.

RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

Guatemalans have the right to change government by peaceful and democratic means. There is universal suffrage via secret ballot; voting age is 18. There are no property or literacy requirements. National elections were held November 11 with the participation of 20 registered political parties, and numerous presidential, congressional, and municipal candidates. A run-off election between the top two presidential candidates took place January 6 with a peaceful transfer of power to another civilian government on January 14. Candidate debates and Congressional sessions were widely covered by the local media. Candidates had access to media, and held rallies and other public events without official hindrance.

During the meeting in Madrid in May between guerrilla representatives and those of the legal political parties, both sides agreed to initiate significant Constitutional changes in 1991 which would, among other changes, enable guerrillas to run for office.

SECTION 4

GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

The Government did not hinder international human rights groups visiting and working in Guatemala. Senior officials met representatives of these groups, including AW, WOLA, AI, and a group looking into the alleged abduction of American citizen Diana Ortiz (sec 1.b). UN and OAS representatives also visited. Some foreign human rights-related groups--Brigadas de GAM, Peace Brigades International, and Witnesses for Peace--set up permanent presence without official interference. The Government, however, proved sensitive to outside criticism of its human rights record, labeling it as political. President Cerezo stated U.S. Government criticism was driven by a desire "to pay back" Guatemala for its foreign policy independence. Guatemala's human rights record came under criticism at the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, although an effort to reestablish a Human Rights Rapporteur for Guatemala did not prosper. The UN debate drew considerable public, press, and official attention.

The Constitutionally created Human Rights Ombudsman office increased its activities under its new head, Ramiro de Leon Carpio. The office established an investigations unit and undertook energetic education campaigns among the public and the security forces. The office issued strong statements critical of the government and the security forces and reported it had information which indicated a possible involvement by military in murder of U.S. citizen Michael Devine (sec. 1. a). Deputy Ombudsman Alvarez Guadamuz risked his life in March to save CERJ leader Amilcar Mendez from an attack by civil patrolmen in Parraxtut; Alvarez and Mendez were escorting returning families who fled Parraxtut in the wake of the Mejia killing (sec 1.a) when they were set upon. Mendez managed to flee but Alvarez was held and threatened with death. Some days later the patrol members apologized to Alvarez; no criminal charges were filed against the attackers. The families resumed living in Parraxtut, but reportedly not long-awaited report on the 1988 El Aguacate massacre; the Ombudsman could reach no conclusion among much conflicting evidence.

Local human rights organizations remained highly politicized. The President's Advisory Commission on Human Rights, engaged in little activity and seemed more interested in efforts to defend the official record at the UN than in carrying out work in Guatemala. Local nongovernmental human rights organizations, such as GAM, CONAVIGUA, CODEP, CIEPRODH, CERJ, were generally not good sources of objective information and did not have a great deal of credibility in Guatemala.

SECTION 5

DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

According to official statistics, about half of the population was culturally indigenous with the rest ladino. Although having equal legal rights, indigenous people remained outside the national culture, language, and economy. Indigenous males continued to be much more likely than urban ladinos to be drafted into the Army or forcibly recruited into guerrilla groups. Indigenous people suffered most of the combat casualties and major rights abuses (sec. 1. a and b). Both the Army and the guerrillas fielded largely indigenous armies, usually led by ladinos. There were, however, a few indigenous serving as Army officers and in Congress. There is much social discrimination by Ladinos (Westernized Guatemalans) against the indigenous people.

Women were very active in the nation's work force, particularly in the growing textile industry and in the low-end of the retail business. Many women held prominent political posts during the Cerezo administration. Despite legal protection, women faced discrimination in the job market. Jobs were often advertised on the basis of sex, with women generally selected for lower paying ones. No national organizations were devoted to women's issues. One presidential candidate, Rene de Leon, selected a woman as vice-presidential candidate and another, Alfonso Cabrera, made "women's issues" a campaign theme.

Violence against women, such as domestic violence, remained frequent but generally received little violence often went unreported by victims and did not receive a high priority from police.

SECTION 6

WORKER RIGHTS

A. RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

Workers have the right to join or form unions. The law regulating free trade zones stipulates that all labor regulations apply. About 8 percent of the work force was in unions; much of the public sector, however, was unionized. Most union organizing since the enactment of the Constitution has been in the public sector. The Civil Code requires all organizations to fulfill stringent requirements in order to obtain legal status, which contributes to the small percentage of unionized workers. While statutes set a limit of a few days for processing of applications, delays of months or years are not unusual. There were several proposals for reforming the registration process. ILO experts helped write a draft labor code that limits officials to certifying workers joined of their own will. The proposal remained in Congress. Despite hurdles, 29 legal unions were formed in 1990 with 14 more approved and awaiting official notification. There was a Solidarismo movement which critics labeled an employer-inspired rival to genuine unions. The Labor Ministry did not register Solidarismo organizations.

Union leaders must show they have no criminal record, work at the company being unionized, and can read. They may serve only one term, but by rotating offices the same persons stay on the board of directors. Leaders remained as long as they had grass roots support. Legal restrictions on political activity by union leaders were not enforced; several were candidates for Congress and actively took part in electioneering. Unions are required to have a minimum of 20 members, but a craft union of skilled workers from several companies is permitted. The Social Democratic Confederation, CUSG, formed such a union among municipal workers. It had been common for employers to form several entities of less than 20 workers, in the hope workers would have no possibility of unionizing. In a victory for unions, a court ruled in 1990 that an economic unit, Laboratorios Bonin in this case, must be treated as a whole. The ruling was under appeal.

The Constitution provides for the right to strike, but procedures for a legal strike are cumbersome. Most simply occur without permission and, in practice, the Ministry of Labor makes no effort to determine the legality. The first legal strikes in memory occurred in 1990--all three involved small numbers of workers. A dissident group of former union leaders was able to obtain a strike vote by workers in the social security system, but at year's end the counting of ballots was in suspense. A major strike involved the occupation of the CAVISA glass factory, supposedly over the issue of job stability. Management refused to bargain until workers withdrew from the factory. After five months of legal wrangles, courts ordered police to remove the workers, some of whom were armed. Management estimated USD 6 million in damages through neglect and pilferage; the factory did not re-open. The CAVISA union was dissolved through the court order.

Unions may form federations and confederations and may join international bodies. The social democratic confederation, CUSG, is a participant in ORIT and through the regional body with the ICFTU; the Social Christian Confederation, CGTG, is active in CLAT, the regional affiliate of the World Confederation of Labor. No union openly maintained relations with the Communist WFTU, but some labor leaders in exile, who claim to lead unions, represented them in WFTU activities.

B. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

Largely discredited labor courts were responsible for enforcing laws prohibiting anti-union discrimination. An example of court ineffectiveness was the 1988 decision that Textiles Francisco Capuano y Hijos rehire 60 workers and pay back wages. Two years later, the courts were still debating the company's appeal of the 1,000 Quetzal (170 USD) fine for disobeying the order. Thirty-six workers remained unemployed; the rest took other jobs, losing re-employment rights. Another case involved the El Pilar Sugar Mill. Workers were fired after requesting a court injunction to enable them to form a union. One worker, Juan Tarach, was killed in a car accident and management took no action to allay suspicion violence was imminent. Eventually, all but two workers withdrew their legal claims. When an apparent attempt by unknown persons was made to kill the two hold-outs, they obtained asylum in Canada.

The Ministry of Labor reached a collective bargaining agreement with its union, the first among civil servants. The conflictive, semi-autonomous electrical union, STINDE, signed an agreement with management. The government, in an electoral move, tried to force collective bargaining on the private sector through provisions in an incentive pay law and proposed legislation on salary policy; both met strong opposition.

The Guatemalan labor code gives primacy to the protection of individual workers over collective rights; these provisions exceed international standards and U.S. law. Salaries are set primarily through individual negotiations or minimum wages. Labor Inspectors report to Labor Courts.

Although several national and international groups, including the ICFTU, claim trade unionists have been "particular targets of death squads," there is no convincing evidence of a systematic attack on unionists by officials or persons connected with the security forces. Labor violence generally involved "thugs" employed on an ad hoc basis. Without doubt, some threats to unionists resulted from information obtained by security forces on allegedly subversive activities and passed to employers or acted upon by persons in the security forces. Union activities, per se, were not considered "subversive."

C. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

The Constitution prohibits forced labor and it generally did not exist. There were allegations Civil Defense Patrols violate the Convention on Forced Labor. Credible isolated reports existed of unpaid patrolmen used for road work, building barracks, or cutting firewood. No systematic pattern has been established.

D. MINIMUM AGE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

The Constitution bars employment of children under 14. In the industrial sector, where labor codes were relatively easy to enforce, child labor did not seem frequent. In the informal and agricultural sectors, however, child labor is common. It is not unusual to see children helping run small family businesses—e.g., road-side stands—begging, and washing or guarding cars. A local organization, Casa Alianza, estimates prostitution and petty crime. In rural areas, whole families worked. The Labor Minister reconginzed the difficulty in applying child labor laws when poor families need all members to feed all mouths.

On the positive side, school enrolment, an indicator of children not working, rose. In 1985, 1.016 million were in school; by 1988, 1.139 million; rural areas rose from 571,000 to 641,000.

E. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

The work day is legally eight hours, the work week 44, but a tradition of long work days has not disappeared. Third-country owners of textile plants reportedly offered minimum wages for a twelve-hour day, violating both the Constitution and labor code. The Ministry of Labor had complaints of beatings and firings of textile employees thought to be doing less than their expected workload. Labor Inspectors were not very diligent in enforcing the eight-hour day, in part because textile plants close when they find conditions more attractive elsewhere. Legislation provided for a variety of minimum wages, all of which were inadequate in the inflationary economy of 1990. Traditional landowners filed legal challenges to an official decree raising rural wages from 0.70 USD to 1.70 USD per day. Two-year-old minimum wages in other sectors were only slightly higher, few were raised.

TAGS: PREL, UR, PM, ES, US, CU, EWWT, EAIR, XX
SUBJECT: BURLIAY IN PANAMA: GIVE CUBA A BREAK

REF: SAN JOSE 10268

1. (C) BEGIN SUMMARY: SOVIET MFA OFFICIAL YAN BURLIAY MADE A BRIEF VISIT TO PANAMA FROM AUGUST 29-30. HE MET WITH NO GOP OFFICIALS, BUT HIS PUBLIC EFFORTS TO DEFEND CUBA AND SOME RATHER INSULTING COMMENTS ON PANAMA DID NOT GO UNNOTICED. THE PANAMANIANS APPEAR TO CONSIDER THE BURLIAY TRIP AN ANOMALY, AS THE SOVIETS OTHERWISE CONTINUE INTERESTED IN DIPLOMATIC AND ECONOMIC/COMMERCIAL RELATIONS. THEY APPEAR LIKELY TO OBTAIN A LONG-SOUGHT MOSCOW-PANAMA ROUTE FOR AEROFLOT AND ARE ALSO LOOKING FOR SERVICING FACILITIES FOR THEIR FISHING FLEET. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTRY OFFICIAL YAN BURLIAY, DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF THE LATIN AMERICA DIVISION, MADE A FLYING VISIT TO PANAMA AUGUST 29-30 AS PART OF HIS REGIONAL TOUR. ALTHOUGH BURLIAY DID NOT MEET WITH ANY GOP OFFICIALS, HE DID TAKE ADVANTAGE OF PRESS INTEREST TO PUSH FOR THE "NORMALIZATION" OF RELATIONS BETWEEN PANAMA AND CUBA. ON THE OTHER HAND, HE WAS COY ON THE SUBJECT OF DIPLOMATIC TIES BETWEEN THE SOVIET UNION AND PANAMA, SUGGESTING THEY WOULD HAVE TO AWAIT THE "NORMALIZATION" OF PANAMA'S INTERNAL AFFAIRS AND OF ITS RELATIONS WITH OTHER, UNSPECIFIED LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES.

3. (U) BURLIAY SAID THE USSR IS INTERESTED IN ESTABLISHING DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH ALL THE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES (HE PREDICTED A "PROMPT" RESUMPTION OF TIES WITH GUATEMALA) AND ATTRIBUTED HIS COUNTRY'S INCREASED INTEREST IN THE REGION TO THE EFFECTS OF "PERESTROIKA." HIS ASSESSMENTS OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PANORAMA WERE GENERALLY UPBEAT, BUT HE WAS CRITICAL OF U.S. POLICY. HE CHIDED THE UNITED STATES FOR ITS FAILURE TO TAKE "FURTHER STEPS" IN EL SALVADOR TO FACILITATE A RESOLUTION OF THAT COUNTRY'S DOMESTIC CONFLICT, ONE OF WHICH, HE PROPOSED, SHOULD BE A SUSPENSION OF U.S. ARMS SHIPMENTS TO GOVERNMENT FORCES.

4. (U) THE UNITED STATES WAS ALSO URGED TO IMPROVE ITS RELATIONS WITH CUBA AND ACCUSED OF VIRTUALLY FORCING THE LATTER TO BEHAVE LIKE A "FORTRESS UNDER SIEGE" THROUGH ITS OWN "COLD-WAR" ATTITUDE. IF BURLIAY'S AUDIENCE HAD FAILED TO NOTE HIS ROLE AS A SHILL FOR CUBA, HE ASSISTED THEM BY ADMITTING THAT HE WAS ATTEMPTING TO FORGE A ROLE FOR THAT COUNTRY IN CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS IN HIS TALKS WITH REGIONAL OFFICIALS AND THE UN SECRETARY GENERAL. WHAT WAS GOOD ENOUGH FOR ANGOLA, HE SUGGESTED, IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR CENTRAL AMERICA.

5. (C) [redacted] TOLD POLOFF THEY HAD BEEN UNAWARE THAT BURLIAY WAS IN TOWN. TO THE BEST OF THEIR KNOWLEDGE, HE HAD MET WITH NO ONE FROM THE GOP, CERTAINLY NOT WITH ANYONE FROM THE MFA. [redacted] HAD SEEN THE PRESS COVERAGE OF THE VISIT AND CONSIDERED BURLIAY'S EFFORTS ON CUBA'S BEHALF, AS WELL AS HIS COMMENTS ON PANAMA, TO BE IN DECIDEDLY POOR TASTE. SHE ALSO FOUND THE VISIT PUZZLING, AS BURLIAY'S COMMENTS WERE A DEPARTURE FROM THE SOVIET POSTURE HERETOFORE REGARDING BILATERAL RELATIONS. SHE SAID THE SOVIETS HAVE EXPRESSED A DEFINITE INTEREST IN ESTABLISHING DIPLOMATIC TIES AND HAVE NOT PREVIOUSLY ATTEMPTED TO LINK THE MOVE TO THE GOP'S RELATIONS WITH OTHER COUNTRIES OR ITS LEGITIMACY.

6. (C) [redacted] SAID THAT FM JULIO LINARES IS FAVORABLY DISPOSED TO THE IDEA OF FORMAL DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THE USSR. HOWEVER, [redacted] ASSESSED THE CHANCES OF SUCH A MOVE BEFORE THE END OF THE YEAR AS REMOTE. THERE IS, HE SAID, CONSIDERABLE OPPOSITION TO THE IDEA FROM WITHIN BOTH [redacted] WHEN PRESSED, HE IDENTIFIED THE OPPOSITION AS COMING PRIMARILY FROM THE [redacted] HE WAS UNABLE TO EXPLAIN THE OPPOSITION, DESCRIBING IT ONLY AS "REACTIONARY." [redacted] FELT THAT CONSULAR RELATIONS COULD BE ESTABLISHED WITHIN THE NEAR FUTURE AND WAS CONFIDENT THAT ECONOMIC AND COMMERCIAL RELATIONS WOULD BE ACTIVELY FOSTERED. HE SAID THAT PANAMA HAS BENEFITED CONSIDERABLY FROM COMMERCIAL AGREEMENTS WITH EASTERN EUROPE AND SEES TRADE WITH THE SOVIET UNION AS POTENTIALLY LUCRATIVE.

7. (C) [redacted] ALSO CONFIRMED A REPORT FROM PANAMANIAN AVIATION OFFICIALS THAT THE USSR HAS APPLIED FOR A REGULAR DIRECT AEROFLOT ROUTE, CONFIRMED THE SOVIETS' INTEREST IN THE AIR ROUTE AND ADDED THAT THEY ARE ALSO SEEKING FACILITIES IN PANAMA TO SERVICE THEIR SIZEABLE FISHING FLEET THAT WORKS HEMISPHERIC WATERS. DID NOT INDICATE WHAT KIND OF RECEPTION THE LATTER REQUEST IS GETTING IN THE GOP, AND KNEW NOTHING OF THE MATTER.

8. (C) COMMENT: BURLIAY ENJOYED SOME USEFUL MEDIA COVERAGE, BUT HIS ROLE AS FRONT-MAN FOR THE CUBANS WON HIM NO POPULARITY. THE SOVIETS MAY BE TRYING TO EASE THE CUBANS OFF THEIR BACKS BY PROMOTING CUBA'S ACCEPTANCE INTO THE LATIN AMERICAN POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC COMMUNITY, BUT, WHATEVER THE MOTIVE, BURLIAY'S PROMOTION OF CUBAN INTERESTS IN PANAMA WAS POORLY CALCULATED. IT DID NOTHING TO IMPROVE CUBAN-PANAMANIAN RELATIONS, AND LEFT THE SOVIETS LOOKING EITHER FOOLISH AND INSENSITIVE, OR SIMPLY UNTRUSTWORTHY. AS SUGGESTED BY HOWEVER, THE PANAMANIANS TEND TO TAKE A PRACTICAL APPROACH IN THESE AFFAIRS. THEY WILL PROBABLY BE CONTENT TO PROFIT FROM COMMERCIAL RELATIONS WITH THE USSR, WITH OR WITHOUT THE DIPLOMATIC TIES.

FAMILY MEMBERS HELD AT THE COMPOUND WERE THREATENED OR HARMED. THEY LEFT FOR A NEARBY ARMY BASE THE NEXT MORNING WHERE THEY RECEIVED ASSISTANCE. VIRGIL WAS HELD THROUGH THE DAY OF SEPT.2 AND RELEASED THAT EVENING.

4. ON THE MORNING OF SEPTEMBER 4, THE STOLTZFUS FAMILY WAS BROUGHT TO GUATEMALA CITY BY ARMY PLANE FROM FLORES. THEY CAME IMMEDIATELY TO THE EMBASSY TO REPORT THE INCIDENT TO EMBOFFS. THEY STATED THAT THEIR LOSSES FROM THE ATTACK EXCEED U.S.DOLLARS 300,000, INCLUDING THEIR PERSONEL EFFECTS, HAM RADIO, AIRPLANE AND MEDICAL AND DENTAL EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES. THEY HAVE LIVED AT THE NEW LIFE MISSION FOR 18 YEARS AND WERE ABLE TO SAVE ONLY A SMALL AMOUNT OF CLOTHING AND LIMITED FUNDS. THEY PLAN TO TRAVEL TO HOUSTON, TEXAS, WHERE SEVERAL SPONSORING CHURCHES WHICH HAVE OFFERED EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE ARE LOCATED. THE FAMILY PLANS TO RETURN TO THE PETEN AND RE-BUILD THEIR MISSION, IF POSSIBLE.

5. THEY STATED THAT SEVERAL OTHER GUERILLA ATTACKS OCCURED AT THE SAME TIME NEARBY AND BELIEVED THAT THE ATTACK WAS PART OF A CONCERTED OFFENSIVE. VIRGIL WAS

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: MOD COL. RENE EMILIO PONCE TOLD DAS KOZAK AND DAS SULLIVAN SEPTEMBER 7 THAT THE ESAF WAS AWARE OF THE DAMAGE THE JESUIT CASE HAD DONE TO THE INSTITUTION, AND DISCUSSED SEVERAL MEASURES UNDERTAKEN BY THE GOES TO SUPPORT THE JUDGE'S INVESTIGATION OF THE CRIME. PONCE INDICATED ESAF MORALE WAS MARGINALLY AFFECTED BY THE GOES-FMLN DIALOGUE, BUT ADDED THAT THE GOES HAD ADOPTED A FOUR-PRONGED STRATEGY TO ENHANCE BOTH INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL UNDERSTANDING OF THE GOES POSITION ON THE TALKS. AS THE MEETING CLOSED, PONCE REITERATED AGAIN THAT THE ESAF UNDERSTOOD THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE JESUIT CASE, AND SAID HE HOPED PROGRESS COULD BE MADE. END SUMMARY.

3. ARA PRINCIPAL DAS MICHAEL KOZAK, DAS FOR CENTRAL AMERICAN AFFAIRS JOSEPH SULLIVAN, THE AMBASSADOR ACCOMPANIED BY EMBOFFS AND DATT CALLED ON MINISTER OF DEFENSE (MOD) PONCE ON SEPTEMBER 7, 1990. PONCE OPENED THE SESSION BY NOTING HE HAD JUST FINISHED MEETING WITH UN UNDERSECRETARY GOULDING TO DISCUSS THE MECHANICS OF A CEASE FIRE AND REVIEW PRELIMINARY GOES PROPOSALS. GOULDING, ACCORDING TO PONCE, WAS FAVORABLY IMPRESSED AND HAD AGREED TO A SECOND MEETING AFTER THE CEASE FIRE PLANS HAD BEEN MORE FULLY DEVELOPED.

4. AFTER CONGRATULATING PONCE ON HIS NEW POSITION, KOZAK NOTED THAT THE GOES WAS WINNING POINTS FOR ITS REASONABLE POSITIONS IN THE DIALOGUE WITH THE FMLN, BUT ADDED THAT THIS PROGRESS WAS OVERSHADOWED BY PERCEIVED ESAF COVER UP ON THE NOVEMBER 16, 1989 MURDER OF SIX JESUITS. KOZAK URGED PONCE TO TAKE A MORE ACTIVE ROLE IN BRINGING THE TRUTH TO LIGHT, NOTING THAT MERE RESPONSIVENESS TO JUDICIAL REQUESTS WAS NOT ENOUGH.

5. PONCE RESPONDED THAT THE CASE HAD BEEN DISCUSSED AT LENGTH WITHIN THE ESAF, AND THE MILITARY WAS WELL

SAN SA 12218 00 OF 02 150238Z 027244 989151

AWARE OF THE DAMAGE IT HAD CAUSED. AS MINISTER, HE CONTINUED, HE WANTED THE MILITARY TO BE ENERGETIC IN DEALING WITH THOSE WHO HAD STAINED THE HONOR OF THE INSTITUTION. HE STATED THAT MILITARY COOPERATION WITH THE JUDGE HAD IMPROVED, CITING THE DIRECT PHONE LINE BETWEEN HIS OFFICE AND THAT OF THE FOURTH PENAL COURT. THE JUDGE , PONCE CONTINUED, HAD FINALLY CALLED IN THOSE OFFICERS WHO ATTENDED THE NOVEMBER 15, 1989 MEETING -- VMOD COL. ZEPEDA WOULD BE THE FIRST TO PERSONALLY APPEAR ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI ALSO PLANNED TO TESTIFY PERSONALLY, PONCE INDICATED. SUCH PERSONAL APPEARANCES BY HIGH RANKING OFFICIALS, HE CONCLUDED HOPEFULLY, COULD HELP END SPECULATION ON HIGHER LEVEL MILITARY INVOLVEMENT IN THE KILLINGS.

6. KOZAK RESPONDED THAT IT WAS ALSO IMPORTANT THAT THE ARMED FORCES TAKE INTERNAL MEASURES TO HELP IDENTIFY GUILTY PARTIES TO ERASE A PREVALENT PERCEPTION THAT THE ARMED FORCES WAS RELUCTANTLY COOPERATING WITH THE INVESTIGATION. SULLIVAN ADDED THAT HIS EXPERIENCE DURING RECENT NEGOTIATIONS WITH CONGRESS ON ASSISTANCE FOR EL SALVADOR INDICATED THAT THE USG AND GOES FACED SERIOUS PROBLEMS AS LONG AS QUESTIONS ABOUT THE CASE REMAINED UNANSWERED. CONTRADICTIONS IN TESTIMONY, DISAPPEARING LOGBOOKS AND OTHER INDICATIONS OF EFFORTS TO COVER UP THE CRIME OVERSHADOWED ANY PROGRESS ON OTHER FRONTS BY THE GOES, INCLUDING THE PEACE PROCESS.

7. TURNING TO THE FMLN-GOES DIALOGUE, PONCE CONCEDED THAT THE PROCESS WAS AFFECTING ESAF MORALE, BUT ADDED THAT THE GOES HAD ESTABLISHED A FOUR-PRONGED PROGRAM TO STRENGTHEN THE GOES POSITION IN THE PROCESS. THE STRATEGY INCLUDED:

--TRAVEL BY CABINET-LEVEL OFFICIALS TO BRIEF THE LEADERS OF KEY COUNTRIES INCLUDING THE US, COLOMBIA, MEXICO, AND SELECTED EUROPEAN COUNTRIES COMBINED WITH BETTER PREPARATION IN SAN JOSE (THE SITE OF THE NEXT TALKS) PRIOR TO THE COMMENCEMENT OF THE ROUND -- GOES TEAM LEADER OSCAR SANTAMARIA WOULD LEAVE EARLY NEXT WEEK TO MAKE CONTACTS WITH DIPLOMATS, GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, AND JOURNALISTS.

--EFFORTS TO ENCOURAGE GREATER INTERNAL SUPPORT FOR THE PROCESS, INCLUDING TRYING TO PRESS THE INTER-PARTY COMMISSION TO REACH CONSENSUS ACCORDS.

--A PREEMPTIVE MILITARY STRATEGY THAT INCLUDED EXPANDED OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS TO TRY TO PREVENT THE FMLN FROM FULLY PREPARING FOR ITS OFT-THREATENED SECOND OFFENSIVE.

--AN INTERNAL PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN TO STRENGTHEN SUPPORT FOR THE PROCESS AND INFORM SALVADORANS ON ACCORDS ALREADY REACHED (I.E. ON HUMAN RIGHTS).

THE GOES, PONCE CONTINUED, HAD CLEARLY DEMONSTRATED ITS COMMITMENT TO SERIOUSLY CONTRIBUTE TO THE PEACE PROCESS, AND THIS SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED. WE ARE SICK OF WAR, PONCE SAID, AND THE PEOPLE OF EL SALVADOR ARE EVEN MORE SO.

8. KOZAK AGREED, NOTING THE GOES ATTITUDE CONTRASTED WITH THAT OF THE FMLN. EVEN FMLN PROPAGANDA, READ BY IMPARTIAL OBSERVERS, DEMONSTRATED THE WEAKNESS OF THE GUERRILLAS' POSITION. UNFORTUNATELY, FMLN PROPAGANDA

WAS OFTEN THE ONLY VERSION OF EVENTS IN THE PUBLIC DOMAIN -- THE GOES SHOULD CONSIDER MEASURES TO ENSURE ITS MESSAGE WAS HEARD. FOR EXAMPLE BY TAKING THE INITIATIVE TO PUBLICIZE PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS. PONCE RESPONDED THAT THE ARCHBISHOP HAD COMMENTED THAT OVER THE COURSE OF A RECENT WEEK HIS HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE HAD NOT RECEIVED A SINGLE COMPLAINT AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT. KOJAK REPLIED THAT HE WAS PLEASED THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION WAS IMPROVING, AND PLEASED THAT THE ARCHBISHOP HAD RECOGNIZED IT. THIS WAS THE KIND OF POSITIVE DEVELOPMENT WHICH HAD TO BE ENCOURAGED.

3. COMMENT: AS THE PARTY PREPARED TO LEAVE, PONCE STATED AGAIN -- WITH MORE CONVICTION -- THAT HE UNDERSTOOD THE SERIOUSNESSS OF THE JESUIT CASE, AND HOPED SOMETHING COULD BE DONE ABOUT IT. THIS WAS THE ONLY TIME HE DEPARTED FROM THE SCRIPT WE HAVE HEARD SEVERAL TIMES BEFORE.

Significance of Meeting

-- You have not yet met Aylwin, but you called him on December 14, 1989, to congratulate him on winning the election. The Chileans will view this meeting as an important sign of U.S. support for Chile's first democratic government in nearly seventeen years.

Domestic Situation

-- Aylwin was inaugurated on March 11, 1990, and will serve a four-year term. He has proved to be a very effective leader of a moderate center-left coalition government during his first six months in office.

-- Aylwin's conciliatory approach to the military has led to relatively smooth civil-military relations during the democratic transition, even though General Pinochet remains Commander-in-Chief of the Army and has a penchant for imprudent remarks in public.

-- Aylwin appointed a Commission on Truth and Reconciliation to investigate the most serious human rights abuse cases and to recommend appropriate non-monetary compensation to victims and their families.

-- The present government enjoys broad support at home and abroad for its decision to continue with the free-trade, open-market economic model embraced by the previous regime.

Enterprise for the Americas Initiative

-- Chile, a strong advocate of free-trade principles, was one of the first countries to respond enthusiastically to the ideas expressed in your June 27 speech.

-- USTR and the GOC are now negotiating a bilateral framework agreement covering trade and investment. While the GOC is eager to move quickly on to a free trade agreement with us, an Free Trade Agreement with Mexico has first priority.

UNCLASSIFIED

Chile and the International Community

-- After many years of isolation, the GOC is committed to Chile's reintegration into the international arena. It has joined the Group of Eight and seeks expanded relations with the Pacific Basin regional organizations.

-- Chile has reestablished relations with Mexico, Nicaragua, most of the Eastern European countries, and the Soviet Union, but not with Cuba due to Cuba's role in Chile during 1970-73 when a Marxist government was in power.

Iraq

-- In support of UN Security Council resolutions 661 and 662, the GOC has announced a ban on arms sales to Iraq and Kuwait. Chile is in strict compliance with all sanctions.

-- Chilean arms manufacturer Carlos Cardoen sold cluster bombs to Iraq during the Iran war. He still operates a plant in Iraq that allegedly makes fuses used on bombs and rockets. The Iraqis will not allow seven Chilean engineers to leave until the terms of the Cardoen-GOI contract are met.

Kennedy-Harkin Amendment Sanctions (Letelier Case)

-- The amendment imposes an embargo on arms sales and other security assistance. It requires the GOC to take "appropriate steps" to bring to justice those responsible for the 1976 assassination in Washington of former Chilean official Ambassador Orlando Letelier and American citizen Ronni Moffitt.

-- On the criminal side, the USG awaits passage of a bill that shifts the case from military to civilian courts, followed by the appointment of a special investigating judge. On the civil side, it awaits ratification of the June 11, 1990 bilateral agreement creating an international commission to determine monetary compensation to the Letelier and Moffitt families.

Trade Issues

-- GSP/OPIC Benefits: Benefits were suspended in 1987 on grounds of worker rights abuses. A much improved climate for workers prevails under the new government. Linking IPR to this issue, USTR wants pharmaceutical patent protection legislation passed before restoring benefits.

-- Compensation for Grape Losses: Chilean fruit exporters sustained losses in 1989 as a result of a temporary FDA embargo on grape imports when several poisoned grapes were discovered in a shipment from Chile. At that time several threats to poison fruit shipments to the U.S. had been received by the U.S. Embassy in Chile. This has been a very sore point ever since. They are now talking about seeking compensation from the USG.

-- Marketing Orders: U.S. quality standards that must be met by certain agricultural products already apply to grapes (a major Chilean export to the U.S.). The farm bill now in Congress would extend these orders to several other fruits that Chile exports. Chilean exporters object strenuously to this legislation.

PRESIDENT'S MEETING WITH CHILEAN PRESIDENT PATRICIO AYLWIN POINTS TO BE MADE

Bilateral Relations

-- We applaud Chile's peaceful transition back to its democratic traditions. I congratulate you on the important role you have played and will continue to play in the process.

-- The USG wishes to cooperate with Chile on many fronts. We seek a resolution to those issues which have caused strains between our two governments, specifically restoration of GSP and OPIC benefits and removal of the Kennedy-Harkin sanctions.

-- GSP and OPIC benefits can be restored once the USG determination is made that Chile meets the worker rights requirement under GSP law and the Chilean Congress passes patent protection legislation.

Enterprise for the Americas Initiative

-- We welcome the signing of a bilateral framework agreement on trade and investment. This will provide a constructive forum for future discussions.

-- We are eager to bring the Uruguay Round to a successful conclusion in December and strongly encourage GOC efforts to help make that happen.

-- Chile is seen throughout Latin America as a model of responsible, creative debt management and sound economic policies. I encourage you to continue those policies as they will assure even more foreign investment in the Chilean economy.

-- (Only if asked) We appreciate Chile's interest in pursuing a bilateral FTA with the U.S. However, we are committed to working out an FTA with Mexico first and expect that process to take at least a year.

Iraq

-- It is important for all countries to support the economic sanctions against Iraq. We are grateful for Chile's support, knowing that it represents a sacrifice for your country.

Kennedy-Harkin Sanctions (Letelier Case)

-- I hope that Chilean Government actions will allow those responsible for the murder of Letelier and Moffitt to be brought to justice. That would facilitate the return to full and normal relations between our two countries.

-- We look forward to final passage of the legislation that will transfer the Letelier case from military to civilian courts and to the appointment of a special investigating judge. While aware that you face some domestic opposition to ex gratia monetary compensation to the Letelier and Moffitt families, we hope that the Chilean Congress will also act positively in that aspect of the case.

Democracy and Human Rights

-- We urge the Chilean government to become more involved with international efforts to advance the cause of human rights, especially in Latin America and in multilateral fora.

Trade

-- Compensation for Grape Losses:

-- We regret that the Chilean fruit exporters perceive that their financial loss in 1989 was caused by FDA. We are convinced that FDA acted responsibly and had no choice but to take the action it did to protect the health of the American public. Further, FDA laboratories handled the samples professionally and used sound scientific means to analyze them.

-- We understand that your government has been under increasing pressure from the exporters to conduct an independent investigation. We note that an independent GAO study is being done in response to a request by the U.S. Congress.

(NOTE - BACKGROUND ONLY): The study concludes that the FDA laboratory was proficient, that the method of analysis as examined by outside independent scientists was sound, and that the Administration acted responsibly. FDA is concerned that the conclusions not be made public. The report was made at Senator Helms's request, and he has not yet released it.)

-- Marketing Orders:

-- If enacted, the farm bill now before Congress would extend marketing orders to imported kiwis, nectarines, plums and possibly apples. We believe that these orders are compatible with GATT principles, help to stabilize markets and promote consumer confidence.

-- To mitigate the impact on Chilean fruit exports, the Administration is exploring the possibility that our Department of Agriculture help train Chileans in inspection standards. This would reduce the likelihood of Chilean fruit being rejected at port of entry.

Strengthened Multilateral Diplomacy:

-- The U.S. supports multilateral diplomacy in the hemisphere, and a strengthened, active OAS.

-- Impressive election work in Nicaragua and now Haiti, follow-up verification in Nicaragua, and its anti-narcotics and human rights efforts show the OAS's effectiveness and relevance.

Your Trip to South America

-- I look forward to my trip to Chile in early December which will allow us to renew our conversation about the many important issues facing our countries.

1. (U) SUMMARY: FOREIGN MINISTER SAYS BILATERAL TRADE ISSUES COMPLICATE THE GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS TO SETTLE THE COMPENSATION MATTER. HE PROPOSES TO DEFER CONGRESSIONAL ACTION ON THE 11 JUNE AGREEMENT UNTIL THE CLIMATE IMPROVES. END SUMMARY.

2. (C) IN CONVERSATION WITH THE AMBASSADOR ON 10 SEPTEMBER, FOREIGN MINISTER ENRIQUE SILVA CIMMA SAID THAT THE FUROR OVER POISONED GRAPES AND MARKETING ORDERS HAS SOURED THE ATMOSPHERE IN BOTH THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES AND THE SENATE AS FAR AS RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES ARE CONCERNED. HE BELIEVES THAT EITHER HOUSE MIGHT FLATLY REFUSE TO RATIFY THE ACCORD SIGNED ON 11 JUNE WHICH WOULD ACTIVATE AN INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION TO DETERMINE COMPENSATION FOR THE LETELIER AND MOFFITT FAMILY MEMBERS. AT THE LEAST THERE WOULD BE BITTER DEBATE AND ATTEMPTS TO LINK COMPENSATION FOR FRUIT GROWERS TO THE LETELIER/MOFFITT MATTER. SILVA CIMMA SAID THAT WOULD BE INAPPROPRIATE AND HE BELIEVES IT BETTER TO WAIT UNTIL THERE IS SOME IMPROVEMENT IN CONGRESS'S MOOD BEFORE

PRESSING FOR RATIFICATION. HE SAID THAT HE EXPECTS PRESIDENT AYLWIN'S VISIT TO VENEZUELA, MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES (FOR THE UNGA) TO BE POSITIVE; CONGRESS MIGHT BE BETTER DISPOSED TOWARD THE AGREEMENT WHEN THE PRESIDENT RETURNS TO CHILE IN EARLY OCTOBER.

3. (C) THE AMBASSADOR EMPHASIZED AGAIN THE IMPORTANCE THE USG ATTACHES TO MOVEMENT ON THE COMPENSATION MATTER. AS FOR THE CURRENT CONCERN ABOUT TRADE MATTERS, THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT PASSAGE OF A PHARMACEUTICAL PATENT LAW AS PROPOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT WOULD GO FAR TO PERMIT REINSTATEMENT OF GSP AND OPIC BENEFITS. THAT WOULD BE A POSITIVE STEP ON TRADE AND COULD AFFECT THE MOOD IN CONGRESS; SILVA CIMMA AGREED. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED ABOUT PROSPECTS FOR THE LEYES CUMPLIDO; SILVA CIMMA SAID THEY WOULD PASS IN DUE COURSE AND THE GOVERNMENT WOULD SEEK AN INVESTIGATING JUDGE IN THE "PASSPORTS" CASE. THE MINISTER SAID THAT TRADE MATTERS BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES ARE NOT LIKELY TO HAVE ANY EFFECT ON THAT ASPECT OF THE LETELIER/MOFFITT CASE.

4. (C) COMMENT: IT IS INCREASINGLY CLEAR THAT US-CHILE BILATERAL RELATIONS ARE BEING SERIOUSLY AFFECTED BY THE POISONED GRAPE ISSUE AND OTHER TRADE-RELATED MATTERS. IT IS UNLIKELY, HOWEVER, THAT THE GOC IS TRYING TO LEVERAGE US ON THOSE POINTS USING LETELIER/MOFFITT COMPENSATION. (ALTHOUGH OPPOSITION RENOVACION NACIONAL AND UDI HAVE ASSERTED THAT THE BRYAN COMMISSION MECHANISM SHOULD BE INVOKED IN THE GRAPE MATTER.) IT IS MORE LIKELY THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS CONCLUDED THAT AS MATTERS NOW STAND IT IS TOO RISKY TO PUSH FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION ON THE JUNE 11 ACCORD. END COMMENT.

ENCLOSURE FROM: Mr. Frank Teruggi

RE: Mr. Frank Teruggi Sr.

Mr. Teruggi has provided my office of the letter he has written directly to the National Truth and Reconciliation Commission, to launch the investigation of his son's death.

As indicated in your letter of August 27, 1990, your office is investigating this matter thoroughly. I appreciate your time and efforts, and will await a final response.

(Santiago, Chile)

Thank you very much for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

LEON E. PANETTA

SUBJ: Forensic Anthropological Examination of Suspected Human Romains from Guatemala (Griffith Davis and Nicholas Blake)

REF: SI907

Dear Madam Consul General:

On September 14, 1990 this office received a cardboard box from the American Embassy, Consular Section, containing earth samples and remains suspected of being human. Also contained in the box was a letter of transmittal and an original report signed by Dr. Alvaro Giovany Franco Santisteban of the Laboratorio de Patologia y Citologia Exfoliativa. The box had been damaged prior to its receipt at this office.

The purpose of our examination of the contents of the box was to establish whether or not human skeletal remains were present among the earth samples from Guatemala. The following information was obtained through a macroscopic examination conducted by Robert W. Mann, my research assistant, and me at the Department of Anthropology, Smithsonian Institution.

CONTENTS OF THE BOX: The cardboard box containing the earth samples was photographed before being opened. The box contained seven (7) small glass jars and five (5) plastic bags of earth samples. Six (6) of the glass jars were found wrapped in a plastic bag and sealed with tape. A seventh glass jar had been packed separately in the box. Upon opening the box, the jar labelled "Muestra del Area Periferica Numero Uno", was found to be broken, but its contents were contained within an outer plastic bag. The contents of the box were received packed in styrofoam pellets.

EXAMINATION OF THE CONTENTS OF THE JARS AND PLASTIC BAGS: The contents of each jar was poured onto separate paper towels and photographed. The contents, consisting of small amounts of dark, moist soil and vegetal debris (i.e., roots, leaves, charcoal fragments) were then examined using the unaided eye and a dental probe. No evidence of human remains were identified.

The contents of each of the five (5) plastic bags was examined separately, using a quarter-inch wire mesh screen and a dental probe. The smallest particles of earth and debris fell through the mesh and the larger portions remained on the screen. The bag labelled "Del Tierra Del Cuadrante Numero Tres" contained six (6) burned wood fragments. The bag labelled "Muestra Pendiente De Ser Entregada A La Embajada Americana De Material De Consistencia Firme" contained four (4) small inorganic objects (stones) and two (2) organic objects - one (1) object was a fragment of burned wood and one (1) object was an unburned piece of wood. No evidence of human remains were identified.

CONCLUSIONS: Close macroscopic examination of the contents of the seven (7) glass jars and five (5) plastic bags containing earth samples failed to reveal any evidence of human skeletal remains or items of personal adornment or clothing.

DISPOSITION OF THE MATERIALS: The contents of each glass jar and plastic bag were kept separate and returned to their respective containers upon completion of the examination. The contents and containers will be maintained in a controlled-access area until further notification. The contents, unless notified otherwise, will not be disposed of or destroyed. Color photographs of the material and objects will be made available upon request.

Please contact me if I may be of further assistance in this or other related matters.

Sincerely yours,

(C) FINANCE MINISTER AND CENTRAL BANK PRESIDENT RESIGN: Both tendered their resignations effective Tuesday, September 25. Both, however, will attend the IBRD/IMF meetings and have consultations with the IDB. Ambassador Stroock will try to have the present economic team finalize the side letter to the ESF agreement. He also plans to tell the incoming team that it must endorse the package. If not, the the terms of the agreement will have to be reviewed. (Strook/Taylor/McCarthy telcon).

(C) KILLING OF ANTHROPOLOGIST MYRNA ELIZABETH CHANG: This is a new case which is eliciting a fair amount of calls and publicity. The woman was a researcher working on migration issues in close cooperation with Georgetown University. She was stabbed 17 times as she left her office. So far there are no leads. The Deputy Human Rights Ombudsman, however, has stated that the motive was probably robbery, not political, as her purse was stolen. (Guatemala 11671 and 11844, DMcCarthy).

(C) ONUCA EXPANDS PATROLLING AND PLANS FOR CONTINGENCIES. Senior officials have ordered ONUCA teams to patrol along borders (before no closer than 12 kms) and for naval patrols to operate in the Gulf of Fonseca at night. Gen. Quesada reportedly requested the new orders, but may have felt criticism of his passivity on arms-interdiction. New deputy commander McKenzie (Canada) made his staff skip a holiday to work on contingency plans. They studied three scenarios: 1) reductions in ONUCA, 2) a different structure and civil-military system for an El Salvador cease-fire, and 3) a larger ONUCA role in the event of a Guatemala peace (including the prickly issue of ONUCA patrols on Mexico's side of the border). The Embassy is encouraged by this new aggressiveness. (Tegucigalpa 16276, Walser)

Overview

Guatemala is about to hold its first presidential elections under a civilian government in two decades. In a procedural sense, the November 11 vote--and possible runoff on January 6, 1991--are likely to be free and fair. However, killings, disappearances and death threats surround the campaign. The acts of violence described below are only the most recent of the attacks on politicians, academics, labor leaders, peasant organizers, and human rights workers which have occurred throughout the government of Vinicio Cerezo. These crimes are at least tolerated by the security forces, which have failed to investigate or prosecute them. Of particular concern, the Cerezo government has failed to pursue even those cases where police and military personnel have been directly implicated. This impunity has been a serious blow to the democratic process.

A new president will be inaugurated on January 13, but in important areas little will change. None of the major candidates offer serious land or tax reform, in a country with the most skewed land tenure and among the most regressive tax systems in the hemisphere. Neither have any of them promised to hold the army accountable for the conduct of its counterinsurgency campaign and military human rights abuses. The military will likely remain a law unto itself under the next government, as it has under Cerezo.

The popularity of former military dictator Gen. Efraín Ríos Montt, who continues to pursue a problematic presidential bid, is a sad commentary on the state of Guatemalan democracy. When in power, Ríos Montt presided over widespread human rights abuses, but he now promises clean government and harsh treatment for criminals. Although he may be legally barred from running, he continues to appeal to Guatemalans afraid of widespread violent crime and suffering from increased costs of basic goods.

Parallel to the elections, a series of talks between the armed opposition and various social sectors has begun. In the long run, this process offers prospects for negotiating an end to the longest running insurgency in Latin America. New attitudes in the powerful business community are particularly encouraging. But the army has not yet abandoned its resistance to direct talks with the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union (URNG) rebels, and dramatic progress cannot be expected in the short term.

The Bush Administration and U.S. Congress have been increasingly critical of the Cerezo government's human rights policies over the past year. Yet direct cooperation with the Guatemalan military, in anti-narcotics programs and in civic action exercises conducted by U.S. National Guard units, contradicts such criticism. In addition, the U.S. continues to supply "non-lethal" equipment to the Guatemalan army (albeit at reduced levels). By providing this kind of assistance, the U.S. grants the Guatemalan army legitimacy, and also runs the risk of associating U.S. policy with army abuses. The best way for the U.S. to help the next government will be to withhold all military aid until military abuses are punished and the army demonstrates genuine respect for civilian authority.

Electoral Developments

A public opinion survey regarding the November 11, 1990, presidential elections shows former military dictator Efraín Ríos Montt to be the most popular candidate, favored by 18 percent of respondents, followed by newspaper publisher Jorge Carpio of the National Union of the Center (UCN) with 17 percent, former mayor Alvaro Arzú of the Party for National Advancement (PAN) with 9 percent, and Alfonso Cabrera, candidate of the governing Christian Democratic Party (DCG) with 4 percent. The survey was conducted in July and commissioned by the Guatemalan Chamber of Free Enterprise. (Crónica Semanal, August 3-9, 1990.)

The Guatemalan Supreme Court granted former de-facto ruler Gen. Efraín Ríos Montt the provisional right to register as a candidate on September 13. Ríos Montt's candidacy was previously ruled unconstitutional by the Registry of Citizens and the National Electoral Tribunal. From March 1982 to August 1983, Ríos Montt headed a military government installed by a coup. The main impediment to his candidacy is a constitutional provision which prohibits anyone who has taken power by force from running for national office. A final decision from the Supreme Court is expected by early October, but Ríos Montt may further appeal to the Court of Constitutionality.

During his presidency Ríos Montt was accused of widespread human rights violations. A July 1982 Amnesty International report found evidence of 2,186 deaths in rural massacres during the first three months of the Ríos Montt government. (Massive Extrajudicial Executions in Rural Areas under the Government of General Efraín Ríos Montt.) Ríos Montt established secret courts called "Tribunals of Special Jurisdiction," which human rights groups accused of numerous extrajudicial executions. In March 1983, six suspected guerrillas who had been condemned by the secret courts were executed just as Pope John Paul II arrived in Guatemala. Ríos Montt's apparent popularity is explained at least in part by his promise to bring law and order to the capital city. Many Guatemala City residents had little or no access to information about rural massacres committed under his tenure, but see him as the candidate most likely to reduce the high crime levels that have generated a sense of chaos in the capital in recent months.

Thirty-seven percent of respondents said they did not care at all who won the November presidential elections, in a recent survey by the Association for Research and Social Study (ASIES) based in Guatemala City. Another 30 percent said they cared little. Fifty-seven percent of respondents answered "never," when asked, "are you in the habit of speaking with friends and acquaintances about your political ideas or sympathies?"

U.S. Policy Developments

U.S. National Guard Units continue to conduct civic action exercises alongside the Guatemalan army in the countryside. During the month of August, a group of 47 guardsmen conducted medical campaigns in several towns of the Chimaltenango and Sacatepéquez provinces, the Guatemalan press reported. (Prensa Libre, August 23, 1990.) An observer of the exercises in the town of El Regón, Chimaltenango, reported that some 300 Guatemalan soldiers were present to provide security for the U.S. Guardsmen from armed insurgents. According to U.S. Embassy officials, during the Spring of 1990 groups came from Kentucky, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Hawaii.

The State Department's Human Rights Report for 1989, released in February 1990, acknowledged "credible reports of security forces personnel...engaging in extrajudicial killings, disappearances, and other serious abuses. Few--if any--of the perpetrators of such actions were apprehended, tried and convicted."

The U.S. House of Representatives limited military aid to Guatemala to $2.887 million in non-lethal equipment, in FY 1991 foreign aid appropriations. This is the same amount actually obligated for FY 1990, and slightly more than one half of the Administration's $5 million request for FY 1991. Report language attached to the House bill additionally states the understanding that no commercial arms sales to Guatemala are planned, and that Congress will be notified in advance of any that may be proposed. The Senate is expected to approve similar conditions in a vote in late September or early October.

Representative Peter Kostmayer (D-PA) chaired hearings on Guatemala held by the House Western Hemisphere Subcommittee on July 17. Kostmayer in his opening statement referred to his recent visit to Guatemala, saying, "I left Guatemala with the belief that our military assistance program in Guatemala should cease, and that economic assistance should be directed at meeting the basic human needs of the people."

The Center for Criminal Justice at Harvard Law School decided to discontinue its U.S.-funded judicial aid program in Guatemala. In the July 17 hearings, the Director of the Center, Dr. Phillip B. Heymann, said the decision was due to the Guatemalan government's "unwillingness...to investigate political killings." A letter accompanying his testimony states, "It seems clear to us that the current government of Guatemala is prepared to tolerate the familiar, terrible forms of violent repression--disappearances, torture, and death--carried out by private groups or dissident security forces or, perhaps, by the highest levels of army intelligence."

Kostmayer and ten other representatives have co-sponsored House Concurrent Resolution 355 on Guatemala. The initiative, introduced on July 23, calls upon the Administration to withhold military assistance and lethal sales to Guatemala until human rights abuses by the military end, and calls upon the Guatemalan government to investigate human rights violations.

President Vinicio Cerezo accused the U.S. of spreading rumors about the drug connections of Christian Democratic presidential candidate Alfonso Cabrera; he attributed U.S. hostility to Cabrera's support for Guatemala's policy of neutrality toward Nicaragua when he was foreign minister. Cerezo spoke of "the drug plot against Alfonso Cabrera...invented because Alfonso Cabrera had to say 'no' to the North American (Secretary of State) when he wanted to impose on us a document against the interests of our nation." (El Gráfico, August 8, 1990.)

U.S. Anti-Narcotics Programs

U.S. anti-narcotics programs are increasingly dependent on the Guatemalan army, according to several recent U.S. press reports, despite "evidence in recent months that the army and the military intelligence unit may have been infiltrated by drug traffickers." (New York Times, July 5, 1990.) According to these accounts, the U.S. is paying agents of army intelligence, known as G-2, for cooperation on drug trafficking and "information on regional as well as local matters." The G-2 is notorious for orchestrating political repression. One drug expert was quoted as saying that "the question of G-2's alleged human rights abuses is never brought up by U.S. drug experts...because the military's role is so crucial." (Los Angeles Times, May 7, 1990.)

The U.S. Embassy has denied these accounts. A highly placed U.S. official said in an interview, "We are working very closely with the military" on drug enforcement but have not "turned everything over to them." Minister of Defense Juan Leonel Bolaños acknowledged "cooperation between security forces, for example the Guatemalan army works with the DEA and cooperates with them, providing intelligence activity."

The U.S. has helped establish a Joint Information Coordination Center (JICC) in the headquarters of the Guatemalan Treasury Police, linked to the Drug Enforcement Agency's (DEA) El Paso Intelligence Center. (Bureau of International Narcotics Matters, International Narcotics Control Strategy Report, March 1990.) The Treasury Police gained notoriety in the U.S. for a series of eleven killings and abductions in early 1988; six Treasury police agents were arrested, but charges were eventually dropped.

Other cooperation has included: U.S. Coast Guard courses for the Guatemalan Navy, Treasury police, and customs personnel; the spraying of poppy fields by aircraft belonging to the Bureau of International Narcotics Matters; and legal assistance to the Ministry of the Interior from the U.S. Agency for International Development. Plans for 1990 include ICITAP training for eight narcotics investigators. In September, the State Department placed Guatemala on the list of major drug-trafficking countries.

A former official with the Office of Administrative Control, Fernando Minera Navas was absolved of drug charges on April 10. Minera Navas had accused top military and civilian officials, including two generals and one captain, of involvement in drug trafficking. (FBIS, April 12, 1990, p. 9)

On April 9, a U.S. citizen was reported to have died and another to have been injured when a DEA plane crashed on a training flight 18 km from the capital city. (FBIS, April 10, 1990, p. 9.)

Developments in the Security and Defense Forces

The one standing conviction of security force members for human rights abuse was overturned. On July 31, an appeal court absolved six officers, including the former police chief of the city of Quezaltenango, who had been convicted of the October 1987 killing of two university students, Danilo Alvarado and René Leiva Cayax. A large body of evidence supported the original conviction, including the testimony of witnesses, autopsy reports, hair samples, and evidence that the police chief's car was used in the crime. (Americas Watch, Guatemala: Sole Conviction in Human Rights Case Overturned, August 1990.)

Gen. Roberto Enrique Matta Gálvez replaced Gen. Juan José Marroquín Siliézar as Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces on September 1, 1990. Matta was previously Deputy Chief of Staff, commander of the Army's General Headquarters, and commander of the conflictive Huehuetenango province. Under military rule, he was commander of the Quiché province, which was the site of intense armed conflict and harsh army violence. The next president is legally free to choose his defense minister. If military lines of ascent are respected, Minister of Defense Bolaños will retire in June 1991, to be succeeded by Matta. Rumors of a military uprising circulated in the first days of September, attributed to changes in the military and controversy over the candidacy of Gen. Efraín Ríos Montt. (FBIS, September 5, 1990, pp. 12-13.)

Eleven military officers accused of participating in a May 9, 1990 coup attempt were freed of all charges when the Attorney General failed to appeal their release to the Court of Constitutionality. A military court had sentenced the officers to ten years in jail, but the officers were freed by an appeal court decision, which the Attorney General declined to appeal further. (Prensa Libre, June 29, 1990.)

Minister of the Interior Gen. (ret.) Carlos Morales Villatoro proposed the "fusion" of the Military Police, National Police, and Treasury Police into a "single unit." (La Hora, August 17, 1990.) The military and police units have been coordinating operations under the Civilian Protection System (SIPROCI) since 1988. As Minister of the Interior, Morales Villatoro oversees the direction of the National Police and Treasury Police.

Colonel Julio Enrique Caballeros Siegne took office as Director of the National Police on June 29, 1990. Caballeros had served in that post from 1986 to 1988, on release from active duty in the Army. The Deputy Director and other top officials were also replaced.

Recent Human Rights Developments

Overall levels of violence

According to the office of the Guatemalan Human Rights Ombudsman, there were 163 extrajudicial executions in the first six months of 1990, "the majority suffering bullet wounds, torture, knifing, or incineration." The governmental office received 103 reports of disappearances during that period. (Siglo XXI, June 29, 1990.) The office reported 67 complaints of abuses by soldiers and 37 complaints against the police during those months. (FBIS, July 23, 1990, p. 30.) There were 82 extrajudicial executions between June 29 and July 23, 1990, Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro de León Carpio said in an interview with National Public Radio, aired in the U.S. on August 29.

Recent killings and disappearances

Myrna Elizabeth Mack Chang, a founder and director of the Association for the Advancement of Social Science in Guatemala (AVANCSO), was stabbed to death on September 11 as she left her workplace. The human rights office of the Archbishop of Guatemala, OSSAG, said in a written statement, "We consider the assassination to be political." Georgetown University's Hemispheric Migration Project, and the Stanford-Berkeley Joint Center for Latin American Studies, both of which supported Myrna Mack's work at AVANCSO, have both publicly expressed their concern and called for an investigation into her death.

U.S. citizen Michael Devine was executed by members of the Guatemalan army, according to Western diplomatic sources quoted in the Miami Herald (August 24, 1990, p.14A). According to the press report, soldiers under orders from a high-level regional military officer abducted and executed Devine in the remote Petén province on June 8. His body was found with a slit throat and signs of torture the next day. Diplomats cited in the news report were said to have "intimate knowledge of the investigations of the murder by the U.S. Embassy, the Guatemalan Army, and the Devine family." The U.S. has threatened to cancel much--if not all--military aid if the case is not resolved. (New York Times, September 20, 1990.) Devine owned and operated a tourist ranch outside the town of Poptún. Diplomats cited in the New York Times speculated that he might have come across evidence of army involvement in poppy growing in the jungle region.

Congressman Otto Rolando Ruano Reyes of the opposition Union of the National Center (UCN) was killed by unidentified men on July 25 in the department of Jutiapa. As of August 29, no progress had been make on the case.

Unknown gunmen have killed three politicians in the city of San Pedro Jocopilas in recent months. On August 28, gunmen killed Celso Girón, the UCN candidate for mayor of this town in the Quiché province. The previous UCN mayoral candidate, Salomón Blanco, was killed earlier this year. Also in San Pedro Jocopilas, gunmen shot and killed Assistant District Secretary of the Christian Democrat party, Sebastián Morales López, on September 16.

Labor leader Petronilo Hernández Vasilo was killed in front of his house on July 1 by unidentified armed men. (El Gráfico, June 24, 1990.) Hernández Vasilo was secretary of a labor union in the department of Jutiapa affiliated with the Guatemalan Confederation of Labor Unity (CUSG).

Luís Miguel Solis Pajarito, a member of the National Council of the Displaced in Guatemala (CONDEG), disappeared after attending a CONDEG meeting on May 3, 1990. According to CONDEG representatives, he had been followed by three men during a demonstration on May 1.

Diego Velásquez Ac, a leader of the Union of Workers of the University of San Carlos (STUSC), disappeared on April 6 between 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. His car was found abandoned on the highway to the Pacific, according to Guatemalan labor leaders.

A Guatemalan government investigation into the murders of Salvadoran Héctor Oquelí and Guatemalan Gilda Flores failed to reach any conclusions. The investigation was carried out by members of the Presidential Security Service. Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro de León Carpio said that, while involved with the investigation, "I was only there to see that the appropriate tasks were carried out," and called the results "tremendously general." Among the theories put forward by the government are that Salvadoran rightists, FMLN members opposed to dialogue, or fellow members of the Socialist International killed the two social democrats. (Prensa Libre, June 22, 1990.) Leaders of the Guatemalan Social Democratic Party (PSD) called these statements "absurd." (Prensa Libre, June 24, 1990.)

Western diplomats pointed to shortcomings in the investigation, including the failure to conduct forensics on a vehicle used in the crime and other physical evidence, and failure to investigate injection marks on the bodies. The Socialist International is expected soon to release an evaluation of the government's investigation. Tom Farer, former president of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, and Robert Goldman of the American University College of Law, traveled to Guatemala to conduct the evaluation in early July.

Death threats against political leaders

Congressman José García Bauer received death threats on July 31; anonymous callers gave García Bauer 48 hours to leave the country and said they had a list of eight other congressmen who would be killed. (Amnesty International, Urgent Action, August 10, 1990.) UCN Congressman Edmundo Mulet also reported receiving death threats.

Amílcar Méndez of the Council of Ethnic Communities Runujel Junam (CERJ), a peasant group based in the Quiché province, received a written death threat on July 30, 1990. On September 4, a leaflet appeared in the area denouncing the CERJ, threatening "it is only left for the leadership to decide the opportune time...for the working people to punish them revolutionarily...the national or international consequences of our actions do not matter to us ...The end justifies the means." (See below for recent cases of violence affecting the CERJ.)

Nineth Montenegro de García and other members of the Mutual Support Group for Relatives of the Disappeared (GAM) were threatened with death on August 6, 1990. An anonymous caller told the eight-year-old daughter of Montenegro de García: "We know who you all are, so be warned, we are going to kill you." On July 22, unknown men shot at the home of Montenegro de García's mother, Judith Montenegro de García, reportedly using 9 mm bullets reserved for the security forces. (El Gráfico, July 24, 1990; Amnesty International, Urgent Action, August 10, 1990.)

Leaders of various labor groups have reported receiving death threats. An unknown man told Azucena Paredes, a leader of the Union of the National Financial Corporation (CORFINA), to leave union activities or be "eliminated." The union also reported telephone threats. (Prensa Libre, June 20, 1990). The Guatemalan Confederation of Labor Unity (CUSG) publicly complained of threats directed against the labor movement, in particular the General Center of Guatemalan Workers (CGTG), a rival labor confederation. (Prensa Libre, June 24, 1990.)

A communique signed by the Anti-Communist Front from Above (Frente Anticomunista de los Altos, FACA) was found under the doors of several development agencies in Quezaltenango. It says FACA "has decided to unmask, warn, and then execute those responsible for bringing in ideas foreign to our idiosyncracies and democratic vocation, drug traffickers...church people who hide behind the cassock or the Bible...and the pseudo-directors of the University Students Association of the West." University Rector Valdomero Arriaga Jérez and Professor and former Mayor Luís López Maldonado were singled out as communists and guerrilla leaders.

Recent cases of violence affecting the Council of Ethnic Communities Runujel Junam

The Council of Ethnic Communities Runujel Junam (CERJ) is a peasant organization based in the largely indigenous Quiché province. The group has resisted forced, unpaid participation in civil defense patrols supervised by the army. Since its formation in 1988, four members of the CERJ have been murdered and six more abducted and "disappeared."

Three of these killings and one disappearance took place since March, 1990; these are described below.

Samuel de la Cruz Gómez, a CERJ member, was taken from his home in the town of Zacualpa in the Quiché department on July 20, 1990. On July 12 a habeas corpus petition was filed on his behalf, but his wherabouts are not known. Neighbors who tracked his abductors reportedly believed he was given into army custody. (Amnesty International, Urgent Action, July 10, 1990.) Eduardo Ernesto Arévalo, reportedly a military commissioner, was jailed after neighbors accused him of participating in the abduction but later released for lack of evidence.

Pedro Tiu Cac was taken from his home in the Totonicapán department on July 2, 1990, by armed men in plain clothes who reportedly identified themselves as police agents. His body was found in a nearby hamlet on July 4. (Amnesty International, Urgent Action, August 13, 1990.)

Jose María Ixcayá Pixtay, a member of the CERJ board of directors, was killed after he left his home in the Sololá for a demonstration on May 1, 1990. His wife, Marcela Guárcax Morales, reported that military commissioner Bernadino Samines and a companion Jesús Chopén had previously threatened Ixcayá and his family, and she accused them of responsibility for his murder. (Testimony given to the Human Rights Ombudsman in Guatemala City, May 3, 1990.) Jose María Ixcayá's cousin, Pedro Ixcayá Cuc, subsequently reported that Samines and Chopén were threatening to kill him. (Testimony given to the Auxiliary Human Rights Ombudsman in Sololá on June 25, 1990.)

José Vicente García, a CERJ delegate in San Pedro Jocopilas, was shot and killed on April 10 by two men in civilian dress. Francisco Ixcoy, identified as a military commissioner, and Santiago Natareño, a civil patrol chief, were reported to have threatened García on several previous occasions. García had come under threat most recently for resigning from the civil patrol. In 1987, civil patrollers reportedly captured García, and Ixcoy took him to a military base, where he was held for one day and one night and tortured. (Americas Watch, Guatemala: Army Campaign Against Rights Activists Intensifies, May 1990.) On June 2, 1990, García had filed a written complaint with the Auxiliary Human Rights Ombudsman for the Quiché province about threatening actions directed against himself and five neighbors.

On March 17, 1990 military commissioners in the village of Parraxtut murdered CERJ member María Mejía and attempted to kill her husband Pedro Castro Tojín. Castro Tojín identified military commissioners Domingo Castro Lux and Juan de León Pérez as the men who entered his home, fatally shot his wife, and seriously wounded him. On February 12, 1990 and March 2, 1990, Castro Tojín and Mejía's sons had filed complaints with the adjunct human rights ombudsman for the Quiché province, stating that the commissioners constantly threatened the family because they were not participating in the civil patrol. (Americas Watch, Army Campaign, op. cit.; documents filed with the Adjunct Human Rights Ombudsman.)

Investigative mechanisms

Attorney General Mario Iliescas has requested U.S. training for some 200 investigators in a new Judicial Police force under his direction. For this project, his office has access to $1.5 to $3 million in funds from the former Office of Administrative Control (DCAP), which was dissolved earlier this year after its director was arrested on drug charges.

Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro de León Carpio announced that his office will put to work ten criminal investigators and open forensic laboratories in late October. The office will be funded with a $1 million grant from the West German government and $100,000 from the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID). (The Miami Herald, September 15, 1990, p. 18A.) The Ombudsman's office is mandated by the Guatemalan Constitution and appointed by the Guatemalan Congress.

El González, head of the Office of Public Responsibility (OPR), responsible for internal police discipline, was suspended from office for allegedly beating two police agents. Criminal charges against him were pending in July, according to police authorities. The OPR has investigated a total of nearly 300 reported cases of police abuse, none of which are political in nature, according to police officials. The Disappeared Persons Section has investigated some 500 reported disappearances between January and July 1990, ten of which were actual disappearances, and none of which were politically motivated, according to that agency.

Dialogue with the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union

The Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union (URNG) met with representatives of Guatemalan political parties and the private sector. The talks were convened by the country's National Reconciliation Commission (NRC), with a United Nations observer present. Talks with religious leaders are planned for September 28 in Ecuador, and dialogue with representatives of popular groups for mid-October in Mexico.

The URNG and political parties, meeting in Spain on May 31, agreed to: recognize the need for judicial reorganization and other institutional reforms; include the URNG in a National Constituent Assembly in 1991; and hold future meetings. The URNG pledged to abstain from acts of sabotage during the electoral period.

After meeting in Canada on August 31 and September 1, business groups, the URNG, and the NRC expressed their satisfaction with the encounter. The URNG submitted a proposal which accepts that "business sectors and foreign investment can play a positive, dynamic, and responsible role." The business groups--including representatives of the generally intransigent Agricultural sector--expressed their desire to "construct a better future for all, in which you and those who follow you can bring your skills and efforts, within a peaceful framework, to make Guatemala a nation of greater prosperity for all, especially the neediest."

Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs Bernard Aronson sent a letter of support for the process to the NRC, and met with the Commission in Washington after the Canada talks.

Direct talks with government officials are anticipated under the plan reached by the NRC and URNG, but several obstacles lie ahead. First, the current government will be leaving office in January 1991, and is thus seen as unable to reach binding agreements. Secondly, the army has been ambivalent in its response to the talks.

Minister of Defense Juan Leonel Bolaños has called the talks "a search for common ground," but has also has warned, "There will only be a dialogue with the guerrillas once they lay down their weapons." (FBIS, May 23, 1990, p. 14.) Shortly after the Spain talks, he declared that the agreement is not legally binding but "contains only good intentions and expressed wishes." (Prensa Libre, June 10, 1990.) URNG commander Pablo Monsanto declared, "By no means are we going to lay down our arms, because they are the sole guarantee we have for being able to carry out the changes that we have been fighting for." (FBIS, July 6, 1990, p. 2.)

Estimates of the numbers of armed rebels vary from the figure of 950 to 970 cited by Gen. Bolaños, to the 3,500 to 4,000 members claimed by the URNG, and the U.S. Embassy's figure of 1,200 to 1,500 (with an additional 8,000 to 10,000 supporters). The Guatemalan armed forces are 42,000 strong.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: James A. Baker III

SUBJECT: Restoring Chile's Eligibility for U.S. Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) Programs

Section 231A of the Foreign Assistance Act (FAA) prohibits OPIC from providing guaranties to U.S. investors in countries not taking steps to adopt and implement internationally recognized worker rights. In 1987, acting on a petition submitted by the AFL-CIO under the Trade Act of 1974, which imposes a worker rights requirement for eligibility for the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP), the U.S. Trade Representative recommended to President Reagan that he deny GSP to Chile on the grounds that Chile was not taking such steps. The President accepted the recommendation and consistent with his decision, OPIC also suspended its programs in Chile.

Chile requested restoration of its GSP beneficiary status shortly after the inauguration of President Patricio Aylwin in March of this year. USTR is reviewing this request, which has the support of the AFL-CIO, and will make a recommendation later this year. Approval of the request ~~will~~ would mark the first time the U.S. has moved to restore GSP benefits.

Section 231A(a)(3) of the FAA allows you to waive the worker rights requirement for OPIC and enable the Corporation to reopen its finance and insurance programs in Chile without prejudicing the worker rights review now underway for purposes of GSP. To do so, you must determine that a waiver is in the national economic interest and report the reasons for that determination to Congress. A waiver is appropriate for several reasons.

Faced with overwhelming state interventionism, economic stagnation and high inflation in the 1970s, Chile adopted the most free-market oriented policies in the history of Latin America. These reforms included the privatization of state firms, lower tariffs, freeing prices and interest rates, and liberalizing foreign investment control. Since 1985, Chile has reduced its medium to long term commercial debt by over $9 billion through a variety of debt conversion and reduction schemes. As a result, Chile has enjoyed steady economic growth.

President Aylwin is on his first visit to the U.S., to address the United Nations General Assembly, and will visit Washington on October 2. Mr. Aylwin believes that Chile's economic policies, coupled with the transition from the authoritarian Pinochet government to a democracy deserves concrete recognition and support from the United States.

One way for the U.S. to demonstrate support would be to make OPIC again available to U.S. investment in Chile. To complement its economic policies, Chile needs foreign capital to diversify an economy dependent on the export of copper. Much U.S. investment has been postponed by the loss of OPIC, at a time when OPIC's counterpart agencies from Japan, the U.K., and others continued to support their investors in Chile.

Under President Aylwin's leadership, his government has shown itself to be committed to the democratic process. It has taken significant steps to improve worker rights, including the creation of a mechanism for a tripartite dialogue between labor, business, and government, and has introduced labor reform legislation in Congress. A formal inquiry into the human rights abuses committed by prior regimes has begun.

For these reasons, I recommend that you issue the attached Presidential Determination declaring that the reopening of OPIC's finance and insurance programs in Chile is in the national economic interest.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF STATE

SUBJECT: Determination under Section 231A9A0(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended.

Pursuant to Section 231A(a)(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (22 U.S.C. 2191a(a)(3)), I hereby determine that the waiver of Section 231A(a)(1) with respect to Chile, permitting the Overseas Private Investment Corporation to insure, reinsure, guaranty and finance U.S. investment in Chile, is in the national economic interest of the United States. I therefore direct that the provisions of Section 231A(a)(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (22 U.S.C. 2191a(a)(3)), henceforth be waived with respect to Chile.

Please transmit this determination, along with the attached reasons, to the Speaker of the House and to the President of the Senate.

This determination shall be published in the Federal Register.

(C) Dialogue Starts Without Sandinistas. Economy Minister Silvio de Franco laid out a 36-month plan to bring Nicaragua's economy back from the brink as the long-awaited "national dialogue" opened September 21. The Sandinistas, publicly pledged to "organize and support" resistance to the GON plan, refused to take part in the dialogue. For Nicaragua's economic ills, de Franco prescribed reduced spending; 25,000 fewer government jobs; brakes on bank credit and the public sector; a 3-month conversion to the "gold cordoba;" deregulation; selective privatization "to improve efficiency;" and return of confiscated properties. A repeat of last July's violence would probably cost the FSLN both domestic support and international backing, but it may back its tough public stance with selected smaller strikes. Police non-response to Sandinista bus depot takeovers and Gen. Humberto Ortega's repeated statements that the Army will not use force suggest that the GON still cannot rely on its own security forces. (Managua 6469/6482/6518/6519, DAGray)

(C) EPS on Mass Graves: So What? Sandinista Army (EPS) Col. Hugo Torres told the National Assembly's Human Rights Commission September 19 that the Sandinistas' lame-duck amnesty made recent discoveries of mass graves moot. He claimed anonymous forensic "experts" concluded recently-discovered mass graves were not the work of the EPS and charged the Nicaraguan Association for Human Rights (ANPDH) with trying to damage the EPS's image. Commission chairman Frank Duarte pronounced himself "very satisfied" with Col. Torres' presentation; other National Opposition Union (UNO) deputies were not so pleased. ANPDH head Marta Patricia Baltodano and Nicaraguan Permanent Commission for Human Rights director Lino Hernandez will both appear before the Inter-American Human Rights Commission later this week. (Managua 6471, DAGray)

(C) Mexico Moving on Oil Debt. President Violeta Chamorro promised to "restructure" Nicaragua's $980 million oil debt with Mexico in 30 days, after which Nicaragua could again receive Mexican oil. For his part, Mexican President Carlos Salinas de Gortari pledged his country's continued support for Nicaragua. (Mexico 25948, DAGray)

(C) Assembly Chips Away at Lame-Duck Laws. The National Assembly repealed Sandinista lame-duck legislation granting pensions and immunity to former government officials. Repeal of immunity opens the door for prosecuting those responsible for looting the government between election day and President Chamorro's inauguration. (Managua 6385, DAGray)

(S) DEVINE CASE: SUSPECTS ARRESTED. On September 21 a judge in FLores, Peten, issued arrest warrants for 8 men, some of whom are in the military. The Embassy reports that they should be arrested no later than October 9. Once arrested, the law requires they be brought before a judge within 6 hours. The judge then has 3 weeks to investigate. The suspects must be charged or released. Cerezo has told Ambassador Stroock a report will be delivered today. (Guatemala 12048, DMcCarthy).

(LOU) POLL RESULTS: CARPIO AND RIOS MONT LEADING: A September 7 ASIES poll shows Carpio leading with 22.4 percent of the vote, followed by Rios Mont with 21.4 percent, Arzu 7.7 percent and Cabrera 2.6 percent. Thirty-six percent of respondents were undecided. The poll was in line with the last one done in May, except that the percentage which believes there will be fraud dropped from 41 to 35 percent.

A separate poll conducted by the Costa Rican CID/GALLUP company gives the same results. In addition, the poll shows that if Rios is excluded, Carpio's share of the registered voters jumps from 30 to 40 percent. The Embassy believes the poll was commissioned by Carpio and notes that CID no longer has formal affiliation with Gallup. (Guaemala 11758 and 11673, DMcCarthy).

(LOU) GUERRILLAS BREAK MADRID PROMISE: The URNG is reneging on its promise not to conduct economic sabotage operations during the election period. On August 31-September 1, guerrillas attacked the mission of the AMCIT Stoltzfuz family in the Peten, looting and burning while holding the family at gunpoint. In mid-September guerrillas downed 11 power towers in Quiche Department and attacked a sugar mill in Escuintla.

MEMORANDUM OF JUSTIFICATION FOR WAIVING SECTION 231A OF THE FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT

On March 11, 1990, the first democratically-elected government in Chile in nearly seventeen years took office in Chile under the leadership of Patricio Aylwin. The new center-left coalition government has shown itself committed to the consolidation of the democratic process which has replaced the previous authoritarian regime.

Faced with overwhelming state interventionism, economic stagnation, and high inflation in the 1970s, Chile adopted the most free-market oriented policies in the history of Latin America. These reforms included the privatization of state firms, lower tariffs, freeing prices and interest rates, and liberalizing the foreign investment regime.

Since 1985, Chile has reduced its medium to long term debt with the commercial banks by over $9 billion through a variety of debt conversion and reduction schemes. In early September, a group of commercial banks agreed to underwrite a new $350 million bond issue for Chile. This agreement makes Chile the first of the debt-ridden countries of Latin America to reenter the voluntary private capital market.

Copper still accounts for more than 40 percent of Chile's total exports. To further diversify away from copper, Chile needs investment capital to develop non-traditional sectors of the economy. While U.S. investors are interested in the possibilities present in Chile, they are looking for real signs of assurance from their government that it supports the policies in place in Chile.

To support the economic and political reform process in Chile, the President has waived Section 231A(a)1) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (22 U.S.C. 2191a(a)(1)), with respect to Chile, to permit the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) to insure, reinsure, guaranty and finance projects in Chile.

The Government of Chile has taken significant steps since March to improve worker rights. A mechanism for a tripartite dialogue among labor, business, and government has been created, and labor reform legislation has been introduced in the Chilean Congress. Moreover, a formal inquiry into the human rights abuses committed by prior regimes has begun.

The actions taken by the Government of Chile to adopt and implement internaionally recognized worker rights form the basis for the review now underway of an earlier determination made pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 2462(b)(7) with regard to worker rights in Chile. This waiver does not substitute for or prejudice that the outcome of that determination, which will be announced by the President when the review has been completed.

I. SETTING AND OBJECTIVE

- To meet with Foreign Minister Silva Cimma (Seel - vah Cee - mah) to discuss bilateral issues that are currently causing strains in U.S.-Chile relations.

II. AGENDA

- Chile's Transition to Democracy: Signal our support for Chile's peaceful transition to democratic government and for the GOC's continuation of a free-market economic model.

- Enterprise for the Americas Initiative: We welcome Chile's enthusiastic response to the Initiative and look forward to signing a bilateral framework agreement on trade and investment in the near future.

- Letelier Case/Kennedy-Harkin Amendment: Stress U.S. desire for Chilean Congress to enact pending legislation that will move this case forward on both the criminal and civil side.

- GSP/OPIC Benefits: With the improved worker rights situation in Chile and passage of patent protection legislation, these benefits can be restored.

NATIONAL ELECTIONS ARE DUE NOVEMBER 11; A RUN-OFF, JANUARY 6, WITH TRANSFER OF POWER JANUARY 14. PRESIDENTIAL CONTROL OVER THE SECURITY FORCES, WHILE NOT ABSOLUTE, IS GREATER THAN USUALLY ACKNOWLEDGED. THE ARMY (43,000 MEN) HAS THE KEY ROLE IN NATIONAL SECURITY AND IS FIGHTING A 30-YEAR FOREIGN-SUPPORTED LEFTIST INSURGENCY. THE ARMY INCLUDES A 3000-MAN MOBILE MILITARY POLICE THAT GUARDS KEY FACILITIES AND TAKES PART IN ANTI-CRIME OPERATIONS. THE NATIONAL POLICE

HOBBLED BY A WEAK JUSTICE SYSTEM AND A LACK OF WILL, AUTHORITIES DID NOT STEM GROWING VIOLENCE. DESPITE NOTABLE IMPROVEMENT OVER THE PERFORMANCE OF PAST YEARS, RELIABLE EVIDENCE INDICATES SECURITY FORCES STILL COMMITTED, WITH ALMOST TOTAL IMPUNITY, A MAJORITY OF THE MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. MOST VICTIMS WERE RURAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUSPECTED OF INVOLVEMENT WITH GUERRILLA MOVEMENTS. WHILE HARASSMENT OF LOCAL RIGHTS GROUPS WAS NOT AS BLATANT AS IN 1989, ACTIVISTS REPORTED THREATS AND ENDURED ACTS OF LETHAL VIOLENCE OFTEN APPARENTLY AT THE HANDS OF SECURITY FORCES. CRITICISM OF GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD BY THE U.S. AMBASSADOR AND GOVERNMENT DREW PUBLIC AND PRESS ATTENTION--THE U.S. AMBASSADOR WAS RECALLED TO STRESS THE SERIOUSNESS WITH WHICH WE VIEW HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES.

IN MAY TALKS IN MADRID BETWEEN GUERRILLA AND POLITICAL PARTY REPRESENTATIVES, THE GUERRILLAS PROMISED TO HALT ATTACKS ON ECONOMIC AND CIVILIAN TARGETS AND ALLOW ELECTIONS TO GO FORTH. THESE PROMISES WERE NOT HONORED. THERE IS EVIDENCE OF GUERRILLA INVOLVEMENT IN THE ILLICIT OPIUM TRADE.

CORRUPTION AND MISMANAGEMENT ARE WIDESPREAD. THE NUMBER OF LABOR UNIONS ROSE BUT SOME MEMBERS CREDIBLY ALLEGED HARASSMENT FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES. THERE WAS NO RESOLUTION TO SOME MAJOR CASES OF PAST ABUSES IN WHICH THE UNITED STATES HAS EXPRESSED STRONG AND CONTINUING INTEREST, E.G., THE 1985 DISAPPEARANCES OF AMERICAN CITIZENS BLAKE AND DAVIS, THE 1988 EL AGUACATE MASSACRE, THE 1989 DISAPPEARANCES OF 11 STUDENTS OF WHOM 6 WERE KILLED, AND

FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

AS IN 1989, OFFICIAL STATISTICS SHOWED ABOUT 2,000 HOMICIDES NATIONWIDE; CRITICS, WITH REASON, CLAIMED THIS WAS AN UNDERSTATEMENT. PRESS REPORTS AND OTHER AVAILABLE INFORMATION POINTED TO A NUMBER AT LEAST THREE TIMES THE OFFICIAL ONE. IN JUNE, FOR EXAMPLE, PRESS REPORTS INDICATED THE HOMICIDE RATE IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL REACHED AN AVERAGE OF ONE PER HOUR. WHILE MOST KILLINGS RESULTED FROM PERSONAL VENDETTAS AND OTHER CRIMES, INCLUDING DRUG TRAFFICKING AND GANG WARFARE, EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, INCLUDING POLITICALLY MOTIVATED

ONES, APPEARED TO RISE IN 1990.

THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN CALCULATED ABOUT 400 POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLINGS IN 1990, MAINLY IN CONFLICTIVE RURAL AREAS OF SAN MARCOS, HUEHUETENANGO, QUICHE, AND PETEN DEPARTMENTS. MOST VICTIMS WERE INDIGENOUS PEOPLE PRESUMABLY KILLED BY SECURITY FORCES, USUALLY THE ARMY, FOR SUSPICION OF BACKING GUERRILLA

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

GROUPS. THE OMBUDSMAN'S FIGURE DOES NOT INCLUDE AN UNKNOWN BUT PROBABLY LARGE NUMBER OF VIGILANTE KILLINGS OF CRIMINALS AND SUSPECTED CRIMINALS. WHILE NOT DEMONSTRATED CONCLUSIVELY, SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT IN MANY VIGILANTE ACTIONS SEEMS LIKELY. THE RISE IN EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS WAS A RESPONSE TO INCREASED GUERRILLA ACTIVITY AND FRUSTRATION OVER VIOLENT CRIME IN URBAN AREAS, PARTICULARLY THE CAPITAL.

NO INFORMATION POINTS TO POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS AS OFFICIALLY CONDONED POLICY, BUT AUTHORITIES FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THESE AND BRING THE AUTHORS TO JUSTICE. WHILE MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES FACED ARREST, CONVICTION, AND SENTENCING FOR COMMON CRIMES, INCLUDING MURDER OF RURAL PEOPLE, NO EXAMPLES EXISTED OF TRIALS AND CONVICTIONS FOR POLITICAL OR EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS BY SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL. AUTHORITIES DID NOT PREVENT SOME MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES, IN PARTICULAR CERTAIN RURAL MILITARY ZONE OFFICERS, FROM CONDUCTING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THESE PERSISTED DESPITE ATTEMPTS BY FOREIGN DONORS—INCLUDING THE U.S.--SOME SENIOR OFFICERS, THE OMBUDSMAN, AND THE NEW POLICE DIRECTOR—AN ACTIVE DUTY ARMY COLONEL--TO CHANGE TRADITIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ATTITUDES AND PRACTICES WITHIN THE SECURITY FORCES. EFFORTS INCLUDED FIRING AND ARRESTING LARGE NUMBERS OF ALLEGEDLY CORRUPT AND ABUSIVE POLICEMEN.

GUERRILLA FORCES KILLED CIVILIANS, OFF-DUTY SOLDIERS, AND POLICEMEN. IN JULY, FOR EXAMPLE, GUERRILLAS IN SAN RAFAEL PETZAL (HUEHUETENANGO) SHOT AND KILLED TWO UNARMED MEN AND WOUNDED EIGHT OTHERS PARTICIPATING IN A CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL. MANY POLICEMEN IN RURAL AREAS WERE KILLED THROUGHOUT 1990 IN WAYS STRONGLY SUGGESTING GUERRILLA INVOLVEMENT.

IN JANUARY, ARMED MEN SEIZED SALVADORAN LEFTIST HECTOR OQUELI AND GUATEMALAN ATTORNEY GILDA FLORES IN THE CAPITAL. THEIR BODIES APPEARED HOURS LATER NEAR THE EL SALVADOR BORDER. THE CRIME LED TO STRONG LOCAL, US GOVERNMENT, AND INTERNATIONAL DEMANDS FOR A COMPLETE INVESTIGATION. THE GOVERNMENT CONDEMNED THE KILLINGS AND IN MARCH ISSUED A PRELIMINARY REPORT ON ITS INVESTIGATION. A FINAL REPORT IN JUNE IMPLIED, WITHOUT STRONG SUPPORTING EVIDENCE, THAT FRIENDS OF OQUELI AND SALVADORANS RESIDENT IN GUATEMALA WERE RESPONSIBLE. THERE WERE NO ARRESTS. THE CASE REMAINS OPEN.

IN FEBRUARY, TWO COCA-COLA WORKERS, THE SAGASTUME BROTHERS, WERE KILLED. WHILE NOT CLEAR IF THE CRIME WAS RELATED TO A LONG STRIKE AGAINST THE COCA-COLA BOTTLER, CAVISA (SEE SEC 6), CREDIBLE INFORMATION INDICATED THE BROTHERS, FOUND DEAD WITH A THIRD MAN, DIED AS A RESULT OF CRIMINAL ACTIVITY. ALSO THAT MONTH, ACCORDING TO POLICE, 12 MEN IN "OLIVE GREEN" UNIFORMS AND CARRYING AUTOMATIC WEAPONS, ENTERED A HOME NEAR CUYOTENANGO

(SUCHITEPEQUEZ) AND KILLED ANTONIO GONON MORALES AND WOUNDED HIS WIFE AND HIS DAUGHTER-IN-LAW. POLICE BLAMED GUERRILLAS BUT COULD OFFER NO MOTIVES.

ON MARCH 17, NINE PEOPLE WERE SEIZED NEAR MALACATAN (SAN MARCOS) BY ARMED MEN. THE BODIES OF FIVE LATER APPEARED: TEODORO MEJIA, ARCADIO MEJIA, EFRAIN VENTURA,

LUIS VENTURA, AND JOAQUIN ORTEGA. A SURVIVOR, A CHILD, WAS ALSO FOUND. WHILE INFORMATION WAS INCONCLUSIVE, LOCAL OBSERVERS BLAMED THE ARMY. SAN MARCOS IS A VERY CONFLICTIVE REGION IN WHICH GUERRILLA ACTIVITY (THAT SAME DAY GUERRILLAS KILLED A SAN MARCOS POLICE CHIEF), DRUG TRAFFICKING, AND ARMY OPERATIONS ARE COMMON.

CERJ (RUNUJEL JUNAM COUNCIL OF ETHNIC COMMUNITIES), A RURAL-BASED ORGANIZATION DEDICATED MAINLY TO OPPOSING OBLIGATORY SERVICE IN CIVIL DEFENSE COMMITTEES, HAS BEEN ACCUSED BY THE ARMY OF BEING A GUERRILLA FRONT GROUP. DURING THE YEAR, THREE MEMBERS OF CERJ WERE KILLED, AT LEAST TWO APPARENTLY BY PERSONS PROTECTED BY SECURITY FORCES. ON MARCH 19, MARIA MEJIA (WHOM CONAVIGUA, A

LOCAL WIDOWS ASSOCIATION, ALSO CLAIMED AS A MEMBER) WAS KILLED IN HER HOME NEAR PARRAXTUT, SACAPULAS (QUICHE). HER HUSBAND, PABLO LASTRO TOJIN, WOUNDED IN THE ATTACK, NAMED TWO MEN, BOTH ALLEGEDLY MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AS THE KILLERS. ARRESTED IN MAY, BOTH WENT FREE IN JUNE FOR "LACK OF EVIDENCE." THE ARMY DENIED THEY WERE COMMISSIONERS BUT UNCONFIRMED INFORMATION INDICATES A QUICHE ARMY OFFICER PROMISED THE SUSPECTS QUICK FREEDOM IF THEY AGREED TO BE ARRESTED AND BROUGHT BEFORE A JUDGE. (SEE SEC 4).

ON APRIL 10, MASKED GUNMEN KILLED CERJ ACTIVIST JOSE VICENTE GARCIA IN FRONT OF HIS FAMILY. HE PREVIOUSLY HAD DENOUNCED RECEIVING THREATS. RELIABLE INFORMATION INDICATES THE KILLERS, THOUGH NOT MILITARY, WERE SHIELDED BY ARMY OFFICERS. A KNOWLEDGABLE INDEPENDENT LOCAL OBSERVER STATED THE ACTIVIST WAS PROBABLY KILLED FOR SUSPICION OF "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES."

ON MAY 1, CERJ MEMBER JOSE MARIA IXCAYA WAS KILLED IN SOLOLA AS HE LEFT FOR THE CAPITAL TO PARTICIPATE IN MAY DAY RALLIES. A COUSIN OF HIS PUBLICLY ACCUSED THE ARMY OF THE KILLING; A CREDIBLE SOURCE INDICATED, HOWEVER, IT MIGHT HAVE RESULTED FROM A DISPUTE UNRELATED TO CERJ.

JOSE VIELMAN, SON OF THE CONSERVATIVE HEAD OF A LAWYERS GROUP (JUDE), DIED IN MARCH NEAR A POLICE CHECKPOINT OUTSIDE THE CAPITAL. INITIAL REPORTS PORTRAYED THE DEATH AS RESULTING FROM A BOTCHED ROBBERY ATTEMPT BY HIGHWAYMEN. SUBSEQUENT RELIABLE INFORMATION INDICATES,

HOWEVER, VIELMAN DIED RESISTING POLICE ATTEMPTS TO ROB HIM. AN INTERNAL INVESTIGATION IS REPORTEDLY UNDERWAY.

IN JUNE, LONG-TIME RESIDENT U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE WAS BRUTALLY SLAIN NEAR HIS HOME IN PETEN DEPARTMENT. FIRST REPORTS DEPICTED THE CRIME AS A ROBBERY-MURDER. SUBSEQUENT INFORMATION, HOWEVER, SHOWED THAT ARMY PERSONNEL PARTICIPATED IN THE KILLING. THE MOTIVES REMAIN UNCERTAIN. THE PETEN MILITARY ZONE COMMANDER, SUSPECTED OF SENDING THOSE WHO KILLED DEVINE, WAS REMOVED AND TRANSFERRED TO THE CAPITAL. IN SEPTEMBER, PRESIDENT CEREZO, IN AN UNPRECEDENTED AND WELCOME MOVE, PUBLICLY ACKNOWLEDGED THE POSSIBILITY OF SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT AND PROMISED A FULL INVESTIGATION. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN ALSO INDICATED HE HAD INFORMATION SHOWING POSSIBLE MILITARY INVOLVEMENT. IN SEPTEMBER, THE COURT IN FLORES (PETEN) ISSUED ARREST WARRANTS FOR SEVERAL PERSONS, INCLUDING FOUR SOLDIERS, FOR SUSPICION OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF MR. DEVINE. LATE THAT MONTH, THE ARMY ANNOUNCED THE ARREST OF FOUR SOLDIERS FOR THE CRIME. THE LOCAL PRESS GAVE THIS IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT WIDESPREAD COVERAGE. THE US GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO INSIST THE GUILTY BE BROUGHT TO JUSITCE.

ON JULY 25, CENTRIST CONGRESSMAN OTTO ROLANDO RUANO AND HIS DRIVER WERE KILLED 55 MILES FROM GUATEMALA CITY. THE FOLLOWING MONTH CENTRIST MAYORAL CANDIDATE CELSO MILAGRO GIRON WAS KILLED IN SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS (QUICHE); HE HAD BECOME A CANDIDATE AFTER THE KILLING OF THE PRIOR CANDIDATE, SOLOMON BLANCO. MORE VIOLENCE FOLLOWED IN SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS INCLUDING THE VIOLENT DEATH IN SEPTEMBER OF CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT ACTIVIST SEBASTIAN MORALES. IN AUGUST, THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT MAYOR OF CUYOTENANGO (SUCHITEPEQUEZ), ROBERTO VALLEJOS, WAS SHOT NEAR HIS HOME. HE SURVIVED. AUTHORS AND MOTIVES WERE UNKNOWN.

ON SEPTEMBER 11, MIRNA ELIZABETH MACK CHANG, A GUATEMALAN ACADEMIC RESEARCHING ISSUES AFFECTING DISPLACED PERSONS IN THE HIGHLANDS, WAS STABBED OR CUT 17 TIMES AND KILLED NEAR HER OFFICE IN GUATEMALA CITY.

GAM AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND UNIVERSITY GROUPS DENOUNCED THE KILLING AS POLITICALLY MOTIVATED. INITIAL POLICE REPORTS, HOWEVER, INDICATED ROBBERY AS THE MOTIVE AS THE KILLERS TOOK HER PURSE AND CREDIT CARDS. THE CASE REMAINS UNSOLVED AND THE US GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO PRESS FOR A RESOLUTION.

IN A MAJOR REVERSAL FOR ALREADY WEAK EFFORTS TO HOLD SECURITY FORCES ACCOUNTABLE FOR ABUSES, IN AUGUST AN APPELLATE COURT FOUND "INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE" TO UPHOLD THE 1988 CONVICTIONS AND 30-YEAR PRISON TERMS OF SIX POLICEMEN, INCLUDING A FORMER QUETZALTENANGO POLICE CHIEF, FOR THE 1987 ABDUCTIONS AND MURDERS OF TWO UNIVERSITY-AFFILIATED AGRONOMISTS, RENE LEIVA CAYAX AND

DANILO ALVARADO MEJIA. THE KILLINGS APPARENTLY HAD BEEN CONNECTED WITH A BUS STRIKE AND OTHER LABOR AND CIVIL UNREST IN QUETZALTENANGO AT THE TIME. THIS HAD BEEN THE ONLY CASE IN WHICH MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES WERE ARRESTED, TRIED, CONVICTED, AND SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. POLICE DIRECTOR COL. CABALLEROS SAID HE WOULD NOT ACCEPT THE MEN BACK INTO THE POLICE FORCE. THE GOVERNMENT HAS APPEALED THE COURT'S DECISION TO RESCIND THE CONVICTIONS.

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT SOLVE THE 1989 MURDERS OF 6 UNIVERSITY STUDENTS--THESE WERE AMONG 11 WHO DISAPPEARED (SEE SEC 1B). IT WAS WIDELY THOUGHT AT LEAST SOME CAME UNDER SUSPICION OF PRO-GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES. THERE WAS NO RESOLUTION OF THE AUGUST 1989 MURDER OF CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC POLITICIAN DANILO BARILLAS. THE 1989 KILLING OF GAM (MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP) ACTIVIST AURELIO LORENZO XICAY ALSO REMAINS UNSOLVED; A POLICE REPORT RELEASED IN MARCH STATED XICAY HAD BEEN DRUNK AT THE TIME OF HIS DEATH FROM A BLOW TO THE HEAD. AUTHORITIES DID NOT SOLVE THE 1989 SANQUIN (CHIMALTENANGO) KILLINGS IN WHICH A MILITARY COMMISSIONER, HIS SON, AND THREE OTHERS WERE SLAIN BY MEN WHO MIGHT HAVE BEEN GUERRILLAS. A POLICE REPORT ON THE JULY 1989 DEATH OF FORMER COCA-COLA UNION MEMBER JOSE PANTALEON IDENTIFIED SEVERAL PERSONS AS RESPONSIBLE AND IMPLIED THE KILLING HAD TO DO WITH PERSONAL PROBLEMS. THE NOVEMBER 1988 EL AGUACATE MASSACRE WAS ALSO NOT SOLVED.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS ACTIVE IN SEEKING A RESOLUTION TO SEVERAL OF THESE CASES. AMONG THOSE RECEIVING

PARTICULAR EMPHASIS ARE: THE KILLINGS OF HECTOR OQUELI, RENE FLORES, ELIZABETH CHANG, AND MICHAEL DEVINE; THE DISAPPEARANCES AND MURDERS OF SEVERAL UNIVERSITY STUDENTS; THE KILLINGS OF MINORS BY POLICEMEN; AND THE EL AGUACATE MASSACRE. EFFORTS WERE LIMITED BY THE LEGAL CONSTRAINTS FACING A DIPLOMATIC MISSION AND LIMITATIONS OF PERSONNEL, TIME, AND INVESTIGATORY EXPERTISE.

B. DISAPPEARANCE

THERE WERE NO COMPLETELY RELIABLE FIGURES FOR 1990 ON THE NUMBER OF DISAPPEARED PERSONS. ACCORDING TO AN OFFICIAL REPORT RELEASED EARLY IN 1990, AUTHORITIES KNEW OF 2,588 DISAPPEARANCES FROM ALL CAUSES JANUARY 1989 - JANUARY 1990. THE REPORT STATED THE POLICE RESOLVED 1,763 OF THOSE: 1,537 WERE FOUND SAFE, 35 IN HOSPITALS, AND 191 DEAD. OF THE REMAINING 825, POLICE CLAIMED 198 CONSISTED OF FALSE REPORTS AND 206 OF PERSONS WHO HAD REAPPEARED BUT HAD NOT BEEN REPORTED AS SUCH. THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN CALCULATED GUATEMALA SUFFERED SOME 200 POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DISAPPEARANCES DURING 1990. GIVEN THAT THERE IS NO SOLID EVIDENCE OF CLANDESTINE PRISONS, A VALID ASSUMPTION IS THAT MOST OF THE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DISAPPEARANCES ENDED IN DEATH. ACCORDING TO THE OMBUDSMAN, MOST OCCURRED IN CONFLICTIVE AREAS AND WERE

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

OF PERSONS BELIEVED INVOLVED IN GUERRILLA ACTIONS. THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO SOLVE THE DISAPPEARANCES. THE OMBUDSMAN CONCLUDED SECURITY FORCES BORE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE MAJORITY OF THESE TYPES OF DISAPPEARANCES. THE OMBUDSMAN'S CALCULATIONS AND CONCLUSIONS SEEM REASONABLE.

IN JANUARY, THE SON OF A PROMINENT LEFTIST JOURNALIST TOLD OF BEING ABDUCTED AND BRIEFLY HELD BY PERSONS

APPARENTLY CONNECTED TO THE SECURITY FORCES. HIS CAPTORS, ACCORDING TO HIM, CARRIED AUTOMATIC WEAPONS AND DROVE A RADIO-EQUIPPED VEHICLE OF A TYPE USUALLY ASSOCIATED WITH THE MILITARY PRESIDENTIAL GUARD. ACCORDING TO THIS ACCOUNT, HE WAS QUERIED ABOUT

IN FEBRUARY, TWO DISAPPEARANCES IN THE CAPITAL DREW MUCH FOREIGN AND LOCAL ATTENTION, PROMPTING A RESOLUTION BY GUATEMALA'S CONGRESS CALLING FOR THE VICTIMS' RELASE AND FOR AUTHORITIES TO PREVENT AND RESOLVE THESE SORTS OF INCIDENTS. BOTH CASES ENDED, FORTUNATELY, IN RELEASE OF THE VICTIMS. THE ASSUMPTION WAS PIEDRASANTA WAS SUSPECTED OF "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES." HE REPORTEDLY HAS LEFT GUATEMALA.

ON FEBRUARY 10, DR. CARMEN ANGELICA VALENZUELA ARGUETA, A PEDIATRICIAN, WAS PULLED FROM HER CAR IN THE CAPITAL BY ARMED MEN IN A FOUR-WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLE WITH TINTED WINDOWS. THE DAYLIGHT KIDNAPING LED TO A STRONG PUBLIC

DEMAND FOR HER RELEASE AND TO FOREIGN EMBASSIES, INCLUDING THE U.S., WORKING TO THAT END. FREED FEBRUARY 18, SHE MADE NO PUBLIC STATEMENTS, AND LEFT FOR ABROAD. MOTIVES FOR THE ABDUCTION GENERATED SPECULATION RANGING FROM SUSPICION OF POSSIBLE INVOLVEMENT WITH GUERRILLA SYMPATHIZERS TO THE BELIEF SHE WAS ABOUT TO REVEAL RAMPANT CORRUPTION IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH.

IN APRIL, GUERRILLAS ABDUCTED TWO OFF-DUTY SOLDIERS IN THE PETEN. THE SEIZURE TOOK PLACE DURING A UNILATERALLY DECLARED HOLY WEEK CEASE FIRE BY THE GUERRILLAS. THE SOLDIERS WERE EVENTUALLY FREED.

LUIS MIGUEL SOLIS PAJARITO, MEMBER OF A DISPLACED PERSONS ORGANIZATION, CONDEG, DISAPPEARED MAY 3 IN THE CAPITAL. HIS WIFE, A GAM MEMBER, LABELED THE MILITARY RESPONSIBLE AND ALLEGED HE WAS IN ONE OF THE CAPITAL'S MILITARY FACILITIES. SHE FILED WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS WITH NO RESULT. SHE HAS SUBSEQUENTLY ALLEGED RECEIVING THREATS. THE DISAPPEARANCE LED TO PROTESTS, INCLUDING GAM'S TAKE-OVER THE OFFICE OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC). GIVEN THAT SOME

TWO CERJ MEMBERS DISAPPEARED IN JULY. ON JULY 2, ARMED MEN IN TWO PICK-UP TRUCKS APPARENTLY SEIZED PEDRO TIU CAC IN CHAJAB, RACANA (TOTONICAPAN). SAMUEL DE LA CRUZ GOMEZ, REPORTEDLY A MEMBER BOTH OF CERJ AND OF LEFTIST CUC (COMMITTEE OF CAMPESINO UNITY), WAS TAKEN NEAR ZACUALPA (QUICHE) JULY 12 APPARENTLY BY AN ARMY PATROL. GUNFIRE INJURED TWO PERSONS TRYING TO SAVE DE LA CRUZ GOMEZ FROM HIS CAPTORS. NEIGHBORS CAPTURED A MAN THEY SAID WAS A MILITARY COMMISSIONER--HE DENIED IT--AND TOOK HIM TO SANTA CRUZ DEL QUICHE WHERE HE WAS JAILED. THE ALLEGED COMMISSIONER WAS EVENTUALLY FREED FOLLOWING LAB EVIDENCE HE HAD NOT FIRED A WEAPON AND TESTIMONY PLACING HIM ELSEWHERE AT THE TIME OF THE DISAPPEARANCE.

THE UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION (AEU) REPORTED THE AUGUST 1 DISAPPEARANCE OF LAW STUDENT ANIBAL PALMA. THE 30-YEAR OLD MAN ALLEGEDLY WAS TAKEN BY SEVERAL ARMED MEN IN THE CAPITAL. THE AEU FILED A COMPLAINT WITH THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. ALSO IN AUGUST, MILITARY COMMISSIONER SERGIO GOMEZ WAS REPORTED ABDUCTED BY SEVEN HEAVILY ARMED GUERRILLAS IN OLIVE GREEN UNIFORMS NEAR CONFLICTIVE TAJUMULCO (SAN MARCOS), THE MAIN AREA FOR ORPA (ARMED REVOLUTIONARY ORGANIZATION OF THE PEOPLE). NO FURTHER INFORMATION WAS AVAILABLE.

FOUR CERJ MEMBERS WHO DISAPPEARED APRIL 1989 IN SUCHITEPEQUEZ WERE NOT FOUND; THE ASSUMPTION IS THAT THE MEN ARE DEAD. THERE WAS NO RESOLUTION OF THE

THE AUGUST 1989 DISAPPEARANCE OF GAM MEMBER RUMALDA CAMEY REMAINS UNSOLVED.

NO PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN THE KIDNAPING NOVEMBER 2-3, 1989 OF U.S. CITIZEN NUN DIANA ORTIZ. A POLICE INVESTIGATION AND OFFICIAL STATEMENTS CAST DOUBT ON HER CLAIM OF HAVING BEEN ABDUCTED FROM A RELIGIOUS RETREAT IN ANTIGUA (SACATEPEQUEZ) BY SECURITY FORCES AND TORTURED IN A CLANDESTINE CHAMBER. SOON AFTER HER ESCAPE, ORTIZ LEFT GUATEMALA. DESPITE MANY REQUESTS, ORTIZ HAS NOT PROVIDED FURTHER INFORMATION TO GUATEMALAN OR U.S. OFFICIALS. THE CASE REMAINS OPEN WITH LACK OF INFORMATION FROM ORTIZ HAMPERING SERIOUS INVESTIGATION. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO PRESS ON ALL PARTIES THE IMPORTANCE OF RESOLVING THIS CASE.

TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

THERE WERE NO VERIFIED REPORTS OF INHUMAN OR CRUEL TREATMENT OF DETAINEES IN OFFICIAL CUSTODY. THERE WERE, HOWEVER, CREDIBLE REPORTS OF EXCESSIVE FORCE BY POLICE AT THE TIME OF ARREST AND OF DEGRADING TREATMENT BY ARMY, CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND POLICE OF PERSONS IN RURAL AREAS. PRISON CONDITIONS WERE TOUGH: PENAL AUTHORITIES WERE HAMPERED BY OVERCROWDING AND LACK OF FUNDS AND TRAINED PERSONNEL.

THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF MISTREATMENT AND EVEN TORTURE LEADING TO THE DEATHS OF PERSONS DETAINED EXTRAJUDICIALLY. PERSONS WHO ESCAPED FROM OR WERE RELEASED BY CAPTORS APPARENTLY LINKED TO THE SECURITY FORCES, RELATED ACCOUNTS OF PHYSICAL AND MENTAL ABUSE.

MANY OF THE BODIES FOUND THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA BEAR SIGNS OF TORTURE OR POST MORTEM MUTILATION. SOME HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS VIEW SIGNS OF TORTURE AS PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE A CRIME IS POLITICAL IN MOTIVE. THAT CONCLUSION IS NOT LIMITED OFFICIAL USE
LIMITED OFFICIAL USE

VALID: CRIMINAL GANGS AND OTHERS RESOLVING PERSONAL VENDETTAS OFTEN USE TORTURE.

ONE VERY DISTURBING DEVELOPMENT WAS CREDIBLE INFORMATION OF SEVERE MISTREATMENT AND EVEN MURDER BY POLICEMEN OF STREET CHILDREN. THESE HOMELESS CHILDREN OFTEN ENGAGE IN PROSTITUTION AND OTHER CRIMES AND FREQUENTLY USE DANGEROUS INHALANTS, SUCH AS PAINT THINNER AND SHOEMAKERS' GLUE. AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL ISSUED A REPORT IN JULY DISCUSSING SOME OF THESE ABUSES AND REPORTED THREATS AGAINST PERSONS AND GROUPS WORKING WITH STREET CHILDREN. POLICE OFFICIALS WERE WORKING TO RESOLVE THESE CASES AND HAD UNDERTAKEN SEVERAL INVESTIGATIONS. FOUR POLICEMEN WERE ARRESTED IN JUNE FOR THE MURDER OF MINOR NAHAMON CARMONA. THE US GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN ACTIVE FOR SOME TIME IN PRESSING FOR AN END TO THIS PARTICULARLY REPREHENSIBLE ABUSE.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

HOURS WITHOUT BRINGING HIM TO A JUDGE. THE LAW PROVIDES FOR BAIL, ACCESS TO LAWYERS, AND LIMITS TO 20 DAYS THE TIME ANYONE MAY BE HELD FOR INVESTIGATION, AFTER WHICH HE MUST BE CHARGED OR RELEASED. AUTHORITIES MUST PRODUCE DETAINEES ON REQUEST. EXILE IS NOT USED.

ALLEGATIONS OF ARBITRARY ARREST OR DETENTION BY POLICE, AS DISTINCT FROM OTHER SECURITY FORCES, WERE INFREQUENT. THERE WERE NO VERIFIED CASES OF ARRESTS OF

POLITICAL OPPONENTS FOR THEIR BELIEFS. WHILE THERE WAS NO GOOD EVIDENCE OF "SECRET" PRISONS WHERE LENGTHY ILLEGAL INCARCERATIONS TOOK PLACE, THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF SECURITY FORCE "SAFEHOUSES" USED TO CONDUCT BRIEF ILLEGAL DETENTIONS, INTERROGATIONS, AND, AT TIMES, TORTURE AND MURDER. WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS ARE, AS EXPECTED, IGNORED BY THOSE CONDUCTING ILLEGAL ARRESTS.

(TOTONICAPAN). POLICE OFFICERS, ACCORDING TO CERJ, THREATENED TO LABEL HIM A SUBVERSIVE UNLESS PAID A BRIBE. PU WAS FREED AFTER APPARENTLY PAYING THE SOLICITED BRIBE. THE STORY COULD NOT BE CONFIRMED. ALSO IN JULY, A JUDGE IN HUEHUETENANGO ORDERED THE ARREST OF A CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL LEADER FOR THE ILLEGAL DETENTION OF A MINOR. THE JUDGE REPORTED DEATH THREATS. THERE WAS NO CONFIRMATION ON THE ARREST.

ON AUGUST 17, DAILY "EL GRAFICO," OWNED BY CENTRIST UCN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO, REPORTED UCN ACTIVIST MAXIMILIANO VASQUEZ WAS ARRESTED BY A MILITARY COMMISSIONER BECAUSE OF POLITICAL ACTIVITIES. IN A LETTER THE NEXT DAY, THE ARMY SPOKESMAN DENIED THE CLAIM, STATING VASQUEZ WAS ARRESTED BY POLICE ON CRIMINAL CHARGES; A POLICE SOURCE SUPPORTED THAT VERSION.

IN SEPTEMBER, CERJ DENOUNCED THAT 86 PERSONS FROM IN AND AROUND AMACHEL (QUICHE) HAD BEEN FORCIBLY TRANSPORTED TO AND WERE BEING ILLEGALLY HELD AT A MILITARY INSTALLATION IN NEBAJ (QUICHE). THE OMBUDSMAN AND THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT TRAVELED TO QUICHE TO INVESTIGATE THIS

ALLEGATION. THEY COULD NOT CONFIRM ALLEGATIONS OF SEVERE MISTREATMENT NOR DID THEY FIND THAT THE PERSONS WERE BEING HELD AT A MILITARY BASE. IT WAS NOT CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT THOSE TAKEN TO NEBAJ FROM HIGHLY CONFLICTIVE AMACHEL HAD MOVED OF THEIR OWN FREE WILL.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

THE CONSTITUTION CALLS FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY MADE OF A COURT OF CONSTITUTIONALITY, A SUPREME COURT, APPEAL COURTS, AND SEVERAL COURTS OF SPECIAL JURISDICTION. MILITARY COURTS HAVE JURISDICTION ONLY OVER THE ARMY, INCLUDING MILITARY COMMISSIONERS. CIVILIAN TRIALS ARE PUBLIC; DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AND TO LEGAL REPRESENTATION. CONVICTIONS ARE AUTOMATICALLY REVIEWED BY AN APPEALS COURT. THERE WERE NO POLITICAL PRISONERS. DESPITE REFORM EFFORTS, HOWEVER, THE JUDICIARY REMAINED TROUBLED, SUFFERING CORRUPTION, LOW MORALE AND POOR PAY.

IN JANUARY, AN APPEALS COURT REDUCED THE SENTENCES OF

THOSE CONVICTED OF ATTEMPTING THE OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT IN MAY 1989. ALL OF THE PLOTTERS WENT FREE IN FEBRUARY, DESPITE OPPOSITION FROM THE ARMY COMMAND.

A U.S.-FUNDED MODEL COURT PROGRAM RUN BY HARVARD UNIVERSITY ENDED AND WAS NOT RENEWED. THOSE RUNNING THE PROGRAM EXPRESSED FRUSTRATION WITH THE LACK OF WILL ON THE PART OF AUTHORITIES TO REFORM THE NATION'S COURT SYSTEM AND TO UNDERTAKE PROSECUTIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS OFFENDERS. ON THE MORE POSITIVE SIDE, THE CONGRESS BEGAN DEBATE OF A RADICAL REVISION OF THE PENAL CODE WHICH WOULD MODERNIZE, SPEED UP, AND PRESUMABLY MAKE THE JUSTICE SYSTEM MORE RESPONSIVE AND ACCESSIBLE TO THE COMMON PERSON. THE PROPOSED NEW CODE, WHILE WELCOME, WOULD STILL FACE A CONSTITUTIONAL RESTRICTION ON TRYING MILITARY IN CIVILIAN COURTS, THEREBY LIMITING THE ABILITY OF THOSE COURTS TO ACT AGAINST HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSERS IN UNIFORM.

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, THROUGH ITS ICITAP PROGRAM, TRAINED POLICE PERSONNEL--OVER SIX HUNDRED SINCE THE START OF THE CEREZO ADMINISTRATION--IN A RANGE OF MODERN CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES. MANY OF THOSE TRAINED, HOWEVER, WERE SUBSEQUENTLY NOT EMPLOYED

ON THE POLICE OR LEFT OUT OF FRUSTRATION OVER AN INABILITY TO USE THEIR SKILLS. THE NEW POLICE DIRECTOR PROMISED TO MAKE AN EFFORT TO KEEP SUCH TRAINED PERSONNEL AND TO MAKE USE OF THEIR TALENTS. AS 1990 ENDED, HE HAD MADE A START TO THIS END.

THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INVIOLABILITY OF HOME, CORRESPONDENCE, AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS. WHILE THIS PROVISION WAS USUALLY RESPECTED, THERE WERE EXCEPTIONS. HEAVY-HANDED ARMY EFFORTS TO ENFORCE THE MILITARY DRAFT LAW RESULTED IN PERSONS TAKEN OFF THE STREETS OR IN HOMES WITHOUT A COURT ORDER. SIMILAR CHARGES WERE MADE AGAINST MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WHO SOUGHT TO ENFORCE THE DRAFT IN RURAL AREAS. ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, FOR EXAMPLE, ARMANDO MONTOYA OF EL PROGRESO (JUTIAPA) STATED

THAT ON SEPTEMBER 2, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS SHOT HIM IN THE COURSE OF EFFORTS TO DRAFT HIM.

THE CONSTITUTION REQUIRES SELF-DEFENSE ORGANIZATIONS TO BE VOLUNTARY. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, RESPONDING TO A REQUEST FROM CERJ, FOUND THAT WHILE THE DECREE CREATING THE CIVIL DEFENSE COMMITTEES AND PATROLS WAS CONSTITUTIONAL, FORCED PARTICIPATION EXISTED IN VIOLATION OF THE DECREE AND THE CONSTITUTION. IN MARCH, THE CHAIRMEN OF THE CONGRESSIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE DEFENSE COMMITTEES GAVE SIMILAR OPINIONS. IN MOST PARTS OF THE COUNTRY, SELF-DEFENSE COMMITTEES AND PATROLS APPEAR LARGELY VOLUNTARY. THE ARMY DENIES IT PRESSURES, THREATENS, OR PERSECUTES THOSE WHO ADVOCATE AGAINST THE COMMITTEES OR WHO REFUSE TO JOIN. THERE IS, HOWEVER, CREDIBLE EVIDENCE THAT SUCH PERSONS SUFFERED SERIOUS ABUSES, INCLUDING MURDER (SEC. 1.A).

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

THE 30-YEAR ARMED INTERNAL CONFLICT CONTINUED. THERE WERE ACCUSATIONS OF INDISCRIMINATE USE OF AIRCRAFT AND ARTILLERY ON CIVILIAN TARGETS. THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN LOOKED INTO REPORTS OF A MAJOR AERIAL ATTACK ON A SMALL COMMUNITY IN QUICHE; A DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN COULD FIND NO EVIDENCE OF BOMBING. GIVEN THE SMALL, TIGHTLY CONTROLLED AERIAL AND ARTILLERY ASSETS, CHARGES OF "CARPET" BOMBING, MASS ARTILLERY BARRAGES, AND ATTACKS BY HELICOPTER GUNSHIPS ARE NOT CREDIBLE.

THE YEAR BEGAN WITH INCREASED GUERRILLA MILITARY ACTIVITY, INCLUDING ATTACKS ON THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE, SUCH AS BRIDGES, FARMS, ROADS, ELECTRICAL PYLONS, ROAD MAINTENANCE AND TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT, PROMPTING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN TO DENOUNCE THE GUERRILLAS AS VIOLATORS OF HUMAN RIGHTS. IN FEBRUARY, A GUERRILLA UNIT ATTACKED AN ARMY PATROL INSIDE THE TOWN OF SANTA MARIA DE JESUS, 12 MILES FROM

THE CAPITAL. THE ENSUING BATTLE KILLED THREE SMALL CHILDREN. PERSISTENT GUERRILLA EFFORTS TO CUT MAJOR ROADS RESULTED IN THE DEATHS OF CIVILIANS CAUGHT IN THE FIRE BETWEEN GUERRILLAS AND SECURITY FORCES. THERE IS RELIABLE INFORMATION INDICATING GUERRILLAS TARGETED POLICEMEN FOR MURDER. DURING 1990, GUERRILLAS BRIEFLY OVERRAN SEVERAL COMMUNITIES AND FORCED RESIDENTS TO GATHER FOR PROPAGANDA MEETINGS. IN MAY, GUERRILLAS IN HUEHUETENANGO AMBUSHED A CIVILIAN TRUCK TRANSPORTING SICK AND INJURED SOLDIERS IN CIVILIAN DRESS TO HOSPITAL; EIGHT WERE KILLED.

IN AUGUST, THERE WAS A RELIABLE REPORT THAT A GUERRILLA-LAID "CLAYMORE" MINE KILLED TWO SMALL GIRLS IN QUICHE. THE MINE WAS APPARENTLY ACTIVATED BY ONE OF THE CHILDREN.

ON AUGUST 31, GUERRILLAS IN THE PETEN OVERRAN AND DESTROYED A MEDICAL-DENTAL COMPOUND OPERATED BY A LONG-RESIDENT AMERICAN MISSIONARY FAMILY, THE STOLTZFUZ. THE COMPOUND WAS DESTROYED, MEDICAL SUPPLIES STOLEN, AND THE FAMILY HELD AT GUNPOINT AND THREATENED WITH DEATH UNLESS THEY LEFT GUATEMALA. A PRESS RELEASE FROM THE GUERRILLA-CONTROLLED NEWS AGENCY CERIGUA CLAIMED GUERRILLAS CARRIED OUT THE ATTACK IN RETALIATION FOR THE FAMILY'S ALLEGED SUPPORT OF THE ARMY, I.E., THE

MISSIONARIES HAD TREATED SERIOUSLY WOUNDED SOLDIERS. ONE OF THE AMERICANS SUFFERED FURTHER HARASSMENT APPARENTLY AT THE HANDS OF GUERRILLAS IN THE CAPITAL.

DESPITE PROMISES NOT TO INTERFERE WITH ELECTIONS, CREDIBLE REPORTS INDICATED GUERRILLA EFFORTS TO PREVENT PEOPLE FROM TAKING PART IN POLITICAL ACTIVITY.

GUERRILLAS ALSO REPORTEDLY TRIED TO PREVENT RURAL PEOPLE FROM PARTICIPATING IN INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATIONS. GUERRILLAS USED CHILDREN AS YOUNG AS 13 YEARS OLD IN COMBAT. THERE WAS LITTLE RELIABLE INFORMATION IN 1990 ON THE FATE OF CAPTURED GUERRILLAS. INFORMATION FROM OTHER YEARS, HOWEVER, INDICATES SUCH PERSONS OFTEN FACED TORTURE AND DEATH. SOME, HOWEVER, DID AVAIL THEMSELVES OF AMNESTY, COOPERATING WITH THE ARMY, AND RECEIVED GOOD TREATMENT: ONE SUCH PRISONER WAS A 14-YEAR-OLD GUERRILLA WHO HAD BEEN RECRUITED FROM A REFUGEE CAMP IN MEXICO AND TURNED HIMSELF OVER TO THE ARMY IN MARCH.

THE FIRST TALKS TOOK PLACE IN MARCH IN OSLO BETWEEN THE CNR AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUERRILLA UMBRELLA ORGANIZATION, THE URNG (GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY) WHICH CONSISTS OF THREE GUERRILLA MOVEMENTS AND A FACTION OF THE ILLEGAL COMMUNIST PARTY (PGT). THE NEXT TALKS WERE IN MADRID IN MAY BETWEEN THE URNG AND REPRESENTATIVES OF GUATEMALA'S LEGAL POLITICAL PARTIES. THE MAJOR PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATION, CACIF, MET THE URNG IN OTTAWA AT THE END OF AUGUST. CHURCH LEADERS HELD TALKS WITH THE URNG IN QUITO IN LATE SEPTEMBER WITH "POPULAR ASSOCIATIONS" SCHEDULED TO MEET THE URNG IN MEXICO OCTOBER/NOVEMBER. THE TALKS ARE TO CULMINATE IN A MEETING BETWEEN GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES AND THE URNG. THESE TALKS ARE THE MOST PROMISING DEVELOPMENT IN YEARS AND HOLD OUT HOPE THE WAR COULD END IN COMING MONTHS. THE WAR CONTINUES TO SERVE AS THE PRINCIPAL JUSTIFICATION FOR THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES SUFFERED IN GUATEMALA.

SECTION 2

RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION; THERE WERE NO SIGNS OF OFFICIALLY ORDERED OR SANCTIONED EFFORTS TO RESTRICT IT. VOCAL CRITICS OF THE GOVERNMENT, PARTICULARLY IN THIS ELECTION YEAR, HAD WIDESPREAD MEDIA ACCESS. IN 1990, A NEW DAILY, "SIGLO

XXI," APPEARED AND TOOK A LINE GENERALLY CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT. THE OTHER THREE MAJOR PAPERS WERE ALSO CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT, ONE OPENLY FAVORED AN OPPOSITION PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE: ITS OWNER. HIGHLY CRITICAL PRESS RELEASES, PAID ADVERTISEMENTS, AND OTHER PRONOUNCEMENTS BY POLITICAL PARTIES, PRIVATE SECTOR GROUPS, LABOR UNIONS, HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, GUERRILLA GROUPS, AND GUERRILLA-FRONTS SUCH AS CPR AND CERIGUA (SEE SEC 1. G) RAN WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE. FOREIGN FILMS, T.V. PROGRAMS, BOOKS, MAGAZINES, AND NEWSPAPERS WERE AVAILABLE, LIMITED BY COST AND HARD CURRENCY CONCERNS.

THERE CONTINUED TO BE "SELF-CENSORSHIP" ON CERTAIN TOPICS. JOURNALISTS ABANDONED SOME THEMES OR WATERED DOWN CONCLUSIONS RATHER THAN TEST THE LIMITS OF TOLERANCE OF CERTAIN GROUPS, PARTICULARLY IN THE SECURITY FORCES. THERE WAS NO PRESS DISCUSSION, FOR EXAMPLE, OF CORRUPTION IN THE ARMY, ALTHOUGH CIVILIAN CORRUPTION WAS AN ELECTORAL ISSUE. THERE WAS, NEVERTHELESS, THOROUGH COVERAGE GIVEN CHARGES BY THE U.S. EMBASSY THAT AN ACTIVE-DUTY MILITARY ADVISOR TO PRESIDENT CEREZO, THE HEAD OF A NOW DEFUNCT PRESIDENTIAL ANTI-CORRUPTION UNIT, WAS INVOLVED IN DRUG TRAFFICKING. THE PRESS, HOWEVER, RAN NO INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATION.

B.. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

THE CONSTITUTION RECOGNIZES THE RIGHT OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION. PARADES, RALLIES, MARCHES, FORUMS, PUBLIC DEBATES, AND SEMINARS TOOK PLACE OPENLY AND FREELY THROUGHOUT 1990. POLITICAL PARTIES REGISTERED LARGE NUMBERS OF CANDIDATES AND MEMBERS.

ORGANIZATIONS NEED LEGAL ASSOCIATION STATUS, A CUMBERSOME AND EXPENSIVE PROCEDURE WHICH WORKS AGAINST ORGANIZATIONS WITHOUT GOOD FUNDING OR LEGAL EXPERTISE. AS THE YEAR ENDED, FORE EXAMPLE, CERJ EFFORTS TO BECOME A REGISTERED ORGANIZATION HAD STILL NOT PROSPERED AFTER 18 MONTHS. THE LACK OF LEGAL ASSOCIATION STATUS, HOWEVER, DID NOT PREVENT A LARGE NUMBER OF ASSOCIATIONS, INCLUDING CERJ AND OTHERS WITH INTERNATIONAL TIES, FROM

SOME HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS, SUCH AS GAM, CONAVIGUA, AND POSSIBLY CERJ, SHOWED A WILLINGNESS TO ENGAGE IN CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE AND ILLEGAL AND EVEN VIOLENT ACTIONS. IN MAY, THE GAM, PROTESTING THE DISAPPEARANCE OF SOLIS PAJARITO, ILLEGALLY OCCUPIED FOR SEVERAL DAYS THE OFFICES OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC). GAM ALSO THREATENED TO OCCUPY THE OFFICES OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN BUT WAS DISSUADED BY A WARNING FROM THE OMBUDSMAN THAT HE WOULD NOT TOLERATE ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES ON THE OFFICE'S PROPERTY. GAM WAS ALSO INVOLVED IN THE OCCUPATION OF THE CAVISA BOTTLING PLANT (SEE SEC 6). BRIGADAS DE GAM PERSONNEL EXCHANGED

THE MARCH TURNED VIOLENT WHEN, ACCORDING TO GAM AND OTHER WITNESSES, PATROL MEMBERS BEGAN PELTING THE MARCHERS WITH ROCKS; OTHER EYEWITNESS ACCOUNTS, HOWEVER, HAVE THE FIRST ROCKS THROWN BY MARCHERS. GAM AND CONAVIGUA ORGANIZED A DEMONSTRATION IN JUNE IN PACOC (QUICHE) WHICH TURNED VIOLENT WHEN, ACCORDING TO A

RELIABLE EYEWITNESS, THE DEMONSTRATORS PELTED TWO LOCAL POLICEMEN WITH ROCKS. SOME DEMONSTRATORS LATER CLAIMED THERE HAD BEEN AN ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP THEM--THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE OF SUCH AN ATTEMPT. PERSONS CLAIMING TO BELONG TO CERJ AND BOASTING OF THE PROTECTION AFFORDED THEM BY THEIR INTERNATIONAL TIES WERE RELIABLY REPORTED BY AN EYEWITNESS TO HAVE ENGAGED IN PUBLIC THREATS AGAINST OFFICIALS IN ZACUALPA (QUICHE).

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

THERE IS NO STATE RELIGION. RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IS GUARANTEED IN THE CONSTITUTION AND RESPECTED IN PRACTICE. WHILE 70 PERCENT OF THE POPULACE IS NOMINALLY ROMAN CATHOLIC, MANY INDIANS MIX TRADITIONAL AND CATHOLIC BELIEFS. A LARGE NUMBER OF OTHER FAITHS WORK FREELY IN GUATEMALA: OVER 25 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION ADHERES TO A VARIETY OF PROTESTANT DENOMINATIONS, MANY WITH INTERNATIONAL TIES. AS A RULE, FOREIGN PRIESTS AND MISSIONARIES WORKED WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE. GUATEMALA HAS MORMON, JEWISH, BAHA'I, BUDDHIST, JEHOVA WITNESS, AND ISLAMIC COMMUNITIES.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, REPATRIATION

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT RESTRICT FOREIGN TRAVEL; CRITICS TRAVELED ABROAD FREELY AND RETURNED. GOVERNMENT DOES NOT REVOKE CITIZENSHIP FOR POLITICAL REASONS. MOVEMENT WITHIN GUATEMALA WAS GENERALLY UNHINDERED EXCEPT IN CONFLICTIVE AREAS. GUERRILLAS OF THE EGP (GUERRILLA ARMY OF THE POOR) CONTINUED TO MAINTAIN TIGHT CONTROL OVER SEVERAL VILLAGES IN NORTHERN QUICHE AND SEVERELY RESTRICTED THE TRAVEL OF RESIDENTS WITH THREATS OF VIOLENCE AND GENEROUS USE OF LAND MINES. SOME PERSONS IN CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS CLAIMED THEIR FREEDOM TO TRAVEL FROM THEIR VILLAGES, PARTICULARLY DURING THE SUGAR HARVEST ON THE COAST WHERE MANY WORK, IS RESTRICTED BY PATROL LEADERS WHO DEMAND PAYMENTS FOR THE DAYS AN INDIVIDUAL WILL MISS PATROL DUTIES.

OUTCOME OF ELECTIONS IN GUATEMALA; OTHERS HAD CLEARLY ESTABLISHED ROOTS IN MEXICO AND WILL PROBABLY NOT RETURN. THE GOVERNMENT WELCOMED THE RETURN OF THE REFUGEES AND EFFORTS WERE MADE TO SETTLE THEM QUICKLY. THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF GUERRILLA EFFORTS TO DISSUADE REFUGEES FROM RETURNING TO CERTAIN AREAS.

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT HINDER INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS VISITING AND WORKING IN GUATEMALA. SENIOR OFFICIALS MET REPRESENTATIVES OF THESE GROUPS, INCLUDING AW, WOLA, AI, AND A GROUP LOOKING INTO THE ALLEGED ABDUCTION OF AMERICAN CITIZEN DIANA ORTIZ (SEC 1.B). UN AND OAS REPRESENTATIVES ALSO VISITED. SOME FOREIGN HUMAN RIGHTS-RELATED GROUPS--BRIGADAS DE GAM, PEACE BRIGADES INTERNATIONAL, AND WITNESSES FOR PEACE--SET UP PERMANENT PRESENCE WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE. THE GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, PROVED SENSITIVE TO OUTSIDE CRITICISM OF ITS HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD, LABELING IT AS POLITICAL. PRESIDENT CEREZO STATED U.S. GOVERNMENT CRITICISM WAS DRIVEN BY A DESIRE "TO PAY BACK" GUATEMALA FOR ITS FOREIGN POLICY INDEPENDENCE. GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD CAME UNDER CRITICISM AT THE UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, ALTHOUGH AN EFFORT TO REESTABLISH A HUMAN RIGHTS RAPPORTEUR FOR GUATEMALA DID NOT PROSPER. THE UN DEBATE DREW CONSIDERABLE PUBLIC, PRESS, AND OFFICIAL ATTENTION.

THE OFFICE ISSUED STRONG STATEMENTS CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT AND THE SECURITY FORCES AND REPORTED IT HAD INFORMATION WHICH INDICATED A POSSIBLE INVOLVEMENT BY MILITARY IN MURDER OF U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE (SEC. 1. A). DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ RISKED HIS LIFE IN MARCH TO SAVE CERJ LEADER AMILCAR MENDEZ FROM AN ATTACK BY CIVIL PATROLMEN IN PARRAXTUT; ALVAREZ AND MENDEZ WERE ESCORTING RETURNING FAMILIES WHO FLED PARRAXTUT IN THE WAKE OF THE MEJIA KILLING (SEC 1.A) WHEN THEY WERE SET UPON. MENDEZ MANAGED TO FLEE BUT ALVAREZ WAS HELD AND THREATENED WITH DEATH. SOME DAYS LATER THE PATROL MEMBERS APOLOGIZED TO ALVAREZ; NO CRIMINAL CHARGES WERE FILED AGAINST THE ATTACKERS. THE FAMILIES RESUMED LIVING IN PARRAXTUT, BUT REPORTEDLY NOT ON A FULL-TIME BASIS. THE OFFICE DID NOT EMIT A LONG-AWAITED REPORT ON THE 1988 EL AGUACATE MASSACRE; THE OMBUDSMAN COULD REACH NO CONCLUSION AMONG MUCH CONFLICTING EVIDENCE.

LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS REMAINED HIGHLY POLITICIZED. THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, ENGAGED IN LITTLE ACTIVITY AND SEEMED MORE INTERESTED IN EFFORTS TO DEFEND THE OFFICIAL RECORD AT THE UN THAN IN CARRYING OUT WORK IN GUATEMALA. LOCAL

STRINGENT REQUIREMENTS IN ORDER TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS, WHICH CONTRIBUTES TO THE SMALL PERCENTAGE OF UNIONIZED WORKERS. WHILE STATUTES SET A LIMIT OF A FEW DAYS FOR PROCESSING OF APPLICATIONS, DELAYS OF MONTHS OR YEARS ARE NOT UNUSUAL. THERE WERE SEVERAL PROPOSALS FOR REFORMING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS. ILO EXPERTS HELPED WRITE A DRAFT LABOR CODE THAT LIMITS OFFICIALS TO CERTIFYING WORKERS JOINED OF THEIR OWN WILL. THE PROPOSAL REMAINED IN CONGRESS. DESPITE HURDLES, 29 LEGAL UNIONS WERE FORMED IN 1990 WITH 14 MORE APPROVED AND AWAITING OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION. THERE WAS A SOLIDARISMO MOVEMENT WHICH CRITICS LABELED AN EMPLOYER-INSPIRED RIVAL TO GENUINE UNIONS. THE LABOR MINISTRY DID NOT REGISTER SOLIDARISMO ORGANIZATIONS.

UNION LEADERS MUST SHOW THEY HAVE NO CRIMINAL RECORD, WORK AT THE COMPANY BEING UNIONIZED, AND CAN READ. THEY MAY SERVE ONLY ONE TERM, BUT BY ROTATING OFFICES THE SAME PERSONS STAY ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS. LEADERS REMAINED AS LONG AS THEY HAD GRASS ROOTS SUPPORT. LEGAL RESTRICTIONS ON POLITICAL ACTIVITY BY UNION LEADERS WERE NOT ENFORCED; SEVERAL WERE CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS AND ACTIVELY TOOK PART IN ELECTIONEERING. UNIONS ARE REQUIRED TO HAVE A MINIMUM OF 20 MEMBERS, BUT A CRAFT UNION OF SKILLED WORKERS FROM SEVERAL COMPANIES IS

OBTAIN A STRIKE VOTE BY WORKERS IN THE SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM, BUT AT YEAR'S END THE COUNTING OF BALLOTS WAS IN SUSPENSE. A MAJOR STRIKE INVOLVED THE OCCUPATION OF THE CAVISA GLASS FACTORY, SUPPOSEDLY OVER THE ISSUE OF JOB STABILITY. MANAGEMENT REFUSED TO BARGAIN UNTIL WORKERS WITHDREW FROM THE FACTORY. AFTER FIVE MONTHS OF LEGAL WRANGLES, COURTS ORDERED POLICE TO REMOVE THE WORKERS, SOME OF WHOM WERE ARMED. MANAGEMENT ESTIMATED USD 6 MILLION IN DAMAGES THROUGH NEGLECT AND PILFERAGE; THE FACTORY DID NOT RE-OPEN. THE CAVISA UNION WAS DISSOLVED THROUGH THE COURT ORDER.

B. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

LARGELY DISCREDITED LABOR COURTS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR ENFORCING LAWS PROHIBITING ANTI-UNION DISCRIMINATION. AN EXAMPLE OF COURT INEFFECTIVENESS WAS THE 1988 DECISION THAT TEXTILES FRANCISCO CAPUANO Y HIJOS REHIRE 60 WORKERS AND PAY BACK WAGES. TWO YEARS LATER, THE COURTS WERE STILL DEBATING THE COMPANY'S APPEAL OF THE 1,000 QUETZAL (170 USD) FINE FOR DISOBEYING THE ORDER. THIRTY-SIX WORKERS REMAINED UNEMPLOYED; THE REST TOOK OTHER JOBS, LOSING RE-EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS. ANOTHER CASE INVOLVED THE EL PILAR SUGAR MILL. WORKERS WERE FIRED AFTER REQUESTING A COURT INJUNCTION TO ENABLE THEM TO FORM A UNION. ONE WORKER, JUAN TARACH, WAS KILLED IN A CAR ACCIDENT AND MANAGEMENT TOOK NO ACTION TO ALLAY SUSPICION VIOLENCE WAS IMMINENT. EVENTUALLY, ALL BUT TWO WORKERS WITHDREW THEIR LEGAL CLAIMS. WHEN AN APPARENT ATTEMPT BY UNKNOWN PERSONS WAS MADE TO KILL THE TWO HOLD-OUTS, THEY OBTAINED ASYLUM IN CANADA.

THE MINISTRY OF LABOR REACHED A COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENT WITH ITS UNION, THE FIRST AMONG CIVIL

SERVANTS. THE CONFLICTIVE, SEMI-AUTONOMOUS ELECTRICAL UNION, STINDE, SIGNED AN AGREEMENT WITH MANAGEMENT. THE GOVERNMENT, IN AN ELECTORAL MOVE, TRIED TO FORCE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING ON THE PRIVATE SECTOR THROUGH PROVISIONS IN AN INCENTIVE PAY LAW AND PROPOSED LEGISLATION ON SALARY POLICY; BOTH MET STRONG OPPOSITION.

THE GUATEMALAN LABOR CODE GIVES PRIMACY TO THE PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL WORKERS OVER COLLECTIVE RIGHTS; THESE PROVISIONS EXCEED INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS AND U.S. LAW. SALARIES ARE SET PRIMARILY THROUGH INDIVIDUAL NEGOTIATIONS OR MINIMUM WAGES. LABOR INSPECTORS REPORT TO LABOR COURTS.

ALTHOUGH MANY LOCAL AND INTERNATIONAL GROUPS, INCLUDING THE ICFTU, CLAIM UNIONISTS HAVE BEEN "PARTICULAR TARGETS OF DEATH SQUADS," THERE IS NO CONVINCING EVIDENCE OF A SYSTEMATIC ATTACK ON UNIONISTS BY OFFICIALS OR PERSONS CONNECTED WITH THE SECURITY FORCES. LABOR VIOLENCE GENERALLY INVOLVED "THUGS" EMPLOYED ON AN AD HOC BASIS. WITHOUT DOUBT, SOME THREATS TO UNIONISTS RESULTED FROM INFORMATION OBTAINED BY SECURITY FORCES ON ALLEGEDLY SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES AND PASSED TO EMPLOYERS OR ACTED UPON BY PERSONS IN THE SECURITY FORCES. RE: Letelier Case - Meeting With Sam Buffone

Whether to agree to a meeting with Sam Buffone, attorney for the Letelier and Moffitt families.

Background and Essential Facts

The Letelier case presents an important foreign policy issue in which the Legal Adviser's Office has played a major role to date. Orlando Letelier, a former Ambassador to the U.S. under Allende, was assassinated on September 21, 1976 in Washington, D.C. via a car bomb. His assistant, Ronni Moffitt, was also killed. Ronni's husband, Michael, was injured. Subsequent criminal investigation by U.S. authorities indicated that the assassination was masterminded by the Chilean secret police, DINA. Nine persons were indicted in connection with the crime, including the head of DINA and other DINA officials.

Since 1976, attorney Sam Buffone has represented the members of the Letelier and Moffitt families in their relentless quest for justice - for prosecution of the Chilean officials indicted, and for civil compensation. On the criminal side, 6 persons have been apprehended and brought to justice in the U.S. Two defendants entered into a plea arrangement, served a few years and are currently in the witness protection program. Three Cubans were tried but not convicted. One Cuban, Suarez, pled earlier this month and has yet to be sentenced. The two most powerful members of DINA remain at large, apparently in Chile. U.S. extradition requests were refused. On the civil side, the family members obtained a $5.3 million judgment in U.S. District Court in 1981 which has not been satisfied. The State Department espoused the claim of the U.S. citizen family members in April 1988. When Chile refused our demand for compensation, we invoked the 1914 "Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes that May Occur Between the U.S and Chile" (never before used). This Treaty served as a vehicle to initiate bilateral discussions on resolution of the case.

CONFIDENTIAL

The discussions proceeded slowly at first, but shortly after the inauguration of Chilean President Aylwin in March, the two countries reached an agreement establishing an international commission to determine the amount of ex gratia payment the Government of Chile would make to the families of victims. In the final days of negotiating the agreement, the Chileans informed us that under Chilean law the compensation agreement had to be submitted for the approval of the Congress, but assured us and Mr. Buffone that there would be no problem with swift approval of the agreement. The agreement was signed in June of this year and submitted to the Chamber of Deputies a few weeks later. However, the swift legislative approval promised has not occurred.

During the negotiations the Government of Chile also presented its plan to resolve the criminal side of the case. President Aylwin planned to introduce and secure passage of legislation which would transfer all cases involving human rights violations from military to civilian courts. This would effect the transfer of the moribund "passports case" in which the DINA officials indicted in the U.S. were charged in Chile with various crimes (initially passport fraud, hence the name, and later other crimes more closely associated with the murders). Once the case was transferred, President Aylwin would then appoint a special prosecutor to investigate the case and determine if there was sufficient evidence to send it to trial. We indicated that if this proposal were implemented and a serious investigation conducted, we would consider the Chileans to have been "brought to justice" and would meet the U.S. legislative standard discussed below. The families concurred.

The compensation agreement has not yet been approved by either house of the Chilean Congress. The legislation to transfer the human rights cases has been approved by the Chamber of Deputies but has run into problems in the Chilean Senate. President Bush is scheduled (although it has not been publicly announced) to make a State visit to Chile in early December. There will be great pressure on the USG to certify that the requirements to lift the "sanctions" of the Kennedy-Harkin legislation (prohibiting certain military assistance to Chile, attached) have been met. The most controversial of these is that the President certify that the Government of Chile

> "has taken appropriate steps to cooperate to bring to justice by all legal means available in the United States or Chile those indicted by a United States grand jury in connection with the murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt."

The Department has come to an informal in-house consensus that Chile's passage of the legislation and appointment of a special prosecutor would be sufficient to allow certification.

During the past few years, L has consulted closely with Mr. Buffone on developments affecting the case. Although he has not always been pleased with actions or positions of the Department, he has felt that L has taken the case seriously and has been a major contributor to the progress that has been made to date. Mr. Buffone has recently expressed an interest in meeting with you personally to discuss his concerns regarding the lack of progress by the Chileans and his fear that the USG may lift the sanctions "prematurely." We strongly recommend that you agree to meet with Mr. Buffone in your office in order to indicate to him and the families that L will continue to take their concerns seriously and to emphasize the Department's commitment to a just resolution of both the civil and criminal aspects of the case.

Recommendation

That you agree to meet with Mr. Buffone within the next two weeks. (L/ARA will coordiate with your secretary on a date and time, and, if you wish, contact Mr. Buffone).

AND IS FIGHTING A 30-YEAR FOREIGN-SUPPORTED LEFTIST INSURGENCY. THE ARMY INCLUDES A 3000-MAN MOBILE MILITARY POLICE THAT GUARDS KEY FACILITIES AND TAKES PART IN ANTI-CRIME OPERATIONS. THE NATIONAL POLICE (12,000 MEN) AND THE TREASURY POLICE (2,000) REPORT TO THE INTERIOR MINISTER; BOTH SUFFER CORRUPTION, POOR TRAINING, LOW PAY, AND LOW MORALE. ABOUT 500,000 MEN IN CIVIL DEFENSE COMMITTEES (CVDC) CARRY OUT COUNTERINSURGENCY AND LAW-AND-ORDER TASKS. SERVICE IN THE CVDCS IS SUOPPOSED TO BE VOLUNTARY, BUT THIS NOT ALWAYS THE CASE.

HOBBLED BY A WEAK JUSTICE SYSTEM AND A LACK OF WILL, AUTHORITIES DID NOT STEM GROWING VIOLENCE. DESPITE NOTABLE IMPROVEMENT OVER THE PERFORMANCE OF PAST YEARS, RELIABLE EVIDENCE INDICATES SECURITY FORCES STILL COMMITTED, WITH ALMOST TOTAL IMPUNITY, A MAJORITY OF THE MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. MOST VICTIMS WERE RURAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUSPECTED OF INVOLVEMENT WITH GUERRILLA MOVEMENTS. WHILE HARASSMENT OF LOCAL RIGHTS GROUPS WAS NOT AS BLATANT AS IN 1989, ACTIVISTS REPORTED THREATS AND ENDURED ACTS OF LETHAL VIOLENCE OFTEN APPARENTLY AT THE HANDS OF SECURITY FORCES. CRITICISM OF GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD BY THE U.S. AMBASSADOR AND GOVERNMENT DREW PUBLIC AND PRESS ATTENTION--THE U.S. AMBASSADOR WAS RECALLED TO STRESS THE SERIOUSNESS WITH WHICH WE VIEW HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES.

COMMUNIST GUERRILLAS KILLED POLICEMEN, UNARMED SOLDIERS, AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS (CIVILIAN ARMY EMPLOYEES); THEY ENGAGED IN ARMED ROBBERY, ECONOMIC SABOTAGE, MINE WARFARE, KIDNAPING, FORCED LABOR AND RECRUITMENT, AND USED CHILDREN IN COMBAT. IN MAY TALKS IN MADRID BETWEEN GUERRILLA AND POLITICAL PARTY REPRESENTATIVES, THE GUERRILLAS PROMISED TO HALT ATTACKS ON ECONOMIC AND CIVILIAN TARGETS AND ALLOW ELECTIONS TO GO FORTH. THESE PROMISES WERE NOT HONORED. THERE IS EVIDENCE OF GUERRILLA INVOLVEMENT IN THE ILLICIT OPIUM TRADE.

GOVERNMENT ENGAGED IN HEAVY DEFICIT SPENDING; INFLATION HIT AN ANNUAL RATE OF OVER 55 PERCENT--A BLOW TO ALREADY LOW LIVING STANDARDS. LITTLE WAS ACHIEVED IN REDUCING

ILLITERACY AND INFANT MORTALITY. CORRUPTION AND MISMANAGEMENT ARE WIDESPREAD. THE NUMBER OF LABOR UNIONS ROSE BUT SOME MEMBERS CREDIBLY ALLEGED HARASSMENT FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES. THERE WAS NO RESOLUTION TO SOME MAJOR CASES OF PAST ABUSES IN WHICH THE UNITED STATES HAS EXPRESSED STRONG AND CONTINUING INTEREST, E.G., THE 1985 DISAPPEARANCES OF AMERICAN CITIZENS BLAKE AND DAVIS, THE 1988 EL AGUACATE MASSACRE, THE 1989 DISAPPEARANCES OF 11 STUDENTS OF WHOM 6 WERE KILLED, AND THE 1989 ABDUCTION OF U.S. CITIZEN NUN SR. DIANA ORTIZ. A COURT REVERSED THE 1988 CONVICTION OF SIX POLICEMEN FOR THE 1987 MURDERS OF TWO MEN IN QUETZALTENANGO--THE ONLY MAJOR WIN OVER HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSERS LINKED TO THE SECURITY FORCES. THE GOVERNMENT HAS APPEALED THE REVERSAL.

FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

AS IN 1989, OFFICIAL STATISTICS SHOWED ABOUT 2,000 HOMICIDES NATIONWIDE; CRITICS, WITH REASON, CLAIMED THIS WAS AN UNDERSTATEMENT. PRESS REPORTS AND OTHER AVAILABLE INFORMATION POINTED TO A NUMBER AT LEAST THREE TIMES THE OFFICIAL ONE. IN JUNE, FOR EXAMPLE, PRESS REPORTS INDICATED THE HOMICIDE RATE IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL REACHED AN AVERAGE OF ONE PER HOUR. WHILE MOST KILLINGS RESULTED FROM PERSONAL VENDETTAS AND OTHER CRIMES, INCLUDING DRUG TRAFFICKING AND GANG WARFARE, EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, INCLUDING POLITICALLY MOTIVATED

ONES, APPEARED TO RISE IN 1990.

THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN CALCULATED ABOUT 400 POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLINGS IN 1990, MAINLY IN CONFLICTIVE RURAL AREAS OF SAN MARCOS, HUEHUETENANGO, QUICHE, AND PETEN DEPARTMENTS. MOST VICTIMS WERE INDIGENOUS PEOPLE PRESUMABLY KILLED BY SECURITY FORCES, USUALLY THE ARMY, FOR SUSPICION OF BACKING GUERRILLA GROUPS. THE OMBUDSMAN'S FIGURE DOES NOT INCLUDE AN UNKNOWN BUT PROBABLY LARGE NUMBER OF VIGILANTE KILLINGS OF CRIMINALS AND SUSPECTED CRIMINALS. WHILE NOT DEMONSTRATED CONCLUSIVELY, SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT IN MANY VIGILANTE ACTIONS SEEMS LIKELY. THE RISE IN EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS WAS A RESPONSE TO INCREASED GUERRILLA ACTIVITY AND FRUSTRATION OVER VIOLENT CRIME IN URBAN AREAS, PARTICULARLY THE CAPITAL.

NO INFORMATION POINTS TO POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS AS OFFICIALLY CONDONED POLICY, BUT AUTHORITIES FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THESE AND BRING THE AUTHORS TO JUSTICE. WHILE MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES FACED ARREST, CONVICTION, AND SENTENCING FOR COMMON CRIMES, INCLUDING MURDER OF RURAL PEOPLE, NO EXAMPLES EXISTED OF TRIALS AND CONVICTIONS FOR POLITICAL OR EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS BY SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL. AUTHORITIES DID NOT PREVENT SOME MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES, IN PARTICULAR CERTAIN RURAL MILITARY ZONE OFFICERS, FROM CONDUCTING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THESE PERSISTED DESPITE ATTEMPTS BY FOREIGN DONORS--INCLUDING THE U.S.--SOME SENIOR OFFICERS, THE OMBUDSMAN, AND THE NEW POLICE DIRECTOR--AN ACTIVE DUTY ARMY COLONEL--TO

CHANGE TRADITIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ATTITUDES AND PRACTICES WITHIN THE SECURITY FORCES. EFFORTS INCLUDED FIRING AND ARRESTING LARGE NUMBERS OF ALLEGEDLY CORRUPT AND ABUSIVE POLICEMEN.

GUERRILLA FORCES KILLED CIVILIANS, OFF-DUTY SOLDIERS, AND POLICEMEN. IN JULY, FOR EXAMPLE, GUERRILLAS IN SAN RAFAEL PETZAL (HUEHUETENANGO) SHOT AND KILLED TWO UNARMED MEN AND WOUNDED EIGHT OTHERS PARTICIPATING IN A CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL. MANY POLICEMEN IN RURAL AREAS WERE KILLED THROUGHOUT 1990 IN WAYS STRONGLY SUGGESTING GUERRILLA INVOLVEMENT.

IN JANUARY, ARMED MEN SEIZED SALVADORAN LEFTIST HECTOR OQUELI AND GUATEMALAN ATTORNEY GILDA FLORES IN THE CAPITAL. THEIR BODIES APPEARED HOURS LATER NEAR THE EL SALVADOR BORDER. THE CRIME LED TO STRONG LOCAL, US GOVERNMENT, AND INTERNATIONAL DEMANDS FOR A COMPLETE INVESTIGATION. THE GOVERNMENT CONDEMNED THE KILLINGS AND IN MARCH ISSUED A PRELIMINARY REPORT ON ITS INVESTIGATION. A FINAL REPORT IN JUNE IMPLIED, WITHOUT STRONG SUPPORTING EVIDENCE, THAT FRIENDS OF OQUELI AND SALVADORANS RESIDENT IN GUATEMALA WERE RESPONSIBLE. THERE WERE NO ARRESTS. THE CASE REMAINS OPEN.

IN FEBRUARY, TWO COCA-COLA WORKERS, THE SAGASTUME BROTHERS, WERE KILLED. WHILE NOT CLEAR IF THE CRIME WAS RELATED TO A LONG STRIKE AGAINST THE COCA-COLA BOTTLER, CAVISA (SEE SEC 6), CREDIBLE INFORMATION INDICATED THE BROTHERS, FOUND DEAD WITH A THIRD MAN, DIED AS A RESULT OF CRIMINAL ACTIVITY. ALSO THAT MONTH, ACCORDING TO POLICE, 12 MEN IN "OLIVE GREEN" UNIFORMS AND CARRYING AUTOMATIC WEAPONS, ENTERED A HOME NEAR CUYOTENANGO

(SUCHITEPEQUEZ) AND KILLED ANTONIO GONON MORALES AND WOUNDED HIS WIFE AND HIS DAUGHTER-IN-LAW. POLICE BLAMED GUERRILLAS BUT COULD OFFER NO MOTIVES.

ON MARCH 17, NINE PEOPLE WERE SEIZED NEAR MALACATAN (SAN MARCOS) BY ARMED MEN. THE BODIES OF FIVE LATER APPEARED: TEODORO MEJIA, ARCADIO MEJIA, EFRAIN VENTURA,

LUIS VENTURA, AND JOAQUIN ORTEGA. A SURVIVOR, A CHILD, WAS ALSO FOUND. WHILE INFORMATION WAS INCONCLUSIVE, LOCAL OBSERVERS BLAMED THE ARMY. SAN MARCOS IS A VERY CONFLICTIVE REGION IN WHICH GUERRILLA ACTIVITY (THAT SAME DAY GUERRILLAS KILLED A SAN MARCOS POLICE CHIEF), DRUG TRAFFICKING, AND ARMY OPERATIONS ARE COMMON.

CERJ (RUNUJEL JUNAM COUNCIL OF ETHNIC COMMUNITIES), A RURAL-BASED ORGANIZATION DEDICATED MAINLY TO OPPOSING OBLIGATORY SERVICE IN CIVIL DEFENSE COMMITTEES, HAS BEEN ACCUSED BY THE ARMY OF BEING A GUERRILLA FRONT GROUP. DURING THE YEAR, THREE MEMBERS OF CERJ WERE KILLED, AT LEAST TWO APPARENTLY BY PERSONS PROTECTED BY SECURITY FORCES. ON MARCH 19, MARIA MEJIA (WHOM CONAVIGUA, A [redacted]

LOCAL WIDOWS ASSOCIATION, ALSO CLAIMED AS A MEMBER) WAS KILLED IN HER HOME NEAR PARRAXTUT, SACAPULAS (QUICHE). HER HUSBAND, PABLO LASTRO TOJIN, WOUNDED IN THE ATTACK, NAMED TWO MEN, BOTH ALLEGEDLY MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AS THE KILLERS. ARRESTED IN MAY, BOTH WENT FREE IN JUNE FOR "LACK OF EVIDENCE." THE ARMY DENIED THEY WERE COMMISSIONERS BUT UNCONFIRMED INFORMATION INDICATES A QUICHE ARMY OFFICER PROMISED THE SUSPECTS QUICK FREEDOM IF THEY AGREED TO BE ARRESTED AND BROUGHT BEFORE A JUDGE. (SEE SEC 4).

ON APRIL 10, MASKED GUNMEN KILLED CERJ ACTIVIST JOSE VICENTE GARCIA IN FRONT OF HIS FAMILY. HE PREVIOUSLY

HAD DENOUNCED RECEIVING THREATS. RELIABLE INFORMATION INDICATES THE KILLERS, THOUGH NOT MILITARY, WERE SHIELDED BY ARMY OFFICERS. A KNOWLEDGABLE INDEPENDENT LOCAL OBSERVER STATED THE ACTIVIST WAS PROBABLY KILLED FOR SUSPICION OF "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES."

ON MAY 1, CERJ MEMBER JOSE MARIA IXCAYA WAS KILLED IN SOLOLA AS HE LEFT FOR THE CAPITAL TO PARTICIPATE IN MAY DAY RALLIES. A COUSIN OF HIS PUBLICLY ACCUSED THE ARMY OF THE KILLING; A CREDIBLE SOURCE INDICATED, HOWEVER, IT MIGHT HAVE RESULTED FROM A DISPUTE UNRELATED TO CERJ.

JOSE VIELMAN, SON OF THE CONSERVATIVE HEAD OF A LAWYERS GROUP (JUDE), DIED IN MARCH NEAR A POLICE CHECKPOINT OUTSIDE THE CAPITAL. INITIAL REPORTS PORTRAYED THE DEATH AS RESULTING FROM A BOTCHED ROBBERY ATTEMPT BY HIGHWAYMEN. SUBSEQUENT RELIABLE INFORMATION INDICATES, [redacted]

HOWEVER, VIELMAN DIED RESISTING POLICE ATTEMPTS TO ROB HIM. AN INTERNAL INVESTIGATION IS REPORTEDLY UNDERWAY.

IN JUNE, LONG-TIME RESIDENT U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE WAS BRUTALLY SLAIN NEAR HIS HOME IN PETEN DEPARTMENT. FIRST REPORTS DEPICTED THE CRIME AS A ROBBERY-MURDER. SUBSEQUENT INFORMATION, HOWEVER, SHOWED THAT ARMY PERSONNEL PARTICIPATED IN THE KILLING. THE MOTIVES REMAIN UNCERTAIN. THE PETEN MILITARY ZONE COMMANDER, SUSPECTED OF SENDING THOSE WHO KILLED DEVINE, WAS REMOVED AND TRANSFERRED TO THE CAPITAL. IN SEPTEMBER, PRESIDENT CEREZO, IN AN UNPRECEDENTED AND WELCOME MOVE, PUBLICLY ACKNOWLEDGED THE POSSIBILITY OF SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT AND PROMISED A FULL INVESTIGATION. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN ALSO INDICATED HE HAD INFORMATION SHOWING POSSIBLE MILITARY INVOLVEMENT. IN SEPTEMBER, THE COURT IN FLORES (PETEN) ISSUED ARREST WARRANTS FOR SEVERAL PERSONS, INCLUDING FOUR SOLDIERS, FOR SUSPICION OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF MR. DEVINE. LATE THAT MONTH, THE ARMY ANNOUNCED THE ARREST OF FOUR SOLDIERS FOR THE CRIME. THE LOCAL PRESS GAVE THIS IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT WIDESPREAD COVERAGE. THE US GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO INSIST THE GUILTY BE BROUGHT TO JUSITCE.

ON JULY 25, CENTRIST CONGRESSMAN OTTO ROLANDO RUANO AND HIS DRIVER WERE KILLED 55 MILES FROM GUATEMALA CITY. THE FOLLOWING MONTH CENTRIST MAYORAL CANDIDATE CELSO MILAGRO GIRON WAS KILLED IN SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS (QUICHE); HE HAD BECOME A CANDIDATE AFTER THE KILLING OF THE PRIOR CANDIDATE, SOLOMON BLANCO. MORE VIOLENCE FOLLOWED IN SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS INCLUDING THE VIOLENT DEATH IN SEPTEMBER OF CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT ACTIVIST SEBASTIAN MORALES. IN AUGUST, THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT MAYOR OF CUYOTENANGO (SUCHITEPEQUEZ), ROBERTO VALLEJOS,

[redacted]

WAS SHOT NEAR HIS HOME. HE SURVIVED. AUTHORS AND MOTIVES WERE UNKNOWN.

ON SEPTEMBER 11, MIRNA ELIZABETH MACK CHANG, A GUATEMALAN ACADEMIC RESEARCHING ISSUES AFFECTING DISPLACED PERSONS IN THE HIGHLANDS, WAS STABBED OR CUT 17 TIMES AND KILLED NEAR HER OFFICE IN GUATEMALA CITY.

GAM AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND UNIVERSITY GROUPS DENOUNCED THE KILLING AS POLITICALLY MOTIVATED. INITIAL POLICE REPORTS, HOWEVER, INDICATED ROBBERY AS THE MOTIVE AS THE KILLERS TOOK HER PURSE AND CREDIT CARDS. THE CASE REMAINS UNSOLVED AND THE US GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO PRESS FOR A RESOLUTION.

IN A MAJOR REVERSAL FOR ALREADY WEAK EFFORTS TO HOLD SECURITY FORCES ACCOUNTABLE FOR ABUSES, IN AUGUST AN APPELLATE COURT FOUND "INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE" TO UPHOLD THE 1988 CONVICTIONS AND 30-YEAR PRISON TERMS OF SIX POLICEMEN, INCLUDING A FORMER QUETZALTENANGO POLICE CHIEF, FOR THE 1987 ABDUCTIONS AND MURDERS OF TWO

UNIVERSITY-AFFILIATED AGRONOMISTS, RENE LEIVA CAYAX AND [redacted]

DANILO ALVARADO MEJIA. THE KILLINGS APPARENTLY HAD BEEN CONNECTED WITH A BUS STRIKE AND OTHER LABOR AND CIVIL UNREST IN QUETZALTENANGO AT THE TIME. THIS HAD BEEN THE ONLY CASE IN WHICH MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES WERE ARRESTED, TRIED, CONVICTED, AND SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. POLICE DIRECTOR COL. CABALLEROS SAID HE WOULD NOT ACCEPT THE MEN BACK INTO THE POLICE FORCE. THE GOVERNMENT HAS APPEALED THE COURT'S DECISION TO RESCIND THE CONVICTIONS.

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT SOLVE THE 1989 MURDERS OF 6 UNIVERSITY STUDENTS--THESE WERE AMONG 11 WHO DISAPPEARED (SEE SEC 1B). IT WAS WIDELY THOUGHT AT LEAST SOME CAME UNDER SUSPICION OF PRO-GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES. THERE WAS NO RESOLUTION OF THE AUGUST 1989 MURDER OF CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC POLITICIAN DANILO BARILLAS. THE 1989 KILLING OF GAM (MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP) ACTIVIST AURELIO LORENZO XICAY ALSO REMAINS UNSOLVED; A POLICE REPORT RELEASED IN MARCH STATED XICAY HAD BEEN DRUNK AT THE TIME OF HIS DEATH FROM A BLOW TO THE HEAD. AUTHORITIES DID NOT SOLVE THE 1989 SANQUIN (CHIMALTENANGO) KILLINGS IN WHICH A MILITARY COMMISSIONER, HIS SON, AND THREE OTHERS WERE SLAIN BY MEN WHO MIGHT HAVE BEEN GUERRILLAS. A POLICE REPORT ON THE JULY 1989 DEATH OF FORMER COCA-COLA UNION MEMBER JOSE PANTALEON IDENTIFIED SEVERAL PERSONS AS RESPONSIBLE AND IMPLIED THE KILLING HAD TO DO WITH PERSONAL PROBLEMS. THE NOVEMBER 1988 EL AGUACATE MASSACRE WAS ALSO NOT SOLVED.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS ACTIVE IN SEEKING A RESOLUTION TO SEVERAL OF THESE CASES. AMONG THOSE RECEIVING [redacted]

PARTICULAR EMPHASIS ARE: THE KILLINGS OF HECTOR OQUELI, RENE FLORES, ELIZABETH CHANG, AND MICHAEL DEVINE; THE DISAPPEARANCES AND MURDERS OF SEVERAL UNIVERSITY STUDENTS; THE KILLINGS OF MINORS BY POLICEMEN; AND THE EL AGUACATE MASSACRE. EFFORTS WERE LIMITED BY THE LEGAL CONSTRAINTS FACING A DIPLOMATIC MISSION AND LIMITATIONS OF PERSONNEL, TIME, AND INVESTIGATORY EXPERTISE.

B. DISAPPEARANCE

THERE WERE NO COMPLETELY RELIABLE FIGURES FOR 1990 ON THE NUMBER OF DISAPPEARED PERSONS. ACCORDING TO AN OFFICIAL REPORT RELEASED EARLY IN 1990, AUTHORITIES KNEW OF 2,588 DISAPPEARANCES FROM ALL CAUSES JANUARY 1989 - JANUARY 1990. THE REPORT STATED THE POLICE RESOLVED 1,763 OF THOSE: 1,537 WERE FOUND SAFE, 35 IN HOSPITALS, AND 191 DEAD. OF THE REMAINING 825, POLICE CLAIMED 198 CONSISTED OF FALSE REPORTS AND 206 OF PERSONS WHO HAD REAPPEARED BUT HAD NOT BEEN REPORTED AS SUCH. THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN CALCULATED GUATEMALA SUFFERED SOME 200 POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DISAPPEARANCES DURING 1990. GIVEN THAT THERE IS NO SOLID EVIDENCE OF CLANDESTINE PRISONS, A VALID ASSUMPTION IS THAT MOST OF THE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DISAPPEARANCES ENDED IN DEATH. ACCORDING TO THE OMBUDSMAN, MOST OCCURRED IN CONFLICTIVE AREAS AND WERE OF PERSONS BELIEVED INVOLVED IN GUERRILLA ACTIONS. THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO SOLVE THE DISAPPEARANCES. THE OMBUDSMAN CONCLUDED SECURITY FORCES BORE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE MAJORITY OF THESE TYPES OF DISAPPEARANCES. THE OMBUDSMAN'S CALCULATIONS AND CONCLUSIONS SEEM REASONABLE.

IN JANUARY, THE SON OF A PROMINENT LEFTIST JOURNALIST TOLD OF BEING ABDUCTED AND BRIEFLY HELD BY PERSONS [redacted]

ACTIVITIES AT SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY AND RELEASED WHEN HIS ABDUCTORS RECEIVED ORDERS OVER THE RADIO TO DO SO. A MILITARY SOURCE DENIED ARMY INVOLVEMENT, SAYING THE INCIDENT RESULTED FROM A DISPUTE OVER A GIRLFRIEND.

IN FEBRUARY, TWO DISAPPEARANCES IN THE CAPITAL DREW MUCH FOREIGN AND LOCAL ATTENTION, PROMPTING A RESOLUTION BY GUATEMALA'S CONGRESS CALLING FOR THE VICTIMS' RELASE AND FOR AUTHORITIES TO PREVENT AND RESOLVE THESE SORTS OF INCIDENTS. BOTH CASES ENDED, FORTUNATELY, IN RELEASE OF THE VICTIMS. ON FEBRUARY 6, SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY LAW STUDENT ARMANDO OSCAR PIEDRASANTA WAS TAKEN BY ARMED MEN, BEATEN, AND ABANDONED ALONG A HIGHWAY EARLY THE FOLLOWING DAY. THE AUTHORS AND MOTIVES WERE UNKNOWN BUT [redacted]

THE ASSUMPTION WAS PIEDRASANTA WAS SUSPECTED OF "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES." HE REPORTEDLY HAS LEFT GUATEMALA.

ON FEBRUARY 10, DR. CARMEN ANGELICA VALENZUELA ARGUETA, A PEDIATRICIAN, WAS PULLED FROM HER CAR IN THE CAPITAL BY ARMED MEN IN A FOUR-WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLE WITH TINTED WINDOWS. THE DAYLIGHT KIDNAPING LED TO A STRONG PUBLIC DEMAND FOR HER RELEASE AND TO FOREIGN EMBASSIES, INCLUDING THE U.S., WORKING TO THAT END. FREED FEBRUARY 18, SHE MADE NO PUBLIC STATEMENTS, AND LEFT FOR ABROAD. MOTIVES FOR THE ABDUCTION GENERATED SPECULATION RANGING FROM SUSPICION OF POSSIBLE INVOLVEMENT WITH GUERRILLA SYMPATHIZERS TO THE BELIEF SHE WAS ABOUT TO REVEAL RAMPANT CORRUPTION IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH.

IN APRIL, GUERRILLAS ABDUCTED TWO OFF-DUTY SOLDIERS IN THE PETEN. THE SEIZURE TOOK PLACE DURING A UNILATERALLY DECLARED HOLY WEEK CEASE FIRE BY THE GUERRILLAS. THE SOLDIERS WERE EVENTUALLY FREED.

LUIS MIGUEL SOLIS PAJARITO, MEMBER OF A DISPLACED PERSONS ORGANIZATION, CONDEG, DISAPPEARED MAY 3 IN THE CAPITAL. HIS WIFE, A GAM MEMBER, LABELED THE MILITARY RESPONSIBLE AND ALLEGED HE WAS IN ONE OF THE CAPITAL'S MILITARY FACILITIES. SHE FILED WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS WITH NO RESULT. SHE HAS SUBSEQUENTLY ALLEGED RECEIVING THREATS. THE DISAPPEARANCE LED TO PROTESTS, INCLUDING GAM'S TAKE-OVER THE OFFICE OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC). GIVEN THAT SOME MILITARY SEE CONDEG AS A PRO-GUERRILLA GROUP, SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT IN THE DISAPPEARANCE CANNOT BE DISMISSED, BUT NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE OF ARMY INVOLVEMENT EXISTS.

TWO CERJ MEMBERS DISAPPEARED IN JULY. ON JULY 2, ARMED MEN IN TWO PICK-UP TRUCKS APPARENTLY SEIZED PEDRO TIU CAC IN CHAJAB, RACANA (TOTONICAPAN). SAMUEL DE LA CRUZ GOMEZ, REPORTEDLY A MEMBER BOTH OF CERJ AND OF LEFTIST CUC (COMMITTEE OF CAMPESINO UNITY), WAS TAKEN NEAR ZACUALPA (QUICHE) JULY 12 APPARENTLY BY AN ARMY PATROL. GUNFIRE INJURED TWO PERSONS TRYING TO SAVE DE LA CRUZ GOMEZ FROM HIS CAPTORS. NEIGHBORS CAPTURED A MAN THEY SAID WAS A MILITARY COMMISSIONER--HE DENIED IT--AND TOOK HIM TO SANTA CRUZ DEL QUICHE WHERE HE WAS JAILED. THE ALLEGED COMMISSIONER WAS EVENTUALLY FREED FOLLOWING LAB EVIDENCE HE HAD NOT FIRED A WEAPON AND TESTIMONY PLACING HIM ELSEWHERE AT THE TIME OF THE DISAPPEARANCE.

THE UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION (AEU) REPORTED THE AUGUST 1 DISAPPEARANCE OF LAW STUDENT ANIBAL PALMA. THE 30-YEAR OLD MAN ALLEGEDLY WAS TAKEN BY SEVERAL ARMED MEN IN THE CAPITAL. THE AEU FILED A COMPLAINT WITH THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. ALSO IN AUGUST, MILITARY COMMISSIONER SERGIO GOMEZ WAS REPORTED ABDUCTED BY SEVEN HEAVILY ARMED GUERRILLAS IN OLIVE GREEN UNIFORMS NEAR CONFLICTIVE TAJUMULCO (SAN MARCOS), THE MAIN AREA FOR ORPA (ARMED REVOLUTIONARY ORGANIZATION OF THE PEOPLE). NO FURTHER INFORMATION WAS AVAILABLE.

FOUR CERJ MEMBERS WHO DISAPPEARED APRIL 1989 IN SUCHITEPEQUEZ WERE NOT FOUND; THE ASSUMPTION IS THAT THE

MEN ARE DEAD. THERE WAS NO RESOLUTION OF THE

DISAPPEARANCES OF SEVERAL UNIVERSITY STUDENTS WHO VANISHED BETWEEN AUGUST 21 AND SEPTEMBER 10, 1989 (SEE SECTION 1. A); OFFICIAL REPORTS ISSUED IN 1990 SUGGESTED THE DISAPPEARANCES AND DEATHS WERE DUE TO INTERNAL STUDENT CONFLICTS, AN IDEA NOT GENERALLY ACCEPTED. THE AUGUST 1989 DISAPPEARANCE OF GAM MEMBER RUMALDA CAMEY REMAINS UNSOLVED.

NO PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN THE KIDNAPING NOVEMBER 2-3, 1989 OF U.S. CITIZEN NUN DIANA ORTIZ. A POLICE INVESTIGATION AND OFFICIAL STATEMENTS CAST DOUBT ON HER CLAIM OF HAVING BEEN ABDUCTED FROM A RELIGIOUS RETREAT IN ANTIGUA (SACATEPEQUEZ) BY SECURITY FORCES AND TORTURED IN A CLANDESTINE CHAMBER. SOON AFTER HER ESCAPE, ORTIZ LEFT GUATEMALA. DESPITE MANY REQUESTS, ORTIZ HAS NOT PROVIDED FURTHER INFORMATION TO GUATEMALAN OR U.S. OFFICIALS. THE CASE REMAINS OPEN WITH LACK OF INFORMATION FROM ORTIZ HAMPERING SERIOUS INVESTIGATION. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO PRESS ON ALL PARTIES THE IMPORTANCE OF RESOLVING THIS CASE.

THE AUGUST 1985 DISAPPEARANCES OF TWO AMERICANS,
[redacted]

NICHOLAS BLAKE AND GRIFFITH DAVIS, ALSO REMAINED UNSOLVED. OFFICIALS IN 1990, HOWEVER, SHOWED MORE

WILLINGNESS THAN PREVIOUSLY TO SOLVE THE CASE AND GAVE IMPROVED COOPERATION TO U.S. GOVERNMENT EFFORTS. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT CONTINUED TO INSIST THAT THIS IMPORTANT CASE NEEDED TO BE SOLVED.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

THERE WERE NO VERIFIED REPORTS OF INHUMAN OR CRUEL TREATMENT OF DETAINEES IN OFFICIAL CUSTODY. THERE WERE, HOWEVER, CREDIBLE REPORTS OF EXCESSIVE FORCE BY POLICE AT THE TIME OF ARREST AND OF DEGRADING TREATMENT BY ARMY, CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND POLICE OF PERSONS IN RURAL AREAS. PRISON CONDITIONS WERE TOUGH: PENAL AUTHORITIES WERE HAMPERED BY OVERCROWDING AND LACK OF FUNDS AND TRAINED PERSONNEL.

THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF MISTREATMENT AND EVEN TORTURE LEADING TO THE DEATHS OF PERSONS DETAINED EXTRAJUDICIALLY. PERSONS WHO ESCAPED FROM OR WERE RELEASED BY CAPTORS APPARENTLY LINKED TO THE SECURITY FORCES, RELATED ACCOUNTS OF PHYSICAL AND MENTAL ABUSE.

MANY OF THE BODIES FOUND THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA BEAR SIGNS OF TORTURE OR POST MORTEM MUTILATION. SOME HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS VIEW SIGNS OF TORTURE AS PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE A CRIME IS POLITICAL IN MOTIVE. THAT CONCLUSION IS NOT

VALID: CRIMINAL GANGS AND OTHERS RESOLVING PERSONAL VENDETTAS OFTEN USE TORTURE.

ONE VERY DISTURBING DEVELOPMENT WAS CREDIBLE INFORMATION OF SEVERE MISTREATMENT AND EVEN MURDER BY POLICEMEN OF STREET CHILDREN. THESE HOMELESS CHILDREN OFTEN ENGAGE IN PROSTITUTION AND OTHER CRIMES AND FREQUENTLY USE DANGEROUS INHALANTS, SUCH AS PAINT THINNER AND SHOEMAKERS' GLUE. AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL ISSUED A REPORT IN JULY DISCUSSING SOME OF THESE ABUSES AND REPORTED THREATS AGAINST PERSONS AND GROUPS WORKING WITH STREET CHILDREN. POLICE OFFICIALS WERE WORKING TO RESOLVE THESE CASES AND HAD UNDERTAKEN SEVERAL INVESTIGATIONS.

FOUR POLICEMEN WERE ARRESTED IN JUNE FOR THE MURDER OF MINOR NAHAMON CARMONA. THE US GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN ACTIVE FOR SOME TIME IN PRESSING FOR AN END TO THIS PARTICULARLY REPREHENSIBLE ABUSE.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

AN ARREST WARRANT IS NEEDED WHEN AN ACCUSED IS NOT CAUGHT COMMITTING A CRIME. ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION, POLICE CANNOT HOLD A PERSON FOR OVER SIX HOURS WITHOUT BRINGING HIM TO A JUDGE. THE LAW PROVIDES FOR BAIL, ACCESS TO LAWYERS, AND LIMITS TO 20 DAYS THE TIME ANYONE MAY BE HELD FOR INVESTIGATION, AFTER WHICH HE MUST BE CHARGED OR RELEASED. AUTHORITIES MUST PRODUCE DETAINEES ON REQUEST. EXILE IS NOT USED.

ALLEGATIONS OF ARBITRARY ARREST OR DETENTION BY POLICE, AS DISTINCT FROM OTHER SECURITY FORCES, WERE INFREQUENT. THERE WERE NO VERIFIED CASES OF ARRESTS OF [redacted]

POLITICAL OPPONENTS FOR THEIR BELIEFS. WHILE THERE WAS NO GOOD EVIDENCE OF "SECRET" PRISONS WHERE LENGTHY ILLEGAL INCARCERATIONS TOOK PLACE, THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF SECURITY FORCE "SAFEHOUSES" USED TO CONDUCT BRIEF ILLEGAL DETENTIONS, INTERROGATIONS, AND, AT TIMES, TORTURE AND MURDER. WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS ARE, AS EXPECTED, IGNORED BY THOSE CONDUCTING ILLEGAL ARRESTS.

THREATENED TO LABEL HIM A SUBVERSIVE UNLESS PAID A

BRIBE. PU WAS FREED AFTER APPARENTLY PAYING THE SOLICITED BRIBE. THE STORY COULD NOT BE CONFIRMED. ALSO IN JULY, A JUDGE IN HUEHUETENANGO ORDERED THE ARREST OF A CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL LEADER FOR THE ILLEGAL DETENTION OF A MINOR. THE JUDGE REPORTED DEATH THREATS. THERE WAS NO CONFIRMATION ON THE ARREST.

ON AUGUST 17, DAILY "EL GRAFICO," OWNED BY CENTRIST UCN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO, REPORTED UCN ACTIVIST MAXIMILIANO VASQUEZ WAS ARRESTED BY A MILITARY COMMISSIONER BECAUSE OF POLITICAL ACTIVITIES. IN A LETTER THE NEXT DAY, THE ARMY SPOKESMAN DENIED THE [redacted]

CLAIM, STATING VASQUEZ WAS ARRESTED BY POLICE ON CRIMINAL CHARGES; A POLICE SOURCE SUPPORTED THAT VERSION.

IN SEPTEMBER, CERJ DENOUNCED THAT 86 PERSONS FROM IN AND AROUND AMACHEL (QUICHE) HAD BEEN FORCIBLY TRANSPORTED TO AND WERE BEING ILLEGALLY HELD AT A MILITARY INSTALLATION IN NEBAJ (QUICHE). THE OMBUDSMAN AND THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT TRAVELED TO QUICHE TO INVESTIGATE THIS ALLEGATION. THEY COULD NOT CONFIRM ALLEGATIONS OF SEVERE MISTREATMENT NOR DID THEY FIND THAT THE PERSONS WERE BEING HELD AT A MILITARY BASE. IT WAS NOT CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT THOSE TAKEN TO NEBAJ FROM HIGHLY CONFLICTIVE AMACHEL HAD MOVED OF THEIR OWN FREE WILL.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

THE CONSTITUTION CALLS FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY MADE OF A COURT OF CONSTITUTIONALITY, A SUPREME COURT, APPEAL COURTS, AND SEVERAL COURTS OF SPECIAL JURISDICTION. MILITARY COURTS HAVE JURISDICTION ONLY OVER THE ARMY, INCLUDING MILITARY COMMISSIONERS. CIVILIAN TRIALS ARE PUBLIC; DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AND TO LEGAL REPRESENTATION. CONVICTIONS ARE AUTOMATICALLY REVIEWED BY AN APPEALS COURT. THERE WERE NO POLITICAL PRISONERS. DESPITE REFORM EFFORTS, HOWEVER, THE JUDICIARY REMAINED TROUBLED, SUFFERING CORRUPTION, LOW MORALE AND POOR PAY.

IN JANUARY, AN APPEALS COURT REDUCED THE SENTENCES OF [redacted]

THOSE CONVICTED OF ATTEMPTING THE OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT IN MAY 1989. ALL OF THE PLOTTERS WENT FREE IN FEBRUARY, DESPITE OPPOSITION FROM THE ARMY COMMAND.

A U.S.-FUNDED MODEL COURT PROGRAM RUN BY HARVARD UNIVERSITY ENDED AND WAS NOT RENEWED. THOSE RUNNING THE PROGRAM EXPRESSED FRUSTRATION WITH THE LACK OF WILL ON THE PART OF AUTHORITIES TO REFORM THE NATION'S COURT SYSTEM AND TO UNDERTAKE PROSECUTIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS OFFENDERS. ON THE MORE POSITIVE SIDE, THE CONGRESS BEGAN DEBATE OF A RADICAL REVISION OF THE PENAL CODE WHICH WOULD MODERNIZE, SPEED UP, AND PRESUMABLY MAKE THE JUSTICE SYSTEM MORE RESPONSIVE AND ACCESSIBLE TO THE COMMON PERSON. THE PROPOSED NEW CODE, WHILE WELCOME, WOULD STILL FACE A CONSTITUTIONAL RESTRICTION ON TRYING MILITARY IN CIVILIAN COURTS, THEREBY LIMITING THE ABILITY OF THOSE COURTS TO ACT AGAINST HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSERS IN UNIFORM.

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, THROUGH ITS ICITAP PROGRAM, TRAINED POLICE PERSONNEL--OVER SIX HUNDRED SINCE THE START OF THE CEREZO ADMINISTRATION--IN A RANGE OF MODERN CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES. MANY OF THOSE TRAINED, HOWEVER, WERE SUBSEQUENTLY NOT EMPLOYED ON THE POLICE OR LEFT OUT OF FRUSTRATION OVER AN INABILITY TO USE THEIR SKILLS. THE NEW POLICE DIRECTOR PROMISED TO MAKE AN EFFORT TO KEEP SUCH TRAINED PERSONNEL AND TO MAKE USE OF THEIR TALENTS. AS 1990 ENDED, HE HAD MADE A START TO THIS END.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INVIOLABILITY OF HOME,

CORRESPONDENCE, AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS. WHILE THIS PROVISION WAS USUALLY RESPECTED, THERE WERE EXCEPTIONS. HEAVY-HANDED ARMY EFFORTS TO ENFORCE THE MILITARY DRAFT LAW RESULTED IN PERSONS TAKEN OFF THE STREETS OR IN HOMES WITHOUT A COURT ORDER. SIMILAR CHARGES WERE MADE AGAINST MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WHO SOUGHT TO ENFORCE THE DRAFT IN RURAL AREAS. ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, FOR EXAMPLE, ARMANDO MONTOYA OF EL PROGRESO (JUTIAPA) STATED

THAT ON SEPTEMBER 2, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS SHOT HIM IN THE COURSE OF EFFORTS TO DRAFT HIM.

THE CONSTITUTION REQUIRES SELF-DEFENSE ORGANIZATIONS TO BE VOLUNTARY. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, RESPONDING TO A REQUEST FROM CERJ, FOUND THAT WHILE THE DECREE CREATING THE CIVIL DEFENSE COMMITTEES AND PATROLS WAS CONSTITUTIONAL, FORCED PARTICIPATION EXISTED IN VIOLATION OF THE DECREE AND THE CONSTITUTION. IN MARCH, THE CHAIRMEN OF THE CONGRESSIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE DEFENSE COMMITTEES GAVE SIMILAR OPINIONS. IN MOST PARTS OF THE COUNTRY, SELF-DEFENSE COMMITTEES AND PATROLS APPEAR LARGELY VOLUNTARY. AS IN PAST YEARS, HOWEVER, THE DEGREE OF VOLUNTARISM IN CONFLICTIVE PARTS OF QUICHE [redacted]

[redacted]

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF

HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

THE 30-YEAR ARMED INTERNAL CONFLICT CONTINUED. THERE WERE ACCUSATIONS OF INDISCRIMINATE USE OF AIRCRAFT AND ARTILLERY ON CIVILIAN TARGETS. THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN LOOKED INTO REPORTS OF A MAJOR AERIAL ATTACK ON A SMALL COMMUNITY IN QUICHE; A DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN COULD FIND NO EVIDENCE OF BOMBING. GIVEN THE SMALL, TIGHTLY CONTROLLED AERIAL AND ARTILLERY ASSETS, CHARGES OF "CARPET" BOMBING, MASS ARTILLERY BARRAGES, AND ATTACKS BY HELICOPTER GUNSHIPS ARE NOT CREDIBLE.

THE YEAR BEGAN WITH INCREASED GUERRILLA MILITARY ACTIVITY, INCLUDING ATTACKS ON THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE, SUCH AS BRIDGES, FARMS, ROADS, ELECTRICAL PYLONS, ROAD MAINTENANCE AND TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT, PROMPTING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN TO DENOUNCE THE GUERRILLAS AS VIOLATORS OF HUMAN RIGHTS. IN FEBRUARY, A GUERRILLA UNIT ATTACKED AN ARMY PATROL INSIDE THE TOWN OF SANTA MARIA DE JESUS, 12 MILES FROM [redacted]

THE CAPITAL. THE ENSUING BATTLE KILLED THREE SMALL CHILDREN. PERSISTENT GUERRILLA EFFORTS TO CUT MAJOR ROADS RESULTED IN THE DEATHS OF CIVILIANS CAUGHT IN THE FIRE BETWEEN GUERRILLAS AND SECURITY FORCES. THERE IS RELIABLE INFORMATION INDICATING GUERRILLAS TARGETED POLICEMEN FOR MURDER. DURING 1990, GUERRILLAS BRIEFLY OVERRAN SEVERAL COMMUNITIES AND FORCED RESIDENTS TO GATHER FOR PROPAGANDA MEETINGS. IN MAY, GUERRILLAS IN HUEHUETENANGO AMBUSHED A CIVILIAN TRUCK TRANSPORTING SICK AND INJURED SOLDIERS IN CIVILIAN DRESS TO HOSPITAL; EIGHT WERE KILLED.

IN AUGUST, THERE WAS A RELIABLE REPORT THAT A GUERRILLA-LAID "CLAYMORE" MINE KILLED TWO SMALL GIRLS IN QUICHE. THE MINE WAS APPARENTLY ACTIVATED BY ONE OF THE CHILDREN.

ON AUGUST 31, GUERRILLAS IN THE PETEN OVERRAN AND DESTROYED A MEDICAL-DENTAL COMPOUND OPERATED BY A LONG-RESIDENT AMERICAN MISSIONARY FAMILY, THE STOLTZFUZ. THE COMPOUND WAS DESTROYED, MEDICAL SUPPLIES

STOLEN, AND THE FAMILY HELD AT GUNPOINT AND THREATENED WITH DEATH UNLESS THEY LEFT GUATEMALA. A PRESS RELEASE FROM THE GUERRILLA-CONTROLLED NEWS AGENCY CERIGUA CLAIMED GUERRILLAS CARRIED OUT THE ATTACK IN RETALIATION FOR THE FAMILY'S ALLEGED SUPPORT OF THE ARMY, I.E., THE MISSIONARIES HAD TREATED SERIOUSLY WOUNDED SOLDIERS. ONE OF THE AMERICANS SUFFERED FURTHER HARASSMENT APPARENTLY AT THE HANDS OF GUERRILLAS IN THE CAPITAL.

DESPITE PROMISES NOT TO INTERFERE WITH ELECTIONS, CREDIBLE REPORTS INDICATED GUERRILLA EFFORTS TO PREVENT PEOPLE FROM TAKING PART IN POLITICAL ACTIVITY.

GUERRILLAS ALSO REPORTEDLY TRIED TO PREVENT RURAL PEOPLE FROM PARTICIPATING IN INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATIONS. GUERRILLAS USED CHILDREN AS YOUNG AS 13 YEARS OLD IN COMBAT. THEY MAINTAINED TIGHT CONTROL OVER SEVERAL COMMUNITIES IN NORTHERN QUICHE, LABELED CPRS (COMMUNITIES OF RESISTING POPULACE), IN WHICH THEY USED FORCED LABOR AND OBLIGATED PEOPLE TO JOIN GUERRILLA

MILITIA UNITS.

THERE WAS LITTLE RELIABLE INFORMATION IN 1990 ON THE FATE OF CAPTURED GUERRILLAS. INFORMATION FROM OTHER YEARS, HOWEVER, INDICATES SUCH PERSONS OFTEN FACED TORTURE AND DEATH. SOME, HOWEVER, DID AVAIL THEMSELVES OF AMNESTY, COOPERATING WITH THE ARMY, AND RECEIVED GOOD TREATMENT: ONE SUCH PRISONER WAS A 14-YEAR-OLD GUERRILLA WHO HAD BEEN RECRUITED FROM A REFUGEE CAMP IN MEXICO AND TURNED HIMSELF OVER TO THE ARMY IN MARCH.

COMMISSION (CNR), CREATED BY THE ESQUIPULAS ACCORDS. THE FIRST TALKS TOOK PLACE IN MARCH IN OSLO BETWEEN THE CNR AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUERRILLA UMBRELLA ORGANIZATION, THE URNG (GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY) WHICH CONSISTS OF THREE GUERRILLA MOVEMENTS AND A FACTION OF THE ILLEGAL COMMUNIST PARTY (PGT). THE NEXT TALKS WERE IN MADRID IN MAY BETWEEN THE URNG AND REPRESENTATIVES OF GUATEMALA'S LEGAL POLITICAL PARTIES. THE MAJOR PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATION, CACIF, MET THE URNG IN OTTAWA AT THE END OF AUGUST. CHURCH LEADERS HELD TALKS WITH THE URNG IN QUITO IN LATE SEPTEMBER WITH "POPULAR ASSOCIATIONS" SCHEDULED TO MEET THE URNG IN MEXICO OCTOBER/NOVEMBER. THE TALKS ARE TO CULMINATE IN A MEETING BETWEEN GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES AND THE URNG. THESE TALKS ARE THE MOST PROMISING DEVELOPMENT IN YEARS AND HOLD OUT HOPE THE WAR COULD END IN COMING MONTHS. THE WAR CONTINUES TO SERVE AS THE PRINCIPAL JUSTIFICATION FOR THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES SUFFERED IN GUATEMALA.

SECTION 2

RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION; THERE WERE NO SIGNS OF OFFICIALLY ORDERED OR SANCTIONED EFFORTS TO RESTRICT IT. VOCAL CRITICS OF THE GOVERNMENT, PARTICULARLY IN THIS ELECTION YEAR, HAD WIDESPREAD MEDIA ACCESS. IN 1990, A NEW DAILY, "SIGLO

[redacted]

XXI," APPEARED AND TOOK A LINE GENERALLY CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT. THE OTHER THREE MAJOR PAPERS WERE ALSO

CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT, ONE OPENLY FAVORED AN OPPOSITION PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE: ITS OWNER. HIGHLY CRITICAL PRESS RELEASES, PAID ADVERTISEMENTS, AND OTHER PRONOUNCEMENTS BY POLITICAL PARTIES, PRIVATE SECTOR GROUPS, LABOR UNIONS, HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, GUERRILLA GROUPS, AND GUERRILLA-FRONTS SUCH AS CPR AND CERIGUA (SEE SEC 1. G) RAN WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE. FOREIGN FILMS, T.V. PROGRAMS, BOOKS, MAGAZINES, AND NEWSPAPERS WERE AVAILABLE, LIMITED BY COST AND HARD CURRENCY CONCERNS.

THERE CONTINUED TO BE "SELF-CENSORSHIP" ON CERTAIN TOPICS. JOURNALISTS ABANDONED SOME THEMES OR WATERED DOWN CONCLUSIONS RATHER THAN TEST THE LIMITS OF TOLERANCE OF CERTAIN GROUPS, PARTICULARLY IN THE SECURITY FORCES. THERE WAS NO PRESS DISCUSSION, FOR EXAMPLE, OF CORRUPTION IN THE ARMY, ALTHOUGH CIVILIAN CORRUPTION WAS AN ELECTORAL ISSUE. THERE WAS, NEVERTHELESS, THOROUGH COVERAGE GIVEN CHARGES BY THE U.S. EMBASSY THAT AN ACTIVE-DUTY MILITARY ADVISOR TO PRESIDENT CEREZO, THE HEAD OF A NOW DEFUNCT PRESIDENTIAL ANTI-CORRUPTION UNIT, WAS INVOLVED IN DRUG TRAFFICKING. THE PRESS, HOWEVER, RAN NO INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATION.

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

THE CONSTITUTION RECOGNIZES THE RIGHT OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION. PARADES, RALLIES, MARCHES, FORUMS, PUBLIC DEBATES, AND SEMINARS TOOK PLACE OPENLY AND FREELY THROUGHOUT 1990. POLITICAL PARTIES REGISTERED LARGE NUMBERS OF CANDIDATES AND MEMBERS.

[redacted]

ORGANIZATIONS NEED LEGAL ASSOCIATION STATUS, A CUMBERSOME AND EXPENSIVE PROCEDURE WHICH WORKS AGAINST ORGANIZATIONS WITHOUT GOOD FUNDING OR LEGAL EXPERTISE. AS THE YEAR ENDED, FORE EXAMPLE, CERJ EFFORTS TO BECOME A REGISTERED ORGANIZATION HAD STILL NOT PROSPERED AFTER 18 MONTHS. THE LACK OF LEGAL ASSOCIATION STATUS, HOWEVER, DID NOT PREVENT A LARGE NUMBER OF ASSOCIATIONS, INCLUDING CERJ AND OTHERS WITH INTERNATIONAL TIES, FROM

OPERATING AND HOLDING AUTHORIZED RALLIES AND MARCHES.

SOME HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS, SUCH AS GAM, CONAVIGUA, AND POSSIBLY CERJ, SHOWED A WILLINGNESS TO ENGAGE IN CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE AND ILLEGAL AND EVEN VIOLENT ACTIONS. IN MAY, THE GAM, PROTESTING THE DISAPPEARANCE OF SOLIS PAJARITO, ILLEGALLY OCCUPIED FOR SEVERAL DAYS THE OFFICES OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC). GAM ALSO THREATENED TO OCCUPY THE OFFICES OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN BUT WAS DISSUADED BY A WARNING FROM THE OMBUDSMAN THAT HE WOULD NOT TOLERATE ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES ON THE OFFICE'S PROPERTY. GAM WAS ALSO INVOLVED IN THE OCCUPATION OF THE CAVISA BOTTLING PLANT (SEE SEC 6). BRIGADAS DE GAM PERSONNEL EXCHANGED [redacted]

ROCKS WITH CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL MEMBERS IN A VILLAGE NEAR CHICHICASTENANGO (QUICHE). GAM SOUGHT TO MARCH IN PROTEST OVER ALLEGEDLY OBLIGATORY PATROL MEMBERSHIP. THE MARCH TURNED VIOLENT WHEN, ACCORDING TO GAM AND OTHER WITNESSES, PATROL MEMBERS BEGAN PELTING THE MARCHERS WITH ROCKS; OTHER EYEWITNESS ACCOUNTS, HOWEVER, HAVE THE FIRST ROCKS THROWN BY MARCHERS. GAM AND CONAVIGUA ORGANIZED A DEMONSTRATION IN JUNE IN PACOC (QUICHE) WHICH TURNED VIOLENT WHEN, ACCORDING TO A RELIABLE EYEWITNESS, THE DEMONSTRATORS PELTED TWO LOCAL POLICEMEN WITH ROCKS. SOME DEMONSTRATORS LATER CLAIMED THERE HAD BEEN AN ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP THEM--THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE OF SUCH AN ATTEMPT. PERSONS CLAIMING TO BELONG TO CERJ AND BOASTING OF THE PROTECTION AFFORDED THEM BY THEIR INTERNATIONAL TIES WERE RELIABLY REPORTED BY AN EYEWITNESS TO HAVE ENGAGED IN PUBLIC THREATS AGAINST OFFICIALS IN ZACUALPA (QUICHE).

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

THERE IS NO STATE RELIGION. RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IS GUARANTEED IN THE CONSTITUTION AND RESPECTED IN PRACTICE. WHILE 70 PERCENT OF THE POPULACE IS NOMINALLY ROMAN CATHOLIC, MANY INDIANS MIX TRADITIONAL AND CATHOLIC BELIEFS. A LARGE NUMBER OF OTHER FAITHS WORK FREELY IN GUATEMALA: OVER 25 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION ADHERES TO A VARIETY OF PROTESTANT DENOMINATIONS, MANY WITH INTERNATIONAL TIES. AS A RULE, FOREIGN PRIESTS AND MISSIONARIES WORKED WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE. GUATEMALA HAS MORMON, JEWISH, BAHA'I, BUDDHIST, JEHOVA WITNESS, AND ISLAMIC COMMUNITIES.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, REPATRIATION

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT RESTRICT FOREIGN TRAVEL; CRITICS TRAVELED ABROAD FREELY AND RETURNED. GOVERNMENT DOES NOT REVOKE CITIZENSHIP FOR POLITICAL REASONS. MOVEMENT WITHIN GUATEMALA WAS GENERALLY UNHINDERED EXCEPT IN CONFLICTIVE AREAS. GUERRILLAS OF THE EGP (GUERRILLA ARMY OF THE POOR) CONTINUED TO MAINTAIN TIGHT CONTROL OVER SEVERAL VILLAGES IN NORTHERN QUICHE AND SEVERELY RESTRICTED THE TRAVEL OF RESIDENTS WITH THREATS OF VIOLENCE AND GENEROUS USE OF LAND MINES. SOME PERSONS IN CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS CLAIMED THEIR FREEDOM TO TRAVEL FROM THEIR VILLAGES, PARTICULARLY DURING THE SUGAR HARVEST ON THE COAST WHERE MANY WORK, IS RESTRICTED BY PATROL LEADERS WHO DEMAND PAYMENTS FOR THE DAYS AN INDIVIDUAL WILL MISS PATROL DUTIES.

GUATEMALA REMAINED A REFUGE FOR THOUSANDS OF CENTRAL AMERICANS. REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES FROM MEXICO CONTINUED DURING 1990. MANY OF THE ESTIMATED 40,000 REFUGEES STILL IN UN CAMPS IN MEXICO WAITED TO SEE THE OUTCOME OF ELECTIONS IN GUATEMALA; OTHERS HAD CLEARLY ESTABLISHED ROOTS IN MEXICO AND WILL PROBABLY NOT RETURN. THE GOVERNMENT WELCOMED THE RETURN OF THE REFUGEES AND EFFORTS WERE MADE TO SETTLE THEM QUICKLY. THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF GUERRILLA EFFORTS TO DISSUADE REFUGEES FROM RETURNING TO CERTAIN AREAS.

SECTION 3

RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

GUATEMALANS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHANGE GOVERNMENT BY PEACEFUL AND DEMOCRATIC MEANS. THERE IS UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE VIA SECRET BALLOT; VOTING AGE IS 18. THERE ARE NO PROPERTY OR LITERACY REQUIREMENTS. NATIONAL ELECTIONS WERE HELD NOVEMBER 11 WITH THE PARTICIPATION

OF 20 REGISTERED POLITICAL PARTIES, AND NUMEROUS PRESIDENTIAL, CONGRESSIONAL, AND MUNICIPAL CANDIDATES. A RUN-OFF ELECTION BETWEEN THE TOP TWO PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES TOOK PLACE JANUARY 6 WITH A PEACEFUL TRANSFER OF POWER TO ANOTHER CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT ON JANUARY 14. CANDIDATE DEBATES AND CONGRESSIONAL SESSIONS WERE WIDELY COVERED BY THE LOCAL MEDIA. CANDIDATES HAD ACCESS TO MEDIA, AND HELD RALLIES AND OTHER PUBLIC EVENTS WITHOUT OFFICIAL HINDRANCE.

DURING THE MEETING IN MADRID IN MAY BETWEEN GUERRILLA REPRESENTATIVES AND THOSE OF THE LEGAL POLITICAL PARTIES, BOTH SIDES AGREED TO INITIATE SIGNIFICANT CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES IN 1991 WHICH WOULD, AMONG OTHER

[redacted]

[redacted]

CHANGES, ENABLE GUERRILLAS TO RUN FOR OFFICE.

SECTION 4

GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT HINDER INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS VISITING AND WORKING IN GUATEMALA. SENIOR OFFICIALS MET REPRESENTATIVES OF THESE GROUPS, INCLUDING AW, WOLA, AI, AND A GROUP LOOKING INTO THE ALLEGED ABDUCTION OF AMERICAN CITIZEN DIANA ORTIZ (SEC 1.B). UN AND OAS REPRESENTATIVES ALSO VISITED. SOME FOREIGN HUMAN RIGHTS-RELATED GROUPS--BRIGADAS DE GAM, PEACE BRIGADES INTERNATIONAL, AND WITNESSES FOR PEACE--SET UP PERMANENT PRESENCE WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE. THE GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, PROVED SENSITIVE TO OUTSIDE CRITICISM OF ITS HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD, LABELING IT AS POLITICAL. PRESIDENT CEREZO STATED U.S. GOVERNMENT CRITICISM WAS DRIVEN BY A DESIRE "TO PAY BACK" GUATEMALA FOR ITS FOREIGN POLICY INDEPENDENCE. GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD CAME UNDER CRITICISM AT THE UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, ALTHOUGH AN EFFORT TO REESTABLISH A HUMAN RIGHTS RAPPORTEUR FOR GUATEMALA DID NOT PROSPER. THE UN DEBATE DREW CONSIDERABLE PUBLIC, PRESS, AND OFFICIAL ATTENTION.

THE CONSTITUTIONALLY CREATED HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OFFICE INCREASED ITS ACTIVITIES UNDER ITS NEW HEAD, [redacted]

RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO. THE OFFICE ESTABLISHED AN INVESTIGATIONS UNIT AND UNDERTOOK ENERGETIC EDUCATION CAMPAIGNS AMONG THE PUBLIC AND THE SECURITY FORCES. THE OFFICE ISSUED STRONG STATEMENTS CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT AND THE SECURITY FORCES AND REPORTED IT HAD INFORMATION WHICH INDICATED A POSSIBLE INVOLVEMENT BY MILITARY IN MURDER OF U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE (SEC. 1. A). DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ RISKED HIS LIFE IN MARCH TO SAVE CERJ LEADER AMILCAR MENDEZ FROM AN ATTACK BY CIVIL PATROLMEN IN PARRAXTUT; ALVAREZ AND MENDEZ WERE ESCORTING RETURNING FAMILIES WHO FLED

PARRAXTUT IN THE WAKE OF THE MEJIA KILLING (SEC 1.A) WHEN THEY WERE SET UPON. MENDEZ MANAGED TO FLEE BUT ALVAREZ WAS HELD AND THREATENED WITH DEATH. SOME DAYS LATER THE PATROL MEMBERS APOLOGIZED TO ALVAREZ; NO CRIMINAL CHARGES WERE FILED AGAINST THE ATTACKERS. THE FAMILIES RESUMED LIVING IN PARRAXTUT, BUT REPORTEDLY NOT ON A FULL-TIME BASIS. THE OFFICE DID NOT EMIT A LONG-AWAITED REPORT ON THE 1988 EL AGUACATE MASSACRE; THE OMBUDSMAN COULD REACH NO CONCLUSION AMONG MUCH CONFLICTING EVIDENCE.

LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS REMAINED HIGHLY POLITICIZED. THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, ENGAGED IN LITTLE ACTIVITY AND SEEMED MORE INTERESTED IN EFFORTS TO DEFEND THE OFFICIAL RECORD AT THE UN THAN IN CARRYING OUT WORK IN GUATEMALA. LOCAL NONGOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, SUCH AS GAM, CONAVIGUA, CODEP, CIEPRODH, CERJ, WERE GENERALLY NOT GOOD SOURCES OF OBJECTIVE INFORMATION AND DID NOT HAVE A GREAT DEAL OF CREDIBILITY IN GUATEMALA.

SECTION 5

DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL STATISTICS, ABOUT HALF OF THE POPULATION WAS CULTURALLY INDIGENOUS WITH THE REST LADINO. ALTHOUGH HAVING EQUAL LEGAL RIGHTS, INDIGENOUS PEOPLE REMAINED OUTSIDE THE NATIONAL CULTURE, LANGUAGE,

AND ECONOMY. INDIGENOUS MALES CONTINUED TO BE MUCH MORE LIKELY THAN URBAN LADINOS TO BE DRAFTED INTO THE ARMY OR FORCIBLY RECRUITED INTO GUERRILLA GROUPS. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUFFERED MOST OF THE COMBAT CASUALTIES AND MAJOR RIGHTS ABUSES (SEC. 1. A AND B). BOTH THE ARMY AND THE GUERRILLAS FIELDED LARGELY INDIGENOUS ARMIES, USUALLY LED BY LADINOS. THERE WERE, HOWEVER, A FEW INDIGENOUS SERVING AS ARMY OFFICERS AND IN CONGRESS. THERE IS MUCH SOCIAL DISCRIMINATION BY LADINOS (WESTERNIZED GUATEMALANS) AGAINST THE INDIGENOUS PEOPLE.

WOMEN WERE VERY ACTIVE IN THE NATION'S WORK FORCE, PARTICULARLY IN AGRICULTURE, THE GROWING TEXTILE INDUSTRY, LOW-PAYING PUBLIC SECTOR JOBS, AND IN THE [redacted]

LOW-END OF THE RETAIL BUSINESS. MANY WOMEN HELD PROMINENT POLITICAL POSTS DURING THE CEREZO ADMINISTRATION. DESPITE LEGAL PROTECTION, WOMEN FACED DISCRIMINATION IN THE JOB MARKET. JOBS WERE OFTEN ADVERTISED ON THE BASIS OF SEX, WITH WOMEN GENERALLY SELECTED FOR LOWER PAYING ONES. NO NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS WERE DEVOTED TO WOMEN'S ISSUES. ONE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE, RENE DE LEON, SELECTED A WOMAN AS VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE AND ANOTHER, ALFONSO CABRERA, MADE "WOMEN'S ISSUES" A CAMPAIGN THEME.

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN, SUCH AS DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, REMAINED FREQUENT BUT GENERALLY RECEIVED LITTLE ATTENTION FROM POLICE OR PRESS. CRIMINAL SEXUAL VIOLENCE OFTEN WENT UNREPORTED BY VICTIMS AND DID NOT RECEIVE A HIGH PRIORITY FROM POLICE.

SECTION 6

WORKER RIGHTS

A. RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO JOIN OR FORM UNIONS. THE LAW REGULATING FREE TRADE ZONES STIPULATES THAT ALL LABOR REGULATIONS APPLY. ABOUT 8 PERCENT OF THE WORK FORCE

WAS IN UNIONS; MUCH OF THE PUBLIC SECTOR, HOWEVER, WAS UNIONIZED. MOST UNION ORGANIZING SINCE THE ENACTMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION HAS BEEN IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR. THE CIVIL CODE REQUIRES ALL ORGANIZATIONS TO FULFILL

PAGE 03 GUATEM 12216 12 OF 14 272116Z

STRINGENT REQUIREMENTS IN ORDER TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS, WHICH CONTRIBUTES TO THE SMALL PERCENTAGE OF UNIONIZED WORKERS. WHILE STATUTES SET A LIMIT OF A FEW DAYS FOR PROCESSING OF APPLICATIONS, DELAYS OF MONTHS OR YEARS ARE NOT UNUSUAL. THERE WERE SEVERAL PROPOSALS FOR REFORMING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS. ILO EXPERTS HELPED WRITE A DRAFT LABOR CODE THAT LIMITS OFFICIALS TO CERTIFYING WORKERS JOINED OF THEIR OWN WILL. THE PROPOSAL REMAINED IN CONGRESS. DESPITE HURDLES, 29 LEGAL UNIONS WERE FORMED IN 1990 WITH 14 MORE APPROVED AND AWAITING OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION. THERE WAS A SOLIDARISMO MOVEMENT WHICH CRITICS LABELED AN EMPLOYER-INSPIRED RIVAL TO GENUINE UNIONS. THE LABOR MINISTRY DID NOT REGISTER SOLIDARISMO ORGANIZATIONS.

UNION LEADERS MUST SHOW THEY HAVE NO CRIMINAL RECORD, WORK AT THE COMPANY BEING UNIONIZED, AND CAN READ. THEY MAY SERVE ONLY ONE TERM, BUT BY ROTATING OFFICES THE SAME PERSONS STAY ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS. LEADERS REMAINED AS LONG AS THEY HAD GRASS ROOTS SUPPORT. LEGAL RESTRICTIONS ON POLITICAL ACTIVITY BY UNION LEADERS WERE NOT ENFORCED; SEVERAL WERE CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS AND ACTIVELY TOOK PART IN ELECTIONEERING. UNIONS ARE REQUIRED TO HAVE A MINIMUM OF 20 MEMBERS, BUT A CRAFT UNION OF SKILLED WORKERS FROM SEVERAL COMPANIES IS PERMITTED. THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC CONFEDERATION, CUSG, FORMED SUCH A UNION AMONG MUNICIPAL WORKERS. IT HAD BEEN COMMON FOR EMPLOYERS TO FORM SEVERAL ENTITIES OF LESS THAN 20 WORKERS, IN THE HOPE WORKERS WOULD HAVE NO POSSIBILITY OF UNIONIZING. IN A VICTORY FOR UNIONS, A COURT RULED IN 1990 THAT AN ECONOMIC UNIT, LABORATORIOS BONIN IN THIS CASE, MUST BE TREATED AS A WHOLE. THE RULING WAS UNDER APPEAL.

THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT TO STRIKE, BUT PROCEDURES FOR A LEGAL STRIKE ARE CUMBERSOME. MOST SIMPLY OCCUR WITHOUT PERMISSION AND, IN PRACTICE, THE MINISTRY OF LABOR MAKES NO EFFORT TO DETERMINE THE LEGALITY. THE FIRST LEGAL STRIKES IN MEMORY OCCURRED IN 1990--ALL THREE INVOLVED SMALL NUMBERS OF WORKERS. A DISSIDENT GROUP OF FORMER UNION LEADERS WAS ABLE TO

A MAJOR STRIKE INVOLVED THE OCCUPATION OF THE CAVISA GLASS FACTORY, SUPPOSEDLY OVER THE ISSUE OF JOB STABILITY. MANAGEMENT REFUSED TO BARGAIN UNTIL WORKERS WITHDREW FROM THE FACTORY. AFTER FIVE MONTHS OF LEGAL WRANGLES, COURTS ORDERED POLICE TO REMOVE THE WORKERS, SOME OF WHOM WERE ARMED. B. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

LARGELY DISCREDITED LABOR COURTS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR ENFORCING LAWS PROHIBITING ANTI-UNION DISCRIMINATION. AN EXAMPLE OF COURT INEFFECTIVENESS WAS THE 1988 DECISION THAT TEXTILES FRANCISCO CAPUANO Y HIJOS REHIRE 60 WORKERS AND PAY BACK WAGES. TWO YEARS LATER, THE COURTS WERE STILL DEBATING THE COMPANY'S APPEAL OF THE 1,000 QUETZAL (170 USD) FINE FOR DISOBEYING THE ORDER. THIRTY-SIX WORKERS REMAINED UNEMPLOYED; THE REST TOOK OTHER JOBS, LOSING RE-EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS. ANOTHER CASE INVOLVED THE EL PILAR SUGAR MILL. WORKERS WERE FIRED AFTER REQUESTING A COURT INJUNCTION TO ENABLE THEM TO FORM A UNION. ONE WORKER, JUAN TARACH, WAS KILLED IN A CAR ACCIDENT AND MANAGEMENT TOOK NO ACTION TO ALLAY SUSPICION VIOLENCE WAS IMMINENT. EVENTUALLY, ALL BUT TWO WORKERS WITHDREW THEIR LEGAL CLAIMS. WHEN AN APPARENT ATTEMPT BY UNKNOWN PERSONS WAS MADE TO KILL THE TWO HOLD-OUTS, THEY OBTAINED ASYLUM IN CANADA.

THE MINISTRY OF LABOR REACHED A COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENT WITH ITS UNION, THE FIRST AMONG CIVIL

[redacted]

SERVANTS. THE CONFLICTIVE, SEMI-AUTONOMOUS ELECTRICAL UNION, STINDE, SIGNED AN AGREEMENT WITH MANAGEMENT. THE GOVERNMENT, IN AN ELECTORAL MOVE, TRIED TO FORCE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING ON THE PRIVATE SECTOR THROUGH PROVISIONS IN AN INCENTIVE PAY LAW AND PROPOSED LEGISLATION ON SALARY POLICY; BOTH MET STRONG OPPOSITION.

THE GUATEMALAN LABOR CODE GIVES PRIMACY TO THE PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL WORKERS OVER COLLECTIVE RIGHTS; THESE PROVISIONS EXCEED INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS AND U.S. LAW. SALARIES ARE SET PRIMARILY THROUGH INDIVIDUAL NEGOTIATIONS OR MINIMUM WAGES. LABOR INSPECTORS REPORT TO LABOR COURTS.

ALTHOUGH MANY LOCAL AND INTERNATIONAL GROUPS, INCLUDING THE ICFTU, CLAIM UNIONISTS HAVE BEEN "PARTICULAR TARGETS OF DEATH SQUADS," THERE IS NO CONVINCING EVIDENCE OF A SYSTEMATIC ATTACK ON UNIONISTS BY OFFICIALS OR PERSONS

CONNECTED WITH THE SECURITY FORCES. LABOR VIOLENCE GENERALLY INVOLVED "THUGS" EMPLOYED ON AN AD HOC BASIS. WITHOUT DOUBT, SOME THREATS TO UNIONISTS RESULTED FROM INFORMATION OBTAINED BY SECURITY FORCES ON ALLEGEDLY SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES AND PASSED TO EMPLOYERS OR ACTED UPON BY PERSONS IN THE SECURITY FORCES. UNION ACTIVITIES, PER SE, WERE NOT CONSIDERED "SUBVERSIVE."

C. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

THE CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS FORCED LABOR AND IT GENERALLY DID NOT EXIST. THERE WERE ALLEGATIONS CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS VIOLATE THE CONVENTION ON FORCED LABOR. CREDIBLE ISOLATED REPORTS EXISTED OF UNPAID PATROLMEN

USED FOR ROAD WORK, BUILDING BARRACKS, OR CUTTING FIREWOOD. NO SYSTEMATIC PATTERN HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED.

FREQUENT. IN THE INFORMAL AND AGRICULTURAL SECTORS, HOWEVER, SUCH LABOR IS COMMON. IT IS NOT UNUSUAL TO SEE CHILDREN HELPING RUN SMALL FAMILY BUSINESSES--E.G., ROAD-SIDE STANDS--BEGGING, AND WASHING OR GUARDING CARS. A LOCAL ORGANIZATION, CASA ALIANZA, ESTIMATES 5000 STREET CHILDREN IN THE CAPITAL--MANY ENGAGED IN PROSTITUTION AND PETTY CRIME. IN RURAL AREAS, WHOLE FAMILIES WORKED. THE LABOR MINISTER RECOGNIZED THE DIFFICULTY IN APPLYING CHILD LABOR LAWS WHEN POOR FAMILIES NEED ALL MEMBERS TO FEED ALL MOUTHS.

ON THE POSITIVE SIDE, SCHOOL ENROLMENT, AN INDICATOR OF CHILDREN NOT WORKING, ROSE. IN 1985, 1.016 MILLION WERE IN SCHOOL; BY 1988, 1.139 MILLION; RURAL AREAS ROSE FROM [redacted]

571,000 TO 641,000.

E. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

THE WORK DAY IS LEGALLY EIGHT HOURS, THE WORK WEEK 44, BUT A TRADITION OF LONG WORK DAYS HAS NOT DISAPPEARED. THIRD-COUNTRY OWNERS OF TEXTILE PLANTS REPORTEDLY PAID MINIMUM WAGES FOR A TWELVE-HOUR DAY, VIOLATING BOTH THE CONSTITUTION AND LABOR CODE. THE MINISTRY OF LABOR HAD COMPLAINTS OF BEATINGS AND FIRINGS OF TEXTILE EMPLOYEES HELD TO BE DOING LESS THAN THE EXPECTED WORKLOAD. LABOR INSPECTORS WERE NOT DILIGENT IN ENFORCING THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY, IN PART BECAUSE TEXTILE PLANTS CLOSE WHEN THEY FIND CONDITIONS MORE ATTRACTIVE ELSEWHERE. LEGISLATION PROVIDED FOR A VARIETY OF MINIMUM WAGES, ALL INADEQUATE IN THE INFLATIONARY ECONOMY OF 1990. TRADITIONAL LANDOWNERS FILED LEGAL CHALLENGES TO AN OFFICIAL DECREE RAISING RURAL WAGES FROM 0.70 USD TO 1.70 USD PER DAY. TWO-YEAR-OLD MINIMUM WAGES IN OTHER SECTORS WERE ONLY SLIGHTLY HIGHER, FEW WERE RAISED.

HOURS. END SUMMARY.
3. MAJOR ERIC BUCKLAND ARRIVED IN SAN SALVADOR THIS MORNING UNDER HEAVY SECURITY, TO PROVIDE TESTIMONY TO THE FOURTH PENAL COURT. WITH A TEAM OF TWO ATTORNEYS, HE LANDED AT ILOPANGO AIR FORCE BASE, WAS HELICOPTERED TO THE ESAF MILITARY ACADEMY AND WAS DRIVEN DIRECTLY TO THE RESIDENCE OF THE CHARGE. HIS ENTOURAGE ARRIVED PRIOR TO 08:00.

4. THE TESTIMONY WAS ATTENDED BY JUDGE ZAMORA, A COURT-APPOINTED TRANSLATOR, MARGARET POPKIN, WHO IS ALSO THE DIRECTOR OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE OF THE UCA, A TEAM OF THREE PROSECUTORS, THREE DEFENSE ATTORNEYS, THE CHARGE, THE CHIEF OF MILGRP, A MILGRP TRANSLATOR AND TWO EMBOFFS. WITH THIS GROUP CRAMMED AROUND A LARGE CONFERENCE TABLE, BUCKLAND OPENED HIS TESTIMONY WITH A LONG STATEMENT. HIS STATEMENT PROCEEDED SLOWLY. FIRST THE DEFENSE OBJECTED TO HIS USE OF NOTES. PROGRESS WAS ALSO INHIBITED BY THE TRANSLATION, AN AGREED UPON VERSION OF WHICH WAS TRANSCRIBED ON A MANUAL TYPEWRITER.

5. BUCKLAND'S DECLARATION CONTAINED NO SURPRISES. HE DETAILED HIS FRIENDSHIP WITH COL. CARLOS AVILES FROM [redacted]

ITS INCEPTION. HE CHARACTERIZED AVILES AS A PROFESSIONAL COLLEAGUE AND PERSONAL FRIEND WHO HAD SPECIFICALLY REQUESTED THAT BUCKLAND'S TOUR IN EL SALVADOR BE EXTENDED SO THEY COULD WORK TOGETHER IN THE C-5. BUCKLAND ADDED THAT WHEN HE RETURNED TO THE US IN JULY 1989, HE PRESENTED AVILES WITH A GIFT OF A MINIATURE CANNON FOR HIS COLLECTION. AVILES RECIPROCATED WITH T-SHIRTS FOR BUCKLAND'S SONS AND A GIFT FOR HIS WIFE.

6. BUCKLAND THEN RECOUNTED THE DETAILS OF THE CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN HIMSELF AND AVILES CONCERNING THE JESUIT MURDERS. CONSISTENT WITH EARLIER STATEMENTS, HE RELATED THAT AVILES CONFIDED THAT BENAVIDES HAD ADMITTED TO KILLING THE JESUITS TO LT. COL. RIVAS OF THE SIU, WHO IN TURN HAD INFORMED COL. LOPEZ Y LOPEZ, WHO INFORMED AVILES. BUCKLAND ALSO TESTIFIED THAT ON DECEMBER 28, AVILES MENTIONED THAT HE HAD SEEN BENAVIDES AND THAT HE DID NOT LOOK WELL. HE THEN RECOUNTED THE INCIDENTS LEADING TO HIS PREMATURE DEPARTURE FROM EL SALVADOR, STARTING WITH HIS REPORT TO COL. HUNTER OF THE MILGRP OF WHAT AVILES HAD TOLD HIM.
7. BUCKLAND'S STATEMENT CONCLUDED, JUDGE ZAMORA OPENED THE EXAMINATION PORTION OF THE TESTIMONY BY ASKING WHY HE HAD WAITED SO LONG TO TELL ANYONE ABOUT HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH AVILES. BUCKLAND REPLIED THAT HE WAS THE CUSTODIAN OF A CONFIDENCE THAT HE COULD NOT BETRAY. MOREOVER, HE BELIEVED THAT THE TRUTH WOULD EMERGE ON ITS OWN. THE KEY PERSON, HE SAID, WAS COL. RIVAS OF THE SIU, WHO HAD THE NECESSARY INFORMATION. HE ALSO STATED THAT HE BELIEVED THAT IT WOULD BE BETTER IF THE SALVADORANS SOLVED THE MURDER ON THEIR OWN, WITHOUT US INTERFERENCE.

8. THE JUDGE'S QUESTIONS WERE FOLLOWED BY A LONG BREAK. BUCKLAND'S ATTORNEYS REQUESTED THE RECESS TO REMIND JUDGE ZAMORA OF THE CONDITIONS OF THE TESTIMONY, WHEN THE JUDGE BEGAN QUESTIONS ABOUT BUCKLAND'S DISCUSSIONS WITH THE MOAKLEY TASK FORCE. THE RECESS WAS EXTENDED UNEXPECTEDLY BY THE TYPIST, WHO DISCOVERED THAT HE HAD FAILED TO COVER BOTH SIDES [redacted]

OF A TYPED PAGE WITH TESTIMONY. UNDER SALVADORAN COURT RULES EACH PAGE MUST BE COMPLETELY FILLED, TO AVOID TAMPERING WITH THE TESTIMONY. THE TYPIST'S OVERSIGHT REQUIRED THAT HE RETYPE THE ENTIRE THREE HOUR TESTIMONY, WHICH DELAYED THE PROCEEDINGS BY NINETY MINUTES.

UNCLASSIFIED

9. THE JUDGE THEN TERMINATED HIS OWN QUESTIONS, WHICH WERE FOLLOWED BY SEVERAL QUESTIONS FROM THE

UNCLASSIFIED

PROSECUTORS, WHO APPEARED MOST INTERESTED IN WHAT OTHER INFORMATION BUCKLAND MIGHT HAVE RECEIVED IN HIS JOB AT THE ESTADO MAYOR. THE MAJOR REPLIED THAT HE KNEW VERY LITTLE OUTSIDE OF HIS C-5 POSITION AND HAD NO PRIOR KNOWLEDGE OF THE JESUIT MURDERS.

10. PROBLEMS WITH THE DEFENSE ATTORNEYS AROSE ALMOST IMMEDIATELY, WHEN THEY RE-INITIATED INQUIRIES INTO THE MOAKLEY TASK FORCE REPORT. BUCKLAND'S COUNSEL REMINDED THE JUDGE THAT DISCUSSION OF ANY EVENT AFTER JANUARY 6 WAS OUTSIDE OF THE AGREEMENT AND THAT HIS CLIENT SHOULD NOT BE REQUIRED TO RESPOND. DEFENSE ATTORNEYS RESPONDED THAT BUCKLAND'S ATTORNEYS DO NOT HAVE THE RIGHT TO INTERVENE--UNDER SALVADORAN PROCEDURE THE DECLARANT'S ATTORNEY HAS NO RIGHT TO OBJECT. ONLY THE JUDGE CAN DECIDE IF A QUESTION IS APPROPRIATE. SINCE THE JUDGE RULED THAT THE QUESTION WAS RELEVANT, IT MUST BE ANSWERED. REMINDED OF THE CONDITIONS, THE JUDGE ADVISED DEFENSE ATTORNEYS THAT HE COULD NOT VIOLATE THE CONDITIONS WHICH HAD BEEN AGREED TO BY THE FOREIGN MINISTRY. HE AVOIDED ANY ADMISSION TO THE ATTORNEYS THAT HE HAD HIMSELF BEEN PRIVY TO THE CONDITIONS AND HAD MADE NO OBJECTIONS. THE DEFENSE CONCLUDED THAT IT COULD NOT CROSS-EXAMINE BUCKLAND UNDER THESE CONDITIONS, THE JUDGE SHOULD NOT BE BOUND BY THE FOREIGN MINISTRY AND THAT THE ENTIRETY OF THE TESTIMONY WAS THEREFORE INVALID. THE DEFENSE THEREBY CONCLUDED THEIR EXAMINATION AND CLOSED THE PROCEEDINGS. BOTH JUDGE ZAMORA AND THE PROSECUTORS ASSURED EMBOFFS THAT THE DEFENSE'S INTRANSIGENCE WAS PURE LEGAL THEATRE AND THAT THE TESTIMONY WAS FULLY ADMISSIBLE.

11. EMBASSY, JUDGE, AND DOD LAWYERS HAVE AGREED UPON A COMPLEX PROCEDURE FOR THE SIGNING A FINAL TRANSLATED TRANSCRIPT OF THE DEPOSITION. POST WILL ADVISE SEPTEL. BOTH PROSECUTORS AND DEFENSE ATTORNEYS DEPARTED THE DCM'S RESIDENCE TRAILED BY A SPARSE GATHERING OF JOURNLISTS. MAJOR BUCKLAND AND HIS ENTOURAGE DEPARTED AT APPROXIMATELY 15:00.

END COMMENT.

7. ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS, EARLY IN THE MORNING OF SEPTEMBER 30, ARMED MEN NEAR OCOS (SAN MARCOS) DRAGGED AWAY FLAVIO HAROLDO GUILLEN ORTIZ (44) WHILE HE WAS SLEEPING IN HIS HOME. THE VICTIM'S MOTHER DENIED HER SON HAD ANY INVOLVEMENT IN POLITICS. NO FURTHER INFORMATION WAS AVAILABLE. THE AREA AROUND OCOS IS ONE OF THE MOST VIOLENT IN GUATEMALA, RENOWN FOR GUERRILLA WAR, CRIMINAL ACTIVITY INCLUDING DRUG SMUGGLING, AND ARMY COUNTERINSURGENCY OPERATIONS.

8. THERE WAS NO VISIBLE PROGRESS IN RESOLVING NOTABLE PREVIOUS DISAPPEARANCES, SUCH AS THAT OF CONDEG (NATIONAL COMMISSION OF DISPLACED PERSONS OF GUATEMALA) ACTIVIST LUIS MIGUEL SOLIS PAJARITO WHICH CONTINUED TO ELICIT CONSIDERABLE INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION.

VIOLATIONS OF LAW IN AN INTERNAL CONFLICT

9. THE TEMPO OF THE WAR PICKED UP WITH CLASHES NEAR THE MEXICAN BORDER IN QUICHE. THE ARMY CONTINUED EFFORTS TO CUT OFF THE GUERRILLAS FROM ACCESS TO MEXICO. APPARENTLY IN RESPONSE, THE GUERRILLAS RESUMED ATTACKS ON ECONOMIC TARGETS, IN PARTICULAR ELECTRICAL PYLONS. THE AUGUST 31 DESTRUCTION BY GUERRILLAS OF AN AMCIT MISSIONARY FAMILY'S MEDICAL INSTALLATIONS IN PETEN, DREW CONSIDERABLE ATTENTION, WITH THE AGGRIEVED STOLTZFUZ FAMILY RUNNING A PAID ADVERTISEMENT IN THE LOCAL PRESS BLASTING THE GUERRILLAS FOR THE ATTACK. 10. THE ELECTION CAMPAIGNS OF ALL THIRTEEN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES, INCLUDING RIOS, WENT INTO HIGH GEAR IN SEPTEMBER. POLLS CONTINUED TO SHOW UCN JORGE CARPIO AND "NO-VENTA" RIOS MONT BATTLING FOR FIRST PLACE AMONG THOSE VOTERS WITH A STATED PREFERENCE. THE LARGEST CHUNK OF VOTERS, HOWEVER, STILL REGISTERED ON MOST POLLS AS "UNDECIDED." THE SEEMINGLY NEVER-ENDING ISSUE OF WHETHER RIOS CAN LEGALLY RUN, CONTINUED TO CAST A SHADOW OVER ALL POLITICAL ACTIVITY. THE PRESIDENT OF THE SUPREME COURT (TSJ), EDMUNDO VASQUEZ, ORDERED RIOS INSCRIBED AS A CANDIDATE PENDING A FINAL RULING BY THE FULL COURT. THE PRESIDENT OF THE ELECTORAL TRIBUNAL (TSE), ARTURO HERBRUGER, ANNOUNCED, HOWEVER, THAT THE TSE WOULD PROCEED WITH THE PRINTING OF BALLOTS IN EARLY OCTOBER WITHOUT THE NAME OF RIOS MONT APPEARING. SEVERAL COMPLEX LEGAL ACTIONS REMAIN IN THE OFFING WHICH COULD DELAY THE HOLDING OF THE ELECTIONS.

11. THE GOVERNING DC PARTY CONTINUED TO REGISTER NEAR THE BOTTOM IN PRE-ELECTION POLLS. TRAVEL IN THE COUNTRYSIDE BY POLOFFS, HOWEVER, SHOWED THE DC APPARENTLY STRONGER THAN POLLS INDICATED. THE DC RETAINS A SOLID CORE OF SUPPORT IN RURAL AREAS, PARTICULARLY THOSE HEAVILY INDIGENOUS ONES THAT FEAR A RETURN OF THE MASSIVE VIOLENCE OF PAST YEARS.

12. CASTILLO MILLA, HEAD OF THE CITIZEN'S REGISTRY (RC), PART OF THE TSE, REPORTED RECEIVING PHONED DEATH THREATS BECAUSE OF TSE OPPOSITION TO THE INSCRIPTION OF RIOS MONT. THE RIGHT-WING MLN (NATIONAL LIBERATION MOVEMENT) CLAIMED THAT ON SEPTEMBER 30 ONE OF ITS MOTORCADES SUFFERED AN ATTACK ON A RURAL ROAD WHEN ASSAILANTS PROVOKED A LANDSLIDE. NO ONE WAS INJURED. THE CONSERVATIVE MAS (SOLIDARITY ACTION MOVEMENT) REPORTED THAT ARMED MEN ROBBED ITS OFFICE IN ESCUINTLA.

MEMORANDUM

TO: L - Mr. Williamson

FROM: L/ARA - T. Michael Peay

SUBJECT: Your meeting on October 3 with Sam Buffone

Sam Buffone, attorney for the Letelier and Moffitt families, will come to your office on Wednesday at 4:00 to discuss their case. Mike Young, who has not yet met Mr. Buffone, will be present, as well as Mary Catherine Malin and myself from L/ARA. Tim Junkin, a partner assisting Mr. Buffone on the Letelier case, may accompany Mr. Buffone.

The L/ARA memorandum of September 27, attached at Tab 1, contains most of the background information you will need for this meeting. You should also be aware that key Congressional leaders from Chile are in town this week to meet with members of the U.S. Congress and with Administration officials. The Chilean Congressmen have met with Sam Buffone, who has indicated that he will share with us what he has learned about the timing of Chilean Congressional approval of the compensation agreement.

Mary Catherine Malin of L/ARA and Julie Haughn of L/CID have been working on a first draft of the compensation brief. As they have been coordinating directly with Mr. Buffone, specific questions concerning the brief are not likely to arise at this meeting.

In addition, the following documents are attached for your reference at the Tab indicated:

Tab 2. The compensation agreement
Tab 3. U.S. "sanctions" legislation - The Kennedy-Harkin Amendment (section 726 of the International Security and Development Act of 1981), and section 525(c)(1) of the 1990 Foreign Operations, Export and Financing and Related Programs Act, which conditions IMET funding for Chile on "good faith efforts" to resolve the Letelier case.
Tab 4. The 1914 Treaty establishing the Commission which will decide the compensation case.
Tab 5. The 1980 decision in the Civil Suit by the Letelier and Moffitt families.

SUBJECT: RSO Visit to Valparaiso and Vina del Mar

I had the opportunity to visit the cities of Valparaiso and Vina del Mar recently, and took the opportunity to speak with Carabinero and Investigaciones personnel about terrorist activities in both locations.

In Valparaiso, field grade officers from both agencies stated that the number of incidents has dropped dramatically from last year. They are aware that terrorist cells exist in Valparaiso, but note that bombings, attacks on Mormon chapels and terrorist-inspired robberies have decreased in 1990. They appear not to have much of a handle on whether or not the Lautaro group has infiltrated the high schools. They mentioned that they both had people in Santiago conferring with their respective headquarters about this situation. They noted that the terrain in Valparaiso does not lend itself to easy escape once a terrorist act has been committed. It is standard police practice to block the roads leading to the cerros where the slums are built.

In Vina, I received essentially the same story regarding Lautaro activities in the schools, although the next day the El Mercurio Valparaiso edition carried a front page story about some Lautaro propaganda that turned up in the Liceo Industrial in Vina.

Carabineros in Vina reported that in August 1990, they discovered a subversive training camp in the countryside outside the town of Quilpue. The P.A.E. OIC in Vina commented that he had taken part in the operations that followed the attack on the Carabinero police station in Los Quenes and that this training camp was very similar to the one discovered near Los Quenes. He noted that a rifle range was found along with expended M-16 cartridges.

Carabineros in Vina also reported that on July 5, three Lautaro terrorists were arrested in Vina after an attempted robbery in which they disarmed two private guards. The arrestees are:

Veronica de Rosario Lara Munoz, 23 yrs., aka "Elena".
Sergio Manuel Gonzalez Gonzalez, age 23, aka "Hernan".
Sergio Alberto Trincerto Morales, age 23.

I think that it is interesting that the Carabineros reported that Gonzalez was carrying a revolver that was taken from the Los Quenes Carabinero police station. As you know, Los Quenes was an FPMR/D operation. Lara was carrying another Carabinero revolver taken during a bank robbery that occurred in Santiago on June 6 of this year.

Gonzalez gave a lengthy statement to the Carabineros regarding his activities. He stated that from August 1977 thru April 1990, he operated in Santiago, where he was involved in a number of robberies, as well as a Mormon chapel fire bombing that occurred in May 1988 in Puente Alto. He was arrested by the CNI in August 1988, on a weapons charge and released on August 11, 1989. He arrived in Valparaiso in April 1990.(Police from Vina searched his residence and found Lautaro literature, cash and "subversive documents.")

Police in Vina noted that the terrain in Vina also does not lend itself well to terrorist incidents for the same reason as that in Valparaiso. They stated that the "wall street district" in Vina is compact and patrolled by a special 8-man reaction unit designed to foil bank robberies. They noted that while crime in general was rising, it did not appear to be terrorist-related. They also stated that the number of terrorist incidents is down fom last year, although they believe that a new Lautaro cell may now be forming in the cerro above the town. (NFI)

2. THIS FOLLOWING IS A CORRECTED COPY OF SAN SALVADOR 13289.

3. SUMMARY: IN A LENGTHY SESSION MAJOR ERIC M. BUCKLAND TESTIFIED BEFORE THE FOURTH PENAL COURT JUDGE RICARDO ZAMORA TODAY (SEPT. 27). THE TESTIMONY ~~CONTAINED NO SURPRISES~~. MAJOR BUCKLAND OPENED THE TESTIMONY WITH A LONG STATEMENT, WITHOUT THE BENEFIT OF NOTES, AND WAS THEN CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE JUDGE, THE PROSECUTORS AND THE DEFENSE TEAM. ~~THE SESSION ENDED ABRUPTLY WHEN THE DEFENSE TEAM PERSISTED IN ASKING QUESTIONS EXCLUDED UNDER THE CONDITIONS OF THE DIPLOMATIC NOTES EXCHANGED~~ BETWEEN THE EMBASSY AND THE GOES. ~~THE DEFENSE TEAM DECLARED THAT THE CONDITIONS DENIED THEIR RIGHT TO CROSS EXAMINE THE WITNESS AND THANKFULLY CUT OFF THE SESSION.~~ AT APPROXIMATELY 15:00 HOURS. END SUMMARY.

4. MAJOR ERIC BUCKLAND ARRIVED IN SAN SALVADOR THIS MORNING UNDER HEAVY SECURITY, TO PROVIDE TESTIMONY TO THE FOURTH PENAL COURT. WITH A TEAM OF TWO ATTORNEYS, HE LANDED AT ILOPANGO AIR FORCE BASE, WAS HELICOPTERED TO THE ESAF MILITARY ACADEMY AND WAS DRIVEN DIRECTLY TO THE RESIDENCE OF THE CHARGE. HIS ENTOURAGE ARRIVED PRIOR TO 08:00.

TESTIMONY WITH A LONG STATEMENT. HIS STATEMENT PROCEEDED SLOWLY. FIRST THE DEFENSE OBJECTED TO HIS USE OF NOTES. PROGRESS WAS ALSO INHIBITED BY THE TRANSLATION, AN AGREED UPON VERSION OF WHICH WAS TRANSCRIBED ON A MANUAL TYPEWRITER.

6. BUCKLAND'S DECLARATION CONTAINED NO SURPRISES. HE DETAILED HIS FRIENDSHIP WITH COL. CARLOS AVILES FROM ITS INCEPTION. HE CHARACTERIZED AVILES AS A PROFESSIONAL COLLEAGUE AND PERSONAL FRIEND WHO HAD SPECIFICALLY REQUESTED THAT BUCKLAND'S TOUR IN EL SALVADOR BE EXTENDED SO THEY COULD WORK TOGETHER IN THE C-5. BUCKLAND ADDED THAT WHEN HE RETURNED TO THE US IN JULY 1989, HE PRESENTED AVILES WITH A GIFT OF A MINIATURE CANNON FOR HIS COLLECTION. AVILES RECIPROCATED WITH T-SHIRTS FOR BUCKLAND'S SONS AND A GIFT FOR HIS WIFE.

7. BUCKLAND THEN RECOUNTED THE DETAILS OF THE CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN HIMSELF AND AVILES CONCERNING THE JESUIT MURDERS. CONSISTENT WITH EARLIER STATEMENTS, HE RELATED THAT AVILES CONFIDED THAT BENAVIDES HAD ADMITTED TO KILLING THE JESUITS TO LT. COL. RIVAS OF THE SIU, WHO IN TURN HAD INFORMED COL. LOPEZ Y LOPEZ, WHO INFORMED AVILES. BUCKLAND ALSO TESTIFIED THAT ON DECEMBER 28, AVILES MENTIONED THAT HE HAD SEEN BENAVIDES AND THAT HE DID NOT LOOK WELL. HE THEN RECOUNTED THE INCIDENTS LEADING TO HIS PREMATURE DEPARTURE FROM EL SALVADOR, STARTING WITH HIS REPORT TO COL. HUNTER OF THE MILGRP OF WHAT AVILES HAD TOLD HIM.

8. BUCKLAND'S STATEMENT CONCLUDED, JUDGE ZAMORA OPENED THE EXAMINATION PORTION OF THE TESTIMONY BY ASKING WHY HE HAD WAITED SO LONG TO TELL ANYONE ABOUT HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH AVILES. BUCKLAND REPLIED THAT HE WAS THE CUSTODIAN OF A CONFIDENCE THAT HE COULD NOT BETRAY. MOREOVER, HE BELIEVED THAT THE TRUTH WOULD EMERGE ON ITS OWN. THE KEY PERSON, HE SAID, WAS COL. RIVAS OF THE SIU, WHO HAD THE NECESSARY INFORMATION.

HE ALSO STATED THAT HE BELIEVED THAT IT WOULD BE BETTER IF THE SALVADORANS SOLVED THE MURDER ON THEIR OWN, WITHOUT US INTERFERENCE.

9. THE JUDGE'S QUESTIONS WERE FOLLOWED BY A LONG BREAK. BUCKLAND'S ATTORNEYS REQUESTED THE RECESS TO REMIND JUDGE ZAMORA OF THE CONDITIONS OF THE TESTIMONY, WHEN THE JUDGE BEGAN QUESTIONS ABOUT BUCKLAND'S DISCUSSIONS WITH THE MOAKLEY TASK FORCE. THE RECESS WAS EXTENDED UNEXPECTEDLY BY THE TYPIST, WHO DISCOVERED THAT HE HAD FAILED TO COVER BOTH SIDES OF A TYPED PAGE WITH TESTIMONY. UNDER SALVADORAN COURT RULES EACH PAGE MUST BE COMPLETELY FILLED, TO AVOID TAMPERING WITH THE TESTIMONY. THE TYPIST'S OVERSIGHT REQUIRED THAT HE RETYPE THE ENTIRE THREE HOUR TESTIMONY, WHICH DELAYED THE PROCEEDINGS BY NINETY MINUTES.

10. THE JUDGE THEN TERMINATED HIS OWN QUESTIONS, WHICH WERE FOLLOWED BY SEVERAL QUESTIONS FROM THE PROSECUTORS, WHO APPEARED MOST INTERESTED IN WHAT OTHER INFORMATION BUCKLAND MIGHT HAVE RECEIVED IN HIS JOB AT THE ESTADO MAYOR. THE MAJOR REPLIED THAT HE KNEW VERY LITTLE OUTSIDE OF HIS C-5 POSITION AND HAD NO PRIOR KNOWLEDGE OF THE JESUIT MURDERS.

11. [redacted] PROBLEMS WITH THE DEFENSE ATTORNEYS AROSE ALMOST IMMEDIATELY, WHEN THEY RE-INITIATED INQUIRIES INTO THE MOAKLEY TASK FORCE REPORT. BUCKLAND'S COUNSEL

REMINDED THE JUDGE THAT DISCUSSION OF ANY EVENT AFTER JANUARY 6 WAS OUTSIDE OF THE AGREEMENT AND THAT HIS CLIENT SHOULD NOT BE REQUIRED TO RESPOND. DEFENSE ATTORNEYS RESPONDED THAT BUCKLAND'S ATTORNEYS DO NOT HAVE THE RIGHT TO INTERVENE--UNDER SALVADORAN PROCEDURE THE DECLARANT S ATTORNEY HAS NO RIGHT TO OBJECT. ONLY THE JUDGE CAN DECIDE IF A QUESTION IS APPROPRIATE. SINCE THE JUDGE RULED THAT THE QUESTION WAS RELEVANT, IT MUST BE ANSWERED. REMINDED OF THE CONDITIONS, THE JUDGE ADVISED DEFENSE ATTORNEYS THAT HE COULD NOT VIOLATE THE CONDITIONS WHICH HAD BEEN AGREED TO BY THE FOREIGN MINISTRY. HE AVOIDED ANY ADMISSION TO THE ATTORNEYS THAT HE HAD HIMSELF BEEN PRIVY TO THE CONDITIONS AND HAD MADE NO OBJECTIONS. THE DEFENSE CONCLUDED THAT IT COULD NOT CROSS-EXAMINE BUCKLAND UNDER THESE CONDITIONS, THE JUDGE SHOULD NOT BE BOUND BY THE FOREIGN MINISTRY AND THAT THE ENTIRETY OF THE TESTIMONY WAS THEREFORE INVALID. THE DEFENSE THEREBY CONCLUDED THEIR EXAMINATION AND CLOSED THE PROCEEDINGS. BOTH JUDGE ZAMORA AND THE PROSECUTORS ASSURED EMBOFFS THAT THE DEFENSE'S INTRANSIGENCE WAS PURE LEGAL THEATRE AND THAT THE TESTIMONY WAS FULLY ADMISSIBLE.

12. EMBASSY, JUDGE, AND DOD LAWYERS HAVE AGREED UPON A COMPLEX PROCEDURE FOR THE SIGNING A FINAL TRANSLATED TRANSCRIPT OF THE DEPOSITION. POST WILL ADVISE SEPTEL. BOTH PROSECUTORS AND DEFENSE ATTORNEYS DEPARTED THE DCM'S RESIDENCE TRAILED BY A SPARSE GATHERING OF JOURNLISTS. MAJOR BUCKLAND AND HIS ENTOURAGE DEPARTED AT APPROXIMATELY 15:00.

2. LEADER OF THE GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION "MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP" (GAM), NINETH MONTENEGRO DE GARCIA, CALLED ON POLOFF AT THE EMBASSY, OCTOBER 2. SHE WAS ACCOMPANIED BY GAM MEMBERS MARIO POLANCO AND BLANCA QUIROA DE LOPEZ. THE MAIN TOPICS OF DISCUSSION FOLLOW.

MEETING THE GUERRILLAS AND COMING BACK

3. MONTENEGRO SAID GAM WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE NEXT SET OF INFORMAL PEACE TALKS HOSTED BY THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION (CNR) IN MEXICO CITY OCTOBER 22-26. THE TALKS WILL BE BETWEEN REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUERRILLA ORGANIZATION THE URNG AND THOSE OF GUATEMALA'S "POPULAR SECTOR." THE "POPULAR SECTOR" WILL CONSIST OF THREE GROUPS: LABOR, "POPULAR" ORGANIZATIONS, AND SMALL

BUSINESSMEN. GAM WILL TAKE PART AS A MEMBER OF THE SECOND GROUP. POLANCO SAID 22 PERSONS WILL GO FROM EACH OF THE THREE GROUPS AND THAT HE WILL REPRESENT GAM.

4. MONTENEGRO GAVE POLOFF A COPY OF GAM'S POSITION PAPER PREPARED FOR THE TALKS. SHE SAID GAM APPRECIATES THE U.S. POSITION OF SUPPORT FOR THE TALKS AND STATEMENTS THAT THE WAR MUST END IN ORDER FOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA TO IMPROVE SIGNIFICANTLY. SHE AGREED THE WAR PROVIDES THE EXCUSE FOR MOST OF THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS THAT OCCUR IN GUATEMALA.

5. SHE SAID A PURPOSE OF HER VISIT TO THE EMBASSY WAS TO STRESS THAT GAM IS NOT ANTI-U.S., IS NOT PRO-GUERRILLA, AND IS CERTAINLY NOT A GUERRILLA FRONT IN CONTRAST TO MANY OF THE SUPPOSEDLY HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS WHICH OPERATE IN EL SALVADOR AND WORK FOR THE FMLN. GAM IS CRITICAL, SHE SAID, OF RECENT URNG ATTACKS ON THE NATION'S ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE. THIRTY YEARS OF WAR, MONTENEGRO SAID, HAVE BROUGHT ONLY DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

6. MONTENEGRO AND POLANCO EXPRESSED CONCERN FOR THE SAFETY OF THE PARTICIPANTS IN THE TALKS. MONTENEGRO SAID THE ARMY CONSIDERS GAM AND OTHER PARTICIPANTS AS GUERRILLA-FRONTS AND COULD TAKE REPRISALS AGAINST POLANCO AND OTHERS WHO TAKE PART IN THE MEXICO DIALOG. SHE ASKED FOR EMBASSY SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO PROTECT PARTICIPANTS. POLOFF AGREED THERE WAS RISK INVOLVED. HE SUGGESTED THAT THE PARTICIPANTS DO AS PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATION CACIF DID PRIOR TO ITS OWN TALKS IN CANADA WITH THE GUERRILLAS: REQUEST A MEETING WITH THE GOG AND THE ARMY FOR A PRE-TALK BRIEFING. POLOFF ALSO SUGGESTED THE PARTICIPANTS REQUEST, AS DID THE POLITICAL PARTIES PRIOR TO THEIR TALKS IN MADRID, TO HAVE THE ARMY SEND ALONG AN ADVISOR TO THE DELEGATION. BUT, MOST IMPORTANT POLOFF STRESSED, DON'T AGREE WITH THE GUERRILLAS TOO MUCH; BE CAREFUL ABOUT WHAT MIGHT BE IN ANY JOINT DECLARATION EMITTED AFTER THE TALKS; MAKE CLEAR AND PUBLIC GAM'S CRITICISM OF THE GUERRILLAS. EXCEPT FOR THE ONE ABOUT BRINGING ALONG A MILITARY ADVISOR, MONTENEGRO SEEMED RECEPTIVE TO THE SUGGESTIONS. POLANCO AND QUIROA, HOWEVER, DID NOT WANT A PRE-DEPARTURE MEETING WITH THE ARMY AND LAUNCHED INTO AN IMPASSIONED DISCOURSE BLAMING THE ARMY FOR ALL THE PROBLEMS IN GUATEMALA OVER THE PAST FORTY YEARS.

JUSTICE FOR THE MILITARY AND THE DEVINE CASE

7. MONTENEGRO, WHOSE HUSBAND ALLEGEDLY DISAPPEARED FIVE YEARS AGO, SAID SHE IS GROWING INCREASINGLY BITTER OVER

THE FAILURE OF THE GUATEMALAN JUSTICE SYSTEM TO PUNISH ANY MILITARY FOR THE MANY POLITICAL MURDERS AND DISAPPEARANCES OVER THE YEARS. SHE SAID THE MURDER OF AMCIT MICHAEL DEVINE LAST JUNE IN THE PETEN HAD BEEN EXECUTED BY THE MILITARY AND SHE COMPLIMENTED THE EMBASSY FOR FORCING THE GOG INTO ADMITTING THAT INVOLVEMENT. SHE SAID ONLY US PRESSURE COULD FORCE THE GOG INTO PERHAPS SETTING A PRECEDENT BY TRYING AND

8. MONTENEGRO, OUT OF THE BLUE, RAISED THE CASE OF ROSA PU GOMEZ, COMMON LAW WIFE OF DISAPPEARED CONDEG ACTIVIST LUIS MIGUEL SOLIS PAJARITO. SHE SAID SHE WANTED GAM TO BE ON RECORD AS STATING THAT IT DID NOT BELIEVE ROSA PU GOMEZ WAS BEING THREATENED OR WAS IN ANY PARTICULAR DANGER. SHE SAID SHE KNEW THE EMBASSY HAD BEEN RECEIVING CORRESPONDENCE FROM CONGRESSMEN AND OTHERS IN THE US RE PU GOMEZ. SHE ALSO SAID THAT SOME AMCITS HAD BEEN TO THE EMBASSY TRYING TO GET PU GOMEZ A VISA

ALLEGING SHE WAS BEING THREATENED; MONTENEGRO RESTATED THAT GAM HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THESE EFFORTS AND DID NOT WANT ANYBODY IMPLYING ANYTHING OTHER. POLOFF ACKNOWLEDGED THERE HAD BEEN CONSIDERABLE INTEREST GENERATED IN THE US OVER THE ALLEGED THREATS TO PU GOMEZ BUT THAT THE SUBJECT HERSELF HAD NEVER COME TO THE EMBASSY.

COMMENT: TROUBLE AHEAD FOR THE TALKS PROCESS?

9. THE INFORMAL PEACE TALK PROCESS HAS GONE ALONG SURPRISINGLY WELL SINCE THE FIRST ROUND IN OSLO LAST MARCH, THE MADRID ROUND IN MAY, THE OTTAWA MEETING IN AUGUST, AND THE MOST RECENT MEETING IN QUITO LAST MONTH. WHATEVER CRITICISM GAM MIGHT HAVE OF THE GUERRILLAS, THE GAM POSITION PAPER GIVEN POLOFF COULD HAVE BEEN WRITTEN BY THE URNG: THE ARMY AND CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS ARE ACCUSED OF "CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY," A LOADED PHRASE TO SAY THE LEAST. THE PROPOSED MEXICO MEETING, HOWEVER, COULD BE THE MOST PROBLEMATIC AND HAS THE POTENTIAL TO BLOW APART THE PROCESS. MANY OF THE PARTICIPANTS FROM THE "POPULAR SECTOR" ARE CONSIDERED BY THE MILITARY HERE (AND NOT ALWAYS INCORRECTLY) AS EITHER GUERRILLA SYMPATHIZERS OR OUTRIGHT GUERRILLA-CONTROLLED.

10. SHOULD THE MEXICO MEETING TURN INTO A "LOVE FEST" BETWEEN PARTICIPANTS, WITH A JOINT DECLARATION BLASTING THE MILITARY FOR ALL THE ILLS OF GUATEMALA, THERE COULD BE TROUBLE--BOTH FOR THE SPECIFIC PARTICIPANTS IN MEXICO AND FOR GOG AND ARMY PARTICIPATION IN FUTURE TALKS WITH THE GUERRILLAS.

11. THE CNR WILL BE CALLING ON THE AMBASSADOR ON OCTOBER 4. WE WILL RAISE THE ISSUE OF THE MEXICO MEETING AND EXPLORE WITH THEM HOW THEY INTEND TO CONTROL THE MEETING.

12. THE COMMENTS ON THE PU GOMEZ CASE WERE SUPRISING AND WHO KNOWS WHAT MOTIVATED MONTENEGRO TO DENY, FOR ONCE, THAT SOMEONE IS NOT BEING THREATENED.

Charles A. Gillespie, Jr.
United States Ambassador to Chile

On October 14, 1988, the United States Senate confirmed the appointment of Charles A. Gillespie, Jr., to be Ambassador of the United States of America to Chile. Ambassador Gillespie took the oath of office on November 9, 1988.

From August 1985 until September 1988, Gillespie served as Ambassador of the United States of America to the Republic of Colombia, where he headed a United States Mission comprising the Embassy in Bogota and a Consulate in Barranquilla. With a staff of over 700, the Mission is one of the largest in Latin America.

From August 1983 until he was named Ambassador to Colombia, Gillespie served as Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for the Caribbean and Deputy for Operations in the State Department's Bureau of Inter-American Affairs. In that position he was responsible for formulating and implementing United States policy in the Caribbean region and for execution of United States policy throughout Latin America and the Caribbean.

On October 24, 1983, the President named Gillespie Ambassador and Chief of Mission in Grenada, concurrent with his other duties, and instructed him to head the United States Mission on that island as of the time United States forces landed on October 25. Ambassador Gillespie established the first United States Embassy on Grenada, which was officially inaugurated on February 7, 1984. Gillespie returned to his Washington duties in March 1984.

Ambassador Gillespie is a career Foreign Service Officer, with rank of Minister-Counselor. Since he entered the Service in 1965, he has served at Embassies in Manila, Djakarta, Brussels, Mexico City and Managua, at the United States Mission to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and at the State Department in Washington, D.C.

A native of California, Ambassador Gillespie graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. Before joining the Foreign Service, he served as a commissioned officer in the United States Army overseas. He has done graduate work in public administration at Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Public Affairs and is a graduate of the National War College in Washington, D.C. Ambassador Gillespie is married and has two grown children.

VICE MINISTER OF DEFENSE MONTANO, MINISTRY OF DEFENSE ADVISOR AND MEMBER OF THE DIALOGUE COMMISSION ESCOBAR GARCIA, SALVADORAN AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES SALAVERRIA, AND SALVADORAN DEFENSE ATTACHE GENERAL BLANDON. UNDER SECRETARY KIMMITT WAS ACCOMPANIED BY: ARA PRINCIPAL DAS KOZAK, DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL AMERICAN AFFAIRS ROMERO, SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE UNDER SECRETARY BLAKEMAN, AND EL SALVADOR DESK OFFICER RONDON.

4. CRISTIANI TO WASHINGTON?: MINISTER PACAS AND HIS PARTY SPECIFICALLY STATED THAT THEIR PURPOSE IN COMING TO WASHINGTON WAS TO ADVANCE A TRIP BY PRESIDENT CRISTIANI. WHEN ASKED BY THE MINISTER WHETHER PRESIDENT CRISTIANI SHOULD COME TO WASHINGTON, THE UNDER SECRETARY REPLIED THAT NEXT WEEK WOULD AFFORD A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENT IN THE JESUIT CASE IN TIME TO POSSIBLY AFFECT THE MOOD IN CONGRESS. IF PRESIDENT CRISTIANI IS UNABLE TO MAKE SUCH A DRAMATIC ANNOUNCEMENT, HOWEVER, A VISIT AT THIS TIME WOULD NOT BE AS PRODUCTIVE AS IT WOULD BE OTHERWISE.

5. JESUIT CASE: MINISTER PACAS RAISED THE ISSUE OF THE NOVEMBER MURDER OF SIX JESUITS AND TWO SERVANTS, SAYING THAT HE PERFECTLY UNDERSTOOD THE DIFFICULT POSITION THAT [redacted]

SUPPORTERS OF AID TO EL SALVADOR ARE IN DUE TO THE CASE. HE ASKED, HOWEVER, FOR PATIENCE WITH THE COUNTRY'S CUMBERSOME LEGAL PROCESS. UNDER SECRETARY KIMMITT REPLIED THAT WE BELIEVE THAT THE JUDICIAL PROCESS WOULD BE REINFORCED RATHER THAN CIRCUMVENTED IF THE GOES/ESAF WERE TO TAKE BOLD AND DECISIVE ACTIONS TO DEMONSTRATE THAT THE MILITARY IS SERIOUS ABOUT THE RULE OF LAW, INCLUDING MEASURES WHICH HAVE ALREADY BEEN RECOMMENDED BY AMBASSADOR WALKER. TO NAME ONLY A COUPLE OF EXAMPLES, WHILE SOME MILITARY LOGBOOKS REQUESTED BY THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE HAVE BEEN TURNED OVER TO HIM, OTHERS HAVE NOT BEEN AND THE MILITARY OFFICERS PRESENT AT THE NOVEMBER 15 GENERAL STAFF MEETING HAVE NOT GIVEN THE JUDGE THEIR DIARIES, AS AMBASSADOR WALKER HAD SUGGESTED. AS MATTERS STAND NOW, WE SHARE CONGRESS' CONCERN THAT SOME SENIOR MEMBERS OF THE ESAF MAY BE INVOLVED IN A COVER-UP.

6. PROSPECTS FOR MILITARY AID: UNDER SECRETARY KIMMITT CONTINUED THAT WITH SUCH SLOW PROGRESS IN THE JESUIT CASE, THERE IS LITTLE THAT WE CAN DO ON THE HILL TO SELL EL

SALVADOR'S CASE FOR MILITARY ASSISTANCE. IT IS A TRAGEDY THAT ALTHOUGH THE GOES HAS A GOOD MESSAGE TO CONVEY ON ITS CONSTRUCTIVE APPROACH TO THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS, THE OVERALL HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION AND ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE, THE ONLY THING THAT ANYONE ON THE HILL WANTS TO HEAR ABOUT

El Salvador Human Rights Project

IS THE JESUIT CASE AND THE GOES HAS FAILED TO GIVE US A DEFENSIBLE CASE ON THAT ISSUE. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION FROM ERNESTO ALTSCHUL, UNDER SECRETARY KIMMITT AND DAS KOZAK EXPLAINED THAT THE PRESENT U.S. BUDGET DIFFICULTIES HAVE LITTLE BEARING ON EL SALVADOR BECAUSE A CONTINUING RESOLUTION OR EVEN SEQUESTRATION WOULD INCLUDE ESSENTIALLY THE SAME SALVADOR-SPECIFIC LANGUAGE THAT WOULD OTHERWISE GO INTO AN APPROPRIATIONS BILL.

7. PEACE NEGOTIATIONS: MINISTER PACAS EMPHASIZED THAT [redacted]

WHILE THE GOES WILL DISCUSS ANY TOPIC WITH THE FMLN, AGREEMENTS CAN ONLY BE REACHED WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE DEMOCRATICALLY RATIFIED CONSTITUTION. HE ACCUSED THE FMLN OF SEEKING TO "KEEP THE NATION'S WOUNDS OPEN" RATHER THAN GENUINELY SEEKING A PROMPT NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT. THE MINISTER ALSO EXPRESSED HIS CONCERN THAT THE PROSPECT OF MANIPULATING THE JESUIT CASE TO FORCE THE U.S. TO CUT MILITARY ASSISTANCE ENCOURAGES THE FMLN TO USE DELAYING TACTICS IN THE NEGOTIATIONS PENDING THE AID REDUCTION AND RESULTING BOOST TO GUERRILLA FIGHTING MORALE. UNDER SECRETARY KIMMITT REPLIED THAT WHILE WE RECOGNIZE THE DIRECT RELATIONSHIP OF OUR AID POLICIES TO THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS, THE GOES CAN AFFECT THIS BY PUSHING ACTION ON THE JESUIT CASE.

9. COMMENT: IN AN ASIDE WHILE DEPARTING, AMBASSADOR SALAVERRIA NOTED THAT DURING THE LAST SEVERAL MONTHS HE HAD SPENT ABOUT 90 PERCENT OF HIS TIME ON THE JESUIT CASE. UNDER SECRETARY KIMMITT SUGGESTED THAT HE MIGHT SPEND 95 PERCENT ON THE MATTER. THE UNDER SECRETARY'S MESSAGE WAS CLEAR AND UNEQUIVOCALLY FIRM, BUT DELIVERED IN THE SPIRIT OF FRIENDSHIP AND CONCERN. FOR HIS PART, MINISTER PACAS DID NOT SHY FROM THE DIFFICULT TOPIC OF THE JESUIT CASE, AND SINCE BEFORE THIS MEETING HE HAD SPENT SEVERAL HOURS WITH KOZAK AND ROMERO EMPHASIZING THE CASE, HE SHOULD HAVE NO DOUBT THAT THIS IS WHERE THE MAJOR PROBLEM WITH FY 91 MILITARY ASSISTANCE LIES. END COMMENT.

SUBJECT: CRISTIANI QUERIES AMBASSADOR ON FMLN ACTIVITIES IN THE US

REF: ROMERO/WALKER TELCON 10/11

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: DURING OCTOBER 12 MEETING TO DISCUSS THE ROGER FISHER PROPOSAL TO HOST A FOLLOW-UP SEMINAR FOR THE GOES AND FMLN NEGOTIATING TEAMS, PRESIDENT CRISTIANI COMMENTED THAT THE GOES HOPED FMLN COMMANDANTES WOULD NOT/NOT RECEIVE FURTHER VISAS TO THE US, GIVEN THEIR CONTINUED TERRORIST ACTIVITIES. HE CLAIMED KEY FMLN PERSONNEL WERE RELOCATING TO THE US, AND ASKED IF THE USG COULD TAKE STEPS AGAINST ORGANIZATIONS OPENLY FUND RAISING IN THE US FOR THE FMLN'S WAR EFFORT. ON THE TALKS, CRISTIANI NOTED THAT HE HAD BEEN UNABLE TO LOCATE FORMER COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT OSCAR ARIAS TO SOLICIT HIS ENDORSEMENT OF THE CENAM PRESIDENTS' CALL FOR A CEASE-FIRE, AND SUGGESTED A JOINT US-USSR STATEMENT SUPPORTING THE SAME GOAL. HE WAS DISTURBED THAT DE SOTO HAD NOT BEEN IN TOUCH SINCE LAST MONTH. POST HAS LEARNED SEPARATELY THAT THE TALKS WILL MOST LIKELY TAKE PLACE NOVEMBER 4 IN MEXICO. END SUMMARY.

EXDIS

3. FISHER SEMINAR

THE AMBASSADOR OPENED THE OCTOBER 12 MEETING WITH PRESIDENT CRISTIANI AND HIS PRESIDENTIAL SECRETARY ARTURO TONA BY BROACHING THE ROGER FISHER IDEA OF A SECOND NEGOTIATING SEMINAR FOR THE GOES AND FMLN TEAMS TO HOPEFULLY RESOLVE SOME OF THE MECHANICAL ISSUES THAT HAD DELAYED PROGRESS ON SUBSTANCE. THE AMBASSADOR EXPLAINED THAT FISHER WOULD APPROACH THE FMLN WITH THE IDEA, AND WOULD ORGANIZE THE SESSION IN A MANNER ACCEPTABLE TO BOTH SIDES. IF BOTH SIDES ACCEPTED, FISHER WOULD ALSO APPROACH DE SOTO AND INVITE HIM TO ATTEND. SUCH A SCENARIO WOULD, AT THE VERY LEAST, REMIND DE SOTO THAT HE WAS NOT THE ONLY EXPERT ON NEGOTIATIONS, AND PERHAPS INSPIRE HIM TO PLAY A MORE ACTIVE AND BALANCED ROLE.

4. CRISTIANI RESPONDED BY FIRST ASKING WHAT THE FMLN'S REACTION TO THE PROPOSAL HAD BEEN. UPON LEARNING WE DID NOT YET HAVE THEIR REACTION, HE STATED

HE WOULD HAVE TO DISCUSS THE MATTER WITH THE GOES DIALOGUE COMMISSION, AND WOULD RESPOND ON OCTOBER 15.

5. FMLN IN THE US

CRISTIANI COMMENTED THAT HE UNDERSTOOD THE FMLN COMMANDERS HAD VIOLATED THE TERMS OF THEIR US VISAS DURING THEIR SEPTEMBER VISIT. HE CONTINUED THAT THE GOES FELT THE USG SHOULD DENY FUTURE VISA REQUESTS BY FMLN LEADERS ON THE GROUNDS THAT THEY WERE AVOWED TERRORISTS. HE ADDED THAT THE GOES HAD INFORMATION THE FMLN WAS RELOCATING MANY OF ITS KEY PLAYERS TO THE US, AND ASKED HOW THAT COULD BE POSSIBLE. IN ADDITION, THE GOES HAD IN ITS POSSESSION COPIES OF US NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS CLEARLY SOLICITING FUNDS FOR THE FMLN WITH A NOTE THAT SUCH CONTRIBUTIONS WERE TAX EXEMPT. CRISTIANI ASKED WHETHER CONTRIBUTIONS TO A TERRORIST ORGANIZATION COULD 1) BE LEGALLY MADE FROM THE US AND 2) BE CONSIDERED TAX EXEMPT. THE AMBASSADOR PROMISED TO CHECK THIS WITH WASHINGTON.

6. CENAM PRESIDENTS' STATEMENT

CRISTIANI TOLD THE AMBASSADOR THAT HE HAS NOT YET BEEN ABLE TO GET IN TOUCH WITH FORMER COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT OSCAR ARIAS TO SEEK HIS ENDORSEMENT OF THE CENAM PRESIDENTS' CALL FOR A CEASE FIRE. HE HOPED TO DO SO SHORTLY, HOWEVER. THE PRESIDENT THEN ASKED IF THE USG COULD COORDINATE WITH THE USSR ON A JOINT STATEMENT OF SUPPORT FOR A CEASE FIRE. THE AMBASSADOR PROMISED TO FLOAT THE IDEA WITH WASHINGTON. (COMMENT: PER SULLIVAN/WALKER TELCON 10/14, POST UNDERSTANDS THIS IS NOT CURRENTLY WORKABLE, AND WILL SO ADVISE THE PRESIDENT. END COMMENT).

7. WHERE IS DE SOTO

CRISTIANI EXPRESSED SOME CONCERN THAT DE SOTO HAS NOT BEEN IN TOUCH WITH THE GOES SINCE HIS LAST VISIT HERE JUST AFTER THE THIRD SAN JOSE ROUND. THE AMBASSADOR COMMENTED THAT UN OFFICIAL IQBAL RIZA WAS CALLING ON HIM OCTOBER 15. CRISTIANI COMMENTED THAT HE WAS UNAWARE OF RIZA'S VISIT, NOR DID HE KNOW WHEN TO EXPECT DE SOTO AGAIN, ALTHOUGH THERE WERE RUMORS HE, TOO, WOULD TRAVEL TO THE REGION THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 15.

8. ACTION REQUEST

REQUEST DEPARTMENT VERIFY WHETHER ORGANIZATIONS OPENLY SUPPORTING THE FMLN HAVE TAX RECEIVED TAX EXEMPT STATUS, AND WHETHER SUCH STATUS CAN BE REVOKED GIVEN THE FMLN'S STANDING AS A TERRORIST ORGANIZATION.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: James A. Baker, III

SUBJECT: Generating Support for the Negotiations in El Salvador

The U.N.-mediated negotiations between the Cristiani government and the FMLN face a logjam. If a breakthrough does not occur in the upcoming round, scheduled tentatively for November 4, the whole process may break down. Moreover, it is crucial that some kind of cease-fire agreement be reached before the March 1991 Salvadoran elections to allow for an expanded electoral process, including in the conflictive zones, and expanded international observation -- the U.N. says it will not monitor the elections absent a cease-fire.

As you remember, President Salinas of Mexico, President Carlos Andres Perez of Venezuela, and Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez of Spain all volunteered to you in your UNGA bilaterals that the Secretary General had asked them to provide assistance. Each also pledged to exert pressure on the FMLN and Cuba to achieve a negotiated breakthrough.

Each of these leaders was very helpful, at your request, in pressing the Sandinistas to hold elections in Nicaragua. I believe that if they knew how important this issue was to you, they would be similarly energized, and could make a crucial difference. The FMLN is headquartered in Mexico; thus Salinas retains considerable leverage over them. Cuba, which remains the principal political and military support for the FMLN, does not want to alienate Mexico, Spain, and Venezuela at a time when its economy is in crisis and it is politically isolated.

I believe it would make an enormous difference if each of these leaders received a personal letter from you in the next several days outlining your views and concerns about El Salvador and encouraging their active involvement. Enclosed is a draft letter for your consideration.

Dear:

I was very gratified to hear from you during our meeting in New York at the UNGA that you have accepted the Secretary General's request to become directly engaged in support of the U.N.'s efforts to mediate a successful political settlement to the war in El Salvador. I very much welcome your efforts, and I am confident that you can make a decisive difference in helping to bring both peace and the consolidation of democracy to El Salvador.

Since you will be playing such an important, direct, and personal role, I want to share my own assessment of the situation with you and offer my personal support for your efforts, and those of the other leaders who have enlisted in this effort with you.

You and I spoke about our joint concerns for the situation in Central America, particularly in Nicaragua. I believe that ending the war in El Salvador is crucial to realizing the long-term hopes of the leaders and peoples of Central America for democracy, demilitarization, and development.

President Cristiani, I believe, is seriously committed to finding a negotiated solution to the war that takes into account the legitimate security concerns of FMLN combatants. I am also impressed with the consensus which appears to have developed among the political parties in the Inter-Party Commission for electoral and judicial reform. We support and endorse these efforts.

Clearly, the issue of the armed forces is the most difficult and sensitive one; my information is that Cristiani has put meaningful and far-reaching offers on the table. Nevertheless, as Cristiani grows more flexible, the FMLN appears to be hardening its demands.

If the current logjam is not broken, I fear the process could collapse and be replaced with renewed violence. It is crucial that all of us set as our goal a breakthrough in the next round of negotiations leading as quickly as possible to a U.N.-supervised cease-fire.

I will do my part, both by supporting Cristiani and by pressing for flexibility and greater respect for human rights. Unfortunately, I do not believe there is much pressure for serious bargaining on either the FMLN or on Cuba, which continues to arm and train FMLN combatants. Here I hope you will use your influence. If both Cuba and the FMLN know they will pay a political price for intransigence, they may be more reasonable. (For Salinas: I know there is a sizable FMLN political presence in Mexico; I hope you will use your influence with them directly, Carlos, to make it clear that Mexico expects serious bargaining in the next round, not a new offensive.)

I believe we must also give maximum support to the Secretary General in the next round by raising the level of international concern about the slow pace of progress in the peace talks. The FMLN has blocked the efforts of the Secretary General's representative to offer compromise proposals or to speed up the pace of negotiations. We need to ensure the Secretary General has these tools at his disposal.

Your efforts during the Nicaraguan elections helped bring both peace and democracy to that troubled country. I deeply appreciate your commitment to make a similar effort towards El Salvador. Please keep me informed of your efforts and know that you can count on my support.

1. (U) SUMMARY: CONGEN'S OCTOBER 12-13 VISIT TO FLORES RESULTED IN SEVERAL POSITIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE DEVINE MURDER INVESTIGATION. MILITARY ZONE COMMANDER ORTEGA PROMISED TO PASS THE DETAINEES FROM THE BASE TO THE CIVIL DETENTION CENTER AND PROVIDE PHOTOGRAPHS OF THEM AS WELL AS ADDITIONAL INFORMATION SOUGHT BY THE PRIVATE ATTORNEY HIRED BY MRS. DEVINE. NATIONAL POLICE WILL ACTIVATE THEIR SEARCH FOR TWO CIVILIANS FOR WHOM ARREST WARRANTS WERE ISSUED. ATTORNEY GENERAL'S REPRESENTATIVE PARTICIPATED IN ALL KEY DISCUSSIONS AND IS PREPARED TO PLAY POSITIVE AND ACTIVE ROLE. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) ON OCTOBER 12, CONGEN AND THE PRIVATE ATTORNEY HIRED BY MRS. DEVINE TRAVELLED TO FLORES TO LOOK INTO SEVERAL ASPECTS OF THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE MURDER OF MICHAEL DEVINE. THEY MET WITH THE ZONE COMMANDER COL. ORTEGA WHO WAS ACCOMPANIED BY HIS HEAD OF G-2 MAJOR ROLANDO DIAZ BARRIOS (FORMERLY WITH ORTEGA WHEN HE HEADED D-2) AND CAPTAIN ALFREDO FIGUEROA GUERRA (SECRETARY OF THE JUDGE ADVOCATE'S OFFICE ON THE SANTA ELENA BASE); WITH THE LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE/PUBLIC MINISTRY; WITH THE LOCAL POLICE CHIEF; AND WITH THE JUDGE OF FIRST INSTANCE (THE CIVIL COURT UNDER WHICH THIS CASE WOULD BE HEARD IF MILITARY JURISDICTION IS NOT INVOKED). THE LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE WAS NOT IN TOWN. THE MEETINGS PRODUCED THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

STATUS OF PRISONERS:

3. (U) THERE ARE FIVE MILITARY PERSONS DETAINED: PABLO LAJUB IXHALE, BENJAMIN PONTI PERUCH, RAFAEL TIUL CUCUL, ANDRES MORENTE TEPOZ, AND FABIAN AREVALO DE LA CRUZ. ACCORDING TO COL. ORTEGA, THE THREE OTHER PEOPLE FOR WHOM ARREST WARRANTS WERE ISSUED BY THE COURT OF FIRST INSTANCE ARE NOT MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY: RICARDO GUZMAN, AGUSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ, AND CARLOS ZELADA MONROY. THERE IS, HOWEVER, AN ACTIVE DUTY MILITARY PERSON ON THAT BASE BY THE NAME OF CARLOS ZELADA ARGUETA, GIVING RISE TO THE ORIGINAL CONFUSION AS TO HOW MANY OF THE ACCUSED WERE IN FACT ACTIVE DUTY MILITARY.

GUATEM 13842 00 OF 03 180815Z 004284 003381

4. (U) ALTHOUGH THE PRISONERS HAD BEEN DETAINED ON THE BASE, COL. ORTEGA ANNOUNCED IN OUR OCTOBER 13 MEETING THAT FOR GREATER SECURITY HIS INTENTION WAS TO TRANSFER THEM TO THE PUBLIC JAIL IN FLORES. THIS WAS ACCOMPLISHED ON OCTOBER 14. THIS IS A POSITIVE STEP WHICH WILL PROVIDE MORE PUBLIC SCRUTINY TO THEIR DETENTION, PREVENT CHARGES OF POSSIBLE CHANGES IN APPEARANCE, AND PERMIT EASIER ACCESS.

5. (C) PRIOR TO THEIR TRANSFER, AT THE REQUEST OF THE PRIVATE ATTORNEY, AN INVENTORY OF PERSONAL EFFECTS ON THEIR PERSONS WAS MADE, IN THE POSSIBILITY THAT ANY OF THE ACCUSED MIGHT HAVE EITHER THE WATCH OR THE SWISS ARMY KNIFE STOLEN FROM DEVINE DURING HIS KIDNAPPING/MURDER. THIS INVENTORY WILL BE SENT OCTOBER 15 TO THE ATTORNEY, TOGETHER WITH PHOTOGRAPHS OF EACH OF THE DETAINED. THE PHOTOGRAPHS WILL PERMIT THE ATTORNEY, PRIOR TO THE FORMAL PERSONAL IDENTIFICATION SESSION PLANNED FOR THE NEAR FUTURE, TO VERIFY WITH POTENTIAL WITNESSES WHETHER ANY OF THEM CAN IDENTIFY THE ACCUSED AND ENABLE A STRONGER CASE PREPARATION.

6. (U) ON OCTOBER 8, THE MILITARY ISSUED AN "AUTO DE PRISION" FORMALLY CHARGING THE DETAINEES WITH KIDNAPPING AND MURDER. THIS ACT ACCOMPLISHES TWO THINGS: IT PREVENTS THE PRISONERS FROM BEING FREED WITHOUT HAVING BEEN ACQUITTED OR AT LEAST A FINDING BY THE JUDGE OF LACK OF SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO CONTINUE HOLDING THEM; AND IT BEGINS THE 15-DAY "SUMARIO" PROCESS, DURING WHICH THE JUDGE CONDUCTS HIS BASIC INVESTIGATION. DURING THESE 15 DAYS, ONLY THE JUDGE, HIS STAFF AND THE LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE FOR THE ACCUSER CAN HAVE ACCESS TO THE PROCEEDINGS.

7. (C) THANKS TO THE TERMS OF THE "SUMARIO" PHASE,

THE PRIVATE LAWYER WAS PERMITTED TO REVIEW THE ENTIRE CASE FILE, INCLUDING THE FIRST ROUND OF SWORN STATEMENTS OF THE ACCUSED. NOT SURPRISINGLY, THESE STATEMENTS ALL CLAIM TOTAL IGNORANCE OF THE KIDNAPPING, QUESTIONING AND SUBSEQUENT MURDER OF DEVINE. THE FORMER ZONE COMMANDER, COL. MARIO ROBERTO GARCIA CATALAN, HAS NOT YET BEEN QUESTIONED (AT LEAST FORMALLY), BUT HIS SWORN STATEMENT IS TO BE TAKEN THIS WEEK.

INVESTIGATION AND BEING JUDGE OF THE COURT MARTIAL.

10. (C) COL. ORTEGA APPEARED TO BE VERY OPEN AND FORTHCOMING, VOLUNTEERING INFORMATION AND PROVIDING OTHER DATA REQUESTED. NOT ONLY DID HE AGREE TO PROVIDE THE INVENTORY OF PERSONAL EFFECTS AND PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE DETAINED, BUT AT THE REQUEST OF THE CONGEN AGREED TO QUESTION CARLOS ZELADA ARGUETA TO SEE IF HE COULD POSSIBLY BE INVOLVED INSTEAD OF CARLOS ZELADA MONROY. FURTHERMORE, HE AGREED TO INVESTIGATE THE EXISTENCE OF THE FAMOUS TOYOTA PICK-UP TRUCK, WHICH DOES NOT APPEAR IN THE FORMAL INVENTORY PROVIDED TO HIM WHEN HE TOOK COMMAND LAST MONTH. CONGEN STRESSED THE LACK OF CREDIBILITY OF THE MILITARY'S POSITION ON THIS ISSUE GIVEN THE LARGE NUMBER OF WITNESSES WHO SAW THE TRUCK IN AND AROUND THE BASE BOTH BEFORE AND IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE MURDER. HE ALSO AGREED TO LOOK INTO THE LOG BOOKS OF THOSE ENTERING AND LEAVING THE BASE DURING THE JUNE 8-9 TIMEFRAME, AND INTO THE VEHICLE MAINTENANCE SHOP ON THE BASE TO SEE IF ANY VEHICLE HAD BEEN PAINTED. HE WILL ALSO PROVIDE AN ANSWER ABOUT THE FOOD RATIONS CANS FOUND NEAR THE KIDNAP SITE, AND WHETHER OR NOT THIS KIND OF RATIONS ARE USED BY THE MILITARY.

11. (U) AT THE REQUEST OF THE PRIVATE ATTORNEY, THE MEETING WITH COL. ORTEGA WAS ATTENDED ALSO BY THE LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, EDGAR FERNANDO MENDEZ. SHOULD THE CASE BE REFERRED BACK TO THE CIVIL COURT, HIS INVOLVEMENT CAN BE VERY HELPFUL. MENDEZ HAD RECEIVED A CALL THE PREVIOUS DAY FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL ILLESCAS, RESPONDING TO A CALL FROM PRESIDENT CEREZO ABOUT THE FALSE RUMOR THAT THE FIVE DETAINEES HAD BEEN RELEASED. (COMMENT: THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE IS AUTHORIZED TO OVERSEE MILITARY JUDICIAL PRACTICES AS WELL AS CIVIL COURTS, ALTHOUGH TO DATE THEIR ROLE IN COURT MARTIALS HAS NOT BEEN ENERGETICALLY PURSUED. END COMMENT.)

12. STRATEGY: THE PRIVATE ATTORNEY INTENDS TO PRESS FOR RETURN OF THIS CASE TO THE CIVIL COURTS, WHERE HE BELIEVES A MORE OPEN PROCESS WILL OCCUR. HE SHARES COL. ORTEGA'S CONCERNS ABOUT CONFLICT OF INTEREST IN ORTEGA'S ROLES OF BOTH INVESTIGATOR AND JUDGE, AND PLANS TO FILE A REQUEST FOR CHANGE OF VENUE TO THE CIVIL COURT IN FLORES, OR EVEN BETTER TO A CIVIL COURT IN THE CAPITAL. SUCH A REQUEST WOULD BE BASED ON ARTICLE 18 SECTION 12 OF THE MILITARY CODE WHICH PROVIDES MILITARY PERSONNEL THE RIGHT TO A MILITARY TRIAL ONLY IF THE CRIME OF WHICH THEY ARE ACCUSED WAS COMMITTED WHILE ON OFFICIAL ORDERS OR WHILE WEARING MILITARY UNIFORM.

13. (C) UPON RECEIPT OF THE PHOTOGRAPHS PROMISED FOR OCTOBER 16, THE ATTORNEY PLANS TO ARRANGE FOR THE PERSONAL IDENTIFICATION BY WITNESSES OF THE ACCUSED.

PARTICIPATION OF WITNESSES WILL BE CRITICAL, AS OTHER THAN THEIR STATEMENTS THERE IS LITTLE EVIDENCE ON WHICH TO CONVICT THE PERPETRATORS.

14. (U) CONGEN CALLED ON LOCAL POLICE CHIEF, WHO CLAIMED TO BELIEVE THAT THE ENTIRE MATTER WAS OUT OF HIS HANDS. CONGEN INFORMED HIM THAT APPARENTLY ONLY FIVE OF THE PERSONS FOR WHOM ARREST WARRANTS WERE ISSUED WERE MILITARY PERSONNEL. SHE PROVIDED HIM INFORMATION ON THE REPORTED WHEREABOUTS OF RICARDO GUZMAN, AND THE ATTORNEY TOLD HIM EXACTLY WHERE AGOSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ LIVES AND WORKS. ALTHOUGH EMPHASIZING THE DIFFICULTY OF ACTUALLY EFFECTING AN ARREST GIVEN THE PAUCITY OF HIS RESOURCES, HE INDICATED HIS READINESS TO ATTEMPT TO LOCATE THE TWO AND ARREST THEM. CONGEN WILL FOLLOW UP WITH NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR COL. CABALLEROS. STROOCK

SUBJ: REQUEST FOR PRESS GUIDANCE: MODIFICATIONS TO KENNEDY AMENDMENT

1. BASED ON DECLARATIONS BY THE CHILEAN DEFENSE MINISTER, SANTIAGO WEEKEND DAILIES REPORTED THAT THE SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE HAD APPROVED A MODIFICATION TO THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT, TO BE INCLUDED IN THE FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT, WHICH WOULD PERMIT THE CHILEAN AIR FORCE TO RECEIVE SPARE PARTS FOR ITS AIRCRAFT.

2. RELATED ARTICLES APPEARING IN THE PRESS WERE AS FOLLOWS:

-- CONSERVATIVE AFTERNOON DAILY "LA SEGUNDA," FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19: "U.S. PREPARES MANEUVER WITH KENNEDY AMENDMENT."

-- CONSERVATIVE INFLUENTIAL DAILY "EL MERCURIO," SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21: "CONFIRMED: KENNEDY AMENDMENT LIFTED FOR FACH (CHILEAN AIR FORCE)."

-- CHRISTIAN-DEMOCRAT AFFILIATED, PRO GOVERNMENT "LA EPOCA," SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21: "U.S. MAY LIFT EMBARGO ONLY FOR FACH -- MINISTER ROJAS BELIEVES THIS IS NOT ENOUGH."

-- CONSERVATIVE POPULAR TABLOID "LA TERCERA," SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21: "MINISTER OF DEFENSE EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE IN END OF KENNEDY AMENDMENT."
-- GOVERNMENT-OWNED "LA NACION," SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21, INCLUDED TWO PARAGRAPHS ON THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT IN A LONGER STORY ON THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE'S STATEMENTS, UNDER THE SUBTITLE: "MINISTER ROJAS CONFIRMED THAT U.S. LIFTED KENNEDY AMENDMENT FOR THE FACH."

3. "LA SEGUNDA" CARRIED A LENGTHY ARTICLE OCTOBER 19 WITH ITS INTERPRETATION OF THE SENATE ACTION, ALONG THE SAME LINES AS THE HEADLINES REPORTED ABOVE. THE ARTICLE ALSO RELATED THE ACTION TO THE PUBLIC AFFAIRS CLIMATE SURROUNDING THE UPCOMING VISIT OF PRESIDENT BUSH. BLOCK QUOTES FROM THE "LA SEGUNDA " ARTICLE FOLLOW:

"...THE U.S. ADMINISTRATION COULD HAVE IN MIND

SANT A 08218 2219172 818468 S285774

THE IMMINENT LIFTING OF THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT ONLY WITH RESPECT TO THE CHILEAN AIR FORCE, THUS GENERATING AN EXPLOSIVE ELEMENT OF INTERPRETATION IN OUR COUNTRY, WHICH WOULD MAKE THE ALREADY DIFFICULT STAGE OF THE CHILEAN-U.S. RELATIONS EVEN MORE DIFFICULT...

"...THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS NOT WILLING YET TO LIFT THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT AS SUCH AND IN ALL ITS EFFECTS. HOWEVER, THE NEED ON ONE SIDE, TO...IMPROVE...RELATIONS WITH CHILE IN THE BRIEF PERIOD LEFT BEFORE THE VISIT OF PRESIDENT BUSH...FORCED THE DESIGN OF THIS...STRANGE MANEUVER WHICH DISCRIMINATES IN FAVOR OF THE FACH AND AGAINST THE ARMY AND THE NAVY...ONE MIGHT THINK IN CHILE THAT THE FACH HAS BEEN 'REWARDED' BY THE U.S. AND THAT PINOCHET AND THE ARMY, AND THE NAVY AND ADM ROL MARTINEZ BUSCH CONTINUE TO BE 'PUNISHED'...

"...IT IS TRUE THAT THE FACH WAS THE MOST ADVERSELY AFFECTED BY THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT. FOR 10/15

TO: The Secretary

THROUGH: P - Under Secretary Kimmitt RHK

FROM: ARA - Bernard Aronson BA/SR

SUBJECT: Letter from the President to Presidents Salinas and Perez and PM Gonzalez on the Salvadoran Negotiations

Issue for Decision

Whether to provide the President with a draft letter encouraging President Salinas of Mexico, President Perez of Venezuela, and Prime Minister Gonzalez of Spain to press the FMLN and the U.N. to achieve a negotiated breakthrough in the Salvadoran peace talks.

Background

The U.N.-mediated Salvadoran peace talks face a logjam which must be resolved soon if the March 1991 elections are to proceed with maximum international observer presence. The failure of the FMLN to negotiate seriously to achieve a cease-fire and a political settlement to the conflict has threatened the process.

Salinas, Perez, and Gonzalez have special influence with both the FMLN and the U.N. All three leaders told the President at the UNGA that the Secretary General had asked them to assist the negotiating process. We suggest that the President write the three to encourage them to pressure the FMLN to take a more flexible and serious stance and to encourage the U.N. to take a more active role in the negotiations.

Recommendation

That you send the attached memorandum to the President.

MEXICO: ANTIDRUG HELICOPTERS

Q: ANY REACTION TO REPORTED CONGRESSIONAL OBJECTIONS TO GIVING MILITARY HELICOPTERS TO MEXICO FOR ANTIDRUG PROGRAMS?

A: THE SALINAS ADMINISTRATION HAS MADE A MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO OUR JOINT ANTINARCOTICS EFFORTS. THESE HELICOPTERS WILL BE VITAL ELEMENTS OF THOSE EFFORTS, STRENGTHENING OUR ABILITY TO INTERDICT COCAINE SHIPMENTS IN TRANSIT THROUGH MEXICO.

-- ANTIDRUG PROGRAMS OF THE MEXICAN ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE HAVE KEPT MORE THAN 44 TONS OF COCAINE OFF OUR STREETS IN 1990 ALONE.

-- CONGRESS WAS BRIEFED EXTENSIVELY ON THIS PROGRAM TWO MONTHS AGO. THEIR CONCERNS WERE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT.

-- MUTUALLY AGREED SAFEGUARDS ALREADY IN PLACE WILL GUARANTEE THE PROPER AND EFFECTIVE USE OF THESE HELICOPTERS.

Q: WHAT ABOUT CLAIMS THAT MEXICAN POLICE ARE INVOLVED IN CORRUPTION AND TORTURE?

A: PRESIDENT SALINAS IS STRONGLY COMMITTED TO FIGHTING CORRUPTION AND TORTURE. HE RECENTLY REORGANIZED THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE AND INTRODUCED LEGISLATION THAT WOULD INCREASE HUMAN RIGHTS PROTECTIONS.

Q: HOW MANY HELICOPTERS?

A: THERE ARE 9.

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO THE EL SALVADOR AID BILL WHICH CONGRESS JUST PASSED?

A: THE FOREIGN ASSISTANCE BILL CONTAINING PROVISIONS WITHHOLDING MILITARY AID TO EL SALVADOR IS AT THE WHITE HOUSE FOR PRESIDENT BUSH'S CONSIDERATION.

-- I WOULD REFER YOU TO THE WHITE HOUSE FOR ANY COMMENTS ON THE BILL.

[redacted]

Q: ACCORDING TO PRESS ACCOUNTS, A U.S. MILITARY OFFICER HAS GIVEN STATEMENTS THAT SAY THAT NUMEROUS SENIOR SALVADORAN MILITARY OFFICERS KNEW IN ADVANCE OF THE PLAN TO MURDER THE JESUIT PRIESTS LAST NOVEMBER. WHAT IS YOUR REACTION?

A: THE OFFICER, FORMERLY ASSIGNED TO OUR EMBASSY IN SAN SALVADOR, HAS GIVEN NUMEROUS STATEMENTS ON THIS CASE. HE HAS BEEN INTERVIEWED BY THE FBI AND HE TESTIFIED SEPTEMBER 28 BEFORE THE SALVADORAN JUDGE WHO IS INVESTIGATING THE CASE.

-- BECAUSE THIS IS AN ONGOING CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION, WE WILL NOT COMMENT ON SPECIFIC ISSUES RAISED IN HIS STATEMENTS.

-- THE OFFICER HAS RECANTED MANY OF THE STATEMENTS HE GAVE EARLY IN THE INVESTIGATION. THE SALVADORAN JUDGE HAS ALL

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
ARA/NEA REARCS

THE OFFICER'S STATEMENTS, AND HE WILL DETERMINE THEIR VALUE AND SIGNIFICANCE TO THE INVESTIGATION.

(IF ASKED)

Q: WHY DID THE U.S. DELAY IN GIVING THE JUDGE THIS INFORMATION?

A: AT THE REQUEST OF THE SALVADORAN AUTHORITIES, WE HAVE BEEN ASSISTING IN THE INVESTIGATION OF THIS CRIME SINCE LAST NOVEMBER. SINCE THAT TIME, WE HAVE COOPERATED CLOSELY WITH THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE. IN SEPTEMBER, WHEN WE REVIEWED FILES OF INFORMATION THAT HAD BEEN COLLECTED IN JANUARY, WE DETERMINED THAT ADDITIONAL DATA SHOULD BE GIVEN TO THE JUDGE, AND WE DID SO.

NICARAGUA: DISCONTENTED CONTRAS

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO REPORTS THAT THE NICARAGUAN CONTRAS ARE DISSATISFIED AND ON THE BRINK OF REVOLT AGAINST THE CHAMORRO GOVERNMENT?

A: IN HER FIRST MONTHS IN OFFICE, PRESIDENT CHAMORRO SUCCESSFULLY NEGOTIATED THE DEMOBILIZATION OF THE NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE. (XX,000) COMBATANTS GAVE UP THEIR ARMS IN JULY AND RETURNED TO CIVILIAN LIFE. THIS ACHIEVEMENT ENDED THE WAR.

-- HOWEVER, DIFFICULTIES REMAIN, ESPECIALLY IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF LAND TO FORMER COMBATANTS WHO WANT TO RETURN TO FARMING. THIS HAS CAUSED TENSION IN THE COUNTRYSIDE.

-- THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT HAS ESTABLISHED A COMMISSION TO SETTLE RURAL LAND DISPUTES. IT IS TAKING OTHER STEPS TO COMPLETE THE RESETTLEMENT PROCESS AND TO DEFUSE TENSIONS.

-- WE ARE WORKING CLOSELY WITH THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT. 30 MILLION OF OUR ORIGINAL AID PACKAGE SUPPORTS THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS TO RESETTLE FORMER NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE MEMBERS. ANOTHER 10 MILLION HAS JUST BEEN ADDED TO THAT SUM. OUR OTHER AID PROGRAMS ALSO BENEFIT THIS GROUP.

BOLIVIA: ECHEVERRIA ARREST AND TRANSFER TO U.S.

Q: WHAT CAN YOU TELL US ABOUT THE ARREST AND TRANSFER TO MIAMI OF A BOLIVIAN ACCUSED OF DRUG TRAFFICKING?

A: ON OCTOBER 25, BOLIVIAN COUNTERNARCOTICS POLICE ARRESTED HERLAN ECHEVERRIA (ER-LAHN-EH-CHI-VEH-REE-UH), WANTED IN THE UNITED STATES ON DRUG TRAFFICKING CHARGES SINCE 1983.

-- EARLIER, THE U.S. GOVERNMENT INFORMED THE GOVERNMENT OF BOLIVIA OF THE SERIOUS NARCOTICS CHARGES AGAINST ECHEVERRIA. THE GOVERNMENT OF BOLIVIA DIRECTED THE BOLIVIAN POLICE TO DELIVER ECHEVERRIA TO U.S. DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION AGENTS FOR TRANSPORT TO THE UNITED STATES.

-- ECHEVERRIA WAS A SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO FORMER BOLIVIAN INTERIOR MINISTER LUIS ARCE GOMEZ. ARCE GOMEZ WAS ARRESTED IN BOLIVIA LAST DECEMBER AND LATER SENT TO THE UNITED STATES.

-- WE CONGRATULATE THE GOVERNMENT OF BOLIVIA FOR THIS

STATE 366435 292241Z 022931 S005768

DEMONSTRATION OF ITS CONTINUED COMMITMENT TO FIGHT DRUG TRAFFICKING.

Q: DO WE HAVE AN EXTRADITION TREATY WITH BOLIVIA?

A: THE EXTRADITION TREATY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND BOLIVIA DATES FROM 1901. DISCUSSIONS FOR A REVISION OF THAT TREATY ARE CURRENTLY UNDERWAY.

-- ECHEVERRIA WAS NOT EXTRADITED TO THE UNITED STATES. HIS DELIVERY TO U.S. AUTHORITIES WAS MADE ON THE BASIS OF A DECISION BY THE GOVERNMENT OF BOLIVIA.

INTRODUCTION

EL SALVADOR HAS A FREELY-ELECTED DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. THE EXECUTIVE IS HEADED BY THE PRESIDENT; A UNICAMERAL ASSEMBLY APPROVES LEGISLATION AND APPOINTS THE MAGISTRATES OF THE SUPREME COURT, WHICH APPOINT ALL LOWER COURT JUDGES. THE ARMED FORCES OF EL SALVADOR TOTAL APPROXIMATELY 56,000 MEN, INCLUDING THE 15,000 MEN IN THE SECURITY FORCES. THE MILITARY ALSO CONTROLS A 24,000 VOLUNTEER (PART-TIME) CIVIL DEFENSE FORCE (CIVIL GUARD).

FOR TEN YEARS, A COALITION OF REVOLUTIONARY GUERRILLA ORGANIZATIONS KNOWN AS THE FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT (FMLN) HAS BEEN IN ARMED REBELLION AGAINST THE LEGITIMATE, DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR. THE FMLN CAN MUSTER ABOUT 6,000 FULL-TIME FIGHTERS BACKED BY PERHAPS ANOTHER 10,000 SUPPORTERS ORGANIZED INTO A NETWORK OF SUPPORT GROUPS, PART-TIME MILITIA, AND URBAN COMMANDO CELLS.

AS A RESULT OF THE NOV. 1989 FMLN OFFENSIVE, PRESIDENT CRISTIANI DECLARED A STATE OF EXCEPTION ON NOV. 13 WHICH WAS EXTENDED AND MODIFIED IN 30 DAY INCREMENTS UNTIL EXPIRING APRIL 12, 1990.

FUNCTIONING ONCE A CEASE-FIRE TAKES EFFECT. ON JULY 31, THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES ISSUED A GENERAL ORDER TO ALL MILITARY UNITS AND SECURITY FORCES ESTABLISHING NEW PROCEDURES FOR ARRESTS AND DETENTIONS TO CONFORM WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORDS. THE TALKS HAVE ALSO CHANGED THE COMPLEXION OF THE NEXT SCHEDULED ELECTIONS. THE INTERPARTY DIALOGUE COMMISSION (IPDC), WHICH WAS CREATED TO GIVE THE POLITICAL PARTIES A VOICE IN THE NEGOTIATIONS, AGREED ON AN ELECTORAL REFORM PACKAGE FOR THE MARCH 1991 ELECTIONS. CHIEF AMONG THE REFORMS IS THE EXPANSION OF THE ASSEMBLY FROM 60 TO 84 DEPUTIES, A CHANGE DESIGNED TO ENHANCE THE ELECTORAL PROSPECTS OF SMALLER PARTIES.

AFTER YEARS OF STATIST ECONOMIC POLICIES, IN MID-1989 THE CRISTIANI GOVERNMENT BEGAN TO IMPLEMENT AN ECONOMIC ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM TO REDUCE THE ROLE AND RELATIVE SIZE OF THE PUBLIC SECTOR. THE GOVERNMENT HAS RELINQUISHED MUCH OF ITS ECONOMIC DECISION-MAKING AND PRICE-SETTING AUTHORITY TO MARKET FORCES. THE RESPONSE HAS BEEN ENCOURAGING; THE ECONOMY IS EXPECTED TO GROW BY 3 PERCENT THIS YEAR, HIGHER THAN IN ANY YEAR SINCE THE INSURGENCY BEGAN. AGRICULTURE, THE BACKBONE OF THE ECONOMY, IS RESPONDING PARTICULARLY WELL TO THE NEW INCENTIVES. THE INSURGENCY-RELATED IMPEDIMENTS TO ECONOMIC PROGRESS, HOWEVER, ARE MYRIAD AND SERIOUS. A KEY INGREDIENT OF FMLN STRATEGY IS TO DISRUPT THE ECONOMY: IT ENGAGES IN SABOTAGE OF ECONOMIC TARGETS AND EXTORTS "WAR TAXES" TO RAISE INCOME. THE ECONOMY HAS EXPERIENCED LOSSES OF APPROXIMATELY USD 2 BILLION FROM THE INSURGENCY.

ALTHOUGH THEY ARE UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT AND ARE GENERALLY RESPONSIVE TO IT, THE SECURITY FORCES HAVE NOT ALWAYS COOPERATED WITH REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE FROM THE JUDICIARY OR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, BOTH INDEPENDENT CONSTITUTIONAL ENTITIES. EL SALVADOR DOES NOT HAVE A CIVILIAN POLICE FORCE.

AS THE INSURGENCY GAINED STRENGTH IN THE EARLY 1980'S, SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL WERE OFTEN GUILTY OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS INCLUDING PARTICIPATION IN DEATH SQUADS. HOWEVER, THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF THE CIVILIAN LEADERS OF THE GOVERNMENT AND SENIOR MILITARY OFFICIALS, THIS TYPE OF ACTIVITY HAS LARGELY ENDED; AND WHEN IT DOES OCCUR, IT DOES SO WITHOUT APPARENT OFFICIAL SANCTION. THE MURDER OF SIX JESUITS, THEIR HOUSEKEEPER, AND HER TEENAGE DAUGHTER IN NOVEMBER 1989 DOMINATED THE HUMAN RIGHTS LANDSCAPE THROUGHOUT 1990, OBSCURING OTHER PROBLEMS AS WELL AS IMPROVEMENTS IN THE OVERALL SITUATION. VIRTUALLY ALL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AGREED THAT THERE WAS A GENERAL IMPROVEMENT IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR IN 1990. REDUCED VIOLENCE IN THE COUNTRY SINCE THE END OF THE NOVEMBER 1989 FMLN OFFENSIVE AND GREATER EFFORTS BY THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT AND MILITARY TO IMPROVE THEIR PERFORMANCE AND INTERNATIONAL IMAGE CONTRIBUTED TO THIS TREND. MAJORITY OF SALVADORANS CONSIDER THE FMLN TO BE THE WORST VIOLATOR OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS TO PROSECUTE HUMAN RIGHTS OFFENDERS CONTINUED IN 1990. THE SALVADORAN JUSTICE SYSTEM CONVICTED ONE OF THE MURDERERS OF MICHAEL KLINE, A U.S. CITIZEN KILLED BY SALVADORAN SOLDIERS IN MORAZAN IN 1982. THE JESUIT CASE IS IN THE INSTRUCTIONAL PHASE BEFORE SAN SALVADOR'S FOURTH CRIMINAL COURT. NINE SUSPECTS, INCLUDING A COLONEL, REMAIN IN CUSTODY AND THE INVESTIGATION CONTINUES. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI AND SOME SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS WAIVED THEIR PRIVILEGE TO PROVIDE ONLY WRITTEN TESTIMONY AND APPEARED IN PERSON BEFORE JUDGE RICARDO ALFREDO ZAMORA. NEVERTHELESS, THE MILITARY'S COOPERATION HAS BEEN UNEVEN WITH KEY EVIDENCE DESTROYED AND FALSE TESTIMONY GIVEN TO THE JUDGE.

HOWEVER, A DEFECTIVE JUSTICE SYSTEM STILL UNDERMINES EFFORTS TO PROSECUTE HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. IN TWO KEY CASES, THE SAN SEBASTIAN AND KIDNAPPING CASES, POLITICAL KILLINGS. BY THE SAME TOKEN, A POLITICAL MOTIVE IN OTHER MURDERS MAY GO UNDETECTED, CAUSING THEM TO BE CLASSIFIED AS COMMON CRIMES.

IN THE FIRST SEVEN MONTHS OF 1990, THERE WERE 55 NONCOMBAT KILLINGS OF CIVILIANS FOR A SUSPECTED POLITICAL MOTIVE. OF THESE 55, 31 APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN KILLED BY THE FMLN, 4 BY THE MILITARY, AND 20 BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS. ANOTHER 32 CIVILIANS WERE [redacted]

REPORTEDLY KILLED AS A RESULT OF COMBAT BETWEEN THE FMLN AND THE SALVADORAN MILITARY. THROUGH JULY, THE NUMBER OF 1990 CIVILIAN DEATHS AS A RESULT OF THE POLITICAL CONFLICT (WHICH INCLUDES CIVILIANS KILLED IN NONCOMBAT AS WELL AS COMBAT SITUATIONS) AVERAGED 12 PER MONTH; THIS COMPARES WITH A MONTHLY AVERAGE OF 30 IN 1989 (NOTE: PRIOR TO THE FMLN OFFENSIVE THE 1989 AVERAGE WAS APPROXIMATELY 17 PER MONTH), 19 IN 1988, 23 IN 1987, 22 IN 1986, 28 IN 1985, 64 IN 1984, 140 IN 1983, 219 IN 1982, 444 IN 1981, AND 750 IN 1980. GIVEN THE ISOLATION OF SOME RURAL AREAS, IT IS LIKELY THAT NOT ALL DEATHS ARE REPORTED, BUT THE USE OF SIMILAR METHODOLOGY YEAR AFTER YEAR HELPS ESTABLISH TRENDS WITH ACCURACY.

THE EMBASSY ALSO MAINTAINS STATISTICS ON THE NUMBER OF SUSPICIOUS MURDERS, THOSE IN WHICH A POLITICAL MOTIVE, THOUGH NOT APPARENT, COULD NOT BE EXCLUDED. DEATHS IN THIS CATEGORY AVERAGED 15 PER MONTH DURING 1989 AND

CREDIBLE REPORTS OF CIVILIANS KILLED FOR POLITICAL REASONS IN NONCOMBAT SITUATIONS BY THE MILITARY AND SECURITY FORCES PERSIST. ON MARCH 10, EFRAIN AND CRISTINA CABRERA WERE KILLED IN LA HACHADURA, AHUACHAPAN. ACCORDING TO THE GOVERNMENT HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CDH), ARMED AND UNIFORMED MEN BROKE INTO THE CABRERA HOME, TIED THE FAMILY UP, STOLE MONEY AND ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT, AND RAPED TWO WOMEN. EFRAIN CABRERA WAS LATER FOUND IN A HALLWAY FATALLY SHOT IN THE HEAD WITH HIS WOUNDED WIFE BESIDE HIM. NEIGHBORS

THE DAUGHTER OF THE VICTIMS SAID THE ATTACKERS CAME TO KILL HER PARENTS AND ONLY TOOK TO ROBBERY AS AN AFTERTHOUGHT. THERE IS NO SERIOUS INVESTIGATION BEING CONDUCTED.

ACCORDING TO THE CATHOLIC HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE, TUTELA LEGAL, ON MARCH 11, IN ROSARIO DE CUSCATLAN, CUSCATLAN, A MEMBER OF THE LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE UNIT EXECUTED OSMIN ESCOBAR ON THE SUSPICION THAT HE WAS A GUERRILLA. THIS INCIDENT WAS NOT REPORTED ANYWHERE ELSE, NOR CONFIRMED BY ANY OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION.

ON AUGUST 20, JESUIT PRIESTS JON CORTINA AND P. NICOLAS ALVARENGA WERE APPARENTLY SHOT AT IN GUARJILA, CHALATENANGO. BOTH PRIESTS CHARGED THAT THEY WERE THE TARGETS OF AN ARMY SNIPER ATTACK. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI PUBLICLY DENIED THAT SALVADORAN FORCES FIRED AT THE PRIESTS BUT ADMITTED THAT BULLETS FROM A CROSS FIRE COULD HAVE ENTERED THE CAMP. ON JANUARY 16, 1990, COLONEL GUILLERMO ALFREDO BENAVIDES, THE DIRECTOR OF THE MILITARY ACADEMY, WAS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH THE MURDER OF SIX JESUIT PRIESTS, THEIR HOUSEKEEPER, AND HER DAUGHTER. THREE LIEUTENANTS AND FIVE ATLACATL BATTALION ENLISTED MEN WERE ALSO ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGES. A NINTH SOLDIER, WHO DESERTED IN DECEMBER, WAS ALSO CHARGED BUT HAS NOT BEEN FOUND. COL. BENAVIDES REMAINED UNDER DETENTION AT NATIONAL POLICE HEADQUARTERS IN SAN SALVADOR. THE OTHER SEVEN DETAINEES WERE HELD AT NATIONAL GUARD HEADQUARTERS IN SAN SALVADOR. PROGRESS IN THE INVESTIGATION HAS BEEN PAINFULLY SLOW: SOME LEADS HAVE NOT BEEN FOLLOWED AND CRUCIAL EVIDENCE HAS APPARENTLY BEEN DESTROYED.

IN JUNE, DR. RICARDO ZAMORA, THE FOURTH CRIMINAL COURT JUDGE OF SAN SALVADOR, INDICTED LIEUTENANT COLONEL CARLOS CAMILO HERNANDEZ, THE DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF THE MILITARY ACADEMY AT THE TIME OF THE MURDERS, FOR OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE. IN AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER, JUDGE ZAMORA DETAINED THREE ATLACATL ENLISTED MEN ON PERJURY CHARGES. OTHER SALVADORAN MILITARY OFFICERS, WHILE NOT OPENLY LYING OR BLOCKING THE INVESTIGATION, HAVE PROVIDED MINIMAL COOPERATION. NO ONE IN THE SALVADORAN MILITARY HAS COME TO THE JUDGE WITH ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE MURDERS.

ON AUGUST 29, 1989, TROOPS FROM MILITARY DETACHMENT 7 IN SONSONATE FIRED ON A GROUP OF STUDENTS WHOSE CAR HAD BROKEN DOWN. RAFAEL MAURICIO GARCIA AND HECTOR CUADRA WERE KILLED IN THE ENSUING FUSILLADE. COLONEL PONCE, THEN ARMED FORCES CHIEF OF STAFF, APOLOGIZED TO THE PARENTS AND PROMISED TO BRING THE GUILTY SOLDIERS (WHO CLAIMED TO BELIEVE THAT THE STUDENTS WERE SETTING UP AN FMLN ROADBLOCK) TO JUSTICE. THE MILITARY TURNED A SERGEANT AND AN ENLISTED MAN OVER TO THE COURTS IN EARLY 1990 BUT THE CHARGE WAS REDUCED TO A MISDEMEANOR WITH A MAXIMUM PENALTY OF 3 YEARS IN PRISON.

OFFSETTING PROGRESS IN 1990 WAS THE VIRTUAL COLLAPSE OF TWO KEY HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, THE SAN SEBASTIAN AND KIDNAPPING CASES. IN EARLY 1990, 11 SOLDIERS, INCLUDING A MAJOR, WERE BEING HELD ON CHARGES STEMMING FROM THE MURDER OF TEN PEASANTS IN SAN SEBASTIAN, SAN VICENTE, ON SEPTEMBER 12, 1988. ON FEBRUARY 8, 1990, JUDGE ALCIDES GUANDIQUE OF THE FIRST INSTANCE COURT OF SAN SEBASTIAN, SAN VICENTE, RULED THAT THERE WAS INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO PROCEED TO TRIAL AGAINST TEN

DEFENSE AND PROSECUTION APPEALS SUSPENDED ACTION ON JUDGE GUANDIQUE'S RULING UNTIL APRIL 27. ON THAT DATE, THE SAN VICENTE APPEALS COURT ORDERED TRIAL PROCEEDINGS TO BE INITIATED AGAINST MAJOR BELTRAN AND RETURNED THE CASE AGAINST HIM TO JUDGE GUANDIQUE'S COURT. HOWEVER, THE APPEALS COURT ALSO DECIDED, ON QUESTIONABLE GROUNDS, THAT

THERE WAS INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE AGAINST VILLALOBOS AS WELL AS THE OTHER TEN DEFENDANTS, DROPPED ALL CHARGES AGAINST THEM, AND ORDERED THEIR IMMEDIATE RELEASE. JURY SELECTION IN THE CASE WAS STILL PENDING IN OCTOBER. HOWEVER, SALVADORAN COURTS HAVE SO RIDDLED THE CASE WITH PROCEDURAL FLAWS THAT IT IS DOUBTFUL MAJOR BELTRAN WILL BE CONVICTED, OR, IF CONVICTED, RECEIVE MORE THAN A NOMINAL SENTENCE.

THE CASE AGAINST SALVADORAN MILITARY OFFICERS (ACTIVE DUTY AND RETIRED) WHO RAN A KIDNAPPING AND AUTO THEFT RING IN THE EARLY 1980'S ALSO VIRTUALLY COLLAPSED IN 1990. OF THE EIGHT REMAINING DEFENDANTS IN THE CASE, ONLY TWO (MAJOR JOSE ALFREDO JIMENEZ AND LIEUTENANT RODOLFO LOPEZ SIBRIAN) WERE STILL IN CUSTODY AS 1990 BEGAN. ON APRIL 1, 1990, THE PRESIDING JUDGE IN THE CASE RETIRED AND WAS REPLACED BY JUDGE ERNESTO CRUZ CIENFUEGOS (WHO, IN 1987, HAD RELEASED COLONEL ROBERTO MAURICIO STABEN AND DROPPED SOME OF THE ORIGINAL CHARGES AGAINST THE DEFENDANTS). ON APRIL 23, JUDGE CRUZ ORDERED TRIAL PROCEEDINGS INITIATED AGAINST LOPEZ SIBRIAN AND LUIS ORLANDO LLOVERA BALLETTE, ONE OF THE SIX FUGITIVES. HOWEVER, HE ALSO RULED THAT THERE WAS INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO LINK JIMENEZ AND THE OTHER FIVE FUGITIVES TO THE CRIME, DROPPED CHARGES AGAINST THEM, LIFTED THE ARREST ORDERS AGAINST THE FIVE FUGITIVES (EXCLUDING LLOVERA), AND ORDERED THE RELEASE

ASSASSINATIONS BY THE FMLN CONTINUED IN 1990. BASED ON A VARIETY OF SOURCES, INCLUDING CASES WHERE THE FMLN TOOK CREDIT FOR THE ATTACK, WE BELIEVE THAT THE FMLN WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE FOLLOWING POLITICAL ASSASSINATIONS:

THE MARCH 23 MACHINE GUN ATTACK WHICH KILLED OTTO VALDEMAR SORTO, THE SON-IN-LAW OF AIR FORCE COMMANDER GENERAL RAFAEL VILLAMARIONA.

THE JANUARY 25 KILLING OF TWO BODYGUARDS DURING AN UNSUCCESSFUL ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST SAUL SUSTER, THE PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL PHONE COMPANY.

THE APRIL 9 SHOOTING OF SALVADOR ENRIQUE SALAZAR, AN OFF DUTY ARMY OFFICER, IN COATEPEQUE, SANTA ANA.

THE JUNE 18 KILLING OF BERTA FLORES BELTRAN AND MARIA ELENA ROMERO IN MEJICANOS, SAN SALVADOR.

THE JULY 9 KILLING OF CARLOS ALONSO FIGUEROA, AN OFF DUTY ARMY MAJOR, AS HE WAS LEAVING LAW SCHOOL CLASSES, IN SAN SALVADOR.

THE ASSASSINATION OF A MEMBER OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE [redacted]

INVESTIGATIONS INTO THE 1989 ASSASSINATIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL ROBERTO GARCIA AND MINISTER OF THE PRESIDENCY JOSE ANTONIO RODRIGUEZ PORTH CONTINUE, BUT THERE WERE NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN 1990.

THE FMLN CONTINUED TO USE LAND MINES INDISCRIMINATELY, KILLING AND WOUNDING INNOCENT CIVILIANS, INCLUDING CHILDREN, IN VIOLATION OF THE LAWS OF WAR.

HEARD FROM SINCE. THE GOVERNMENT'S INVESTIGATION IN THESE CASES HAS YET TO TURN UP ANY CLUES OR SUSPECTS.

IN AN ATTEMPT TO IMPROVE PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FOR DETAINEES, THE SUPREME COURT OPENED A DETAINEE INFORMATION OFFICE ON APRIL 1. THE OFFICE IS STAFFED AROUND THE CLOCK BY AT LEAST THREE SUPREME COURT EMPLOYEES WHO ATTEMPT TO SUPPLY INFORMATION ON ANY DETAINEE IN THE COUNTRY. THE OFFICE IS SUPPOSED TO RECEIVE TIMELY REPORTS FROM THE COURTS, THE MILITARY, AND THE SECURITY FORCES ON ARRESTS AND THE STATUS OF THOSE IN THE CUSTODY OF SALVADORAN AUTHORITIES. IN PRACTICE, THE COURTS USUALLY PROVIDE TIMELY INFORMATION ON ARRESTEES THAT HAVE BEEN CONSIGNED TO THEM, BUT SOURCES ALLEGE THAT THE SECURITY FORCES AND THE MILITARY SOMETIMES REPORT DETENTIONS LATE OR NOT AT ALL. NEVERTHELESS, THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SUCH AN OFFICE AND THE FACT THAT THE SECURITY FORCES AND THE MILITARY SEEM TO BE COOPERATING TO SOME EXTENT, SHOULD HELP PREVENT DISAPPEARANCES AFTER ARREST.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

GOVERNMENT POLICY NEITHER PERMITS NOR CONDONES TORTURE OR MISTREATMENT OF PRISONERS BUT INCIDENTS OF TORTURE AND MISTREATMENT DO OCCUR. WHEN A COMPLAINT OF MISTREATMENT APPEARS CREDIBLE, THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CDH) REPORTS THE INCIDENT TO THE COMMANDER OF THE UNIT RESPONSIBLE AND TO THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE. AT LEAST ONE INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN ORGANIZATION SAYS THAT GENERAL CONDITIONS IN EL SALVADOR'S PRISONS ARE UP TO MINIMUM INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS. FROM OUR OWN OBSERVATIONS, CONDITIONS IN SALVADORAN PRISONS ARE, AT LEAST, SIMILAR OR SUPERIOR TO THOSE IN OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE REGION.

AS USED BY MOST SALVADORANS, THE TERM "POLITICAL PRISONER" DESCRIBES A PERSON DETAINED FOR OFFENSES

[redacted]

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

RELATED TO THE INSURGENCY. IN SEPTEMBER, PRISON AUTHORITIES REPORTED THAT THERE WERE 167 POLITICAL PRISONERS DETAINED FOR TERRORIST ACTIVITIES AND ANOTHER 58 DETAINED FOR RELATED OFFENSES. POLITICAL PRISONERS ARE DISTRIBUTED THROUGHOUT THE PRISON SYSTEM AND ARE TREATED AS COMMON CRIMINALS. IT IS NOTEWORTHY THAT THE NONGOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CDHES) COUNT OF 194 POLITICAL PRISONERS IS QUITE CLOSE TO THE GOES FIGURE.

UNCLASSIFIED

THERE WERE CREDIBLE CHARGES OF TORTURE AND MISTREATMENT BY THE SECURITY FORCES AND THE MILITARY. HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS ALLEGED THAT DETAINEES WERE THREATENED, DEPRIVED OF FOOD AND SLEEP, SUBJECTED TO PROLONGED INTERROGATION WHILE BLINDFOLDED, FORCED TO STAND FOR LONG PERIODS OF TIME, AND BEATEN. ALMOST ALL DETAINEES ARRESTED FOR FMLN MEMBERSHIP CLAIM TO HAVE BEEN FORCED TO SIGN CONFESSIONS WITHOUT BEING PERMITTED TO READ THEM. INSTANCES OF SEVERE BEATINGS, RAPE, CHOKING, USE OF A HOOD TO ASPHYXIATE, INJECTION WITH UNIDENTIFIED DRUGS, AND ELECTRIC SHOCK WERE ALSO REPORTED.

AN AUGUST 21 TRANSFER OF PRISONERS FROM "LA ESPERANZA" PENITENTIARY, NEAR SAN SALVADOR, TO OTHER PENAL INSTITUTIONS TOUCHED OFF INTENSE CONTROVERSY. ON AUGUST 24, THE NONGOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CDHES) CHARGED THAT 52 "POLITICAL PRISONERS" WERE VIOLENTLY REMOVED FROM THEIR CELLS BY PRISON GUARDS AND FIRST BRIGADE TROOPS. THE CDHES ALSO ASSERTED THAT SEVERAL PRISONERS WERE BEATEN AND THE WHEREABOUTS

OF SEVERAL WERE UNKNOWN. ON SEPTEMBER 20, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE OF THE LUTHERAN CHURCH LODGED A FORMAL COMPLAINT WITH THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ALLEGING THAT PRISONERS WERE VIOLENTLY ROUSTED FROM THEIR CELLS BY ELEMENTS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD AND THE FIRST BRIGADE AS WELL AS PRISON GUARDS. THE COMPLAINT ALSO CHARGED THAT MANY OF THE PRISONERS SUFFERED BLOWS AND DEATH THREATS.

ON AUGUST 24, PRISON AUTHORITIES SAID THAT 75 PRISONERS CHARGED WITH TERRORIST ACTS AND SUBVERSIVE ASSOCIATIONS HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM "LA ESPERANZA" PENITENTIARY TO THE SAN VICENTE AND SANTA ANA PENITENTIARIES. THEY DENIED CHARGES OF MISTREATMENT, AND THAT FIRST BRIGADE TROOPS WERE INVOLVED IN REMOVING PRISONERS FROM THEIR CELLS.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

POLITICAL BELIEFS OR OPPOSITION TO THE GOVERNMENT ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE LEGAL GROUNDS FOR ARREST. THE COURTS HAVE HELD THAT MEMBERSHIP IN A FMLN FRONT ORGANIZATION IS NOT SUFFICIENT REASON FOR DETAINING SOMEONE BUT THAT MEMBERSHIP IN THE FMLN IS. SINCE THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT RECOGNIZE THE FMLN AS A BELLIGERENT POWER, IT DOES NOT ACCORD PRISONER OF WAR STATUS TO CAPTURED GUERRILLAS, WHO ARE TURNED OVER TO CIVILIAN COURTS. PERSONS ARRESTED FOR TERRORISM, INSURGENCY, AND OTHER ACTIONS AGAINST THE STABILITY OF THE STATE ARE AFFORDED THE SAME LEGAL PROTECTIONS AS COMMON CRIMINALS.

COUNSEL AT THIS TIME. OFFICIALS WHO ORDER OR CARRY OUT TORTURE DURING ADMINISTRATIVE DETENTION ARE SUBJECT TO CRIMINAL PROSECUTION. MOST REPORTS CHARGE THAT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS OCCUR DURING ADMINISTRATIVE DETENTION, HOWEVER, AND SANCTIONS AGAINST VIOLATORS ARE SELDOM IMPOSED. AFTER 72 HOURS, THE SECURITY FORCES ARE REQUIRED EITHER TO RELEASE A DEFENDANT OR SEND HIM AND THE EVIDENCE TO THE COURT. IT IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE FOR THE SECURITY FORCES OR [redacted]

THE MILITARY TO HOLD A SUSPECT LONGER THAN 72 HOURS. THIS PROVISION IS NOT ALWAYS ENFORCED, HOWEVER, AND THE TIME LIMIT IS SOMETIMES VIOLATED.

ONCE THE SECURITY FORCES PRESENT THE ACCUSED AND THE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM TO A JUDGE, THE FIRST STAGE OF JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS, THE INQUIRY PERIOD, BEGINS. WITHIN 24 HOURS OF ACCEPTING A CASE, A JUDGE MUST TAKE A STATEMENT FROM THE ACCUSED REGARDING THE FACTS OF THE CASE AND INFORM HIM OF HIS RIGHTS AND THE CHARGES AGAINST HIM. A DETAINEE'S APPEARANCE BEFORE A JUDGE IS USUALLY THE FIRST TIME HE IS GIVEN THE CHANCE TO EXPRESS A PREFERENCE FOR COUNSEL; A DEFENSE ATTORNEY IS USUALLY NOT PRESENT WHEN THE DETAINEE GIVES HIS INITIAL STATEMENT. DURING THE INQUIRY PERIOD, A JUDGE MUST VERIFY THAT A CRIME HAS BEEN COMMITTED AND DETERMINE WHETHER THERE IS SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO TIE THE ACCUSED TO THE CRIME. AT THE END OF THE INQUIRY PERIOD, A JUDGE MUST EITHER RELEASE THE DEFENDANT OR ORDER HIM HELD UNDER PROVISIONAL DETENTION.

IF A JUDGE VERIFIES THAT EVIDENCE IS LEGALLY SUFFICIENT TO ESTABLISH A CASE AGAINST THE DETAINEE, THE CASE MOVES INTO THE INVESTIGATION STAGE WITH THE DETAINEE UNDER PROVISIONAL DETENTION. DURING THIS STAGE, A JUDGE MAY REQUEST FURTHER INVESTIGATION TO ACCUMULATE EVIDENCE TO INITIATE TRIAL PROCEEDINGS. IF

THE INVESTIGATION SHOULD FAIL TO ACCUMULATE SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE, THE DETAINEE IS SUPPOSED TO BE SET FREE. THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE LIMITS THE INVESTIGATION STAGE TO 120-DAYS FOR FELONIES AND 45 DAYS FOR [redacted]

MISDEMEANORS. IN PRACTICE, HOWEVER, THE 120-DAY DEADLINE IS USUALLY EXCEEDED BECAUSE OF LENGTHY AND INCONCLUSIVE INVESTIGATIONS, SHORTAGES OF PUBLIC DEFENDERS, POORLY TRAINED JUDICIAL PERSONNEL, BUREAUCRATIC BUMBLING, ARCHAIC LAWS AND PROCEDURES, A MASSIVE CASE BACKLOG, AND THE HABITUAL FAILURE OF THE SECURITY FORCES TO LEND INVESTIGATIVE ASSISTANCE TO THE JUDGE. IN APRIL, THE SALVADORAN SUPREME COURT INITIATED A SYSTEM OF CIRCUIT JUDGES TO RELIEVE SOME OF THE BACKLOG.

BAIL IS AVAILABLE FOR SOME MINOR OFFENSES, BUT IS SELDOM USED.

ANYONE CAN REQUEST THAT AN APPEALS COURT OR THE SUPREME COURT REVIEW THE LEGAL BASIS FOR A DETENTION (A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS). THIS RECOURSE AGAINST ILLEGAL DETENTION IS AVAILABLE FROM THE TIME IT APPEARS LIKELY THAT A COURT WILL ISSUE AN ARREST WARRANT UNTIL THE TRIAL IS COMPLETED AND A SENTENCE IMPOSED. SUCH AN APPEAL FREEZES ACTION ON THE CASE UNTIL THE HIGHER COURT HAS RENDERED ITS DECISION.

FROM JANUARY TO AUGUST 1990, ACCORDING TO MINISTRY OF DEFENSE STATISTICS, THE SECURITY FORCES DETAINED 881 PERSONS, INCLUDING 53 FOREIGNERS, ON SUSPICION OF SUBVERSIVE OFFENSES. OF THAT NUMBER, 433 WERE SUBSEQUENTLY RELEASED AND NEVER FORMALLY CHARGED; AND THE REMAINDER WERE CONSIGNED TO THE COURTS, DEPORTED, OR SENT TO JUVENILE FACILITIES.

[redacted]

THERE ARE NO PROVISIONS IN THE LAW FOR EXILE. MANY FMLN LEADERS CLAIM TO BE IN EXILE AND SOME OF THEM COULD BE SUBJECT TO ARREST FOR PARTICIPATION IN GUERRILLA OPERATIONS IF THEY WERE TO RETURN IN EL SALVADOR.

ON JULY 31, THE HIGH COMMAND SENT A GENERAL ORDER TO MILITARY UNITS AND SECURITY FORCES ESTABLISHING A NEW STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP) ON ARRESTS AND TREATMENT OF PRISONERS. THE NEW PROCEDURE WAS

ARRESTS WITHOUT A WRITTEN ORDER FROM A JUDGE UNLESS A PERSON IS CAUGHT "IN THE ACT" OF COMMITTING A CRIME. "IN THE ACT" WAS DEFINED AS IMMEDIATELY BEFORE, DURING, OR UP TO 24 HOURS AFTER A CRIME IS COMMITTED, OR IF SOMEONE DENOUNCES A SUSPECTED CRIMINAL TO THE AUTHORITIES, OR IF A PERSON IS IN POSSESSION OF SOME INSTRUMENT USED IN THE CRIME. THE SOP DIRECTS THAT SUSPECTS ARRESTED BY THE MILITARY BE SENT TO THE NEAREST SECURITY FORCE UNIT WITH ALL EVIDENCE.

IN ALL OTHER CASES, THE SOP DIRECTS THAT ARRESTS BE MADE ONLY BY MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES (NOT THE MILITARY), IN POSSESSION OF A WRITTEN ORDER FROM A COMPETENT AUTHORITY. EXCEPT FOR ARRESTS MADE "IN THE ACT," OFFICERS MUST WEAR UNIFORMS, CARRY SECURITY FORCE IDENTIFICATION CARDS, AND MAKE ALL ARRESTS BETWEEN 6 A.M. AND 6 P.M. THE SOP REQUIRES THAT OFFICERS INFORM DETAINEES, IN EASILY UNDERSTOOD LANGUAGE, OF THE REASON FOR THEIR ARREST AND THE CHARGES AGAINST THEM AT THE TIME OF ARREST. IT ALSO DIRECTS SECURITY FORCES TO IMMEDIATELY ALLOW DETAINEES TO CONTACT AND CONSULT PRIVATELY WITH LEGAL COUNSEL OR ANYONE ELSE THEY WISH. IT REQUIRES MILITARY UNITS AND THE SECURITY FORCES TO PLACE SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON COOPERATION WITH WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS. IT PROHIBITS MISTREATMENT OF DETAINEES, INCLUDING TORTURE, OR CRUEL, INHUMAN OR DEGRADING PUNISHMENT. COMPLAINTS OF THIS NATURE HAVE DECREASED SUBSTANTIALLY SINCE JULY 31 AND THE RATE OF ARRESTS IS REPORTEDLY A QUARTER OF WHAT IT WAS BEFORE THEN. VARIOUS NONGOVERNMENTAL SOURCES INDICATE THAT THE SECURITY FORCES AND THE MILITARY HAVE MADE AN EFFORT TO COMPLY WITH THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE NEW SOP.

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY APPOINTS THE 14 MAGISTRATES OF THE SUPREME COURT. THE SUPREME COURT APPOINTS ALL LOWER COURT MAGISTRATES, JUDGES, AND JUSTICES OF THE PEACE. THE SALVADORAN COURT STRUCTURE IS DIVIDED INTO [redacted]

FIVE LEVELS: JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, COURTS OF THE FIRST INSTANCE (TRIAL COURTS), CHAMBERS OF THE SECOND INSTANCE (APPEALS COURTS), THE CHAMBERS OF THE SUPREME COURT, AND THE SUPREME COURT. EACH LEVEL HAS THE POWER OF REVIEW OVER DECISIONS OF THE NEXT LOWER LEVEL.

THE 302 JUSTICES OF THE PEACE SERVE TWO-YEAR TERMS, DEAL WITH CIVIL MATTERS, AND TRY MISDEMEANORS WITHOUT A JURY. IN MAJOR CRIMINAL CASES, SUCH AS MURDER, A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE GATHERS THE INITIAL EVIDENCE WHICH HE THEN TURNS OVER TO A FIRST INSTANCE JUDGE. THE FIFTY JUDGES OF THE FIRST INSTANCE CRIMINAL COURTS ARE APPOINTED FOR LIFE, USUALLY HANDLE SERIOUS CRIMES (I.E., FELONIES), AND ARE THE ONLY COURTS WHICH HOLD JURY TRIALS. EACH OF THE EIGHT SECOND INSTANCE CRIMINAL CHAMBERS IS COMPOSED OF TWO MAGISTRATES (WHO HOLD LIFE TENURE) AND FUNCTIONS AS AN APPEALS COURT. THE CHAMBERS ALSO HAVE ORIGINAL JURISDICTION IN CERTAIN CASES, SUCH AS CORRUPTION INVOLVING PUBLIC OFFICIALS. THEIR DECISIONS MUST BE UNANIMOUS TO BE

JURY VERDICTS CAN NEITHER BE OVERRULED BY A JUDGE, NOR APPEALED TO A HIGHER COURT. HOWEVER, THE SENTENCE MAY BE APPEALED SUCCESSIVELY UP TO THE SUPREME COURT. APPEALS ARE RARE.

ONCE THE SECURITY FORCES PRESENT THE DETAINEE AND THE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM TO A JUDGE, THE JUDICIAL PROCESS BEGINS AND THE ACCUSED HAS HIS FIRST OPPORTUNITY TO EXERCISE HIS RIGHT TO BE REPRESENTED BY AN ATTORNEY. IN PRACTICE, HOWEVER, THE RIGHT IS SELDOM USED, PROBABLY BECAUSE FEW ARRESTEES CAN AFFORD TO HIRE AN ATTORNEY. COURT APPOINTED ATTORNEYS ARE USUALLY NOT AVAILABLE TO A DEFENDANT UNTIL THE INVESTIGATIVE PHASE IS OVER AND THE JUDGE DETERMINES THERE IS SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO INITIATE TRIAL PROCEEDINGS. TO ENSURE THAT THE POOR HAVE ACCESS TO LEGAL COUNSEL, THE SOLICITOR GENERAL ASSIGNED PUBLIC DEFENDERS TO 38 OF THE NATION'S 50 FIRST INSTANCE COURTS. ALTHOUGH A PUBLIC DEFENDER CAN BE MADE AVAILABLE TO THE DETAINEE AS EARLY AS THE INVESTIGATIVE STAGE OF THE JUDICIAL PROCESS, THEIR NUMBER IS STILL INSUFFICIENT TO INSURE THAT DUE PROCESS IS GIVEN TO MORE THAN A SMALL PERCENTAGE OF INDIGENT DETAINEES. THE DEFENDANT MUST BE REPRESENTED BY COUNSEL AT THE TRIAL AND COUNSEL IS APPOINTED BY THE COURT IF NONE HAS BEEN SELECTED. A DEFENSE COUNSEL APPOINTED BY THE COURT MUST WORK FREE

INTIMIDATION AND BRIBERY. TRIAL RECORDS OF ADULTS ARE NORMALLY OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

IN THEORY, DEFENDANTS HAVE A RIGHT TO: THE ASSUMPTION OF INNOCENCE, PROTECTION FROM SELF-INCRIMINATION, LEGAL COUNSEL, FREEDOM FROM PHYSICAL OR MENTAL COERCION, PRESENCE IN COURT, OPPORTUNITY TO CONFRONT WITNESSES, AND COMPENSATION FOR DAMAGES DUE TO JUDICIAL ERROR. IN PRACTICE, ALMOST ALL OF THESE RIGHTS ARE RESTRICTED TO VARIOUS DEGREES. PRISONERS ARE USUALLY INCARCERATED FOR SIX TO 18 MONTHS FROM THE TIME THEY ARE CHARGED UNTIL THEY ARE BROUGHT TO TRIAL, AND EVEN LONGER DELAYS ARE COMMON.

ALTHOUGH NOMINALLY INDEPENDENT FROM THE EXECUTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE BRANCHES, IN PRACTICE THE JUDICIARY IS STRONGLY INFLUENCED BY THE LEGISLATURE THROUGH THE APPOINTMENTS PROCESS. POLITICAL AFFILIATION OR FAMILY TIES, RATHER THAN PROFESSIONAL CAPABILITIES, ARE OFTEN THE MOST IMPORTANT CRITERIA IN APPOINTING JUDGES. REAPPOINTMENT IS BASED MORE ON A JUDGE'S POLITICAL LOYALTY THAN ON INTEGRITY OR PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS.

TEN YEARS OF WAR HAVE ADDED TO THE PRESSURES ON JUDICIAL PERSONNEL WHO, EVEN IN THE BEST OF TIMES, ARE SUBJECT TO BRIBES AND THREATS. JUDGES ARE SOMETIMES AFRAID TO INVESTIGATE OR PROSECUTE MEMBERS OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES OR THE FMLN INSURGENCY. DEATH THREATS ARE ALSO COMMON IN CASES WHICH INVOLVE ORGANIZED CRIME.

U.S. GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED JUDICIAL REFORM PROGRAMS HAVE HELPED EFFECT SUBSTANTIAL TECHNICAL IMPROVEMENTS SINCE 1984: EIGHT MAJOR JUDICIAL REFORMS HAVE BEEN PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY; A SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE UNIT AND FORENSIC LAB HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED AND ARE MAJOR INVESTIGATIVE ARMS IN HUMAN RIGHTS AS WELL AS COMMON CRIMINAL CASES; THE CENTER HOUSING FIRST INSTANCE JUDGES AND JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR SAN SALVADOR WAS RECONSTRUCTED AND EQUIPPED AFTER THE 1986 EARTHQUAKE; A PUBLIC DEFENDER'S OFFICE HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED TO OFFER LEGAL ASSISTANCE TO THE POOR; COMPREHENSIVE

THE GOVERNMENT GENERALLY DOES NOT INTERFERE ARBITRARILY IN THE PERSONAL LIVES OF CITIZENS, ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION GIVES THE GOVERNMENT THE RIGHT TO INTERVENE WHEN NATIONAL SECURITY IS THREATENED. BOTH THE GOVERNMENT AND THE GUERRILLAS USE NETWORKS OF INFORMANTS.

THE MILITARY DRAFT IS LEGAL BUT APPLIED ARBITRARILY. THE SONS OF THE WEALTHY, OR THE WELL CONNECTED, ARE ALMOST NEVER FORCED TO SERVE.

ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION, BEFORE ENTERING A PRIVATE DWELLING THE SECURITY FORCES MUST HAVE THE RESIDENT'S CONSENT, A WARRANT, OR A REASONABLE BELIEF THAT A CRIME IS BEING OR IS ABOUT TO BE COMMITTED. IN PRACTICE, THE SECURITY FORCES OFTEN USE FORCED ENTRY TO CARRY OUT ARRESTS AND INVESTIGATIONS. GOVERNMENT FORCES OFTEN INTERCEPT MAIL DELIVERIES IN WAR ZONES. WIRETAPPING OF TELEPHONE COMMUNICATIONS BY THE GOVERNMENT, THE FMLN, PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS, AND POLITICAL PARTIES IS WIDESPREAD.

THE GUERRILLAS ARBITRARILY INTERFERE WITH THE LIVES OF INHABITANTS IN WAR ZONES SETTING UP ROADBLOCKS, EXPROPRIATING FOOD AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES, INTERCEPTING MAIL, AND FORCING VILLAGERS TO ATTEND INDOCTRINATION SESSIONS. THEY ENGAGE IN FORCED RECRUITMENT TO FILL THEIR RANKS OR TO OBTAIN LABORERS AND PORTERS. FMLN

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

CLAIMS OF IMPROPER AIR FORCE BOMBINGS NEAR CIVILIAN POPULATIONS RESULTING IN CIVILIAN DEATHS CONTINUED IN 1990. AIR FORCE POLICY IS TO REFRAIN FROM ATTACKING GUERRILLA CONCENTRATIONS AND INSTALLATIONS WHEN CIVILIANS ARE NEARBY. INFANTRY OFFICERS SAY AIR FORCE PILOTS REFUSE TO BOMB CIVILIAN AREAS EVEN WHEN ASKED TO BY OFFICERS ON THE GROUND. HOWEVER, THERE ARE CREDIBLE CHARGES THAT ON OCCASION THIS POLICY HAS BEEN VIOLATED, ESPECIALLY IN AREAS OF INTENSE GUERRILLA ACTIVITY (SUCH AS CHALATENANGO, CABANAS, AND MORAZAN) WHERE MILITARY OPERATIONS RECEIVE CLOSE AIR SUPPORT.

THE FMLN OCCUPIES BY FORCE CIVILIAN HOMES AS SHELTERS AND BASES TO ATTACK GOVERNMENT TARGETS PLACING CIVILIANS IN DANGER. THIS WAS DEMONSTRATED DURING THE NOVEMBER 1989 OFFENSIVE, SUBSEQUENT ATTACKS IN THE CITY, AND MOST RECENTLY WHEN THE FMLN ATTACKED ILOPANGO AIR BASE IN OCTOBER 1990. THE GUERRILLAS' USE OF UNMARKED, INDISCRIMINATELY PLACED MINES AND BOOBY TRAPS IS A MAJOR CAUSE OF DEATH AND MAIMING AMONG PEASANTS. PLANTED ALONG FARM ROADS AND PATHS,

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

TRERE ARE NO GOVERNMENTAL RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND THE PRESS. EL SALVADOR HAS A VIGOROUS LOCAL PRESS WHICH REGULARLY PRINTS COMMENTARY STRONGLY CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT.

THERE ARE FIVE DAILY PAPERS, FIVE TELEVISION STATIONS, AND NUMEROUS RADIO STATIONS, ALL OF WHICH PROVIDE NATIONWIDE COVERAGE. THERE ARE ALSO TWO CABLE TELEVISION SYSTEMS THAT BROADCAST NEWS PROGRAMS FROM ABROAD. TV INTERVIEWS FEATURE A FULL RANGE OF POLITICAL FIGURES REPRESENTING ALL POLITICAL VIEWPOINTS, INCLUDING POLITICIANS, LABOR LEADERS, HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS, PRIVATE SECTOR REPRESENTATIVES, AND GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS. ONE OF THE T.V. STATIONS AIRED AN EXCLUSIVE THIRTY MINUTE INTERVIEW WITH FMLN COMMANDER SHAFIK HANDAL IN SEPTEMBER. PRESS AGENCIES HAVE REPORTED THAT A WIDER RANGE OF OPINION IS PERMITTED IN EL SALVADOR THAN IN MANY OTHER LATIN AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES. TELEVISION AND RADIO STATIONS SELL BROADCAST TIME TO ORGANIZATIONS OF ALL POLITICAL VIEWPOINTS. THESE ARE UNCENSORED AND ARE OFTEN BROADCAST LIVE. COMMERCIAL RADIO STATIONS USE NEWS AND PROPAGANDA REPORTS RECORDED FROM THE CLANDESTINE GUERRILLA RADIO STATIONS OR SUPPLIED BY THE GUERRILLAS ON CASSETTES. IN 1990, ALL FMLN COMMUNIQUES WERE IMMEDIATELY BROADCAST BY THE MAJOR NEWS RADIO STATIONS. THE GOVERNMENT OWNS TWO TELEVISION CHANNELS AND ONE RADIO STATION. THE ARMED FORCES ALSO OPERATE A RADIO STATION.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM IS PROTECTED BY THE CONSTITUTION AND RESPECTED BY THE GOVERNMENT. THERE IS NO GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE WITH UNIVERSITY CURRICULA. HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT FORCED THE UNIVERSITY OF EL SALVADOR TO CLOSE DURING THE NOVEMBER 1989 FMLN OFFENSIVE. IT REOPENED IN JUNE. FMLN ELEMENTS EXPLOIT THE UNIVERSITY'S AUTONOMY, WHICH PROHIBITS LAW ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES FROM ENTERING THE CAMPUS, BY USING THE FACILITIES AS A SAFE HAVEN AND STAGING CENTER FOR [redacted]

URBAN OPERATIONS. THE PROBLEM CONTINUES TO DATE, GREATLY IMPEDING THE UNIVERSITY'S CAPACITY TO FUNCTION AS AN ACADEMIC INSTITUTION.

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

ANY ASSOCIATION NOT FORMED FOR CRIMINAL PURPOSES IS LEGAL AND PERMITTED IN EL SALVADOR. NUMEROUS POLITICAL, PROFESSIONAL, RELIGIOUS, LABOR, AND SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS, INCLUDING SOME ALLIED TO THE FMLN, OPERATE FREELY. GROUPS FROM THE LEFT AND THE RIGHT CRITICIZE THE GOVERNMENT AND HOLD MARCHES AND DEMONSTRATIONS WITHOUT GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE.

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

FREEDOM OF RELIGION IS PROVIDED FOR BY THE CONSTITUTION AND IS RESPECTED IN PRACTICE. THE COUNTRY IS PREDOMINANTLY ROMAN CATHOLIC, BUT AN ESTIMATED TWENTY PERCENT OF THE POPULATION SUBSCRIBE TO OTHER -- MAINLY PROTESTANT -- DENOMINATIONS AND FAITHS. ARRESTS OF CHURCH MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES, MOST OF WHICH OCCURRED DURING THE NOVEMBER 1989 FMLN OFFENSIVE, APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN FOR POLITICAL RATHER THAN RELIGIOUS REASONS. THE DETAINEES CAME FROM CHURCH ORGANIZATIONS THAT HAVE EXPRESSED PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR CAUSES ASSOCIATED WITH LIBERATION THEOLOGY

[redacted]

AND THE POLITICAL LEFT. THOSE ORGANIZATIONS, BOTH CATHOLIC AND PROTESTANT, WHICH EITHER AVOID POLITICS OR TEND TO THE OTHER SIDE WERE LEFT IN RELATIVE PEACE. VIRTUALLY ALL THE DETAINEES IN SUCH CASES WERE RELEASED WITHOUT CHARGES WITHIN THE PRESCRIBED PERIODS.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IS ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL INSTITUTIONS IN THE COUNTRY. THE ARCHBISHOP'S SUNDAY HOMILY IS BROADCAST LIVE ON ONE OF THE GOVERNMENT'S TELEVISION STATIONS AND ONE RADIO STATION. CATHOLIC CHURCH PUBLICATIONS DISSEMINATE THE CHURCH'S POSITION ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE WAR. CHURCH STATEMENTS REGULARLY CRITICIZE THE LEFTIST INSURGENCY AS WELL AS THE GOVERNMENT.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

THE CONSTITUTION ESTABLISHES THE RIGHT OF FREE MOVEMENT. ARTICLE 97 SPECIFICALLY STATES THAT FOREIGNERS MAY NOT INVOLVE THEMSELVES IN THE INTERNAL POLITICAL AFFAIRS OF THE COUNTRY. THIS ARTICLE HAS BEEN USED ON OCCASION BY THE GOVERNMENT TO DENY ENTRY OR TO DEPORT FOREIGNERS WHO IT BELIEVES MIGHT VIOLATE THAT SECTION OF THE LAW. LOCAL MILITARY COMMANDERS

REQUIRE THAT FOREIGNERS APPLY FOR PERMISSION TO ENTER WAR ZONES AND OFTEN RESTRICT ENTRY WHEN MILITARY OPERATIONS ARE UNDER WAY IN THOSE AREAS. MOVEMENTS BY SALVADORANS WITHIN EL SALVADOR ARE OCCASIONALLY RESTRICTED FOR SIMILAR REASONS. THERE ARE NO OTHER LIMITS ON FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT IN THE REST OF THE COUNTRY. THOSE WITHOUT PROPER IDENTIFICATION DOCUMENTS ARE LIABLE TO BE STOPPED ANYWHERE AND CAN BE ARRESTED, HOWEVER. IN 1985, THERE WERE AN ESTIMATED 525,000 DISPLACED PERSONS WITHIN EL SALVADOR. BY OCTOBER 1990, ABOUT 125,000 STILL REQUIRED GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE. THERE MAY BE ANOTHER 7,000 PERSONS WHO WERE NOT REGISTERED WITH THE GOVERNMENT AND RECEIVE ASSISTANCE FROM PRIVATE RELIEF ORGANIZATIONS. AN ADDITIONAL 22,000 SALVADORANS ARE REFUGEES IN OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES AND IN MEXICO, AND MORE THAN 550,000 ARE ESTIMATED TO BE ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

SINCE OCTOBER 1987, APPROXIMATELY 20,000 SALVADORAN REFUGEES HAVE RETURNED TO EL SALVADOR FROM HONDURAS, NICARAGUA, AND COSTA RICA. BETWEEN OCTOBER 1989 AND FEBRUARY 1990, APPROXIMATELY 9,000 SALVADORANS FROM THE COLOMONCAGUA CAMP IN HONDURAS WERE RESETTLED NEAR MEANGUERA, MORAZAN. ANOTHER 700 SALVADORANS FROM THE SAN ANTONIO CAMP WERE RESETTLED IN GUALCHO, USULUTAN. APPROXIMATELY 800 REFUGEES REMAIN IN THE MESA GRANDE CAMP IN HONDURAS. THESE REFUGEES TO RETURN TO EL SALVADOR IN LATE 1990 OR EARLY 1991. THE REPATRIATION OF APPROXIMATELY 800 REFUGEES FROM A CAMP IN NORTHERN PANAMA IS EXPECTED IN EARLY 1991.

IN JULY 1990, THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT ESTABLISHED A REPATRIATION ASSISTANCE OFFICE TO FACILITATE FULL REINTEGRATION OF REPATRIATED COMMUNITIES INTO SALVADORAN SOCIETY. THE OFFICE IS SUPPOSED TO COORDINATE ASSISTANCE TO REPATRIATES, HELP THEM OBTAIN IDENTIFICATION DOCUMENTS, AND COORDINATE THE INTRODUCTION OF BASIC SERVICES, SUCH AS HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND SANITATION, INTO REPATRIATED COMMUNITIES.

IN EARLY 1990, THE MINISTRY OF PUBLIC WORKS RESPONDED TO THE REQUEST OF THE SEGUNDO MONTES REPATRIATED COMMUNITY (NEAR MEANGUERA, MORAZAN) AND CONSTRUCTED A BRIDGE ACROSS THE TOROLA RIVER. ALTHOUGH THERE HAVE BEEN REPORTS OF THE FMLN COLLECTING TOLLS ON THE BRIDGE, IT HAS OPENED MARKETS AND BETTER COMMUNICATION BETWEEN NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN MORAZAN FOR THE FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS.

LOCAL MILITARY COMMANDERS HAVE SOMETIMES REGULATED THE SHIPMENT OF FOOD, MEDICINES, AND OTHER MATERIALS TO REFUGEE COMMUNITIES, CLAIMING THAT SUPPLIES WERE BEING DIVERTED TO THE GUERRILLAS. FOR THE MOST PART, HOWEVER, THERE IS NO GOVERNMENT HARASSMENT OF PERSONS RETURNING TO EL SALVADOR FROM ABROAD. THE GOVERNMENT IMPOSES NO CONTROL ON EMIGRATION AND COOPERATES WITH

THE GOVERNMENT, WITH ASSISTANCE FROM THE UNHCR AND THE ICRC, HAS REGISTERED SOME 400 NICARAGUAN REFUGEES, ALTHOUGH OFFICIALS ESTIMATE AS MANY AS 3,000 ARE RESIDING IN THE FAR SOUTHEASTERN PART OF THE COUNTRY. REGISTERED REFUGEES ARE FREE TO TRAVEL WITHIN EL SALVADOR.

SECTION 3. RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

THE SALVADORAN CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR RIGHTS AND PROCEDURES BY WHICH CITIZENS CAN CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT BY PEACEFUL MEANS. THE CONSTITUTION ALLOWS ALL POLITICAL PARTIES THAT DO NOT ADVOCATE ARMED OPPOSITION TO THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. IT ESTABLISHES THE RIGHT TO MEMBERSHIP IN ANY LEGALLY RECOGNIZED PARTY, AND EVEN PARTIES WITH LINKS TO THE FMLN ARE PERMITTED TO PARTICIPATE IN ELECTIONS.

THERE HAVE BEEN SIX NATIONAL ELECTIONS SINCE 1982. ON MARCH 19, 1989, SIX PARTIES, REPRESENTING A WIDE SPECTRUM OF POLITICAL VIEWS, PARTICIPATED IN THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION IN WHICH THE INCUMBENT CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (PDC) LOST THE PRESIDENCY TO THE NATIONALIST REPUBLIC ALLIANCE (ARENA), MARKING THE FIRST DEMOCRATIC TRANSFER OF POWER FROM THE RULING PARTY TO THE OPPOSITION. THE FMLN REFUSED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS AND SOUGHT TO DISRUPT THE ELECTIONS THROUGH ATTACKS AND THREATS. NEVERTHELESS, THE 1989 ELECTION SAW THE PARTICIPATION OF POLITICAL GROUPS PREVIOUSLY ALLIED TO THE FMLN AND THE RETURN TO THE POLITICAL SCENE OF LEFTIST LEADERS GUILLERMO UNGO AND RUBEN ZAMORA. THE DEMOCRATIC CONVERGENCE (CD), AN ALLIANCE OF THREE LEFTIST PARTIES, RAN CANDIDATES IN 1989 AND HAS ANNOUNCED PLANS TO FIELD CANDIDATES IN THE NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE AND MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS TO BE HELD IN MARCH 1991.

THE GOVERNMENT CONTINUED TO BE RECEPTIVE TO GROUPS INTERESTED IN HUMAN RIGHTS. HIGH RANKING GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND MILITARY OFFICERS MEET REGULARLY WITH VISITING LEGISLATORS FROM DIFFERENT COUNTRIES, HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, CHURCH AND LABOR GROUPS, AND OTHERS. AMERICAS WATCH AND THE LAWYERS COMMITTEE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS MAINTAIN A JOINT OFFICE IN SAN SALVADOR. THE ICRC HAS AN AGREEMENT WITH THE GOVERNMENT THAT PERMITS IT TO WORK IN THE WAR ZONES TO ASSIST NONCOMBATANTS, TO VISIT PRISONERS AND DETAINEES ACCUSED OF GUERRILLA ACTIVITY, AND TO MAKE CONFIDENTIAL REPORTS TO THE GOVERNMENT ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES. ITS DOCTORS EXAMINE DETAINEES TO DETERMINE THE VALIDITY OF COMPLAINTS OF TORTURE. THE CDH KEEPS A REGISTER OF PERSONS INJURED BY LAND MINES AND IS WORKING IN CONJUNCTION WITH INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE ORGANIZATIONS ON A PROJECT TO REGISTER CIVILIAN AMPUTEES AND PROVIDE THEM WITH PROSTHETIC DEVICES. THE CDH ALSO MAINTAINS A ROSTER SHOWING THE STATUS OF THOSE DETAINED BY SECURITY FORCES.

HOWEVER, THE LACK OF A CLEARLY DEFINED MISSION HAS LIMITED THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE GOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION. NEITHER PRESIDENT DUARTE NOR PRESIDENT CRISTIANI EVER APPOINTED THE FIVE MEMBER EXECUTIVE BOARD THAT IS SUPPOSED TO GUIDE ITS WORK AND GIVE IT THE NECESSARY POLITICAL SUPPORT. NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS VIEW IT AS A PUBLIC RELATIONS BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT WITH NO REAL ROLE IN MONITORING OR REPORTING ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION. THE CDH CONTRIBUTES TO THIS VIEW BY EMPHASIZING EDUCATIONAL AND PROMOTIONAL WORK DEFENDING THE GOVERNMENT'S IMAGE. LACKING STRONG GUIDANCE AND POLITICAL SUPPORT, THE CDH FAILS TO EMPHASIZE THE INVESTIGATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. THE LUTHERAN CHURCH, THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INDIGENOUS PERSONS (ANIS), MANY LABOR UNIONS, UNIVERSITIES, AND OTHER NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS ALSO HAVE HUMAN RIGHTS AND LEGAL ASSISTANCE OFFICES. GUERRILLA DEFECTORS AND CAPTURED DOCUMENTS SHOW THAT SEVERAL GROUPS THAT ARE OSTENSIBLY INDEPENDENT HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS ARE CONTROLLED BY THE FMLN. THESE INCLUDE THE NONGOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION OF EL SALVADOR (CDHES), THE FEDERATION OF COMMITTEES OF MOTHERS AND FAMILIES (FECMAFAM), AND THE COMMITTEE OF MOTHERS OF POLITICAL PRISONERS, DISAPPEARED AND ASSASSINATED OF EL SALVADOR (COMADRES). NOTWITHSTANDING THIS LINK, THEY OPERATE WITHOUT GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE AND REGULARLY PUBLICIZE THEIR VIEWS IN THE LOCAL MEDIA. THESE GROUPS REPORT ONLY ON ALLEGED ABUSES BY GOVERNMENT FORCES AND DO NOT INVESTIGATE, RECORD, OR EVEN ACKNOWLEDGE HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES COMMITTED BY THE FMLN. FMLN LEADERS HAVE PUBLICLY CREDITED WESTERN EUROPEAN AND U.S. "PEACE GROUP" NETWORKS WITH FUNDING THEIR STRUGGLE IN EL SALVADOR.

EL SALVADOR IS AN ETHNICALLY HOMOGENEOUS COUNTRY, THOUGH A SMALL SEGMENT OF THE POPULATION CLAIMS TO HAVE DESCENDED SOLELY FROM INDIGENOUS PEOPLES. A DISPUTE AT THE PORT OF ACAJUTLA CONTINUES, WITH WAGE INCREASES THE MAIN ISSUE; THE UNION AND MANAGEMENT CONTINUE TO NEGOTIATE, HOWEVER, AND THE PORT IS OPERATING NORMALLY. PUBLIC SECTOR WORKERS STAGED A SERIES OF WORK STOPPAGES DURING THE YEAR DEMANDING WAGE INCREASES. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI DECREED A 150 COLON WAGE INCREASE FOR PUBLIC WORKERS TO BE EFFECTIVE IN AUGUST BUT SPORADIC DISPUTES OVER PUBLIC SECTOR WAGES CONTINUE. THE ASSOCIATION OF WORKERS AT THE MINISTRY OF PUBLIC WORKS MAINTAINS THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT HONORED COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS INVOLVING COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS, AND CONTINUES TO STAGE LIMITED WORK STOPPAGES IN PROTEST. THE MINISTRY OF LABOR INTERVENED AS PROVIDED FOR BY LAW IN AN EFFORT TO RESOLVE THE DISPUTES, EVEN IN CASES INVOLVING ILLEGAL STRIKES. THE ABSENCE OF SPECIFIC LAWS GRANTING PUBLIC EMPLOYEES THE RIGHT TO STRIKE HAS NOT DETERRED SUCH

THE RIGHT OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS GRANTED IN ARTICLE 39 OF THE CONSTITUTION, AND ARTICLE 269 OF THE LABOR CODE. UNDER THE LABOR CODE, ONLY PRIVATE SECTOR WORKERS CAN EXERCISE THIS RIGHT, BUT THE CONSTITUTION IS INTEPRETED BROADLY TO PROVIDE ALL WORKERS THE RIGHT TO BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY.

THE MINISTRY OF LABOR TOOK PART IN THE NEGOTIATION OR ADAPTATION OF 137 COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS IN 1990. THE MINISTRY ALSO TOOK PART IN OVER 1500 INDIVIDUAL WORKER-MANAGEMENT COMPLAINTS WHICH RESULTED IN MANAGEMENT PAYING APPROXIMATELY 170,000 DOLLARS IN COMPENSATION TO EMPLOYEES. MORE COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS WERE SIGNED IN 1990 THAN IN 1989 AND COMPLAINTS AGAINST EMPLOYERS BROUGHT TO THE MINISTRY DECREASED (ALTHOUGH THE PERCENTAGE OF COMPLAINTS RESOLVED BY THE MINISTRY HAS ALSO FALLEN). PRIVATE SECTOR UNIONS USE THE MECHANISM OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING EXTENSIVELY AND A SIMILAR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING PRACTICE IS ALSO FOLLOWED, ALBEIT IN A MORE INFORMAL MANNER, BETWEEN PUBLIC EMPLOYEES AND THE GOVERNMENT.

THE DIRECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE (DGT) OF THE MINISTRY OF LABOR IS RESPONSIBLE FOR OVERSEEING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS AND ACTING AS CONCILIATOR IN LABOR-RELATED DISPUTES IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND AUTONOMOUS GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS.

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY AND THE LABOR MOVEMENT HAS IMPROVED SOMEWHAT, BUT A LARGE RESERVOIR OF DISTRUST REMAINS. LABOR LEADERS PERCEIVE THE CRISTIANI GOVERNMENT AS BEING ANTILABOR AND, AS BEFORE, BUSINESSMEN FREQUENTLY TAKE MEASURES TO

2 SUMMARY: AS TESTIMONY WINDS DOWN IN THE JESUIT CASE, LTC MANUEL RIVAS, DIRECTOR OF THE SIU TESTIFIED ON HIS INVESTIGATION OF THE JESUIT MURDERS. AS EXPECTED, RIVAS DENIED THAT BENAVIDES HAD EVER APPROACHED HIM TO CONFESS TO THE MURDERS AND ASK FOR HIS HELP IN A COVER-UP, AS SUGGESTED BY MAJ. ERIC BUCKLAND'S TESTIMONY. COLONELS PONCE AND CARILLO SCHLENKER HAVE INVOKED THEIR PRIVILEGE NOT TO APPEAR IN PERSON BEFORE THE JUDGE. THEY HAVE BOTH SUBMITTED REPLIES TO THE JUDGE'S QUESTIONNAIRES. NOTWITHSTANDING DELAYS OCCASIONED BY THE COLONELS' DECISION TO RELY ON WRITTEN INTERROGATORIES AND THE RECENT FLAP OVER ADDITIONAL BUCKLAND STATEMENTS, THE JUDGE IS COMMITTED TO WRAPPING UP THE INVESTIGATION IN THE NEXT TWO WEEKS. HE ANTICIPATES THAT THE TRIAL WILL BE OVER BEFORE MARCH 1991 TO AVOID THE MARCH ELECTIONS. END SUMMARY.

3. COL. MANUEL RIVAS TESTIFIED BEFORE JUDGE ZAMORA FOR SIX HOURS ON FRIDAY OCTOBER 19. ALTHOUGH THE LOCAL PRESS GENERATED SOME EXCITEMENT IN ANTICIPATION OF HIS TESTIMONY, RIVAS PROVIDED NO SURPRISES. HE DENIED THAT BENAVIDES CONFESSED TO THE CRIME AND ASKED FOR HIS HELP IN A COVER-UP, AS SUGGESTED BY THE TESTIMONY OF MAJOR ERIC BUCKLAND. HE RECOUNTED THE PROGRESS OF THE EARLY INVESTIGATION AND CONCLUDED THAT THE CASE WAS BROKEN BASED ON INCONSISTENCIES IN THE EXTRA-JUDICIAL STATEMENTS OF THE ATLACATL COMMANDOS.

4. CONVERSELY, MOD RENE EMILIO PONCE MADE CLEAR HIS INTENTION NOT TO TESTIFY IN PERSON BY SUBMITTING HIS ANSWERS TO THE JUDGE'S MOST RECENT QUESTIONNAIRE. IN A CONVERSATION WITH EMBOFF, PONCE MAINTAINED THAT HE FEARS A SET-UP. HE CLAIMS THAT THE COURT IS

SAN SA 14735 00 OF 02 3121292 028239 S058960

CONTROLLED BY HIS POLITICAL RIVALS AND THAT HE COULD GET TRICKED INTO GIVING FALSE OR CONTRADICTORY ANSWERS. TO DATE, NO AMOUNT OF PERSUASION HAS MOVED HIM FROM THIS POSITION. COMMENT: JUDGE ZAMORA, ON THE OTHER HAND, IS EAGER FOR PONCE TO COME IN PERSON. HE TOLD EMBOFFS THAT HE THINKS THAT THE MOD IS SENDING A NEGATIVE SIGNAL FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN EL SALVADOR AND INSISTS THAT HIS INTERESTS ARE RESTRICTED TO THE CHAIN OF COMMAND AND TECHNICAL ASPECTS OF THE CASE INVOLVING MILITARY PROCEDURE.

5. NINE COLONELS AND THREE LIEUTENANT COLONELS HAVE NOW TESTIFIED IN PERSON. IN ADDITION TO PONCE, COL. JUAN CARLOS CARILLO SCHLENKER, DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE NATIONAL GUARD, TANDONA CLASSMATE AND ONE OF GUILLERMO BENAVIDES' CLOSEST FRIENDS HAS ALSO OPTED TO TESTIFY VIA WRITTEN INTERROGATORY. BY THE TIME CARILLO SCHLENKER WAS CALLED TO TESTIFY, JUDGE ZAMORA HAD QUIT SENDING QUESTIONNAIRES TO THE COLONELS, SIMPLY ASSUMING THEY WOULD APPEAR IN PERSON. IN ORDER TO SEND A WRITTEN RESPONSE, CARILLO HAD TO BORROW ONE OF THE EARLY QUESTIONNAIRES SENT TO A COLLEAGUE. IT HAS BEEN RUMORED THAT ALL REMAINING COLONELS WILL ALSO REFUSE TO TESTIFY IN PERSON, BUT JUDGE ZAMORA APPARENTLY HAS NO PLANS TO CALL ANYONE WHO MIGHT INVOKE THEIR PRIVILEGE NOT TO TESTIFY IN PERSON BEFORE HE CLOSES THE INVESTIGATION STAGE OF THE CASE AND RAISES IT TO PLENARY.

6. NOTWITHSTANDING THE DELAY OCCASIONED BY PONCE'S REFUSAL TO APPEAR IN PERSON AND THE RECENT FLAP OVER MAJOR BUCKLAND'S JANUARY 11, 12 AND 18 STATEMENTS TO THE FBI, ZAMORA IS KEEPING TO HIS SCHEDULE AND PLANS TO CLOSE THE INVESTIGATION IN EARLY NOVEMBER. HE TOLD EMBOFFS THAT HE PLANS TO RECALL COL. CARLOS AVILES TO GIVE HIM AN ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY TO EXPLAIN MAJ. BUCKLAND'S TESTIMONY AND WILL TRADE ANOTHER INTERROGATORY WITH PONCE (AVILES MAY NOT INVOKE THE PRIVILEGE NOT TO TESTIFY IN PERSON BECAUSE, ALTHOUGH HE IS A COLONEL, HE HAS NO COMMAND RESPONSIBILITY IN

THE C-5). ZAMORA IS ADAMANT THAT THE CASE BE RESOLVED PRIOR TO THE CAMPAIGN FOR THE MARCH 1991 ELECTIONS. HE SAID THAT SALVADORAN ELECTIONS TEND TO INSPIRE NEW WAVES OF ALLEGATIONS AND FALSE WITNESSES IN IMPORTANT CASES. HE DOESN'T WANT THE JESUIT INVESTIGATION TO BE PART OF THAT CIRCUS.

2. COL. CARLOS ARMANDO AVILES TESTIFIED FOR THE SECOND TIME YESTERDAY (OCTOBER 31) BEFORE THE FOURTH PENAL COURT. ALTHOUGH HE ACKNOWLEDGED HIS ACQUAINTANCE WITH MAJ. ERIC BUCKLAND OF THE USMLGRP, HE DENIED THAT HE HAD TOLD BUCKLAND THAT COL. GUILLERMO BENAVIDES WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MURDERS. HE TOLD THE PRESS IN A POST-TESTIMONY STATEMENT THAT BUCKLAND IS UNSTABLE, UNBALANCED AND A LIAR. IN COLORFUL LANGUAGE, HE INVITED BUCKLAND TO SHED HIS DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY AND RETURN TO EL SALVADOR FOR A FACE TO FACE CONFRONTATION AND HE CONCLUDED BY SAYING THAT BUCKLAND HAS CAUSED HIM AND HIS FAMILY GREAT PAIN. AVILES ALSO BLAMED THE USG FOR ALLOWING BUCKLAND TO "PLAY WITH SWORN TESTIMONIES."

3. THE COURT ALSO ANNOUNCED TO THE PRESS YESTERDAY THAT JUDGE ZAMORA HAS URGED THE THE SUPREME COURT TO REQUEST A COPY OF THE VIDEOTAPE MADE ON JANUARY 12 OF MAJ. BUCKLAND'S DECLARATION AT FBI HEADQUARTERS. THE COURT STATEMENT IMPLIED THAT THE REQUEST WOULD BE MADE TO THE EMBASSY THROUGH DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS. POST HAS NOT YET RECEIVED THIS REQUEST.

4. JUDGE ZAMORA SPOKE TO EMBOFF AFTER AVILES' TESTIMONY. ALTHOUGH AVILES REVERSED AT LEAST PART OF HIS EARLIER TESTIMONY IN WHICH HE STATED THAT HE DID NOT KNOW MAJOR BUCKLAND, IT IS NOW CLEAR THAT THE JUDGE WILL NOT BE ABLE TO PRESSURE AVILES FOR MORE INFORMATION WITH THE THREAT OF PERJURY. BUCKLAND WAS NEVER A CENTRAL FIGURE IN THE CASE, BUT HIS RECANTED TESTIMONY HAS REDUCED HIM TO SIDESHOW STATUS. IN THE EYES OF THE COURT, HIS OFFICIAL DECLARATIONS ARE NO

MORE CREDIBLE THAN THE STATEMENTS OF COL. AVILES. JUDGE ZAMORA SAID THAT COL. AVILES WEPT THROUGH PARTS OF HIS TESTIMONY IN WHICH HE CLAIMED THAT BUCKLAND

HAD RUINED HIS MILITARY CAREER.

5. THE MILITARY ACADEMY LOGBOOK EXAMINED BY THE FBI FORENSIC LABORATORY HAS FINALLY SURFACED IN MEXICO CITY. POST HAS BEEN WAITING FOR THE RETURN OF THE LOGBOOK WITH THE LAB REPORT SINCE SEPTEMBER 1. IT IS UNCLEAR WHY THE BOOKS WERE SENT TO MEXICO CITY INSTEAD OF THIS POST. POST FEELS THAT THE JUDGE SHOULD INTENSIFY HIS INVESTIGATION INTO THE MISSING LOG BOOKS AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL, BUT IT IS DIFFICULT TO PRESSURE HIM ON THIS AND OTHER MATTERS, WHEN POST IS UNABLE TO COMPLY WITH HIS ONLY REQUEST--THE EXAMINATION OF THE LOGBOOK. JUDGE ZAMORA HAS REQUESTED THE RETURN OF THE BOOK NUMEROUS TIMES. POST IS PLEASED THAT IT CAN FINALLY REPORT ON ITS WHEREABOUTS. THE LAB REPORT, WHICH WAS REPORTEDLY COMPLETED IN AUGUST, WOULD ALSO BE EXTREMELY HELPFUL IN SHOWING OUR COOPERATION.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY'S DAILY ACTIVITY REPORT
ARA/CEN
November 1, 1990

EL SALVADOR

(S) Working Group Meeting: The GOES and FMLN have held working group meetings in Mexico which are supposed to be secret, although President Cristiani has discussed them in the media. The working groups were supposed to precede a formal, plenary round of negotiations, but the plenary round has been postponed indefinitely. The GOES and the FMLN have agreed to review a working paper on armed forces reform presented by UN mediator de Soto, which the GOES negotiators see as a step forward. "Secret/private" meetings will next be held in Caracas beginning around November 15, and de Soto will visit El Salvador and Mexico November 7-9 to discuss the military reform paper with the two sides. Despite earlier concerns, Salvadoran Ambassador to the UN Ricardo Casteneda feels reassured that there will not be a major guerrilla offensive before the next round of talks, although he is certain that "low level" military attacks will continue. (Mexico 29763, Mexico 29628, FBIS reports, FMRondon)

(C) Responses to Demarches on Support Group for El Salvador Peace Process: The Mexican Foreign Minister said that President Salinas is studying President Bush's letter encouraging the formation of a "friends of the Secretary General" group for the Salvadoran peace talks. The minister noted that Mexico has failed twice before in efforts to help resolve the Salvadoran conflict. The Spanish Foreign Ministry director general (assistant secretary equivalent) said that Prime Minister Gonzalez responded very positively to President Bush's letter and is eager to play a role in the peace process. Gonzales is, however, waiting for suggestions from Perez de Cuellar on what role the group should play. Both posts have full reporting cables on the way. Embassies Caracas and Bogota apparently did not receive the cable, so it has been re-transmitted. (telcons, FMRondon)

HONDURAS

(C) Callejas to Hold Symposium on Armed Forces: President Callejas told A/S Aronson that he will hold a symposium to discuss the role of the Honduran military with the objective of beginning the transition of the police to civilian control. He will form a joint civilian/military commission to discuss strategies and methods for making the changeover. There are no ideological barriers to civilianizing the police, Callejas said, but many practical (read economic) problems have to be overcome. (DLShuler)

(C) Callejas Supports Anti-Drug Role for JTF-B: Callejas told Aronson he hopes to change his neighbors' view of JTF-B from that of a base for the US military to a regional anti-drug center. The change in focus will both take the heat off of him to kick the US out of Soto Cano, and allow him to justify his expensive, underutilized F-5's. Callejas will make the proposal to CINC Cantarero upon his return from Washington (DLShuler)

(U) Bilateral Framework Agreement Signed: Commerce Minister Medina Luna and Acting USTR Katz signed a BFA today, the first between the US and a Central American country. Both commented that the treaty provided opportunities for expansion of investment and trade. (DLShuler)

COSTA RICA

(C) Margarita Penon = Evita Peron? Margarita Penon de Arias, wife of former President Oscar Arias, announced that she is running for the presidential nomination of the National Liberation Party. Her decision led Jose Maria Figueres, son of deceased legendary leader "Pepe" Figueres, to also throw his hat into the ring. Many doubt that Mrs. Arias' candidacy is anything more than a political ploy by her husband, but others caution that she may be a stronger candidate among the common people than the political class believes. (DLShuler, San Jose 12438)

GUATEMALA

(C) DEVINE MURDER: The six detained men are being polygraphed by the FBI. Update on results and case has been requested. (McCarthy)

(C) TALKS BETWEEN URNG, POPULAR, LABOR AND SMALL BUSINESS GROUPS: Press reports indicate that the meetings went well. The URNG, popular groups and labor unions issued a joint declaration expressing continued strong support for the Oslo Agreement, the need for economic and social development and calling for direct discussions between the URNG, the GOG and the Army. Permuth of CNR agreed to pass on to the URNG Mrs. Stoltzfuz's request for a guarantee that she and her family can return safely to Guatemala. (CEN COMMENT: It appears that the participating groups refrained from bashing the GOG and the Army. This should make it easier for Cerezo to go forth with his desire for an informal talk with the URNG before he leaves office. Just before leaving for Mexico, the URNG downed electricity towers near Guatemala City. They have not, however, disrupted election preparation procedures. We have not heard back from the URNG on our request for a guarantee to cease and desist from attacking U.S. citizens and property). (Guatemala 13111, 13221, DMcCarthy).

(LOU) DIPLOMATIC CORPS DIVIDED ON CONDEMNING VIOLENCE BUT UNITED IN PROTECTING THEIR PRIVILEGES: A resolution condemning electoral violence spear-headed by officers of the US and EC Embassies was shot down by the the Mexicans, Brazilians, Argentines, Hondurans, Chileans and Uruguayans. They stated that violence in the country is a traditional part of its culture and that the diplomatic corps should leave the host country nationals alone while they kill each other. The diplomatic corps did agree, however, to protest formally to the GOG the stopping and searching of diplomats by security forces. (CEN COMMENT: Security has been beefed up due to the violence and searches are more frequent in the capital). (Guatemala 13386, DMcCarthy)

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: CASC, PHUM, PREL, GT
SUBJECT: UPDATE ON THE DEVINE MURDER CASE

REF: GUATEMALA 10342

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: EMBOFFS MET WITH NATIONAL POLICE DEPUTY DIRECTOR AND WITH FLORES ZONE COMMANDER TO PRESS DEVINE MURDER INVESTIGATION. WE REQUESTED REPORTS ON THE INVESTIGATION INTO AN ACCIDENTAL MURDER THREE WEEKS PRIOR TO DEVINE'S WHICH MAY BE THE MOTIVE OF DEVINE'S KILLING. WE ALSO REQUESTED POLICE TO LOOK INTO THE OWNERSHIP OF A BLACK TAGLESS PICKUP TRUCK WHICH BRINGS FOOD REGULARLY TO THE FIVE MILITARY DETAINEES, AND PRESSED ORTEGA TO EFFECT THE QUESTIONING OF FORMER ZONE COMMANDER GARCIA CATALAN AND S-2 COMMANDER BOHR AVENDANO. [redacted] B5,B6 [redacted] FBI POLYGRAPHER ARRIVED TO BEGIN EXAMINATIONS OF THE SIX DETAINEES.

3. FOLLOW-UP WITH NATIONAL POLICE

ON OCTOBER 24, CG TOGETHER WITH PRIVATE INVESTIGATOR CARL WEST AND CAROLE DEVINE'S ATTORNEY ENRIQUE GONZALEZ CALLED ON NATIONAL POLICE DEPUTY DIRECTOR COL. OLIVA BLANCO REGARDING THE DEVINE MURDER INVESTIGATION. WE THANKED HIM FOR THE POLICE'S PROMPT ACTION IN ARRESTING CIVILIAN AUGUSTIN ESQUIVEL HERNANDEZ, ONCE THEY HAD BEEN INFORMED OF HIS WHEREABOUTS. WE ALSO URGED ACTION IN LOCATING AND ARRESTING RICARDO GUZMAN, THE OTHER CIVILIAN FOR WHOM AN ARREST WARRANT HAS BEEN ISSUED, AND PROVIDED INFO ON WHERE HE HAD ALLEGEDLY BEEN SEEN LATELY. THE MAIN PURPOSE OF THE MEETING WAS TO SEEK NATIONAL POLICE ASSISTANCE IN TWO MATTERS:

-- WHILE VISITING THE FLORES PRISON SEVERAL DAYS PREVIOUSLY, WEST AND GONZALEZ NOTED A BLACK PICKUP TRUCK WITHOUT LICENSE TAGS PARKED OUTSIDE THE PRISON. PRISON GUARDS INFORMED THEM THAT THE TRUCK CAME TWICE A DAY TO BRING FOOD TO THE FIVE MILITARY DETAINEES. WEST PHOTOGRAPHED THE TRUCK, AND PRESENTED COPIES TO OLIVA BLANCO WITH THE REQUEST THAT THE NATIONAL POLICE IN FLORES STOP THE TRUCK (WHICH MUST PASS DIRECTLY IN FRONT OF THE POLICE STATION ON ITS WAY FROM THE BASE TO THE JAIL) AND INVESTIGATE WHY IT HAS NO TAGS. IF IT CAN BE ESTABLISHED THAT IT BELONGS TO THE BASE, IT WOULD CORROBORATE THE FACT THAT THE BASE UTILIZES TAGLESS VEHICLES WHICH MAY NOT APPEAR ON ITS OFFICIAL INVENTORY. OLIVA BLANCO EXPRESSED INTEREST IN THE MATTER, BUT MADE NO COMMITMENTS.

-- WEST PASSED ON BASIC FACTS AND REQUESTED ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING THE ACCIDENTAL MURDER OF AN 18-YEAR-OLD WAITRESS IN A CAFE ADJACENT TO DEVINE'S RESTAURANT IN POPTUN ON MAY 19. THE WAITRESS WAS KILLED IN FRONT OF MANY WITNESSES, BY A SERGEANT WHO WAS REPORTEDLY PLAYING WITH THE GUN OF THE LIEUTENANT DRINKING WITH HIM IN THE CAFE. BOTH MILITARY MEN FLED FROM THE SCENE. ON THE WAY OUT THE GUN WAS TAKEN BY A "GRINGO" TOURIST, WHO TURNED IT OVER TO THE POLICE. IT WAS SUBSEQUENTLY RETURNED TO THE LIEUTENANT. IT IS BELIEVED THAT MICHAEL DEVINE WAS A WITNESS TO THE ESCAPE OF THE TWO MILITARY PERSONS, AND MAY HAVE MADE A COMMENT TO THE EFFECT "YOU WILL HAVE TO PAY FOR THIS." THIS COULD PROVIDE A MOTIVE FOR HIS MURDER -- THE TIMING OF THE INCIDENT COINCIDES WITH DEVINE'S CHANGE OF MOOD AND HIS UNPRECEDENTED TALK ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY OF HIS BEING KILLED.

4. FOLLOW-UP WITH MILITARY

ON OCTOBER 25, CG MET IN GUATEMALA CITY WITH ZONE COMMANDER COL. ORTEGA, INVESTIGATOR AND JUDGE IN THE DEVINE MURDER CASE. HE PROVIDED THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

-- PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE FIVE MILITARY PEOPLE WHO ARE NOW DETAINED IN THE CIVILIAN PRISON IN FLORES, TOGETHER WITH PHOTOGRAPHS OF ALL MEMBERS OF THE S-2 IN FLORES. [redacted] B5,B6

-- ORTEGA SAID THAT IT HAD BEEN CONFIRMED THAT THE CARBAGE FOUND NEAR WHERE THE WHITE PICKUP TRUCK WAS SEEN WAITING FOR DEVINE ON THE DAY OF HIS KIDNAPPING IS OF THE TYPE USED IN ARMY RATIONS. THIS STATEMENT NOW FORMS PART OF THE JUDICIAL RECORD.

-- ORTEGA CONFIRMED HE WOULD PROVIDE ALL POSSIBLE ASSISTANCE TO THE FBI POLYGRAPH EXPERT.

5. CG RAISED THE UNDUE DELAY IN QUESTIONING THE PREVIOUS ZONE COMMANDER, COL. GARCIA CATALAN. CG ALSO PUSHED FOR THE QUESTIONING OF A CAPT. BOHR AVENDANO, ABOUT WHOM THE EMBASSY RECEIVED AN ANONYMOUS TELEPHONE CALL ON OCTOBER 2 ALLEGING HIS INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER. (EMBASSY HAD SUBSEQUENTLY LEARNED THAT BOHR AVENDANO WAS THE NUMBER 2 IN THE S-2 BUT WAS IN FACT IN CHARGE AT THE TIME OF DEVINE'S MURDER BECAUSE THE HEAD OF S-2, MAJOR PAIZ, WAS ON VACATION THEN.) BOHR AVENDANO HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO

6. CG ALSO URGED ORTEGA TO TAKE AN OFFICIAL DECLARATION OF CARLOS ZELADA ARCUETA, WHO IS AN ACTIVE DUTY MILITARY ON THE FLORES BASE AND WHOSE NAME IS SO SIMILAR TO ONE OF THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THERE IS AN ARREST WARRANT (CARLOS ZELADA MONROY). HE SAID THIS WOULD BE DONE.

7. FBI POLYGRAPH

FBI SPANISH-SPEAKING POLYGRAPH EXPERT, [redacted] B6
ARRIVED IN GUATEMALA ON OCTOBER 27. HE GOT BRIEFED ON BACKGROUND OF THE CASE BY PRIVATE INVESTIGATOR CARL WEST AND MET WITH EMBASSY OFFICIALS, INCLUDING PAO, ON OCTOBER 29 TO DISCUSS BACKGROUND AND PARAMETERS OF THE TESTING. [redacted] B6 SHOWED EMBOFFS A SAMPLE OF THE FORM, IN SPANISH, THAT PEOPLE TO BE TESTED MUST SIGN PRIOR TO THE EXAMINATION. THE FORM CLEARLY STATES THAT THE SUBJECT UNDERSTANDS THE NATURE OF THE TEST, HAS NOT BEEN PRESSURED TO TAKE IT, AND TAKES IT VOLUNTARILY.

8. WE ALSO DISCUSSED, WITH THE ATTORNEY, HOW RESULTS OF THE TESTS WOULD BE INCORPORATED INTO THE JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS. WE ALL AGREED THAT WE WOULD ASK THAT [redacted] B6 BE CALLED BY THE JUDGE (I.E., ORTEGA) AS AN EXPERT, A PROCEDURE PERMITTED IN GUATEMALAN LAW. RESULTS OF THE TESTS, ONCE RETURNED TO THE EMBASSY BY FBI HEADQUARTERS FOLLOWING QUALITY CONTROL PROCEDURES (A PROCESS EXPECTED TO TAKE ABOUT TEN DAYS) CAN THEN BE PROVIDED DIRECTLY TO ORTEGA TO BECOME PART OF THE RECORD.

ADMINISTERED RIOS LEFT HIS SUPPORTERS CONFUSED AND ADRIFT; HE REFUSED TO ENDORSE ANOTHER CANDIDATE AND ASKED BACKERS TO TURN IN NULL BALLOTS. CABRERA'S DEPARTURE RAISED COMPLEX LEGAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES REGARDING THE POSSIBLE FATE OF THE DC TICKET.

2. OCTOBER SAW A RISE IN VIOLENCE AGAINST POLITICIANS, JOURNALISTS, AND MEMBERS OF THE MOSTLY INDIGENOUS, ANTI-MILITARY CERJ; IT SEEMED TO COME FROM RIGHTWING EXTREMISTS AND PERSONS IN THE SECURITY FORCES (SEVERAL NEW CERJ CASES ARE LISTED IN THIS MESSAGE WHICH SHOULD BE INCORPORATED INTO THE 1990 COUNTRY HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT). SOME PROGRESS WAS MADE IN RESOLVING THE JUNE MURDER OF AMCIT MICHAEL DEVINE: A CIVILIAN THOUGHT INVOLVED IN THE CRIME WAS DETAINED, MAKING SIX (INCLUDING FIVE SOLDIERS) HELD FOR THE KILLING. DESPITE CNR-BACKED PEACE TALKS IN PUEBLA, MEXICO BETWEEN THE "POPULAR SECTOR"--LABOR, "HUMAN RIGHTS" GROUPS, AND SMALL BUSINESSMEN--AND MEXICO-BASED URNG GUERRILLA COMMANDERS, INSURGENTS DOWNED ELECTRICAL PYLONS AND KEPT UP ACTIVITIES IN QUICHE AND HUEHUETENANGO. THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN CRITICIZED URNG ACTIONS.

3. AN AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL (AI) DELEGATION VISITED GUATEMALA MEETING GOG OFFICIALS, FOREIGN DIPLOMATS, AND LOCAL ACTIVISTS. AI ISSUED A STATEMENT CRITICIZING THE GOG'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD AND URGING THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES TO COMMIT THEMSELVES TO BETTER THAT RECORD. CONGRESS PASSED AN ELECTION-DRIVEN LABOR LAW WHICH COULD HAVE DIRE CONSEQUENCES FOR THE ALREADY WEAK ECONOMY AND FUEL EVEN MORE GOG CORRUPTION. AS OCTOBER ENDED, CONGRESS DEBATED A LAW TO RESTRICT TV CABLE COMPANIES; CABLE OPERATORS CLAIMED FREEDOM OF SPEECH IS AT STAKE.

4. THREE MEMBERS OF CERJ WERE REPORTED KIDNAPPED: JOSE PEDRO TIU, OCTOBER 2 IN TOTONICAPAN, SEBASTIAN VELASQUEZ MEJIA, OCTOBER 6 IN QUICHE (SEE "DISAPPEARANCES), AND MATEO SARAT IXCOY, OCTOBER 29 ALSO IN QUICHE. TIU'S BODY APPEARED ON THE 5TH. TIU'S FATHER, ALSO A CERJ MEMBER, DISAPPEARED JULY 1989. NO ONE WAS ARRESTED FOR

TIU'S DEATH; POLICE CLAIMED TO BE INVESTIGATING. IXCOY'S BODY WAS FOUND SOON AFTER HIS REPORTED DISAPPEARANCE; HE WAS REPORTEDLY STABBED AND HACKED TO DEATH. THERE WAS NO FURTHER INFORMATION ON THIS KILLING.

5. THE PRESS REPORTED THAT ON OCTOBER 9, IN THREE SEPARATE INCIDENTS IN SOLOLA, MEN IN "OLIVE GREEN UNIFORMS" ALLEGEDLY KILLED SALVADOR ROQUE GONZALEZ,

6. ON THE 15TH, IN SEPARATE INCIDENTS, TWO MODERATE LEFTISTS WERE KILLED. VICTOR HUMBERTO GONZALEZ GAMARRA, CO-OWNER OF A RADIO STATION CHAIN AND AN ACTIVIST IN THE URD (DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTIONARY UNION), WAS MURDERED IN THE PRESENCE OF HIS MINOR SON BY A GUNMAN IN GUATEMALA CITY. WHILE THERE WAS EVIDENCE (PARA 7) OF RIGHTWING INVOLVEMENT IN THIS CRIME, SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT IN THE KILLING CANNOT BE RULED OUT. GONZALEZ'S FATHER WAS KILLED IN THE 1970'S. CARLOS OSMIN RAMIREZ CRUZ, SECRETARY-GENERAL FOR THE SANTA ROSA DEPARTMENT BRANCH OF THE PSD (DEMOCRATIC SOCIALIST PARTY), WAS SHOT IN

CUILAPA. RAMIREZ HAD BELONGED TO THE GOVERNING DC (CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT) PARTY BUT LEFT TO SUPPORT DC DISSIDENT RENE DE LEON'S PRESIDENTIAL BID.

7. ON OCTOBER 17, TWO ALTERNATE CANDIDATES FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT FOR THE RIGHTWING MLN (NATIONAL LIBERATION MOVEMENT), FERNANDO SANDOVAL AND CARLOS HUMBERTO MAUDY, SHOT AND KILLED TWO YOUNG MOTORCYCLE RIDERS IN GUATEMALA CITY. SANDOVAL AND MAUDY CLAIMED THE MEN TRIED TO ASSASSINATE THEM; THEY POINTED OUT THAT SANDOVAL'S CAR HAD A BULLET HOLE IN ITS REAR WINDOW AND ONE OF THE DEAD YOUTHS HAD A .38 REVOLVER. A PRELIMINARY POLICE INVESTIGATION CAST DOUBT ON THE ASSASSINATION CLAIM AND INDICATED THE MLN MEMBERS, WHO HAVE LEGAL IMMUNITY DUE TO THEIR STATUS AS CANDIDATES, TURNED A MINOR TRAFFIC ACCIDENT INTO A SHOOTING AFFAIR. THE HOLE IN THE WINDOW WAS CAUSED BY A GUN FIRED INSIDE THE CAR. THERE WERE CONFLICTING ACCOUNTS OF HOW THE REVOLVER APPEARED AT THE SCENE OF THE SHOOTING. A PARAFIN TEST REVEALED THAT NEITHER OF THE DEAD YOUTHS

HAD FIRED A WEAPON. ACCORDING TO A BALLISTICS TEST, THE GUN, WHICH HAD NOT BEEN FIRED IN THE INCIDENT, WAS THE ONE THAT KILLED GONZALEZ GAMARRA.

8. GAM (MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP) CLAIMED THAT ON THE 20TH, TEACHER ORLANDO ESTUARDO ALVARADO MORALES WAS KIDNAPPED IN THE CAPITAL NEAR A DEMONSTRATION COMMEMORATING THE 1944 OVERTHROW OF GENERAL UBICO. ON OCTOBER 31, HIS BODY WAS FOUND ON THE SHORE OF LAKE AMATITLAN, ABOUT 20 KMS. FROM THE CAPITAL. ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS, HE HAD APPARENTLY BEEN TORTURED. ACCORDING TO GAM,

[redacted]

ALVARADO HAD NO POLITICAL INVOLVEMENTS OF ANY SORT AND WAS NOT PARTICIPATING IN THE DEMONSTRATION. HIS BROTHER HAD BEEN KIDNAPPED AND KILLED SEVERAL YEARS AGO IN A CASE THAT STILL REMAINS UNSOLVED. ALVARADO MAY HAVE BEEN A MEMBER OF THE HISTORY AND ANTHROPOLGY PROFESSORS UNION.

9. IN GUATEMALA CITY, OCTOBER 26, WHILE DRIVING HIS CAR, BYRON BARRERA, VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE LEFT-OF-CENTER APG (GUATEMALAN JOURNALISTS ASSOCIATION) WAS SHOT SEVERAL TIMES BY A MAN ON A MOTORCYCLE. BARRERA, WEARING A BULLET-PROOF VEST, WAS SERIOUSLY HURT BUT SURVIVED. HIS WIFE, WITH HIM IN THE CAR, WAS HIT AND KILLED. BARRERA PREVIOUSLY LEFT GUATEMALA AFTER THE APRIL 1988 BURNING OF THE OFFICES OF HIS MAGAZINE "LA EPOCA." ON HIS RETURN FROM EXILE, BARRERA SET UP, APPARENTLY WITH EUROPEAN FUNDS, A WIRE SERVICE, ACEN-SIAG. GIVEN THE BELIEF AMONG SOME MILITARY THAT ACEN-SIAG IS A GUERRILLA-FRONT ORGANIZATION SIMILAR TO CERIGUA, ONE CANNOT DISMISS THE POSSIBILITY OF SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT IN THE ATTACK.

10. POLICE ARRESTED A SIXTH INDIVIDUAL IN CONNECTION WITH THE JUNE MURDER OF LONG-TIME RESIDENT AMCIT BUSINESSMAN MICHAEL DEVINE. UNLIKE THE PREVIOUS FIVE DETAINEES, THIS SUSPECT IS A CIVILIAN.

11. CERJ MEMBER SEBASTIAN VELASQUEZ MEJIA DISAPPEARED OCTOBER 6 (PARA 4); AS THE MONTH ENDED, HE HAD NOT BEEN FOUND. THE US AMBASSADOR RAISED THE CASE WITH PRESIDENT CEREZO. CERJ ALSO DENOUNCED THE DISAPPEARANCE OF MARIA TOJIN GARCIA AND HER ONE MONTH OLD BABY DAUGHTER, MARIA JESFA, IN NEBAJ. ACCORDING TO CERJ, TOJIN HAD BEEN AMONG A GROUP OF PERSONS RESTTLED BY THE ARMY FROM CONFLICTIVE AMACHEL TO NEBAJ. ACCORDING TO WITNESSES CITED BY CERJ, ONCE IN THE CAMP NEAR NEBAJ, SOLDIERS TOOK HER AWAY, WITH HER DAUGHTER, FOR SUSPICION OF BEING A GUERRILLA SUPPORTER.

12. ANOTHER ROUND OF INFORMAL PEACE TALKS TOOK PLACE IN PUEBLA, MEXICO. THIS ROUND WAS BETWEEN REPRESENTATIVES OF GUATEMALA'S "POPULAR" AND LABOR SECTOR AND THE URNG (GUATEMALA NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY) GUERRILLA COMMANDERS. THE TWO SIDES SIGNED A COMMUNIQUE URGING THE ARMY AND GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE THE DIALOGUE PROCESS, OPENING TALKS WITH THE URNG. PRELIMINARY REPORTS INDICATE THE TALKS WENT WITHOUT ANY SURPRISES. SEVERAL PARTICIPANTS EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT THEIR SAFETY UPON RETURNING TO GUATEMALA.

13. DESPITE THE TALKS, PRIOR PROMISES, AND REQUESTS FROM THE "POPULAR" SECTOR TO DESIST, THE URNG CONTINUED ITS POLICY OF ECONOMIC SABOTAGE. THROUGHOUT OCTOBER, POWER LINES WERE DOWNED IN VARIOUS PARTS OF GUATEMALA, PARTICULARLY IN HUEHUETENANGO DEPARTMENT. THE URNG CLAIMED THAT DESTRUCTION OF THE LINES HURT THE MILITARY AS IT DIVERTED RESOURCES TO REPAIRING THE ELECTRICAL NET THAT OTHERWISE WOULD HAVE GONE INTO WAR MATERIEL. (COMMENT: THE ARGUMENT IS FALSE; REPAIRS ARE PAID FOR BY RAISING ELECTRICAL RATES FOR CONSUMERS.) THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN ISSUED A STATEMENT CRITICIZING THE GUERRILLAS FOR THEIR CONTINUED USE OF ECONOMIC WARFARE WHICH HURTS THE COMMON PEOPLE. URNG PAMPHLET BOMBS ALSO DETONATED IN THE CAPITAL.

FREEDOM OF RELIGION

15. A PROMINENT MEMBER OF GUATEMALA'S SMALL JEWISH COMMUNITY TOLD POLOFFS THAT FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MEMORY, ANTI-SEMITIC INCIDENTS HAVE BEEN RECORDED HERE. A MONUMENT, IN THE JEWISH CEMETERY, TO THE VICTIMS OF THE NAZIS AND ONE OF THE TWO SYNAGOGUES IN THE CAPITAL WERE DEFILED WITH SWASTIKAS. OUR SOURCE THOUGHT THE CULPRITS BELONG TO GUATEMALA'S GROWING PALESTINIAN ARAB COMMUNITY WHO WERE RESPONDING TO NEWS OF ISRAELI POLICE KILLING ARAB PROTESTORS IN JERUSALEM. HE SAID THE GOG HAS RESPONDED WELL TO JEWISH SAFETY CONCERNS.

RIOS, HOWEVER, LOST HIS LONG LEGAL FIGHT TO RUN WHEN THE SUPREME COURT AND THE COURT OF CONSTITUTIONALITY UPHELD THE DECISION BY THE SUPREME ELECTORAL TRIBUNAL TO DENY HIM INSCRIPTION AS A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE. THE COURTS BASED THEIR RULING ON CONSTITUTIONAL ARTICLE 186 WHICH

THE DELEGATION MET FOREIGN DIPLOMATS, GOG OFFICIALS, AND LOCAL ACTIVISTS AND HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE AT THE END OF ITS VISIT. THE DELEGATION ISSUED A STATEMENT CRITICAL OF THE GOG'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD AND CALLED UPON THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES TO COMMIT THEMSELVES PUBLICLY TO DEFENDING HUMAN RIGHTS. THE AI RELEASE CAUSED SOMETHING OF A TEMPEST. IT CITED DEPUTY HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ BLAMING THE ARMY AND THE POLICE FOR THE MAJORITY OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN GUATEMALA; ALVAREZ HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE IN WHICH HE ANGRILY DENIED EVER SPEAKING TO THE AI DELEGATION. (COMMENT: ALVAREZ HAS TOLD US MANY TIMES HE AND THE OMBUDSMAN CONSIDER THE SECURITY FORCES THE MAIN VIOLATORS OF HUMAN RIGHTS; HE HAS HELD PRESS CONFERENCES STATING THIS. HIS IRRITATION WITH AI SEEMS TO COME FROM THE WAY THE RELEASE GIVES THE IMPRESSION THE DELEGATION SPOKE WITH ALVAREZ, WHICH IT DID NOT.)

(C) GON Grants Pan Am Miami-Managua Route: The GON provided the Embassy with a copy of its "Certificate of Exploitation" granting Pan Am rights to the Miami-Managua route Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, valid through April 29, 1991. The GON said Pan Am could begin to use the route as early as November 15. Pan Am has yet to notify the Embassy or make a public announcement. (TWSmith, Managua 7535)

(C) Four Pro-GON Labor Unions to Merge: The four centrals comprising the pro-GON labor congress CPT are planning to merge into one confederation. A CPT delegation is travelling to Caracas to meet with the staff of the Confederacion de Trabajadores Venezolanos, which CPT sees as a possible model for their merger. With AIFLD help, CUS is the driving force behind merger plans. The other unions in CPT seem to accept the merger as a practical necessity. (TWSmith, Managua 7528)

(C) CIAV and Resistance Repatriation: CIAV-UN representative Francisco Manca reported that CIAV-UN Honduras intends to repatriate the approximately 2,500 individuals who desire it before closing up shop in December. The figure of 2,500 is based on food distribution statistics. He said that his office thinks sufficient funding remains to cover the provision of foodstuffs to the 2,500, even if they receive four rather than two month's rations. CIAV-OAS is less sure that only 2,500 individuals remain, and believes that many have not reported for food distribution because they are otherwise engaged, e.g. in the Honduran coffee harvest. They expect a rush to repatriate in December following the close of the coffee harvest and the school term. (TWSmith, Managua 7455)

(C) Letter to SYG on ONUCA to be Sent by ForMin: President Callejas' order to Amb. Hernandez (made during his meeting with A/S Aronson) that a letter be sent indicating GOH support for a strengthened ONUCA will be handled by the Foreign Ministry. Ambassador Hernandez felt that ForMin Carias should be kept in the loop. Embassy Tegucigalpa has been asked to ensure that the letter is delivered in time to be entered into the ONUCA debate which begins Monday, November 5. (DLShuler)

(C) Meeting Held on Customs P-3 Basing: A working-level meeting of ARA/CEN, INM, and L was held today to explore State's response to Callejas' mentioning using Honduras' F-5's in anti-narcotics. The meeting focused on: 1) availability of additional funding to support the F-5's and other HOAF aircraft; 2) P-3 crew addition in light of PCC results and; 3) legal issues, such as shootdown policy and hot pursuit agreements. A memorandum on the issues is being prepared. (DLShuler)

(S) CABRERA OK: Cabrera is still in Houston. His condition (pancreatitis) is improving but he may not be able to return before the election. (DMcCarthy).

(LOU) Quayle Declines Invitation to CBI Conference: The White House today confirmed that Vice President Quayle will not attend the December 1-4 conference in Miami. (DLShuler)

(C) Central American FonMins on Integration, Zone of Peace, and Salinas' Delicate Question. The Central American FonMins discussed a basket of topics in their ExCom meeting in Tegucigalpa on October 29-30. They attempted to make the ExCom the political verification committee for Esquipulas, thus defining its role vice the periodic meetings of vice-presidents and economics ministers. They failed to convince El Salvador of the need for such a body. They supported ONUCA renewal and called for an end to violence (not cease-fire) in El Salvador. A novel idea discussed is the possibility of joint Central American missions to some European countries. The Nicaraguan zone of peace idea is now on the Puntarenas agenda. Additional Central American summit topics include economic integration, CABEI, and the need for coordination with EAI. Salinas offered to whisk Central American presidents away to Mexico for a December 17 meeting, but he does not want Endara in the party. Nevertheless, the Foreign Ministers are inclined to insist Panama "define" its relationship with Central Americans in the Esquipulas framework. (San Jose 12598 & 12607, Walser)

CONFORMITY WITH THE POLYGRAPH RESULTS, IT ISN'T LIKELY THAT THE FIVE DETAINEES WILL BE RELEASED UNTIL AFTER NOVEMBER 12 WHEN A LINE-UP IDENTIFICATION WILL TAKE PLACE. WEST AND GONZALEZ ALSO INDICATE THAT THERE IS, TO THEIR KNOWLEDGE, INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO CONVICT FABIAN AREVALO. IT SEEMS LIKELY, THEREFORE, THAT THE CHARGES AGAINST HIM WILL ALSO, AT SOME POINT, BE DISMISSED UNLESS ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE IS UNCOVERED.

6. COMMENT. OBVIOUSLY, THE POLYGRAPH RESULTS MUDDLE THE CASE AND WILL BOG DOWN THE INVESTIGATION. AT WORSE, THEY CAST DOUBT ON THE CREDIBILITY OF THE WITNESSES CARL WEST HAS LOCATED: SEVERAL OF THESE PEOPLE ARE READY TO ID THE POLYGRAPH-EXONERATED SUSPECTS AS HAVING BEEN PRINCIPLES IN THE COMMISSION OF THE CRIME. ON THE OTHER HAND, THE RESULTS MAY SERVE TO RE-ORIENT THE INVESTIGATION INTO AREAS THAT WILL YIELD EVIDENCE THAT WILL ALLOW DEVINE'S REAL MURDERERS TO BE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE. STROOCK

Chile — Caution

Chile - Caution
November 17, 1990

The Department of State recommends that Americans exercise caution when traveling in Chile. A serious bombing incident took place November 17 in circumstances suggesting it may have been aimed at the United States. Although Americans can expect to visit Chile without incident, they should be aware of the present risk of attending events identified with the United States.

Upon arrival, U.S. citizens should seek the latest travel information and register with the consular section of the U.S. Embassy in Santiago, located at 230 Merced, tel. 710-133.

Expiration: December 15, 1990.

ERIC BUCKLAND'S DECLARATION ON JANUARY 12, 1990. THE REQUEST IS NO SURPRISE; JUDGE ZAMORA ANNOUNCED THREE WEEKS AGO THAT HE WOULD REQUEST THE VIDEOTAPE THROUGH OFFICIAL CHANNELS. THE DIPLOMATIC NOTE IS ACCOMPANIED BY A LETTER, DATED OCTOBER 31, 1990, AND SIGNED BY THE ENTIRE SUPREME COURT REQUESTING THE PROMPT DELIVERY OF THE TAPE TO THE FOURTH PENAL COURT JUDGE.

3. (U) AN UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION OF THE DIPLOMATIC NOTE FOLLOWS: "THE DIRECTOR OF PROTOCOL OF THE MINISTRY OF FOREIGN RELATIONS RESPECTFULLY SALUTES THE HONORABLE AMBASSADOR OF THE UNITED STATES, AND ON THIS OCCASION ATTACHES PHOTOSTATIC COPIES OF THE DOCUMENTS WHICH WERE SENT TO THIS OFFICE BY THE HONORABLE SUPREME COURT OF JUSTICE, AND WHICH REQUEST THAT THE VIDEOCASSETTE CONTAINING THE INTERVIEW OF US MAJOR ERIC WARREN BUCKLAND REGARDING THE ASSASSINATION OF THE JESUIT PRIESTS AND OTHER PERSONS, BE PLACED AT THE DISPOSITION OF THE FOURTH PENAL COURT JUDGE (OF SAN SALVADOR).

CLEARLY WE SHOULD COOPERATE WITH THE REQUEST IN SOME FASHION. IF DEPARTMENT CONCLUDES THAT POST SHOULD NOT SURRENDER A COPY OF THE TAPE TO THE COURT, POST SUGGESTS THE FOLLOWING: 1. WE ARRANGE A VIEWING OF THE TAPE FOR THE JUDGE, PROSECUTORS AND DEFENSE ATTORNEYS, WITH A SIMULTANEOUS TRANSLATION AND 2. WE PROVIDE A SPANISH TRANSCRIPT OF THE TAPE. THESE TWO ACTIONS IN CONCERT SHOULD SATISFY OUR REQUIREMENT TO COOPERATE IN THE INVESTIGATION, WHILE NOT LOSING CONTROL OVER THE TAPE.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PINS, PHUM, PGOV, PREL, ES
SUBJECT: ARONSON - ZAMORA MEETING ON 15 NOVEMBER

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: CONVERGENCIA DEMOCRATICA LEADER RUBEN ZAMORA CALLED ON A/S ARONSON ON NOVEMBER 16 TO DISCUSS THE OUTLOOK FOR THE MARCH ELECTIONS AND THE STATUS OF THE GOES/FMLN NEGOTIATIONS. DAS SULLIVAN, ARA/CEN DEPUTY DIRECTOR PEREZ, AND DESKOFF ROBINSON PARTICIPATED IN THE MEETING. ZAMORA SAID IT IS POSSIBLE THE OPPOSITION WILL WIN THE MARCH ELECTIONS IF THE LEVEL OF FEAR IN THE COUNTRY IS REDUCED. HE ALSO SAID IT IS NOT LIKELY THE FMLN WILL ACCEPT A CEASEFIRE IN THE NEAR TERM. END SUMMARY.

3. A/S ARONSON OPENED THE MEETING BY SAYING THE NEGOTIATIONS WERE AT A CRITICAL JUNCTURE. HE SAID THERE IS CONSENSUS IN EL SALVADOR, EXCLUDING RADICAL ELEMENTS ON BOTH SIDES, FOR DEMILITARIZATION AND STRONGER CIVILIAN CONTROL OF STATE ORGANS. THE UNITED STATES SUPPORTS THE CONSENSUS AND WANTS TO END THE WAR ON HONORABLE TERMS. IF THE FMLN WOULD NEGOTIATE IN EARNEST, WE, ALONG WITH THE SOVIETS, CUBANS, MEXICANS AND OTHERS, WOULD ACT AS GUARANTORS FOR ANY AGREEMENTS REACHED. IN THE MEANTIME, U.S. LEVERAGE IS ERODING AND THE RADICAL RIGHT IS REORGANIZING. THE TIME IS NOW FOR A POLITICAL SETTLEMENT AND THE KEY IS THE MARCH ELECTIONS.

4. ZAMORA AGREED THE ELECTIONS ARE PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT BECAUSE THEY WILL OCCUR DURING THE NEGOTIATIONS. IF ARENA WINS, HE SPECULATED, THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS MAY BE HURT AS ARENA CONSOLIDATES ITS VETO POWER. BUT ZAMORA ALSO SUGGESTED THERE IS A REAL POSSIBILITY THE OPPOSITION WILL WIN. ARENA, HE SAID, IS LESS UNITED TODAY THAN IT WAS IN 1988, AND THE PDC IS RECOVERING. THEIR ROLES ALSO HAVE BEEN REVERSED. IN 1988, PEOPLE VOTED AGAINST THE PDC, NOT NECESSARILY FOR ARENA. TODAY, ARENA WILL BE THE TARGET OF NEGATIVE VOTING. MR ARONSON ADVISED AGAINST THE SUGGESTION THAT PEACE IS ONLY POSSIBLE IF THE OPPOSITION WINS. HE NOTED THAT ARENA IS BETTER ORGANIZED AND FUNDED THAN THE OPPOSITION AND THAT THE RIGHT IS HELPED POLITICALLY BY FMLN HOSTILITIES.

5. ZAMORA SAID THE SUCCESS OF THE ELECTIONS DEPENDS ON TWO CONDITIONS. FIRST, THE FMLN CANNOT BOYCOTT THE PROCESS. IF THEY DO, OPPOSITION PARTIES WILL BE BADLY HURT. THE ESSENTIAL QUESTION TO POSE TO THE FMLN, ZAMORA INSISTED, IS HOW THEY WILL BEHAVE THROUGHOUT THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. THE ERP IS ALREADY DISTRUSTFUL OF ELECTIONS, ESPECIALLY AFTER WATCHING THE SANDINISTA DEFEAT IN NICARAGUA. FURTHERMORE, THE FMLN CONTENDS THAT MANY OF ITS SUPPORTERS ARE IN THE NORTH, WHERE THERE IS A LARGE NUMBER OF POTENTIAL VOTERS WHO ARE DISENFRANCHISED. ZAMORA SAID THERE IS CURRENTLY LEGISLATION BEFORE THE ASSEMBLY WHICH WOULD ALLOW UNDOCUMENTED PERSONS TO RECEIVE BOTH THEIR CIVIL DOCUMENTS AND THEIR VOTER REGISTRATION AT THE SAME TIME. PASSAGE OF THE LEGISLATION MAY RESTRAIN THE FMLN FROM INTERFERING IN THE ELECTIONS. A/S ARONSON SUGGESTED ASKING THE FMLN TO AGREE, AT LEAST PRIVATELY, TO LINK PASSAGE OF THE LEGISLATION WITH AN ELECTION TRUCE.

6. THE SECOND CONDITION FOR SUCCESSFUL ELECTIONS, ACCORDING TO ZAMORA, IS LOWERING THE LEVEL OF FEAR IN THE POPULATION. HE SAID THE CIVIL DEFENSE, NOT THE MILITARY, POSES THE GREATEST THREAT TO THE SAFETY OF THE OPPOSITION PARTIES. A/S ARONSON SAID A CEASEFIRE AND THE PRESENCE OF INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS WOULD HELP SATISFY THIS CONDITION. HE SAID THE UNITED STATES WOULD OFFER POLITICAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT TO THE OBSERVERS, BUT CAUTIONED ZAMORA THAT THE UNITED NATIONS DOES NOT FEEL COMFORTABLE SENDING TEAMS TO DANGEROUS AND UNSTABLE AREAS. UNLESS THERE IS SOME SORT OF AGREEMENT TO PROTECT THE ELECTION PROCESS, OBSERVERS WOULD APPEAR ONLY IN THE LEAST CONFLICTED AREAS, WHERE THEY ARE LEAST NEEDED. ZAMORA SAID HE WAS TOLD BY THE GERMANS AND ITALIANS THAT THEY WOULD SUPPORT OBSERVER GROUPS. HE ALSO SAID IT WAS IMPORTANT TO GET PROSPECTIVE OBSERVERS TO AGREE ON A CALENDAR WHICH WOULD MAINTAIN A CONSTANT INTERNATIONAL PRESENCE SPANNING THE ENTIRE ELECTORAL PROCESS.

7. ZAMORA SAID AN IMMEDIATE CEASEFIRE IS NOT AGREEABLE THE FMLN. THEY PERCEIVE IT WOULD BE THE BEGINNING OF THEIR END. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE FMLN HAS NO PERMANENT MILITARY INSTALLATIONS AND THAT ITS TROOPS ARE UNPAID PEASANTS WHO WOULD BE BACK PICKING COFFEE TWO MONTHS AFTER THE FIGHTING STOPPED. THE FMLN THEREFORE NEEDS SOME GUARANTEE THAT THE GOES WOULD CONTINUE NEGOTIATING AFTER THE CEASEFIRE. ZAMORA ALSO SAID THE TIMING OF A CEASEFIRE WOULD HAVE AN IMPACT ON THE ELECTIONS. IF A TRUCE IS DECLARED CLOSE TO THE ELECTIONS, ARENA WOULD BENEFIT. THE ELECTORATE HAD MORE TIME TO ADJUST TO PEACE, THE OPPOSITION MAY BENEFIT. HOWEVER, ZAMORA SAID IT IS UNLIKELY A SETTLEMENT COULD BE NEGOTIATED IN A SHORT TIME. DAS SULLIVAN SUGGESTED THAT WHILE A FINAL PACKAGE MAY NOT BE RESOLVED QUICKLY, IT MAY BE POSSIBLE TO DEVELOP A BROAD STRUCTURAL AGREEMENT AS A WORKING DOCUMENT LEADING TO A CEASEFIRE. AS PART OF THE INITIAL AGREEMENT, CIVIL DEFENSE COULD BE ABOLISHED. THE SIDES COULD THEN BEGIN WORK ON THE ACTUAL DETAILS OF IMPLEMENTING THE SETTLEMENT.

8. ZAMORA ACKNOWLEDGED THAT DEVELOPING MOMENTUM WAS A PROBLEM IN THE NEGOTIATIONS. HE SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO SEE A CEASEFIRE IN THE NEAR TERM AND THEN TO SPEED UP THE TALKS, PERHAPS BY FORMING A GOVERNMENT OF NATIONAL UNION

FOR ONE YEAR WHILE WORK FROM POLITICAL FORCES TOGETHER TO FORM BASIS FOR AGREEMENT. HE SAID HE NOT ELABORATE ON HOW SUCH A GOVERNMENT WOULD BE FORMED OR FUNCTION CONSTITUTIONALLY.

3. A/S ARONSON SUGGESTED THAT ONE REASON THE TALKS ARE MOVING SLOWLY IS THE SCARCITY OF MEETINGS. HE SAID THERE IS NO REASON MORE NEGOTIATING SESSIONS COULD NOT BE SCHEDULED MORE CLOSELY TOGETHER.

4. A/S ARONSON ASKED ZAMORA WHY THE FMLN WANTED DIRECT TALKS WITH THE USG. ZAMORA SAID THE FMLN WANTED TO CLEAR UP ANY MISUNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING THEIR POSITIONS. HE ALSO SAID THE FMLN HOPED TO DERIVE RECOGNITION FROM THE CONTACT. A/S ARONSON REPLIED WE WOULD LIKE TO HELP THE FMLN FIND ITS WAY TO A NEW POLITICAL REALITY, BUT IT IS NOT AT ALL CLEAR THE FMLN IS LOOKING FOR PROGRESS. ITS POSTURE AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE SHOWS THE OLD FMLN WITH NEW RHETORIC.

5. ZAMORA ASKED THE U.S. POSITION ON THE JESUIT CASE. HE SAID IT WAS CONTRADICTORY TO GIVE THE COUNTRY'S MOST HIGH-PROFILE CASE TO A NON-FUNCTIONING JUDICIARY AND SUGGESTED INSTEAD A POLITICAL INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED BY A COMMISSION, PERHAPS UNDER UN AUSPICES. A/S ARONSON REPLIED THAT THE FMLN HAS NOT BEEN FULLY INVESTIGATED AND THAT WE ARE FRUSTRATED AT THE LACK OF PROGRESS. HE ALSO

SAID THE IDEA OF A BROADER POLITICAL INVESTIGATION WOULD NOT WORK IN ISOLATION FROM SOME PROCESS LEADING TO A PEACE SETTLEMENT.

6. ZAMORA WAS IN WASHINGTON TO PARTICIPATE IN A SEMINAR AT THE NATIONAL WAR COLLEGE. HE WAS ENROUTE TO EL SALVADOR AFTER A MEETING FROM A EUROPEAN TRIP WHICH INCLUDED STOPS IN GERMANY AND ITALY.

GSP BENEFITS RESTORED

-- We applaud the efforts you and the Chilean Congress made to modernize and expand Chile's legal protection for intellectual property rights (IPR). Intellectual property rights protection is a key element in U.S. trade policy.

-- We are pleased that these efforts, plus an improved worker rights climate, have made it possible to restore GSP benefits to Chile.

-- Strong IPR legislation should encourage more foreign and domestic investment as well as increased R&D in Chile.

KENNEDY-HARKIN SANCTIONS LIFTED

-- Passage of the law transferring jurisdiction over the Letelier case from military to civilian courts and appointment of a special prosecutor have made it possible to end the K-H embargo on arms sales and military assistance.

SECRET UNCLASSIFIED

-- I am delighted with these developments because they signify the return to full and normal relations between our two countries.

-- We are aware that you face some domestic opposition to ex gratia monetary compensation to the Letelier and Moffitt families. Nevertheless, we hope the Chilean Congress will also act positively in this matter.

URUGUAY ROUND

-- We attach great importance to the successful conclusion of the Uruguay Round which is now in jeopardy. It is vital for both developed and developing countries that the world's open trading system continue to expand.

-- Chile--as a member of the Cairns Group and as a strong advocate of free trade--is playing a significant role in pressing for more open agricultural markets.

-- I urge the GOC to take a more active role to support our efforts to reach agreement to extend and improve GATT rules on services, intellectual property rights (IPR) and trade-related investment measures. We also seek your support for reform of balance of payment rules.

UNCLASSIFIED

SECRET UNCLASSIFIED

PERSIAN GULF CRISIS

-- Our consultations with key European and Middle East allies show that the global coalition against Iraqi aggression remains strong.

-- The economic sanctions against Iraq are effective. Iraq is losing $1.5 billion/month in oil revenues, and its exports are at two percent of pre-crisis levels.

-- We are grateful for your support, knowing that it represents a sacrifice for your country in the increased cost of petroleum imports.

POISONED GRAPES INCIDENT

-- We regret the financial loss borne by Chilean fruit exporters in 1989.

-- We believe the FDA acted correctly and responsibly. The FDA took the action it did to protect the health of the American public.

SECRET UNCLASSIFIED

-- Should Chilean fruit exporters seek compensation for their losses and believe that the evidence warrants it, it would be preferable for them to take their case to the U.S. courts where they will receive a fair hearing.

FRUIT MARKETING ORDERS

-- We are aware of the concern in Chile about additional marketing orders (covering kiwis, nectarines, plums and apples) included in the farm bill recently passed by the U.S. Congress.

-- Marketing orders are a long-standing U.S. program (Sec. 8c) wherein domestic producers self-initiate such activities as R&D, advertising, promotion and minimum quality standards. Under a related authority (Sec. 8e), if 8c is in effect and the fruit is covered by legislation, then the same standards can be applied to foreign imports. They are designed to protect consumer interests and the health of the market.

-- Marketing orders apply only during the U.S. marketing season. Due to the reversed growing seasons between the U.S. and Chile, they will have little impact on Chilean fruit exports except for kiwis which can be stored.

-- Our Department of Agriculture has offered to help train Chileans in quality standards inspection.

NARCOTICS

-- We are aware of your growing concern about the use of Chile as a transit point for drugs coming from other parts of South America. We are also aware of your concern about increased money-laundering in Chile.

-- To this end, we have proposed to the GOC an agreement that will require financial institutions to record and governments to share information about currency transactions. We hope to begin negotiations with you soon.

-- We applaud the GOC's decision to create a national commission to deal with the issue and are happy to provide assistance to the Carabineros in their anti-narcotics work.

PEACE CORPS AGREEMENT

-- I am delighted that Chile and the U.S. have once again signed an agreement that allows Peace Corps volunteers to return to Chile after a nine-year absence.

-- Protection of the environment and resource management are important issues for Chile. Our volunteers should be able to make valuable contributions in the areas of forestry and small business development.

ENTERPRISE FOR THE AMERICAS INITIATIVE (FTA WITH CHILE)

-- We appreciate Chile's support for this initiative. We welcome the signing of a bilateral framework agreement on trade and investment and the first meeting of the trade council. It augurs well for future trade relations.

-- Chile is seen throughout Latin America as a model of responsible, creative debt management and sound economic policies. I encourage you to continue those policies as they will assure even more foreign investment in the Chilean economy.

-- We welcome your interest in discussing the possibility of an FTA. However, before we can agree in principle to opening negotiations, we will have to resolve several outstanding issues. We must first obtain Congressional authority for an FTA with Mexico, conclude satisfactorily the Uruguay Round and get implementing legislation through Congress.

SECRET UNCLASSIFIED

-- We also welcome your interest in benefiting from the debt elements of the Initiative. Your sound economic policies make you a prime candidate. We will be working closely with you as we prepare to move forward in this area.

ANTARCTIC COOPERATION AGREEMENT

-- This is an important agreement because it encourages expanded cooperation between our two countries in scientific explorations in the Antarctic.

-- Joint efforts to research the causes of ozone-depletion and the effects of growing-ultra-violet radiation are a high priority for all nations.

THE TREATY OF TLATELOLCO

-- Nuclear non-proliferation is a matter of the highest importance to my Administration. Recent events in the Gulf have underscored its significance.

-- I urge you, as I have urged your colleagues in Buenos Aires and Brasilia, to bring the Treaty of Tlatelolco into force.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- If Chile were to take this step, it would enhance Chile's international stature and pave the way toward bilateral cooperation in this area.

OAS-RELATED ISSUES

-- Chile's exemplary OAS record on drugs, the environment, development and democracy shows that democratic credentials lead to active, multilateral collaboration with other democracies in the Americas. We look forward to close cooperation with you in the OAS General Assembly in Santiago next June.
